Homecoming Activities Open to All Students

The rules and regulations for Homecoming week were presented to representatives of 19 campus organizations by Ed Mosher, chairman of the Homecoming committee, at a meeting in the Student Union last night. It was stated by the Homecoming committee that all Homecoming activities are open to any group or individual desiring to participate in the activities providing they comply with the rules and regulations governing the events.

The rules are as follows:

3. Instruction for the parade line-up will be available two or three days before the parade and must be followed exactly.

2. The girl's name must be submitted to box M in the coop (in care of Ed Mosher) by Thursday, Oct. 18. It must include the girl's Gibson, Mrs. Charlotte W. Rideout, Dr. Donald H. Alden, Miss Ruth Milford and Dr. Harrison Heath.

Warm Today - UP

Mr. U. P. Weatherman, still smarting from his inaccurate rain prediction, checks the latest odds and uneasily predicts that it will be fair and slightly warmer today in the Santa Clara valley.

Last Year's Queen

President Named By Iota Delta Phi

Bud Fellows was installed as president of Iota Delta Phi, French honor society, at the group's first meeting at the home of Dr. Boris Gregory, adviser, Monday.

Other newly installed officers are Nadine Douglass, vice-president; Anne Dench, secretary; Elise Rosenberg, treasurer, and Doris Sweet, historian.

Next meeting of the society will be Wednesday, Oct. 19, according to Elise Rosenberg, acting secretary. Members are requested to meet at the Student Union at 7 p. m. for transportation.

Ex-Spartan Wants Dailies, Letters

There is at least one eager reader of the Spartan Daily, the English department revealed today.

George Curnow, former student of San Jose State college, is recovering from infantile paralysis in Stanford University hospital, San Francisco. Curnow, who has regained use of his hands enough to hold books, has requested copies of Sparta's newspaper as well as letters from any interested students.

Social Affairs

More than 100 students attended the first social affairs meeting of the quarter which was held in the Student Union.

Nellis Needam was elected recording secretary and Hetty Bromley corresponding secretary. The group voted to make 1:30 p. m. on Mondays their permanent meeting time.

Duke Deras is the committee chairman.

Sex Sign Stops Students

By CLIFF MINNERS

Signs of the times! A poster with a bold, red-lettered headline reading "SEX AND FREE LOVE" is causing considerable between-class traffic congestion this week in the hallway near the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Scores of students who normally give the bulletin board only a hasty sidelong glance as they pass, now spend minutes pushing their way to within reading distance of the eye-catching message.

Apparently in anticipation of seeing an announcement of a coming lecture on this hush-hush topic, the curious crowds cause class bound traffic to be re-routed around three corridor pillars.

As the sex-conscious undergraduates work to the head of the line and eagerly scan the printed

Wear Caps Tonight

Spartan students attending the USF football game tomorrow night are requested to wear white shirts and rooter caps, announces Rally Committee Chairman Glen Stewart. There will be four sections filled with Gold and White rooters at the crucial clash.

New Fight Song Debut; '540s', Dull Skulls on Tap

By JACK RUSSELL

The first big football rally of the season will take place tonight at 7:30 in the Morris Dailey auditorium, announces Ed Mosher, Rally committee representative.

The USF game Friday looms as one of the best on the Spartan schedule and the committee has worked to make the rally as interesting as the game the next day.

SJSC Program On Air Tonight

"Spartan Review," a 15-minute radio program about San Jose State college and for student and general consumption will make its fall debut tonight on Station KEEN at 7:30.

Conducting all the phases of the program will be three SJSC seniors, Dick Russell, Joe Juliano, and Bern Bernardini. Russell and Juliano are Speech majors, Bernardini is an Advertising major, minor in Speech.

The trio promises that its "kilocycle capers" will be interesting and full of color. The three students declare that they will do their best to make the weekly program "something different."

This program is the successor to "Spartans on Review," a KEEN fixture for the past two school years.

Troops Searching For Lost Students

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Oct. 12 (UP) — A unit of army mountain troops today prepared to join a widespread search for two Colorado A. & M. college students missing for more than 42 hours in the high, snowy mountain country of the Rocky Mountain National park.

The troops, specially trained in mountain-scaling and winter warfare tactics, were being rushed from Camp Carson at Colorado Springs to aid bands of A. & M. students and National Park rangers in the hunt for the youths.

No trace had been found of the pair, David Devitt, 20, Arvada, Colo., and Bruce Gerling, 21, Phoenix, Ariz., since they last were seen late Sunday.

Devitt and Gerling disappeared while on a hiking expedition into the mountains around Grand Lake, Colo., over the weekend.

