Students Present Recital

Maurine Thompson To Direct Students In Program

Evelyn Cavala, Mildred Murgotten, Among Performers

Under the direction of Miss Maurine Thompson of the College Music faculty, a student recital by members of the vocal department will be presented tonight at 8:15 in the Little Theater, free to the public.

Practically all the students appearing on the program are products of the semi-private class method of vocal instruction, the most advanced members being selected out of approximately 175 students enrolled in the vocal department.

Jean Sterling and Margaret Otterstein will officiate as accompanists, with Dale Porter the assisting flutist. There is no admission charge, the recital being open to the public.

Due to the length of the program, it is requested that no encores be given. The program follows:

1. My Heart Is a Silent Violin... Fox Today... Hueter
2. The Poor Man Garden... Hamblen Ray Sherwin, Baritone
3. Connais Tu Le Pays... Thomas Blackbird's Song... Scott
4. Long Ago, Sweetheart Mine... MacDowell
5. Air from Comus... Arne MacDowell
6. Nocturne... Curran

Two State Students In Local Play

"The Late Christopher Bean," starring Irmgard Brekelbaum and Delos Wolfe, will be presented tonight by Mask and Scroll, dramatic honor society of the San Jose high school, in the high school auditorium. This play, known for its successful run in San Francisco last year with Charlotte Greenwood in the lead and later for the movie version with Marie Dressler and Lionel Barrymore, will be given a good performance by Mask and Scroll.

The productions of this society have earned a reputation of real rank in amateur dramatics. Their first big production was Ibsen's "Pillars of Society," and since then they have annually presented a play, always giving a good performance. Their last year's production was Elmer Rice's play, "See Naples and Die."

Most of the members of the cast of this year's performance are State students. Miss Brekelbaum, a sophomore here, is developing a splendid interpretation of the part of Abbie, the simple, unassuming family servant who is finally the finest and most understanding of all of them. She is well-known for her work in character parts, having played the lead in "Show Shop," besides a fine bit of acting in "See Naples and Die" last year.

Delos Wolfe, who is best-known among State students for his work in the music and athletic circles, is also a favorite member of Mask and Scroll. He is playing the part of Dr. Jennings, the role carried by Lionel Barrymore in the movie.

The Haggett family is suddenly involved in a maze of offers from art buyers who are competing for the paintings of Christopher Bean, dead artist who has suddenly been acclaimed as one of the great. Several of his works are in possession of the family, with whom he lived in his poor days before his death. The financial ambition of the mother an older daughter, the battling of the art buyers from the city, and the romance of the younger daughter involve the Haggett family in a storm of bitterness and meanness. Musical Half Hour To Feature Ruth A. Warmke This Noon

In her first program here since last spring, Mrs. Ruth Adele Warmke will appear as soloist on the Musical Half-Hour today at 12:30 in the Little Theatre. She will be accompanied by Katherine Green, college pianist who will also contribute several piano numbers to the program.

Although the entire program is not complete as we go to press, Mrs. Warmke's dancing appearances have always been favorites with college audiences and Katherine Green's talent needs no introduction. Her numbers will be "Impatience" by Beecher, MacDowell's "Witches Dance," and the "Seguidilla" of Albeni.

March graduates who have not yet paid their graduation fee are requested to do so immediately.

Technical Course First Offered At San Jose College

The lower division of the State College of San Jose offers a group of two year courses called Technical Courses. San Jose is not the only college offering these courses, as there are many schools now giving the advantages of the regular two-year college education, but San Jose was the first college to offer the Technical courses. A junior college in Los Angeles now has the largest technical attendance in the world.

Many courses are offered. Under Art, we have Art Crafts which has nine students, Commercial Art with twenty-nine students, Costume Design and Illustration has ten students, Design-one student, Drawing and Painting-three students, Home Decoration-six, Photography-one.

Under Commerce we have Accounting which has 35 students, Bookkeeping, four students, Merchandising, thirty-nine students, Secretarial, forty seven, Stenography, forty-two, and Clerical, seven.

