

Spartan Daily Workmen Find Russian Flag Waving over SJS

SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE

Vol. XXXVIII San Jose, Calif., Tuesday, Oct. 3, 1950 No. 4

Building Project Will Give Quads 'New Look'

A project to increase both the beauty and convenience of the campus has been started by workmen in front of the inner Quad. One phase of the project is the laying of a concrete walk, 14 feet wide, from the Library Arch to the new archway between the Science and Commerce buildings. The walk, replacing the 7-foot walk, should be completed in two or more weeks, according to Mr. Jack Woodcock, foreman.

Longer range plans call for a big section of concrete, 64x68 ft., in front of the entrance to the Inner Quad, according to Robert Alexander, SJS Ground supervisor.

In the center of the section will sit an eight-sided fountain, 14 feet square, inlaid with tile. Plumbing for the fountain now is being installed.

Two tile-inlaid pillars, 4 ft. square, will be on each side of the entrance to the inner Quad. Two of the 4½ foot pillars will support lamps, with posts 7 ft. high. Two curving benches will be near the pillars.

The existing walk from the Commerce building to the Science building will be widened. On the north side of the walk a brick wall more than three feet high will be built.

The work is being done by California Division of Architecture employees. Because of the possibility that the employee may be ordered to other jobs, for varying lengths of time, no definite completion date for the whole project could be given, according to Jack Woodcock, foreman.

ASB Cards Now Available On Installment Plan to Vets

Veterans may now purchase student body cards under the new "pay as you play" plan, Mr. William Felse, graduate manager, announced yesterday.

Card are available now for $5, the initial payment. Veterans make the second $5-payment the end of October, and the last installment 30 days thereafter.

Taylor Replaces Owens in Library

Miss Marguerite Taylor, a graduate of the library school at the University of Southern California, will join the library staff Monday according to Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian.

Miss Taylor, who was graduated from Maryville college, Maryville, Tenn., will take the place of Mr. George Owens who left recently to join the Air Corps as a captain.

Vishinsky to Give Reaction Today

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Oct. 2. Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Russian foreign minister, was expected to give the first Communist reaction today to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's surrender call to the North Koreans.

Like the rest of the world, the United Nations awaited North Korea's reply to the surrender demand broadcast yesterday by the 70-year-old United Nations Field Commander.

Battlefront developments, including Pyongyang's announcement that its troops had withdrawn to new positions and the fact that Allied planes were meeting the heaviest anti-aircraft fire of the war, indicated that the Red

Koreans were not ready to quit. TOKYO, Oct. 2.—The free-wheeling South Korean Third Division was reported today to have advanced 33 to 35 miles across the border of North Korea, and to be

Group to Meet

The Rally committee will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Student Union, according to Ed Mosher, rally committee chairman.

Mosher requests that all committee members, both old and new, attend. Officers are asked to report at 7 o'clock.

The Santa Clara game rally will be discussed at the meeting.

A rose-colored flag bearing a yellow hand-painted hammer and sickle was found waving from the north side of the San Jose State college water tower shortly after 6 a.m. yesterday. The discovery was made by Arthur Sherman, college boiler room engineer, and Bert Dolan, janitor.

Sherman said he happened to glance up at the tower about 6 a.m. and saw the 4½-by-3-foot flag suspended from the railing which encircles the lofty tank catwalk. A few minutes later, he called the police.

Sherman stated that he looked up at the tower at that particular time, just as he was on duty, because he thought perhaps some San Diego rooters from the Friday night San Diego-San Jose football game might have painted the tower.

Did Russia Claim SJSC Campus?

Co-rec Group Set For First Party

Co-recreation committee will resume its activities with a party in the Women's Gym tonight at 7:30 according to Edna Thompson, newly elected president of the organization. Volleyball, badminton and ping pong, Canasta and bridge and social dancing will be available to anyone with a student body card, and a pair of rubber-soled shoes.

Spinners' Dance

Tonight is the night of the Spartan Spinners' "Let's Start Dancing" party, according to Robinette Woodside, acting publicity chairman. The folk dancing starts in the gymnasium of the YWCA at 7:30 p.m. and will include dances of varying degrees of difficulty. Refreshments will be served. Dr. and Mrs. Carl Duncan will direct the party. Spectators as well as dancers will be welcome.

Cal. Vets Notice!

