

Nature Students Outdoor Classes To Be Formed

West Coast School To Meet June 19 in Sierra Nevada Mts.

San Jose State's annual West Coast School will be held from June 19 to 28, this year, some place in the high Sierras. The exact location of the school is yet to be decided. The purpose of the school is to have a straight outdoor nature program. The school is a great service, especially to Nature Study teachers. It is estimated that 150 to 180 students will enroll for the school. The number of instructors will depend upon the enrollment. Dr. Pickwell will deal in the study of birds; Dr. Hazeltine in the presentation of naturalization material; Dr. Duncan in the study of insects; Mr. Buss in geology; Miss Smith with wild flowers and Dr. Peterson will deal with trees.

Last year this school was the only one of its kind in operation. The previous year several others held sessions, but evidently they were not so successful. The unique feature of the West Coast School lies in the fact that it is working with an educational institution.

This year is the third year that the school has been in operation. The first year it was held in Big Basin, and 90 students attended; the second year it was held in Silliman on the Monterey peninsula, and 140 students attended.

Three units of college credits may be earned at the session. The success of the enterprise is clearly indicated by the increase of 50 per cent in the enrollment last year, while the other similar schools were forced to shut down.

West Coast School's program is completely out of doors. Students work in groups of 20 and the instructor goes with each group. Each instructor has a different topic. The groups rotate, thereby enabling the student to work in each branch of the work. Trips are started at 8 a. m., they bring their lunches and work until 2:30. From 2:30 until dinner, is recreation time. An evening session from 7:00 to 9:00 takes up lectures and group discussions.

ALONZO STAGG TO VISIT WEST COAST

No definite report has been received from the College of Pacific on the proposed trip to the West by Alonzo Stagg, who Pacific has hopes of signing as head coach. Stagg was confined to bed when C. B. Allen, Stockton post director, attempted to see him during a recent trip East. Stagg appeared interested in former offers by the Tigers, and would be a big step forward if this renowned football authority were to take up headquarters on the coast.

GLOBE TROTTERS

Today from 12 to 1 o'clock in room 1 of the Home-Making building, there will be a special meeting of the Globe Trotters to hear Dr. Poytress tell more of the interesting news concerning the "Technocrats and What Are They Doing."

Don't forget that you were left out last Tuesday, so come early and get a reserved seat.

Y.W.C.A. TO SPONSOR MUSICAL PROGRAM JANUARY 31

A very special treat for both lovers of music and dramas is coming to our campus January 31. This is being sponsored by the College Y. W. C. A.

Marcus Hall, a young negro baritone, and a group of negro players who are young professional students from Berkeley, will give two one-act plays.

The plays are:

1. "No Account Boy," by Paul Green, a comedy which interprets negro life.
2. "Writer of Dreams," by Ridgley Torrence, which seems a mystery.

The program will be in the Morris Dailey auditorium on Tuesday evening at 8:15. The student tickets are 35c and adults 50c.

Miss Ruth Adele Roberts is in charge of the general arrangements for the evening.

L. INNES VISITS VARIOUS COUNTIES

Miss Lydia Innes, appointment secretary, returned last Wednesday from a week's trip through various counties of the state, visiting the superintendents, principals and graduate teachers of the school.

According to Miss Innes, the State Legislature keeps everyone anxious and in a state of unrest, but there is every indication of there being enough teaching positions in the spring.

The counties which she visited are as follows: Contra Costa, Lake, Marin, Nevada, Placer, Sacramento, Sonoma, Solano, Yolo, and Yuba.

SMITH ENTERTAINS ON JANUARY 20

Friday, January 20, Mr. Riley Smith was presented in a very interesting program at Musical Half Hour, which was sponsored by the College Y. W. C. A.

The program was as follows:

- I
Gavotte B Minor.....Bach
(Arranged by Saens Sans)
- II
Nocturne A Flat Major.....Chopin
- III
Etude B Flat Major.....Chopin
- IV
Polonaise E Major.....Liszt

Three Colleges May Be Closed By Report Of Roland Vandegrift

Director's Report Calls for Saving of Six Million Dollars

The State Director of Finance, Roland Vandegrift, submitted a report to the Legislature which called for an approximate saving of $6,000,000 biennially. The report included the temporary elimination of three state teachers' colleges, proposed reduction of teacher's salaries, and increased registration fee.

