MUSIC DEPARTMENT ADDS WITH MOST OF ORCHESTRA

The demonstration performance of the operetta, "The Purple Pigeon," written by George Matthews of the State Music department, with libretto and lyrics by Irene Alexander, which is to be given next Monday evening in the Morris Dailey auditorium at 7:30, is a new venture in the manner of presentation of operettas.

It will include solos, duets, and choruses, and will be accompanied by full orchestra.

The lines of the libretto will also be read, making a continuity Alma Williams Narrator

The novel feature of this presentation is that a narrator, in this case, Miss Alma Williams, of the Music department, will furnish explanatory notes and comments, which will be substituted for use of costumes, scenery, and lighting effects.

The narrator's comment will be similar to those given over the National Broadcast by Deems Taylor in the presentation of grand operas for the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York.

Entirely Informal
It is entirely informal and in every sense is a demonstration and performance combined. This one performance is being presented free of charge to the student body, faculty, and general public, as all the expense for books and rental of orchestra parts have been generously donated by the publishers, C. C. Birchard of Boston.

Wrestling Class Is Added for Summer

Wrestling class is to be a daily feature of men's physical education program in Summer school. Due to the fact that the arrangements for the class were not made until after the programs were printed this class does not appear on the printed schedule of Summer School courses which may now be obtained in the Co-op. The class will be held at 3:00 p. m.

The innovation of this Summer wrestling class, in addition to a men's swimming class, marks an embryonic beginning of Summer work for men in Physical Education.

Dr. Freeland urges that all men in college secure a working and teaching knowledge of wrestling. The class this Summer is to be particularly adapted to those who have had no previous training in wrestling.

San Jose Players To Present Production in Summer

The San Jose Players will officially finish their year of service to the school Monday night when the following officers for next year will be installed:

- Carl Palmer, president.
- Louis Seales, vice-president.
- Katherine Hodges, treasurer.
- Edna Wolford, historian.
- Joy Arps, secretary.
- Sanders and Epps, rep. at large.

The Players have presented one of the finest series of dramatic productions yet staged at State in the last year. Their excellence, however, is hoped to be surpassed by next year's list of plays.

These plays include: "Anne Christie," "Hotel Universe," "School for Scandal," a night of one acts, "Michael and Mary," or "Smilin' Through," and two as yet unchosen, one of which will possibly be "The Taming of the Shrew," in modern dress.

As an added attraction for Summer school students the Players will produce "The Importance of Being Earnest" on July 6 and 7. This is the first time that any major productions have been held over for Summer school, and it is hoped, that if successful, the custom will be continued.

The San Jose Players constitute the largest and most active organization on the campus in extra-curricular activities and deserves all the support possible. They not only include in their membership some of the best workers on the campus, but they make the name of State famous nationally. Incidentally they turn over more money than any other organization with the exception of the A. S. itself.

Miss Lydia Innes Takes Over New Appointment Job

REPUTATION OF OFFICE DEPENDS LARGELY ON HEAD

Lydia Innes, formerly of the Personnel office, has just been appointed by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie to fill the position of Appointment Secretary, that was left vacant by the death of Mrs. Mattie O. The Appointment office is proving to be one of the most important projects in the college, since the success of our whole endeavor hinges to a large extent upon the ability to place our graduates. It is felt that Miss Innes can properly fill this important office.

During the past year Miss Rhoads has been active in A. W. S., acting as vice-president during the winter quarter and directing Co-Ed Capers. She also was chairman of the Queen Contest for the Costume Ball, and has worked on the Times staff for the past three quarters.

Miss Martha Vansickle, running against Miss Pat Puce and Miss Emily Schwartz for the office of vice-president, received 118 votes, her opponents both polling 87 votes.

For treasurer Miss Helen Smith, with 192 votes was elected, to Miss Alice Regli's 90 votes.

The formal installation banquet, held each year, will this year take place in the Pompeian room of O'Brien's restaurant this evening at six-thirty. Miss Clara Hinze, faculty advisor, will be an honored guest, as will the newly-elected officers. All women who have worked on the Council during the past year will be present. Miss Bertra Gray, president, will act as toast-mistress for the evening.

This affair is one which is much anticipated and has in the past proved to be one of the many "high-lights" of A. W. S.'s activities.