In English, Journalism has twenty students, Speech, twelve.

The Home-Making department is divided into Child Training, seven students, Cookery and Catering-one student, Costume design and Construction, four, Home-making, five, Hotel Management, two.

Under Ind. Education, Shop Engineering has twenty-two students, and Farm Mechanics has three.

Library Craft has four students and Music boasts nineteen students. Radio Engineering has two.

Dental Assistant has fifteen, while the Social Science department boasts of the only Police Administration course in any school, which has twenty-one boys and two girls.

Physical Education has seven men students, and there are six miscellaneous courses in addition to the others.

The Technical courses were established here in 1928 and at that time there were 29 students taking advantage of these courses. Since that time the enrollment has increased greatly, and at the present time totals 383 students which is approximately 15 per cent of the entire student body.

PHELAN CONTEST OPEN TO S.J. STATE STUDENTS; MANY PRIZES OFFERED

The Senator Phelan Literary contest is to close this coming Thursday, March 15 at midnight. All students are asked to turn in their manuscripts as soon as possible before that date. No name should appear on the material, but on the title page which accompanies the manuscript.

Prizes Slightly Less
The prizes this year will be slightly less than last year, but not so small that interest will wane. Prizes will be given in three types of poetry: Lyric, narrative, and sonnets; essays, short stories, and one-act plays.

Students should hand in all their material to Dr. Raymond Barry whose office is in the Home-making building.

New Course In Aesthetics Will Be Given Soon

Aesthetics, a course that has not been given in this college for two years, is offered by the psychology department in the spring quarter. The field of aesthetics is the field of art and beauty, and the course will include lectures, readings, and discussions concerning the nature of beauty, the psychology of aesthetic experience, and the social aspects of art. The plan developed in former years is to be used again this quarter; the course will be given cooperatively by several members of the faculty.

Among those expected to participate will be: Mrs. Ruth Turner and Mr. Dan Mendelowitz of the art department.

Mr. Adolph Otterstein of the music department.

Dr. Raymond Barry of the English department.

Dr. Fredric Graham and Mr. Elliot Guild of the social science department.

Dr. Jay Elder, of the natural science department.

Dr. Raymond Mosher, of the psychology department.

Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, of the speech arts department.

Miss Margaret Jewell, of the women's physical education department.

Dancing Until 1 Will Be Main Feature Of The Ball

Mel McDonald to Play; Chinese Theme For Decorations

Still a few guest cards left for those who are planning to bring outsiders to the Masquerade Ball tomorrow night. If you want one, leave the name of your guest at Dean Dimmick's office before five o'clock today. No outsider will be admitted without one of these cards issued by the committee. No admission for student body members, and twenty-five cents plus guest card for outsiders.

McDonald To Play

Mel McDonald's orchestra will supply dance music from 9 to 1, and a special program of intermission numbers has been arranged. Emile Bouret and Irvan Beaulieu will play a piano duo, and an instrumental trio will be featured in orchestra numbers. There will be vocal solos by Ray Bouret and Betty Lou, Elaine Hildert, Helen Ohrt, and Winifred Wilkinson will perform vocal trio numbers.

Costumes are necessary for admission to the ball. There is no ruling as to the type, but some type of fancy dress outfit is the rule. Prizes are being offered to those who wear the best ones, and there will be a grand march to allow the judges an opportunity to select the winners. Prizes have been secured by Harry Jennings and Louise Hocum. In case you can't find a costume anywhere around, Mr. J. Utzerath, costumer with shop at 374 West San Fernando Street, has good supply for rent.

Oriental Decoration To Be Feature

The elaborate plans for Oriental decoration, which features bridges, lanterns, and pagodas, were designed by Bob Leslie of the art department. They are being worked out by him with the assistance of a large committee. The members are: Bill Jennings, Harold Goldstein, Bob Levin, Merritt Metcalf, (Continued on Page Two)

Illustrated Talk On Boeing Planes To Be Given Today

The Industrial Arts department and the Science department are sponsoring a talk and motion pictures on Manufacture and Assembling of Boeing Airplanes by Leon S. Prior, Jr. today at 4 p.m. in Room 112 of the Science Building.

