Student Research Journal
Call for Submissions

The SLIS Student Research Journal (SRJ) invites submissions from library and information graduate students for the inaugural spring 2011 issue. Take this opportunity to showcase your best work, and promote scholarship and intellectual inquiry in the MLIS and MARA (Master of Archive and Records Administration) disciplines. Submit papers from current or past coursework: original research, literature reviews, or critical review essays covering topics in all fields of information science theory, policy, application, or practice.

Please review the SRJ site to submit papers for publication. Submissions received on a rolling basis. The journal publishes one spring and one fall issue annually.

Submission deadline for the June issue extended to April 25, 2011.

SRJ - pronounced “surge”, is a peer-reviewed publication of the San José State University School of Library and Information Science and is hosted at SJSU institutional repository ScholarWorks, part of the Digital Commons initiative powered by Berkeley Electronic Press.