Mr. J. D. Murchison of the California Veterans Administration will be in Room 32 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon tomorrow to answer any questions by students enrolled under the California Veterans Bill, according to Miss Edith Graves of the Veterans

He has noticed such pranks after other football games, he said.

San Jose Police Officer Steve Windisch said in his report that he climbed the tower at 6:15 a.m. after answering the call made by Sherman. He states that the flag, an improvised dye-job made of muslin, is "possibly the work of some fraternity organization or communist sympathizer."

In the exact center of the rectangular flag appears a sickle and hammer crudely painted in yellow oil paints. Mixed in the yellow is a bright red. Officer Windisch stated at the time of removing the flag that it was a pretty good job, according to Sherman.

Three weights made from sections of lead pipe were attached to the flag to keep it moored to the tower. A length of hemp rope secured the flag. A seam down the middle of the material was the only stitching. All outside edges had been torn.

Because the flag was facing San Jose High school and the sickle and hammer are not perfect, Sherman believed the job could have been done by anyone, not necessarily a San Jose State college student.

The flag was visible from the ground, Sherman said, and the hammer and sickle could be seen clearly. It could be seen from San Antonio street and the high school grounds, according to Sherman.

The flag resembles a Russian Communist flag in that it is red and bears a sickle and hammer. A Russian Communist flag bears a star above the sickle, however, and the entire design is placed in the upper left-hand corner. The flag found on campus bore the design in the center of the field and had no star.

The sickle on the "homemade" flag, as Sherman called it, was upside down and backwards compared with the real Communist flag. The hammer did not bear an exact likeness to that of the Communist flag.

The rose-colored piece of material is now being held in the property locker at San Jose's jail.

Council to Fill Offices Today

Appointment of eight students to committee memberships will be made this afternoon by the Student Council at 3:30 o'clock in the Student Union building, according to Dave Down, ASB president.

Committee openings to be filled are: two men and one woman for the Finance committee, two representatives for the WSSF convention at Stanford, Oct. 14 and 15, one Spartan Revelries director, one Junior class member to serve on the College Life committee, and one student equipment custodian.

Students desiring appointment to any of these positions should submit their applications in writing to the Student council by noon today.

Dates will be set at the meeting for class elections of the Fall quarter.

Also on the agenda is discussion of a student amateur talent show for San Jose State college students. According to Down, the program for this show will be formulated this quarter.

Seating Changes

Faculty members holding tickets for the coming Santa Clara-San Jose State football game are asked to exchange their tickets at the Graduate Managers office immediately. Faculty members will be seated in a different section of the stadium because of a change in seating the rooting section, according to Glenn Hartranft, head of the PE department.

The Weather

BULLETIN: The Grand National Skirt Watchers and Kite-Flyers convention to be held today back of Hoolihan's Barn in Milpitas was called off early this morning because of unfavorable winds, 8-16 mph.

Fair today with slowly rising temperature, with a high somewhere around 79-86. But it will be cool tonight.

Freshman Class Group Meetings Will Start Today

Freshman class activity gets underway today with the holding of two group meetings, according to Mr. James Jacobs, freshman class adviser.

Group "A", under the direction of Mr. William Dusel, meets in Morris Dailey auditorium at 11:30 a.m.

Group "B", headed by Rocky Pisano, meets at 1:30 p.m. in S31.

All freshmen are invited to attend the meeting most convenient to their time schedule, Mr. Jacobs stated.

Group "C", directed by Mr. Jacobs, will meet Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. in B25. Group "D", also headed by Mr. Jacobs, meets Friday at 12:30 p.m. in B92.

Mr. Jacobs said that the groups will meet every week at the same time and place for the next two months unless changes are announced.

Newman Club Chaplain Plans Varied Schedule

By JOE SHEEHAN

Filled with the bright enthusiasm of youth for success in his new position, the Rev. John Stillman Duryea, 32, took up his duties last week as the first full-time chaplain of the Newman club, Catholic student organization.

He was officially appointed to the post by Archbishop John J. Mitty of San Francisco on Sept. 20. The new chaplain will be at Newman hall full time, 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. until the hall closes, daily.

Interested in a wide variety of activities, Fr. Duryea plans a series of weekly talks and the organization of a Newman choir. He hopes to arrange for the choir to appear on the religious hour on station KEEN and at campus functions whenever possible.

A member of the Sierra club, Fr. Duryea spent a week last summer on a hiking trip through what he describes as "back country". He intimated, however, that extensive climbing was involved. Another of his activities is photographing mountain scenes.