The programme will consist of two reels of "Construction and Operation of New Boeing Transport Plane" and one reel of "Training Methods at Boeing School". The rest of the program will be taken up with discussion and questions.

This programme will prove very interesting to anyone interested in any type of air craft thus are urged to come today.

Grace Williams Announces Troth To Mr. Hatcher

Miss Dorothy Cockrell Hostess At Cocktail Party

Coming as a surprise to their many friends, the engagement of Miss Grace Williams and Mr. Sewell King Hatcher was announced at a cocktail party given by Miss Dorothy Cockrell and Mrs. William Roberts at the home of Mrs. Emery Mather last Saturday.

Cards announcing the engagement were attached to cocktail napkins. The cards bore caricatures of Miss Williams as the Queen of Hearts and Mr. Hatcher as King of Hearts; both cards being fastened together with the Ace of Diamonds.

Miss Williams is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Blufford Williams of Corning, California. She is a graduate of San Jose State college where she was a member of Phi Kappa Pi society. She is now residing in San Francisco. Mr. Hatcher is the son of Mrs. Rose Hatcher and the late Mr. Sewell Hatcher of San Francisco. He is a graduate of San Jose State college where he was affiliated with Delta Theta Omega. Mr. Hatcher is employed in San Jose.

Among those who were present at the engagement party were Misses Williams, Doris Hatcher, Helen McDaniels, Virginia Shreve, Dorothy Dudfield, Beatrice Konrad, Ruth Montgomery, Dorothy Jessup, Jean Ross, Lois Hill, Dorothy Sword, Eleanor Albert, Louretta Faust, Beth Pierson, Mildred Burtner, Dorothy Cockrell, Meta Goldsmith, and Mesdames Rose Hatcher, P. H. Brown, Emory Mather, Richard Russell, Don Hascall, Wilbur Hubbard, Leroy Brown, Eldon Beaulieu, Sewell Brown, Iva Rescher, Lawrence Stewart, William Roberts, Clyde Cockrell, James Chestnut, Harry Warmke, Newton Brinkman, Marion Glynn, and Richard Lipman.

Newman Club Holds St. Patrick's Day Hop This Evening

As the final social event of the quarter, members of Newman Club will hold a semi-formal Saint Patrick's dance tonight at 9 p.m. at Newman Hall.

Novel decorations are being planned by Bob Pierson. Colored lights and a huge shamrock along with other Saint Patrick's symbols will transform the dancing room of Newman Hall into an attractive spot. Anton Hofstede is securing a dance orchestra for the affair and promises exceptional music.

The reception committee for the dance includes Edith Boasso, president of Newman Club, Vivian Skoegard, Mary Catherine Sheaff, Katherine McNally, Geraldine Vasche, Rosemary Larkin, Carl Palmer, Paul Becker, Norris Teakle, and Jim Dunlap.

A limited number of bids are on sale for the dance and may be secured from members of the club.

College Tea Room Is Closed After Good Season

The College Tea Room served its last luncheon of the year last Thursday, March 8, after a most successful season. Since the tea room operates only during the winter quarter, it will not reopen until next January. Students, faculty members, and their friends have enjoyed the delicious luncheons offered twice a week since the beginning of the quarter.

St. Patrick's Day served as the theme of the last luncheon. The menu, decorations, and posters were in keeping with the Irish idea. Throughout the season members of the class in tea room management have been in charge of the luncheons.

Mrs. Lillian Gray Will Speak at Asilomar

Mrs. Lillian Gray, instructor and supervisor in the Education Department, has been invited by the deans of the high schools of the Central Coast Counties to speak at a convention for Vocational Guidance at Asilomar, Saturday, March 10th, on Character Education.

