Dr. Douglass Advises SJS to Cut Enrollment

Overcrowded conditions at San Jose State college will not be solved unless the enrollment is limited, Dr. Aubrey A. Douglass told the Spartan Daily yesterday.

Dr. Douglass, chief of the division of state colleges for the California Department of Education, was here to confer with college officials on problems arising from continuing record enrollments.

Red Feather Short; Plan Two Special Events for Drive

New plans to raise funds for the 1950 Community Chest campaign being held on campus this week have been announced by Bob Madsen, student chairman of the drive.

"Collections to date have netted only $985.49," Madsen said, "and the quota for Washington Square has been set at $2000. We found it necessary to extend the drive, and to plan extra activities in order to receive donations to meet our quota."

The Stanford-Oregon State college football game will be televised in the Student Union Saturday afternoon as a special feature in the Community Chest campaign.

Madsen said a nominal fee will be collected at the door at 2 p.m. from those attending. Full proceeds from the affair will go into the Community Chest fund. Betty Brisbin, Student Council member, is in charge of arrangements for the television show.

Madsen said that if this special event fails to swell the Community Chest fund, donations to the Red Feather drive will be asked as admittance to the Homecoming Queen rallies Tuesday night.

Alumni Bulletin

A picture of the official Spartan, complete with helmet, chariot and spear, highlights the cover of the October issue of the San Jose State college Alumni bulletin.

The bulletin, published each month during the school year by the Alumni Association, is edited by Mrs. Delores F. Spurgeon, assistant professor of journalism.

Class Nominations Set for Tomorrow

Senior, junior, and sophomore class nomination assemblies will be held tomorrow morning in room A 1, announced Bob Madsen, council member.

Student primary elections will be held Oct. 27 and 28. Run-off elections will be the following week, Nov. 2 and 3. The council approved the two day elections "in order to have better and longer campaigns." The campaign period

Spartan Warrior or Ex-Prexy?

According to the yarn accompanying the above cut the artist modeled State's new Spartan head from statues of ancient Spartan warriors.

A quick poll of the Spartan Daily staff brings the consensus that the Head looks more like a Wall named Thomas that used to encircle the campus.

The Daily suggests the name "Tommy" for the symbolic mascot. But whether the Head looks like our legendary ex-student body president or a sturdy Spartan fighter the figures are synonymous — Tommy was a fighter, too! What do you think, Subscribers?

California has its "Oskie Warrior," U.S.C. has its "George Tire-biter," and now San Jose State has its "Mr. Spartan" (a name which will soon be changed by the student body).

"Mr. Spartan" is the imposing character who is drawn in his own special chariot at football games and rallies. At the Stanford game he was pulled around the field by four perspiring "Indians". At the USF game "Mr. Spartan" lorded it over four humble "Dons".

The new symbolic mascot of Sparta's athletic prowess will be used at rallies and at other sporting events. It will be the key figure in pre-game and half-time stunts.

Conceived by Ed Mosher, of the Rally committee, designed in Hollywood, and valued at $500.00, the Spartan symbol is lacking only a suitable title.

The mask is made of papier-mache, strengthened with a coat of plastic, and completely painted over with oils. It is three times normal size, but otherwise natural in every respect. Miss Wilma Stambaugh, well known Los Angeles artist, spent three months in research and construction.

Miss Stambaugh actually constructed the features by modelling from statues of ancient Spartan warriors. The wearer of the head is clothed in a costume of the legionnaires of Sparta. His battle dress was designed by Mrs. Fred Gould of San Jose.

The chariot was especially designed and built in Redwood City. Detailed work and planning that went into the creation of the mask, the costume, and the chariot make it an elaborate symbol on the coast.

All that is needed now is a name. (See page 2 for contest rules. Entry blank may be found elsewhere on this page).

Prof Announces New Quartet Plans

Plans for the formation of a new double quartet of male vocalists have been announced by Dr. Lyle Downey, head of the Music department.

The new group which will be designed to meet the growing entertainment needs of various campus functions, will use standard male chorus numbers and modern arrangements of popular tunes.

Scholastic credit of 1/2 unit is given for this activity, and any student, whether a music major or not, is eligible to participate. A piano accompanist is also needed.

Mr. Kenneth Hartzler, faculty director for the group, will conduct tryouts in room 106 of the Music building, either by appointment, or according to the following schedule: Mon., 1:30-2:30; Tues., 2:30-3:30; Wed., 3:30-4:30; Thurs., 2:30-3:30; or Fri., 2:30-3:30.

