SJS DEFEATS PALY 8-6 IN FRIDAY'S WATER POLO TILT; RETURN GAME TODAY

San Jose State's water polo team squeezed through a close 8-6 victory over Palo Alto High School's team Friday night. Although State out-played Palo Alto throughout the game, they could not demoralize the Vikings' spirit.

Time after time Palo Alto scored goals to pull up within one point of tying State's lead. It was Captain Jack Reiserer who finally put the game on ice for the Spartans by scoring the final goal in the last minute of play, which gave State a two-point margin and made it practically impossible for the Vikings to score an upset.

SPARTANS

Cecil Dombalian played an outstanding game at guard. It was his defensive skill that kept Palo Alto from running up a larger score. Bob Wallace, Tom Wyman, and Ted Meyers, with the aid of Dombalian broke up many a Viking scoring thrust; yet they could not completely stop the Vikings, who were keyed up for a victory over the Spartans.

Outstanding offensive plays for State were in the form of two backhanded goals contributed by Roy Mische and Captain Jack Reiserer. Mische was high point man for the Spartans with three goals. Reiserer and George Sheets were next with two goals each. Frank Goulette contributed the other goal.

GAME TODAY

This afternoon, the Spartans travel to Palo Alto for a return game. Starting time is 3:30. According to Pat Rhodes, Rally committee head, although today's game is away from home, she still expects quite a few loyal State supporters to make the trip.

Wednesday night at 7:30, State will play host to the high riding Sequoia Cherokee water polo team in the college pool.

FORMER STATER WRITES LETTER ON NAZI PAPER

According to Miss Doris Robinson of the Placement Bureau, a letter has been received from Lt. Delbert E. Williamson written on Nazi stationary and bearing an October 1 date line.

"Our predecessors in various offices have left quite a stock of stationary behind due to their sudden departure, and now we are all using it," Lt. Williamson wrote.

"Paris is a wonderful city and I am really enjoying it, in spite of the fact civic affairs are not at their best. The famous cafes do not have their reknown cuisine. There is still life and gayety. Generally prices are too high, but there are a few exceptions, perfume and liquor."

Stated Miss Robinson, the surprise on opening a letter from Lt. Williamson and finding Nazi stationary, explained in his letter, only helps to show us the fast, thrifty way the Yanks work.

Original Fight Song

Original manuscript of the Spartan "Fight Song" written by the late Lt. Johnston Wiles, '39 graduate, will be kept in the Treasure Room of the college library.

The manuscript, which was found in the student body president's office last week, is written in Lt. Wiles' own handwriting.

Lt. Wiles was killed in action in the Atlantic area on June 11, 1944. Last December he won a Navy commendation for heroic action during the battle of Sicily. He was with the amphibious forces in that invasion.

Speakers will represent all three major parties, with one faculty member and one student speaking in favor of each. After brief outlines of each party's stand on the issues, the meeting will be thrown open to questions from the panel and then from the floor.

Dr. William Poytress and Milo Badger will take the Democratic stand, Dr. Hugh Gillis and John Hopkins will represent the Socialist point of view, and Dr. Dorothy Yates and Bill Strobel will speak for the Republican viewpoint. Bob James, SCA secretary, will act as moderator.

This meeting is the last in a series of discussions sponsored by the Social Action committee of the SCA to encourage student thought on the issues of the 1944 campaign. Others have featured Darlington Hoopes, Socialist; Jack Anderson, Republican, and Arthur Johnson, Democrat.

War Chest pledges may be redeemed in the Information office at any time during the day, announces E. S. Thompson, comptroller.

Mrs. Helen Maxwell will accept payments in the Information office.

Chinese theme will be used at the "Chinese Charity Ball" Saturday evening, November 11, sponsored by Phi Kappa Pi. It will be held at the Scottish Rite Temple at North Third and St. James streets.

The entire proceeds will be turned over to the local Chinese authorities.

Bob Kent's twelve-piece orchestra and vocalist have been contracted for the evening. The dance will be from 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m.

A floor show will be the highlight of the intermission. Entertainment will be provided by San Jose State students, with Milo Badger and Jewel Haddock scheduled to sing. A Chinese girl from Palo Alto will do several Oriental dances.

Applications for the positions of director and business manager of Spartan Revelries can be turned in to the Student Council until Monday, November 13 at noon. Any students may apply for the posts.

"Shoemaker Shop" For War Veterans Concludes Today

Today concludes the Beta Gamma Chi and Delta Sigma Gamma "Shoemaker Shop" drive on campus.

Purpose of the drive has been to collect materials that can be made into purses, afghans, quilt tops and other handcraft articles by the men at the Shoemaker hospital.

These men are unable to be out of their beds and wheel-chairs. Making handcraft articles helps to occupy their minds during the period they must be confined at the hospital.

Articles that are needed by the men are silk hose, cotton materials, buttons, zippers, and yarn.

"We have extended the drive until today, hoping that the Spartans looked around at home over the weekend for these articles," states Nancy Page, Beta Gamma Chi chairman.

