Today at 12:30 the second of the weekly Musical Half Hours will be presented in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Last week's program was very well attended, and a very large audience is expected at today's presentation, which will be Mr. Riley Smith of the Music Department. Mr. Smith is one of the most outstanding organ and piano players in the valley. He is teacher of both these instruments during his time from school.

The program which he will present today is as follows:

(Arranged by Saens Sans)
 - II
Nocturne A Flat Major.....Chopin
 - III
Etude G Flat Major.....Chopin
No. 5 Opus 10.
 - IV

- Special thanks should be given to the College Y. W. C. A. in general, and to Miss Ruth Graham, Miss Annette Merrill, and Miss Lane Aalfs in particular, who have been spending many extra hours in arranging these Musical Half-Hour programs for the benefit of the school.

PROFESSOR HUME IS CHURCH SPEAKER

Professor Edward Hume, of Stanford University, is to speak on "Petrarch, Our First Modern Man," at 11:00 a. m. service of the Lutheran Church, 160 N. Third Street. This is to be followed by a dinner in the social reception room, Sunday morning, Jan. 22.

Gerry Erwin, State student, is to sing on the same program, a number entitled "In My Father's House Are Many Mansions," by MacDermid.

PLANS OF DANCE KEPT SECRET

It has almost been kept a secret—you know the student body dance after the game this Saturday night, but I guess you haven't heard about it. We don't know much about it either, so we will all rave to go and see for ourselves.

Sh. don't say anything about it, but it has slipped out that a special invitation has been sent to the College of Pacific to attend the after-game dance, so maybe the affair will be invaded by a lot of Tigers to dance to the tune of Zeigler's orchestra. We'll be seein' you.

College Bulletin of 1918 Vintage Reveals Many State Secrets

Looking over a 1918 San Jose State College Bulletin, recently, many interesting things were learned. Fifteen members of the present faculty were with the college in 1918. Miss Helen Sprague was secretary to the president and taught Primary Methods in 1918. She now teaches English. Henry Meade Bland was an English instructor in 1918; he later became poet laureate of California. Miss Corinne Davis has taught Psychology from 1918 to 1933. Karl Hazeltine was a professor in Agriculture in 1918, and now teaches Nature Study. Miss Clara Hinze has been an instructor in Geography from 1918 to 1933. Miss Elizabeth McFadden taught Physiology in 1918, and now teaches Student Health.

Miss Helen Mignon has been associated with Home-Making from 1918 to 1933. Miss Gratz has taught Mathematics from 1918 until now. Herman F. Minssen also has been an instructor in Mathematics since 1918. Raymond Mosher taught Music in 1918, and now teaches Psychology. A. L. Solon, in 1918, taught Pottery in the college; he now is a successful pottery manufacturer. B. W. Spaulding has been connected with the Industrial Arts Department since 1918. Miss Margaret Twombly has been a Physiology professor since 1918. Miss Martha Trimble was associated with the Training School in 1918, and is now a Psychology teacher. Lydia Innes, who is now appointment secretary, graduated from State in 1917.

POYTRESS PREPARES ANOTHER ADDRESS

Many students and faculty, who attended the meeting of the Globe Trotters Tuesday, January 17, will be glad to hear that Dr. Poytress, who spoke on the wide-world topic, "Technocracy," will again speak Tuesday, January 24, at a special meeting of the Globe Trotters in Room 1 of the Home-Making building.

Dr. Poytress spoke to 150 interested and enthusiastic people on "Who Are the Technocrats, What Are They Talking About." He will discuss the same aspect of technocracy at great length, especially money, the price system, and will also examine the figures which the technocrats have been leaving. Some of their most important claims will be touched upon.

After the speech there will be a period left for discussion if any one wishes to ask questions about the subject.

Come good and early, because many people could not see the door at the other meeting, which was also sponsored by the College Y. W. C. A.

College Annual Will Stage Country Store Idea At Hop Tonight

La Torre Head

Adele Melone, La Torre Editor, under whose sponsorship the dance this evening will be given. Due to the lack of Student Body financial support, it is hoped the dance will aid in meeting the Annual's expenses.

The program will include vocal, piano, violin, and woodwind instrumental numbers. The admission will be free to anyone wishing to spend an enjoyable hour in Morris Dailey.