Miss Verna Temple, instructor in the Home Making Department, has also been invited to speak at the convention.

Mrs. Gray and Miss Temple are driving down together Friday for the first meeting, Friday evening.

Lorraine Lawson, Helen Ohrt, Elaine Hildreth, Marie Capaci, Jim Mattson, Winifred Wilkinson, Barbara Carr, Alice Wilson, George Harrison, Bob Malkin, Tom Gifford, Ronald Olds, Ruth Eaton, Hugh Stafflebach, Marjorie Naylor, Catherine Hoffmeister, Lurline Woody, Reida Costa, and Helen Bedell. Entertainments under Lucille Moore, Janet Grepe, and Kenneth Davey. Publicity, Patricia Healy, Clarence Naas, Helen Hohmeyer, Duncan Holbert, and Michael Angelo.

Tryout for Jim Clancy's play "Three to Get Ready" will be held at four o'clock this afternoon in the Little Theatre. All people interested in trying out should be there promptly.

The play is a comedy—the first to be produced here this year. It is thought that it may be the last play given. Copies of the play are in the Little Theatre library.

Amazing Results Of A Personality Test Are Shown

Faculty, Students, Fail In Occupation Quiz On Famous Men

Early in January of each year the Unity, which is published in Kansas City, carries a list of names of persons who have died in the previous year, "the famous and the infamous, the noted and the notorious." From the issue of January 8, 1934, forty such names were selected as the basis for an impromptu test of social information.

Accompanying the list of names was a list of occupations and professions, and the subjects were asked to label each name with the correct occupation. The test was intended merely as a temporary teaching device to illustrate one phase of the topic of personality for a class in psychology at the San Jose State Teacher's College. It was compiled hastily and arbitrarily. This method of selection, the presence of two clerical errors in the test, and the lack of standardization make it impossible to draw conclusions of any scientific value. But the test proves sufficiently interesting to elicit replies from 131 men students and 146 women students, 21 faculty men and 23 faculty women, a total of 321. The results are interesting enough to warrant an interesting report.

The average number of names correctly classified by each of the four groups of persons taking the test is as follows:

Men Students—5.7 or 14.3 per cent.
Women Students—6.1 or 15.3 per cent.
Faculty Women—12.1 or 30.2 per cent.
Faculty Men—12.8 or 32.0 per cent.

Screen Shots

When our old friend King Kong finally bit the dust after a pleasant afternoon of messing up a few details in the skyline of New York, we breathed a sigh of genuine relief, coupled with a bit of sympathy. But we never thought at that time that the old boy had left anything quite as tangible as an off-spring lurking around.

In "Son of Kong", now playing at the California Theatre, who should pop up but the son of that awe inspiring monster, just as real and twice as natural. The picture is the exact sequel to "King Kong" and while it probably won't leave you quite as terror stricken (or were you), nevertheless it will provide you an interesting pastime.

The story is that of Robert Armstrong, who, after being ruined by the playful antics of his parlor pet, King Kong, in New York, seeks to mend his fortunes by discovering a buried treasure on Skull Island, a land of prehistoric monsters—and a few charming cannibals. Off the island the crew of Armstrong's ship mutinies, forcing him and his stowaway friend, Helen Mack, to go ashore alone.

While ashore, Armstrong is able to save the Son of Kong, a gigantic white ape, from a bed of quicksand. In gratitude for the services paid him, the friendly ape attaches itself to the party, and aids in a number of most interesting episodes. The ending is particularly impressive.

There's one thing you have to admit about these Kongs. They certainly have the ability to hold women in the palm of their hand. (no pun, pliz).

Playing with the "Son of Kong" is "Orient Express", another good picture, the story of which all takes place on a train bound from Ostend to Constantinople. The acting is particularly well done by Heather Angel, Norman Foster, Ralph Morgan, Herbert Mundin, and a number of others.

