Thirteen Compete In Queen Contest

By JACK GALLAGHER

The names of 13 candidates for the throne of 1950 Alumni Homecoming Queen were entered by 22 campus social and independent organizations, Bob Baron, chairman of the contest, said last night.

The Homecoming Queen will be chosen by the popular vote of ASB members at the regular student election on Oct. 20. The contest will be first in a series of events which feature the annual alumni homecoming program.

Assembly To Name

ASB Candidates

A nomination assembly will be held to name candidates for 14 ASB offices, beginning at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the auditorium. Members of the Student court will conduct the assembly.

Offices open for nominations are one male and one female sophomore justice on the Student court and the offices of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer for the sophomore, junior and senior classes.

To be eligible for the court positions, the candidates must be ASB members on clear standing, been enrolled at SJS for at least one year, and completed at least 39 and not more than 69 units.

Candidates for class officers must be ASB members, declared members of their class, on clear standing, not more than six units deficient, and holders of no other ASB office. An ASB office is defined by Lud Spolvar, Student council member, as being, "Any office, elective or appointive, called for in the ASB constitution."

Court officers who will supervise the nomination assembly are Pat Goulder, junior justice; Beverly Etter, sophomore justice, and Lueky Rogers, newly-appointed junior justice.

The Queen-elect will ride on the student body float in the evening parade which the alumni association will stage in downtown San Jose on Nov. 9.

She will reign over the homecoming bonfire rally at the Santa Clara county fairgrounds on Nov. 9, and over the homecoming football game between SJS and St. Mary's in Spartan stadium on Nov. 10.

The candidates and their sponsoring organizations are: Joyce Warren, Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Sigma Phi; Mona Logan, Kappa Phi and Sigma Pi; Norm Vesco, Pi Kappa Alpha; Anne Termaine, Catholic Women's Center; Pat Burke, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Gamma; Jean Martin, Alpha Tau Omega and Chi Omega.

Marty Darrow, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Upsilon; Pat Chisholm, Delta Zeta and Phi Sigma Kappa; Nicki Hodgins, Alpha Omicron Pi and Lambda Chi Alpha; Jody Bartlett, Alpha Phi and Delta Sigma Gamma; June Perreira, Gamma Phi Beta; Barbara Lindquist, Sigma Kappa and Theta Mu Sigma, and Alice Dougherty, Kappa Alpha and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Rules governing the contest will be released next week, according to Baron. Organizations sponsoring candidates have been sent copies of the rules.

Rally Committee Signs Strip Teaser for Game

By JIM DOWNS

Our progressive Rally committee, headed by fearless Ed Mosher, is making rapid strides toward bigger and better things for half-time stunts, but we gotta confess that the above headline is a great big nasty lie, a hoax, that is. But . . . ah, ah, ah, ahaaaa . . . hang tight,

Pick Up Football Tickets by 4 p.m.

Students must pick up their tickets to the Loyola game before 4 p.m. today in Room 16 or buy regular tickets to get in the game, the Graduate Manager's office warns.

The student tickets are free to ASB card holders. Tickets are on sale to the general public at the Graduate Manager's office and regular downtown agencies for $2.40.

The Weather

Prediction for today: 48-88. That's not the score for tonight, but a low of 48, a high of 88. Most likely though, high will be closer to 83, give or take a couple of knots. Yesterday hit 90 here, 97 in Fresno and 103 in Phoenix, in case anyone's interested, and if you are, why?

Prediction for tomorrow: It will be Saturday, becoming Sunday around midnight.

Committee to Procure More Culture at SJS

One of the biggest weeks in San Jose State college's history ends, with the first annual Father-Son game tonight.

The week began with the defeat of the Broncos. We hope it ends with the defeat of the Lions. Whatever happens, though, San Jose State has arrived as a major athletic power. We received that rating last spring but it took a victory over the Orange Bowl champion to demonstrate it to the skeptical sportswriters and football fans.

Yes, the Spartans have definitely come of age in the athletic world.

With much less fanfare and in a quiet atmosphere more appropriate to an educational institution our college took another large step forward last week. It was not accompanied by banner headlines on the sports page. In fact it hasn't received any publicity whatsoever.

The Student Council has formed a skeleton committee under the direction of Mary Lou Carli. It is called the Cultural committee. Its purpose will be to arrange for guest speakers, artists, and lecturers to appear at San Jose State college for the benefit of the student body.

Every college aspiring to higher educational standards has set up such a program whereby the students can receive cultural and educational material aside from the classrooms.

San Jose State college has lagged behind in this matter until recently. The Committee hopes to obtain a faculty adviser in the near future.

Plans are being formulated to secure a guest concert series, not in competition with the downtown San Jose offerings, but rather aimed directly at the college faculty member and student.

Musical artists such as Burl Ives, the Alma Trio, or Yehudi Menuhin could be scheduled, as could thespians such as Charles Laughton who was such a smash hit at the Roosevelt Junior High school auditorium two weeks ago.

Historians like Arnold Toynbee would also speak here on tour if the proper arrangements were carried out by an established committee supported by funds.

We would like to add our 100 per cent support to the Student Council in the organization of this committee.

It is a mighty important week that is now ending.

Calif. Voters To Question Property Tax

(This is the first in a series of four stories on propositions appearing on the Nov. 7 California election ballot.)

By LLOYD LAPHAM

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12 (UP)—California voters will get a chance Nov. 7 to say whether they want to quit paying taxes on personal property, like household goods and possibly automobiles.

But opponents of the Proposition one on the election ballot, say there is a catch. They say the cities and counties need the estimated $1,500,000 involved and will get it with other taxes if necessary.

The proposition would prohibit the state, counties, cities, and other governmental units from taxing personal property. The state doesn't tax the personal property now, but it's a big source of revenue for the local governments.

The official sponsor of the proposition is the United Taxpayers, Inc. That group joined in a ballot pamphlet argument claiming that trade and development will increase if the proposition is approved.

Profit Negative

The group also argues that it costs nearly as much to assess and collect taxes on personal property as the taxes yield.