Inasmuch as this is the first recital of its type of the year, a large audience is expected to come, in order that they may judge for themselves what talent the Music Department possesses. The arrangements are being taken care of by Miss Hanchett, Miss Thompson, and Thomas Eagen.

The program to be presented is as follows:

Merchandise for Affair Is Donated by Prominent Local Stores

At nine o'clock tonight La Torre is sponsoring a sport dance that promises to be the most successful ever presented at the college.

A huge country store will be featured at the dance, with prizes that have been donated by local merchants for those who attend the dance which is being given for the benefit of the San Jose State College year book.

Bids for the dance, which are selling at 25 cents apiece, or fifty cents a couple, are obtainable from any member of the La Torre staff, or at the door this evening.

Simoni Heads Work

Dario Simoni, head of student affairs, is heading the work on the dance, and is assisted by Carl Palmer and Dick Sanders.

Proceeds from the dance are to be used to finance the initial expenses for La Torre, which, this year, is not to receive any money from the student body.

Adele Melone, editor of La Torre, is general chairman in charge of the dance.

ART DEPARTMENT TO HOLD EXHIBIT

One of the most interesting exhibits that the Art department has been privileged to show will arrive next week from the Traphagen School of Fashion. It will consist of designs of the Colonial costumes worn 200 years ago, and executed by pupils of the school in honor of the Washington Bicentennial celebration of last year. The drawings which will be exhibited by the State Art department in room 1, will be those selected by the chairman of the Beaux Arts Ball Costume committee and hung for their first showing in the New York museum.

In addition to the Colonial group of dress designs, the exhibition includes drawings and sketches of costumes worn from the Twelfth to the Eighteenth century. There will also be a layout showing some of the Zanzibar Silk Prints which were inspired by African objects and were largely instrumental in popularizing the present jungle motives in styles today. The designs for them were personally brought over from Africa by Miss Traphagen.

Kappa Delta Pi, educational honor society, sponsored a meeting of all the honor societies on the campus Tuesday night in the Art building. This innovation was popularly received by the fifteen honor societies on the campus, over 200 people being present. Dr. MacQuarrie, college president, gave an interesting talk, and the different societies presented a clever skit.

Football Team Is Honored By State Assembly

Coach DeGroot Presents Gold Footballs To Varsity Men

At a general assembly held on January 19, members of the championship State football team and the coaching staff were presented with gold footballs as a measure of appreciation from the student body.

The meeting opened with a selection by the Spartan band, then President Leon Warmke urged the students to purchase tickets for the La Torre dance. He explained that admission would be only 25 cents, and Joe Rigdon's orchestra would provide the music. He also announced that the World Economic Conference would take place here on February 21, 22, and 23, at which several leading economists of the state would speak. Students who desire to attend were asked to see Dr. Poytress or Miss Aalfs.

President Warmke then introduced Coach Dud DeGroot, who awarded gold footballs to the following members of the team: Arjo, Baracchi, Laughlin, Shehtanian, Hornbeck, Whitaker, Sandholt, Klemm, Carmichael, Buehler, Collins, Simoni, Hardiman, Hubbard, Francis, Wool, Riley, Moore, Dieu, Bennett, Embury, Griffiths, Wolfe, Peterson, and Wilson. Captain Bud Hubbard expressed appreciation for the awards in behalf of the team, although he added that they probably would not be able to hang on to them long.

Coach DeGroot then announced some interesting statistics regarding the football team. Out of 32 lettermen taking about 175 different courses, only three courses were failed, although after taking everything into consideration, only one course was failed. The grade point ratio was 1:20, which is better than average. Several of the men came out with better than B averages, and with one exception, the eleven most

BLUE CARDS WILL BE MAILED

This quarter the practice of mailing warning cards will be resumed, according to Dr. MacQuarrie. Last quarter the system of handing the so-called blue cards to the students personally was tried, but it was found to be not so satisfactory as was hoped. In the same announcement, the president reminded the students again that each quarter's work which is unsatisfactory, will receive a mid-quarter notice. "A little effort now may avert disaster later," he said in conclusion.

Is The Earth Round?

Ask anyone that question and you're sure to get an affirmative answer, accompanied by a superior and pitying tone for such stupidity. Yet if you ask a college student—the kind that has taken science—why the earth is round and how he knows it is, things begin to get complicated.

