NEW "DATE BOOK" RULES ANNOUNCED

Acting yesterday to relieve a confused social situation on campus, the Student Council released nine rules regulating the Date book. Long a sore point with class groups, clubs and organizations, there has been little order in operation of the social register. Tommy Wall, ASB president, said yesterday that the new rules are expected to eliminate confusion regarding the dates of on-campus social functions.

The Date book is located in the Dean of Women's office and all social functions must be recorded in that book, he added.

Following are the rules:

1. When signing for a date in the Date book, either the person in charge of the function or the president of the organization shall sign.

2. Two tentative dates may be put in the Date book, but one must be crossed off two weeks before the earliest tentative date. All dates must be in at least one week in advance of the function.

3. A definite date for an open function will have priority over any tentative date for an open function.

4. All definite dates must be written in red pencil with the following data: Name of organization, name of president, name of function, time, place, whether open or invitational, and the date entered.

(a) An open function shall be defined as a function open to the student body.

(b) An invitational function shall be defined as a function whose attendance is limited to organization members and guests.

(c) Any invitational function having an attendance of 200 or more students shall have the status of an open function.

5. Open functions: A release must be secured from an organization by another if the first organization has a priority in the Date book unless the events are totally dissimilar. Attendance at one will not affect attendance at the other.

6. Invitational functions: Releases need not be secured from or by organizations holding closed functions.

7. Since the Men's P. E. department's schedule affects the majority of the ASB, they shall have Date book priority on all major sports.

8. Any controversies will be handled by the Student Council.

9. Any violations of the regulations will be referred to the Student Court.

FAMILIES SET FIRST MEETING

Spartan city families will hold the first general meeting of the year tonight at 8:45 in the Tennis house. The city committee has expressed the wish that all Spartan families interested attend.

Success during the year is dependent upon the participation of as many Spartans as possible, it was pointed out. Volunteers are needed to help with various activities.

Four projects are scheduled with three under way and the playground set to start in the near future. Child Health conference, Social club and Adult classes are expected to draw record participation this year.

Each of the undertakings will be discussed fully at the meeting. The call is out for aid and ideas that will make Spartan City a better community.

PREXY TO WELCOME SJ TEACHERS TODAY

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie will welcome teachers in the San Jose area this afternoon to the annual faculty tea at 4 p.m. in room 155, according to Mrs. Lorraine B. Patterson, education office secretary.

All elementary and kindergarten teachers in San Jose who handle student teachers are invited to the annual affair, explained Mrs. Patterson.

RALLY WILL SHOW TEAM

Bill Hubbard and the football team will participate in a rally to be held tonight at 7:30 in the Morris Dalley auditorium, according to Ed Mosher, chairman of the entertainment sub-committee of the Rally committee.

This rally will be quite unusual, being in the form of a broadcast of the game. Roy Bertorelli will be the master of ceremonies for the affair. The song girls and yell leaders will take a part in this novel event also.

Al Raffaelli expects approximately 650 students to attend the game Saturday. He will make a special announcement concerning the Car Caravan at the rally.

COOP MAIL HELD WEEK

Students who have mail in the Coop mail box must call for it within a week or it is collected and forwarded to the return address, according to Mrs. Edith C. Huber, information office secretary.

About fifteen letters are picked up each day and returned to the sender. Many of these appear to be personal correspondence, Mrs. Huber added.

No veterans' checks are placed in the Coop mail box. All veterans' checks go to the Veterans' office, Mrs. Huber concluded.

FRAT INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

Chi Pi Sigma, police fraternity, held an inaugural dinner last night to install new officers, reported Norman Ansley, press representative.

Taking office are: Harry Carlsen, president; Chester Miller, vice president; Stanley Lobodinski, secretary; Bert McCarty, treasurer; James Van Maren, historian; and Norman Ansley, publicity agent.

President Carlsen outlined the plans for the coming year for the fraternity. Included were the sponsoring of a bus trip to the Cal Poly football game Saturday night, dances, beach parties, and barbecues when the weather permits.