An imposing list of organizations is opposing the proposition. Included are the State Chamber of Commerce, the Farm Bureau federation, the California Supervisors association and the California Teachers association.

They argue that a few businesses which operate without much real property but a lot of equipment and merchandise in stock would get the main benefit from the proposition.

Bank Tax Cut

Banks would have their state tax cut nearly in half, they say, and the state "in lieu" tax on automobiles probably would be wiped out.

Another controversial proposition on the ballot is No. 10. It would require a vote in the city or county affected before a low rent housing project could be started with federal or state aid.

"Time after time in the past year," a ballot pamphlet argument favoring the proposition says, "California communities have had public housing projects forced upon them without regard either to the wishes or the citizens or community needs."

The argument is signed by State Senator Earl Desmond of Sacramento and Frederick C. Dockweiler, Los Angeles attorney.

Opponents of the proposition contend there is enough of a check on housing projects now, since the city council or county board of supervisors have to approve them. They say the elections would take time and cost money, citing a $400,000 cost for a special election in Los Angeles.

State Senator Chris Jespersen of Atascadero heads the committee against the proposition.

Opera Tour Meets

Students who wish to attend "The Magic Flute" by Mozart, at the San Francisco opera house tonight, are to meet in front of the Student Union at 5:45 p.m., announced Dr. William Hermanns.

Admission is $2.40, and students must furnish their own transportation to San Francisco. Students without automobiles may secure rides with those who have cars, but must share expenses.

San Jose State college or Dr. Hermanns assumes no responsibility whatsoever.

Students Audition

Tryouts for two one-act plays to be held Nov. 16 and 17 in the Studio theater will take place Monday and Tuesday of next week, Mr. John R. Kerr, faculty director, announced Friday.

Any student interested in auditioning may obtain scripts from the speech office, Room 57, opposite the Little Theater.

Thrust and Parry

Petitions Lauded

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Congratulations on Wednesday's editorial proposing that nomination by petition be adopted by the ASB.

The nomination procedure using petitions would do away with the farce known as the SJS nomination assembly. The nomination assembly at State serves no other purpose than to merely tabulate a list of names of those who would like to run for office.

The petition system would eliminate this waste of time, and, in addition would narrow down the list of candidates to those who are interested enough to go out and get the proposed 50 names.

Jim Porter ASB 329.

Silver Rule Club Adds Ten Names To Coveted List

Ten names were added to the coveted Silver Rule club membership yesterday afternoon, in a one minute ceremony in the advertising department of the Spartan Daily office.

The initiation was the first of the new school year. Bill Francis, business manager for the Daily, and Ray Lyon, office manager, presided at the ceremony.

The 10 new members were presented with six-inch stainless steel advertising rules as a reward for obtaining at least one 13-week advertising contract for the student newspaper.

The new members are: Ken Churma, Bob Carlton, Ray Di Piazza, Miss Carolyn Plough, Ted Short, Mel Glass, Tom Ellis, Peter E. Edmondson, Bill Cain, and Miss Pat Dyer.

Floats Highlight Parade

An evening downtown parade will be one of the highlights of the 1950 Alumni Homecoming, according to Jerry Schmidt, chairman of the event.

The parade, which will be conducted from 7 to 8:30 p.m. on Nov. 8, will feature floats entered by San Jose State college student and alumni groups, and the SJS high school, and civic bands, Schmidt said.

In extending an invitation for all campus organizations to enter a float and participate in competition for the perpetual gold trophy for the best entries, Schmidt asked the groups to conform to the following rules:

1. The cost of each float shall not exceed $35.
2. The chairman in charge of each float must be on clear scholastic standing.
3. Any float that does not reflect the best interests of the college will not be allowed in the parade.

4. A group consisting of San Jose business men, students, faculty members, and alumni will judge the competing entries.

5. Students will not be permitted to cut classes to decorate a float.

6. Violation of any of these rules will disqualify any float or group from competition.

The perpetual gold trophy, awarded for the first time last year, was won by Sigma Kappa sorority, Delta Theta Omega fraternity, and the Alumni association, in 1949.

Archie Chagnonjian, San Jose State halfback, set a new San Francisco record with a 72-yard quick kick for Mission High school against Balboa High in 1944.

Social Close-Ups

Fraternities Disagree On Eleventh Street Row

By BILL CHAMBERS

What do the social fraternities on the San Jose State college campus think of 11th street as a fraternity row?

The organizations seems to be split in their opinion of "the row." Some of the ideas of the fraternities and some of the characteristics of their present houses are:

Alpha Tau Omega: "Not too many places are left on 11th street.

General opinion here seems to be that it has reached its capacity for some time to come. We all strongly favor a 'row' somewhere," says ATO Leland Willman.

The present address of ATO is 200 N. 13th street. The house is done in a modern motif and houses about 30 members.

Delta Sigma Gamma: "We all think it's a swell idea for the fraternal organizations to be grouped together," Bill Mahan, DSG member, states. This fraternity moved into a newly acquired house just two weeks ago and is very well satisfied with it. The house is furnished with semi-modern furniture and is located at 241 S. 11th street. Twenty-four men live in the new house.

Delta Upsilon: Now getting settled in their new house at 155 S. 11th street, the D.U.'s feel that "the row" will continue to grow on 11th street. The new house is furnished modernistically and will house 30 to 35 men when finished. According to treasurer Francis McMahon, this group is well satisfied with their house and surroundings.

Kappa Alpha: "We feel that the idea of a row is great, but have no plans for moving. There are quite a few of us in the section southeast of school," Paul Davis, president of KA, says that the fraternity is well pleased with their present house located at 506 S. 9th street. The house is furnished in the modernistic motif and houses 21 men.