This common habit of accepting what they are told is a major fault of students in modern colleges. Everything has been figured out for them by their teachers, and there are no problems left to solve. But this only tells half the tale. Because the history professor declares that democracy is the finest type of government, doesn't mean that Socialists have to stop orating.

There is no reason why we cannot benefit from the superior knowledge of our instructors, but there is no reason why we should accept their teachings as final. Progress has never come from minds stagnating in the learning of a past generation. What college students should do is question, and doubt, not everything perhaps, but points that seem debatable.

HORIZONS

—Of Sense and Nonsense—

Someone has objected to the title of this column on the grounds that they have not found the Sense as advertised.

Our explanation is in the form of a little story: Shakespeare—What has four and one-half wheels and flies? Gandhi—I'll bite, what has? Shak—A garbage wagon. Gandhi—Yes, but where does the half wheel come in? Shak—Oh, I just put that in to make it harder.

Wearing a punsive expression, a college professor made the statement that Doctors Barry and Holliday are a paradox.

We better Barry the hatchet on that one.

Reviving the old gag for today, we have: So we tossed a coin to see which of us should marry the girl. And you won? No, we lost the coin.

And another: So we tossed a coin to see which of us should marry the girl? And you won? Well, I married the girl, but afterwards discovered that he used a double-headed dime.

An so we tossed a coin to see which of us should marry the girl. And you won? Minister: No, the husband turned out to be a Scotchman.

You must send us some of your old gags some time, and we'll just have a good old-gag-time party.

Well, I am getting worse, so had better stop before I compose a poem in blank worse.

Ha, Ha, that's horizon you.

Just Among Ourselves

Note—This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

Sorry I ran over Tuesday. Shorter this time!

Good idea, signing those feature articles. Been on the spot alone for a long time. Don't expect to sign my stuff, but that map's enough to convict. I'd like to see every article signed. A good job's entitled to credit. If one writes a criticism, or essays a joke, he should be willing to accept responsibility. Marvelous how we take a second thought when we know there may be a come back.

Marks, grades, judging your fellow men. Gladly welcome some bang-up discussions of that problem. If we must have college records, I hope we may find the best possible methods of determining them. Faculty would welcome any improvement, but don't forget that our instructors carry normally a load twenty-five per cent greater than a maximum university load, and can't add more.

Textbooks. Real item in the student budget. They'll cost more if that San Francisco gang has its way. It does cost a good deal to make a book, no question about that, and of course the book companies are not exactly philanthropists. Paper covers might help, but doubt if we could get them. Messy, too. Possibly some sort of rental system would be worth a trial. Difficulties there. Free textbooks in the schools have allowed us to become rather careless. Fact is, we're terrible on books. No respect for them at all. Some of us seem to consider the books the source of all our difficulties and just treat 'em rough out of spite. Some one has remarked that there's a lot of human nature in a man. But go ahead and think. Make some suggestions, and let's thresh them out.

Sort of fun to be critical. Inflates one's ego. But if you can't be proud of your college now, you may some day. College is growing, and you may, too. I notice some Don Quixote is attacking the tower. Dear me, but he must have splintered his lance. And speaking of the tower reminds me that La Torre needs more money. Support was withdrawn last year to reduce student fees. But they must have more money, so Rusty's going to throw a party! There's a chance for all who can pay to do so. If you have more money than you need, take a gang of your friends.

Miss Helen Price, Regional Executive of the Y. W. C. A., whose headquarters are in San Francisco, will talk at the Association meeting Tuesday, January 24, on the organization, significance, and direction of the student movement in the United States. Members and friends of the Y. W. C. A. are cordially invited to hear Miss Price's most interesting lecture.

The Pscopathic Ward

Guess what, folks? Yesterday as we were walking along the waterfront in Milpitas, we happened to go into "Disrag Pete's Soft-Drink Hell," where, as you know, the upper crust frequently go slumming for local color.

While waiting for our orange Nehi, and listening to the barbaric music of Pete's accordion band, we turned around and saw Sophie Pillow, no less, but considerably more. Sophie, as you will doubtless recall, just returned from a tour of the Middle West with a prominent flea circus. She looked prosperous, so we had no compunction about handing her our bill to pay.

"How are they treating you, Sophie?" we asked, out of mere politeness.

"It doesn't look as though they're treating," she growled, eyeing the bill significantly.