Fears for their safety were being felt after members of the search party were forced to drop out because of fatigue and frostbite.

Student Reception

St. Paul's Methodist church, 2nd and San Carlos streets, will hold a reception at 8:30 following this Sunday's evening service.

The get-together is for the purpose of welcoming students at San Jose State college. An informal evening with a sing-spiration and refreshments is planned.

New Fight Song

Highlighting the evening's entertainment will be the introduction of the new Gold and White fight song, "Down from Under," composed by Jim Veteran.

The student body president and yell leader from USF will attend as will the Spartan band, yell leaders, and song girls.

"540 Boys" to Appear

The popular "540 Boys" are scheduled to make an appearance as well as the new 1949 version of Chi Omega's "Dull Skulls." Yolanda "Doc" Vitale will play the accordion.

A riotous skit entitled "The Ma-

Les Paul to Play

The famed Les Paul Trio will perform tonight at the giant USF game rally, it was announced late yesterday by Ed Mosher, Rally committee chairman.

Paul is currently appearing nightly at San Jose's Melody club.

tador" takes care of the dramatic part of the program. Coach Bill Hubbard will introduce the entire Golden Raider grid squad to cap the evening's entertainment.

Mosher pointed out that at some of the rallies last year there were almost as many football players present as there were students. "We hope that the rally is well attended since it will give us an indication of school spirit in planning our Homecoming and C.O.P. rallies," declared Mosher.

Off The Wire

DENVER — Yesterday a delegate of the American Dietetic association at a convention here, came out with the remark that the easiest way to cut down a waistline was to wear suspenders. This is supposedly because men wearing belts extend their stomachs to keep their pants up.

LONDON — An advertising agency advertised for a copy-writer who could "Produce original lines which have not been thought of lately." Seems like they could use some of our selling slogans, doesn't it?

SACRAMENTO — More serious in content yesterday was the message from the State Department of Employment, which stated that it had secured jobs for 118,603 veterans during the 1948-49 fiscal year. It was the third highest in the nation, with only Texas and New York leading.

WASHINGTON — David Lilienthal can breathe a little freer again, a joint congressional atomic energy committee cleared him of all "incredible mismanagement" charges in the atomic energy program. A nine to six vote did it.

OSLO — While all the fracas over the B-36 is going on, it is significant that another Nobel Peace prize has been awarded. This time it went to a Scottish food expert, Lord Boyd Orr. Lord Orr drew up a plan, called the World Food Board which was endorsed by 16 nations.

Ticket Deadline

Tickets for the USF-San Jose State game Friday night must be picked up by noon today in the Graduate Manager's office, according to Helen Carrera, ticket manager. No student or faculty tickets will be available at the gates prior to game time. Student body cards must accompany student tickets, Mrs. Carrera explained.

Mrs. Conley, former secretary in the English department on Sparta's campus, is on leave from the Ohio State college English department.

Latest Dope on NBC's 'Hollywood Calling'

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13 (UP)—Ever wonder how they pick the telephone numbers on those "answer-the-phone-and-we'll-make-you-rich" radio shows? Take it from us—it's a lot tougher'n some of the questions they ask.

We snooped behind the scenes today on the "Hollywood Calling" give-away program. That's NBC's answer to Jack Benny and it takes 97 people six days a week to lure listeners away from the opposition.

They're trying it this way: Every Sunday afternoon a famous movie star calls from 15 to 20 people all around the country. Sounds simple on the air—but a powerful lot of work goes into those calls.

Pretty Barbara Fredericks, the show's head researcher, is one of just a few of the 97 people who seems to know what's going on. She's up to her ears every day in millions of telephone numbers and 3000 telephone directories.

"We have books from almost every city and town in the country," Miss Fredericks explained. "Some, like the one from Chicago, weigh almost 10 pounds. Some weigh only a few ounces.

"One or two aren't even printed. The one from Bloomfield, Ia., has 22 numbers handwritten in red ink."

The one from Stephan, S.D., has only two numbers written on a single sheet of paper, and it gets our vote as the smallest directory in the world until some hamlet comes up with just one.

Each week Barbara asks a governor of one of the states to pick 25 five-digit numbers. Then she has somebody of "reputable and honest character" pick five more.

This "character" has another job. He's supposed to hang around while she figures out who's going to get called and make sure everything's on the up and up.

"I make 'em stay 'til I'm through, too," Barbara grinned. "After all, there's $27,700 at stake this week."

The "waiting number" decides which town it'll be and the "reputable character" picks the names. Up to now we were following her pretty well—but she lost us about here.