The Graduating Class wishes to extend a cordial invitation to the members of the Student Body to attend the Senior Class Day program to be presented next Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium. A program consisting entirely of Senior talent will be followed by the dedication of the class numerals and a noon dance in the quad.

This is the end. At least it is the end for us as journalists. As students we have still another week to fight through. For some of us this last week will mark the real end. For others merely the termination of another year.

State has progressed in many ways this year: New Gymnasium, New Science Building, Tennis Courts, increased Student Body, enlarged curriculum and (last, but not least to us) a daily paper.

For this thanks must go to the Student Body. Your money made it possible. Your criticism, both for and against policies and articles, kept the paper going. Your comments and support kept "Times" co-operators at a high ebb of interest.

While in an embryonic form many flaws were discovered in the execution of the "daily" idea. Time has removed most of these and will continue to iron out rough spots. The idea itself, we believe to be a sound one for a school the size of State.

Any complaints (and we hope there are not too many) should be directed against the method used in carrying it out, and not against the idea itself.

The "Times" has undoubtedly made blunders, printed erroneous material and allowed personalities to seep into articles. For this our only defense is the fact that we were doing something new and different and that, figuratively speaking, we were "wet behind the ears" yet. We are truly sorry if any groups or individuals have been caused to suffer because of us.

Unfortunately somebody started a depression. It is an expensive operation to produce a daily newspaper. Consequently it is still a moot question whether the last quarter's policy will be continued next fall.

But, whether the economic situation stops or allows to continue it, we sincerely feel that the quarter of dailies has been a success and that the "Daily Times" can be added to the list of 1932 State accomplishments.

Peter Pouts

Well, well, well, here it is at the last of the year and still my work is unfinished. However, I am glad to say that I have, at last, seen some faint signs of reform as a result of my efforts. When the school year comes to an end and all the leaders of the campus and all of the organizations receive commendation for outstanding work during the year, then it is that one looks back, albeit somewhat wistfully, and thinks of all that could have been done which wasn't done. It makes one a little sentimental and pensive to thing of the happy days spent in college life, and the many joyful hours spent in studying. Of course I do not complain because I was not recognized on the stage today because of my reform work, which I am proud to admit has taken up the major part of my time here at school, for I feel that the silent recognition which each and every student has given me is far grarter than the trite recognition of a paper shake . . . ah . . . shingle. But to those stalwart sons and daughters of young America who stood proudly before the assembled multitude of bright and intelligent scholars in the auditorium today may all the honor and glory go which is due to them.

With a smile on my lips and a tear in my eye I close this, the last of my communications, to you, my own reading public, and wish you all the very best of success in your future endeavors. When you are well on the road to moral and financial success, may you look back and thank Peter for sending you down the right path. The best of luck to all of you.

YOUR PETER.

Relax at Musical Half Hour Before the Examinations

Musical Half Hour—an oasis of relaxation in the presence of beautiful music, to forget for a moment the desert of frenzied rush before finals. It is a half hour that leaves one refreshed and inspired to continue this business of study.

This noon from 12:20 to 12:50, in the Little Theatre, a program featuring Mrs. Guild, contralto, soloist at the Westminster Presbyterian Church and member of the Summer faculty, and Mr. Erle-ndson of the music faculty.

Smart Fashion Show Presented Last Week

What the smart young woman is wearing morning, afternoon, evening and on the beach, were displayed Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Little Theatre.

Ensembles for all occasions were modeled, representing the work of the girls in the clothing classes who have made the garments for themselves.

House dresses, sport and street dresses, suits and coats, gowns for afternoon wear, and evening dresses were displayed in the order given. The final group showed swimming suits, beach slacks and beach accessories, furnished by Roos Bros., who furnished the accessories used in the whole show. A group of children's outfit were also on the program for display.

Dying Pastor Urges Death for Incurables

Pasadena, Cal.—Beyond recovery from a lingering illness, a dying clergyman advocated speedy, painless death for those who are incurably afflicted.

This final message to the world from the dying minister, William A. Burch, was learned from one who had heard the message and who had seen him die.

Dr. Burch, ill for many months, knew he was going to die, but did not know when.

"Must it be this way to the end?" the clergyman asked Dr. Taber.

The doctor reluctantly told him the pain would not cease.

"I would be tempted to shoot myself if I were physically able—to end this agony.

"I would not want you to do anything unethical, but I hope you will do everything humanly possible to end my suffering—like animals are relieved of their pain.