O. K., Sophie, if that's the way you feel about it!

Our general experts, Tripp and Fall, hired a week ago, have been too busy recently to say anything really constructive. However, since the hole in the wall between the Times office and the A. W. S. room has been repaired and the wall is now opaque, our experts have sadly returned to duty.

"What is technocracy?" we asked them the other day.

"Technocracy?" repeated Tripp, scratching his head. "I think it's banana oil in the machinery of government."

"Our readers might be interested in your views on the tax," we suggested.

"The only taxes we are in favor of are taxes on the memory."

"I see. What do you think of the depression?"

Quad Wrangles

The wily old S. P. has foiled many a student this quarter. Never in the history of a good many eight o'clocks has the commuters' special got to school on time. It was usually late because it had to wait at the San Jose station for the Lark from Los Angeles. But now—here's where the plot thickens—the Lark comes in fifteen minutes earlier than before, so commuters are deposited at Washington Square in plenty of time for class, whether they like it or not. And local students like Mon Ledyard who used to judge whether they dare go to eight o'clock's twenty minutes late, along with the tardy commuters, are going to have to get up earlier.

"The honor system is an institution at Stanford." Sounds like famous last words. Just the other day we read about a diligent student who brought to one of his last quarter's final a "pony" in the form of a completely filled out blue book. Everything went along fine—up there professors are trusting souls and leave the room during exes—until the time came for this student to hand in his examination. At this point he got rattled and handed in his "pony" blue book instead of the final. Of course the prof. got wise and our hero decided not to come back after vacation.

The book is a good example of power amounting to the grotesque in its sweep of realism which permeates every page of this tale of a warped mentalité. The morbidity of presentation is fascinating in the climaxing horror heaped upon horror, and the more monstrous because of the restraint of handling which serves to intensify the effect.

State College Graduate Becomes Bride During the Christmas Holidays

Louverne Richards Weds George Montgomery at Yuletide Ceremony

Miss Louverne Richards, graduate of San Jose State, recently became the bride of Mr. George Montgomery at a lovely Christmas wedding. The bride was charming in a gown of white tulle, quite long and with a white cowl neckline. In her hair she wore a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of pale pink rose buds and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony, which was held at the Hotel De Anza, a formal reception and dinner was held at the home of Miss Louverne Richards. The couple will make their home in San Jose. Mr. Montgomery is foreman of the Golden Poppy Creamery in this city.

The winner will be awarded either a handsome double-egg-beater, or the privilege of hearing the writer sing the cap position.

National President Visits Tau Mu Delta

Miss Gertrude Evans, National President of Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music sorority, came to visit the Tau Mu Delta Chapter here on the campus. Miss Evans during her brief stay here was entertained by this chapter's honorary faculty members at a luncheon at O'Brien's, and later in the afternoon the guest was entertained at a lovely musical tea at the home of Miss Maurine Thompson, faculty adviser of Tau Mu Delta. An interesting musical program of solos and ensemble numbers were enjoyed. Those present were Miss Helen Dimmick, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Otterstein, Mrs. Erichson, Mrs. Jessie Thompson, and the active members of Tau Mu Delta.

Nautical Dance Held By the D. T. O.'s at South Bay Yacht Club

Delta Theta Omega, prominent on-campus fraternity, gave one of its original dances Friday night at the South Bay Yacht Club. The theme of the occasion was a nautical dance and the bids were cleverly printed on canvases in red ink. The music was provided by the Sainte Claire orchestra, and one of the highlights of the evening was the newly formed D. T. O. trio consisting of Ray Rhodes, Charles Pinkham, and David Gilmore, singing some of the popular numbers of the day. A light supper, consisting of coffee and sandwiches, was served at midnight.

Kindergarten Activity Visits Local Postoffice

The main post office was visited last Wednesday, January 11, by the class in kindergarten activities. Mr. Chase, the postmaster, spent three-fourths of an hour with the class. He explained everything concerning the post office to the students. The class was shown the process in caring for the mail coming in and going out, the air mail, general delivery, and dead letters.

State Co-Ed Announces Engagement To a New York Social Worker

Miss Lois Gray

The Amos William home in the eastern foothills, was the lovely setting for one of the smartest affairs of the last week, when Mrs. Howard A. Chrisman (nee Vera Williams) and Miss Fany Archer were hostesses at a beautifully set shower tea in honor of Miss Lois M. Gray, '32, whose announcement of her engagement to Richard L. Johnson was an event of last month.