Lambda Chi Alpha: Located on S. 6th street, this fraternity feels that a row is a good thing to have but have no immediate plans to move. Homer Lohr, treasurer says, "We feel that 'the row' on 11th street has grown about as much as it will. We are quite satisfied where we are." Furnished in the traditional, the house has a capacity of 35 men.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon: "It looks like 11th street has turned out to be 'the row,' but we have made no plans to move from our present location at 646 S. 5th street," states SAE President Bill Rogers. The SAE house is furnished modernistically and houses 26 men at the present time.

Phi Sigma Kappa: "We are well satisfied with our house and the location. We are grouped with about five other houses here and have no plans to move," says Paul Bryan, member of PSK. This house is freshly remodeled and has modern furniture. The outside of the house at 598 S. 9th street is due for refinishing soon. The house sleeps about 30 men.

Pi Kappa Alpha: "We are very satisfied where we are. We have no plans to move and think that there are nearly as many fraternities in this area as on 11th street," stated George Patterson, PKA house manager. The PiKA's are located at 343 E. Reed street

SJS Sororities Advocate A Centralized Greek Row

By DOROTHY JOCZ

Is a Greek Row on 11th street becoming San Jose State college's newest tradition? Sorority opinion indicates that such a possibility will become reality.

Houses already located on 11th street, Kappa Alpha Theta, Gamma Phi Beta, and Sigma Kappa, enthusiastically agree that such a row would be a good idea. "In fact we jokingly refer to this vicinity as our row, already," said a Theta.

The KAT residence is situated at 184 S. 11th street and houses 17 of the 45 members. They have tentative plans to build a house on the opposite side of the street within the next few years.

The Sigma Kappas reside a half block down from the Thetas at 168 S. 11th. Both organizations have been on the street for three years. The SK's are planning to build an addition to their house soon to accommodate more members than the 23 now in residence.

Sis Plough, Sigma Kappa president, says, "Making 11th street a Greek row would be the natural thing to do since so many of the organizations are already located here. A row would be good for the college as well as fraternal groups since it would add prestige."

Gamma Phi Betas were pioneer residents on what may become "The Row." Their first house was in the 400 block of the street, but they have since moved to a more convenient location at 189 S. 11th street. The Gamma Phi house is in the middle of being redecorated along modern Dutch lines. Come spring, the front of the residence will be moved to face San Antonio street. "We're here to stay," say the G Phi B's. Twenty of the 40 members live in.

Also sharing the opinion that a Greek row would be a fine thing for SJS are Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Phi, and Delta Zeta. These groups add the condition that such a row should include an area within a block's distance of 11th street.

Delta Zetas state that, "Tenth street will be as much in the picture as 11th street." Their residence at 64 S. Tenth street is occupied by 23 of the 36 members. Alpha Phi's also feel that their and have 30 men living in the house.

Theta Chi: "We believe that 11th street will continue to grow as a fraternity row. The houses located in this district are very suitable for conversion to fraternity houses," TC member Dick Garcia says.

The Theta Chi's are now living in their new, traditionally-furnished house at 123 S. 11th street. About 35 men live in the house.

Theta Mu Sigma: "We are highly in favor of a fraternity row to promote better relations between fraternities. We think that 11th street will continue to grow as a row," Bill Finger says.

The Theta Mu's live in a 36-man house at 191 S. 10th street and have no plans for moving in the immediate future. The house is furnished with modern furniture and is due for a new outside painting soon, according to Finger.

From the above statements, it would seem that all the organizations are in favor of a row, but all are not decided on the location.

Sorority Initiates Two into Group

Chi Omega sorority initiated two girls into their membership ranks at a recent meeting of the group. The Misses Betty Fussel and Marilyn Roberts received their gold pins as full fledged members. Miss Melba Sills, president, presided at the rites.

Ruth Mahr, publicity chairman, said that the ceremonies were held at the chapter house on Sixth street.

Miss Fussel is a senior working toward a teaching credential. Miss Roberts, a sophomore, is also working toward a credential in teaching.

The 6,973,000 National Service Life Insurance policies of all types in force Dec. 1, 1949, had a total face value of $40.2 billion.

street, we would do the same." An addition to the house is being planned. Of the 45 members only 14 live in.

Delta Gammas oppose the idea of an 11th street row more vigorously than any of the other sororities. The DG's are proud owners of the first house constructed by any campus organization. The beautifully modern structure is located on Eighth and Reed streets.

"An 11th street location would be entirely out of the question for us. A Greek row is a good idea, of course, and we thought of it when we built our house, but at the time the possibility seemed very remote," says Joan Becker, president of the DG's.

Couple Take Vows In Recent Wedding

A candlelight setting in the Trinity Episcopal church was featured for the wedding of former San Jose State coed Athena Changras to Peter Mastora recently.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Changras of Campbell, and before coming to SJS she attended Campbell high school. Mastora received his education in San Jose and European schools. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Mastora of San Jose.

The former Miss Changras chose a bouffant white organdy gown for her wedding. A cloche edged with orange blossoms secured her fingertip veil. She carried stephanotis and ivy.

Sole female attendant was the bride's cousin, Jennie Chag of Goffstown, N.H. Best man was Bill Demetraco poulos of Pittsburgh.

The newlyweds greeted guests in the garden of the Changras home.

Gerald Westlakes Are Among SJSC Just-Weds

Among the newly married couples back in San Jose this fall are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Westlake.

The Westlakes were married late this summer in a simple ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. H. Poe of Barstow, Calif. The Rev. George Helliwell of the First Congregational church performed the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Westlake is the former Miss Rosalie Smith of Barstow. She chose a grey velvet dress and carried pink roses and stephanotis with her white Bible.

Miss Mary Lou Gardner of Barstow was the bride's only attendant. She wore a navy blue velvet dress and carried a hand corsage of red roses.

The benedict's brother, Raymond Westlake, acted as best man.

A garden reception followed the ceremony. Sorority sisters of the new Mrs. Westlake, Janet Larke of San Francisco, and Joan Condon of Vallejo, presided at the reception table. Mrs. Mildred Proctor of Barstow also aided the girls.

