ASSOCIATED STUDENTS ANNUAL REPORT 2011-2012

MAKING A DIFFERENCE FOR STUDENTS

at San José State University

Guiding Principles and Values

Campus Life

Campus life is an environment where the educational experience is enhanced through means of accessible services, collaboration and student input.

Life-Long Learning

Associated Students supports the University's mission of life-long learning by engaging students and providing a bridge between the classroom and the global society through co-curricular learning opportunities.

Student Wellness

A commitment to the betterment of a student as an active individual in society where physical, mental and social strengths are developed.

Student Advocacy and Cultural Competence

Provide an opportunity for students to find their voice, share their opinions, and express ideas, concerns and needs to the campus and greater community.

Student Services

Provide services to students based upon their demonstrated needs in a fiscally responsible manner. In its interactions with students, A.S. seeks to develop future leaders by involving them in decision making and providing opportunities for work experience.

Our mission is to represent the students of San José State University and continually improve the quality of their educational opportunities and experiences.

Our commitment is to provide services and activities that enhance the opportunity to meet, recreate and maximize student life.

Opportunities to get involved and obtain leadership skills are among our highest priorities.

Dear Spartans!

It is a great privilege to serve as your Associated Students president this year. The Associated Students, Inc. (A.S.) takes great pride in serving you at this extraordinary institution placed in the heart of Silicon Valley, and realizes that students are the core of university success. With that in mind, A.S. provides a large variety of services to make your SJSU experience more memorable. These services include, but are not limited to child care, printing services, transportation solutions, campus recreation, computer services and IT. Most importantly, the Associated Students Government provides student representation on both the university and state levels ensuring student advocacy efforts. These efforts are crucial in our difficult budget times, and Associated Students is proud to be part of the California State Student Association (CSSA) advocating for student needs in the CSU system.

This year, we have incorporated a Federal advocacy trip to our program. Along with other CSSA members, I was able to lobby Congress against cutting federal aid for the CSU's – specifically, the Pell Grant program. Meeting President Obama's representatives for higher education, combined with lobbying efforts, proved to make an impact on this year's Pell awards.

I am also proud to announce that – together – we were able to create a task force for the A.S. Strategic Plan and completed the new A.S. Vision 2017, of which detailed evaluation you will find in the Year in Review section of this report. I hope you enjoy reading about our many successes this year.

While we celebrate our accomplishments, we also had important changes for the University administration. Our new university president, Mohammad Qayoumi, is moving the university in a new direction, making it even more successful than before.

Being a Spartan at SJSU means to strive for success as many of our successful alumni have. Our famous alumni are in the fields of Business, Literature, Politics, Science, Engineering, as well as many Olympic Medal winners. Among them are people such as Gordon Moore, founder of Intel Corporation; Ray Dolby, founder of Dolby Sound Systems; Ed Oates, co-founder of Oracle; Jim Thompson, founder of Crown Worldwide Group, Omid Kordestani, Senior Advisor to CEO and founder at Google. Let's continue striving for excellence in the years ahead!

With Best Regards,

TOMASZ KOLODZIEJAK
A.S. President

Dear friends of Associated Students;

Delivering quality programs and services, increasing campus collaborations, and advancing student leadership are mere samples of the work done “for students by students;” a common theme of the board this year.

A.S. Campus Recreation enrolled the largest number of Intramural Teams ever, while Outdoor Adventures took nearly 300 students on life changing experiences. A.S. Transportation Solutions coordinated a campus wide Bike Share Survey. A.S. César Chávez Community Action Center received county wide recognition with the “Community Values Youth” Award from Project Cornerstone of Santa Clara County.

To continue providing quality services and meet the needs of students, A.S. will need to find creative solutions to financial challenges in the years ahead. A.S. fees have not been increased since 2002, 10 years, yet costs of doing business have increased exponentially. Approved reserve spending was in place to bridge the gap of expenses to revenues during the economic downturn since 2009. Strategies will be developed to strengthen our future needs.

The increased cost to attend college calls for attention to scholarships and subsidies needed for our deserving students. Associated Students currently provides $85,000 annually to approximately 52 student scholarship recipients. The increased need for assistance is a matter of concern for Associated Students.

Capital expenditures are expected to reach $500K over the course of 2012-2014 in order to occupy the new space being built for A.S. in the new Student Union. We anticipate the new Recreation Center to come on line soon there after, which will call for additional capital expenditures to meet the needs of program service and delivery that is performed currently through the Sport Club by A.S. This is anticipated to be approximately $250K in 2015-2017 (estimated timeline).

We appreciate your interest and desire to learn more about Associated Students and to become engaged, reconnected and supportive of our efforts to serve all students of SJSU.

With high regard and appreciation,

CHERYL VARGAS
A.S. Executive Director

“A.S. treats me like more than just a student employee; they treat me like a real team member. As a team, we work together to solve problems, create new methods in fulfilling given tasks, and share ideas for improvement.”

In addition to being the Student Government on campus, we also provide direct benefits to students through a wide variety of essential services, programs, events, funding, employment, and discounts in our nine campus departments.

