36TH ANNUAL CHICANO COMMENCEMENT

San José State University | Mexican Heritage Plaza | May 28, 2006

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF 2006

Commencement is not only the culmination of your college career, but also the beginning of your life as alumni of San José State University. Today, you join the ranks of leaders and professionals who have graduated from this institution. Like them, your role will be to help shape our society's development. You, as well as your family and friends, should be proud of the accomplishments and contributions that you have made as students at the University. Education is a life-long process, and I wish you well as you continue your intellectual accomplishments and personal growth.

On behalf of the entire San José State University community, Felicidadez!

History

A graduation celebration born in a time of protest has survived into an era of relative calm on the San Jose State University campus that thrives today. Chicano Commencement, a separate graduation celebration at SJSU, continues to serve as a reminder that all is not well for Chicano students. The ceremony began in June 1970, when the regular commencement exercise at SJSU was marked by protest -- against the Vietnam War, discrimination and environmental degradation. Consumer activist Ralph Nader was the keynote commencement speaker for the ceremony. Chicano students picketed the event. "We said why not just shine all that and do what is culturally ours," recalled Chris Jimenez, a 1970 graduate and now an administrator at Mission College in Santa Clara. "And our cultural ties center on our families." "The commencement is an extension of the closeness and camaraderie of the relatively small group of Chicanos on campus," Jimenez said. "The Chicano students always had to support each other. We loaned each other money and helped each other get jobs. So we became best friends almost out of necessity," Jimenez said. "We did many things together, such as tutoring each other, that sort of thing." Chris Jimenez and Mauro Chavez first became friends while waiting in line for class registration. Chavez had been short by $10 to cover his tuition fees, and Jimenez always willing to help someone in need lent him the money. Incidentally, both Jimenez and Chavez were sociology majors and became best friends from then on. The 36th annual Chicano Commencement will be held as a celebration to the spirit of accomplishment and in gratitude to our families. An estimated 900 plus Spanish-surnamed students will graduate this year. In 1970, there were fewer than 30 said Mauro Chavez, a 1971 graduate. "It was a way of some how letting the university know that we were not being fully represented on campus in terms of the number of students and the numbers in our community," had stated Chavez. He served as associate vice president for arts and sciences, and a social science professor at Evergreen Valley College in San José, before dying of leukemia at the age of 45 in 1992. During his time, he noted that the number of Chicanos attending SJSU was far from representative of their numbers in the area. For Chicanos or Latinos, it's also a very important milestone to graduate from College. Young, educated, spirited adults will rise again from this years 36th Chicano Commencement ceremony. Teachers, lawyers, engineers, entrepreneurs and more with be represented in communities, by "la raza." Chicano Commencement is committed to honor college bound Chicano/Latino students, to encourage high education, community involvement and continually promoting the advancement of all Chicanos/Latinos people.

Chicano Commencement Co-Chair, 2006

Patty Herrera

Director, Multi-Cultural Initiatives | Oakland Raiders

Patty Herrera graduated from San Jose Staté University in 1994 with a degree in Public Relations and a minor in Spanish. Patty began her professional career working for Kaiser Permanente Health Plan Marketing. In 2002 Patty joined the Oakland Raiders and given the task of creating a Hispanic Initiatives Department.

Before joining the Raiders Hispanic Initiatives program Patty was a Raiderette for 8 years and was a captain for three. In 1999 she was awarded Raiderette of the Year where she represented the Raiders at the Pro Bowl in 2000. She participated in the 2001 American Bowl in Mexico, the 2000 Pro Bowl and the 2002 Super Bowl. Patty has been involved in numerous charity and community events over the years such as The Boys & Girls Club, Boy Scouts, Special Olympics, American Diabetes Association, Easter Seals and the Alameda 4th of July Parade.

In 2004 Patty was promoted to Director of Multi-Cultural Initiatives.

David Ocampo

President | Milagro Marketing

David Ocampo has been developing creative brand-building campaigns for over 10 years and has worked in a variety of community relations and marketing positions for over 15 years.