Talent Committee

The Talent Placement bureau, a completely new committee on campus, is being organized by the Social Affairs committee under the direction of Stan Sadler and Richard Paginelli.

According to Duke Deras, Social Affairs chairman, the TPB will organize all types of campus talent into one master file for the availability of all ASB groups.

Deras explained that students will be auditioned by the TPB in the near future.

"This new organization should be of great assistance to all groups," Deras said. "We hope to promote exchange shows with other schools, as some colleges are doing now," he added.

simistic as he stated, "We are losing ground."

Another use will be made of facts discovered by atomic research. In Chicago, a neurological surgeon has announced the use of a radioactive substance which, when injected intravenously, will aid in locating brain tumors.

"Even when the Strayer committee's recommendation that junior colleges be divorced from state colleges is followed, San Jose State facilities still will be congested," Dr. Douglass said.

"The state has set a 6000 enrollment limit for the college," Dr. Douglass stated. "This figure was used as a basis for the projected building program here." Present enrollment totals 8353, including 1104 junior college students.

The education administrator explained that two courses are open to four-year colleges in the state. They can either limit enrollment or continue to accept students and suffer overcrowded conditions.

"In colleges, generally, overcrowded plants mean poorer work than should be done," Dr. Douglass asserted. "We hope to see a decrease in college enrollment by 1954-55. This is expected because most veteran students will have completed their educations. However, this trend may be counteracted by population growth and increased unemployment," he added.

San Jose State college is the largest four-year institution in the state college system, according to Dr. Douglass. Only California Polytechnic in San Luis Obispo faces comparable enrollment problems.

"If enrollment is limited here, more lower division students will have to attend junior colleges," Dr. Douglass concluded.

Future Uncertain For Damaged Safe

Future status of the damaged safe in the Graduate Manager's office is still uncertain, pending adjustment with an insurance company, Graduate Manager Bill Felse said today.

The safe's door was injured by burglars who fled after being detected by a night watchman early on the morning of October 10.

Mr. Felse said that both the safe and its contents were insured. Insurance company investigations may give the present safe another door, or provide the office with an entirely new piece of equipment.

has been extended to "not less than five, nor more than 15 days."

The senior class will nominate their officers at 10:30, juniors follow at 10:45; sophomores at 11:00. All groups will meet in the same room, A 1, in the Art wing.

Frats and Sororities Vie for Trophies

Homecoming Publicity Chairman Herb Patnoe announced today that 90 per cent of the sororities and fraternities, as well as many independent houses, have entered the House Decorations contest.

Many houses, Patnoe said, will feature special lighting arrangements to obtain unusual effects for their house decoration. The Homecoming committee will award three trophies for house decorations. Trophies are to be awarded to the best fraternity, sorority and independent houses respectively.

The houses will be judged by a select group of judges between Wednesday 12 noon, Oct. 26, and Friday evening, Oct. 28. The committee reminds organizations that house decorations must be finished by 12 noon Wednesday, Oct. 26.

The committee has spread the judging time over a period of three days so members of the alumni may view the house decorations any time during Homecoming festivities.

The three trophies will be presented to the winning organizations at Friday night's Homecoming game at Spartan stadium, where San Jose meets College of Pacific.

The rules for house decorations are as follows: The theme will be "Remember When", anything connected with San Jose State college past or present events, anything connected with COP football games past or present, or anything in conjunction with our present football team. A full description of plans must be in the hands of the Homecoming committee by today.

Truman Seeks New Economic Adviser

(United Press Roundup)

A new chief economic adviser is being searched for by the President. According to United Press, Truman has accepted the resignation of Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, his top man on financial matters. The latter recently warned that the government's big spending spree may ruin the nation.

For a rebuttal to charges of the Navy recently, General Omar Bradley accused it of not wanting to play ball unless it could call the signals. Liking the armed forces to a football team, he said, "Each player on this team whether he shines in the spotlight of the backfield, or eats dirt in the line — must be an All-American."

Another new plane will be kicked around soon, as is the B-36! The Glenn L. Martin company has a new jet bomber designated as the XB-51. It is for ground attack support, and has three engines.

Dr. Heath Opposes Plan To Separate JC Here

"Officials of San Jose State college do not want San Jose junior college to be taken from the State college campus," Dr. Harrison Heath, professor of psychology, said recently in commenting upon an address made by Dr. Monroe Deutsch, vice-president and provost emeritus of the University of California.