An active but rarely exercised hobby of the chaplain is that of music. He plays the violin but until now this activity has been "purely recreational."

Fr. Duryea expressed no apprehension in the face of accepting a position almost entirely unfamiliar to him. He spent a year at Stanford before attending the seminary.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Duryea of Palo Alto, Fr. Duryea is a grandson of John M. Stillman, a former vice-president of Stanford university. Following his year at Stanford, he attended St. Joseph's minor seminary in Mountain View and St. Patrick's major seminary, Menlo Park, and was ordained March 20, 1943.

The new chaplain came to San Jose after two years of parish work in San Mateo and five in Oakland. He is the brother of the Rev. Robert F. Duryea Jr., formerly of Sacred Heart church in San Jose.

Although the hall will not usually be open on Sunday evenings, it will be open this Sunday following the College Religious conference reception at the college at 4 p.m., Fr. Duryea said.

And Us, Too?

(Ed. note: The following letter was written by a student who does not own a student body card. However, since she was a card holder last year and since the topic she discusses opens a new line of thought, we have published her letter).

Dear Thrust and Parry:

The Spartan Daily of Friday, Sept. 29, tells of a development which I consider worthy of much praise. The installment plan by which vets may purchase ASB cards is laudable.

As the wife of a veteran and also a college student, I am grateful. Money is scarce around our household as we wait for the first government check. Vacation earnings were spent on vacation living expenses in the absence of the government benefits. Five dollars an installment is more easily obtained than $15 at one time. So much for my husband's ASB card.

But what of me? It is impossible for me to purchase a $15 student body card. I would sincerely like to have one, but quite frankly I can't afford one. I wonder if there are other college students, vets' wives or no, who cannot scrape up the $15 required to purchase admission to student body activities and the insurance plan?

Wouldn't it be nice if the installment plan were also extended to the rest of us who find mostly lint and moths in our pocketbooks? What a lovely dream—it is to think of the installment plan or if the possibility of buying an ASB card for one quarter at the proposed cost of $6 or $7 per quarter.

Good Idea

Dear Thrust and Parry:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the Rally committee for their outstanding idea of having separate male and female rooting sections.

Spartans Plan 'Bronco Busting'

By TOM MARQUIS

San Jose State's football team, victorious over a San Diego State squad in a 26-0 game Friday night, started clearing the decks for action against the Santa Clara Broncos yesterday. The two teams will tangle at Spartan Stadium Saturday night.

The Broncos, travel weary and tired, returned from Houston after dropping their second straight game. They were beaten 27-7 by the Rice Owls in a game which dedicated the opening of new Rice Bowl. Santa Clara dropped their opening game against California the previous week.

Praise for Spartan football players from their coaches was limited to a few left-handed compliments following Friday night's game against San Diego State, despite the fact that the Spartans' total offense was more than double that of the Aztecs.

"The team played a poor game both offensively and defensively," commented line coach Bill Perry. "They are capable of far better football than this."

When asked about improved pass defense, Perry still reserved his praise. "The backfield is defensively tighter than it was against Stanford, but there is still plenty of room for improvement," he said.

San Jose did not perform in as outstanding a fashion against San Diego State as they did against Stanford. That is no reason for special concern on the part of fans who want to see the Spartans take Santa Clara into camp this coming Saturday night.

A let-down by the players after playing a top team like Stanford is only natural. Besides, there was no need for the team to take off the wraps against the Aztecs as long as they had the situation well in hand.

Undoubtedly, there were Santa Clara scouts in the stadium Friday night who would have liked to see all the tricks the Spartan gridders have up their sleeves.

Only two members of the squad are on the injured list. Gibby Mendonsa with a sprained ankle is a doubtful starter against Santa Clara. He was injured early in the first quarter of the San Diego game.

Tom Cuffe, a converted fullback playing at center, is the other doubtful. He received a back injury in practice that prevented him from playing against the Aztecs.

After dropping their first two games and facing Stanford the week after they meet San Jose, the pressure is going to be on the Santa Clara squad to beat the team from Washington Square.

The Spartans, with a fairly easy week behind them and operating at almost full strength, are going to make it hard for the Broncos to salvage even the pieces from a rough opening schedule.

Touch Football Signup Deadline Comes on Friday

Application blanks for intramural touch football are now available in the Physical Education department office, Coach Bill Perry announced today.

Deadline for the sign-ups is noon Friday and no applications will be accepted after that time, Perry said.

