Ernestine Schumann-Heink Appears
On Bill At Fox California Today in Person. "Clara Deane" On Screen

The golden voice of Ernestine Schumann-Heink will thrill listeners today and tomorrow at the Fox California, as the world famous singer appears in person.

Wynne Gibson, the talented young actress who stepped from the musical comedy stage to success in the talkies by way of "Nothing But the Truth," "Ladies of the Big House" and "The King of Women," has her first big starring role with Paramount in "The Strange Case of Clara Deane," coming out today in the Fox California. In this talkie version of Arthur M. Schuffenhauer's brilliant stage hit, Miss Gibson attains to heights that bring her great fame in the annals of the photoplay.

Tina Modotti makes the audience over a span of about twenty years, and the gradual metamorphosis of the hapless Clara Deane through the years of trying circumstances is shown with all the production value that the advent of advanced production values has in the use of make-up for which Paramount is famous. Married to a worthless man, on the eve of his sentence for embezzlement she struggles valiantly during the next five years to bring happiness to the life of their little daughter. Freed from prison her loving husband gets into a series of jams and finally he is caught. Clara Deane is accused and sentenced to his accomplice. Their daughter is adopted by the detective chief of the city, who brings her up as his own, into charming Young woman; freed from prison Clara Deane gets a job as a social worker. The next with a twinge of irony that her daughter is about to be married to a worthy young man. Discretion keeps her from making herself known to the young woman. Meanwhile her husband leaves the drama's happy position in society—and becomes a "blackmail" campaigner, which will ruin the happiness of the young wife too.

The climax packs a terrific heart wallop in a series of moving, pathetic scenes, with Clara Deane as the heroine. The ending is not the customary happy one—but contains a satisfying modicum of happiness.

Supporting Miss Gibson are Pat O'Brien of the "Front Page" fame; Frances Dee, brunette charmer of "An American Tragedy"; Dudley Digges, George Barrie, Russell Gleason, Clara Bow, Claire Blanche and others.

McGagg was a husky young boy, a fullback of nation-wide-fame. He could struggle a half with a hideous laugh, and calmly go on with the game. When once he entwined his rough fingers round a wrestling and polishing neck, some promising kid was stretched out on the grid—

An utter and permanent wreck. As long as McGagg was in college, there was plenty of action and steam, and quit up and quit and pell-mell and ugly kid.

In the playing technique of the team, though often they had a tough schedule, they never would do anything and this record they know was exclusively due to the excellent work of McGagg.

At dances and dinners and parties, McGagg was a lion, of course; when his muscular form would emerge from his dorm, the fellows would cheer themselves hoarse and figure in song and in story.

He shone in collegiate rhyme. Which said he would be when he got his degree. The greatest young man of his time. At last he secured his diploma, and with honors and hopes, he went on his way one pleasant June day to knock old Success through the ropes. Perhaps you may fancy, fairy Knights with their shield. That is what he brought was with a yank.

Though often they had a tough schedule, At dances and dinners and parties, they never would do anything and this record they know was exclusively due to the excellent work of McGagg.
