

Bids On Sale For La Torre Sport Dance

Novel Lighting, Special
Features Are Promised
By Committee

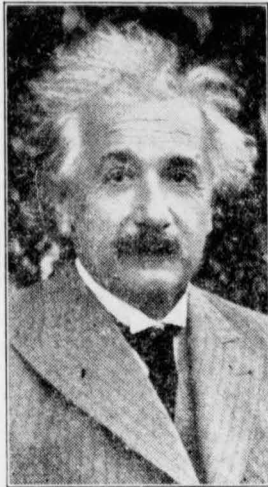

There is yet another week during which to buy tickets for what promises to be the most colorful and most novel dance that has been held on the State College campus for several quarters. Several new features and high lights have been inaugurated by Carl Palmer, twice Student Affairs Chairman, who is to have charge of the management of the La Torre Dance.

Probably the most unique of the numerous ideas worked out by Mr. Palmer, is the Country Store Feature. As an advertising arrangement, the La Torre staff has managed to assemble several dozen prizes to be given away as a novelty on the evening of the dance. Among these prizes are ten bids plus cats to "College Night" presented through the courtesy of O'Briens; two "La Torres"; several boxes of candy from various candy stores; shoes, sweaters, dresses, ties, jewelry, and countless other items collected from the leading stores of San Jose.

The dance is to be held in the Men's Gymnasium at nine p. m., Friday evening, January 20. It is to be a sport affair and tickets are selling at the low cost of 25 cents per person. Owing to the financial stress and lack of funds in the Student Affairs treasury, our student body dances have been barren of any form of decoration, but this time Carl Palmer himself is taking charge of the decorations and assures us that the gym will be dressed up in a fashion such as has not been seen in a long time. The services of Paul Cox and his orchestra have been engaged to play for the evening and there will be no trivialities in the entire affair.

Feature Speaker

Dr. Einstein

Large Audience To Hear Albert Einstein on January 23

Over 3000 college men and women will convene in the Civic Auditorium at Pasadena, on January 23, to hear Dr. Albert Einstein and several other prominent personalities speak on "The World Economic Situation." The program, which is to be sponsored by the Southern California Student Body Presidents Association, will be broadcast over a national hook-up.

The success of a similar meeting on "World Armaments", held by the group last year, was cited as being directly responsible for the students' executives' decision to sponsor a session this month during which time Dr. Einstein will be studying in Southern California. The 1932 meeting was the first of its kind ever to be held, its conception and management being entirely reliant on student initiative. Featuring besides Dr. Einstein, Dr. Charles A. Beard, noted government and American history authority; Dr. Robert A. Millikan, winner of the Nobel Prize; and Dean McHenry, who was student president of the University of California at Los Angeles last year; the program was enthusiastically received and attended by a capacity crowd.

It is in an effort to present an intelligent basis for the formation of opinion on questions of world importance that the Southern California group is presenting the discussion on January 23.

bin, Charles Pinkham, Charles Gubser, and Carl Welz.

Out of this list everyone should find someone whom they know. Buy your ticket right away. Support the La Torre. Come to the dance and bring home the bacon.

Spartan Cagers Will Battle Athens Club Here Friday Night

Coach McDonald Trying New Forwards Against Fast
Club Quintet

By Adam Vagts
Just what Coach H. C. McDonald's San Jose Spartan cagers have on the ball will be learned here Friday night when the locals clash with the strong Athens Club of Oakland in the last practice game before the start of Far Western Conference play against Pacific.

The Athens Club will present the biggest test for the San Joseans since the Spartans took one on the chin from Davis-Elkins three weeks ago and the third strongest team to face the locals this season. Previously San Jose has knocked over some lesser lights in rapid-fire manner, taking down Marin, Sacramento, and Menlo Junior Colleges in the order named.

The Athens Club, although losing two starts this season to the San Francisco Y. M. I. and U. S. I. V. Clubs by close scores, still retain stars which have made their team famous throughout the bay region in past years and will present a real big time basketball aggregation.

