THE CHAIR’S CORNER

First and most important, congratulations from all of the Kinesiology faculty and staff to ALL of our graduates, the class of 2007! Whether you were on the two, four, six, or eight year plan, you made it. All the best for the future, and do please keep us informed of what you accomplish in your careers.

In late April, the Department of Kinesiology revived the tradition of holding quasi-annual Alumni Lunches. Over 70 alums, and past and present faculty and staff attended. More information on this will appear in the Alumni Newsletter, out in June. To those of you graduating, look for this in your future, and plan now to attend in 2012, when the department will celebrate its own 150th anniversary!

In the first week of May, the Department of Kinesiology was visited by Dr. Sharon Guthrie, Chair, of the Department of Kinesiology at CSU Long Beach. This external review takes place every five years and is a requirement of the CSU system. The purpose is to have someone outside see us through an outsider’s lens and suggest what we might change or do better, let us know what we do well, and make recommendations to the university administration. Thank you to all faculty, staff, and students for your interactions with her at what I know was a very busy time for all. Her visit coincided with Founder’s Day and we told her the party was in honor of her visit.

Looking to the future: the faculty have spent much of the semester at various meetings thinking about how we can better meet the needs of our students, especially through undergraduate core classes. We plan for this to be a good fit with both the university-mandated student learning objectives and the mission of the university.

At the time of writing this, we have verbal acceptances from two very highly qualified faculty-to-be, in psychology, and sport studies. I plan on introducing them to you in the first Communicator of the fall.

Have a great summer, wherever your plans take you!

Shirley H.M. Reekie, Chair

Faculty/Staff News

Dr. Sonja Lilienthal received a small research grant (one of only three awarded) at the Dean’s Awards reception.

With great sadness, I must report the death last week of Sol Horn. Sol had taught dance classes for us since 1995 and, according to his son, Eric, “lived for teaching dance and playing bridge.” Sol had indicated to me his intention to retire at the end of this semester. Several students, and Eric, have told me of the joy that dancing brought to Sol’s life and, I would add, the joy he taught to many others, too.

Dr. Ted Butryn, along with colleague Theresa Walton from Kent State University, presented a paper entitled, “National identity via (global) local runners in global (local) contexts,” at the joint meeting of the Midwest Sociological Society and the North Central Sociological Association in Chicago. Approximately 2,000 scholars and graduate students attended the conference.

In early March, Dr. Jin Jung and Ashley Johnson, one of the undergraduate students in the Physical Education Teacher Education program, gave a presentation entitled “Implementation of Hellison’s TPSR: Pedagogical Strategies and Game Activities for Practitioners” at the CAHPERD conference in Sacramento. The session was a big success with over 100 participants. Ms. Johnson said, “As a future teacher, it was an exciting experience to introduce games and activities to real Physical Education teachers.” In addition to the CAHPERD, Dr. Jung attended the AAHPERD convention in Baltimore late March. At the AAHPERD he presented his two recent studies: What Stimulates Exceptional Teachers’ Reflection in Physical Education and The World of Others: National Physical Education Curriculum in South Korean.

Dr. Gong Chen was interviewed by Singtao Newspaper (A Chinese newspaper in Northern America) to provide advice on crime prevention and self-defense, to handle the potential campus shooting based on the V.T. case, and to share his research results on chances of survival in self-defense. The report was on the cover page of April 20, 2007.

In March 2007, he presented "Teaching self-defense in schools" (110 participants) and "Design a taichi workout for your classes" (90 participants) at CAHPERD.

In March 2007, he presented "Research on chances of survival of female students vs males in self-defense in lab studies" at 2007 Faculty Research Forum organized by College of Applied Sciences and Arts at SJSU.

In March 2007, he co-organized SJSU Badminton Open with Lei and the SJSU badminton club.

In March 2007, he initiated KIN physical activity series starting with mini badminton workshops for SJSU faculty/staff.

Payne, V.G., & Geng, P. (Eds.) (2007). An introduction to human motor development, Beijing, China: People's Education Press (Chinese Ministry of Education). This will be the first textbook on human motor development in China, a joint project of American and Chinese Scholars. Individual chapters were written by top US motor developmentalists (Jane Clark, Jerry Thomas, Kathy Williams, Jill Whittal, Jacqui Goodway, etc.). For many chapters, continued on page 2
they were paired with colleagues from China. Two chapters are prepared expressly by Chinese scholars. The book has been written, is in the process of being translated, and according to the People's Education Press, will be published in November, 2007.

Dr. Payne also presented at the following:
Invited Mini-Plenary presentation at the California Childhood Obesity Conference, Childhood obesity and physical activity: Can schools really make a difference? Anaheim, CA, January.

Invited panelist for an online panel presentation and dialogue on "Curbing childhood obesity," sponsored by the LegiSchool Project of the Center for CA Studies, the CSU, and the California State Legislature, April.