"I would suggest that a board of physicians and ministers should be empowered with the right to painlessly end the suffering of those who are in agony and incurably ill—like myself."

Thereafter Dr. Burch showed no interest to remain alive and

The Correct Way

Q.—How does one eat sandwiches?

A.—With the fingers, usually. If the sandwich is large and breakable, break or cut it into smaller pieces as you would plain bread. A club sandwich or one with gravy or thick filling is eaten with a fork.

Q.—Is it permissible to eat bacon with the fingers?

A.—It is; that is, if the bacon is crisp and is not cooked with something else.

Q.—Is it permissible to eat chicken with the fingers?

A.—Fried chicken may be eaten with the fingers, if the host or hostess sets the precedent. Unless some such precedent is set, it is wise to use a fork.

Q.—Is it permissible to tip one's plate?

A.—A soup plate or other dish containing a liquid may be tipped slightly, but always away from the diner, never toward him.

Q.—Is it incorrect to leave one's spoon in a coffee or tea cup?

A.—It is. And of course, no one blows his coffee to cool or pours it in the saucer.

Q.—How does one know which fork or spoon to use, when there are many?

A.—A different utensil is used for each course. Begin on the outside of the row of silver and work toward the plate. The latest form of table setting places the first utensil nearest the plate and he last furthest away. Survey the silver before you begin and determine which form has been used. Watch your hostess if you are not confident. If there are servants, one will remedy unostentatiously any error on your part.

Conceit and Modesty Should Be Avoided

Two things that it would be well for young women to avoid are conceit and over modesty, so advises Virginia Gildersleeve, dean of Barnard College.

Strive for the positions in life that are obtainable. A woman often finds herself in the act of being a man's chief assistant, doing most of the important work and getting none of the glory that is rightfully hers. So a modern woman is warned not to show over-modesty by failing to prepare a subject thoroughly, and to always apply it with professional distinction and finish. This applies to the home as well as in the business world. There is an art in feeding the baby, preparing the meals, and even washing the dishes.

The modern woman has a deep problem on her hands to solve, that of combining the career with the cares of home. It is extremely difficult to achieve this and Miss Gildersleeve advises that if a woman doesn't have to do it, she shouldn't do it while her children are young, for after all, human relationships are the most precious things in life.

prayed for a speedy death . . . while all ethical means were employed to prolong his life.

Sophomore Class Picnic Proves Huge Success

One of the most successful events of the year sponsored by a class was the sophomore class picnic, held at Sea Cliff, on Sunday, June 5th.

The day was spent in playing baseball, swimming, and beach games. It is said by the sophomores present that Mr. Newby is a second Babe Ruth, he distinguished himself in the game so much. Mr. Walker and Mr. McDonald, according to further reports, spent most of their time under the water, "down there where the rest of the fish go to keep from getting sunburned!" The rest present on the picnic seemed to lack this foresight, so a large number of the sophomore class are quite sunburned, as a remembrance of the day!

The food was quite plentiful; so much so, in fact, that even the fifty members of the class present (and the chaperones) could not take care of all of the food.

Chaperones for the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Newby and their son Billy, Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Walker, and Mr. Hansen.

Frances Gifford and Lee Russell were in charge of the picnic.

Charming Bridge Tea Given by K-P Group

A bridge-tea was given for the Kindergarten-Primary group at the home of Miss Dorothy Gray in Los Altos, Saturday afternoon, June 4th.

Bertha Wong read a Chinese play. The rest of the afternoon was spent in bridge, after which refreshments were served.

The outgoing officers of the organization are: Alice Shoup, president; Alice Schmidt, vice-president; Alberta Ward Lloyd, secretary-treasurer; and Valeria Turner, reporter. Incoming officers are: President, Dorothy Taffe; vice-president, Edna Gass; and secretary-treasurer, Ruth Raymond.

Gangster "Lingo" Claimed Short Life

Gangster "lingo" is short lived says a good English professor at Ohio State University. He believes that like the gangsters themselves their words rapidly become a dead language. In plain words this is the observation of D. W. Maurer, an expert in the language of criminals.

Maurer gives a very interesting account of the history of this "lingo." He claims that first it originates among the underworld cliques, and then finally slips into the general conversation of crooks and then between the police and the newspapers the expression becomes common terms.

Of course, some of it lives and actually enters the language—"scram," for instance, "on the spot," and "taken for a ride," but so fast does this fantastic "lingo" change that within 25 or 30 years that students will have to have a dialect dictionary close at hand if they are to dip into our modern gang novels and it will need be a good one, too.