Just what and who the starting line-up for the Spartans will be is an unknown quality, as Coach McDonald has hardly started the same line-up twice. If the old adage, "A team is as strong as its reserves" works out in the Spartan's case, then they should go a long way the present season, for the whole squad is of good, even caliber. "Mac" counts among his blessings, the fact that he has no individualistic playing to hinder his teamwork as has been the case in past seasons.

Profiting by their pre-season experiences, the Gold and White cagers are a much improved team, and will enter the game Friday with a two-fold purpose, one of which will be primarily, to win the game, and the second to fight their way individually into a permanent starting berth when the F. W. C. play opens at Pacific next Wednesday.

Countryman, Hague, Tueller, Downs, and Concanon are all dangerous contenders for forward positions, while Mathiesen and Rea have been shining alternately

LIBRARY NOTICE

Books of bionomics, anthropology, and a few copies of the Essential Readings in Psychology 5-B may now be taken from the one day reserve at the main circulation desk.

The books in the one day reserve may be obtained any hour of the day and must be returned before noon of the following day.

Organizations Asked To See La Torre Manager

Organization heads should see the Business Manager, Kay Lindsay, in the La Torre office between 12:30 and 3:00 p. m., Thursday, January 12.

Also see the Organization Chairman, Kay Fisher, in the office between 9:00 and 11:00, Thursday, January 12, or 11:00 and 1:00, Friday, January 13, and bring a list of the members of your organization.

Identification Pictures To Be Taken January 16 In Little Theatre

Will all students who desire identification cards for school functions—dances, games, etc.—please have their pictures taken on the stage of the Little Theater Monday, January 16. The hours will be from 7:45 a. m. until 12:30 p. m.

This includes all full time students, either those who have had their card and lost it, or those who have not had their pictures taken at all for some reason or another. Remember, these pictures are to be taken for your convenience, so take advantage of the opportunity. The charge for lost cards will be 50 cents. No charge will be made for those who have not had their picture taken previously. The date is Monday, January 16, in the Little Theater from 7:45 until 12:30 only. No other date is available under any circumstances.

San Joaquin League of Writers To Entertain

The officers and members of the San Joaquin Valley Chapter of the League of Western Writers are presenting a guest program in the Sun Lounge of the Cliff Hotel, San Francisco, Tuesday evening, January 17. Dr. Carl Holliday, prominent member of our English department, is to be the chairman of the evening. He is president of the San Francisco Bay Chapter of this literary organization. The guest of honor will be Ruth Comfort Mitchell, second vice president, whose topic is "San Joaquin Valley as My Inspiration."

at the pivot position. George, Liebrandt, Gibson, Frances, and Jackson complete the Spartan roster in fighting for defensive spots.

The game will start at 8 o'clock in the Men's Gymnasium.

Student Affairs Head Names Various Aides

Dario Simoni, Chairman, Selects Students for Winter Quarter

Dario Simoni, Student Affairs Chairman, announces his committees for the winter quarter as follows:

Preparation and Decoration—Bob Stubbe, chairman; Larry Eagleson, Mary Tracy, Irma Reischke, Olive Baldwin, Janet Hartmanshem.

Clean-up — George Harrison, Frank Yearian, Ambrose Nichols, Hugh Staffebach.

Patrons and Patronesses—Jack Murdock.

With this very able staff of assistants, Simoni promises the dances this quarter to exceed all previous ones in originality, decorations, music, and good times. His first real attempt to make good such a promise will be January 20, when he will assist the La Torre staff in staging their mammoth sport dance in the spacious men's gymnasium.

Y. M. C. A. To Conduct Recreation Period

With Bob Arabia as general chairman, the Y. M. C. A. is conducting a period of recreation, mainly physical education, at the detention home. These periods of games are given twice a week.

It is planned to expand the work this quarter to hobby work, which includes the building of model sail boats and airplanes.

The main idea of this project is to furnish a means of employment for the empty time of the inmates. This is a tough problem, as the boys range in ages from 7 to 18 years. Before the Y. M. C. A. began their work here the inmates would sit around a small court, when not in their cells, and play cards. This form of recreation was of little benefit.