Government Gives Chinese Students Emergency Funds

The U. S. Department of State has announced that an additional sum of $4,000,000 has been made available for emergency financial assistance to Chinese students in their undergraduate and graduate studies in accredited American colleges and universities.

Grants to an individual may cover tuition, maintenance, and travel, and will be restricted to the amount sufficient to enable him:

(a) to achieve an approved educational objective.

(b) to obtain return passage to China, when it is practicable.

Qualifications:

1. The student must be a citizen of China.

2. He must have been engaged in a course of study as of the academic year of 1948-1949.

3. He must be enrolled in or doing work on a full time basis to meet academic requirements.

4. He must be in need of financial assistance.

5. He must be and remain in good academic standing.

Applications for this grant may be obtained from Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman, who has been appointed San Jose State college representative of the grant. His office hours are from 8-12 a.m. and 1-5 p.m. daily in room 1.

'Spartan Review' Hits Air Tonight

"Spartan Review," San Jose State college's own radio program, will take the air again tonight at 7:30 o'clock over Radio KEEN, according to the Speech and Drama department.

The program is a weekly 15-minute event and features personalities, news, sidelights and music of interest to Spartans and their friends.

The radio show has been made a part of the Speech and Drama department curriculum. Dr. Edgar Willis, associate professor of speech, supervises the program.

Joe Juliano, Dick Russell and Bern Bernardini are the participants.

Dr. Deutsch spoke Saturday at the fall meeting of the Western College association at Stanford university.

Present Set-up

"The current plan underway to separate the two campuses would not solve anything," Dr. Heath asserted. "From the standpoint of flexibility and ease of counseling, the present set-up is the best one."

Dr. Heath is also college coordinator of technical programs and supervisor of trial students.

Dr. Deutsch emphasized portions of the Strayer report, a committee survey on higher education completed in 1947, which states that San Jose State college must be separated from the city junior college in the near future.

The report found that "it is undesirable for state colleges to continue functions which belong to junior colleges."

Study Being Made

In an interview with the Summertime in August, Dr. Cecil Hardesty, San Jose city superintendent of schools, stated that San Jose is making a study of the situation. In more recent action, the San Jose School board has selected a site for the proposed new Technical high school, but has not chosen a prospective site for a new junior college.

Beginning Dancers Hold Class Tonight

To form a strong nucleus of folk dancers for the Spartan Spinners, on-campus dance group, beginners' classes will get underway tonight at 7:30 in room S 31. Dr. and Mrs. Carl D. Duncan, who will instruct the newcomers, invite all students interested in folk dancing to attend.

At the same time this evening, advanced sections of the Spinners will hold regular sessions at Washington school cafeteria, Oak and State streets. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Willis will head this group. Formerly president of the California Folk Dancers federation, Mrs. Willis is a doctor of education here. Mr. Willis is editor of "Let's Dance," the official federation magazine in the state.

During the quarter the couple will teach Aztec, Mayan and Mexican dances to the Spinners. This is the first club in California to attempt the intricate steps, ac-

Unheralded Ad Staff Keeps Paper on Feet

It is the task of a newspaper editor to keep his reporting staff on its toes, but it is the head of the advertising staff, like Bob Kavet of the Spartan Daily, who keeps a newspaper on its feet.

Business Manager Bob Kavet, senior advertising major, is entrusted with keeping the Daily ad staff in a pecuniary state of mind.

BOB KAVET

The duties of the unheralded advertising staff include the gathering and collection of ads, the preparation of each advertisement for publication, and general control of the Daily's financial business. The staff also handles the circulation and distribution of the Spartan Daily.

Mr. Carl Hoffman, associate professor of journalism, is faculty adviser for the advertising staff. New office holders for the fall quarter are Jackie Caster, advertising office manager; Rick Schuman, classified advertising manager; and Dave Brown, circulation manager.

Delegates Confer

On-campus social organizations are asked to send representatives to the Theta Chi house to confer with Marv Braunstein as soon as possible. Entertainment for the forthcoming Theta Chi sponsored Inter-Fraternity, Panhellenic joint meeting will be discussed.

cording to Jack Golden, club representative. Tonight, members will perform the "Senftenberger," a couple dance with fast German polka steps.

Last Thursday's party in Alexander hall was well attended, Golden said. Approximately one third present were beginners.

