DEBATERS TO MEET CARDS

Over radio station KQW tonight at seven-thirty, Frank Covello and Ronald Linn will clash with men from Stanford University on the question of future of the world lying with the economists.

Each of the four speakers from the two colleges will give a four minute constructive talk. These talks will be followed by questions and answers from the opposing side. Mr. Ralph Eckert, debate coach of San Jose, will act as chairman.

This will be Mr. Covello's second public appearance as a debator. His first debate came Tuesday night, when he and Mr. Needham appeared in a direct clash before the East Palo Alto Grange meeting.

Mr. Linn is well known on the Spartan campus for his excellent debating. He was one of the six contestants last year for the Debate Key. This radio debate will mark his first appearance this quarter.

It is expected that a large number of people will tune in on KQW at seven-thirty to hear the representatives from the two schools debate the question, which is rapidly attracting wide-spread national attention.

Don't forget! Tonight at seven-thirty, Radio Station KQW.

Students Asked To Join Italian Club At Tuesday Meeting

The Italian Club, newest of the modern language clubs and fast becoming one of the most active, held its second meeting last Tuesday evening in Room 1 of the homemaking building. About forty members attended, and the guests of honor were Miss Hoisholt and Mr. and Mrs. Goddard.

After the business meeting a short comedy was presented in Italian. "Papa le Esere Ubbiediente a Nostro Padrone" centers around the effort of a suspicious employer to test the honesty of his servants by placing a delicious cake where they may see it and be tempted to eat it. Of course they do eat it, and the hire had employer then tells them that it was poisoned. He gives them a medicine to cure them, and they once again appreciate their master. Eventually the facts show that the cake was not poisoned and the medicine was only water.

Later in the evening there were some accordion selections which were very much enjoyed, and the members also danced to accordion music. Games and Italian songs completed the evening's entertainment. Refreshments were then served.

The membership list of the club is growing very rapidly. The aim of the Italian Club is to gather together students who speak Italian or are interested in it and eventually to arrange to have Italian taught as a subject in the modern language department here. Those who wish to join the group may buy membership cards for twenty-five cents from Dr. Lubowski or from Vincent Giordano, the president.

NEEDY S. J. STUDENTS TO RECEIVE GOVT. HELP DR. MAC QUARRIE SAYS

Word has just come to the college administration from Washington, D.C. that the Federal Emergency Relief Administration is ready to offer aid to needy college students. Although it is impossible to say how much the sum will be, it is certain that San Jose State College will receive its allotment soon, according to Superintendent of Public Instruction, Vierling Kersey.

"According to all information we now have you are certain to receive some money. It is impossible to give even a rough estimate of the amount at present," Mr. Kersey stated in a letter to Dr. MacQuarrie.

To take care of the newly organized work, a committee composed of Dean Helen Dimmick, Dean Goddard, and Mr. E.S. Thompson has been appointed. Students may apply to either Dean Goddard or Dean Dimmick for aid in their regular office hours.

The relief funds are available for a program of part time employment for college students who need the work. The work is to be given during the current academic year, and not in the summer session. It is possible that the fund will be available to provide jobs for full time students, up to a maximum of ten per cent of the enrollment, as of October 15, 1933.

The State of California is allotted apportionment of funds sufficient to aid 5,052 students. Officials will have to determine the pro rata of the total fund for each school. As yet it is impossible to say just how many students at San Jose State College will be aided.

Newman Club Plans Retreat For Lenten

Members of the Newman Club are planning a retreat for the Lenten season to be held Saturday, March 3, at Newman Hall.

The retreat will be conducted by Father McAlister, chaplain of the Newman Club. Breakfast at the Newman Club will follow the Mass.

All those expecting to attend the breakfast are asked to sign with Miss Rosamond Larkin of Newman Hall.

Plans for a St. Patrick's Day dance are under way. The dance which is to be exceptionally, since a good orchestra has been hired for the evening. Further details for the dance will be worked out at the next meeting of the Club to be held Monday night at 7 p.m. at Newman Hall.

Recreation Night For All Given Tonight By A.W.S. In Men's Gym

Elizabeth Simpson, Chairman, Presents Big Program Of Entertainment

Recreation Night, sponsored by A. W. S., with its wide variety of entertainment will take place this evening from 8 o'clock until midnight. Elizabeth Simpson is general chairman of the event, and to her should go much of the credit for the planning of the performances. Miss Simpson is being capably assisted by Margaret Dunnipace, and outstanding members of W. A. A.