Other members of Arabia's committee are Bill Jones and Harry Krytzer.

The Y. M. C. A. deputation team is to put on two church services in Oakland next Sunday at the High Street Presbyterian and the Pilgrim Congregational churches. Dean Kesler is general chairman of deputation work.

DEBATERS NOTICE!

Mr. Eckert requests the following people to meet today at 3 p. m. in his office:

- Ruth Townsend
- Hogeroll Lipetich
- Carl Palmer
- Anne Isakson
- Herbert Barry
- Bertha Potts
- Bob Threlkel

KINDERGARTEN-PRIMARY CLUB

Kindergarten-Primary Club will hold a meeting this evening in Room one of the Home-Making building. Miss Collins of the San Jose City Schools, will demonstrate a kindergarten. Refreshments will be served, and those attending the meeting will find it very interesting.

Caliban's Calumnies

Is Technocracy Rot?

With technocracy on everyone's tongue, it is easier to say that it is a lot of rot, rather than admit that there might be some truth in it. Certainly this would be the best course for college students to follow. If they accept technocracy, they might as well leave college right now—unless they find the social life too intriguing. For social life is about all we are going to get out of our college education in the coming age of machinery when technicians, not politicians, will rule the country, and most of our now accepted professions will be obsolete.

Technocrats predict that we are on the verge of a great social upheaval—a revolution that will change the whole order of things, giving us a chance to catch up with science. In this process, they predict unemployment will become infinitely worse. The question of what professions will survive is the problem which faces today's student. Modern life goes so fast that the country may be in the grip of technocracy before

Note: To be read only by Philophers.

The life of a columnist has become exceedingly difficult of late. Columnists have increased in number, and at the present time we have more columnists than things to column about. Unemployed columnists are as numerous about the campus as Russian Grand Dukes and French Croixes De Guerre. Stride into the Times office, any time after ten (columnists don't get up before then) and you will find one chewing idly on a nut, peaking through that little hole that connects the office with the A. W. S. room, or eating chocolate coated peanuts. All this is a story, but not so sad, as nobody reads the columns anyway, except the Columnist. (Muckraker excluded.)

Another reason for the complexities of life. There is mixing on the campus worth giving the razzberry. If anybody wishes anything razzed, please leave note to that effect in one of our waste baskets in the office.

We really have waste baskets now, two of them, but staff members are seriously considering having them removed as they disturb our work and only succeed in cluttering up the place.

Loafing is rapidly becoming luxury more and more in demand, and naturally the old adage holds true. Prices go up in proportion to the demand. I have heard it rumored that our tuition fees may go up. It costs a lot of money nowadays to keep getting a job.

Everybody is talking about "Technocracy," but nobody knows what it is; for the benefit of those who do not know, it is mere Socialism dressed up in its Sunday Suit.

The chief objection to this system is that we will have to work eight hours a week, instead of eight hours a day. Naturally this is out of the question. Why Oh, it's just terrible. We would all become sluggards. Right now under democracy, we are like garden beds, but keep it dark. Use the new system, we would admit it. Moral: Never admit your faults.

The twentieth century dislikes Capitalism is like the rage of a slave being severely whipped by his own master. The twentieth century dislike of Socialism is like the rage of a slave realizing his own cowardice in not revolting from his master.

All politics, and all government, are quite useless. Intelligence is insulting and knowledge is a Gorgon's Head.

Art is imitation, imitation, adoration, adoration is worship, worship is awe, awe is fear, fear is cowardice, cowardice is a waste of time. So, idleness is beautiful and modesty is the only pleasant thing to think about.

The 1933 baseball varsity will be hard hit by the loss of "Si" Simoni, stellar slab artist, who will be out for the entire diamond season due to appendicitis. Simoni won seven games without a setback last year, and his chucking will be sorely missed.

It seems as though the Senior team is destined to be the class of Charley Walker's intra-mural basketball tournament this year. With Goodell, Kalas, Vagts, Keeley, and a number of other shining lights on the team, it seems as though the rest of the classes are out of luck.