There will be two leagues. Independent and Fraternity. Independent teams will play at local playgrounds and the Fraternity games will be played at the Rose Gardens.

Rules for the touch football games will be published in the Spartan Daily later in the week.

For further information contact Coach Perry in the Men's gym.

Louis May Try To Come Back

NEW YORK (UP)—Joe Louis, the in-again, out-again Brown Bomber, admitted Wednesday a possibility that he might return to the ring despite Wednesday night's defeat by Heavyweight Champion Ezzard Charles.

In his first public appearance since the Yankee Stadium fight, Louis surprised reporters by explaining that his announcement of retirement in the dressing room was "done on the spur of the moment and without careful consideration."

The 36-year-old ex-champion said he would decide "in about a month" whether he would hang up his gloves permanently or try for a return shot at Charles.

San Jose State's Fullback Harry Beck packs the mail as he runs into the San Diego secondary in Friday night's game. Beck loped 11 yards on this one for a first down. Art Preston (35) and Bob Embrey (11) make with the funny faces as they head for Beck. Raider tackle Joe Moulton and Guard Carl DeSalvo can be seen running to the rescue.

Former Spartan Star Favored at Pebble Beach

MONTEREY, Cal. (UP)—The best of California's simon-pure golfers fired qualifying rounds over the rigorous Pebble Beach fairways yesterday in quest of the State Amateur Golf championship.

Favorites are Johnny Dawson and Bruce McCormick, and Lean Eli Bariteau, former San Jose State college star. All three are past state champs. Bariteau won the title in 1948.

All-Star Winner Leaves for Series

Ralph Romero, stellar mound ace of last year's San Jose State college baseball team, leaves tonight for New York to take in the 1950 World Series between the Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Yankees.

Romero won the outstanding player award of the College Senior All-Star game last spring. His World Series trip, with all expenses paid, is his reward. Romero will commute from New York to Philadelphia for the games.

Musial, Goodman Cop Stick Honors

First Sacker Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Outfielder-Infielder Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox were the unofficial batting champions of their respective leagues after the completion of the regular season games Sunday.

Musial collected 192 hits in 555 batting chances for an average of .346 to finish the season 18 points ahead of his nearest National league rival, Second Baseman Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Goodman took the American league crown by picking up 150 safe blows in 424 official trips to the plate for a .354 average, 14 points ahead of second place George Kell, Detroit Tiger third baseman.

Portal Skeds 3 Tournneys For Fall Boxing

A boxing schedule such as Spartan ring boosters have never seen before is in the making, according to Dee Portal, boxing coach.

A revised schedule of tournaments will keep the squared circle working overtime with approximately three nights of boxing each week during the fall quarter.

Three tournaments, all composed of opponents backed by fraternal and independent organizations, will get under way in the very near future. The novice tournament, a ring tradition at Washington Square, will be confined this year to men who have never had a public competitive bout. Through this ruling, Coach Portal hopes to limit the events to beginners in the sport.

The Junior tournament, which will follow closely on the heels of novice action, is also limited to prevent uneven matches. In this competition men who have participated in inter-collegiate bouts or who have won previous championships will be barred.

The Senior or All-College tournament will complete the intramural competition and will be open to anyone.

In addition to intramural boxing, the leather-slingers of this college will go on the road to meet other ring aggregations in benefit shows for youth athletic programs. The leather slingers will be accompanied by vaudeville-type talent to be picked from the San Jose State college campus by Dean Price.

"We will receive only bare expenses for these shows," Coach Portal announced. "All of the remaining proceeds will go toward the building up of youth athletic programs throughout the state."

Explanation Saddens Interested Students

Perhaps never before in the history of courses at San Jose State college have green sheets been met with as much enthusiasm as they did in Rocci Pisano's 2:30 o'clock Animal Husbandry section Wednesday. Students turned a deaf ear toward Mr. Pisano's routine preliminaries of the course while they glued their eyes favorably on an item farther down the page. "All field trips are considered an essential part of this course," insisted the instructor, "and attendance therefore is expected."

"But when do we start?" piped up one overly anxious student as Mr. Pisano caught up to the nature of field trips that had aroused such excessive interest.

At this point, a pause was called for an apologetic blush and a hasty correction to restore the intended "trips to BEEF farms" in place of the more interesting "trips to BEER farms" as printed. Throughout the class, chins dropped to a more normal position of half-mast as mental images of suds reluctantly faded.