Both men and women students, faculty members, and alumni are invited to attend this fun-night, which is being presented because of the great success of a similar event inaugurated last year. Thirteen cents apiece or two for a quarter plus your student body card is the novel price charged for admission.

A colorful pageant will be put on by the swimming club at eight o'clock in the campus pool as the first number on the program. About fifty popular co-eds will take part and will be disguised by costumes as sea-dogs, nymphs, and swimmers of the gay 90's. The latter will attempt to perform in bulky bathing suits which were worn by their grandmothers and were once very fashionable.

Colored lights are to be featured, and their reflection in the pool gives a very beautiful effect. The Swimming Extravaganza is a very irregular dramatic composition which includes some daring stunts which are predicted to make the audience hold their breath.

Games in the big gymnasium under the W. A. A. will be offered. Black Masque, senior women's honor society, has arranged to have card table games for those who enjoy that kind of entertainment.

From nine until ten, immediately after the pageant, recreational swimming will be offered for all those attending.

At ten o'clock the men's physical education department is sponsoring a boxing match. The participants are evenly matched, and this promises to be one of the big events of the evening.

Carmen Dragon's popular orchestra, which is well-known for its playing at college dances, will furnish the music for the dancing which will provide entertainment from ten o'clock until midnight. This feature of the program in itself offers an incentive for everyone to attend Recreation Night.

GOVERNOR ROLPH GOES TO BANQUET AS GUEST OF LOCAL AMIGO CLUB

"The Governor was so interested in the people there," President T. W. MacQuarrie said, in referring to Governor James Rolph, Jr. "And he seemed to have a pretty good idea about the layout of the college."

Dr. MacQuarrie welcomed the Governor officially, when James Rolph Junior was guest of the Amigos Club at a banquet held Tuesday night at the Hotel St. Claire. The Governor is making a tour of all the fifty four county seats of California, and it was in that capacity that he visited San Jose this week.

In talking with Governor Rolph, Dr. MacQuarrie was amazed at the number of people that the state executive could name. "I'd say that he could call at least fifty people by name out of the four hundred who attended the banquet," the President said.

Governor Rolph wore his inevitable gardenia. He gave a very interesting, friendly talk, failing to speak directly of the San Jose lynching, although he alluded to it rather guardedly.

It will be remembered that Governor Rolph attended the dedication ceremony of the Men's Gymnasium and moved the first shovel full of dirt for the new science building.

In Dr. MacQuarrie's welcoming address he thanked the Governor for his kindness in helping to secure the gymnasium and science building.

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED that you might materially shorten your college period, finish with the class in June '35 or '36 instead of a year later by attending a few summer sessions? If you are likely to finish in December or March it is usually impossible to secure a position until the next fall. Why not plan ahead and by going to summer sessions graduate with the June or August class a year ahead?

More About Lights

It would be another step of progression, beyond anyone's doubt, if we could really get those lights they have been talking about, over our stadium.

Some folks can't seem to realize the advantages in such a project. We heard someone say something to the effect that the stadium was complete enough. They didn't need lights. Games had been played under natural light in the past and why change the idea. Well, there is only one thing to do with anyone actually so dense that they can't visualize the true benefits to be derived from night lighting at the local field.

Will Pick Up Attendance

In the first place there are so many who find it impossible to attend afternoon games for the simple reason that they cannot leave their place of business. Others are drawn from the local tilts by Stanford, California, and other games of the like. It must be considered that they have probably been attending these larger games for years and dislike changing. They all don't go for the student spirit.

Naturally we enjoy our own battles as much as we would watching strange grid machines go through their paces, but not so the average football fan who chooses his game from the ballyhoo connected with it.

Friday night games, or even those played on a Saturday eve would certainly not conflict with those contests which have, in the past, sapped our valley attendance.

Heat vs. Football Men

There is another element that enters this predicament that deserves elaboration, and that is in connection of the intense heat during some of the early season struggles.

The fellows who have suffered through a sweltering afternoon clad in grid togs, understand better than anyone else could, exactly what a tough proposition they are confronting. Not only does it make things intolerably uncomfortable for them, but it slows the game to an uncomfortable pace for the fans, and—well, why go further. The point is, why not play our early season games under the lights in the cool of the evening.

Consider the benefits to everyone, the attendance records, the local business man, the student, and last and most important, the actual participant.