Funding for our programs and services is supported in large part by the $73.50 student association fee that students pay each semester. This year marks the 10th consecutive year A.S. has not increased the association fee, yet is providing an increasing number of quality programs and services to the students of San José State.

The A.S. Board of Directors serve the collective student body through their 16 unique director positions and positions on A.S. and university committees. They provide essential leadership to A.S. and represent the voice, needs, concerns, and feelings of students at San José State. MISSION IMPACT

A Year in Review

This year, A.S. worked to fulfill its mission by providing quality services and programs, increasing participation at campus events, and by advocating for students on issues affecting them. With severe budget cuts to the CSU, tightening admissions policies at SJSU, the possibility of increased student loan interest rates, and cuts in federal Pell Grants, a growing number of students are being affected than ever before. A.S. also spoke out on campus issues such as the new SJSU Student Success, Excellence, and Technology Fee, campus safety, the smoking ban, and saving the A.S. lawn and community statue garden.

To achieve the greatest impact, A.S. increased collaborations with departments across campus, contributed to over 40 SJSU Town Hall meetings led by President Mohammad Qayoumi, and participated in focus groups led by university administration. In the fall, they conducted an extensive five-year cost benefit analysis of all Associated Students programs and services to inform future decisions, and in the spring, the Board of Directors adopted the A.S. Strategic Plan 2017 to focus the organization on three priorities going forward.

1. STUDENT ADVOCACY

Serve as the students' voice to advocate their needs on a local, statewide and national level; Establish communication strategies with the university to develop shared governance opportunities; and Engage students in the following issues: state budget, tuition, student accessibility, politics, social justice and the government.

2. STUDENT ENRICHMENT

Build community through celebrating diversity, encouraging social awareness, and promoting campus pride; Facilitate a connection between students and campus resources to ensure student success; and Collaborate with other campus groups to maximize resources and opportunities.

3. ORGANIZATIONAL GROWTH

Develop effective business operations to ensure accountability, fiscal sustainability, and awareness of student issues; Evaluate policies and procedures in the governance model to ensure efficiency, compatibility with university expectations, and effective student representation; and Strengthen internal and external A.S. business relations, partnerships, and shared services.

By The Numbers...

Campus Recreation's Intramural Sports Program, supported in part by $125,000 in Instructional Related Activity funding, saw record growth this year. IM Sports celebrated 4,909 participants (of which 1,374 students participated more than once) and an all time high of 73 coed teams (increasing 33% from last year). The Fitness Program saw an increase in group participation with 13,589 passes sold (up 16% from the previous year). Open Recreation Program had 1,547 participants in the fall and 1,756 in the spring, while the Outdoor Adventures Program took 241 students on 17 trips and doubled the program retention rate to 22% returning students.

The Transportation Solutions department continued to have a significant impact at SJSU, distributing 53,938 Eco Passes to students, faculty, and staff, granting them free transportation on all county transit buses and light rails. They received 4,172 responses from their annual campus transportation survey, provided commute consulting to 523 students, and handed out 530 bike keys providing access to secure cages. Additionally, they hosted dialogues with VTA & the City of San José for Rapid Transit, EcoPass Task Force, Bike Share, and City Share programs.

The César E. Chávez Community Action Center provided over 5,300 hours of service to K-12 programs, and their Strive for College Program celebrated a 100% acceptance rate of 100 high school student mentees into a 4-year university. They also led campus Legacy Tours for youth and adults. Overall, their K-12 programs directly impacted 1,740 students. The department provides a model for service learning opportunities and engaging students in social justice issues and was honored this year with the Santa Clara County Project Cornerstone Community Values Youth Award for being an asset champion.

The Board of Directors and Finance Committee approved over $200,000 in funding for 150 student organizations and clubs and $85,000 for 52 scholarship recipients! The General Services Center went green for electronic processing and routing of organization funding, maintained bank accounts and accounting services for 300 organizations, provided book loans to over 450 students on financial aid, and provided over 60 hours of free legal counsel to students.

Despite losing approximately $26K from the state for the A.S. Child Development Center (CDC) due to Governor Brown's budget cuts, the CDC opened a new art studio in the fall, employed 57 CHAD students and 3 students from other majors this year, administered 76 hours of community service, and partnered with 14 academic departments, totaling approximately 2,105 hours of student projects completed.

The A.S. Programming Board, Events Department, and Spartan Squad Program held 26 events this year, including the annual Fire on the Fountain Homecoming event with 4,000 attendees, went to 39 sporting events, and gave away over 2,500 Spartan Squad shirts to increase Spartan pride across campus and support at athletic events. In total, Associated Students Events reached 21,175 students this year.

This year also marked the first of 2 annual campus-wide events: 1) Earth Day San José, a collaboration between A.S., the City of San José, Spartan Shops, and the Environmental Resource Center, and 2) the SJSU Student Leadership Gala, where over 150 student leaders and organizations were awarded by A.S., Student Involvement, and the Solidarity Network.