A large number of friends were bidden to share the enjoyment in the afternoon, in which hand work was one of the interesting diversions. Miss Althea Harper, violinist, presented several numbers, which were enjoyed, as were the contralto numbers by Miss Marjorie Wheeler, local radio artist.

Miss Gray was the recipient of a large number of very beautiful and individual gifts, which were presented to her in a very clever manner. Very dainty and tasty refreshments were served at the conclusion of the shower-tea.

Many students will remember Lois Gray as a student here, graduating in August, 1932. She was prominent in music circles and a member of Bel Canto Club. At present she is on the faculty of the Willow Glen School, where she is teaching cooking and sewing.

Mr. Johnson, who is at present at the New York School of Social Work, is a graduate of Redlands University, where he was well-known for his musical activities, and is now the tenor soloist in one of the New York churches.

No date has as yet been set for the wedding, but it is expected to be solemnized late in the summer.

ALLENIAN FORMAL TO BE PRESENTED AT WOODSIDE

The Woodside Country Club will be the scene of the Allenian formal dance, Saturday evening. Craig's Cardinals will furnish the music. Bids for the affair are two dollars and may be obtained from any member. Betty McAllister, president of the Allenian Society, is in charge of the dance.

Beta Gamma Chi Held Glamorous Affair in Honor of Members

Woodside country in the hills back of Stanford University was the scene of one of the loveliest affairs of the season, given by the Beta Gamma Chi of the San Jose State College. The attractive function was in honor of the new members of Beta Gamma Chi, the Misses Rita Greco, Frances Gleason, Hazel Wolford, Alyce Bradford, and Elizabeth Edgar.

A large illuminated crest of this society added the attractive decorations of larve baskets of holly.

The patrons and patronesses invited to attend the formal were Miss Helen Dimmick, Miss Marie Curtis, Miss Alice Hansen, Miss Dorothy Kaucher, Miss Helen Mignon, Miss Estelle Hoisholt, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Heath, Mr. Ferdinand Graham, and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley DeGroot.

regular players had the best scholastic record. Of the men chosen for the All-Conference team, the scholastic ratio was 1.86. Not one played flunked out, which proves that brains and brawn do mix, even in football players.

DeGroot said that this was the second time in the history of the college that gold footballs were presented to a team. He said only two men will be lost to next year's team, and with the new stadium, which probably will be dedicated in October, San Jose State should have another successful year. Stanford and San Jose will open the 1933 season with a game at Stanford stadium on September 23. Coach DeGroot expressed optimism concerning the outcome of the game, saying that San Jose has a good chance of coming out on top.

Dario Simoni presented awards to Dud DeGroot, Wilbur Hubbard, and John Illia, of the coaching staff, and to Rex Connor and Ed DeFraga of the managing staff. President Warmke congratulated them on their successful work.

Howard Burns, yell leader, thanked the students for their support in the past and led several yells with the help of his assistant. The students sang "Hail, Spartans, Hail," accompanied by the band, and Leon Warmke announced that the basketball team did not wish to appear, but reminded the assembled students that the next game would be played Saturday, with a dance following.

Don Madsen, music representative, presented Arthur Luck, who played two violin selections, accompanied on the piano by Paul Copeland. Joe Rigdon then entertained with piano selections and obliged with an encore. The meeting was declared adjourned, and the band played the closing march.

Two Former Students of State College Announce Engagement in the City

Hotel Mark Hopkins Is a Picturesque Scene of Engagement Party

The engagement of Miss Ruth Audrey Fieger to Leland H. Schauer, both former students at San Jose State College, was announced at a charmingly arranged dinner given recently at the Hotel Mark Hopkins in San Francisco.

Miss Fieger, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fieger of San Jose, belongs to the Epsilon Nu chapter of Delta Theta Tau.

Mr. Schauer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Schauer of Los Angeles. He received his degree in commercial art lately at this college, and is a member of Smokey Tam, and the Sierra Club.

The date for the marriage ceremony has not yet been announced, but the marriage is expected to occur in the late summer.