David has a MA degree in Mexican American Studies and an Undergraduate degree in Advertising from San José State University. David has also studied Advertising at The National Taiwan Academy of Arts in Taipei Taiwan. Before opening Milagro Marketing, David was the Director of Marketing for the Mexican Heritage Corporation and was instrumental in driving creative strategies securing audience participation for one of the nations largest Hispanic cultural arts facilities, the Mexican Heritage Plaza.

David lives with his wife Sonia and two children in San Jose California.

Master of Ceremony | Honoree

Damian Trujillo

Investigative Reporter | KNTV 11

Damian has been honored with awards from the Associated Press, the Radio and Television News Director's Association (RTNDA), and the National Association of Hispanic Journalists. He is a former member of the Board of Governors for the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences (NATAS). Damian was recently named "2004 Reporter of the Year" by the Associated Press radio and Television Association for California and Nevada and twice nominated for an Emmy Award. In his spare time, he enjoys golf and volunteering with school children. Damian grew up in Greenfield, about 2 hours south of San Francisco on Highway 101. While in high school, Damian worked in the agricultural fields of the Salinas Valley, with his family, to help make ends meet. Each year, the Trujillo family awards a college scholarship to the son or daughter of a farm worker in Greenfield. Damian holds a bachelor's degree from San José State University. He and his wife, Monica, live with their daughter, Malyna, in the Bay Area.

Cindy Chavez

Vice Mayor and Council Member | City of San José

Vice Mayor Cindy Chavez maintains a sterling reputation as an advocate for improving the quality of life in neighborhoods throughout San José. She is a leader in developing innovative community-based partnerships to address crime, education, small business development and neighborhood revitalization.

Elected in 1998 and overwhelmingly re-elected in 2002, Vice Mayor Chavez's tenure is distinguished by visionary leadership -- implementing goals to make every neighborhood safe, enhancing the capacity of residents to have an impact on public policy, and opening up numerous channels for neighborhood leaders to influence and improve city government's services to their communities.

Vice Mayor Chavez is a longtime resident of Downtown San Jose. A 1987 graduate of San José State University, she lives with her husband, Mike Potter, the District Director for State Assemblymember Joe Coto, and son Brennan in the Naglee Park neighborhood.

Eddie Garcia

Chairman of the Board | Mexican Heritage Corporation

Eddie Garcia has worked in politics, business, education, and with community-based organizations for over two decades. He is a native of San José's east side, and a graduate of James Lick High School, and San Jose State University, where he earned a place on the Dean's list in the History Department.

Eddie is the Director of Government Affairs for Comcast Cable Communications in the South Bay. Responsible for maintaining corporate communications with Members of Congress, State Legislators, and local elected officials who represent the South Bay area

Prior to his career in the telecommunications industry, he was the legislative assistant to former San José Vice Mayor Blanca Alvarado, served as campaign manager for her successful election to the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors.

Eddie is currently the Chairman of the Board of the Mexican Heritage Plaza in San José and serves on several other community boards. Recently, he was selected for a fellowship at the American Leadership Forum of Silicon Valley – a non-profit organization that brings business, education, political, and community leaders together to work on issues to improve our community.

Eddie is married to Sandra Peralta, a Principal in the Alum Rock Union School District. Eddie and Sandra have two daughters: twelve-year-old Marisa and eight-year old Erica.

Letter from the Co-Chairs

Welcome graduates, family and friends to this our thirty sixth annual Chicano Commencement celebration. Today on May 28, 2006 together we stand here at the Mexican Heritage Plaza, to celebrate our academic accomplishment with our peers, friends and family. We are the proud class of 2006 and for that we thank all those who helped us get to this day.

Throughout our academic journey we have worked hard, played hard and learned who we are, and who we want to be. Most importantly we've learned that with perseverance and sheer determination, we are able to triumph over any fears or obstacles that may be placed in our path through out life. These obstacles and fears that we have triumphed, our journeys have become both of success and pride.

At the same time we are now able to stand proud of our accomplishments, we must also recognize that we have not gone through this journey without help of our loved ones. Together, we, the SJSU class of 2006 stands high, "Honoring our past, and empowering our future".