Chi Pi will have judo team matches with other schools. The team will represent SJS officially. The fraternity will enter intramural teams in wrestling, boxing, basketball, and the Spartan Daily Softball league.

Spardi Gras plans are also to be formulated.

Establishment of trophies for outstanding marksmen and judo men within the Police school was announced.

STUDENTS AIR SERIAL DRAMA

"Mexico Was Never Like This," an adventure serial, was aired over radio KEEN last night, according to speech major Bob Barmettler.

The program is produced by a group of San Jose State college students who go by the name of "The Wanderlust Players." They are Ann Jane Hoffling, Gayle Maphet, Jim Jacobs, and Bob Barmettler, all of whom are speech majors. The program is directed by Ivan Van Pere, also a speech major of San Jose State college.

The program centers about two college co-eds who are traveling in Mexico seeking adventure, said Barmettler. While touring the latin country, they meet two college males who are also looking for adventure.

EXAM OFFER FOR LIBRARY POSITIONS

An examination for librarians is being offered by the United States Civil Service commission to fill positions, paying $2974 a year, located in Washington, D. C., and vicinity.

Competitors for the librarian jobs must pass a written test in addition to complying with the following qualifications. They must (a) have completed a full four-year college course including or supplemented by 30 semester hours in library science; or (b) have had professional library training in a library school plus either college study or practical experience; or (c) have had four years of successful and progressive experience in this line of work; or (d) have had any combination of the requirements given in a, b, and c.

Applications will be open to students who expect to complete the required courses within four months after filing application.

Persons interested in these examinations may obtain additional information and application forms at any first or second-class post office, regional civil service office or from the Civil Service commission, Washington 25, D. C.

All applications should be sent to the commission's Washington office.

TO STUDENTS OF SAN JOSE:

Students of San Jose State may have some erroneous ideas about the Community Chest and the way the drive is being conducted on campus.

Every effort has been made to make this a quick, easy campaign for a very worthy cause.

Absolutely no credit is to be given to any individual, group, or party. The contributions will be turned in to the downtown office of the Community Chest in the name of San Jose State college.

The campus Chest committee feels that during this week of the drive organizations and groups should be bypassed—in name only.

Let's all work together —frats, sororities, clubs and individuals—to make this campaign go over the top.

Donations have been coming in slowly. Please give the solicitors a chance, hear them out, and then try to see your way clear to contribute.

We honestly want to close this campaign in one week. We sincerely hope that by Friday, San Jose State will have reached its goal—or better.

Remember, everybody benefits—everybody gives. Give for all, all you can.

Bill Logan and John Peterson, co-chairmen, Red Feather committee.

BOOK EXCHANGE CLOSES TUESDAY

Tuesday, Oct. 19, will be the last day the Student Book exchange will be open, according to Belmont Reid, Alpha Phi Omega treasurer. The exchange will be open from 11:30 until 1:30 on that day.

Those who have money or books due them are requested to call at the exchange in room 8 this week, if possible, or before the exchange closes.

SJ OFFICIAL RETURNS

Miss Doris Robinson, college placement director, arrived back in San Jose the first of the week after attending the five-day conference of Western Institutions Teachers Placement association in Long Beach.

Chief speaker at the conference was Dr. Aubrey Douglass of the State Department of Education, who, according to Miss Robinson, emphasized that the shortage of elementary teachers in the state is growing progressively worse. Miss Robinson backed this up by stating that during the past week she has received 20 requests for first grade teachers and was unable to fill any of them.

On the other hand, the demand for secondary teachers has slackened off tremendously, and Miss Robinson said that Douglass is of the opinion that some secondary fields such as men's physical education have an oversupply of candidates.

SENIOR COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

Senior council will meet today at 4:30 in room 117 to discuss further plans for next Thursday's "mixer" in the Student Union and complete arrangements for entertainment at the party, announced Virginia Luke and Shirley Hankins, co-chairmen for the dance.

Dancing, donuts, and drinks will be had at the "mixer," the seniors providing "cokes." Miss Hankins promises an evening of fun for seniors. "We want to get the senior class to start participating so our last year will be full of good times," she said.