Arthur Wagner Presides Over Joint Meeting

With Arthur Wagner as general chairman, all the honor societies met Tuesday evening in Room 1 in the Art Building, as guests of Kappa Delta Pi. The program was a varied one. A trio of Phi Mu Alpha members played a selection, El Circulo Cervantes and Iota Delta Phi offered a tri-lingual skit, which was given in French, German, and Spanish. Dr. MacQuarrie spoke on "The State In Which We Find Ourselves," which dealt with the legislature as regards the college. Sigma Kappa Alpha presented a clever skit called "Socialized History." After the entertainment, refreshments, consisting of punch and cookies, were served.

It is hoped by the honor societies that another meeting may be held in the future.

1918 Bulletin Reveals Much Interesting Data

ple than it is at present. Two years was the minimum amount of time spent in Normal School. The curriculum was entirely adequate, but was not as elaborate as the present course of study. The Junior College and Technical classes were, of course, not included.

A comparison of expenses revealed that they are about the same. Board and room was from twenty-five to thirty dollars a month. There was not any registration fee. Books and materials were bought by the students.

For admission to the Normal School in 1918, a student had to have 15 units of high school work, 11 recommending units.

It is interesting to note that San Jose College, fourteen years ago, was purely a woman's institution.

The college has seen many improvements since 1918. Its faculty has trebled. New buildings have been added, and the courses of study are much more extensive and elaborate.

Spartans To Meet Pacific Cagers In Return Match Here

Varsity Men Determined To Avenge Wednesday Night's Defeat

The San Jose State College hoopsters will make a determined effort here Saturday night to upset the College of Pacific basketball varsity and even the count by winning the second conference battle of the regularly scheduled series. The Tigers took the first contest at Stockton, 34 to 18.

Except for the closing minutes of the first half, when the Spartans trailed by two points, Pacific proved a far superior team, using their height and weight to good advantage under the bucket. The much ridiculed Tiger defense which cracked open against St. Mary's, proved to be a stone wall to the Spartans, with the Stockton boys playing a hard, fast game, and hounding the ball.

Contrary to Associated Press reports, Captain Norm Countryman was not responsible for San Jose's downfall. Countryman was kept well covered and could not get any shots at the hoop. It would be impossible to blame defeat on any one man or five men, as Pacific undoubtedly was the most high-powered aggregation.

On their home court Saturday night, the situation may be reversed, with San Jose finding the hoop and being able to break through the visitors' defense on the larger court.

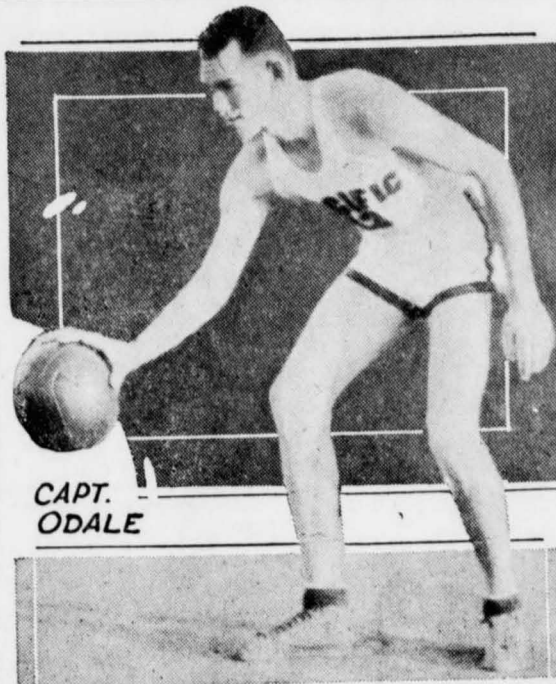

Coach McDonald will depend on the men who have carried the brunt of play so far this season: Captain Countryman and Rea at forwards, "Slim" Mathieson at center, and George and Liebrandt, guards, while "Swede" Righter, Pacific mentor, will send the same starting Tiger line-up into the game which was so successful against the Spartans Wednesday night.

The line-ups:
San Jose Pacific
Countryman (c) F Hoene
Rea F McCain
Mathieson C Odale (c)
George G Bainbridge
Liebrandt G Russell

ALPHA PHI GAMMA TO PICK LEAGUE CASABA TEAM

Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary co-educational journalistic fraternity, has taken up the gentle sport of picking All-Far Western Conference teams. They were rather late with their football choices, but this was unavoidable due to the date of their convention. However, they promise to be more prompt in their selection of an All-Star cage team. In fact, they are laying the groundwork for their balloting at the present time.