Art Department Has Unique Exhibit for This Week

PORTRAIT OF DR. HOLLIDAY IS ON EXHIBITION

It may be of interest to those who know him, that this is an excellent portrait of Dr. Holliday of the English department, painted by Miss E. Hoisholt, who is well known for her unusual talent in the field of oil painting and water color.

A painting of a student by Leeana Fisher is an outstanding one in the exhibit.

There are also some of the works of students of the Art Department class and the Drawing class, that show promise of possible young artists.

The exhibit will be held during the last week of the quarter.

Bel Canto Club Meets at O'Brien

As a final get-together for the quarter, the members of the Bel Canto Club met at O'Brien's lunch on Wednesday noon.

The club has enjoyed a successful year and are looking forward to an engagement at the Fox California Theater this fall.

The officers for the past quarter have been Mary C. Jones, president; Floriene Golden, vice-president; Helen Van Horn, secretary; Elda Fredrickson, treasurer; Marjorie Johns, historian.

Dr. Jesse Williams Speaks To Large Group Wed. Night

CLAIMS THAT HEALTH IS NOT AN END IN ITSELF

"Health is not an end in itself; it is merely a means to more rounded living."

"It is useless to know health rules without practicing them."

"Watch out for the person with a special formula for health; health is not the product of any single pre-occupation."

"Physical health is only one aspect; health of mind and attitudes is just as important."

Thus Dr. Jesse Feiring Williams, professor of health and physical education at Teacher's College, Columbia University, spoke to a large group of San Jose State College physical education teachers and students Wednesday night.

The modern attitudes toward health and physical education as manifestations of certain American attributes were discussed by Dr. Williams. The American interest in rugged types of sport is attributed to the product of the pioneer spirit; the quality of speed rather than endurance in our athletes he saw as the product of our modern, urban tempo, and the extension of physical education universally in the nation as our deal of democracy and the assurance permitted by modern economic processes.

He was introduced by Catherine Worthingham of the Physical Education department.

It is imperative prospective student teachers notice the bulletin board outside the information office, for many teaching assignments have been changed from the quarter expected when signing up.

Faculty Members Are To Enjoy Summer Vacation

Among the members of San Jose State's faculty that will take vacations this summer are, the President of the College, Dr. Thomas W. MacQuarrie and Mrs. MacQuarrie, who will sail for Europe on June 18. The president and his wife will be gone for the summer, and will visit France, Germany, and other countries, but will spend most of their time in England.

Mrs. MacQuarrie left Wednesday evening for the East, where she will visit relatives, and later be joined by Dr. MacQuarrie. They will be accompanied on the journey by Dr. MacQuarrie's brother and sister-in-law, of Minneapolis.

According to Dr. MacQuarrie, the trip will be purely recreational.

Others of the faculty to go on "trips" will be Miss Carolyn Berry and Miss Leanna Fisher, who will leave as soon as school is out for Los Angeles, where they will take a six weeks course at Chouinard Art School.

Miss Maurine Thompson and Miss Theta Manning also will leave following the 17th, for Columbia, where they will take courses in the music department of that famous university.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph W. Otterstein are making plans to go to New York during the summer, where they will probably attend the University of Columbia.

Mr. Frank Chalfant will again spend a greater part of his summer vacation in Mexico.

Miss Florence Henderson of the Speech Arts Department is planning a trip East during the summer.

Mr. James O. Wood is planning to go to England during the Fall Quarter, where he will attend one of the notable universities.

Mr. Harold Miller, popular professor in the English department, is leaving State soon to start work on his Master's degree at one of the Eastern universities.

THE BAND OPENS PROGRAM WITH SNAPPY SELECTIONS

The Recognition Day program that took place in the Morris Bailey auditorium from 10 to 12 o'clock yesterday awarded services and scholarship attainment of all meritorious students.

Opening the program, the State College band played three selections, the last being "Hail, Spartans, Hail," which was sung by the entire audience. Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie was then presented with a traveling kit by John Horning, President of the Associated Students, on behalf of the Student Body.

There was another band selection and then the presentation of Executive Board awards. After this, over thirty other students, who have held a special office, but have worked faithfully throughout the year, were given shields.