When the young couple left for their honeymoon trip, Mrs. Westlake donned a maroon and buff colored checked suit with navy and buff accessories. They journeyed to Santa Barbara and Big Sur Lodge along the Monterey coast.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Smith of Barstow. She was graduated from San Jose State college in June.

Westlake is the son of Mrs. Harold Downey, also of Barstow. He is attending San Jose State college.

Newlywed Returns To Studies Here

Among the newlyweds on campus this quarter is the former Maryevelyn Peterson. She exchanged nuptial vows with Richard Roy Bartholomew recently at a candlelight ceremony in the Calvary Methodist church.

The bride is affiliated with Alpha Gamma art fraternity on campus. Prior to attending San Jose State college she was graduated from Campbell Union high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred A. Peterson of Campbell.

Bartholomew also attended San Jose State college. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Bartholomew of San Jose.

The bride wore a gown of French tulle over ivory satin fashioned with long tapered sleeves and a fitted bodice. Her fingertip veil was secured by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a rainbow Bible marked by a white orchid and streamers of stephanotis and satin.

Her attendants were Miss Betty Lou Peterson, maid of honor, and the Misses Nancy Bartholomew, Beverly Austin, Katherine Sproul, and Mrs. Beverly Johnson, bridesmaids.

Standing with the benedict as best man was Donald Martin. Ushers were Marshal Bean, Norman Crowel, E. D. Anderson, and Norman Healy.

Cupid Reveals Cross-Pitney Nuptial Plans

The engagement of Norvella Pitney to Harold Cross was revealed to the bride-elect's Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority sisters at a summer meeting when a tiny cupid passed the traditional box of chocolates. Acting the herald's role was Miss Pitney's nephew, Mark Pitney.

The bride-to-be, a senior commercial art major, is a member of Delta Phi Delta, national honorary art fraternity. Among her duties on the Spartan campus this quarter is being fashion editor of Lyeurgus. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pitney of San Jose.

Wedding Bells Ring Out For Recent Graduates

The former Miss Barbara Joan Cabbage wore an original New York gown when she became the bride of Earl William Norris recently. The dress featured a bouffant tulle skirt over taffeta with velvet petals scattered over the tulle. The petals also accented the full sleeves, and tiny buttons on the bodice ended in a V design. Matching mitts complemented the costume. An illusion veil was held in place by a cloche and she carried a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis.

The ceremony took place in Trinity Episcopal church and the rites were read by the Rev. Mark Rifenshark.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, John William Cabbage, and as she walked down the aisle chrysanthemums, palms, gladioli and magnolia leaves adorned the church.

Miss Nancy Ann Cabbage served as maid of honor and wore a green faille gown. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with pale green satin ribbon.

Mrs. Bonnie Young, Mrs. Robert Temple, Mrs. William Quadros Jr., and Mrs. David Popp served as bridesmaids. They wore green faille dresses and carried bouquets of green carnations.

Best man duties were performed by Wayne Albert Meyer. Ushers included Claude Finley Jr., Kirk Samis, Elroy Shank Jr., and Robert Temple.

Palo Alto High school is the bride's alma mater and she was graduated from San Jose State college where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Norris is the son of Mrs. Evelyn Norris and the late Wesley E. Norris of San Jose. He, too, is a recent graduate of San Jose State college. He was a member of Delta Theta Omega and Eta Mu Pi. He is now assistant manager of Norris Yardage store in San Jose.

W. Jenvey Weds Margaret Weaver

Registered at San Jose State college as man and wife this quarter are Walter Arthur Jenvey and the former Margaret Weaver. The couple were married recently at the Calvary Methodist church in San Jose.

The newlyweds are both senior commerce majors. Mrs. Jenvey holds membership in Delta Gamma sorority and Black Masque, senior women's honor society. She was formerly a Spartan Spear.

The benedict belongs to Delta Sigma Gamma. He is planning to enter business with his father, M. A. Jenvey in Lindsay after his June, 1951 graduation.

The former Miss Weaver's wedding gown was fashioned in white chantilly lace and nylon net over skinner satin. It was styled with a peter pan collar, and a basque bodice fastened by tiny satin buttons and long fitted sleeves.

She wore an heirloom veil of Belgian lace over tulle secured by a bonnet of pleated tulle and wax orange blossoms. The bride carried a white rainbow prayer book marked by white orchids, stephanotis, and satin streamers.

A sextet of bridal attendants preceded Miss Weaver down the aisle of the church. Honor attendants were Miss Barbara Estep and Mrs. Tom P. Chamberlain. Taking secondary roles were Mrs. H. J. McFadden, Miss Joyce Lehigh, Mrs. L. A. Cavanagh, and Miss Mardel Maynard.

They wore buffant gowns of nylon net and lace over satin in peach, pale green, and yellow hues. Lace guantlets, cloches, and matching bouquets completed the ensembles.

The bride's brother, Donald Weaver, served as best man. Ushers were John Stansfield, Richard Kripper, Harry Powers, and Sherman Shroder, fraternity brothers of the benedict, and Bruce Stevens, the bride's cousin.

LIONS TO RULE 6-POINT CHOICE TONIGHT

Spartans Meet Loyola In 'Game of the Week'

By "ROD" RODRIGUES

Tonight's football game between Loyola Lions and the San Jose State Spartans has assumed important bearing in the race for the mythical championship of the West coast independents. The victor will loom as the outstanding contender for the title and should figure to be close to the top at the finish.

The Spartans suffered a serious set-back when it was revealed that the services of 220-lb. Center Keith Carpenter would be lost for the Lion game, and at least for two weeks and possibly for the season.

Carpenter sustained a knee injury in the Santa Clara game. The giant pivotman has been one of the top defensemen in the Spartan's three previous games. Bob Hitchcock will get the call in Carpenter's spot.

Loyola, which tops the nation in ground defense and is ninth in total offense, will field a big, bruising outfit, well-schooled in basic fundamentals and very well coached.

The Jordan Olivar coached aggregation is the best to come out of the southland in years.