Mascot Naming Contest Gets Under Way Today

'Oski' Disappears: Trojans Labeled First Bearnappers

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 19.—"Oski," the papier mache mask of a bear used by University of California students at week-end football games, has been stolen. Apparently by U.S.C. students, it was revealed today.

Tom Young, chairman of the student rally committee, announced that the mask was taken from a locker in the Memorial stadium Sunday morning—the day after the Bears defeated U.S.C., 16 to 10.

He announced he had received a telegram from Los Angeles which read:

"Weather is fine. Think I will stay. Thank you, Oski."

Young said the Los Angeles police have been asked to aid in obtaining Oski's release. He said "certain persons" in the Los Angeles area have also been contacted in an effort to track down the bearnappers.

Don Coelho, president of the associated students, said "All resources of the ASUC will be directed toward bringing the culprits to justice."

Student Court To Meet Weekly

Al Grass, chief justice of the Student Court, has announced that the Court will hold a regular weekly meeting each Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the ASB office in the Student Union.

He says that a representative of the Student Court will be available in the ASB office one hour each day. The office hours and assignments are:

Monday—Edward C. Morgan—2:30-3:30

Tuesday—Beverly E. Etter—1:30-2:30

Wednesday—John O. Gregory—10:30-11:30

Thursday—James W. Taylor—10:30-11:30

Friday—Al Grass—12:30-1:30

"The Court needs a recorder to take proceedings," said Chief Justice Grass. "Any girl with shorthand ability may apply for the position."

OT Offers Opportunities

By LAVERNE E. POTTS

Large numbers of well-qualified young men and women are needed in the Occupational Therapy profession, according to the U.S. Department of Labor and the American Occupational Therapy association.

Miss Mary D. Booth, assistant professor of occupational therapy at San Jose State college, says that it was pointed out at the 1949 American Occupational Therapy association convention, held in Detroit, Mich., Aug. 27, that there are only some 2000 persons in this field at present. There are openings for 6000.

The U.S. Department of Labor says that "there are good opportunities for persons already trained in this profession, and for a steady flow of new entrants."

Occupational Therapy Explained

Occupational therapy is a type of treatment prescribed by a physician to hasten a patient's recovery from disease or injury or to help him adjust to hospitalization.

The occupational therapist conducts programs for patients in hospitals and other institutions to provide them with directed activity which will help in their rehabilitation. He supervises workers who teach such activities as arts and crafts. Among the activities taught are: weaving, leatherwork, woodwork, photography, metalwork, ceramics, plastics, printing, and gardening.

Therapy Fields Enlarged

Some of the institutions in which occupational therapists are working are: U.S. Army, Navy, Public Health and Veterans hospitals, general hospitals, homes for the aged, hospitals for mental disease, mental hygiene clinics, children's hospitals, convalescent homes, penal institutions, recreation centers, agencies offering home service, hospitals and agencies for visual handicaps, tuberculosis sanatoriums and schools for the feeble-minded.

Opportunities

Miss Booth says that occupational therapy is a profession which offers unlimited opportunities for service and satisfaction in one's work. She also points out that salaries for occupational therapists compare favorably with those of nursing and allied medical professions. The average range is from $2,000 to $4,000 per year.

The experience of the therapist, size of hospital and occupational therapy program, extent of responsibilities, and degree of specialization required, all influence salary levels.

Qualifications Listed

Men and women between the ages of 18 and 35 may apply for enrollment at different educational levels in schools of occupational therapy. All candidates should be able to present evidence of good character, emotional stability and maturity. Good physical health and general fitness are also important.

Those considering training should have a cheerful, outgoing personality, a sincere interest in people and a desire for service. Tact, understanding and patience are also necessary qualities. Academic interest should include science and art.

Students interested in obtaining more information about this field may contact Miss Mary D. Booth in B73. The college library also has information concerning the profession.

Engineering Profs Say County Storm Drainage 'Critical'

Two members of San Jose State college's Engineering faculty are listed as members of a committee which recently filed a report citing Santa Clara county's storm drainage set-up as "critical."

They are Ralph J. Smith, head of the Engineering department, and O. Allen Israelson, assistant professor of engineering. Mr. Smith and Mr. Israelson are members of a five man committee chosen from the ranks of the San Jose Engineers club. Their study was made at the request of the county planning commission. Another member of the group is George L. Sullivan, dean of engineering at Santa Clara university.

The report recommended a thorough study of the county's storm run-off system, and adoption of a master storm plan by the county supervisors.