As near as we got it, she works from the number of pages in the book, plus the number of columns per page, plus the number of entries per column. "Reputable character" plucks little plastic discs out of a box full of pink and blue and red and black and white discs, whirls a little arrow, and bingo—there's the recipe for picking the contestants.

They try to choose a few more

6-Year-Old Proves It's a Small World!

San Jose State college is slowly but surely reaching its zenith of fame. Its name has spread to the farthest reaches of the northern California Coast range.

This was in evidence recently in a letter received by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie from Alvin Nelson, a pupil in the sixth grade of a Trinity County grammar school. Dated Oct. 5, the letter read as follows: "Dear Sir:

"How are your members of San Jose State College? I hope you are just fine. I would like to know about your college and the work your children do. I would also like a picture of your college. We are studying about governments in school and my job is to find out about state colleges supported by the government.

"Respectfully yours,
"Alvin Nelson,
"Trinity Center, Calif.
"P.S. I am in grade 6 and we are located very high in the mountains."

than they'll use because every once in a while a name pops up that's an employe of the network or the sponsor or—and this has actually happened—somebody who thinks give-aways are asinine and refuses to be in the quiz.

On Sunday a special corps of 10 long-distance operators and a supervisor put through the calls, the guest star fires the questions, and if you ask us it'd be simpler to send 'em all night letters.

Only One-Third Answer Church Preference Poll

Along with other data answered by the student on Registration day was an optional card pertaining to religious preference. Approximately one-third of the students registering answered the questions, the results of which have been announced by Jim Martin, executive secretary of the college religious conference.

Of the 2532 replies, approximately 698 were Catholics with the Roman Catholic Church having 690, while 1709 were of the Protestant faith. The Methodist Church led the Protestant denominations with 420, followed by the Presbyterians totaling 353. Baptists 180 and Episcopal 179. It is interesting to note that there were 25 different churches listed under the Protestant heading. Alphabetically they ranged from the Assembly of God to the Unitarian.

There were nine replies, or three-tenths of one percent of the total answers for the Buddhist religion. The Jewish faith drew 35 responses. Eighty-one students had no preference.

are: Dr. E. S. Thompson, Dr. Robert D. Rhoades, Dr. Raymond M. Mosher. Mr. William Felse, graduate manager, is also a member of the board.

Radio Stations To Help Find Jobs

The Dean of Men's office has started a campaign to find more part-time employment for San Jose State college students, according to Mrs. Florence Kellenberger, secretary in charge of the part-time job bureau.

Mrs. Kellenberger announced that several San Jose radio stations have agreed to help with the campaign. She also said that the office will send letters to all department heads and members of the faculty, urging them to make use of the employment bureau.

Morgan, Russell Hurt

Injuries Hit Spartans As Game Time Nears

Injuries hit the San Jose State Spartans on the eve of their battle with the University of San Francisco Dons tomorrow night, and may force two State first stringers from the contest.

End Junior Morgan, the leading pass receiver on the squad, has a hip pointer and may not start against the favored hilltoppers. Morgan has caught 6 passes this season for a total of 182 yards and 4 touchdowns. The big 200 pound wingman also excels on defense.

Halfback Harry Russell has a charley horse, but the injury may be sufficiently improved by game time to allow him to start. Russell is averaging 6.1 yards per carry, and his loss would hurt Spartan chances for a victory considerably.

Guard Dick Bondelie has undergone an operation and will be lost for the remainder of the season, and reserve halfback Don Dambacher is limping and may not play against USF.

Stop Ollie

Good news to the "Stop Ollie Matson" movement however, is that rugged fullback Fred Silva is recovered from an injury suffered against Santa Clara and will play against the Dons. Silva and center Bob Cheim give the Spartans an excellent pair of line backers, and if previous USF games are a medium, the pair will have a busy evening with the fast Don backs.

Odds makers in San Francisco have installed the Dons as 12 to 18 point choices, but local dopsters give the State squad an even chance to whap the invaders.