"Socker" Musacco

Led by 212-lb. Fullback George "Socker" Musacco, the Coast's leading ground gainer last season, and Quarterback Don Klosterman, the Loyolans have a duo that rates on par with the Raider's Quarterback Gene Menges and Fullback Harry Beck.

The Lions' two top ends Gene Brito and Don Klinkhammer are attracting a lot of attention, and will be challenging San Jose's top wingman, Billy Wilson, for game honors.

Although the Spartan's line is rated to be very rugged and very hard to move, the Lion forward wall is reputed to be just as tough. Coach Bob Bronzan himself says Loyola's line is the toughest he's seen since that of Ed McKeever's USF team.

Both lines will be about equal in strength with the Lions having the edge due to the loss of the Spartan's Carpenter.

Mendonsa Will Play

Gib Mondonsa, fleet Raider back, is still troubled by a gimpy ankle, but is slated to see action. Addition of the Raiders' best all around back, Mendonsa, coupled with the one-two punch of scat-running back Buddy Traina and the booming of Harry Beck, will give the Lions plenty of trouble.

Jack Cunningham, Loyola publicity director, reports that the Spartans are 7-point favorites in Los Angeles. The opposite prevails here, according to the experts.

San Jose State has three good games under their belts. Losing to a potential Rose-Bowl-bound Stanford team, 33-16; defeating a scrappy San Diego State team, 26-0, and subduing a spirited Santa Clara Bronco squad, 14-10.

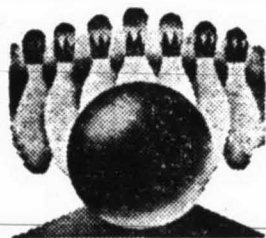

Loyola, on the other hand, has not been beaten. True they romped over a much-walked-over St. Mary's eleven, 48-0, and they deflated a Pepperdine Wave team, 50-14, without working up a sweat.

But this is no real indication of their strength. Tonight's game provides the toughest foe to date for the Lions, and again the outcome is rated a toss-up.

HALFBACK GIBBY MENDONSA AND GENE MENGES

Although the Spartans are rated six-point underdogs tonight, Coach Bob Bronzan is hoping that the combination of Gene Menges (right) to Gibby Mendonsa will give San Jose enough power on the ground to upset the experts. Mendonsa is still bothered by injuries, but should see plenty of action tonight against Loyola. However, the loss of Linebacker Keith Carpenter will be felt, unless Bob Hitchcock comes through with an outstanding performance that will stop the Lions' mighty line crusher George Musacco.

Duel Sunday:

No 'On-side' Kicks

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—John Q. Fan finally gets a break from the football coaches here on Sunday.

Coach Joe Kuharich of University of San Francisco and Coach Joe Reutz of St. Mary's have agreed there will be no "on-side" kicks during their football game so that their two ace ball packers, Ollie Matson and John Henry Johnson, will get a chance to give the crowd a thrill or two with their run-backs.

In three games this year, the great Matson has had a chance to pack back only two kickoffs—gaining 62 yards on the two tries. Stanford used the on-side kick all the way through against the Dons, to the disgust of fans.

Johnson returned a kickoff 91 yards for the Gaels against Georgia and returned one 82 yards against College of Pacific. But against Loyola last week, the on-side kick was used again—and the result, no thrills for the customers.

Baseball Lingers On As Pitchers Are Bought and Sold

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UP)—The San Jose Red Sox of the Class C California league today announced the sale of two players.

Pitcher Walt Clough, a right-hander, was sold to Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league. Clough won 18, lost 11 last season and had an earned-run average of 2.35 per nine innings.

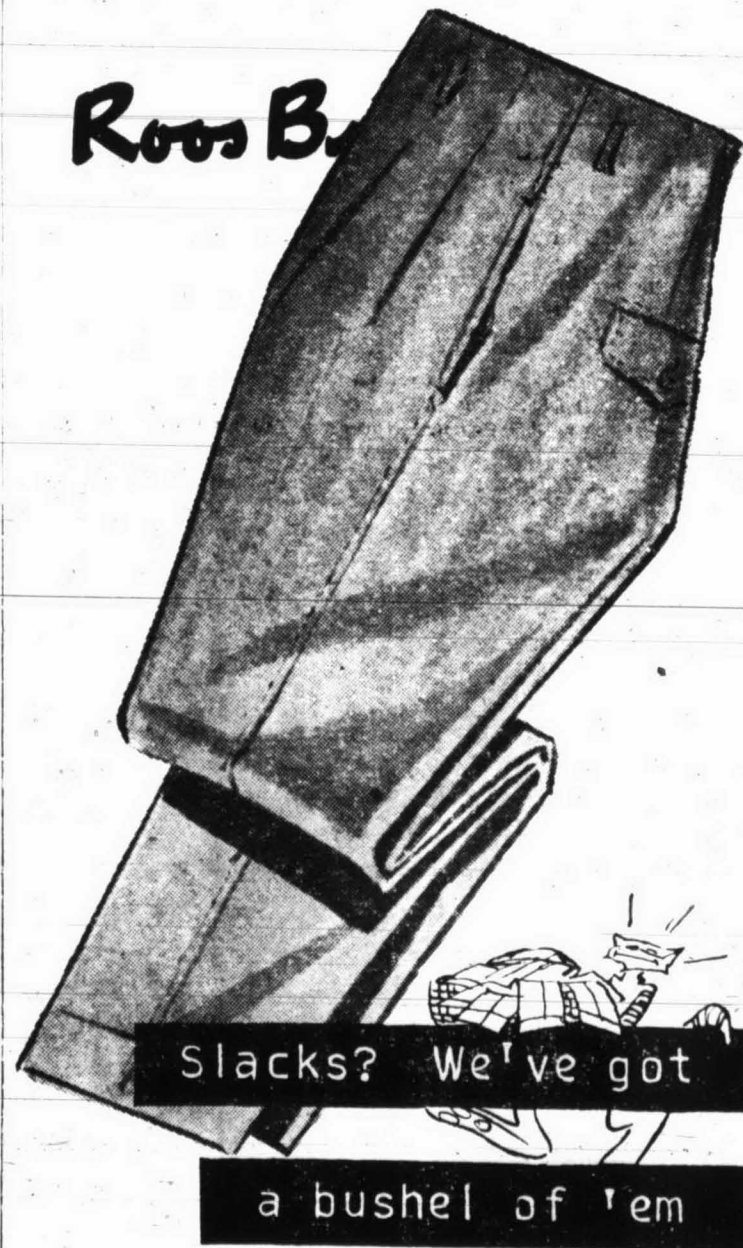

Catcher Warren (Sheriff) Robinson was peddled to Birmingham of the Double A Southern association. Robinson, a veteran of 12 years in professional baseball, hit .305 for the Red Sox in 1950.