Invited presentation for the School Wellness Challenge Webinar sponsored by the California Wellness Task Force for Youth and Workplace Wellness, Physical inactivity, obesity, and morbidity: How can schools really make a difference? Webcast to 45 school districts throughout California, in March.

Selected to become a Salzburg Fellow to travel to Salzburg, Austria in July, 2007 for training in Globalization of Education to become a campus resource for enhancing campus worldwide involvement in education.

Congratulations to Dr. Jim Kao for being elected to the Academic Senate of San José State for the fall semester, 2007. He joins a long list of KIN faculty who have served in the Senate including Drs. Chen, Conry, Plato, Reekie, and Shifflett.

Congratulations to Dr. Matt Masucci and Dr. Sonja Lilenthal for being awarded junior faculty development grants (two of four in CASA)!

Whitney Vasu, (BS, ’04), has been accepted to PT school at the Arizona School of Health Sciences in Mesa.

Joan Sarlo (BA ’02, MA ’61) retired from West Valley College in May 2005 after 41 years of what she described as a “fabulous teaching career.” Joan is the Department of Kinesiology’s Distinguished Alumna for 2007.

Abi Liu (BS, ’05) was recently at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, teaching a diversity camp with Pablo Morales. Her assistant coach was Matt Weiss, who will be joining us in Kinesiology in the fall. Abi is the aquatic director for Stanford Campus Recreation Association (SCRA), head coach for their summer team, and one of the age group directors for Palo Alto Stanford Aquatics which, she says, is the best team in Pacific Swimming!

Nicole Baker (MA, ’04) was accepted to University of Virginia for a Doctorate in AT.

Luc Nguyen (BS, ’03) and Eric Bloom (BS, ’06) returned to campus recently as guests of the Pre-PT Club as part of panel, talking about their experiences and tips on getting into PT school. Eric is currently at Duke University and Luc now has his DPT and is employed at OPTM Sports and Physical Therapy in Los Gatos.

Janet Yiu (BS, ’05) has been accepted to and will attend PT school at USC this fall.

Hisashi Imura (BS, ’06) is an ATEP alum (also a former Major of the Year for our department) and was an intern with the Oakland Raiders during the 2006 season. He has accepted a GA athletic training position at UC-Berkeley for the upcoming academic year and was recently inducted into the Skyline College Transfer Hall of Fame. Congratulations, “Sash”!

Rebecca Maxfield, (BS, ’06), has been accepted to graduate school and received a graduate assistant athletic training position at Baylor University in Waco, TX.

UGATEP Student Presentations at FWATA April 27th
Fibular sesamoidectomy by Lisa Morano-Trudel
This presentation highlighted a sesmoidectomy case study including anatomical kinesiology and biomechanics, surgery and a rehabilitation program. X-rays were presented to show the degradation of the bone, before and after the used of a bone stimulator. The pathology report depicted the severity and uniqueness of this case. The patient was rehabilitated over a 3 months with some residual effect and has returned to activity.

Stretching into the Future: Static vs. Dynamic Stretching by December Dodson, Melissa Wagner, Caitlin Wall, Chelsie Morehead, Tina Fey, Aido Vasquez
The optimal use of static and dynamic stretching was discussed from a theoretical perspective to give background to practical implementations. Hands-on demonstration of new stretching technique was provided.

Brooke Kennedy accepted a position at Whitman College in Washington as an assistant ATC and instructor.

Announcements

The Graduation Dinner will be Fri May 25 at the Corinthian Club. Contact Matt Masucci for current ticket information. Information can also be found at http://www.kin.sjsu.edu/kinclub/events.html

Announcing the new Dr. David Furst Scholarship for fall 2007. The application deadline is September 15. Applications/cover letter and 250 word essay will be available from SPX 56 after June 1st. The award of $500.00 will be made at the end of October. Criteria: Kin graduate student with GPA min 3.5 in the Major courses on the candidacy form – which must be filed (with Plan A) to be eligible.

Summer internships must from now on be taken through IES/Continuing Education. We will no longer permit the “loophole” of a student actually doing the internship in the summer and then registering for the fall. This is because of liability issues that would surround a non-enrolled student “taking” a class. Unfortunately, summer school classes cost more because summer school is supported largely by student fees rather than by state assistance. Winston Kwong has details in the office.

The SJSU ATEPs will host the California Athletic Trainer’s Association Meeting June 2nd 3pm-5pm through two-way videoconferencing in the IRC

The SJSU Graduate ATEP will host the advanced Track Seminars for the National Athletic Trainer’s Association Annual Meeting and Clinical Symposium in Anaheim June 2007.

The activity program and CISHP started a “Celebration of Physical Activity Series” in April 2007. The series include two types of events. The first type included the KIN Table Tennis Cup challenge (April 12), and the KIN Badminton Cup challenge event (April 17) between KIN faculty/staff and students. The second type included mini workshops of badminton, tai chi, self-defense, table tennis, weight training for life, and yoga for SJSU faculty/staff. The mini badminton workshop started in April and lasted through the month.
