PLANTATION LIFE ON OLD RIVER AND BEYOND

Henry Gage, Sr. reads from his autobiographical memoirs with a riveting view of plantation life in the old South. He carefully chronicles life on the plantation on Old River through personal recollections and oral histories, as told to him, by relatives and members of the greater community. This is a poignant portrayal of the adversity, the friendship and the lessons learned on Old River. As Gage retraces his footsteps from Old River to Baton Rouge to over three stints in the US Military his return to civilian life and public service - in pursuit of justice, equality and excellence in education - one can appreciate the tenacity, perseverance, and dedication of one man in his quest for the American dream.