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today announced the purchase of Pitcher Cornelius Dempsey from the San Francisco Seals for $75,000.

The Pirates purchased Dempsey on a "look" deal which gives them permission to return the veteran to the Seals within 30 days after the major league season opens, if he does not prove satisfactory.

Trojans Missed Bet; Spartans Grab An Ace

By JIM DOWNS

Fullbacks come and go, but many moons will pass before another fullback goes like Harry Beck went last Saturday night at Spartan Stadium.

To say that Beck was instrumental in San Jose's win over Santa Clara is a gross understatement.

The 187-lb. blond bomber ripped through the Broncos' line almost at will, and when the final sound- ed, statisticians revealed that Beck had scored both touchdowns for the Spartans in their 14 to 10 triumph.

"Linemen Won Game"

Beck made most of his yardage on slants off tackle, and Harry will be the first to tell you that "Our linemen were really opening up holes. They were the guys who actually won the game."

When asked about his nullified TD run in the final quarter, Harry said he didn't remember much. The soft-spoken griddler said, "I thought I had run about 20 yards." During this particular phase of the game Harry was visually a tired, worn-out foot- ball player; he had already carried the ball over 20 times!

No boy wonder, Harry's birth certificate says he's 26 years old. He was graduated from Eagle Rock high in Los Angeles in 1941. While there he lettered in foot- ball, track, and baseball.

Weighing only 160 lbs. at the time, Harry was a standout tail- back in a single wing defense.

Was a Tailback

From high school Harry went to Glendale JC where he again played tailback.

"We weren't much good," says Harry, but records show that Glendale upset the Southern Cali- fornia frosh, 7 to 6, in 1942 and a certain Harry Beck kicked the game-winning extra point.

Playing on that Trojan frosh were John Ferraro, Dean Dill, George Callahan, and Ernie Tol- man. Ferraro later became an all-American tackle, Callahan made all-coast, and the other two became first string on the SC varsity.

In 1943 Harry began a three- year stint in the navy. He became a photographic instructor and among other things he played a little football.

While at Miami Air Station in Florida, Harry played in the same backfield with Lloyd Merriman, former Stanford great, who now plays pro-baseball for the Cincin- nati Reds.

Dropped From Team

Harry entered Southern Cali- fornia in 1947 and promptly made the first team in spring practice as a halfback. The following au- tumn he was cut from the squad to the surprise of everybody in- cluding himself. So, Harry pulled stakes and headed to San Jose.

Incidentally, Harry claims Gene Menges is every bit as good as SC's star quarterback Jim Powers. According to Harry, "Powers was probably the bet- ter passer, but I think Gene is a little smoother ball handler."

Varsity Water Poloists Meet Cards Today

Coach Charlie Walker's frosh and varsity water poloists will journey to Stanford today to face the Indian mermen at 3:30 and 4:30 respectively.

The Spartan fishtails are still striving to offset the loss of forwards Haines, Keeler and Grass via the graduation route, and have a good chance of doing so with Hamilton, Postal and Millevich at the scoring posts.

Bob Hamilton scored twice and Dick Lebedeff once as the varsity snatched a close 3-2 win from the Cal Aggies at Davis Wednesday.

Sequoia High school nipped the freshman Walkerites Monday in an 11-10 thriller, but the frosh squad should be ready for the Indians.

SJS Frosh Meet Strong USF Team

San Jose State college freshmen will carry the gridiron wars to University of San Francisco frosh tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when the two teams will do battle at St. Ignatius high school in the Bay city.

The contest will pit a stronger, more experienced USF team against a Spartan team lacking in depth and short on practice. The Gold and White yearlings have had less than three weeks to pre- pare for their first game.

'Dad' McCallum Displays Fatherly Pride in 'Daughters'

By RAY HASSE

The beaming smile which replaces the otherwise shy visage of Dr. G. A. McCallum today is visible evidence of a father's pride in return for the admiration of his many daughters. The occasion —

Spartan Daily sponsored "Dad's Day."

What—you didn't know that Dr. McCallum was a father? Well, no, he hasn't passed out any cigars in honor of the 80 bouncing Chi Omegas who refer to him as "Dad", but, says Dr. McCallum with a bashful gleam in his eyes, "I'm proud to have such lovely daughters—and in such quantity, too!"

"Of course, he adds with a back-of-the-hand whisper, "I'm very fortunate in that my paternal obligations are not of a monetary nature."

Dad McCallum feels, however, that "Dad's Day" could prove quite interesting from the standpoint of a father being shown about the campus by his daughters.

In explaining how he became known as Dad to such a cross section of feminine pulchritude, Dr. McCallum logically points to the fact that he married a Chi Omegan. Mrs. McCallum, he says, had been personnel adviser to the group for some time, and, as a result, he found himself lending a hand whenever tasks arose demanding masculine attention. The step of becoming official Dad naturally followed.

Having thus gravitated to fatherhood by popular acclaim, Dad McCallum is looking forward to gaining a considerable number of sons as well—sons-in-law, that is. This is the expectant attitude of the shy faculty member in respect to Chi Omega Knights, an organization to which he refers as the "humble after-date fraternity originally established at Stanford university by males perched around the sorority on the very brink of matrimony."