The salaries of the faculty were proposed to be reduced on the scale of: $70 per month or under, no cut; 5 per cent on the first $100; 15 per cent on the next $400; and 25 per cent on all above $500 per month.

By the new plan, Chico, Arcata, and Santa Barbara State Teacher's Colleges would be eliminated, thereby decreasing the expenditures of the State Board of Education.

The most drastic change, so far as San Jose State, and other teacher's colleges are concerned, is the increase of the present registration fee to $25 per semester, which would be estimated to save the State $500,000 according to the present computations. It has not been taken into consideration, however, that if the registration were increased, enrollment would decrease to such an extent that it is doubtful that if any money would be saved by the state treasury.

The plan also proposes to abolish state support of adult education.

In addition to all the changes involving State teachers' colleges, other plans have been proposed which would hit the jails, hospitals, and asylums.

HONORARY DEBATE SOCIETY MEETS AT MISS JENKS' HOME

The Spartan Senate, honorary debate society, met last Monday, January 16, at the home of Miss Jenks, head of the Speech Arts department. The policies of this society, and the program for the next two quarters, were discussed at the meeting.

It was decided that shorter trips to schools of the Far-Western Conference, and particularly to schools in Northern California would be made, rather than trips to Los Angeles and to the East.

It was also definitely decided that the inter-class debates would be held on January twenty-sixth, and that the Freshmen and Sophomores would debate at Freshman Orientation, and the Juniors and Seniors at Senior Orientation on the subject of the grading system on that date.

LA TORRE ANNOUNCEMENT

Will the following organizations please urge the members to have their picture appointments made immediately. This is very important. The editor has set the deadline for present members of the organizations to make their appointments at Wednesday, January 25.

- Allentian, Beta Gamma Chi, Ero Sophian, Phi Kappa Pi, Sappho, Kappa Kappa Sigma, Delta Theta Omega, Sigma Gamma Omega.

Y. W. C. A. SECRETARY TO SPEAK TONIGHT TO GIRLS

This evening Miss Helen Price, Regional Student Executive Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., will speak to the local Y girls on the subject "The Student Movement Faces the Future." The discussion will be a very formal one, giving around an improvised camp-fire in Schofield Hall. After the short lecture, the girls will sing the more popular songs in unison, after which a lunch will be served.

A cordial invitation is extended to all local Y girls and their friends who might be interested, to attend this lecture. The place is Schofield Hall in the Y. W. C. A. building on Second and San Antonio Streets; the time is 7:30 p. m., and the speaker, Miss Price of San Francisco.

ANN WELCOME WILL SPEAK NEXT WEEK

Ann Welcome, home economics director of the Call-Bulletin, will speak on "The Modern Alice in Wonderland," at an open meeting sponsored by Delta Nu Theta in Room 1, Home-Making building, on Thursday evening, February 2, at 7:30 o'clock. Ann Welcome, whose real name is Ella Lehr, and who, a few years ago, was in the employ of the local P. G. & E. will tell of the adventures of a home economist in the business world. Her pleasing and valuable newspaper column and her very interesting topic assure her audience of a most engaging evening. All students and faculty members are invited to attend.

PACIFIC STUDENTS BECOME GIGOLOS

The College of Pacific has inaugurated a novel system of dating by the organization of a "Gigolo Club." Young men will rent themselves out for the evening at the nominal sum of 75 cents for informal affairs, and $1.50 for formals.

With such a quantity of feminine students attending State, it might be well for some State males to do something similar.

Juniors To Give Campus Formal Friday Evening

Dance Will Be Given In Women's Gym After Basketball Game

On the evening of Friday, January 27th, after the basketball game, the Juniors are sponsoring a Depression Formal in the Women's Gym.

Old Man Depression is due for a run around in an atmosphere of black and white, which will be the striking color scheme used throughout. The dance is strictly formal. Only one hundred and fifty bids are being issued. They will be on sale January 25, the Wednesday preceding the dance. Juniors get first choice and the balance of the bids will be available at the Controller's Office. The price is fifty cents per couple.

General chairman of the committee working on the dance is Harry Jennings. Pearl Bohnett is in charge of bids, and Lee Russell of general arrangements. Paul Cox's orchestra is slated to furnish music. And for the benefit of the dear public, this dance is NOT the Junior Prom, but the Junior Depression Formal.