Frosh Basketeers To Meet Monterey High School Here

Blesh's Men Will Attempt To Lengthen String of Straight Wins

Seven straight! That will be the goal of the local Freshman basketeers Saturday night when they tangle with the high school quintet of the foggy city of Monterey. The ocean-side team has a record that is rather hard to figure. They have a loss to the fast Mountain View outfit, who split a two-game series with the Frosh and incidentally, hold the only win over the Babes. However, they have won from Campbell, who defeated Mountain View, and they also have a win over the San Jose Terrors. That, by the way, means practically nothing.

Erwin Blesh will probably start the same five which has been making such an enviable record for the team of '36. With Al Lindner and Remo Cacitti at forwards, Blesh has a pair of basket shooters which work together beautifully. Lindner is tall and a dead-eye under the basket, while Cacitti has a habit of hitting the hoop from around the edges of the court.

Man-mountain Carl Biddle is a certainty to start the fracas at center. Towering above the opposition, Biddle is used as the chief threat around the basket, and using his height to advantage, is dependable for anywhere from 10 to 20 points.

The defensive positions will be held down by Captain Eddie Wing and Lawrence Arnerich, who, while not hitting the ring with alarming regularity of late, have been turning in some excellent defensive floor games. Wing is the faster of the two, while Arnerich combines his height and judgment to make an ideal running partner for Eddie. The two boys have had very few baskets scored over them this season.

The game will start at 6:45, and is certain to be a fast, hard-fought affair.

COLLEGE SONGS ARE RATED BY U.S.C. LEADER

What are the three best college songs in America? The answer, according to Harold William Roberts, noted University of Southern California bandmaster, who led the musical organizations of the Tenth Olympiad, is: Yale's traditional "Boola Boola," Southern California's stirring "Fight On for Old U. S. C.," and U. C.'s glorious "Hail To California."

In explanation of his choice Mr. Roberts said that these three songs have two main elements of a college marching song—inspiring rhythm and simplicity of melody.

These songs, according to Roberts, are the stirring kind that inspire you to stamp and throw your hat in the air and not care who thinks you are crazy.

Tomorrow night will find "Mac's" cagers attempting to avenge last Wednesday night's slaughter. Maybe the boys can do better when they get the Tigers on their own court. At least, we hope so.

Seen at Stockton Wednesday evening:

Rain, rain, and more rain, and when it rains in the San Joaquin Valley it rains. Believe you us.

"Mac", Rea, Vagts, and Francis indulging in a bridge battle in the hotel before the game.

The lack of scoring in the first part of the varsity game.

The Pacific Frosh bowing to Sonora High and not looking too hot in the process.

McCain, Odale, and Hoene of Pacific tanking them from everywhere on the court. Watch these lads Saturday. They are plenty good.

San Jose staging a rally in the closing minutes of the first half which took them within two points of the Bengals.

"Skinny" going out on foot early in the first half.

Hoene breaking down the floor towards the wrong basket and hollering for the ball when Russell didn't throw.

Downs and Tueller injecting speed, if not points, into the struggle.

Downs collecting fouls under the basket for his four points.

We see where Walt Marty of Fresno State, has been invited to go East along with Bill Miller of Stanford, to compete in the National A. A. U. indoor meet. The officials seem to recognize the ability of this lanky valiant high jumper.

The baseball and track sports have been glooming around the campus wondering when this rain will let up. The downpour completely dampened the game Wednesday, and also the hopes of the pill artists. The track men have been able to take their exercises daily in the gym, which is most encouraging. Oh, to be a track man—half of this firm is—I guess.

Well, the battle royal for the intra-mural honors started last night in a series of hard-fought contests. The Senior A team favored in the Spartan league while it looks as though the Sophomore A's may take the Gold and White. The faculty also has a team and how! A glimpse into the gym the other evening showed McDonald, Blesh, Hubbard, Walker, and others diligently concocting a series of new surprise plays for the benefit of the other unsuspecting teams. Look out, boys, the faculty is out for blood, and will win an array of stars!

Coach Charlie Walker is turning out one of the best swimming teams in this section this year and expects to win the major part of his pool contests. With men as Holt, Houser, Martin, Draper, Murray and Lynn under his wing, Walker should put the Jose State on the map in a sport that is fast and healthful. Make power to you, Charlie Walker. We can use a good swimmer team, and we're all behind you.
