President Extends Holiday Greetings

How these quarters do roll! We barely got started in the fall, and now it's Christmas again.

But I like the quarter system. It allows us to enjoy the Christmas season in our minds—except possibly for students who have to work. It's always another quarter, and we can look forward to something new for most of us.

It has been a great quarter. Lots of fine achievement—good music, art, special publications, and even athletics! Always a busy season. Something flowing different all the time. Many nights there were several programs going on at the same time.

I thought the Daily was pretty weak today, but I read a lot of college papers lately, and quite a number of them were up to the best of me. I was on the U.C. campus last Friday when the Trojan came out. It was big news. They were good and funny, but that's funny.

So Merry Christmas, folks. If your grades are good, just be glad. If they aren't, make some unbreakable resolutions. Good luck.

A NOTE FOR CHRISTMAS
It's here again. That merry season of mistletoe and holy holly:
- wearing of green and white, and snowman-buildings.
- carols and bowls of egg nog; that night when the never-ending gentleness of the long white whiskers paints his reindeer on the walls.
- an all too short period in the year when the human race attempts to lay down its arms and enmass to sing "Peace on earth, Good will toward men.
- Of course, end: Christmas festivities and the "shopping" begins once more. Could man but get together during this entire year, as he does during the short burst of Christmas, needless to say, it would be a half bad world to live in.
- Business man throughout the country, the original-religious motif of Christmas has been completely done away with, replaced with a motif based on-commercialism. The Yuletide to department store owners, or to the thousands of clothing, jewelry, and gift store operators is merely a period of greatly increased selling. Whether a Christmas is good or poor depends on the amount of merchandise sold.
- True, merchants do help the various communities get into the spirit of the season by brightly decorating their store windows and purchasing strings of gaily colored lights to thread across main streets.
- With towering, unfriendly trees and snow heaped on either side, I strode among the tall trees and enjoyed your company. You were the light that made the long walk brighter, and I gloried in your rays. I'm talking about the old, but oh so important gripes about student body cards. We'll continue to lend our student body cards and repulsively to our biddies, I'm a veteran, so I don't have to buy a card. I get it under my GI Bill, but I have a few friends who are working their way through college (it's being done, you know) and cannot afford to buy tickets to the games or bids to the dances.

EATEN WATTLE by Dan Weck
Spartan Daily Poet Laureate

There are no laughing friends
I walked down the silent, empty street
I walked alone -- contented, confident.
And gloom and darkness were all around me. And I had built around me. And I fostered that light.
And as we walked, the sunlight came. It is easier to stay out than get in.

Miss I. Walters Is Honored Queen

Miss Ira Walters will be installed as honored queen of the San Jose Chapter of Alpha Sigma Theta Saturday night. She will assume duties of the past honored queen, Miss Pat Ralston. Both Miss Walters and Miss Ralston are students here.

A MODERN GIRL AT CHRISTMAS
By ROYCE ROOT
Mary sighed as she hung the little 9¢ a scoop Nyloons on the mantel of the artificial fire-place in her small apartment. She hoped Santa Claus would be careful not to snag the snag as he put in the various and sundry bracelets, rings, and fur coals which she had listed in her annual letter to him.

Just Another Night
She yawned as she crawled into her bed. Just another night like all the rest. As she relaxed her eyes closed tighter and she was asleep.

She saw dozens of Nyloons hang- ing down on mantles. Christ- mas trees were hanging from the ceiling and sprouting from the floor. Then she saw Santa Claus in his red suit with the fur trim. He was not fat and jolly and red faced. He was a handsome young man.

Mary awoke with a start.

What a dream! She laughed, and then realized the man's face had seemed familiar. Yes, it was the bachelor next door whom she had glimpsed once or twice. Strange that she should dream of him, she thought.

The sun was beginning to beam through her window as she got up, yawed, stretched, and strolled to her window to look at her Nyloons. They were no snag. There were no rings, bracelets, or fur either. She was not ready and the nymph, for so the cat had thusly shoved under the door.

Invitation To Dinner
She picked it up and hurriedly tore it open. It read, "I'm all alone this Christmas, too. Will you join me for dinner? Your neighbor, M. Dodd.

Mary rushed to get dressed and carefully put her Nyloons and her lace. Who could ask for a better Christmas present than din- ner with a handsome man? Yes, Mary was a modern girl.

She ran and I'll redirect my letters. You're for me for dinner!" Your neighbor, M. Dodd.

In intermountain events, the Fly- swatters were the cream of the crop in the WAA softball tournament.

Theta Chi, winner of the inter- softball league, lost to the champs of the Spartan Daily league, the Ridgemoers, in the campus championship playoff.