JOINT MEETING OF HONOR SOCIETIES HELD JANUARY 17

First joint meeting of the honor societies of the campus was held Tuesday evening, January 17, with approximately one hundred and seventy-five members present. This meeting was sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi, educational honor society.

Mary Louise Carmichael, president of Kappa Delta Pi, presided. Each society was introduced to the group by Miss Carmichael.

An attractive program of lavender and green, Kappa Delta Pi colors, was given to each member present at this meeting.

The program consisted of renditions from a few of the societies. Iota Sigma Phi, Industrial Art society, presented a humorous skit displaying the plight of a man who is universal in the skills of carpentry. Musical selections were presented by a string quartet from Tau Mu Delta. Sigma Kappa Alpha, history society, gave a "Socialized Lesson for Teaching College Students." A group recited with vivid appreciation and motions, "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere." The French and Spanish honor society presented a skit with the setting in the Swiss Alps.

Dr. MacQuarrie, the speaker for the evening, gave an enlightening and fascinating talk about the "State We Are In."

The group sang "Hail, Spartan, Hail," after which the members proceeded to become better acquainted with one another, and light refreshments were served.

The Four Year Plan

Hope that at least one beneficial result will be realized from the confusion reigning in political circles at Sacramento was expressed by faculty member here. A bill providing for a four year liberal arts college at state teachers' colleges in California, has been presented to the Assembly. If it should be passed, it would mean less expense and a higher enrollment for State. The lower expenses would come because students would not be required to take expensive education courses. Certainly many more would attend this college if they felt that they could get an A. B. without preparing for a profession they are not interested in. The small majority of students who realize their teaching ambitions, indicate that State, to be really progressive, should change their present plans to include a liberal art education.

How do you students stand on this matter? Are you satisfied to take education courses and never get teacher's credentials? Would you like to see your college attain the status of a university? The Legislature wants student opinion. Write to your Assemblyman at Sacramento and tell him what you think!

—F. A.

Reminiscences

Reminiscences of the gay old days when San Jose State was young and the co-eds wore thick heavy skirts a la pompadour that almost reached the ground are recalled today in an interview with Mrs. Harriet E. Somers (nee Harriet E. Quilty), founder and first president of our student body, and also first editor of the "Pennant," the student publication of those days.

According to her, the class of September, 1894, in which she belongs, was the first class to try the four-year course leading to teacher certificate, which is equivalent to the present four years in the high school course. Previous to that, the college offered a three-year course instead of four.

Programs were prepared for the students then, and everyone had to take every subject listed, and these included both academic and scientific as well as psychology and pedagogy. There were no foreign languages taught, but extensive courses in art and music were offered. A rather odd custom of those days was the classification of the students as juniors for the first year; middle for the second; and seniors for the third year students. It was only after the addition of another year to the course that the present appellation of freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior was originated.

Mrs. Somers impressed the prevalence of very vigorous discipline of those days and asserted the fact that fraternities and sororities were forbidden by the faculty and the only congregation the students met was in the assembly every morning, which was then held in the old training school building, where the foreign language classes are now conducted. Roll was called every morning in the assembly, after which the students marched out quietly to their classes.

It was the close association between the faculty and the students that gave birth to the creation of the "Pennant" and laid the beginnings of the student body. Mrs. Somers related that one afternoon, the students requested the faculty to dismiss their classes an hour earlier so they could assemble together, and, after much deliberation, consented to the students' wishes. They then congregated in the assembly while the faculty members retreated to their domains. Mrs. Somers called the first meeting to order and various committees were appointed. When the meeting was over, the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung so very impressively that the faculty realized that the meeting was a success and everything was well. The next day nominations and elections were held and Mrs. Somers was notified of her good luck as the first president-elect of the first student body, she being absent during the election. The student body came into being.

Before its creation, Mrs. Somers said that the students had no idea whatsoever what a student body was all about, and she herself admitted that the idea took root in her mind in her correspondence with Stanford and California as editor of the College "Pennant."

Just Among Ourselves

Note—This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

Seems to me we're more serious than usual. Possibly I think so just because I feel that way myself. Don't wish to particularly, but it's in the air, and perhaps I'm sensitive.

College has settled down to a good steady pace. About a hundred and fifteen more students now than last year at this time. Plant and faculty just the same, and the extra load has been absorbed.