'Y' to Sponsor Open House

Fourth annual open house barbecue sponsored by the San Jose State college Student "Y" will be held at the John Crummeys estate, 1835 Park avenue, at 4 p.m. tomorrow, according to Del Duke, chairman of the event.

The affair is part of the annual campaign for membership for the joint YM-YWCA on campus organization.

Featured at the event will be games, swimming, shuffle-board, compire singing, and folk and square dancing with Bill Ballou as caller. A barbecue dinner will be served.

Student "Y" officers will be introduced after dinner. A full explanation of the Student "Y" and its activities plus an outline of its program for the fall quarter will be made.

Only 150 tickets to the event will be sold due to the limited facilities at the Crummeys estate, according to Duke. Price of 75 cents per person includes dinner.

Tickets may be purchased at the Student "Y", 272 S. Seventh street, and at a booth in the library arch. No tickets will be available after 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Participants who desire to use city bus service to the Crummeys estate can get there by catching the Park avenue (route No. 7) bus at First and Santa Clara streets, according to Miss Duke.

Members in charge of the affair in addition to Miss Duke as chairman include: Herb Thomas and Carol Norrell, food; Leona Crouch, tickets; and Pat Stevens, clean-up.

President Andrew Jackson and John Tyler each had four secretaries of state. Jackson's top cabinet members were spread over eight years, Tyler's through four.

IRC Invites New Members To Activities

Dr. George G. Bruntz, associate professor of history and political science, extends an invitation to all San Jose State college students who are interested in world affairs to join the International Relations club.

Freshmen and transfer students are especially welcome to the organization, according to Dr. Bruntz. The IRC meets twice a month and dues are 50 cents each quarter.

The International Relations club is a national organization with active groups on campuses throughout the United States.

Regional conferences are held twice a year, attended by groups from the various colleges and universities. In the past San Jose State college was the site for the Northern California-Nevada regional conference.

Dr. Bruntz organized the club at San Jose State college four years ago and has been its adviser since that time.

Miss Delores MacDonald, IRC secretary, is the only officer from last quarter. Election of officers will be soon.

Oct. 6 is Deadline Of APO Book Sale

Students selling books in the APO book exchange are urged by the service organization to pick up their books and profits before Friday, Oct. 6.

Book exchange co-chairman Bill Allman and Tom Lambert said that unclaimed books or profits would go toward college "service." All returns from APO-sold books (10 cents a book) are co-administered by the APO and the student council.

Herbert Meritt To Speak Tonight In SU High School

Professor Herbert Meritt of Stanford university will speak on "Old English Elegy" in the Conference room of San Jose high school at 7:30 tonight.

His talk is one of seven which remain on the Tuesday-evenings program of the "Great Book Symposium" which is sponsored by the SJ Adult Center.

The opening lecture of the series was given by Dr. Raymond W. Barry, head of the English department at SJS, who spoke about Mark Twain. Dr. Barry pointed out that, although Twain is usually considered a humorist, he had a deep layer of pessimism underneath.

Dr. James Clancy, professor of speech and drama at SJS, spoke to the group the following Tuesday evening. His subject was Seneca's "Thyestes".

Although a contribution of $1 is expected from those who attend most of the lectures, there is no admission charge.

Art Faculty Displays Array of Handicrafts

Years of experience are revealed in the faculty art show now on display in the art building.

A panorama of artifacts ranging from weaving to water colors make up the show. Most of the works are appearing before the public for the first time.

Rooting Section Edict Is Changed

Plans for separate rooting sections for women and men students have been cancelled, it was announced last night by Ed Mosher, Rally committee chairman. The committee cancelled the plans because of objections by students.

Mixed rooters in Section V, however, will have to wear all-white clothing, Mosher announced.

All persons who have tickets for the mixed groups near the goal lines will be able to change them for seats in more favorable sections as long as supply lasts, Mosher said.

Paintings range in mood from Milton Lanyon's "Old Church" to "Pepperdine Exhibit Elation," by Robert Coleman. "Although there is individuality in the faculty work, there seems to be a unity to the whole exhibit," said Coleman, who prepared the array of objets d'art.

All but a few of the faculty members are represented in the show.

While the walls of the art building are adorned with many studies in pastels, water colors and oils there is still more to capture the visitor's interest. Ceramics, enamel ware, articles in stone, weaving and sculpturing may be seen in the glass display cases.