Senior Justices Assume Student Court Duties

New senior justices of the Student Court are Miss Patricia M. Dempsey of Piedmont, Calif., and Richard B. Robinson of Long Beach. They were appointed at the last meeting of the Student Council.

Miss Dempsey is a senior French major. She has red hair and is 5 feet 2 inches tall.

In 1946 Miss Dempsey was graduated from Piedmont high school. For two years she attended San Francisco college for women, where she was a member of the Student Court. She came to San Jose State in the fall of 1948.

Last year she was assistant director of the Spardi Gras parade, and was manager of the broadcast from the bean feed.

Robinson is a senior social science major. He was graduated from Woodrow Wilson high school in Long Beach in 1945. Last year he served as prosecuting attorney for the Student Court.

This year Robinson is starting his fourth year as a member of the college ski team. He is a member of the Ski club, and of Gamma Delta chapter of Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

Prexy Appoints

Bob Madsen, Dale La Mar and Len Frizzi will represent the SJ-SC Student body on the Fairness committee this quarter. Mr. Elmo Robinson, committee chairman, announced yesterday.

ASB President Schaeffer made the appointments recently.

Greater recognition for San Jose State college's Engineering school will be a principal topic of discussion when the Engineering society meets Friday in room S 210, according to Ralph J. Smith, department head.

The department is planning preliminary steps this year to secure student chapters of the American Institute of Radio Engineers, the American Institute of Mechanical Engineers, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and the American Institute of Civil Engineers.

"These organizations are designed to help the student make contact with men already established in the engineering field," Mr. Smith explained. "In many cases the contacts are helpful in obtaining employment after graduation."

At present, the department's student organization is the Engineering Society, open to all engineering majors regardless of specialty. Mr. Smith said that the society will probably continue, even if the four specialized organizations are obtained. Each student chapter of a professional engineering group must be authorized by the parent society.

Want More Help To Make Y Posters

The Student Y Publicity committee will have its initial meeting of the quarter this afternoon in the Y lounge, 220 S. Seventh street, according to Helen Davis, publicity chairman.

Those interested in public relations and in making posters are urged to attend the meeting, Miss Davis said. Students are needed to serve as publicity advisers on the Y's four commissions, and to help with the publication of the Y's newspaper, published bi-monthly for members.

Jim Martin, Y executive secretary, will give a brief summary of the program for the year which the committee will publicize.

Assignments to commissions and to staff positions on the newspaper will be made at the meeting.

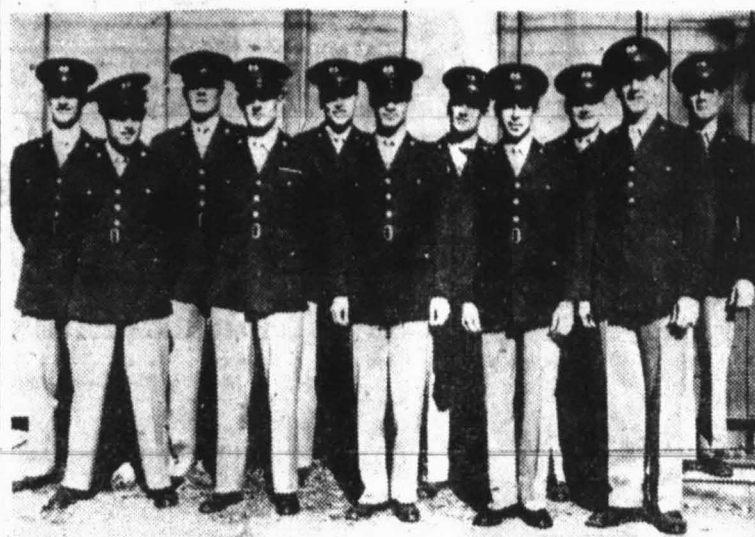

Lower division journalism, advertising, and art majors who are interested in school affairs and in the Y program are especially invited to participate, Miss Davis concluded.

Housing Available

Rooms are available for girls who are commuting and who wish to live in San Jose, according to Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, assistant to the Dean of Women.

Boarding facilities also may be had for those girls who are rooming and are eating out, Mrs. Pritchard added. For specific details, contact Mrs. Pritchard in the Dean's office.

ROTC Gives DMC Awards

'On the Ball' Cadets Receive DMC Honors

Part of the work that is a "must" in military and air science study has a reward for the cadet and potential officer of the future. One of these rewards or honors is the citation by the commanding officer as a Distinguished Military Cadet.