Bienvenidos graduados, familia, y nuestras amistades a la celebración anual número treinta y seis de Chicano Commencement. Hoy, el 28 de mayo del 2006, todos unidos aqui en la Plaza de Herencia Mexicana, celebramos nuestros logros academicos con ustedes. Somos la orgullosa clase del 2006, y por eso les damos gracias a ustedes.

Durante nuestra carrera académica hemos trabajado muy duro y al mismo tiempo gozado de nuestras experiencias. Pero lo mas importante que hemos aprendido es que con determinación podemos lograr todas las metas que nos ponemos, hasta hoy y para el resto de la vida. Estos obstáculos y temores que hemos vencido. Nuestra jornada ha sido de éxito y orgullo.

Estamos orgullosos de nuestra realización y talentos. Reconocemos que sin el apoyo y la unidad de ustedes no podriamos lograr lo que hemos logrado.

Juntos, nosotros, la clase del 2006 de la Universidad de San José orgullosamente "Honramos nuestro pasado",

Patricia Rocha-Fernandez

Major: B.S. in Public Relations/Communications

Primero le doy gracias a Dios por darme esta vida. A mis padres que desde chica me enseñaron que para triunfar se tiene que sufrir un poco. Con su esfuerzo y trabajo de cada día, lograron su sueño mas grande, una familia unida. Hoy es un nuevo día, un día para reflexionar, un día para aspirar. Al fin puedo cosechar todos mis esfuerzos que tanto me platicaba mi mamá. Gracias por su apoyo, el cariño y todo el trabajo que han hecho por mi y mis hermanos. Mi único deseo es que en este día esten orgullosos de mi. To my brothers and sisters, thank you for showing me the way. For allowing me to make my own mistakes and learning from them. For always supporting my ideas and dreams, aspirations and goals, you have continuously encouraged me to reach them. I have commenced my higher learning of my education. I only hope now I can follow the philosophy of a great leader, "The end of all education should surely be the service to others."—Cesar Chavez

Major: B.S. in Civil Engineering | Minor: Business Administration

Hoy en este día doy gracias a mis padres, por sus rezos y esfuerzos que han sido mi apoyo para salir adelante y por siempre inculcarme humildad. Entre sus enseñanzas aprendí que en esta vida se tiene que trabajar y sufrir antes de lograr el triunfo. To Dre and Big Red what else can I say but "Family above all", thanks for being my road dawgs through this journey that I had embarked in this part of my life and for watching my back through thick and thin. To all those special someone's who need not be mentioned, cause they know who they are, thanks for never allowing me to take the easy way out in life and quitting. Thanks for believing in me when most others wouldn't take the time to do so. Por ultimo, quiero dar gracias ha mi familia de sangre y mi familia elegida

It's been 3 years since graduation and what do you know, here I am again, GRADUATING, this time it's a MASTER'S DEGREE, wuuu huuu!! I am a woman of my word, I always finish what I start.....SLOWLY but surely. Thanks Ma Y Pa, I knew I could always count on you to turn off the lights everytime I fell asleep studying. Thank you God, for believing in me. To infinity and beyond.....that's how I feel.....oh and just to let you know, I'm still not moving out until I get married, and that doesn't look like it's going to happen within the next 10 years, sorry if I'm intruding a bit into your retirement, but the good news is..... you can still buy me that BMW if you want :)) I'd like to thank my brother and his band for playing tonight, you can reach LOS REGIONALES AT 1-415-225-5700.

To my husband, Jose, thanks for always being there to give me that extra push when I needed it. Mom, finalmente lo hice. Te quiero mucho.

Freedom and Opportunity, Not Language, Define American Values

Article By Eddie García

As third- and fourth-generation Mexican-Americans, my two young daughters and I walked side-by-side with a sea of marchers May 1 to demonstrate our support for immigrant rights. I couldn't help but feel a sense of pride to see so many people exercise the most American of values -- free speech. I was proud of the courage displayed by those who marched, and I relished that we, as a country, have progressed and matured since the days of violence on civil rights demonstrators by Southern authorities with fire hoses and attack dogs.