Included on the dance committee are Co-chairmen Virginia Luke and Shirley Hankins, Katie Rinn and Sylvia Lipp, entertainment; and Dorothy Wagner and Peggy Allen, food.

REDS DEMAND DISMISSAL OF BERLIN TALKS IN U.N.

PARIS, Oct. 13 (UP)—Russia closed the door today against any early compromise on the Berlin crisis by demanding that the case be withdrawn from the United Nations Security Council as the first step toward any settlement.

Russia answered a compromise proposal which Juan A. Bramuglia, Security Council chairman, took to Andrei Vishinsky. Sources close to the Big Three said the Soviet answer was unsatisfactory.

PARIS (UP)—Thousands of dockhands joined more than 500,000 other essential French workers yesterday in strikes for more pay.

Ickes Says GOP Proposal "Steal"

WASHINGTON (UP)—Former Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes said yesterday that the Republican Party proposal to give oil-rich tidelands to the states would be history's greatest "steal from the people."

U. N. To Consider Truce Violations

PARIS (UP)—The Security Council will meet today to consider reported truce violations in Palestine.

ROYALTY TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Members of the International Relations club will have an opportunity to meet and hear a real count at their regular meeting next Monday evening at 7:30 in room 20, according to Dr. George G. Bruntz, the advisor to the club.

Count Francis Eugene of Kesselstatt, a member of the ruling family of Liechtenstein, the independent country between Switzerland and Austria, will speak to the club on his experience during World War II and the present European situation.

Count Eugene, who is related to the late Franz Joseph, last emperor of Austria-Hungary, lived most of his life in Western Germany near the Luxembourg border. When Hitler rose to power he left Germany and went to Liechtenstein. Hitler ordered him and his mother, the princess of Liechtenstein, to return to Germany or lose their estate. They returned and lived in Germany under diplomatic immunity throughout the war.

Because of his diplomatic immunity, the count was able to travel all over Europe during the war. He was in Vienna when the Russians entered, and fled from Austria in a truck.

Educated in Switzerland and at the Sorbonne in Paris, Count Eugene speaks a number of languages, including English. The meeting will be open to the public.

MURCHISON HERE MONDAY FOR VETS

California veterans should know that Mr. Murchison, California veterans' representative, will be on campus Monday, Oct. 18, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in room 32, informed Mrs. Jensen of the Veterans' office.

SINCO AND HAEHL PUT FINISHING TOUCHES ON "KING LEAR" COSTUMES

By JIM CAPUTO

The creative and nimble fingers of Miss Madeleine Sinco and Mr. Chez Haebl, new costumiers for the Speech and Drama department have literally been working day and night with 400 yards of costume and drapery material in constructing 60 14th century English and French costumes for the forthcoming producing of "King Lear."

With the assistance of 19 students in each costume construction class, costumes are nearing completion for curtain time opening night, Oct. 28. Costumes are being made for the entire cast, with the exception of the chain-mail used for the soldiers. Charles Martinelli is costume manager.

Miss Sinco performed the ambitious task of designing the costumes, using historical source books for the basic designs. She comes to San Jose after teaching costuming for two years in the School of Theater, at the University of Denver. Prior to coming to San Jose, Miss Sinco traveled extensively through Montana, Penn., Maryland, and toured the South for six months with a USO troupe. Miss Sinco is a graduate of Penn. State college where she received her A.B. in French, Music, and English, and her M.A. in Theater and Dramatic Literature.

Now a colleague of Miss Sinco, Mr. Haebl was at one time a student of hers at the University of Denver, from where he was graduated with an A.B. in English, and M.A. in Theater and Dramatic Literature. Prior to serving three years in the Signal Corps attached to the Air Forces, Mr. Haebl taught English at Canterbury College, Indiana.

Both instructors have been working jointly on the construction of King Lear costumes for the past three weeks. However, Miss Sinco will design and construct all costumes for Little Theater productions, and Mr. Haebl will be responsible for Studio Theater plays.