During the year the record of each advanced student is checked and evaluated by his cadet officers, the ROTC officers, and the commander of the unit. Scholastic achievement, personality, effort, ROTC grades, willingness and ambition are a few of the basic points for evaluation of the cadet as a Distinguished Military Cadet.

Cadet May Apply

After the nominations are made to the commanding officer and approved by the president of the college, the names are forwarded to the War department. Here they are kept on file and upon graduation the cadet has the privilege of applying for a regular army commission.

While the honor does not obligate the army to give a commission as second lieutenant, it is rare when an application is refused, according to Col. James J. Hea, commander of the MP unit at San Jose State college. Men may be added to the list at any time, by the commanding officer of the training group.

Commanders Approve

Last week the following men were approved as Distinguished Military Cadets by Colonel Hea for the Military Police detachment: Jesse J. Bautista, senior, San Leandro; Harry E. Carlsen, junior, Oakland; Louis A. Harris, junior, Los Gatos; Patrick E. Parkes, senior, Pomfret, Conn.; Vernon D. Rogers, junior, Hayward, and Byron H. Russell Jr., junior, Vallejo.

Air science cadets recommended by Lt. Col. Thomas A. Lee, commanding officer of the Air Force unit, are James N. LaMont, senior, Mountain View; Joseph F. Leahy, senior, San Jose; Donald T. Shaeffer, senior, Gilroy; Robert W. Short, senior, Santa Cruz; and Phillip M. Ward, senior, Mt. Shasta.

Further appointments will be made later in the school year, provided ROTC men measure up to the high standards, emphasized Colonel Hea.

Shirley Crandall Is Spear Prexy

Shirley Crandall was installed as president of Spartan Spears, sophomore women's honor group, at last week's meeting, according to Beth Calvin, publicity chairman.

Other officers installed with Miss Crandall were Margaret Murphy, vice-president; Constance Carlson, recording secretary; Thea Pelligrini, corresponding secretary; Betty Ishumatsu, treasurer; Florence Taylor, historian; Beth Calvin, publicity chairman; and Barbara Kinst, A.W.S. representative.

Members of last year's Spartan Spear group presented Miss Margaret M. Twombly, faculty adviser, with a gift in appreciation of her work with them.

Spartan Spears are chosen from members of the freshman class each spring quarter and act as a service group on campus.

New Air Corps Reserve Offers Rank and Pay

Many commissioned and non-commissioned positions in the Air Force reserve units are now open in connection with the recently stepped-up Air Force program, according to Sterling Strate, San Jose State student and director of radar training for the 8604th bomb training group.

"This is part of a newly organized program designed to bring the Air Force up to a higher state of effectiveness," Strate declared. "Participation in this training yields points in the Air Force reserve toward promotion and retirement," he continued.

Reservists meet two days a month for training periods during which time uniforms are worn and army regulations observed. In the course of the two-days of training, four separate drill periods are conducted, and for this members receive four days pay plus long-city or flight pay, if any.

Former Air Force members may assume their former ranks and ratings upon joining the reserve program, and any civilian from 18 to 35 years of age may enter the program as a private.

Openings for commissioned personnel include positions as radar observer, navigator, bombardier, meteorologist, and first and second lieutenants in twin engine piloting. Openings for enlisted men include ground and aerial photography, administration, and technical personnel, particularly radar.

Anyone interested in further details concerning the Air Force reserve program may contact Mr. Strate at 2372 Shibley street in San Jose, or call CY 3-6221.

Bertell, Johnson, Kelley Can Run

Santa Barbara Backs Ramble on Kick Returns

Line Coach Bob Bronzan, who has scouted the Santa Barbara Gauchos, considers Gaucho kickoff returns and punt runbacks to be the chief scoring weapons of the Channel City team.

Their roster always loaded with light, fast backs, the Gauchos had three punt returns of more than 35 yards against Fresno State. Dick Johnson flashed for one of 91 yards, which won the game for Santa Barbara, and ran for 78 on another, which was called back.

Gauchos Use a "T"

The Gauchos use a straight T-formation. They pass a lot. Dick Gorrie and Glenn Mullaney, both lettermen quarterbacks, have developed into good passers. Gorrie has thrown 43 passes for 16 completions and 219 yards. Mullaney has gained 142 yards with his 17 completions out of 33 passes. Gorrie will probably get the starting call against the Spartans.

Russ "Little Bull" Bertell is the number one ball carrier for Santa Barbara. The 175-lb., 5-ft. 6 in. Bertell has averaged 4.7 yards a carry in 39 tries.