Blesh Opens Track Season

Providing the weather improves by next week end, Coach Erwin Blesh promises an inter-class track meet in order that he might get a line on some of his cinder artists under pressure. The meet includes all men out for track; however any others who feel the urge to exhibit their wares are welcome, and should see Coach Blesh in advance. This will have nothing to do with the intramural field program which follows later in the year.

CONCANNON READY FOR TILTS; MC DONALD POINTS FOR WILDCAT QUINTET

By PAUL CONROY

Facing Chico State's Wildcats tonight and tomorrow night in their own den, Coach Hovey C. McDonald and his entire squad of 14 Spartans embarked for the up-state Teachers College early this morning to make their year's final basketball stand.

Regardless of the outcome of the games Sparta's cagers are assured of a tie for first place in the Far Western Conference, holding a two game advantage over the College of Pacific, who are at present in second position.

However the San Joseans go to Chico having no intention of returning with divided honors. Leading the Conference race throughout the greater part of the season, the Spartans need but one win over the Wildcats to wind up with undisputed control of the F. W. C. crown.

Showing no signs of over-confidence throughout practice last week, McDonald has succeeded in impressing his charges that Art Acker has a well rounded quintet capable of extending any opposition full length.

Chico No "Set-up"

Beyond a doubt Chico State will present a much stronger team this week-end than they did when they were twice defeated by Pacific. Two days previous to the Pacific contests, the Chicoans lost the services of Ernie Lambrecht, outstanding point collecting forward. Unable to work a new man into the machine-like attack on such short notice, Chico's strength was tremendously sapped. Four weeks having elapsed since the departure of Lambrecht, Coach Art Acker has had plenty of time to develop a new forward, which means that he will again have a smooth, well coordinated five to send against the Spartans.

"Red" Irwin Outstanding

"Red" Irwin, center, is the outstanding player on the Chico squad. Long-legged, fast, and aggressive Irwin is ever dangerous. His play under the basket is remarkable, and the Spartans will be forced to guard him closely or it might mean the game.

Not much is known of the capability of the remainder of the Chico squad composed of such names as Maxey, Roberts, Perry, Priest, and Miller.

San Jose, Chico Split Last Year

Last year Chico afforded San Jose their lone Conference win, when Bart Concannon dropped a basket in the final seconds of play to nose out the northerners by two points.

This year's Spartan varsity is a great deal stronger than last, while Chico's improvement, if any, has gone unnoticed.

Bart Concannon, recently injured forward, has been given consent to play by the team physician. Concannon's return is very timely. His all around defensive and offensive ability will be only out of State team desirous of competing with the Spartan in the coming grid season, for just recently correspondence from Oregon Normal and Southern Idaho have reached Athletic Manager, Webb Benton's office, making known their attitudes toward arranging for an inter-sectional game. All offers will be given due consideration, and the one retaining the most advantages will be institution scheduled.

by the Spartans in their last stand for Conference honors.

Holmberg's Shooting Improved

"Shoes" Holmberg's shooting from the field took rapid strides during the past week. Previously weak on set shots outside the foul line the aggressive Holmberg, famous for his follow-in shots found the basket with astounding regularity throughout practice marking him as the to be depended on forward against Chico.

Captain Hank Leibbrandt, has been turning in some fine work at guard and appears to be on edge and ready to turn in the best basketball of his career tonight and tomorrow night.

Hubard Ends Athletic Career

Other than being the games in which the Spartans are given their well deserved chance of winning the Conference they stand high in importance as they will mark the conclusion of one of Sparta's most outstanding athletic figures, namely, Bud Hubbard. Hubbard will carry the Spartans' banner in athletic warfare for the last time tomorrow night against Chico.

Lending the same driving spirit, which carried the football team to so many victories, to the basketball team, Hubbard has been instrumental in the past basketball campaign and can be depended upon to "carry the torch" against Chico State.

Those making the Chico trip are: Downs, Holmberg, Concannon, Scott, Caccitti, forwards; Biddle, Rea, Isenberger, centers; Leibbrandt, Hubbard, Arnerich, Taylor, Gibson, Wing, guards; Senior basketball Manager Art Strong, and Dick Bertrandias, State College Times Sports Editor.

Men's P.E. Majors Meet, Followed By Games, Free Feed

Meeting in the men's gymnasium on Wednesday evening, the Men's P. E. Majors held a short business meeting followed by a recreational period and free eats.

Several matters of importance were discussed during the business meeting. Among these were the financial status of the club, intramural, a joint meeting and get-together with the women's organization, and the idea of letting in alumni block-men to games free. It was decided to table this because of the great number of difficulties involved at the present time.

