Seniors will meet in room 110 today at 12:30 to discuss the junior-senior mixer, the senior party, and selection of new council members.

There also will be a report by Bob Coombs, chairman of the senior sweater committee regarding their rate of sale. Fourth-year students are reminded by Coombs that there are still a few days left in which to place their orders for the class sweater, and urges all to do so.

Senior participation in the upper-classmen mixer will be discussed and reports on its progress will be given by those in charge of the affair: Barbara Keaton, Elsie Schreiber, and Solvig Rønning.

Another important matter to be discussed will be the forthcoming senior party, announces Chairmen Barbara Lee Rico, Claire Emigh, and Laura Lee Swizzig.

New council members will be chosen from those attending and participating in class activities. Therefore, those interested in formulating senior activities in the future should attend today's meeting.

The committee to publicize senior sweaters has been announced as follows by Bob Coombs, chairman: Audrey Levic, Letha Roberts, Grace Villasinor, Bruce Duke, Dorothy Czerny, Bee Ballard, and Catherine Eaby.

CHEMISTRY COURSE OPEN TO STUDENTS

Opportunity to prepare for remunerative, permanent employment in current or post-war industry is offered students who take the 10 weeks course in analytical chemistry to begin November 13 at San Jose State College.

Tuition free, the course is given under the sponsorship of the U.S. Office of Education. This is the fifth in a series of such courses.

Instructors are Dr. P. Victor Peterson, head of the Science department, and Dr. Gertrude Witherspoon, chemistry professor. The class will be given from 7 to 10 o'clock Monday and Wednesday evenings in the science building.

Applicants for the course should be high school graduates who have had chemistry, physics or biology. Anyone who registered for the course before, but did not finish, may sign up now and take up work where left off. Men and women are eligible and there is no age limit.

Graduates of the course have been placed in most of the major industries of this area, including Shell Development, Standard Oil, Spiggle's Foods, and the Guayule Rubber company.

Applications should be made immediately to either Dr. Peterson or Dr. Witherspoon. Students and employed persons find it possible to take the course without interfering with other duties, the instructors emphasize.

All members of the newly appointed sophomore class council are urged by President June Robertson to attend the class meeting which will be held in the Student Union at 12:30 today.

Any other interested sophomores are also invited to come, since the meeting will be an important one, Miss Robertson stated.

O. T. Prepares Materials For Shoemaker

Under the direction of Miss Philoma Goldsworthy of the Arts and Skills unit, the occupational therapy club will do the advanced preparation necessary before the "Shoemaker Shop" project can be given to the returned veterans.

The work to be done includes cutting stencils, warping looms, preparing stockings for weaving, preparing leather work and putting designs on chip carving projects.

This project by the Arts and Skills unit is an indirect result of the "Shoemaker Shop" drive just completed by Delta Sigma Gamma and Beta Gamma Chi. It will be the club's work project for the year.

Miss Goldsworthy will explain the project to the occupational therapy group at the regular meeting this Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in room S31 in the Science building.

All those attending the meeting are urged to bring their old stockings. The work project for the evening will be the preparation of stockings for weaving.

Bulletin!

San Jose State and Palo Alto High school tied 2-2 in a return water polo game at Palo Alto yesterday afternoon. At half-time Paly held a 2-0 lead. Two goals in the fourth quarter by Frank Goulette, who didn't get into the game until the third quarter, enabled the Spartans to tie the game and keep their unbeaten record intact. Captain Roy Mische of the Spartans was unable to find his usual accurate shooting eye and went scoreless. The game was rough, evenly matched, and was played according to Eastern rules. Wednesday night at 7:30, State will play Sequoia at the college pool.

STATE MAY ALLOW SJS TO GRADUATE 5-YEAR STUDENTS

In the hands of the State Legislature is a proposal which would permit the state colleges of California to grant general secondary teaching credentials, Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie revealed yesterday.

If passed by the legislature at their next session in January, San Jose State college and the six other state colleges could then grant the general secondary credential obtained at present only through a fifth year at a university. The fifth year would be taken in the state colleges instead.

The proposal has already been approved by the seven state colleges of California, the state board of education and the state department of education.

Possessors of general secondary credentials are authorized to teach in any level of junior high school, senior high school, or junior college.

At present the state colleges are permitted to grant only the special secondary credential in certain fields. In other fields the candidate is required to take a fifth year at a university, just as he is required to go to the university for a general secondary credential.

Special secondary credentials are granted here in Commerce, Art, Men's Physical Education, Women's Physical Education, Industrial Arts, Home Economics, Music, Librarianship and Speech.