Principal difficulty is the library. Can't be corrected much until we get a new one. Additional building is out of the question now, so we may as well make the best of it. Doing pretty well under the circumstances. Reading rooms are crowded, but there's more cooperation. Evidently the light weights who used to disturb us, have left, or have grown up.

Still losing some books, two rather valuable ones lately. Thieves we seem to have always with us. Catch about two a year. Wish beginners could see what happens to them. Very smart they were once, but that's all gone. "First time I ever took anything." "Every one grabs around here, I don't see why you should hang it all on me." "I just can't go home, it'll kill my mother, and my dad'll kill me." "Will you let me stay if I pay for them?" etc., etc. It's truly sickening—but there's always another one. Odd, too, that some of them expect to be teachers. Publicity might help some of those who are beginning now, but it's too distressing to make such weakness public.

Hope you're as proud as I am of that set of the Oxford dictionary. You didn't know when England went off the gold standard that it would help our library. This international finance is a fearful and wonderful thing.

Getting a new machine for the metal shop, a four-foot radial drill. Uncle Sam's navy making us a present of it. We pay only the freight. Have some fine equipment in our shops now. Not many better anywhere.

I didn't feel bad when I saw our team take a licking Saturday night. We have a good team, did some good work, particularly in that sprint. Can't win all the time. Shouldn't. Pacific has a good team. It's a pleasure to see any game in that gym. Lucky to have it. No depression can affect it now.

ers said that the students had no idea whatsoever what a student body was all about, and she herself admitted that the idea took root in her mind in her correspondence with Stanford and California as editor of the College "Pennant."

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor of the Times:

The feature page of our college newspaper has been, and is, a source of much interest and amusement. A source of interest and amusement,—and I wonder how many were either interested in or amused by the puerile drivel which appeared under the heading of "Caliban's Calummies" in last Thursday's edition of the Times?

Possibly our budding young journalist is bored by this "dul, world" and its "forms of perversion," but being so bored one would think that he might have some consideration for the "perverts" and not make it any duller with his poor taste in subject matter.

There is evidently no subject too sacred, not even death, to be used as a medium for the exploitation of a colossal ego. Really, there is a limit, and we suggest that Caliban pull down the shades of his domicile lest he see some of the vital things of life.

Muckraker

Dear Editors:

Let's all join hands and play columnist. Anyone can do it. The requirements are exceedingly simple. One needs only to be a little crazy (not violent), or half crooked, and know how to spell technocracy. Quite simple, isn't it? Well, so are they.

What's to do about 'em? You can turn out the lights if you want, but you can't get rid of a columnist.

They're the latest and most possible thing in the way of a national menace.

When you read some of these "Dips" you forget all about depression. Uh huh, you feel much worse.

Try this on your jew's harp:
East is East and West is West,
But never shall I
Be a columnist.

Hh, not so bad. And when I see some of these scrambled eggs sitting for hours and hours wracking their soggy and muddled brain, it's then I consider them better off a corpse.

Speaking of corpses, we can expect to find the Muckraker in such a condition almost any day now if he doesn't lay off breaking up all these happy homes to be.

The mug that cooks up that ominous Billiken makes me feel like a spring hat in a cloudburst. The cryin' room for this guy.

Heard that "Nerts" was going to resign because they wouldn't print his column. Cheer up, Nerts, maybe it's all for the best.

"Beautiful even in death," so it has been said, but when a supposedly sane person (wait a minute, I almost forgot he is a columnist) connects it with fertilizer and dashes tribute to the deceased into the dirt—Oscar, My violin case.

We have all suffered through that dippy article very fittingly titled, "The Psychopathic Ward." 'S, nuff said.

Horizons, outside of giving off a rather offending and musty odor, isn't so bad when we consider the author gets off an average of one good crack a week. After all, Alviso wasn't built in a day.

Cigarette Butts wasn't so bad until its creator went intelligently and began giving full column thesis on how to be a model husband, father, and why modern education is lousy. I can't see why he has to blame his own ideas on the Bull-penners, either. Why don't you speak for yourself, A. R.?

Why say any more? I can start to razz the Quad Wrangle but as the feature editors put that, I fear for my chances of this going to press.

Now, dear readers, if any you have any suggestions, let voice them. It won't do you a bit of good.

MUSIC STUDENTS ENTERTAIN AT WOMEN'S CLUB

During the past week some members of the Music department presented a short concert at the Women's Club. The musicians on the program were Miss Winifred Fisher who sang some delightful soprano numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Adolph Otterstein on the piano. Mr. Eagen presented his woodwind ensemble in two classic numbers which were very well received by the appreciative audience.