Several polls of student opin- ion were taken during the year by the Spartan Daily, the results of which indicated, among other things, (1) the Republic- ans should have won the elec- tions, (2) Governor Warren should have been elected presi- dent, (3) 48 per cent of SJS students cheat on examinations and (4) — is a good thing.

Student government was active in 1949. Early in the year the student council passed an act banning smoking in the Student Union and cooking at games.

The sophomore class, with other organizations and individuals, immediately went on record as opposing the ban. ASB President Emmerson, Arena defended the council after a petition had been presented.

President T. W. Mac- Quarters was asked to renew the ban, however, and this was done. Dr. MacQuarters' request was "in the interest of good housekeeping."

Later the student body voted to allow smoking in the Student Union.

A similar situation arose in No- vember when the Student Union Student Council outlawed card playing in the Student Union.

A petition against the ban was signed and presented to the stu- dent Council along with a request for an injunction against the board's action. The injunction was denied and the petition was found to be not valid because of the autonomy of the Student Union board. As a result, the sit- uation is being studied.

Electoral Manipulation

On February 15 it was an- nounced that Sai Milian had won the senior class presidency. The next day it was revealed that the这种事情 ORIGINALS have been made and could not be verified. It was finally agreed by all concerned that the trip should be made. Only 85 signed up for the trip, however, so buses were substi- tuted.

Of three Washington Q Squares candidates for public office only one, Dr. Earl C. Campbell, was successful. He was elected to the County Board of Supervisors. Ban- ning, Coach Dewitt Portal failed to get elected to the Board, to Harold Seyforth, senior psychol- ogy major, to the State Assembly.

Royal titles were bestowed upon Joanne Thorleit, Sparkle Gross queen, Gayle Street, Homecoming queen, and Princess Barbara Jeanne Sprowl, winning entrant in the first baby of the year contest. Apparently nobody noticed that the "1949-1950 Joe game" plan was missing from the Student Union. After much speculation as to its whereabouts, it suddenly reappeared on the Union wall as mysteriously as it had vanished.

The Speech and Drama depart- ment has been acclaimed for an outstanding year of productions. The major plays in the order of their presentation were: "Uncle Harry," with James Forster in the title role; "Medea," starring Donald Leeberg, John Modick, and John Coldwater; "Amoeba," with the Lion," with Cliff Rothe playing the parts of Socrates and Don Smith as the walking lion; "Robin Hood," starring Harold Neary; "Seven Keys to Baldpate," featuring Bob Rorshcutter, "King Lear," with Dr. James Clancy portraying Lear, and "The Late Christopher Bean," headlining Evelyn Mc- Curdy.

Other major productions pre- sented on campus were the sen- ior play show "Sieverganes" and "Revelers' "Ey Powell," starring Ann Heffin and Chuck Murphy.

Tragedy struck on October 14 when Claudine Swanson was critically injured when shot by a kidnap-rapist. At last report, the culprit was still at large and Claudine was recuperating at her home in San Francisco.
Freshmen Planning Dance Schedule For Winter Quarter

The freshman class is planning a dance to be held Winter quarter, according to co-chairman of the publicity committee, Jack Schroeder and Bud Singer.

According to Schroeder, the dance will be held February 19, 1949, but he said that details of the dance are not yet complete enough to be released.

Chairman of the dance is John Steele, freshman vice-president, according to Schroeder. Committee heads are: Decorations, Dick Keeley and Carol Halley; Refreshments, Carol Hammond and Betty Ishimatsu; Entertainment, Bill Severs and Jerry Lopez; Bids, Margaret Murphy.

Foreign Students Hold First Meeting To Organize Spartans From Other Lands

A small group of San Jose State college students from foreign countries met at the home of Janet Anderson, 300 S. Fifth Street, recently to organize a Foreign Student club, according to newly-elected Chairman Alice Samson.

The following officers were elected: Ruth Bryce and Joe Gatz, publicity; Riet Vremaat, recording secretary; Manoah Kaye, Tia van der Wal, Conrado Lepke, and Nick Mooneyzer, program committee.

On Dec. 8 the club met at the Student Y lounge, and students from the following countries were present: Italy, Holland, Iran, Greece, China, Philippines, Denmark, France and America.

At each meeting informative discussions will be held on different countries represented by students. Miss Samson declared.

The next meeting, Jan. 5, 1949, will be held in the Student Union at 7:30 p.m. Francis Fu tse Huang will discuss and show movies of China, she said.

"Approximately forty students from foreign countries attend State. We would like all of them to come to the meetings," Miss Samson said. "All other students interested in learning about their foreign friends are also invited to attend," she concluded.

Spartans To Meet Brigham Young And Utah State In Utah

By CLIFF DANIELS
San Jose State college cagers, who will soon be Rocky Mountain travelers, will play in Utah, Two games are slated for Provo with Brigham Young university on Dec. 17 and 18, and two more are on tap with Utah State university on Dec. 20 and 21.

