February 2013 issue

A Look at Alumni: Alumna Christie Hageman has been casted in Stockton Opera's production of Marriage of Figaro, beginning on May 17 at the University of the Pacific. For more information about performances, visit the Stockton Opera website.

Ms. Hageman graduated from SJSU in 2006 with a BM in Vocal Performance. After a year of touring her home state as Miss Montana in the Miss America Pageant, she earned her MM from the University of Colorado.

She has appeared in productions with Opera Colorado, Opera Fort Collins, Livermore Valley Opera, and in the Aspen Music Festival in a number of prominent operatic roles.

Instrument of the Month

With roots reaching as far as the Middle Ages, the modern clarinet evolved from the Baroque instrument known as the chamuleau. The clarinet has the largest pitch range of common woodwinds and is now a staple in both classical and jazz performance.
String Week!

Our Second Annual String Week is coming up! Middle and high school students are invited to participate in a week of music, with ensembles, master classes, and one-on-one instruction taught by SJSU's string faculty. Learn more!

About "Stay in Time"

As the official newsletter of San José State University's School of Music and Dance, "Stay in Time" seeks to promote awareness and appreciation of music throughout the Bay Area community. This monthly newsletter includes updates on special events and the recent achievements of SMD's faculty and students.
Student Recitals
Nearly 200 recitals are performed each year by students in partial fulfillment of their degree programs. The public is warmly invited to attend these free performances and enjoy the great talent our students have to offer. Approximately 15% of scheduled recitals are changed on short notice. Please call (408) 924-4662 the day of the recital to confirm details.

DID YOU KNOW...

Piano professor Dr. Gwendolyn Mok performed with concertmaster David Kim, Philadelphia Orchestra at Valley Christian College on February 12. Along with professors Diane Nicholeris and David Goldblatt, she is also scheduled to appear on February 24 with the San Francisco Symphony Chamber Music Sundaes at Crowden School in Berkeley.

Voice professor Krassen Karagiozov will appear as Enrico in the West Bay Opera’s production of Lucia di Lammermoor on February 19, 23, and 24. He also will perform a concert on April 15 with fellow SJSU professors Joseph Frank, Layna Chianakas, Sandra Bengochea, and Gwendolyn Mok. He served as piano accompanist to singer Isaiah Musik-Ayala for an LA concert series.

On February 15, SJSU professors Dr. Michael Adduci, Dr. Victoria Lington, and Professor Wolford performed a joint Faculty Recital in the SJSU Music Concert Hall featuring solo, duo, and trio works for oboe, piano, and saxophone.

The SJSU Choraliers will be doing a spring recruitment tour from Sunday, March 17 through Tuesday, March 19.

In conjunction with the Emeriti Faculty Brunch, the College of Humanities and the Arts is hosting a Student Showcase on Friday, March 15 at 1:00pm in the Barrett Ballroom. The Student Showcase will display works by top students from different programs of the College, including Music, Radio-TV-Film, and English. The event will consist of live performances, poster sessions, and computer-based displays. College Dean Lisa Vollendorf hopes this will become an annual event: “The purpose of the event is to showcase our students’ talents, skills, and energy in a positive, collaborative, cross-departmental way.”our students have to offer. Approximately 15% of scheduled recitals are changed on short notice. Please call (408) 924-4662 the day of the recital to confirm details.