99 Points

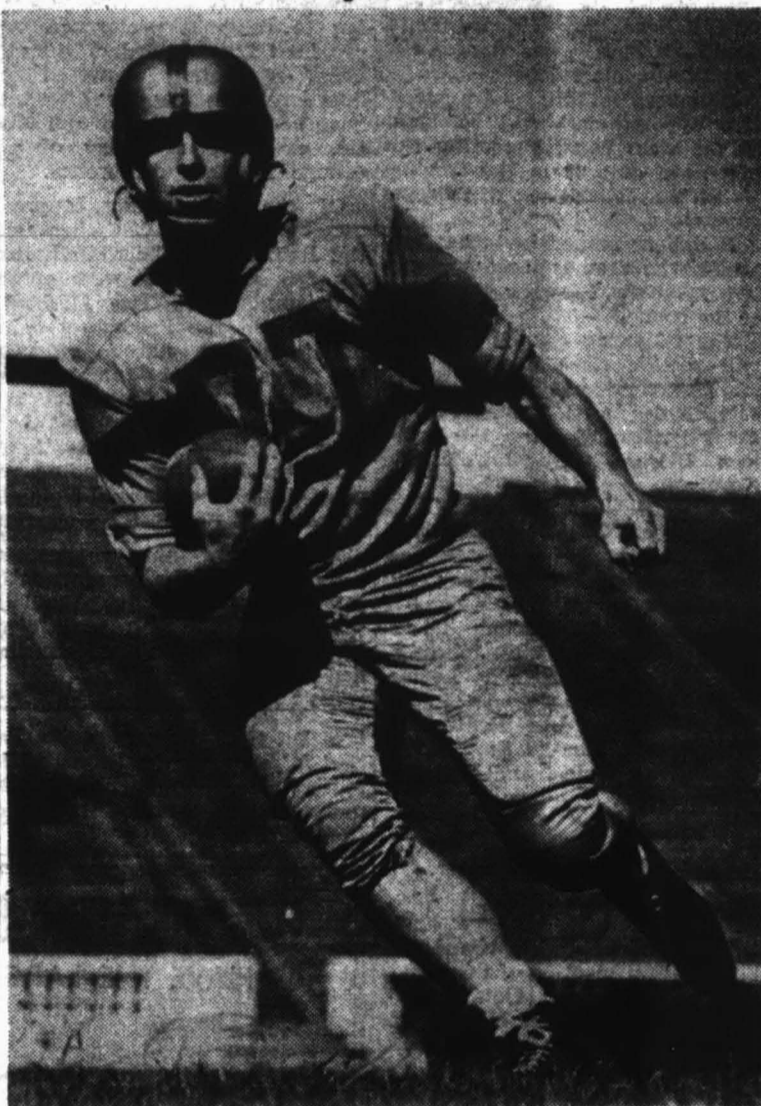

After being stymied by College of the Pacific, the hilltoppers have about faced to roll up 99 points in three games. The bulk of the scores have come from the right flipper of quarterback Jim Ryan, and the churning legs of fullback Ollie Matson. The Dons have been concentrating this week on pass defense, the reason being Spartan quarterback Gene Menges.

Menges passing in the last few games has been nothing short of sensational, and USF can expect more of the same come Friday night.

Ready To Go!

FRED SILVA, hard-charging, 200-lb. back from Oakland, will see plenty of action tomorrow night against the Dons. Fred has recovered from the injury that benched him during most of the Santa Clara game. This senior slipped through the only hole opened in the Stanford game of two years ago, and ran 67 yards for State's fourth touchdown. The play was called back.

DU Entertains 43

Delta Upsilon fraternity staged its fall-quarter rushing party in the chapter house recently.

Ed Mosher, rushing chairman, disclosed that 43 guests were entertained. The film "Hail Spartans Hail", and a drum and piano rendition by Bill Watts and John Piotti shared the spotlight.

Spinners Organize Folk Dance Groups

All college folk dancers are invited to attend the Spartan Spinners meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in Alexander hall on the second floor of the YMCA, Third and Santa Clara streets. The on-campus folk

SJS, Clubbers Splash Tonight

Spartan water poloists may have to go into tonight's "biggie" against the Olympic Club without the services of their Captain and star guard, Fred Hanssen. Hanssen, who injured his ankle Saturday, is on the doubtful list.

Charley Walker thinks that his team has a good chance against the favored Clubbers from San Francisco.

"They looked good against the Aggies last week. If they look better tonight, we might do it," mused Walker.

The varsity game will start at 9 o'clock. A preliminary game between the Olympic Club reserves and a team made up of players from both the San Jose State J.V. and frosh teams is scheduled for an hour earlier.

Weber Brothers In Daily Double

Coach Walt Bealy's cross country squad rambled through their "Paper Chase" Tuesday afternoon to definitely prove that running can be made enjoyable.

This was the first of such "work-play" runs to be presented this year and all the members of the squad agreed that it was one of the finest and most enjoyable conditioning methods that they have experienced.

In future runs the results will be tabulated and a final winner will be declared. Due to initial organizing difficulties the results of the first meet, which saw the brother duo of Bob and Albert Webber leading the harassed harriers to the finish line, will not be recorded.

dancing club will be organized into beginning and advanced groups, according to Dwile Heggem, party chairman. Refreshments are in charge of George Buehring.

GOLFERS ATTENTION!