Dr. Duncan Cut Has Surprising History Angle

By MARION SUMMERS

Now that a new, gentleman-of-distinction shot of Dr. Carl Duncan has appeared in the Spartan Daily, the true story can be told.

Yes, abominable though it is, that "unkind" cut has a fascinating history. It seems that, several years ago, a racial problem rose on Washington Square. Opinions were shunted back and forth, and, per usual, no satisfactory agreement was reached.

Finally, our hero, Dr. Duncan, came forward with a reasonable, logical solution to the whole thing, and Daily editors scented a front page story. A photographer was assigned to take a photo of Dr. Duncan, and when the shot was developed—voilà! The eyes were closed!

Necessity is a wonderful thing. The quick-thinking photographer inked in a pair of heavyweight-wrestler eyes. Hence the expression which has brought Dr. Duncan's family and friends to grief.

Another example of Dr. Duncan's pictorial jinx (if you're still with us) occurred awhile back when the paper mache manikin disappeared from the Health and Hygiene department. Thanks to an eager alumnus, the manikin turned up in front of a woman's dorm at Stanford.

Again, the Daily spotted front page news.

Next day the story appeared, accompanied by a photo of Dr. Duncan and the manikin.

Naturally, this cut could not be used subsequently. Think of the difficulty of identification.

Machine Reveals Unborn's Sex

LONDON, Oct. 12 (UP)—Two inventors, one of them a Polish priest, claimed today to have perfected a machine which can tell whether an unborn child is a boy or a girl.

Radio Mechanic F. J. Billington, who built the gadget in his shop at Kingskerswell, said he made secret tests on pregnant women and birth records proved him right every time.

Father A. J. K. Glazewski, padre at a Polish hostel, said he helped Billington perfect the machine.

"A lot of expectant mothers dropped in my shop over the last year and a half," Billington said. "Unknown to them, I switched on my gadget, took a peek at the radar screen and jotted down my finds."

"I checked my record after the baby was born. I scored a bulls-eye every time."

The radio repairman said the idea behind the machine was to determine whether persons were healthy or ill and that the sex-determining angle sort of crept in.

"Healthy persons radiate rays of electrical energy which can be picked up on my machine from a distance of 21 inches," he said. "Anyone who has something wrong with him radiates weaker rays and I can tell by the flickerings on the screen that he is not well."

Billington said his machine could not diagnose a specific illness but it might be useful to doctors in determining the general conditions of a patient.

How does the machine determine whether an unborn child will be a boy or a girl? Billington won't tell.

"Medical etiquette," he explained.

For "Dads' Day" the youngest pre-registrant for the SJS journalism department, Mark L. Slater, 2, is shown with his father, Homer L. Slater, senior journalism major.

The elder Slater is pointing out an error in grammar that Mark has committed.

Mark's newswriting is not too good as yet for he was flunked out of a reporting class one day, because he failed to report something urgent.

Mark eats like a bull dog, and always presents a bold face mornings when he tells a type of food he wants laid out.

Mark lives at Spartan City with his mother and father, Ruth and Homer Slater.

He was born Oct. 29, 1948, weighing 4 lbs. 3 oz. After being in an incubator for two weeks, he was allowed to go home.

Today he weighs 25 lbs. and has 11 teeth. Mark and his father are planning to attend "Dads' Night" at the Spartan-Loyola game tonight at Spartan Stadium. —photo by Arena.

Luscious Lip Stick Marks Dr. Sweeney

Dr. William Sweeney of the Education department had some tall explaining to do recently when he appeared with a luscious cupid's bow applied in lipstick across the back of his jacket.

It seems that Dr. Sweeney and Dr. Gertrude Cavins (formerly Gert Witherspoon) were classmates at San Jose State college back in 1929, and since then Dr. Cavins has done a bit of experimenting with cosmetics.

The inference is pretty plain, Lipstick will be lipstick.

But, as Dr. Sweeney claimed, "Whoever it was who left the mark was chasing me!"

Isn't that just like a man?

Air Force Makes New Training Rule

Under a revised ruling of the Air Force department, seniors in the Air ROTC program may now apply for pilot training 180 days prior to graduation. The previous ruling held applicants to within 90 days of completion of college work.

Qualified students interested in the flight training may contact Major Howard Brown in B82.

Physical examinations for basic Air ROTC students were given last night in the college health office, from 7-9 p.m. Students in the advanced program are receiving examinations at Moffett Naval Air station.

Discussion Starts On Rooters' Train

The rooters' train committee for the COP football game will meet in the Student Union Wednesday, Oct. 18, at 4:30 p.m., according to John Melindas, chairman of the committee.

All organizations interested in reserving a car or a section of the car are asked to be present.

Discussion of rules governing the trip and responsibilities of organizations reserving space for themselves and their friends will take place.

All interested students are invited to attend, according to Melindas.

Poytress Tries to Get Historian for Speech

ROTC To Issue Deferments Spring Quarter

Instructions for issuing draft deferments to Army ROTC students have been received by Col. James J. Hea, head of the Army Reserve Officers Training corps at San Jose State college.

Colonel Hea stated that deferments will be allowed students enrolled in the basic military training program, upon the basis of their present work, and suitability for entrance into the advanced course. However, no deferments will be issued until spring quarter. This will give the student two quarters in which to make satisfactory grades and remain at Washington Square.

After comparing the quota allowed SJS with the number of students who make satisfactory grades in basic military sciences, Colonel Hea said, "The quota appears sufficient to defer all that I expect to. But, if a student is called and comes to our department for deferment, he will have to be making passing grades in his major subjects as well as military sciences."

Final determination of any deferments will be handled by a board of three men. Included will be two men from the military department and one civilian college instructor.

Students who are deferred will automatically enter the armed services for two years, following graduation.

Bay Area Artists Display Paintings

Water colors by some of the most renowned Bay Area painters will be on display for the first time Monday in the art building.

These artists, belonging to the East Bay Society of water color painters, represent the finest current talent in San Francisco and the vicinity, according to Dr. Marques Reitzel, art department head.