STANFORD EXTENDS LOCKOUT HOUR

A movement is now under way to extend the lockout hour at Stanford from 2:30 to 3:00 a. m., as a result of 40 co-eds being locked from their respective campus quarters following fraternity initiation ceremonies in San Francisco. Several prominent students on the campus have come to the support of the co-eds, claiming that check-room delays and traffic jams were responsible for their late—or rather, early—arrival on the campus.

JUNIOR IS CHOSEN HEALTH COTTAGE REPRESENTATIVE

Leon Warnke, student body president, has announced the appointment of Betty Biddle, popular coed, to occupy the position of Health Cottage representative for the coming quarter. Miss Biddle, who is a junior, and a Beta Gamma Chi, will hold this position only temporarily, as Dorothy Kirby, who holds the permanent position, is at present doing her student teaching.

STUDENT STUDY SEA LIFE RECENTLY

Saturday morning, January 21, Dr. Hazeltine's Nature Study class went by bus to Moss Beach to study forms of marine life. As a preparation, the students had attended lectures on the animal film. Each person was responsible for his own observations. Dr. Hazeltine was assisted by Mr. Merson. Coffee was made and served by Messrs. Evans and Bubb. The class spent the whole day making observations, returning at five o'clock.

SOME CLASSES TO MEET LATE TO HEAR POYTRESS

American Institutions (History 175) and U. S. History (171) which usually meet at 12:45 on Tuesday will meet at 1:10 today in order that the students may attend the lecture by Mr. Poytress on Technocracy at noon.

ILLUSION:
This very old illusion was invented by Indian fakirs. The secret was unearthed in 1849 by the great magician, Robert-Houdin. At that time, ether had just been discovered, and little was known about it. Houdin claimed that he had discovered that this new anesthetic could make people light as air. To prove it, he caused the subject to rise into the air and float apparently suspended. He passed a hoop around the body to show there were no wires or supports.

EXPLANATION:
There are many, many explanations for this old trick. One is that the girl wears a concealed harness, which ends in a socket between her shoulder blades. This is attached to a piston below the stage. The piston is pushed up from below, causing her to rise in the air. The piston is invisible, because it is covered with mirrors which reflect surrounding draperies, similar to the background. The magician can pass the hoop over her body because it is cut in one place. It can be pulled apart for a second when it passes the piston.

NO TRICKS
..JUST COSTLIER
TOBACCOS
IN A MATCHLESS BLEND

It's fun to be fooled — ...it's more fun to KNOW

Another "magic show" is cigarette advertising. One of its greatest tricks is the illusion that cigarettes can be made miraculously "MILD" through manufacturing methods. THE EXPLANATION: All popular cigarettes today are made in modern sanitary factories with up-to-date machinery. All are heat treated—some more intensively than others, because raw, inferior tobaccos require more intensive treatment than choice, ripe tobaccos. The real difference comes in the tobaccos that are used. The better the tobacco, the milder it is. It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

This is why Camels are so mild. This is why Camels have given more pleasure to more people than any other cigarette ever made. It's the secret of Camels' rich "bouquet" ...their cool flavor...their non-irritating mildness. All the natural, ripe goodness of Camel's tobacco is kept fresh for you by the famous air-tight, welded Humidor Pack. Don't remove it.

Frosh Cagers Make It Seven Straight As Monterey Falls

Babes Score 35-21 Triumph as Last Quarter Scoring Spree Yields Points

In a fast, hard-fought game, marred only by the slippery floor, the Spartan Babes turned in their seventh straight victory Saturday night in the preliminary game with Monterey High. The final score was 35-21.

The score throughout the first half never varied over two points, with the Frosh leading at all stages of the proceedings. With Lindner and Biddle connecting for most of the points, the yearlings held a 15-13 lead at the end of the first half. At this point, Crivella, ineligible red-headed Monterey guard, had accounted for eleven of his team's digits.

Going into the second half the Monterey team immediately knotted up the count at 15-15. A few minutes later it was 17-17. The end of the third quarter found the Frosh leading, 21-19. Then came the proverbial Freshman resurrection. With their offensive plays ending in buckets by Lindner and Biddle, the Frosh ran up a comfortable 31-21 lead in four minutes, whereupon Blesh sent in a few substitutes, who kept up the scoring, the final reading 35-21.