Just Among Ourselves

Student employment comes under the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, F.E.R.A. Let me make a few remarks:

Be sure you need help before you apply for work.

The pay is 35c per hour up to a total of $15. per month. No more than eight hours will be permitted in any one day, nor more than thirty in a week.

We have been allotted the full budget for March, but I was not sure from the letter whether it meant also each month to the end of the college year. I have written to inquire about that. Please note that we, here, cannot be responsible for anything in connection with this student work plan. We hope the employment will be authorized for the rest of the year, but changes may come without notice. We shall do the best we can, but you'll have to accept all the conditions just as they occur, even if they are disappointing and somewhat arbitrary.

When you are finally assigned a position, you should be sure to meet all of your obligations. Be there on time and carry a full load of work. It should be unthinkable that college people would in any way take advantage of President Roosevelt's attempt to help us out.

The plan to purchase the city library building and the northwest corner of this square has been under consideration for a long time. The problem has always been complex, and only recently has a solution seemed possible. Our Music Department needs room badly. They have crowded to the very roof the old intermediate training school, a

Constance Bennett is leading a double life in the picture, "Moulin Rouge", playing opposite that successful new woman who was jealous of herself, and lover, Fanchot Tone. It's the story of a who was bound and determined to keep the love of her husband. The only difference between Miss Bennett and a lot of other women is that she succeeded, but to do it she had to play a whole hand of tricks.

While it may seem a little improbable, the husband didn't even know that the blonde by night for whom he had fallen was one and the same woman. A bit far fetched, but interesting. Some vile punner explained the story by saying that it was "L. Bennet, pro and Contemporary wooden building, and incidentally make such a racket in the center of the campus that only Pan himself can appreciate it. (Did you know that the word "panic" came from Pan?) We must have a new home for the Music Department, and the edge of the campus rather than the middle is desirable. So there's the city library. Paid for by Andrew Carnegie thirty years ago and located on the college campus long before anyone ever dreamed of such a growth here. The library lot reaches clear to our tennis courts and almost to the corner of our own library. We need that land and can make good use of the building. But the cup and the lip are far apart. I discussed the possibilities with the City Fathers last Monday evening and found them most interested and cooperative. The present seems to be a good time to make the change. The city has just approved its auditorium, the first unit of the civic center, and the general plan calls for the city library on the same square. The suggestion was made that the old post-office building be remodeled to provide library facilities needed, at least until the new and permanent building is constructed. The city will have the present property appraised and inquire as to the possibility of getting the old post-office building, and will see what the Carnegie Foundation has to say about the plan. All I have to do is to coordinate the job of getting the money to make the purchase.

I notice that the home making students have been banqueting downtown. I suppose an old fashioned Italian dinner tastes good once in a while. "Isn't that awful!" At any rate, if Connie in her black wig annoys you, you at least have Russ Columbo to fall back on, as well as the Boswell sisters. By the way, Will Rogers, in his characterization of a famous American is starting at the Mission on Sunday. Three guesses out of the following list as to whom he will play: Abraham Lincoln, Al Smith, Bishop Canon, Carl Holliday, James Rolph, Charles Dawes, David Harum, Charles Lindbergh.

State Nine Hopes To Win at Cal

Saturday the Spartan ball players meet their baptism of fire at Edwards Field when they tangle with Coach Eyan's Pacific Coast Conference Champions on the turf at Berkeley.

Don't let the title of P. C. Champs scare you. State has nothing to be afraid of. Their men aren't any bigger than we are. Their pitchers may be more experienced (and thereby hangs the tale) but we stand about even in the other departments.

With our pitching staff of Simoni and Liebrant, backed up by McLachlan and DeSelle behind the plate, we are ready for battle. Our infield (at present) of Blethen, Pura, Thurber, Felice and Hardiman backed up by such seasoned lettermen in the outfield as Covello, Bishop, Corbella and Blacow offer few loopholes for base-hits to pass thru. All in all "my friends" it seems like a doggone good game to go and see.