Tom Kelley, another mite at 140 lbs., 5 ft. 6 in., also has a 4.7-yard average, his on 26 attempts. Kelley has scored twice this year for the Gauchos.

Have Good Wingmen

Coach Roy Engle is proud of ends LeRoy Criss, Fred Lloyd, and Don Casida. Lloyd has caught 12 passes for 126 yards, Casida 8 for 65 yards. Criss' defensive play against Fresno was outstanding. He knocked down many passes and nailed opposing backs consistently. He will be honorary Captain for the Gauchos tomorrow night.

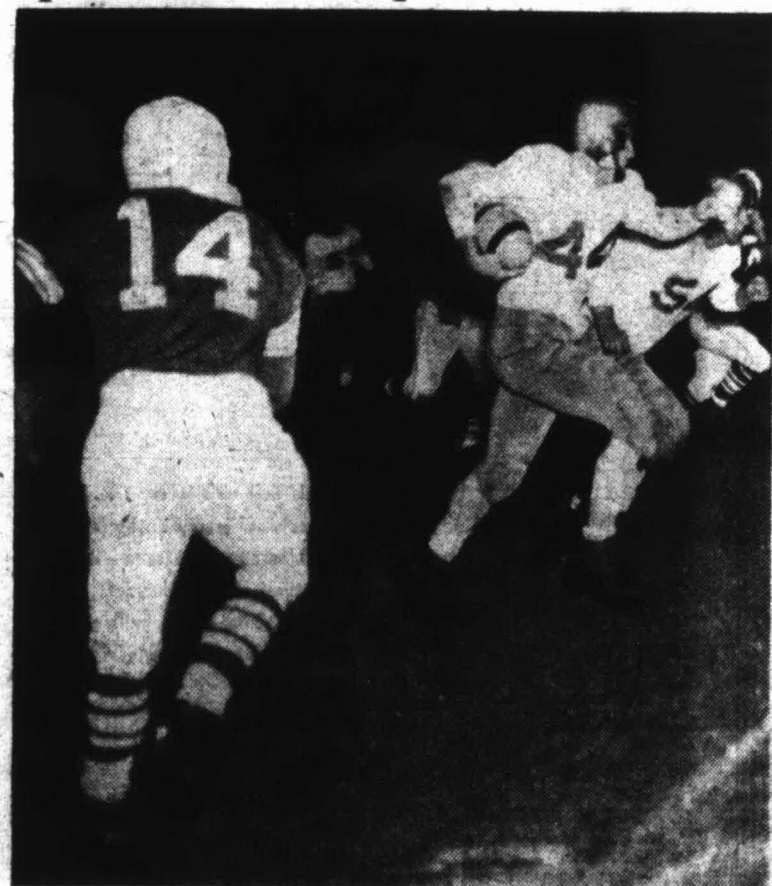

Bob Wooldridge, outstanding tackle, is probably out of the Spartan game with cracked ribs. Defensive Halfback Doug Gorrie will not see action, due to a twisted knee. The loss of these two men, who would be rough on Johnson, Donaldson, Beck, Russell, and the other San Jose backs, will undoubtedly hurt the Gauchos, for every back on the Spartan roster is ready to roll, save Buddy Traina.

Police Judo Team Will Demonstrate

The San Jose State Police school Judo team will give demonstrations for any on-campus organization interested, it was announced today by Victor S. Fought, Police school representative.

Arrangements for a demonstration can be made by contacting Miss Marsh, Police school secretary. Chi-Pi Sigma, Police fraternity, will sponsor the programs.

Speedster Out In Open

Marv Johnson, (44) San Jose State back, gets out in the open with the aid of Harley Dow (54) as Pepperdine back Bobby Hayes (14) watches in frustration. Johnson was a riot in the Wave-Spartan tussle, and will be ready to roll against Santa Barbara Friday.

New Gaucho Coach

ROY ENGLE, Santa Barbara Coach, is smiling because his Gauchos beat Fresno State last week for the first time in history. But Engle, who replaced Stan Williamson, may vince when the Gauchos come to Spartan Stadium tomorrow night in the first local CCAA game.

Can Make More As Ref; Maxie

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 19 (UP)—Former Heavyweight Champ Max Baer's come-back attempt is off—even before it started.

"I can make more money as a referee," Baer said.

"I'm over 40 and that has to be taken into consideration," he added.

