NEW COURSE FOCUSES ON VETERANS RETURNING HOME

University Studies 95V: "Warriors at Home: Succeeding in College, Life, and Relationships," a class just for military students and veterans, is coming back by popular demand and will be offered Fall Semester 2012. The course is a three-unit interdisciplinary seminar instructed by Dr. Elena Klaw (Psychology), Dr. Anne Demers (Health Sciences), and Melodie Cameron (Career Center).

This innovative class was specifically designed to assist veteran and military students in making positive transitions from military to civilian or post-deployment life. The course provides essential tools to navigate the University, to succeed in academics and interpersonal relationships, and to develop a career plan. Class sessions are highly interactive, involving varied guest speakers, films, and discussion. The class culminates in a service project designed by the students. The Fall 2011 cohort, for example, conducted a campus-community fair in which local organizations serving veterans shared resources and information with campus staff and students. Students in the course became expert on topic areas they researched, and presented the results at the fair.

Overall, the inaugural Fall 2011 class was a great success. Student veterans reported powerful effects from their participation. For more information about the course, please contact Dr. Elena Klaw (Elena.Klaw@sjsu.edu) or Dr. Anne Demers at (Anne.Demers@sjsu.edu). To learn more about career planning resources for student veterans, please contact Melodie Cameron (Melodie.Cameron@sjsu.edu).

VETERAN STUDENTS ORGANIZATION REPORT BY DAMIAN BRAMLETT, OUTGOING VSO PRESIDENT

As always, things are pretty busy with the Veterans Student Organization (VSO) and the Spring 2012 semester is no exception. This semester the VSO is welcoming our recently elected executive officers. Marine Corps veteran David Richardson is our new President; Retired USMC Major Mark Pinto is now Executive Vice President; Navy veteran Robert Davila has been elected Secretary; Marine Corps veteran is the VSO's Treasurer.

In other VSO news, SJSU student and VSO member Canh Ha has just returned home safely from a deployment to Afghanistan. If you see Canh around campus, be sure to welcome him home. I'm sure he would appreciate it tremendously.

Dylan Wondra, another SJSU student and VSO member, is currently on deployment in Kuwait and we look forward to his safe return in the near future.

The VSO will have new sweatshirts coming at the end of February/beginning of March. The cost for each sweatshirt is $20, with the proceeds going toward future VSO events. T-shirts are still available for $15.

EXPERT SPEAKS ON THE JAPANESE SWORD

On Feb. 20, 2012 in room 225/229 at MLK. Mr. Paul Martin, a former staff member of the British Museum, author, and an acknowledged authority on these weapons, presented a lecture on the history and construction of the classic Japanese sword. Prized as much for its artistic beauty as for its amazing cutting ability, the Japanese sword is one of the most recognized symbols of Japan and its warrior class, the Samurai. The creation of these works of art has continued to the present through the efforts of a new generation of artisans, many of whom Mr. Martin interviewed and filmed for his documentary film, "Art of the Japanese Sword."

STUDENT AFFAIRS SUPPRTS SJSU VETERANS

One of the goals of Vision 2017 is for SJSU to further create a Culture of Helping and Caring. The Division of Student Affairs has been identified as being responsible for implementing and coordinating action plans for this initiative. To help create this Culture of Helping and Caring, the Career Center identified student veterans as one of the key populations on campus to benefit from further outreach.

Melodie Cameron, the appointed liaison for student veterans at SJSU, now offers weekly appointments for student veterans to help them translate their military strengths into civilian terms as part of employment preparation and job placement services, further assisting with their transition into the civilian world. The Career Center also partners with the community at large to gather resources and information that can be disseminated to SJSU student veterans. To further create this Culture of Helping and Caring, a paraprofessional program was created and the Career Center hired two student veterans to help connect their peers to services offered through the Career Center.

The Career Center promotes Unbound Learning through The Welcoming Warriors

Home Project, a collaboration with Dr. Elena Klaw, from the Psychology Department and the Center for Community Learning & Leadership and Dr. Anne Demers from the Health Science Department. The Welcoming Warriors Home Project aims to support student veterans in their personal, academic, and career development as they transition into the civilian world.
