LEONARD KNIGHT'S SALVATION MOUNTAIN

Jo Farb Hernandez reports: Leonard Knight, creator of Salvation Mountain, has been moved to an assisted living facility and is not expected to return to the Mountain. For almost thirty years, Knight applied brightly coloured adobe to this three-story mountainside in the California desert, forming flowers, waterfalls, and rivers to enhance biblical verses that proclaimed his message "God is Love". Supporters are forming an organisation with the hope of preserving Knight's masterpiece for future generations, but there remain significant security and stability challenges. ALL THINGS ROUND AT AVAM

May 5, 2012

AVAM's annual Kinetic Sculpture Race swaps cars for human powered sculptures designed to travel on land, mud and water. The winners receive medals for finishing in the middle and next-to-the-last as well as serious prizes for art and engineering.

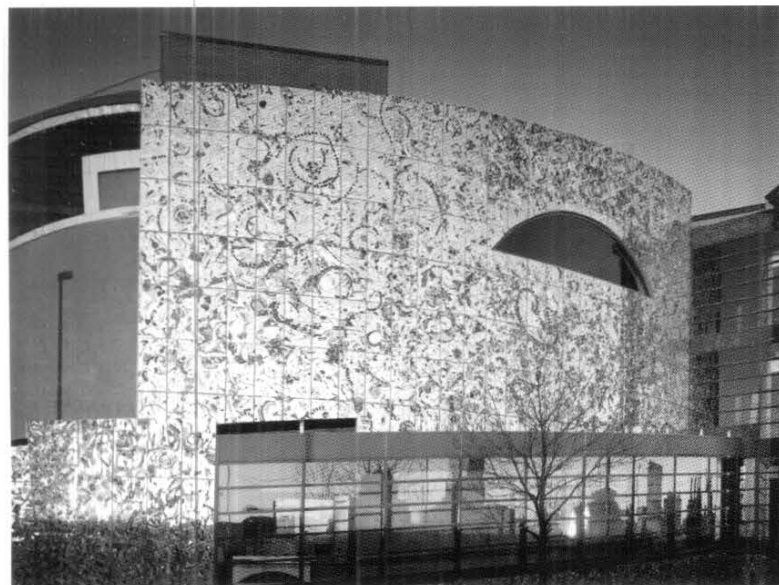

until September 2, 2012

Meanwhile, All Things Round - Galaxies, Eyeballs and Karma, AVAM's 17th annual mega-exhibition continues until September and is a celebration of the circular and voluptuous nature of life. Featuring exuberant works of over seventy inspired, intuitive artists including Scott Weaver's 100,000 toothpick wonder, Rolling Through The Bay; Adolf Wölfli's intricate mandala-like works; spherical sculptures of artists who are sight-impaired; the micro dot sock-thread embroideries of Ray Materson; and more!

TESTIMONIOS

until May 6, 2012

Currently, El Museo del Barrio is presenting its exhibition Testimonios. The exhibition draws on rarely seen works by non-traditionally trained makers from El Museo del Barrio's permanent collection and loans from the New York area. It looks at artistic manifestations created under difficult circumstances or for spiritual or communal celebrations.