State is rapidly going ahead. You folks have seen the great improvement in the past two years. I prophecy that within the next five years this institution will be among the major college class in Northern California.

For example, our football team plays Stanford and Olympic Club this year. Both of these teams are major ones. Track, meets U.C. and U.C.L.A. and swimming and Soccer teams both battle Stanford and California, while our ball team, not to be outdone, was one of the last to schedule major competition. Last year we played California and they won on the breaks. Just in case you don't remember, U.C. was Intercollegiate Baseball Champ last year.

This year both Stanford and California are on State's schedule in baseball.

True, we were beaten both times by the Redskins but they had been playing since November while both games were our first. We hope to get revenge by beating the Bears Saturday.

Something new is to be tried this season when our schedule extends to the first part of May. Formerly the pill tappers packed up their duds about April 15th so, as President Roosevelt would say, "We are on the road."

Too much credit cannot be given Bill Hubbard for the way he has helped State keep their ball team. You probably don't know it but baseball was to have been abandoned here but Bill Hubbard got together with the P.E. Department and put us on the map. In addition to being coach he has been pitcher (7), schedule maker, manager, water boy, transportation and equipment arranger along with other small jobs like picking the team to play and pleasing everyone. Hats off to "Bill." He's earned it.

We'll all be there Saturday and we'd all feel mighty proud to have you there too.

Due to a mistaken report it was printed that Ed Atkinson was eliminated from the foul shooting tournament. The fact of the matter is that Atkinson is not only still in the running, but is practically a cinch to win.

The others in the final playoffs include Wolfe, Maffey, and Ichishita. Atkinson usually finishes the fifty throws with over forty baskets.

Featuring Don Budge, state champion and national junior titalist, and John Murio, former state men's champion, the strong Golden Gate Tennis Club team will meet the Stanford variety Saturday.

Budge will probably be pitted against Captain Otis of the Cardinals.

SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE TIMES, FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1934

SPARTAN TRACKSTERS WILL HAVE REAL TEST IN CAL. MEET

Staters Have Little Chance Against Bears

Meeting the University of California Bears at Berkeley tomorrow afternoon, the San Jose State track team officially opens its 1934 schedule. The meet gets under way at two o'clock at Edwards Field.

Having left eight hard weeks of training behind, Coach Irwin Blesh's tracksters appear to be in fair shape and are bound to put up somewhat of a showing against the more powerful Californians. Tomorrow's meet, as it marks the first time that a San Jose track team has engaged in a dual meet with the larger schools making up the Pacific Coast Conference. Rising slowly but surely in the athletic field, Erwin Blesh and the Graduate Manager, Webster Benton, are doing their part by arranging such meets as the one with California for the local cinder-paths.

California Strong Spartans Underdogs

At California this week Coach Brutus Hamilton, who is starting his second season at the helm of the Bear track team, is prepared to trot out the strongest aggregation of track and field artists gathered on the Berkeley campus in a good number of years.

Standing highest in the Bear ranks is Bob Kleisel, who returns to the 100 and 220 yard straightaways for the first time since he was a victim of a thigh injury over a year ago. The injured member of "Bullet Bob" appears to be as strong as ever and Hamilton predicts that the blonde sprint ace is in for a banner year. Bell, and Burpee form the remainder of the Bear sprinting staff.

California's mile duo, Kitchell and Rafferty, are turning in good times in comparison to those turned in by the locals. Last Saturday the two tied for first honors in the four lap event, being clocked in 4:30.5.

With two strong finners such as those entered for Cal, the Spartan entries Harper, Chappell, and Lyda will find trouble in scraping out a third spot. The latter two will be running the mile run.

Glenn Harper, the leading miler, is a two year veteran. However, Harper is slow in rounding into shape, and it will take two or three meets for the Stockton boy to round into form. Which means that San Jose is going to be weak in the mile.

Spartans Best Chance in Hurdles

With first places destined to come few and far between for the Spartans, the high hurdles appears to be the most likely event for a wearer of the Gold and White to breast the tape.