After the business meeting, the group adjourned to the apparatus gym where games of ping-pong and darts were enjoyed by the group. The campus champions of ping-pong, George Embury and Al Azevedo, were dethroned by Charlie Walker and Al Cox.

Besides the games, the fellows present were treated to an Italian feed entirely free of charge, which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone attending.

BASEBALL TEAM MEETS SAN MATEO J.C. NINE IN TWIN BILL TOMORROW

Playing their first regularly scheduled games this Saturday, the Spartan bat slingers engage the San Mateo Junior College in a doubleheader starting at one p.m.

San Mateo took the home boys into camp last year in one of the two games played and this year they boast a much superior team. They have among others a promising pitcher who, in his first game struck out sixteen Stanford Frosh, which any way you look at it is quite some pitching, and bodes no good for the local batting averages.

Since the Spartan diamond is still in the battle field stage, the game will be played at Washington Field on Willow Street. Since there is no charge for admission, a goodly crowd is expected. In a telephone interview with Coach Bill Hubbard, the following information was pried out:

Probably Watson and Simoni will do the pitching, with McLachlan and DeSelle and Colburn doing the chores behind the platter. On first base Hardiman will start. The keystone kids will be Francis Pura and Rogers Thurber while Sam Filice will hold down the "hot corner". In the outfield we have two newcomers in "Sarge" Corbella and Frank Covello. In addition, the regular left-terminer of Blethen, Blacow, and Bishop will be on hand to help along the cause. A victory is wildly desired (?) by the student body.

Night Football Tilts Planned For State Stadium Next Fall

Coach Dud DeGroot and Athletic Manager Web Benton were this week given permission by the Board of Athletic Control, to enter into investigation of the cost of lighting for night football games in the Spartan Stadium.

Though no definite plans were announced, it was understood that the idea of borrowing the lights from the local recreational centers was being considered. With this arrangement it would be necessary for the college to pay only the actual cost of the poles, transferring the lighting units, and the electricity used. After completion of the football season, the lights would be returned to Herbert Hoover and Theodore Roosevelt Junior High Schools for night baseball in the summer.

This plan, worked out by Walter L. Bachrodt, Coach DeGroot, and members of the San Jose recreational committee, to forestall the added expense of the college having to purchase lighting units would lower the cost considerably. DeGroot had been working on this plan for several months, and if his report on the expenses of the plan to the board of athletic control is favorable, undoubtedly the plan will go through. If the plan is accepted, this will be the first taste of football under the stars for local fans upon a local field.

consecutive time in his amateur-pro career by scoring 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3 in the featured singles match after Tilden had disposed of Plaa 6-4, 6-3, and 11-9. The Americans also won the doubles match 6-1, 1-6, 12-10, 6-0.

STATE MERMEN BEAT GOLDEN GATE JAYSEES

In a Frank Merriwell finish the Spartan mermen last night nosed out the strong Golden Gate junior college of San Francisco in a dual meet at the local pool 42 and one half to 41 and one half.

Starting out by winning the freestyle relay, the Spartans went into an early lead, only to drop behind and finish out with a beautiful medley relay race to win the meet.

Harold Houser, star Gold and White breaststroker had little trouble in winning the 200 yard breaststroke event in 2 minutes and 48 seconds. Lynn of San Jose took an easy second.

Walker, great Golden Gate backstroker, had clear sailing in that event as the city boys took one, two in it. Bob Walker likewise swam the next event, the 440 yard freestyle, and won it easily.

One of the Golden Gate boys, thinking that there had been a false start in the 50 yard freestyle event, merely jumped into the water, as starter Dud DeGroot tried to call the swimmers back. Unable to hear the second gun, the rest of the men kept on swimming. Ambrose won the race in the phenomenal time of 24.8 seconds. However, the race was swum over again, with Bill coming in the first spot for the second time.

The Golden Gate Squad was very weak in diving, and the race for first place was between York and Kinsley of the Spartans, with Kinsley finally moaning out York by two points.

Art Lindgren, great Jaysee sprinter won both the 100 and 220 yard freestyle events in fairly fast time, having little trouble in either race.