To be sure, our nation needs to have a thoughtful debate on immigration, especially with respect to undocumented workers. The discussion should include all relevant public policy issues. Unfortunately, the segment of our populace that is fixated on the notion that immigration dilutes American culture and values continues to hamper meaningful discussion. Not only do those beliefs hinder thoughtful debate, they also falsely imply that American values are connected to language and culture.

Our values were born during the American Revolution and memorialized in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. From Jefferson's declaration that all people have a right to pursue happiness to the freedoms outlined in the Bill of Rights, American values are based on the concepts of human dignity and freedom. Nowhere in those seminal documents do the Founding Fathers proclaim that proficiency in English, a hearty appetite for apple pie, or a specific ethnic heritage are requirements for American values. The basis for our values is simple -- the belief in freedom, hard work and the opportunity to succeed without regard to one's station in society. At best, those who believe otherwise don't truly understand the concept of American values. At worst, they may be xenophobes who are intolerant of diversity.

To illustrate the true notion of American values, the life of my father-in-law, a man I greatly admire, comes to mind. He came to the United States over 50 years ago as a teenager. He worked in the fields of central California, married and moved to San Jose in the 1960s for a construction job and in search of the American dream. He and his wife raised four daughters, all of whom are college-educated and productive members of our community.

My father-in-law is more comfortable speaking in Spanish than in English. He would rather eat a meal of rice and beans than a hamburger and fries. When watching TV, he is more likely to tune into Univision instead of CNN. Those who believe that our nation's values and culture are based on language, food and television habits would argue that my father-in-law doesn't represent American values.

However, for the past 50 years, he has worked hard, paid taxes, financed the education of four children, voted in elections and gratefully struggled in his pursuit of happiness. On a recent trip to Washington, he beamed with pride as he entered the White House for a tour. Based on the concepts outlined by our Founding Fathers, my father-in-law personifies American values and culture -- albeit not in the language that some would have him do so.

The 100,000 demonstrators who marched in San Jose strongly conveyed their belief in American culture by exercising the value of free speech. They may choose the San Jose International Mariachi Festival over the San Jose Jazz Festival, tortillas over wheat bread, and the Star-Spangled Banner in Spanish over English. Nevertheless, it is clear that they believe in the values that our national anthem so eloquently brings to life. They believe in the American dream that my father-in-law embarked on a half century ago.

As Americans, we should continue a healthy debate on immigration, but let's not divert the attention to those who fear diversity under the guise of protecting American values. Those who come to our country already understand our values. That's why they risked all to be here.

Looking back, I think of what a crazy ride this has been. Through all the struggles, I always knew there was a troop of great people standing by. Thank you all for being there for me; you know who you are and I will be forever grateful. Nunca hubiera llegado tan lejos sin el apoyo y amor tuyo, mama. Mil gracias por lidiar siempre conmigo y ser mi fortaleza en toda la palabra. Eres maravillosa.

Este día es especial no solo para mí pero también para mi familia por eso quiero agradecer a mis padres Carmen y Hector por apoyarnos a mi hermano y a mí en nuestros estudios, y por darnos una vida mejor de la que ellos tuvieron. A mi hermano, su esposa, y mis tíos gracias por ayudarme con todo especialmente con dinero. To my roomie, thanks for cooking breakfast for me the first day of school.

Quiero agradecerles primeramente a mis padres, Mariano y Yolanda Márquez por su gran apoyo y amor. Me enseñaron a ser la persona que soy hoy: Responsable, honorable y trabajador. También quiero agradecerle a mis hermanos: Jessica, Baldo, Jr, Andrés y a una persona especial Christina. También quisiera agradecerles a todos los que me han ayudado incluyendo a los miembros de esta organización que han hecho los últimos años más agradable, GAMMA ZETA ALPHA.