With costumes of King Lear on hand, both instructors will be instrumental in enlarging the costume department of Speech and Drama, making available a large variety of modern and classical costumes for future theatrical productions.

TO KALON CLUB TO HEAR BRUNTZ

Dr. George G. Bruntz, of the Social Science department, is speaking to the To Kalon club of San Jose this afternoon at the San Jose Women's Club house. The subject of his talk is "The Berlin Crisis."

Dr. Bruntz will give the background of the issue and trace the attempts at settlement. He does not think that war will result since war is the last thing Stalin wants right now. Russia is simply stalling for time and will prolong the crisis as long as we let her stall. Dr. Bruntz hopes the United Nations will continue discussing the question so that Russia's stubbornness will come out in the open.

If the West resists Russia in Berlin some of her satellite powers

SJ STRESSES NEW NURSE TECHNIQUES

Modern trends of nursing have been stressed here since 1946 when San Jose State college developed a new nursing plan in co-ordination with local hospitals, said Miss Pauline Davis, director of the nursing course here. Those affiliated are Santa Clara County hospital and San Jose hospital, she affirmed.

Dr. J. C. Elder, dean of general education, worked for many years so that this plan of affiliation between the college and local hospitals could be possible. Miss Davis is director of nursing education and Mrs. Rizpah Lindstrom is instructor.

FOUR DIVISIONS

Four divisions of nursing education are offered. They are nursing, pre-nursing, graduate nurses completing degree requirements, and those completing degree requirements while in nursing. Affiliation with the college provides opportunity for the students to receive an Associate of Art diploma at the same time that they graduate from one of the hospitals. Pre-nursing students are given a one or two-year college preparation before entering other nursing schools.

16 PHYSICIANS LECTURE

Miss Davis mentioned that 16 local physicians give lectures in the medical and surgical fields. Dr. Dwight M. Bissell, city health officer, lectures on communicable diseases. Dr. W. E. Turner, county health officer, lectures for venereal diseases. Some other visiting instructors from the medical field are Dr. Fred Bordin, ear, nose, and throat; Dr. Merlin Maynard, dermatology; Dr. A. J. Monty, cardiology; Dr. Gabe Long, surgery, and Dr. George Waters, orthopedic surgery.

DIFFERS FROM OTHER PLANS

The plan of affiliation of the hospital with the college differs from other schools, she said, because classroom instruction is held at the college while the hospital stresses bedside nursing procedure and clinical experience.

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

That floor covering in the office is a rug, not a carpet. Come in and see me some time.

And that glass in the door; it's my way of trying to get acquainted with more of you. Used to be thick wood. Had a partition, too, but we took that all down and put a glass in the door so you could at least see in, even if you were too busy to come in.

I'll usually say "hello" to you first on the campus, but you do it first down town. I might make a mistake there.

We now have a good grounds organization. The lawns are looking better, and the hedges here and there are adding to the pleasure of all of us.

Yes, I know, we lost to Stanford and Nevada, but we have a good team just the same. We aren't out to lick the world. I wish all of you could know those football men. They are fine fellows, and the way they work for this college is a caution. A single one of their bumps would wreck most of us, but they take hundreds of them every week without comment.

We had trouble with the bells this summer. One of them went sour for a few days, and then stopped altogether. Had to turn them all off for more than a month. Sounded pretty good when they started up again.

The college has a new Mercury. Takes the place of the old, but faithful, Packard. I haven't wanted to drive the new car; I'd rather have someone else put the first dent in it.

Look out for your own property. In a group of this kind there will always be a few weak ones who are not above stealing from their fellows. If you find any lost property, please turn it in at the Information Office. And if you lose anything, you might inquire there. But if you just throw your money away, don't bother.

STATE CAMPERS TO RECONVENE

A reunion of those who attended this year's State Camp will be held this evening at 7:30 at the Student Union, it has been learned from Alice Clement, chairman of the group.

The purpose of the reunion will be to review the phases of student government which were discussed and the recommendations which were made at last summer's camp, Miss Clement said. Plans for next year's State camp will also come up for discussion.