The exact age of the "Clown Prince" of boxing was not revealed.

Baer had made the decision to stage a come-back after watching NBA Champ Ezzard Charles work out recently in San Francisco, but said today his future plans include a television program with Jack Dempsey.

Baer added his wife wasn't partial to the comeback idea.

Mumby Warns Intramural Entry Deadline is Here

Today is the last day for men wanting to compete in the intramural touch football, basketball, and tennis tournaments to turn in their entry lists to Ted Mumby in the Men's gym.

The touch football league will be composed of as many teams as there are entries and the games will be played on the fields adjacent to the Men's gym and the grass strip next to the Art building. There is a $2.50 entry fee with no more than 14 men allowed on the entry list. Games will be played in the afternoon probably beginning at 4 o'clock. A trophy will go to the winners.

In the basketball tournament, games will be played in the Men's gym starting at 7:30 p.m. Ten men are allowed on each entry list and the entry fee will be $2.00. The tournament will be run off similar to the winter league contests with trophies being awarded to the winning team and runner up.

The College Singles Tennis Tournament will be run off as soon as participants get their entry lists in. The entry fee for this tournament will be seventy-five cents. Top players will be seeded and all those being defeated in the first round will enter a separate consolation tournament. All freshmen—those having less than 36 college units of credit—enter a separate tournament, as well as the consolation if defeated in the first round. Medals and cups will be awarded to the winners in the three tournaments.

Entry lists must be in by 5:30 this evening.

Wading In with Wade Wilson

Could be that COP will stage the greatest manhunt in history when they uncage the Tigers in Spartan Stadium a week from this Friday night. In the reverse of man hunting tigers, the Black and Orange Kitty will be out to track down the Spartans. Methinks they might need a wee bit of catnip to keep the chase going. Just for good old fashioned precautionary measures, it might be well for the Spartans to send out a few false trails to derail the terror of the jungle. Nuff said on that subject 'till next week.

DISANDATA: Coach of Wrestling and Tennis, along with Director of Intramural Athletics, keeps TED MUMBY fit as the proverbial fiddle and busier than the proverbial bee, but he still finds time to coach the college gymnastic team that won the conference title last year. It still looks as if the big bad boys from the Berkeley and Palo Alto campuses will overlook DEE PORTAL'S invi-challenge to meet the Spartans in the squared circle again this year. The letters have been sent, but no word as yet when they will arrive to meet PORTAL'S PUGILISTIC PUNCHERS.

Ex-Spartan Daily Sports Editor BOB BLACKMON was in the press box for the USF game to cover the event for United Press. GENE MENGES continued his amazing tosses with the pigskin by completing another eight passes in the USF game. This brings his season totals to 44 out of 78 attempts. The "Anaheim Flipper" has put the ball into his capable receivers hands time after time when it appeared certain they were covered.

BILLY WILSON and JUNIOR MORGAN have cradled MENGES' passing with clockwork regularity. MEL STEIN proved a thorn in the DON'S hide all night by repeatedly breaking up plays. Frosh Coach TOM CURETON is schooling and coaching his boys to a high degree as can be attested by their 34-0 larruping of Lassen J.C.

Two Water Polo Games Tomorrow

Coach Charlie Walker's Varsity and Frosh water polo teams will journey to Stanford tomorrow for a pair of games with the highly rated Indians.

Norm Keeler and George Haines are being counted on by Walker to provide the National Indoor Junior AAU champs with a victory over the Redmen. Both are potent scorers.

The Spartan frosh engage the Stanford yearlings in a preliminary game at 3 o'clock. The varsity contest begins at 4.

Returning the Spartans' visit, Stanford will bring their varsity and frosh teams to San Jose for a game come next Thursday.

Search for Ollie All in Vain for Walt and San Jose

Sweat, falling hair, fingernails, and gasoline mixed well does not necessarily make a witches brew, but it could also serve a formula for acquiring a crack athlete or rather not acquiring that athlete.

A couple of years ago San Jose State Coach Walt Bealey drove back and forth between San Jose and San Francisco, sweating, gradually losing his hair and all the while his fingernails being sheared sounded like the staccato of a machine gun. All this vain effort was to get Ollie Matson, at that time a sensational high school track and football star, to become a regular performer at Spartan Stadium.

All this was brought back to Bealey last Friday night when someone at the game sidled up to the coach, put an arm on his shoulder and droned in his ear, "See, Walt, all your effort wasn't in vain. At last Ollie is here at the Stadium."