THE BOOKSHELF

By Owen Ulph
Death In the Afternoon
Ernest Hemmingway.
Pub. Sept. 32, Scribner's.
529 pages 80 illus.

With "Death in the Afternoon," Ernest Hemmingway plunges into a new field. Admirers of Hemmingway will, in all probability, be disappointed with his new book. Instead of finding a younger generation drinking themselves to oblivion with champagne and tokay, amid an atmosphere of disillusionment and resignation, one finds bitter satire and sardonic humor.

"Death in the Afternoon," deals with the bull arena and bull fighters. In the same subtle manner by which Mr. Hemmingway shows the horror of war in "A Farewell To Arms," he shows the cruelty and perverted passions of the bull ring.

In "The Sun Also Rises," Hemmingway reveals his power of behavioristic analysis; in "A Farewell To Arms," he proves himself to be an artist with rare descriptive abilities; and now with "Death In the Afternoon" he shows the world that he can write anything. He is both a tragedian and a comedian.

The brilliant dialogue for which the author is famous, is still present, but somehow the book does not seem to come up to his other two. It gives the impression to the reader familiar with Hemmingway, of something repeated, re-hashed. It is much the same as some of the short stories appearing in "In Our Time" and excerpts from "The Sun Also Rises." He seems to have made a collection of a lot of former anecdotes and knitted them into one. However, the collection in no way suggests a lack of unity, and has been woven together with tremendous gripping power. After having completed this new book, the reader is left with that same feeling of emptiness and loss that he experienced

The Psycopathic Ward

Heigho! The reader sighs, when he notices another column making its initial appearance among the erudite chatter departments of this paper. His problems, while great, are easily solved. He may throw the paper in the wastebasket, make a hat of it, or simply exclaim, "Nerts!"

The difficulties of the columnist, on the other hand, are not so easily dismissed. At the risk of disclosing professional secrets, we point out the humble scribe's greatest perplexity—that of hitting on a sensational style. He may, of course, write in free verse, Sanskrit, subjectless sentences, or decapitalize names. The first two methods we will reserve for future consideration, very future. The third saves wear and tear on the typewriter, gives an impression of modesty, and has a marvelous sedative effect. But as we have done nothing worth being modest about, and as we think it one of the duties of the columnist to keep his readers awake in class, to prevent their being trampled underfoot when the bell rings, we pass respectfully from this method to the fourth. This is chiefly valuable for hiding campus gossip in a haze of small letters, mightily pleasing (sometimes) to the people mentioned, we think it, on the whole, idle literary practice, for the low state of finance on the campus makes blackmail unprofitable.

So, after profound study, we came to a conclusion. We decided at the conclusion of the former two novels.

Ernest Hemmingway is without a doubt, America's greatest contemporary writer.

The book contains eighty photographs that detract rather than add to the realism. They give one the sensation of reading a geography or history rather than a work of art. Even realism is imaginative, and to my mind, the photographs do not blend with the rest of the volume.

—mark our words—we decided, we say, to write a column in English prose, properly capitalized, the sentences varying only unintentionally from the rules of grammar, containing references to persons only for the purposes of jest, and that just for fun.

(Though for the nominal sum of $1.25 we will mention a name, for $2.50 two names, $5.00 a bad name, $10.00 a student scandal, and $20.00 a faculty scandal.) In this era of columnistic anomalies (get that one?) a normal column should be a refreshing departure from the ordinary. It should be egregious, blasé, cynical, and wholly cherchez la femme.

With an eye to the educational as well as the entertaining, we have engaged the services of experts to take the latitude and longitude and broadcast from the tower weather reports for Saturday nights. These experts, though giving the names of Tripp and Fall, nevertheless bore remarkable resemblances to Messrs. Ulph and Lippman. In order to reduce the number of holiday fatalities, we advise students not to go on promiscuous necking parties with octopuses."

Of especial interest to college students, and particularly members of the Speech Arts department, is the presentation this evening of "The Alarm Clock," a three-act comedy by the San Jose Community Players at the Victory Theater at 8:00.