"Evaluation of the work done at the 'camp' will be the topic, Miss Clement said, adding that the discussion will be under the leadership of Esther Weakley and Bob Keller, co-chairmen of the camp this summer.

Those attending are asked to bring their song books. Refresh-

First of seven weekly seminar sessions concerned with comparative religions, with discussions headed by prominent campus and community speakers, has been scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 19, according to Marie Herold, chairman of the committee sponsoring the event.

Discussion, which will take as its theme, "What Is Religion?" will be headed by Dr. Arturo B. Fallico of the college philosophy staff. Subsequent discussions will deal with other phases of comparative religion, Miss Herold said.

The seminar sessions are being sponsored as part of the off-campus discussion program of the Student Y, Miss Herold indicated.

FROSH TO ENCOUNTER CAL POLY GRIDDEERS SATURDAY NIGHT

By CLIFF DANIELS

With a wide open battle being fought for every position, the Spartan freshmen are laboring in preparation for their Saturday night football clash with Cal Poly. The Mustang frosh will move onto the Spartan Stadium turf as favorites to survive victorious because of their two outstanding triumphs already this season, according to Coach Tom Cureton.

As yet, Cureton has not announced his starting eleven because of the friendly rivalry for each spot. In discussing the ensuing contest, Cureton volunteered that the entire squad will probably see action before the game is concluded. Until after this encounter, the Spartans will be an unknown quantity.

Bob McBain and John Avila are the two most promising quarterbacks and will undoubtedly spend much time in the fray. "McBain passes well and is a fine ball handler in addition to being a good tackler and blocker," Cureton emphasized. "He has solved the quarterback problem. Avila, despite his smallness, is also a good passer.

SMALL BACKS

"We will have the smallest backfield in several years of frosh ball at San Jose State," the coach explained. "Our ball carriers will average only 165 pounds."

At right half, John Steele and Ray Taber are fighting for the nod, and Ted Weber and Tom Harney are vying for the fullback spot. Harney, who is recovering from an attack of chicken pox, may not see action.

Five gridders, all of whom are evenly matched, are competing for the left half position. Frank Buxton, Allan Chaboya, Earl Withrow, Cloy Stapleton, and Faus Smyth are all hoping for the starting call Saturday.

Jerry Gold, a promising center and line backer, was injured in Monday's session and may break into the game for a few minutes only. He was late in reporting for practice, and has not rounded into form. Behind Gold, Val Donaire will handle the center chore.

END CANDIDATES

Delmer Cross and Lou Agnelli are right end candidates, and on the opposite end of the line, Phil Sanders and Ed Wilkinson, the latter who is injured, are the most likely looking prospects.

Three right tacklers, Jim O'Connor, Hal McGill, and Al Marbury are engaged in a spirited bid for a starting birth, and either Roland Reed or Jack Aho will be stationed at left tackle.

Dale Fisher and Bill George have worked well at the left guard slots and either could be fielded for the opening gun. Right guards, Ludwig Spolyar and Frank Mareno, are both ready for competition.

Cal Poly is coached by Bob Steele, a San Jose State graduate and former Spartan football player. Steele has done wonders with the Mustang first year men, and brings an experienced and well coached team to San Jose.

Coach Tom Cureton and his assistants, Bob Cutler, Mel Frank, and Tom Lee, are not looking for a victory, but are hopeful that they can get a better line on their players during this inaugural.

Mustangs Point For Saturday Night Football Victory

Cal Poly's grid team is pointing toward their clash Saturday night with San Jose State as they probably never have for any game. After upsetting Fresno State 26-14 for their initial conference win since entering the CCAA conference last year, the Mustangs now hope to play the role of a real giant killer.

San Jose Track Coach Bud Winter scouted the Cal Poly-Fresno game and reports the Mustangs have a tough, alert, well coached, hard charging outfit. According to Winter, they outplayed the Bulldogs in every department of the game, and should have won by even a larger score.