Each student in this class must fill the requirement of preparing an exhibit for the display case during the quarter.

SAN JOSE STATE WILL ESTABLISH AVIATION TRAINING WHEN WAR ENDS

Thirty-five California colleges and universities are planning to establish, continue or expand student courses in aviation after the war, it was disclosed last week in their responses to a nation-wide survey of educational institutions made public by Ernest R. Breech, president of Bendix Aviation corporation.

San Jose State college is among the 35 who are planning on post-war aviation.

In 1939 the National Authority in Control of Aviation encouraged aviation and aeronautics training in college, choosing 13 colleges to participate in the program sponsored by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Three colleges on the Pacific coast were chosen — San Jose State college, Pomona Junior college, and the University of Washington.

The national government supplied the money for the colleges to proceed with the plan. San Jose State college was able to buy six planes. The course was successful here with 250 men and 39 women enrolled in the class.

LAST CHANCE TO SIGN FOR NURSING

Students interested in Nurses' Aide training are reminded that today is the last chance to sign for the course, by Miss Bernice Tompkins, chairman of the campus unit of the Red Cross.

Miss Jeanette Vanderpool is the faculty chairman of the Nurses' Aides, and Phillis Edwards is the student chairman.

The first class will be held tonight at the O'Connor Sanitarium from 7 to 9:30 p. m. The remaining classes will be held from 7 to 9:30 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights throughout the course.

"There is still room for a few more women and it is hoped that they will sign up as soon as possible today," stated Miss Tompkins.

Mrs. D. T. O'Brien, a registered nurse, is the instructor of the Nurses' Aide training course. An 80-hour course, 35 hours are spent in class work and lectures, and 45 hours in actual practice in the hospital work.

Francis Lederer To Speak At SJS

Francis Lederer, noted stage, screen, and radio actor, will speak at San Jose State college Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Little Theater. He will address the college audience on "Acting Technique."

Mr. Lederer has acted with Katherine Cornell, noted actress, in "No Time for Comedy." He was born in Prague, Czechoslovakia and performed in all the capitals of Europe before coming to this country when he was still in his teens. While in Europe he played with the Max Reinhardt productions.

Besides the production, "No Time for Comedy," Lederer is best known on the stage for his performance in "Autumn Crocus."

He now has the lead in Ibsen's "Doll House" which will be staged in San Jose next Monday.

HELP!!!

Can you drive a nail without smashing a thumb or two in the process? Or maybe you're an electrical genius? Or maybe you have a special knack for makeup? Or maybe you can't do any of these things—come along, anyway, to the Speech department office, room 59, and sign up to work with the technical crew for "Our Town."

Director Howard Melton has issued a call for anyone interested in performing the invaluable backstage services which go into the production of a successful play, and which are all as essential as acting, though not as obviously so.

Those who serve in backstage capacities in this production will receive points toward membership in the San Jose Players, just as the actors will. In addition to these points, the work pays off in lots of fun and excitement, as any of the old-timers will tell you.

It's a great opportunity to help out others while helping yourself, so why not give it a try?

—Marion.

Please?

That saying about "fooling some of the people all of the time . . ." can also be applied to pleasing the people. It just isn't possible to please all of the people all of the time. This leads up to the matter of La Torre photographs.

Everyone has his favorite photographer, but under the system employed here we must all consent to having our yearbook pictures taken at the same place. Acknowledging this fact, it follows that griping in the presence of the persons running the studio will not accomplish any purpose and will only result in ill feeling and less cooperation.

Students in charge of this year's La Torre have been receiving unfavorable reports about the attitude of students having their pictures taken. Let's not be juvenile about this. Have your photo made and if you don't look like Lana Turner or Van Johnson in the finished product, consider the subject before insulting the photographer. War-time is a time for cooperation, so how about a little of that?

—Terese.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

BY WARREN BRADY

After being held to a scoreless tie in the first half, the strong Spartan grid machine powered its way to a 15-0 win over the stubborn Willamette eleven last Friday night up in Salem, Oregon.

Sparked by a field goal in the third quarter by Kenny Cook, the Spartans went on to score twice after long drives. Shortly after Cook's twenty-eight-yard angle boot the Spartans marched sixty yards to their first touchdown. Costello and Zimmerman alternated in carrying the load, Zimmerman finally going over from three yards out.