Not a little bit of the effectiveness was due to Arnerich, who turned in a remarkable defensive, aided nobly by Eddie Wing. Lindner was high point man for the Frosh with 15 points. The auburn-haired Crivella was the entire Monterey five (scoring 17 of the ocean-side quintet's markers).

Intra-Mural

By Dick Bertrandies

GAMES TONIGHT

SPARTAN LEAGUE—NORTH COURT
Tuesday, Jan. 24
7 p. m. Frosh B vs Frosh C—Bishop
8 p. m. Junior D vs Faculty—Elliott
9 p. m. Junior A vs Frosh D—Forden

GOLD & WHITE LEAGUE—South Court
Tuesday, Jan. 24
7 p. m. Junior B vs Frosh C—Moore
8 p. m. Senior B vs Post-Grad—Roberts
9 p. m. Soph B vs Junior C—Clemo

Intra-mural! Intra-mural! Und comes it now an Intra-Mural Foul-Shooting Tournament.

No, it's not a turkey hunt, but a regular old casaba tossing contest. And if you want to enter it all you have to do is be eligible according to Intra-mural Basketball rules, get your name in to your class manager, or Coach Walker, on or before this coming Friday, the 27th, and you're all set for a lot of fun and a chance to be a lone star; you get the idea. Just get that monicker in, that's all you have to do, and we'll tell you more about it later.

And here are the results of last Thursday's Intramural basketball games. Scores for the Gold and White league were: Soph B's 22, Frash A's 13. Dave Barr, of the visitors, was high score man with 8 points.

The Junior C team drubbed the Senior D's 29 to 5. Ziegler and Mengel, Juniors, copped the honors with 10 and 7 points respectively.

It was the Soph A's who made that impressive 47 to 2 score over the Frosh B aggregation. We can't find who was high point man, but everybody had a good time—except the Frosh.

Spartan League

The Junior A's beat the Frosh Z's, 34 to 10. Covello of the Juniors was high point man with 10 digits.

Soph D's forfeited to the Frosh D bunch due to shortage on players.

And the game that surprised us all was the one in which the highly touted Senior A five barely beat a supposedly inferior Soph C team by a score of 28-22. The safe lead wasn't established until the last moments of play. Vagts was high point man for hte game with 14 points. Rice, of the Sophs, was credited with 11 points, and Keeley of the Seniors, followed up with 10 points.

The remaining eight teams that did not play Thursday night will be seen on the floor this evening.

That "hotcha" Senior team, that's made up of some of these ex-big shots like Vagts, Kalas, Moore, Goodell, Keeley, and others, had something to worry about with that Soph bunch. Perhaps the big shots grow better with increase in competition, or maybe that Soph team was good. Time will tell.

Eighty-six men participated in Thursday evening's game. In my estimation, Intra-mural sports are O. K.

Spectators are encouraged to come to these games, and some of them are well worth the time.

Second C.O.P. Game Dropped by Varsity Cagers; Score 35-23

Locals Give Tigers Better Battle Than Expected; Downs Stars

College of Pacific defeated San Jose State here Saturday night in a Far Western Conference game, 35 to 23, but the Tigers had a much more difficult time winning than pre-game indications called for.

Expected to be an easy victims, the Spartans of San Jose proved Tartars in the last half and only in the final minutes was Pacific able to carry a comfortable lead. Spasmodic rallies by both teams found the visitors more consistent and baskets registered by Hoene and Odale finally resulted in a Tiger victory.

Spartans Rally

With Pacific leading at half time by a comfortable margin of 15 to 7, spectators who sat back and waited for the Tigers to march to easy win, were given a chance to yell when the Spartans came back with a vengeance at the start of the half to tie the count at 17 all.

Led by a diminutive dynamo forward by the name of Downs, San Jose broke through the airtight Pacific defense for four baskets in a row to gain the lead, 19 to 17. Two of these shots resulted from long tosses by Downs from out on the court.

From this point on however, Pacific, though handicapped through the loss of their high point man, McCain, who was ejected on four fouls, rallied to run their total to 35. San Jose, on the other hand, had several opportunities to score, but failure to make set-up shots and bad passes at crucial moments would result in losing possession of the ball and a consequent Pacific score.