Large posters placed at each contribution box were made by the members of both organizations.

Last Wednesday, Miss Ruby Ferguson, member of the arts and skills organization at Shoemaker, spoke at the Shoemaker Shop rally, explaining the work done by the men at the hospital.

DSG pledge James Rambo concluded the rally with piano selections of "Boogie-Woogie," "Jive" and "Swing."

is composed of one faculty member of the Speech department, appointed by the president; one director, appointed by the Student Council upon recommendation of the faculty adviser of the board; one business manager, appointed by the Student Council; two students to act as stage manager and assistant director; and the college comptroller who will be a non-voting member, and will oversee finances.

Appointment of the offices for the annual winter quarter musicale are made at least three months prior to the production which is written and produced by students. Music and lyrics to the songs, skits, and other dialogue are student-composed, and all talent used in the show is drawn from the student body.

Jeannette Owen directed last year's Revelries, "Director's Dilemma," which burlesqued the difficulties of producing a show under the restrictions and shortages of war time.

The Revelries board is officiating for the first time this year and this innovation should make for more efficient production. Also with the new talent which has been added to the school this year, a high standard of entertainment is expected.

Senior Sweater On Display Today In Daily Showcase

Today in the showcase outside of the Publications office there is a senior sweater displayed. It is a white block cotton and wool type and one of the best kind made today.

Bob Coombs announces that though the first order of senior sweaters has already been placed, it is still possible for those wishing to purchase them to be measured and to place their deposits in the Spartan Shop. A $4.50 deposit is required; the remaining $4.50 to be paid upon arrival of the sweaters from the east during the early part of winter quarter.

The emblem of gold and white with "Seniors" and "45" embossed on it was accepted by the class at last Tuesday's meeting.

Those in charge of promoting publicity for the sale of the sweaters are Letha Roberts, Grace Villaseñor, and Bernice Ballard.

DR. ATKINSON ATTENDS MEET

Dr. Earl W. Atkinson has just returned from Berkeley, where he attended the conference of the Joint Council for Vocational Teacher Training in California on November 2, 3, and 4. Dr. Atkinson represented all California state colleges at the affair.

Leader of the council was Dr. Ira W. Kibby, chief of the Bureau of Business Education at Sacramento. Attending and representing the Los Angeles School Department was Dr. Jessie Graham, who taught here in the Commerce department from 1931 to 1937.

SJS Group Begins Scrapbook Drive

Mrs. Walter Kolosa, national chairman for the USO Scrapbook drive, has made a request for several thousand scrapbooks for servicemen in remote areas, and those in hospitals where library services are unavailable.

Black Masque is sponsoring the on-campus drive, and information concerning the campaign may be obtained from Dean Helen Dimmick or Dorothy Czerny. Materials for the books are available in Dean Dimmick's office for the price of fifteen cents, and the finished products are due January first.

Service Organizations

We would like to spend a few moments discussing the situation existing in the men's service organizations on campus. The veterans' organization started out as a small group of fellows who had returned from service and were eager to work together and be of service to the college. In the absence of any other men's service organization, they filled the gap very well. Now the veterans have grown to a group many times their original size, and will continue to increase in numbers as more men are released from the services.

The organization will soon become unwieldy, and co-ordinated activity will become impossible. However, the vets have not been blind to this changing situation and are now making plans to divide the organization into several smaller units by the branch of service of each individual.

As to the idea of a service organization, the veterans have assumed those activities because of lack of any other such organization, and it is hoped that soon there can be a renewal of the activities of the Spartan Knights, the Alpha Phi Omega, and Tau Delta Phi.

Now would be a good time for any of those to reactivate themselves and create a nucleus around which to build full-size groups when the normal numbers of men are again available on campus.
—Webster.

Spartans may not realize that part of the money they spend in the Spartan Shop co-op is returned to them through student activities and campus constructions which are beneficial to all students.

Last Wednesday, the Spartan Shop board, composed of students and faculty members, turned $1135.61 over to the Student Council to be used for the benefit of the Associated Student Body members.

The Spartan Shop board is in charge of the financial transactions of the co-op. All profit from the co-op store is turned over to the student body funds.

At the beginning of the quarter when students buy books, notebooks, paper, art materials and other essential material, the profit from these articles is given back indirectly to each student.

Last year, the profits from the co-op were used mainly to re-decorate the Spartan Shop co-op.

It was newly painted and new linoleum was put on the floor, making the co-op a more pleasant place to spend those extra hours.

The profit is not only used on the co-op itself. It is used to buy new library books, new furniture for the Student Union and to improve other campus locations.

With this information, students may see how important it is to trade at their own school co-op, which offers them double their money each time they purchase an article.

Faculty members on the board are Milburn Wright of the Commerce department who is the chairman; E. S. Thompson, comptroller, secretary; Dr. William Poytress, head of the Social Science department, vice chairman; Dr. Raymond Barry, Dr. W. Howard Myers, Dr. Carl Duncan, and Mr. Milton Lanyon.

Student members of the board are: Milo Badger, Jeane Petrino-vich, and William Shapiro.