The final score came in the fourth quarter after Joe Rishwain, Spartan quarterback intercepted a Bearcat pass and returned it to the enemy thirty-four yard line. Herm Zetterquist and Hubbell carried it for two, from which point Hubbell drove over.

Allen, Johnson, Tornell, Titchenal, and Cook were the line standouts, while Zimmerman, Costello, Hubbell, Rishwain, Minter, and Zetterquist all played outstanding ball in the backfield.

This was San Jose State's ninth straight football victory, and enthusiastic supporters look for the tenth in a row next week when the "Fighting Spartans" meet Redlands University.

Coach Hovey McDonald's Spartan Soccer eleven made it five wins in a row Saturday when they defeated San Mateo J. C. 4-1. The victory places San Jose on top of the conference list with five wins and one loss. Fahn, Hodgson, Rochi, and O'Conner were outstanding for State.

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By Dr. T. W. MACQUARRIE
President, San Jose State College

Many thanks, folks—faculty, students and everybody. You did a fine job on that Community and War Chest. I am proud of you, proud of your generosity, of your public spirit.

Our budget was too big, but we almost made it. With a student body of less than two thousand and college employees much less than in recent years, we contributed twice as much as we did at our peak when we had over four thousand students and 230 in the faculty.

In behalf of all the people who will be helped, the little children, prisoners of war, boy scouts and many others, I thank you. (I shall try not to say another word about money all year.)

Dear me, and now comes that freshman class after it's all over and hands in $245—just for fun. Took up a collection of loose change, mind you, and they got that amount. Hated to see the old college fail in a responsibility even if it was unreasonable.

But what a surprise, what a delightful and pleasant and helpful surprise! Made us feel that the world wasn't quite going to the dogs after all.

Must be some good people in that class, good quality, good spirit. Every little while one like that turns up. They show their stuff as freshmen and usually grow stronger and stronger until they graduate as a class we long remember. Thanks, freshmen, congratulations and good luck.

NOTICE

Students submitting servicemen's addresses for the Spartan Daily mailing list are requested to make their writing clear and readable in order to avoid confusion or mistakes.

Also, when changes of addresses are reported, the old address should be included along with the new one, so as to facilitate the correction in the master copy.

FLOTSAM

By GLORIA TERESI

Into everyone's life, a little rain must fall, and along with the rain this time, came the sword (as in "the sword has fallen") when we not only were assured that we have a reader, but also that said reader is a man after our own hearts (with a knife).

Our first fan letter arrived today and we print it in its entirety just to show that we aren't too bright. It flatters us as follows:

"I suggest that your dual purpose Day Editor and Feature Editor be allowed to change her major, thus allowing obviously misguided potentialities to be drained into another less fertile field of endeavor.

"Webster (Note: Dave or Noah?) define "Flotsam" as pertaining to goods from a shipwreck, found floating. Well, from the apparent uncharted trend of superfluous bandying of ungrammatical phrases, such as constituted above named parties' Friday column; it made but for incongruent and meaningless reading.

"So, I suggest that your questionably chosen columnists refrain from seeking revenge upon their benefactors on our behalf. If for no other reason than to conserve paper, let's have no more. Please.

"If Dave were to glance through Field and Stream, Electrical Contracting, Art and Architecture, Infantry Journal, Fortune, and Esquire, his contribution would embody more substantiating knowledge and interest!

"The spirit in which this is received will be reflected in your reaction."

Thanking you,
Jonathan (No. 343)

"P. S.: We patiently await your reply!"

The "spirit in which this was received" was low. We cried our eyes out, tied a typewriter around our necks and attempted to leap from the Pub office roof, only to be restrained by our misguided editor. Really, Jonathan, you hurt us to the quick. You think that our column made for "incongruent and meaningless reading;" brother, we don't want to be rude, but after fighting our way through those little paragraphs you turned out, we are willing to call it a tie.

Reading the title of our column is warning enough what to expect in it. We are fully aware of the meaning of the word, Flotsam, and live up to it, so you read at your own risk.

Your suggestion that we change our major, was received, given due consideration, and discarded. You see, it is a little difficult for seniors to change their major and expect to graduate. This we expect to do, regardless of your opinions to the contrary. We do not turn out the column merely from a perverted desire to inflict torture on humanity; we are told what to do and we do it. If you don't like it, we're sorry, and that is about the best we can do for you. Suicide just doesn't have any future in it, and, although we would like to oblige you, I think that that would be carrying that "greater love hath no man . . ." business too far.