One of the most outstanding features was the announcement of the scholarship awards for the ten students who held the highest scholarship in the school. The highest was William H. Myers who had an average of 2.91; the others were Edward Phelps, 2.89; Mildred Berard, 2.78; Leon Warnke, 2.75; Lucielle Fonfara, 2.61; Richard Fall, 2.68; Francis Thompson, 2.67; Enes Pratin, 2.68; Leonard Rising, 2.62.

Kappa Kappa Sigma Have Formal Tea

A program was planned under the direction of Mrs. Stewart McCormack, Jr. (Wanda Witherstood). The program consisted of old-time songs given by Mesdames Worley, Rhodes and McCormack. The members of the trio were dressed in old-fashioned costumes to carry out the theme of the songs. Mrs. Owlcr and Mrs. Worley sang a group of duets. Mrs. B. C. Rhodes and little Lillian Casaletta gave a skit of reading and tap dancing. A dance by the "Goops" added a touch of merriment to the program. Miss Katherine Wood, a talented musician of the sorority, concluded the program with several piano selections.

Each mother was presented with a lovely corsage bouquet of sweet peas and fern. Following the program tea was served in the patio of the hotel.

Those present were: the Misses Beth Bailey, Helen Stewart, Hope Allario, Marion Tower, Marie Frances Moznott, Thelma Douglas, Genevieve Bush, Edna Clough, Muriel Collingwood, Grace Corner, Winifred Mariani, Olive Graham, Beth Neison, Ann Kidd, Ann Epperson, Marion Ries, Katherine Wood, Lillian Casaletta, and the Mesdames Stewart McCormack, Del Worley, Norman Owlcr, Robert Rhodes, Rodger Moore, D. Exhibits from rural schools will be especially featured, and also those from city schools, which will make attendance at Summer Session that much more worth while.

Final Meet Slated Tonight at Stockton With Amblers

AMBLERS SLATED TO WIN FROM SPARTANS WITH NO DIFFICULTY

Completing San Jose State's first swimming season, Coach Walker will take his men to meet the Amblers of Stockton tonight in a return match. He will probably enter the same men he used last Friday, although perhaps in different events.

Thus far, Draper is high point man of the season with 16. Plat and Higuchi are tied for second honors with 11 points. Scofield has scored 9, and Stromquist follows with 8. Mahaffey has taken 6 points, and Lynn 3. Rankin and Bonniksen complete the list with 1 point each.

Coach Walker names Plat as being the most improved man on the squad. He has cut fully 16 seconds from his fastest high school time since attending college. Apparently he is finding himself, and will prove a dangerous contender next year.

Draper, present high point man, has been a trifle handicapped by being used in the sprints. He is a 220-yard dash man, but, as he is the fastest man Walker has in the sprints, it is necessary that he be entered in the shorter races. With the addition of a sprinter to the squad, Draper would be saved for 220-yard swim.

Higuchi is continuing to improve every day, and will no doubt develop into a very capable diver. His form in the air is constantly being improved. Mahaffey is also practicing continually, and has the possibilities of performing more difficult dives than Higuchi. Both should be the mainstays to next year's diving group.

Scofield has done well this year, considering that he was late in reporting for the squad, and that he hasn't had any competitive swimming for two years.

Stromquist has possibilities of developing into an excellent breast stroke swimmer, as he has a strong kick and is working hard. Lynn is good in the crawl and fairly good in the breast stroke. Bonniksen is powerful in the back stroke, and with more experience will be a strong competitor. Rankin is a good all round man, but his best event is the breast stroke swim.

T. Moore, Esneault, Deter, and MacQuarrie are all new men, and Coach Walker has used them in the relays for experience. All show possibilities of developing into strong swimmers.

Fillmore Gray Will Direct "Y" Camp

K. Fillmore Gray has been selected as co-director of Camp McCoy, sponsored by San Francisco, and located in the high Sierras near Strawberry Lake. Gray, who is prominent in State College dramatic and music circles, is also well known in young people's work. He was selected for this position by the Metropolitan camp committee and will be away six weeks, returning in the fall to college.

Sixty Members Attend Last Meeting of Spanish Club

The Spanish Club held its last meeting last Tuesday night, June 7th, at the home of John MacQuarrie, in the eastern foothills. The meeting was opened by the group singing Spanish songs under the leadership of Mr. Frank E. Chalfant. Dalna Stidham sang two songs and James D'Anna accompanied her on the guitar. Games were played and Mr. L. C. Newby won "elburro de Sancho Panza", which, in turn, he presented to the honor society, "El Circulo Cervantes." Lena and Bertha Lindeman sang some Mexican songs, accompanied by Francisco Navarro. A trio composed of Leonard Rising, Walter Rieksig, and James D'Anna, rendered musical selections. About sixty members were present. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served.