Two prominent leaders in the State Speech department, Eva Beryl Tree and Dick Glycer are both playing important parts in this production, which is a successful comedy and ran for many months on Broadway. Other members of the cast, several of whom are familiar to State students are Dan Alksne, Neida Wilds, Pat Gleason, Claribel New-

Inter-Fraternity Tea-Dance Held at Hotel Sainte Claire

Hillis Ashworth Presides at Meeting; Colorful Group Attends

The Inter-Fraternity Council gave a tea-dance in the Cafe Esplendido of Hotel Sainte Claire. The Council is composed of six fraternities: Gamma Eta Kappa, Kappa Alpha Pi, Pi Delta Kappa, Pi Alpha Omega, Beta Phi Sigma and Delta Sigma. Ric's Hotel Sainte Claire dance band played for the dancing and entertainment, which was between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

Among the group of sorority members who assisted the members of the Fraternity Council in receiving were the Misses Marguerite Meldrum, Mary Reiter, Doris Johnston, Lenora Kirby, Dorothy Rifensbark, Ruth Ziegler, Hendericka Myers, Loretta Faust, Eva Beryl Tree, and several others.

Hillis Ashworth is president of the Council; Harmon Parker, vice-president; Al Leaman, treasurer; Wayne Chandler, secretary; and Delos Wolfe, publicity head.

Emmet Wilent, S. J. State Frosh, Announce Marriage

New Year's Eve, Mr. Emmett Wilent announced his marriage to Miss Bessie Dalessi of San Jose. Mr. Wilent is a freshman here at State, having graduated from San Jose High last year. Mrs. Wilent, graduated from San Jose High in 1931, after which she was a student nurse at the County Hospital for a time. The couple, after a short honeymoon, took up their residence in Burbank. Mrs. Wilent discontinued her services at the hospital to become a dutiful housewife.

Gradually, as Dr. Holliday's fame as a lecturer spreads throughout the state, he is becoming more and more in demand as the guest speaker at all programs.

Friday, January 27, he is speaking at Santa Clara High School on the subject of "Wise Cracks by Wise Students." The week previous, he is speaking for the University Guild in Room 1 of the Home-Making building on the "Love Affairs of Lincoln." The San Jose Chapter, Order of De Molays requested his presence next Friday evening, but he was unable to fill the engagement because of previous arrangements.

Incidentally, Dr. Holliday is listed in the "Who's Who of America," which is in itself an accomplishment worthy of commendation.

Cafeteria Blossoms Out With New Decorations

Things are getting pretty fancy in the Home-Making department's cafeteria. Maybe it's just another case of 1933 optimism, but that eating joint has blossomed out with spring flowers. It is said that they racked their brains during vacation to find a suitable posy to grace the tables. Finally the momentous question was decided—drop around for lunch some day and see the effect—each table bears what the Home-Making department considers State's favorite flower—a beautiful, potted PANSY.

Miss Crumby's Class Visits Engine House

The engine house on North Market street was visited by Miss Crumby's class in Kindergarten Activities last Wednesday. An official, who gave his services for nearly an hour, explained how the signals come in, showed the different kinds of engines, trucks, gas masks, nets, etc. He even slid down the pole.

The next trip the class expects to make is to the post office.

Beta Gamma Chi To Hold Annual Dance January 14

Beta Gamma Chi, popular campus society, are planning for their annual dance to be given Saturday, January 14, at Woodside Inn. Bids are $1.50, and interest will be held by "Life" society.

Miss Edith Bell, Joseph A. Hodapp Announce Marriage

Doing the seemingly popular thing for the holiday season, Tom Rodgers and Joyce Duncan, both students at State, were married in San Francisco on December 24th.

Joyce is the sister of Dr. Carl Duncan, popular member of the science department. She is a freshman at State, and is planning to receive her A. B. here.

Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rodgers of Santa Cruz. He is a junior, enrolled as a science major. He is in charge of the drawings for the West Coast Nature Study magazine, and is an outstanding student in the science department.