As far the reading list you were so generous as to supply, Esquire we have read. ("Read" we say laughingly.) However, referring to the title of the "literary gem" in question, "substantiating knowledge and interest" are hardly the qualities to be expected in such a column.

We want to thank you (it says right here) for your opinion, and are glad to know that someone is reading our work. However, if our efforts disturb you sufficiently to bring down your wrath upon our heads in such manner, we sincerely hope that you will either reconcile yourself to our inanities, or refrain from reading them.

At least refrain from informing us of your ideas on the subject. We are the sensitive type and crying all night makes our eyes red. We aim to please, but when we fail, evidently you just aim. Lay that pistol down, boy, murder is illegal, we hope you know!

BEHIND THE SCENES

out going out of my 'age bracket'!"

A member of Palo Alto High school's Thesplan club, Ed took part in many productions. The absenteeism of his mind concerning things of importance to his dramatics teachers, left one of them frequently tearing her hair. This happened once after he'd had his own thoroughly shorn in a crew haircut two weeks before he was to play a distinguished "older man."

Strictly amateur, Ed wants to stay that way when it comes to acting. He is interested in radio, however. Indeed, when KSJS, State's radio club, produced weekly programs for KQW, he tried out for everything and "occasionally got a part."

"I read a lot of poetry over the air, though," he says, "but I don't like reading poetry."

He feels that acting should be treated like any business; here is one young actor who has realized that show business is not all glamour.

It was about this time that we manufactured the paper hat and sent Ed off to catch his bus.

CALIFORNIA COLLEGES PLANNING POST-WAR COURSES IN AVIATION

in the recent post-war survey indicated they were planning post-war aeronautical curricula:

Chapman college, Whittier; University of Santa Clara, Santa Clara; San Bernardino Valley Junior college, San Bernardino; Los Angeles City college, Los Angeles; Compton Junior college, Compton; Humboldt State college, Arcata; California School of Mechanical Arts, San Francisco; San Mateo Junior college, San Mateo; Armstrong college, Berkeley; Marin Junior college, Kentfield; Grant Union Junior college, North Sacramento; Amerivet Memorial Institute, Atascadero; Modesto Junior college, Modesto; San Benito County Junior college, Hollister; California Polytechnic School, San Luis Obispo; Loyola university, Los Angeles; Stockton Junior college, Stockton; San Francisco State college, San Francisco; University of Redlands, Redlands; San Francisco Junior college, San Francisco; Bakersfield; Fullerton District Junior college, Fullerton; Riverside Junior college, Riverside; Fresno State college, Fresno; Pasadena Junior college, Pasadena; Glendale Junior college, Glendale; Sacramento Junior College, Sacramento; Santa Maria Junior college; Santa Maria; Trade Extension Evening School, Long Beach; San Jose State college, San Jose; Santa Ana Junior college, Santa Ana; University of California, Los Angeles; Chaffey college, Ontario; California Institute of Technology, Pasadena; and Stanford University, Palo Alto.

In common with most of the other 455 American schools and colleges which responded to the company's survey, the California schools said they would require for teaching purposes large quantities of the government-owned aircraft equipment, which will be declared surplus after the war.

A total of 342 schools in their replies stressed the need for supplying to the nation's colleges at low cost quantities of surplus useable aircraft and equipment, as a fundamental contribution to future continuous development of aviation education, it was pointed out.

This equipment will be made available to the nation's schools on a sale or lease basis, under provisions of the federal Surplus Disposal law, Breech stated.

Replies to the Bendix survey to date reveal that at least 307 colleges have specific plans for teaching some aspects of aviation after the war, according to Breech, who headed the surplus aircraft disposal committee of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

The survey further disclosed that 212 schools already offering aviation curricula plan to continue or expand, and that 95 schools which do not teach aeronautics at present are definitely interested in or planning to establish post-war courses, Breech stated.

XMAS SEALS ON SALE NOV. 7

Arriving in the office of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis association, nine million Christmas seals will go on sale November 27, according to an announcement from Dr. Charles L. Ianne, president of the association.

The Christmas seal sale, which is the thirty-eighth in the history of the National Tuberculosis association, is the sole source of funds for the support of the program of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis association. The organization is now actively engaged in large scale chest X-ray surveys for the detection of hidden and early cases of tuberculosis.

Since the purchase last August of the modern chest X-ray mobile unit, the association has taken over 7000 X-rays in all parts of the county, in its search for this insidious disease.

The X-raying of 950 entering students at San Jose State was completed recently.