The highlights of the game beside the spectacular shooting by Downs, were a long one-handed shot by Captain Norm Countryman early in the game and beautiful shots by Pacific's three aces, McCain, Hoene, and Odale.

Girls' Sports

Ducks like to swim in rainy weather, but so do the faculty! This fact was positively proved when the faculty turned out in spite of the rain to make the largest crowd yet to assemble for one of the faculty swims. It seems to be the style to be "all wet" lately, and the faculty members lead the fashion on these watery Wednesday nights. Even the Home-Making teachers are letting the other fellow sew the straight lines and go in for a little floating.

Have you ever played Water Catch Ball? It is an adoption in the East to take the place of water polo, which is a little too strenuous for any one with less than varsity strength. You can get into pretty deep water in this game, however, for beginners the game can be successfully played in shallow depths. And, believe it or not, we are one of the first schools in the West to play it.

Who said girls don't show a lot of Spartan fight, there is seemingly no end to the enthusiasm they show in these games, and they even show some scars of battle after the game is over.

By the way, if your heart is O. K.ed but your feet have not yet been examined, come anyway to the class Tuesday night and they can be O. K.ed at the pool.

Nevada Dumps Chico Twice in Week-End Games; Lead League

Chico State College's "best team in the history of the school's" chances for a Far Western Conference title went glimmering when the Wildcats were taken into camp by the University of Nevada at Reno in both games of a double-header. The respective scores were 42 to 27 and 43 to 24.

At no time was Nevada threatened and the Wolves successfully stopped Lambrecht and Barker, Chico scoring aces, which resulted in the Wildcat downfall. Bledsoe and Gould led the scoring for Nevada.

California Aggie cagers were definitely put to rout by their big brothers at Berkeley by a lopsided score of 45 to 9. Carl Stephens led the Tigers with five points.

While Pacific was defeating San Jose State in the second game of a double-header, Fresno State College Bulldogs dropped a close one to the Los Angeles Coronans. Secrist, Fresno center, starred. Fresno opens the Conference with the California Aggies Wednesday night.

Standing of the teams:

	W	L	Pct.
Nevada	2	0	1000
Pacific	2	0	1000
Fresno	0	0	000
Cal. Aggies	0	0	000
San Jose	0	2	000
Chico	0	2	000

Seen at Saturday's Scrimmage:
A number of bright new white sweaters, sporting a new S. J. Looks like the football team cashed in.

We'll venture to predict that when Downs and Concannon were in together, State had the lightest pair of forwards in Conference.

This fellow Hoene certainly gives Skinny a run for size.

Among those seen on the Pacific squad and who got into the fracas for a short time were Tom Wilson and "Buddy" Gould. Wilson is known as one of the best forward passers on the coast, as Santa Clara will testify while Gould is an exceptional smart quarterback, gaining the position on one or two All-Conference teams.

Wonder what Righter means when he said State had one of the best teams in the Conference? He must have just come from one of his own scrimmages and had a chuckle or two up his sleeve.

We see where Nevada bounced Chico on its respective cap twice over the week-end. Mr. Acker, where, or where are those glorious pre-season predictions? We don't see any true ble ahead for you from San Jose State, but neither do we see any Conference championship being deposited in your back yard. Oh, my, Mr. Acker! The Wolves were certainly at your disposal with a vengeance.

Speaking of Conference teams did you see where Aggies took that 45-9 trimmer from the California second and third teams? Yeah, February is the date.

This titan-haired Crivella of the Monterey High quintet while being ineligible in league participation, has certainly proved a boon to the Monterey team in practice. Without Crivella's 17 points Saturday night the Frosh opposition would have been practically nil. Crivella sank 35 points against Salinas.

It appears that we have once again been a bit too hasty. We refer to the item on Dudley Groof's officiating of the Cal. U. C. L. A. basketball game. It seems that, in spite of the penny-throwing manifestations of the fickle public, officials and sports writers have acclaimed Dudley's work as some of the best seen on the coast for some time and, after all, it is the opinion of these men that really counts.

We are also informed that work on a 220 straight-away, another long felt want, will be commenced simultaneously with construction on the new stadium. Depression or no depression, things are certainly looking up around San Jose State but maybe we shouldn't count our proverbial chickens before they are hatched.

That Mr. Brock of Alameda High School, who participated in the preliminary fray was the real stuff. We warrant that his lad will be heard from on some college team in the near future.