As the years of schooling come to an end, I would like to thank the individuals that helped me achieve my goal of graduation. First I would like to thank my family: my parents Augie and Dee Dee, my grandparents Jess and Olivia, my sister Melissa, my aunt Teri, my cousin Manuel. I would also like to thank Mike Orosco, for helping me with all the math problems that I had trouble with. Last but not least, I would like to thank my brothers of Nu Alpha Kappa Fraternity for keeping me focused.

Gracias Dios por darme la fuerza para seguir adelante cada día. Mom: You've kept me standing; without you, I would have fallen. Papa: Todo sacrificio tiene su recompensa. Siempre han dirigido por buen ejemplo y han mostrado la importancia de humildad y dignidad, por eso les doy gracias. Brothers: Live life, don't let life live you. I love you all. To my extended family and friends: Your faith has fueled my drive to succeed. Mis triunfos son reflejos de ustedes. Gracias!

I'd like to thank my family, friends and loved ones for all of their compassion, encouragement, and support that they have demonstrated throughout my college education. I'd also like to give a special recognition to my sister Amelia, for believing in me, because she has shown me that with hard work and perseverance I can accomplish anything. Lastly, I'd like to thank God, for my wonderful family and friends who have truly blessed my life.

First and foremost I would like to thank my father, Jose and my mother, Martha. Throughout my entire life my parents have loved me unconditionally, and have always taught me to dream big and to never settle for less. Without the love and support of both my mother and father, the accomplishment of graduating from college would not be a reality. I would also like to give thanks to God for blessing me with a very supportive and loving family.

Empowering Our Future

Article by Patricia Rocha

During the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City, United States track athletes Tommie Smith and John Carlos were awarded medals for their athletic efforts. However, the great athletic feat would soon be shadowed by one of the most memorable moments in the American Civil Rights Movement. Tommie Smith and John Carlos would protest the poor treatment of African-American people in the United States and stood to empower the African American community. This is a great symbol for the community of San José State University. Tommie Smith and John Carlos were both students at this prestigious university and showed San José State University students of the present and the future that students can make a difference on the global stage. Tommie Smith's raised right black gloved fist represented black power, the knotted black scarf around his neck represented pride, and the box in his left hand contained an olive tree sapling which stood as an emblem of peace. John Carlos's raised left black gloved fist represented unity in black America and the beads around his neck signified lynchings suffered by blacks. Both men wore black socks but were shoeless during the ceremony to represent black poverty in racist America. Together they formed an arch of unity and power. Racial issues are still a problem that many minorities face in the present time. The 1960s was one of the most volatile and turbulent decades in American history. Today, progress must be made, for our future. For our future will flourish and stride for excellence, but only if we invest in it. Without it we are silenced. Our youth today will become our future. Doctors, lawyers, educators, community leaders and many more will be represented by our people. "Nuestra gente." We must take care of our people, our communities, and our future. We continue to honor our past, and empower our future, today and for the rest of our lives.

Si Se Puede!

Quiero tomar este tiempo para darle gracias a mis padres por todo el sacrificio y esfuerzo que han enfocado en mi. Desde niño tengo recuerdos de mis padres tratando de darnos la mejor vida posible. Siempre nos han tratado de darnos la mejor impresión del sueño Americano y darnos lo que ellos nunca tuvieron. Y en este día tan especial quiero ser el de darles la gracias por su apoyo en poder cumplir mis sueños universitarios. As my little cousin Emiliano once said, "we made it."

I would not be here if it weren't for my family. Thank you for your love and support in my journey out here. It has been a very long road and the most difficult part of it all is being away from home. You all have made this possible. The books, the rides, the care packages, and everything else you helped me with, I truly appreciate it. To my homies back home, those who understand, acknowledge, and respect what I do; I send great love to them. To Spo and the rest of the fellas...viva Chole...

Wake Up To Your Own Dreams!

Once upon a time...

There were many damsels in the land who did not own their own castles. Some were scared to buy for themselves. Some didn't believe they had enough gold. But Most just kept dreaming that their "Knight in Shining Armor" would come rescue them someday and sweep them off their feet so they could live happily ever after in the castle.