The marriage of the young couple came as a complete surprise to the friends. Although they had been going together all quarter, no engagement had been announced. On Saturday evening, several of their friends gave them a miscellaneous shower.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hodapp of Piedmont, and a member of the Lambert Marketing Co., of Sacramento. The honeymoon was spent in the southern part of the state and Carmel.

Dr. Carl Holliday To Speak at Santa Clara High

Dr. Carl Holliday is president of the Council; Harmon Parker, vice-president; Al Leaman, treasurer; Wayne Chandler, secretary; and Delos Wolfe, publicity head.

Ceremony Is Performed In Salinas, December 17, Couple Reveal

Many interested friends have received word of the marriage recently of Miss Edythe Bell and Mr. Joseph Anson Hodapp, which was an event in Salinas, December 17.

An afternoon dress of gray crepe with brown accessories was worn by the bride. Gardenias and maiden hair fern made up her corsage. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Weinzel of Santa Clara. Mrs. Weinzel wore an attractive navy blue outfit and yellow Talisman roses.

Prominent Couple Secretly Married During Holidays

Miss Suzanne Engelcke, Hedger of San Jose, Announce Marriage

Miss Suzanne Engelcke became the bride of Harry Hedger on the 23rd of December, at the home of some friends of the groom. The Rev. G. W. Brewster of Fresno, officiated. The news came as a complete surprise to their many friends, inasmuch as the marriage had been set several weeks in advance, but neither person disclosed the secret lest their friends at State would haze them too much.

Mrs. Hedger is a resident of San Francisco. She spent eleven years in Europe, studying music at Berlin, and art under the famous Joul Burlin at Paris. She has been back from Europe but seven months, and is at present a regularly enrolled student at State.

Mr. Hedger is a graduate of Montezuma Mountain School near Los Gatos, where he was very active in sports and dramatics. Incidentally, he was considered the most avowed woman hater in Santa Clara County and lived up to his reputation very ably. At present he is a senior here at State. His extra-curricular activities have been very numerous here, including membership on many student affairs committees, rally committees, and men's assemblies. He was an officer of the Spartan Glee Club, and is at present president of the S. G. O. fraternity on the campus.

After a short honeymoon the happy couple returned to State in time to enroll for regular classes. We wish them all the luck in the world in their new venture.

The mysterious Black Masque members are holding another meeting. When? Where? No one knows, except the members. Oh, why should it be so mysterious! It's the despair of the campus!

Frosh Casaba Tossers Win Easy Victory Over Local Part Time High, 41 to 12; Biddle Runs Wild To Score 20 Points

Passing over and under, around and past their smaller opponents, the Spartan Babes completely squelched the undefeated Part Time High outfit Tuesday afternoon at the Peter Burnett Junior High court. The final score of 41 to 12 just about indicates the difference between the two contingents. Start out with a lurch in the first quarter, the Frosh ran up a score of 21 to 4 at the end of the period. The first string was clicking and the small Part Time five were at a loss to solve the style of the larger State quintet. Here Coach Erwin Blesh began his substituting and as a result the Frosh offensive drive lessened a little. The half time score was 25 to 6.

Big "Play-Boy" Biddle was in his element during the game, being opposed by a center who had no chance with the man-mountain on the tip-off. Biddle scored 20 points during the proceedings, most of the shots coming from under the hoop. The combination of Biddle, Lindner, Cacitti, Arnerich and Captain Eddie Wing worked beautifully on the floor and gave promise of more victories for the conquering Babes.

The box score:

Anderson, the lad who turned in such a sensational game at forward for Menlo, does not confine his talents to the basketball floor. In the spring he becomes an important cog in the Menlo track team, where he is rated quite some pumpkins as a broad jumper, pole vaulter, and point-getter in sundry other events.

Swimming Coach Charles Walker, whose Varsity Mermen have already opened practice for the coming season. Mr. Walker is also in charge of the coming Intra-Mural Basketball Tournament. In the Fall he coaches Soccer.

San Jose To Have Strong Swimming Team This Spring

Veterans Return To Bolster Squad; Workouts Held Daily in Pool

Get a load of this, you Spartans! Coach Charles Walker announces that with the material he has had turn out so far everything looks rosy for a top-notch swimming team. And considering that this is only the second year of swimming and the first time aquatics has been an award sport at State, this is unexpected and plenty good news.