SPARTANS IN THE SERVICE

By ED MARION

We have lots of letters today, a news release or two, and some assorted decorations. First things first, so we'll lead off with the dispatch that Captain Walter B. Nasif, of Sunnyvale, SJS graduate, has been awarded the third oak leaf cluster to his air medal. Captain Nasif is lead navigator in a B-24 bombardment group in the 15th Air Force. His outfit has been stationed in Italy for nine months and has flown more than 115 missions over Germany, Italy, and the Balkans.

NEWS RELEASES

Dispatches from public relations at the Lakeland Army Air Field, Florida, reveal that Pfc. Harvey B. Willis of Palo Alto has been awarded the expert's medal for marksmanship with the sub-machine gun.

Marine Second Lieut. Evan D. Jelcick has been graduated from the chemical warfare class at the Marine Corps base at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. While a student here, he was a member of the football, basketball, and boxing teams.

Lt. Vernon C. Silver of Hayward, '41 graduate, was one of the graduates of the AAF Navigation School at San Marcos, Texas, on October 21.

Marine Pfc. Harry C. Radiker, after serving 27 months in the Central Pacific, notably at Saipan and Tinian, has been returned to the United States. He is now in San Diego awaiting reclassification and a furlough. Pfc. Radiker holds two presidential unit citations and the Purple Heart Medal.

Marine 2nd Lt. Robert H. Taylor, former basketball and baseball player here at State, is serving as an instructor at the Infantry Training Regiment at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. He was a Phi Epsilon Kappa prior to his enlistment in November, 1942.

LETTERS

"Don't know exactly who to address this to, so I'll just say, 'Hello, everybody.'"

"... I've been over here 4 months... (and) fly cargo, mail, passengers, and prisoners from Australia to New Guinea—not too exciting, but interesting, and we see a lot of places.

"This is just a note—so please send the Daily and say hello to the few guys and gals who are around and remember the old days."

Sincerely,
(Lt.) Doran Nielsen

Recently we received, through the office of the dean of women, excerpts from a letter written by Barbara Fulton, 1943 graduate. Miss Fulton took a graduate year at U. C. before joining the WAVES. She is now stationed at Hunter College in New York, and says in part:

"There are several girls here from State. I talked to Jo Falcone several times. She was almost through before I got here. Alberta Mumby is in the senior regiment, and Jean Wilson, Rosalie Jacobsen, and Virginia Simpson came on the train with us. I was surprised that there were so many girls from college in training. Many could have been officers if they had gone in a year ago. Of course, there are many, too, who have never finished high school. On the whole, most of the girls are very nice."

"Hello from Italy! Yes, I'm finally overseas now and conditions are pretty good. Italy is mighty interesting and I'm having a fine time. A real big experience!

"The natives are very dirty and squalid conditions prevail. Cigarettes seem more in demand than money—they really like American cigarettes.

"As you know, this is a primitive native economy. Mostly agricultural. The main mode of travel is horse and cart—two wheel wagons with large wheels and small horses—almost like ponies—which are very strong.

"I plan to visit Rome when I can and see other sights of the country. . . ."

Al Gross just sent us a letter with an enclosure on Ens. Orren H. Turner. The enclosure states that Turner has been awarded the Navy and Marine Corps medal for distinguished heroism at the Anzio beachhead.

"While attached to an LST, Ens. Turner was instrumental in saving several lives when a boat load of troops were thrown into the sea during the landing."

THROUGH OTHER EYES

By DAVE WEBSTER

With no apologies for "Jetsam," and as few regrets for a column that promised to give us many a bad time before deadline, we are going to take off on a new venture.

On the editor's desk is a whole stack of papers sent to us from Kodiak, South Bend, Cape Town and various and sundry other more or less well known places. Now some of these journals have on their staffs people who either have a streak of originality or else do their scrounging in places we never thought of. We have been assigned the enviable task of putting our size six E's on a table and scrutinizing a few score of these samples of journalistic art each week with the avowed intent and purpose of lifting a few of the more choice items for the edification and/or enjoyment of Spartan Daily readers.

Take this little item, for instance, which we picked up right at home, so to speak, for it was lying around the Globe office, with appropriate pictures.

Have a Coca-Cola = So glad you're back

...or offering a soldier the comforts of home

HOME! No place like it. And nobody knows it better than a fighting man back on furlough. Ice-cold Coca-Cola is one of the comforts of home that belongs in your family refrigerator. At the words "Have a 'Coke'", refreshment joins the party. The good old American custom of the pause that refreshes is spreading in many lands around the globe,—a symbol of our friendly home-ways.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".
