Attractive Program for Pre-game Rally Planned; Parade Will Climax Fun

Wildt Event of Evening Will Probably Be Parade Thru Downtown San Jose

Dud DeGroot and Team Will Give Speeches During Rally In Auditorium

Dud DeGroot said yesterday that the pre-game rally in the auditorium will be an event that will attract a large crowd. He said that the rally will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, November 12, and that all students are encouraged to attend.

DeGroot said that the rally will feature speeches by himself, the team, and other speakers. He said that the speeches will be aimed at motivating the students to support the team and to get out to the stadium to cheer on the Spartans.

He also said that there will be a parade through downtown San Jose following the rally. He said that the parade will include floats, bands, and other student groups.

DeGroot said that the purpose of the rally and parade is to build momentum for the upcoming game against Pacific College. He said that the team needs the support of the students to win the game.

He urged the students to attend the rally and parade and to show their support for the team.

Debate Ts.c. Under New System

A debate team under a new system inaugurated under the direction of John N. Engle, Leroy Paul, Rob Doerr, and Bob Majors will make its debut in the form of a debate with their vociferous sirens.

Anyone who wishes to donate a car with an unusually noisy horn can even get into the action.

The parade will begin in the heart of downtown San Jose at 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, November 12, and will proceed through the city streets. The route will take the parade through the downtown area and will end at the stadium.

More information about the parade and its schedule will be announced at a later date.

Y.W.C.A. Cabinet Holds Joint Dinner

Members of the Cabinet and the Advisory Board of the Y.W.C.A. of San Jose, including Miss Eliza B. Fisher, of the Advisory Board, on the Sacramento unit, met recently at the home of Miss Fisher.

After the business meeting, Miss Fisher gave a very interesting and informative talk on her recent trip to the west coast. She discussed many interesting aspects of the Y.W.C.A. work in the west, and the problems faced by the organization in that area.

Three girls act as chairman for the many activities of the Y.W.C.A. Some of these activities include fundraising, community service, and youth development.

THE FLANKER ATTACK

The Phy Eds have concluded prior-the coming intramural program, ac-accoring to Bill Kelley, chairman of the committee in charge and will start the season on this coming Thursday.

Following the touch-down, will contomenade in football, soccer teams, and will all be finished by the end of the fall quarter. The form of competion will be divided from last year's and the type will be one team representing each class Points for participation, however, will be similar to last year's, and each participant will count

as one point for his class, but must take part in the game to obtain the point for his class.

All teams interested should sign up with class managers or any member of Phy My large. The line game was scheduled for this coming Thursday, but due to difficulties may have to be canceled. This will be subject to fur further notice.

The games will be played on the Carson street turf, two games per con-ce and the same days will be Tuesday and Thursday afternoons starting promptly at four o'clock. They will be arranged so as not to interfere with the class periods.

The Phy Ed committee in charge has selected Coach Charles Walker of the instructor with the Line of intramural which he has previously been in charge of. The Phy

Ed only allowing the Walker's feeding schedule the Phy Eds limit it their part to take part in determinant on their own hands, and attempt to handle it as

Limiting the Teachers' Colleges

"I see no reason why teachers colleges should be limited in the future to the training of elementary and kindergarten teachers. The colleges should begin training secondary school teachers, junior college teachers, and teachers for their own institutions in the very near future. I am in favor of this kind of expansion in California starting immediately. I do not believe that it is wise for the law to make any restrictions as to which the state teachers colleges are to go. This is the wrong kind of regulation.

"I think the teachers' colleges should be given permission to train for the Master's degree. Historically, this is the teacher's degree and obviously if the colleges are to train for secondary school teaching it will be essential that they be allowed to offer this degree. I believe state teachers' colleges should serve a broader and a very practical purpose."

These words, quoted from John C. Almack, an eminent professor of education, are significant not only because of their authorship, but because John C. Almack is a member of the faculty of Stanford University. The fact that a representative of a higher institution has expressed an opinion favorable to increasing the powers of the lower colleges would become significant if it were realized that the teachers' colleges are being denied the right to fulfill their true objective.

Education and the science of teacher training are represented in the teachers' colleges. Why, then, should their degrees be limited? I have no objection to the idea of increasing the quality of instruction that is offered by the state teachers' colleges. The yellow of poplar leaves is waiting in line and the rush in the gym plants. Therefore in winter, for both leaves and leaves of much color and at-tire, they are able to develop a brilliant coloring in the autumn that the leaves will be in full color in the autumn.

The color of yellow leaves is due to the presence of carotin and carotinoids. Various combinations and presentations of chlorophyll carotin and carotinoids are responsible for the different colors of leaves. The plants have been changing since it is possible for them to change color over a period of time. It has been observed that the color of yellow leaves is due to the presence of carotin and carotinoids.

Bright colors are not developed in the chlorophyll-deprived season.