At present, approximately thirty men have donned trunks and started training in an attempt to win a place on the Varsity squad. And it's no wonder Coach Walker is wearing a broad smile when we consider the list of known material, to say nothing of that which will be uncovered in due time.

There is Holt from the Amblers in Stockton, and he certainly can turn a sweet exhibition in diving. Harold Hauser is a breast-stroke man, and also from the Amblers. Both of these boys held championships in their respective events in the N. C. S. and C. I. F., as well as another new lad from Redwood City, Richard Martin, breast-stroke champion in 1932. Those who saw the swimming meet last year between San Jose and the Amblers will remember Hauser's brilliant performance against State.

G. Kalmar, from Palo Alto, is recognized as an exceptional diver, while Francis Higuchi, who was the outstanding man on the spring-board for State last year, appears to be improving and much is expected of him.

Bill Draper, of last year's squad, and a new man, Ken Bruce, are both outstanding in the sprint events. The two gents hail from Palo Alto, where they swam, together on the relay teams of '31 and '32. It so happens the team they are swimming with succeeded in establishing a new P. A. L. record.

Dave Lynn, another last year's man, is an "all around", and will, in all probability, appear in the medley event.

Ed Platt and "Granny" Schofield are two more vets and they were also prominent in the recent Santa Clara County swimming meet. Platt is a good distance man, and Schofield is ordinarily a breast-stroke man, but due to the apparent strength in the breast-stroke ranks, and Schofield's ability as a back-stroker, he will undoubtedly be shifted to the latter event.

As soon as the squad is whipped into shape the boys mentioned will probably have a fight on their hands to keep some of the new men, about which little is known, from moving in and running off with their events. Everyone keep a "weather eye" peeled on this likely looking bunch of Spartan Mermen, for there is bound to be things doin'

In regards to the track team we think:—

That Noel Knight will be a much improved hurdler this year. He was just rounding in to shape last season when he was declared ineligible.

That Carl Robinson will develop into quite some sprinter. When he turned out for track last year this lad from the wilds of Lake County had never competed in track before. All through the early part of the season he was retarded by a bad case of shin splints. Then he began to give promise of great speed. Due to the fact that Louis Salvato and Don Harber State had two of the best sprinters in the Conference, he did not get much of a chance. This came the Fresno Relays. Blesh selected "Robby" to run a leg on the 880 yard relay team (each man a 220) that included Salvato, Harber, and Taylor. The Spartans won this event, which was a thriller all the way, and in so doing tied the Relays record. As a result each man received a gold wrist watch, and "Robby" played no small part in the winning of these. Running second lap against Floyd Wilson of Fresno State, one of the fastest men in the Conference, he held his own and kept the lead in the race.

That Jack Prouty will do great things in the pole vault this year. He has been working long and hard in the gym through the fall quarter, and is in tip-top shape and as hard as nails.

That races between Fred Orem and Glenn Harper are going to be worth traveling good many miles to see.

That Louis Marquis ought to toss the discus great distance this year. Like Knight he was just beginning to round in form when he became ineligible. Against Sacramento Junior College he tossed the platter 122 feet, and in subsequent practice he went well at 130 feet.

That the return of Ray Brack to participate in another year of track was a very fortunate occurrence. For the graduation of Harry Stoddard left the Spartans rather shy on two-mile but Brack can now handle the department very capably.

"Swede" Righter, College Pacific coach, said after the Menlo game, "San Jose has a great team." Let's take this with large amounts of salt and read a certain football game last fall where a certain coach used the same hokey to advantage.

Coach Art Acker makes bones about the ability of his Chico State basketball team. He has come out with the announcement that he has the best team in the history of the institution. Acker expects to clean up on the Conference without much competition. Chico has lost but one game in ten practice contests that defeat coming at the hands of the University of California. Chico tangles with Olson's Terrible Swedes of St. Louis this week-end. Looks like the second defeat for the Wildcats this season.
