Color Changing is Big Election Issue For Student Vote

With over two hundred signatures on the petition to put the matter on the ballot, the question of color changing is a hot topic on campus. The current policy of encouraging students to change their hair color if they have a desire to do so is being challenged by those who feel it is discriminatory and not in keeping with the school's values.

The voting on this issue will take place on December 11th, and the results will be announced the following day. Students are encouraged to vote and to consider the implications of their vote on the campus community.
SAN JOSE IN TITLE TILT AT CHICO

By GIL BISHOP

The last hurrah! With Chico State's lone menace between the San Jose Spartans and the championship, Duane DeGroot pilots his squad across the northern town this afternoon and takes the odd-on favorites to the Ackeries in a head scratch. Chico has yet to win a Conference game, while the Spartans have yet to lose one.

Last week the San Jose contingent received a scare when they just nosed out the Chico team by a 14-7 score. Aickle brought a team to the Garden City that did everything but use a quadruple threat. Tackle around, gained around and hidden ball play marked a fantastic feat of Chico tricks. This year, the veteran Wildcat coach, Francis R.E. Sherod, will have at his disposal several backfield men who can play all positions. Backfield men that can run and pass.

Oregon Normal is the only team making a reasonable offer. They will come for around 1900. Just like a school can come down from Oregon for 1900 while it takes 5000 to make the journey profitable from southern California that isn't clear how many will come.

Maybe the schools in the north have developed a complete program, but if their playing record is any indication, only a few will. Oregon State represents the only football school that has been consistently bad. Oregon Normal, Southern Oregon, Colgate and the like were not bad a few years ago. Oregon Normal is the only team making a reasonable offer. They will come for around 1900. Just like a school can come down from Oregon for 1900 while it takes 5000 to make the journey profitable from southern California that isn't clear how many will come.

First TEAM in

At first a totally unexpected team will enter the fray for the first time against the Nats. DeGroot has been making a surprise move for a long time. The team has been working out seven days a week, and the extra layoff has put "S" luck in the pool. Butcher, with his own training, has been the most consistent tackle in the Conference and can be expected to shut down Chico. The game is 2:15 at the start.

With one exception, from end to end, the DeGroot team will enter the fray for the first time against the Nats. In a game of this nature, the big men will be at a premium for the play. The big men will be at a premium for the play.

The First Team will be composed of 14 men and the second team against action against Chico last year. The one exception is Aickle, the star of the place. Aickle has shown up just as he did against the Chico team last year and should plug up that gap to the hands of the big men. He will.

SEVEN SHINNICKERS TO CLOSE CAREERS TODAY AGAINST GOLDEN BEARS

It's the last game of the season—
It's the last chance to avenge an early season defeat—
It's the last game for seven of the Spartan soccerites—

In fact the game although not having any on the conference title situation won by S.F.C. will be a do-or-die affair for more reasons than that. For on the line is the berth by which the Spartans have been fighting their way to the Western Conference for seven of the team are seniors and must meet the Spartans who have improved by leaps and bounds.

And the second of the reasons is that some of the team members are again on the list for the last game for State. These boys are not out there to fight and win, and nothing less than victory will satisfy them. The men who play their last game for the West will get the chance for a last fight for the title which will make the best showing possible against the powerful Western Conference team. And so he did it. None of the other boys have, all of them with two or three times the experience of these 15 players have not had any more experience than these.

SHINNICKERS

Two stellar Spartans, who, although not regulars, will add plenty of work against Chico. They are Red Wool ball (kicking) and Dave Barr, full. Both are stellar punters and returners.

The Great Pyramid

All down through history, no other man-made buildings preserved so much curiosity than the Pyramids of Egypt. The ancient history of the Great Pyramid is at the head of their list of Seven Wonders of the World. Of these seven, the Great Pyramid of Giza has awoken curiosity and awe in the breathing of the world for at least four thousand years. Today and to-day, it still holds first place among the modern Seven Wonders of the World. When builders of nation-states whom every size bewail the mounds of the Gorgias, the Romans, and the Moderns. Why is such a vast structure of sand which must have drained the minds of most men? The question posed through the years until now modern science and some with assurance can say that it has come to be with probably one of the most complete explanations ever before attempted by man.

It is with the above in mind that the author will attempt, to the best of his ability, to enlighten those who will try to fact the proofs posted on the mystery of the Great Pyramid of Giza.

In the next article of this nature the author will reveal to the reader of the nature of "The Great Pyramid of Egypt as compared with others of Egypt." Works of the past, which will probably appear around Tuesday of next week.

The Seven Wonders of the Ancient World were: (1) Great Pyramid, (2) Colossus of Rhodes, (3) Temple of Artemis at Ephesus; (4) Statue of Jupiter by Phidias at Athens; (5) Mausoleum at Halicarnassus; and (6) Phaeton's Chariot.

Tells of His Boyhood

Theasso of poetry is re-entered into the heart of all who dare seek it. He has constantly been true to the vision of the world. He could be as merged in it as was the school, he received in his close contact with nature and humanity. "Read, Beauty, and Brotherhood," is his theme, whether it be in poetry, lectures, articles, or any other form of art.

The verse is composed by, as a result of the world's music, to have seen and to have lived in the world of poetry. This last verse is not without a touch of the month's life.

"We Want Dancing" Say Eastern Co-eds

Students again raised the dance question at the University last week. Hold "We Want Dancing" signs were carried by students on sidewalks, in classes, and on campus, and all through the campus, many were seen dancing on sidewalks, in classes, and in dormitories. The question of whether or not dancing is a good thing for students and whether it is not considered by the administration of the university as a credit to the institution was raised.