Harry Murphy is the lad whom Coach Erwin Blesh and all Spartan followers are banking on to give the Spartans a first place in the high hurdles, having run the high sticks in 15.8 in the interclass last week and being supposedly capable of 15.1 even at this early date. The fact that Coe, California hurdler, topped the highs at 15.4 last week indicates that Murphy will have to run in a fine race to nose the Bear.

SPARTA'S HIGH HURDLERS

Pictured above are Harry Murphy and Anson Hayes, Spartan hurdlers, against the California Bears. Murphy who will be seen in action tomorrow afternoon at Berkeley when the San Jose track team opens their season against the California Bears. Murphy is conceded a strong chance of coping a first place in the highs.

S.J. Frosh Set For Palo Alto Hi Swimmers

Meeting the Palo Alto High School swimming team at the local pool this afternoon, Coach Charlie Walker is in a quandry trying to locate Freshmen mermen to use in the meet.

Weak in the back and breast stroke, the Freshmen will be quite strong in the rest of the events, but those two events, plus the medley events may be enough to ruin the chance of victory for the Frosh.

Although not definitely decided, Walker may use Bill Ambrose in the 220 yard freestyle event this afternoon to see what the sprinter can do in the longer distance when under pressure. Bill has been turning in better time than any of the men in the longer races, and State sadly needs strength in these.

Terry Tuxford, Fenton Murray, Art Blasdel, and Burton Smith seem to be the best bets for the freshmen in the breast and backstroke events.

Besides Bill Ambrose, the Frosh will have Herman Bateman, Ray Sherwin, Richard Lynn, and Art Blasdel in the sprint freestyle events. Although these men, with the exception of perhaps Bateman, are lacking in experience, they all have a vast amount of fight, which will give them a chance in their events.

The meet this afternoon will begin promptly at four o'clock with the 50 yard freestyle race.

Sappho And Ero Sophians Guests At Fashion Show

Ero Sophian and Sappho societies were guests at a fashion show Wednesday afternoon in the Roos Bros. Salon, at which time Dorothea Gussefeld, campus representative of Roos Bros. and a member of Ero Sophian society, acted as hostess and announced the models.

The show room was attractively decorated with spring flowers and special lighting added to the setting for the models. After the show refreshments were served to the guests over the "Beret Bar."

Girls who acted as models were: Sappho; Mimi Kron, Betty O'Brien and Jane Meads; Ero Sophian; Letta Allen, Virginia Hawkes, and Esther Wessendorf.

All types of clothing from bathing suits to formal wear were modeled, including spectator sport outfits, campus linens, active sports outfits, afternoon costumes, clever woolen tailored suits

Program Plans Named At Recent Meeting Of College Italian Group

Mr. and Mrs. Newby were guests of honor at a meeting of the Italian Club Tuesday evening in room one of the Homemaking building. A great part of the meeting was taken up in outlining the program for the coming quarter. If present plans speak for anything the spring will be filled with activities. Among them will be a picnic, the details of which will be decided on later.

The possibility of getting up a petition for installing the teaching of Italian in the college was also discussed. While this would undoubtedly be a valuable addition to the language department, predictions are still very uncertain.

The remainder of the evening following the business meeting was taken up with songs and games in which everyone participated, and refreshments concluded the evening.

and swagger suits, dinner dresses, formal hats, coats, shoes, and purses. The prevailing color of the costumes was blue, which promises to be very good for the season.

Illness Forces Bob Threlkel To Leave College For Home

Bob Threlkel, active member of the Sophomore Class and former officer of Delta Theta Omega social fraternity, was forced to leave school recently because of illness.

After a week's stay in the Edwin Markham Health Cottage, Bob's ailment could not be diagnosed, so he was advised to take a leave of absence. Returning to his home in Auburn, California, he will stay for a short time prior to a probable trip to Colorado where he will stay until his condition is improved.