Local Theaters Draw Crowds This Week

Two outstanding features are offered to the movie-going public this week with the showing at the Victory Theatre of the fast-moving picture, "Vanity Fair," and the appearance at the Fox California of Ted Lewis and his famous company of thirty Broadway syncopators.

With both these theatres having matinee showings the number of cuts in State classes are expected to take a sudden jump this week, for numbers of students have been overheard expressing a firm intention to attend both these features.

Triena Quartet Has Interesting Program

The Triena String Quartet was heard last night in a recital presented by Mr. Kalas of the Music department. The music was very well received by an appreciative public. The quartet is made up of Frank Triena, first violin; Leroy Deeg, second violin; Lucilia Bates, viola; and Maurine Cornell, cello. Several rare old instruments were used, among them a Stradivarius cello worth $20,000, which was kindly loaned by Mr. J. W. Abbott of San Francisco. The following selections comprised the program: Quartet No. 8, Haydn; Die Klage, Kalas; Meditation, Kalas; Minuet in G Minor, Kalas; Quartet No. 3, Beethoven.

Jean Harlow is to play the title role in "Red Headed Woman." Others in the cast include Chester Morris, Leila Hyams, Lewis Stone, and Una Merkel.

Jackie Cooper and Chic Sale are co-starring in "When A Feller Needs a Friend." Original, isn't it?

Seniors Jaunt To Mt. Hamilton To See Stars

SENIORS WILL ENJOY THRILL OF OBSERVING THROUGH THE TELESCOPE

Leaving the campus at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday, June 15th, the honorable Seniors will declare it a holiday and travel to Mt. Hamilton.

All Seniors will take their own lunches and will eat at Smith Creek, where coffee will be served.

During the evening all students will be given the opportunity to look through both telescopes at the observatory.

This is a special privilege that was extended to Senior students of San Jose State and the University of California in 1899 and State students consider it a great honor.

Dr. W. H. Wright, acting director of Lick Observatory, will conduct the students on an inspection of this famous place.

Dr. James De Voss and Mr. Neil Thomas are the faculty members working on the committee.

Only Seniors and faculty are allowed to take the trip and transportation may be secured by seeing any of the committee members.

Two State Co-eds Married Saturday

On Saturday last Miss Hazelle Henderson and Lyman Hale Van Gorder, both students of San Jose State, pledged their troth at an impressive service in the Centella Methodist Church. Rev. Charles B. Stephens performed the sacred rites.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henderson of Morgan Hill, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Van Gorder, also of Morgan Hill.

The couple are popular members of the younger set of their city and have taken an active part in all social affairs in the vicinity.

Following the honeymoon, which will be spent at Capitola-by-the-Sea, Mr. and Mrs. Van Gorder will make their home in Morgan Hill.

R. K. O. Radio has bought Earnest Hemingway's "The Sun Also Rises." Constance Bennett will play the role of Brett, the woman who would try anything once.

Print Shop Comes Out On Top in the G. and W. League

THE FINAL GAMES TO BE PLAYED OFF ON MONDAY

The Print Shop took first place in the Gold and White League after defeating the Minors and Commerce Club outfits in the play-off of a triple tie.

The first game was played between the Print Shop and the Minors. This was the best game of the day. At the end of the regular seven innings the score was tied at 3 all. The game went to 11 innings before the Print Shop managed to squeeze in a run. The game was hard fought throughout and it was anybody's game until the final inning. The game last Tuesday between the same two teams was also hard fought and went to nine innings before the Print Shop squeezed across a run to win that game by the same score as this one, 4 to 3.

The second game, between the Print Shop and the Commerce Club was more or less one-sided. Kieth Carmichael pitched a good game, but he seemed to lack support.

As a result of winning the Gold and White League the Print Shop have earned the right to play the I. D. K.'s for the championship of the school.

This game will take place next Monday about 4:30 o'clock.

Chicago has dropped its board of censors. Recent pictures they've condemned have been "Strange Love of Mally Louvain," "Lety Lynton," "Party Girl," and "Two Seconds."