Quarterback Al Gomes, who runs the team from the T-formation, was one of those who especially impressed Winter. Gomes looked terrific on punt runbacks, Winter said, and took one kick some 70 yards to a Mustang score. His ball handling was also tops, but he did very little passing.

Since Cal Poly often operates from a T where the ball is centered directly to a half or fullback, left half Vernon Bebernes does most of the pitching. He is also an excellent runner and coffin corner punter, as he proved against Fresno by booting four kicks out of bounds inside of the 10-yard line.

Jay Dee Phillips, 185-lb. fullback, also showed up well in the running department, according to Winter. Left end Charles Weber was especially sharp as a pass receiver, catching two touchdown passes and blocking a pair of kicks last Saturday.

Marshall Samuels, rugged 226-lb. right tackle, sparkled on defense, and piled up many Bulldog running plays, according to Winter.

"To love oneself is the beginning of a life-long romance."

"Choo Choo" Charlie Justice and his North Carolina Tar Heels rank today as the Nation's top football team. The Tar Heels, second last week to Notre Dame, topped the Irish by 20 points in this week's Coast-to-Coast poll of Associated Press sports writers.

Northwestern, Michigan, Army, California, Georgia Tech, Pennsylvania, Penn State, and Mississippi, in that order, complete the first ten.

The University of California tops the Pacific Coast. The AP has the Bears in sixth spot which seems about right in view of the Coast's miserable record against the Big Nine.

Probably the biggest surprise is the consideration given the supposedly toothless Clemson Tiger. Clemson, a small South Carolina school, is firmly entrenched in the fifteenth spot ahead of Georgia and Nevada. The poll ignores undefeated Detroit. The Titans who lead the nation in rushing last year, and conquered USF last week in a much more convincing fashion than the Wolfpack which ranks seventeenth are not rated.

Cornell, just about an even money bet with Harvard last week, is another surprise. The Big Red machine trounced Harvard 40-6 and moved into the thirteenth slot.

MUMBY SETS DEADLINE FOR NET TOURNNEY

The deadline for entry in the Autumn tennis championships to be held next week on the Spartan Field courts has been extended from Friday to Monday, Tournament Chairman Ted Mumby announced yesterday.

Competition will start Tuesday afternoon and is open to all students. The tournament will be divided into open, freshmen, and consolation divisions, and anyone eliminated in the first round of the open division will continue play in the freshmen or consolation brackets.

An entry fee of 75 cents will be charged to cover the cost of trophies which will be awarded to the finalists of each division. Entries may be made with Mumby in the Men's gym.

Bud Winter Desires Turkey Trot Runners To Sign Immediately

Coach "Bud" Winter asks that prospective "Turkey Trotters" sign up early to avoid the rush. He wants to remind the fraternities of the keen rivalry shown in past years in this event and asks organizations planning on entering a team to get a list of their entries into him as soon as possible. The event is slated for Tuesday, Nov. 23.

The cross country runners now in training and others who have had experience will be handicapped by scratch starts, therefore, the amateur will have a chance. Amateurs will be determined by Coach Winter and a committee. They will then be given starting positions ranging from several yards to several blocks ahead of the professionals, according to their respective abilities.

SPARTAN GRAD BUYS WEEKLY

Raymond Minners, SJSC graduate of '38, recently purchased an Oakley weekly newspaper.

Minners was editor of the Daily and Spartan Daily and later edited the Sonora Union-Democrat. He will be publisher and editor of his publication. Brother Cliff is a journalism major here.

A promotion to assistant editor was received by Margaret Moore, alumna of '47, who is working with Peninsula Life magazine in San Mateo.

Known as Maggie on campus, she was the first editor of Lycurgus, humor magazine.

Early June Date For Homecoming

The annual spring homecoming day of Spartan alumni has been set for June 4, 1949, according to Bob Schulenberg, '33, president of the San Jose State College Alumni association.

The event is designed to be held in conjunction with the California centennial celebration which will be held on campus at the same time, Schulenberg said.

'OPEN HOUSE' PLANS MADE BY MATH FRAT

An open house for all mathematics majors was planned for Oct. 25 by Gamma Pi Epsilon, mathematics fraternity, at a business meeting held Monday night. Halloween will be the theme of the open house, according to W. Howard Meyers, faculty adviser.

