 Associated Students board discuss resignations and SJSU employee health care

Four student speakers urged the San Jose State Associated Students board of directors to endorse the Philippines’ Human Rights Act in response to the Philippines’ Anti-Terror Law during Wednesday’s meeting via Zoom.

The Anti-Terror Law, which was passed in July by Philippine President Rodrigo Duterte, expands the definition of a terrorist and could endanger activists, according to a July 21 NPR article.

People who propose, incite, conspire and participate in the planning, training and facilitation of an offense under the act, could face life imprisonment without parole, according to a July 3 Amnesty International article.

The same would go for those who provide support “to terrorists” as defined under the act, or recruit members of a “terrorist organization,” according to an Amnesty International article.

The Human Rights Act calls for assistance of the United States to its Philippines ally.

"Basically what this resolution is going to do is express our solidarity with students standing with the people from the PHRA... that we’re not going to walk away from the alumni taken by the Duterte regime," Kazden Walker, A.S. director of legislative affairs, said.

Transfer of power

Class schedule conflicts and heavy workloads caused a number of board members to step down from their positions and look for replacements in order to relieve some of the pressure from too many responsibilities.

Ray Shah, founding director of business affairs, who lives in India, resigned from his position because of an excessive amount of work this semester.

"For the past two weeks I am not able to keep up with my two jobs here in India, studies and student government," Shah said in a letter read by A.S. Vice President Brendan Quock.

Another student, Jocelyn Jonas-Trammell, A.S. director of sustainability, requested to be relieved of her duties from the A.S. campus Life Services Committee because of a class conflict.

"Charisma described the committee as one with the purpose of fostering the concern of student life and finding creative ways to enhance awareness of available resources. The committee is now being nominates Amap Kaue, director of academic affairs, to be her replacement, and Kaue was voted by the majority of the board of directors.

A.S. President Zobedia Delgadillo also nominated Quock to take over her position on the Budget Advisory Board after expressing a similar situation to that of Kaue, that it was because of a schedule conflict with classes she needs to take.

SJSU provost and senior vice president of instructional affairs, Julian Jarre, a SJSSU graduate student in the field of library and information science program and Malaya Movement member, implored the board of directors to not be complicit and to stand in solidarity with the Filipinos, who are under the rule of Duterte.

"Under the Duterte administration we continue to see the human rights violations in the Philippines worsen," Jarre said. "Activists in the Philippines who are being accused of being terrorists, SJSSU with Dixon even leading to their extrajudicial killing of the student who went to student debt.

SJSSU is one of the top colleges for undergrad affordability

San Jose State was named the most affordable college at SJSSU in 2020 in August by Money magazine, which ranked each college according to its affordability.

"I was pretty clear that if I’m in this area attending SJSSU, I might be able to have some work opportunities and that’s exactly how it turned out,” said Alumnus Ahmad.

According to Money magazine, SJSSU is one of the top colleges for affordable education institutions in the U.S.

"The current cost of tuition for undergraduate at SJSSU is $7,952. The total cost of tuition and room and board is $25,212,” said Vincent Del Casino Jr., SJSSU provost and senior vice president of instructional affairs in a Sept. 9 email to the Spartan Daily.

Del Casino Jr. said in the email that roughly 62% of SJSSU students receive financial aid, which is a form of grants, scholarships, work-study and loans, which leaves the estimated price of tuition.

While most SJSSU students receive financial aid, the student average debt is almost the same as the estimated price of tuition.

"Even though more than half of SJSSU students receive financial aid, the estimated cost at graduation is about $23,000 for most SJSSU students,” Del Casino Jr. said.

Del Casino Jr. said they support Money magazine’s ranking and that it aligns with their own experiences at SJSSU.

The affordability is what makes me choose SJSSU in 2006,” alumna Gilberto Hernandez said.

He said he received a great number of grants and scholarships he received for helping him from SJSSU and other organizations.

With a master’s degree in aerospace engineering and around $4,000 in student debt.

Alumnus Ahmad graduated from SJSSU with a master’s degree in computer engineering.

"I was able to pay quickly off my student debt. I was pretty clear that if I’m in this area attending SJSSU, I might be able to have some work opportunities and that’s exactly how it turned out,” said Alumnus Ahmad.

People who want to watch porn should be paying for it to avoid consuming it unethically. Free porn websites like Pornhub may have videos that are uploaded without the creators’ permission and the performers in them lose out on the earnings that these videos generate. Although it may not seem like porn websites are making money from free videos, the advertisements bring in a large amount of revenue. Pornhub gets 100 million views a day.

One creator who goes by the name Jade Jordan said she is “so grateful for this platform,” on the Pornhub Model Program recruitment page, because of how it helped her become more well-known. However, not everyone featured on Pornhub uploads their videos themselves. There have even been recent scandals of people stealing content from independent creators on other websites like OnlyFans, a subscription-based site used by adult content users, uploading the stolen videos to bigger websites and then sharing links on Twitter to the content according to a Feb. 27 Vice article. Although this is not the fault of the websites, it proves that without paying, it is hard to know where your porn is really coming from and who is getting paid.