Going into the final event of the meet, the 300 yard medley relay, the Spartans were trailing the Jaysees 38 and one half to 36 and one half. Bob Walker took the lead of ten yards over Bill Draper of the locals in the first hundred yards of backstroke. Hal Houser made this up, with several yards extra, in the breast stroke. Norm Fitzgerald, local sprinter, then staged the Frank Merriwell finish, when he managed to put on enough steam to battle off the fast closing Lindgren in the last hundred yards of the relay. Fitzgerald's margin over Lindgren was merely a matter of three or four inches. The final score was 42 and one half to 41 and one half in favor of the Spartans.

Controller's Office Gives Out Important Sen. Announcement

Three important announcements were issued from the Controller's Office yesterday, two of them concerning the La Torre.

The Controller's Office wishes to correct a misunderstanding concerning the senior pictures taken at Peter Pavely Studios. Whether or not any personal pictures are ordered, a charge is made for La Torre pictures, as the price quoted barely covers the cost of developing and printing them.

There are still a few organizations that have not paid for their page space in the 1934 La Torre. In fairness to the La Torre, the page space must be paid for within the next few days.

The following members of the 1933-34 graduating class paid an $8.50 graduation fee, and are entitled to a refund of $1.35 under the new ruling reducing the fee to $7.15. Please call for your refund at the Controller's Office as soon as possible.

Sage & Philosopher

Oh ye muses, hear ye, here ye! Come ye to me in this hour of dire distress. Never before have I had so great a need of thee.

I call and yet they answer me not. 'Tis beyond mine comprehension to understand. Mine eyes are heavy with sleep. Mine ears do beat with mine head in unison—all in sooth, a penalty for partaking of an excessive quantity of wines and liquors.

So writes the sage and philosopher as he struggles to place upon the yellow sheet (not the Times) his scattered thoughts.

Be it noted that certain of the better known males in ye honorable State College have very definitely gone Beta, Allenian, Phi Kap and the like. Even so termed "journalists" cannot seem to resist the call!!!

And ever and anon one of the strong and silent Greek-God type of athlete (like Johnny Leo) blossoms forth with some new flame and right away some low down columnist drags it forth to make sport of ye sport!

Such trivial happenings wouldn't cause even a wrinkle on the brow of ye scribe. But when Theron Fox changes his or, something else unexpected happens, ye olde sage and philosopher will be on the spot!! (and how!!)

Delta Mu Theta Gives Silver Tea Wednesday In College Tea Room

Delta Nu Theta, Home Making society, is giving a Silver Tea on Wednesday, February 28 for the benefit of their student loan fund. Tea will be served by members of the society in the College Tea Room, room 13 of the Home Making Building between the hours of four to six. The society is just beginning the fund, which is for the purpose of helping needy home making students of this college, and hope to raise more money in the future through teas, bridge parties, and other means.

This first attempt has the support of the home making staff, and anyone who is interested in helping the fund or enjoying tea is cordially invited to attend. A silver offering will be taken. Miss Helen Mignon, head of the home making department, is faculty advisor of Delta Nu Theta; Violet Samelson is president; and Anita Patchett is in charge of publicity.

Just Among Ourselves

Note—This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

I really should have left town. Anyway, I'm getting better acquainted with some of our fine young women. (Rationalizing). They never look so attractive as when they're a bit irritated. Did you ever notice that? I guess it was sort of a blundering way for me to bring up the matter, for you should have seen the flushed cheeks and the dignity. I'll never try that again! And they didn't come in groups, either.

Each one had her own ideas of how to handle a case of blundering ignorance, so I had a goodly number of tete a tetes. I tried pleasantries, and renunciations, and wandered away from the subject time and again, but it did no good. After a polite and courteous, if faint smile, back they'd come to the point. I had misunderstood and had spoken without the facts. Just as simple as that. A.W.S. had sponsored a world of good things about the campus but has never been able to get a line about it in the Times, and "after all the junk that paper does print, too". I got the full force of that. So I did what the politicians do, I put it off and suggested a later meeting. Anything may happen in a few days. I may not even have to face the music at all. If I do I'm no worse off, and I may think of some kind of a defense in the meantime. (I'll say it's a mean time.)

Just the same, I wish this college could turn out 500 young women each year more or less skilled in political thinking, and trained to act in the political world. What a swath a group like that would cut in this dark world and wide. We may have to put in a department of politics yet.

The A Cappella Choir had a wonderful trip. I am sure it was good for the members, for the audiences, and for the college. I hope we may be able to send out more of our fine groups from time to time.

And about that flower bed in the rose court. I understand we abolished it because some one damned it as Vic-

POETRY

VIRGIL

O thunderous bard, O Latium's prophet seer,

In measured accents doling out thy tale,
Who dares thy ponderous verses to assail?