The Spartans have played six games this season, and hold wins over the Yachts, 55 to 40; Davie Chevrolet, 63 to 81; and Chico State college, 58 to 32. During the same period, the Aggies were beaten by the University of San Francisco, 60 to 69; San Francisco 49ers, 61 to 52; and San Francisco State, 56 to 50.

In Provo, the locals will perform against a Cougar five which won the Rocky Mountain conference championship last year. Coach Floyd Millet's men are paced by Forward Joe Nelson, who scored 368 points last year, 203

Conference side is starting his second campaign as a ball leader. The Cougars have been defeated by Oregon State, Brigham Young made a trip to Idaho, Montana university and Idaho State, and in addition has scored 12 points. A game was high for the circuit, and scored 368 points last year, 203.

Revelries To Cast Next Term," Says Professor Bishop

Casting for "How's It Goin'?," the 1946 production of the college musical revue, will begin next quarter, according to Director Ray Bishop.

"We are waiting until next quarter," Bishop said, "because we feel that there may be new talent available in both new-comers to San Jose State college, and students whose academic load will be less than was this quarter."

Bishop stated that there has been a great turn-out for auditions, and that there still are several parts that must be filled.

Revelries of 1945 will be a satire on college life, and especially life at San Jose State college, according to Bishop, and will be presented as a musical revue.

Bishop stated that the script for the show is almost complete, and that the staff of Revelries will have concrete material to work with next quarter.

All music for the show, story ideas and sequences, and all original work on the production has been done by students, Bishop said.

"The staff has done a good job thus far," Bishop explained, "and I feel sure they will continue to do as fine a job next quarter."

Revelries staff executives are: Ray Bishop, director; Nick Luckwar, assistant director; Tommy Buehring, dance chairman. Revelries staff executives are: Ray Bishop, director; Nick Luckwar, assistant director; Tommy Buehring, dance chairman; and Vern Baker, publicity director.

March 5 has been set as the date for the Junior Prom, according to George Buehring, dance chairman.

"The theme will be "Leslie du Soir," meaning "evening garden,"" said Buehring, "because we are trying to get one of the bigger names."

Carl Ketchum has been appointed to handle kids, and Roy Baker will be in charge of publicity.

Amer. Chem. Society To Hear Colorado Professor Dec. 20

Dr. Joseph D. Park, chemistry professor at University of Colorado, will speak at a special meeting of the San Jose division of the American Chemical Society to be held at 8 p.m. Dec. 20 in room 112 of the science building.

Dr. Park's subject will be "Recent Advances in Fluorine Chemistry."

He is the author of papers and patents dealing with the synthesis and properties of organic fluorine compounds, and will discuss recent developments in fluoine chemistry both in general and with respect to his own research.

Dr. Benjamin Naylor, chairman, and Dr. Gertrude Cavins, secretary-treasurer, both of the college science department, are the temporary officers of the San Jose division.

Roberts N.Y. Bound

Paul Roberts, instructor of English, and Mrs. Roberts are leaving Dec. 23 to attend the sixty-third annual meeting of the Modern Language Association of America in New York from Dec. 28 to 30.

A crowd of 3000 college and university teachers of English and modern languages are expected to attend. The association was founded in 1883 to advance the study modern languages, and the membership has since increased to 6000 members.

San Jose's Ski team heads for Aspen, Colorado, the end of the month, to compete in the National Inter-collegiate meet. Scheduled for Dec. 28, 29 and 30, the meet will feature the downhill, slalom, cross country, and jumping events. Gold and white in the 12-team tournament will be Herb Hatt, captain; and Stuart Merrill, Richard Robinson, John Daegling and Wayne Hawkins.

Social Affairs Sets Date For 'Reg'Dance
Winter quarter: Registration dance will be held Jan. 3 according to Betty Hrief, Social Affairs committee chairman. "The Registration dance is to be a stag dance," Miss Hirsh said. "Stags are encouraged because the purpose of the dance is to foster better relations between the students, and it is also in keeping with other years." Miss Hirsh said that the Social Affairs committee has signed Al Ferguson's orchestra for the dance which will be held in the Civic auditorium. The dance will start at 8 p.m. and last to 12. Miss Hirsh emphasized that the dance is free to ASB card holders.

Class Of '46 Holds Reunion Friday
San Jose High alumni, Class of '46, will hold its third annual reunion and election Friday evening at Hillsdale barn, according to President Bob Mosley. "Come in comfortable clothes to this informal affair and meet your old cronies," said Mosley. Beans, salad, and other refreshments will be served. Bids are $1.25 and will be sold at the door. Mosley urges everyone to attend.