The organization also intends to organize a touch-tackle football team for the fall and winter quarters. Any math major who is interested in playing on the team is urged to contact Jack Barcelona through the mathematics office in room 119a.

PATRONS SPONSOR RUMMAGE SALE

To raise funds for its scholarship projects, the San Jose State College Patrons' association is planning to hold a rummage sale Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 18 and 19, at 53 S. Second street. In addition to a scholarship for freshmen students, the association is awarding a cash prize for creative work by a freshman student.

The Patrons' association is the college unit of the PTA and membership is open to parents of SJS students and to members of the faculty. Instructors and students are asked to contribute articles for the rummage sale, which may be left at 92 S. Fifth street, at the northeast corner of Fifth and San Fernando.

DANCE HONORS FUTURE VARSITY

Head Coach Tom Cureton of the freshman team announced that the members of his freshman football squad will be present at "Put Poly in the Barn" dance Friday in the men's gymnasium.

Although Cureton will not be able to attend, Line Coach Mel Frank will be on hand to introduce the future varsity. Cureton was pleased that his team would be honored at the dance and expressed regret that he would not be able to attend.

Gale Morelock, chairman of the decoration committee, said all decorations such as corn stalks and hay would be protected against fire, conforming to law.

New SJS Group

Channing club, a national organization sponsored by the Unitarian church, has been formed on the campus for the first time this fall, according to Jim Karmie, publicity chairman.

The club meets every Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Unitarian church, 160 N. Third street. It is now holding discussions on the four major parties. Moderator is the Rev. Nathaniel Lauriat.

SKEPTICS TO AIR VIEWS TONIGHT

All skeptics are invited to discuss the topic, "Why Religion Doesn't Work" with a professional debunker of that theory at tonight's session at the Student Y, according to Kay Sullivan, chairman of the group.

Rev. Howard Scholton will attempt to at least modify the opinions of the doubters at this evening's session, according to Miss Sullivan, which will convene at the Student Y lounge, 220 S. Seventh street, at 7:30.

All members of the student body are invited to attend, Miss Sullivan added.

CSTA Plans Party Next Monday Eve

Plans are well under way for the CSTA party to be held Monday night, Oct. 18, at 8 o'clock, in the Student Union.

One purpose of the party is to acquaint new students with the various educational organizations. Officers of each organization will discuss how prospective teachers may qualify for membership, according to President Dick Bortels.

All education majors are urged to attend.

ART DIRECTOR AIDS IN RESCUE

Quick action on the part of Dr. Marques Reitzel substantially aided the rescue of two men from the icy waters near Half Moon Bay last week end.

The art director sounded the alarm when some of his Pescadero art student heard the cries of three men after their small boat capsized a half mile off Pidgeon point.

"It was terrible to stand helplessly by and watch those men being carried out to sea," Reitzel related. "An hour and a half elapsed between the time I notified the authorities and two of the three men were rescued," he said. "They were lucky that only one man drowned in the heavy sea."

Reitzel observed that the waters in that area are popular with fishermen and lamented the fact that help from the Coast Guard must come from Santa Cruz, 30 miles distant.

Teacher Trainees Set Party Monday

All prospective teachers are invited to a get-together party in the Student Union Monday, Oct. 18, at 8 p.m., according to Winifred Dias, chairman.

GOVT. OFFERS ENGINEER EXAM

An examination for filling engineer positions at the P-1 grade ($2974 a year) in Washington, D. C., and vicinity, has been announced by the U.S. Civil Service commission.

No written test is required of competitors in the examination. To qualify, applicants must (1) have completed 4 years of college, or (2) have had 4 years of progressive experience in technical engineering, or (3) a combination of both. Applicants will be accepted from students who expect to complete their college courses within six months of the date of filing applications.

Information and application forms may be obtained from the U.S. Civil Service commission, Washington, D. C. Applications should be sent to the commission's Washington office. They will be accepted until further notice.