APOLOGY

We wish to take this opportunity to say that in our editorial yesterday entitled "Co-operation", we had no idea of attacking any member of the faculty.

We only meant to inquire as to why the situation mentioned came about. Mr. Otterstein has explained the matter, and we are very sorry that the whole thing was not straightened

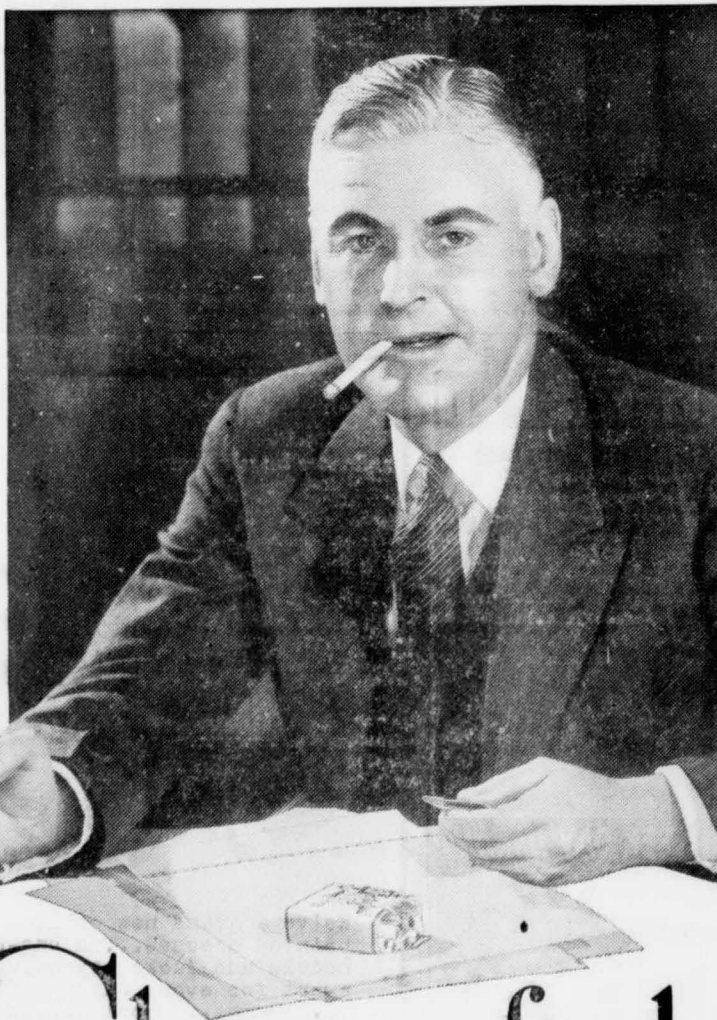

Faculty, Alumni Guests At Beta Gamma Chi Tea

Acting as hostesses to the faculty and alumni, members of Beta Gamma Chi held their annual Faculty-Alumni Tea last Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Betty Monahan on North 5th Street.

The guests were received by Miss Betty Monahan, president of Beta Gamma Chi, Miss Beatrice Kelley, Miss Alyce Bradford, Miss Marie Curtis, and Miss Dorothy Kaucher. Miss Helen Mignon and Mrs. Muriel Burkhart, alumni members of the society, presided at the attractive tea table during the afternoon.

Spring flowers of yellow and green were used as decorations on the tea table and throughout the reception rooms. Musical entertainment was offered the guests during the afternoon. Miss Beatrice Kelley was in charge of all arrangements for the tea.

Why — Men and women say They Satisfy

FOR SOMETHING to "satisfy" you, means that it pleases you—that it's what you want. This applies to cigarettes or anything.

A cigarette has to taste right—not raw or too sweet. For a cigarette to "satisfy" it has to be mild—not strong, not harsh.

You can prove for yourself whether a cigarette is milder—whether a cigarette tastes better.

And it's because smokers can prove these things about Chesterfield that so many men and women say they satisfy. Try them.