What critic finds thy numbers too severe?

From such, sweet Maro, thou hast naught to fear.

Thy sonorous cadences will stand prevail.

When those have passed to Death's deep misty vale

And lost their bleatings vain in every ear.

I offer thee the bay in reverence,
Thou Mantuan who sing of passions free,

Who in the clash of arms find euphony
And turn cacaphony to eloquence.

Accept the plaudits, then, which are thy lot,

For petty jealousies can touch thee not.

—Robert J. Wright.

torian. The roses were beautiful, really aristocrats, but the bed was Victorian. Dear me, I remember the Victorian age myself, and that little, old lady warranted a large measure of respect. I've never been too critical of what we call Victorian, not in the light of many of our creations modernistic, but I suppose some one who is Victorian wouldn't be permitted to defend a Victorian flower bed. I hope they don't begin to call our tower Victorian. If I thought the brand of "Victorian", or any other age would abolish those numerals in the quad I believe I'd sponsor the attack. Anyway, if they're not Victorian they're infringements. I would like to add provincial, juvenile, bombastic, unfair publicity for a few classes with no regard for the rights of those which have gone before. If the gardeners could take them out, I'm sure I could influence them to do so.

I sat beside Governor Rolph last Tuesday evening at a banquet. How's that for an experience? The real, live, governor of the great state of California. He's a human gentleman in spite of his honors, jolly and simple. Interested in people, places, and things. An old political campaigner, of course, with his eyes and ears open and his memory flashing. I watched him as the crowd passed to shake his hand. I swear he called fifty of them by name, or at least made them think so. It was a most interesting and delightful experience for me. Certainly the successful governor must have special abilities, every one trained to a fine edge.

Screen Shots

By Marge Petsch

Scanning over the shows which are scheduled for local theatres this weekend, I breathe a little prayer for the benefit of your studies before I tell you what you can see if the prayer doesn't take effect. You can see pictures embracing many persons whom I bet are your favorites, and all of the pictures have received exceptionally fine press notices.

Ann Harding, whom I think about everyone likes tremendously, started at the Mission yesterday in the story, "Gallant Lady". She plays the part of Sally Wyndham, who has been parted for several years from her baby, during which time it had been adopted by a wealthy family. Dan Pritchard, played by Clive Brook, is eager for her to marry him, but she is too interested in finding her son.

When she finds her little boy, Dickie Moore, she discovers his father to be Phillip Lawrence, or Otto Kruger, and that his adopted mother is dead. She and Phillip become quite close, drawn together by a mutual love of the child, and the struggle supplied is for Miss Harding to choose between Phillip and Dan.

The picture is exceptionally well done, the type you can see twice and still enjoy it. Miss Harding, Clive Brook, and Otto Kruger are all definitely at their best. Miss Harding has long been noted for her understanding portrayal of feminine character, and in this picture she has a unique opportunity.

Greta Garbo will come to the theatre on Sunday, and more of her new film will be mentioned in our next Screen Shots.

Two good pictures, differing widely in type, are being shown this weekend at the California Theatre. One is "All of Me" with a cast headed by Frederic March, Miriam Hopkins, George Raft, and Helen Mack. "Frontier Marshal" with George O'Brien is the other new picture.

"All of Me" is the story of two Park Avenue aristocrats, namely March and Miss Hopkins, who imagined themselves in love, but found after meeting two disparate young people from Hell's Kitchen, that they had really never appreciated deep feeling. The story is amazingly real, and moves quickly. Miss Hopkins and Frederic March, two thirds of the team of "Design for Living" do well, and George Raft and Helen Mack are splendid. Other characters showed occasional weakness, but the main cast was well chosen.

The George O'Brien picture is one of those fast-moving, hair-raising, horse stampeding, romantic pictures of the Old West of 1890. Now and then it's a definite relief from sophistication to see one of these Westerns, and "Frontier Marshal" is reputed to be particularly good. Not having seen it, I don't know whether it is much out of the ordinary, but the Mae West tang it has to it makes it look interesting.

ORCHIDS

Let us start off with an orchid to the other side of the street. Dean De Lancy parked across the street after reading this column recently. Why?

And one to Georgina Jones—We saw you with that big bad swimming man. But, Georgina, he's a freshman.

An orchid to Frank Hamilton for running the gamut of the Betas. Alys Bradford, Lucille Moore, Shirley Johnston, and once upon a time Bee Kelley.