The works will be shown for two weeks. Donald Skoro and Benjamin Steinzor, art instructors, will prepare the exhibition.

Student Exhibits Items Collected in Korea

One of the most striking features of the new library exhibit of items from Korea is the almost total absence of materials pertaining to war. George M. Patterson, a senior public administration major, collected the items while on duty there in 1946-47.

There is an antique or pseudo-antique mother-of-pearl box reputed to be over 100 years old and of the type that is traditionally given to princesses at birth. Hope chest items of various kinds are locked inside and the box is buried on the palace grounds until the day of the wedding. Or so the story goes, Patterson said.

Another part of the collection is a bust of Hoti, the god of happiness. The Koreans, Patterson said, have a mythology all their own, including gods of fire, water and death.

Made in the homes of residents of Seoul and included in the exhibit are two lacquered boxes embellished with peacock and flower designs in mother-of-pearl on black surfaces. An interesting contrast is achieved between the pale red of the flowers and the bright silver of the peacocks.

Watched Process
Patterson, who had occasion to watch the work on the boxes, said that the lacquer is applied hot and followed by the adding of the mother-of-pearl design. The boxes, then, are rubbed vigorously to a brilliant finish, he said.

An oriental cast was added to the eyes and teeth of subjects reproduced in paint on silk from a photograph that Patterson had copied by a Korean.

Propaganda Magazine
One of the items that pertains to war is the copy of a periodical entitled "The New Order of Greater East Asia," an example of Japanese propaganda printed during their occupation of Korea during the war.

The magazine sets forth the Japanese motives in the war and cites the "imperialism" of the U.S. and Britain. It advertises Manchuko in glowing terms and, more seriously, tells of the capitulation of Singapore and the Dutch East Indies.

Other materials on exhibit include fans, a mandarin coat with red and blue embroidery on a black background, and a Japanese kimono of white silk with a peacock on the back.

Patterson, who was in public relations in connection with the Russian-American joint commission on Korea, said that it was obvious to personnel in the area that trouble would develop from the drawing of an arbitrary line dividing the two spheres of influence.

Russians Peer Back
He told of going on patrols to suppress Communist riots and of searching the area beyond the parallel with binoculars only to find Russians peering back.

A great many North Koreans fled into the American zone where they were fed and cared for by the Army, Patterson said. He told also of widespread homelessness in the Seoul area and of the Army's attempt to set up facilities to care for the many orphans.

Lobodinski Names Mitchell Assistant For Fall Quarter

Stanley J. Lobodinski, newly-appointed police chief for the student police corps at San Jose State college, yesterday named his assistant chief and squad officers, according to the police school office.

Appointed as assistant is Dave Mitchell, who will also act as public relations director for the group.

The four squad leaders are Sgts. Joseph DeSoto, Wes Dobbs, Jim Holcomb and Leland Jamison. Armand Hagstrom was appointed head of the records squad. Corporals named as assistants to the above men are John Duran, Ivan Bland, Lawrence Hedin, Charles Casey and William-DeLapp.

Lobodinski served as assistant chief last year, and was appointed to his new post by Willard E. Schmidt, head of the SJS police school. DeSoto and Mitchell served on last year's staff.

The men will police athletic games, dances and other school functions as well as private affairs. The service is maintained by the school as an aid to the college as well as to give the police majors practical experience.

Critical Period Causes Worry

Threats of manpower mobilization for a war emergency have caused uncertain feeling among the Engineering faculty, department head, Dr. Ralph J. Smith, indicated recently.

At a general faculty meeting held before the opening of classes, Dr. Smith introduced new members of his staff, some of whom were to be introduced for "the first and last time."

There are 14 instructors in the Engineering department, including those on a part-time basis. Five of the staff are members of reserve service organizations and in event of total mobilization the department would be seriously depleted.

"The only optimism concerning this threat to the department," Dr. Smith asserted, "lies in the fact that if the faculty members are drafted into service, a great portion of our engineering students would probably also be called. Therefore, the possibilities of being understaffed would be somewhat diminished by smaller classes."

Engineering faculty men heading reserve service lists include Allen Israelson, a major in the Air Material Command; Norman Gunderson, a major in the Army Corps of Engineers; Carlton McWilliams, a naval lieutenant in the civil engineers; Sherwood J. Brady, another major in the Air Material Command, and Kenneth Hogan, a lieutenant in the Navy.

First of 'Days' Will Start Soon

First of a planned series of annual Transfer "Y" days will be initiated on the San Carlos street turf at 3 p.m. Saturday, according to James A. Martin, executive secretary of the Student "Y."

The affair will include athletic games, barbecue dinner, after dinner program, and dancing until 10 p.m.

The after dinner program will feature several types of entertainment, including guest speakers of importance to new students at Washington Square. Folk and square dancing are planned with Herb Thomas doing the calling. Thomas is also the chairman of the affair. Leona Crouch and Del Duke are co-chairmen in charge of the entertainment program.

Bids to the event may be purchased at the Student "Y," 272 S.

Medical Students Must Take Nov. 6 Test For Stanford

Students who intend to apply for admission in any medical school for the autumn semester of 1951 must take a medical aptitude test Nov. 6 at Stanford University, according to Dr. Jay C. Elder, dean of general education.

It is necessary for those who wish to take the test to file an application form at Stanford. The necessary forms may be secured by writing the Registrar's office at Stanford, Dean Elder said.

Students entering California Schools of Dentistry for the fall quarter of 1951 must take a dental aptitude test, the first one will be given during the week-end of the Thanksgiving vacation period. The second test will be given during the Christmas holidays, the Dean pointed out.

Dental schools will send applicants the forms necessary to be eligible for the aptitude tests. The three dental schools in California are College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco, College of Dentistry in San Francisco, and University of Southern California in Los Angeles, the dean said.

Air ROTC Brass Wear New Uniform

Officers of the Air ROTC at San Jose State college will soon be wearing new style blue Air Force uniforms.

Col. Thomas A. Lee, head of the Air ROTC at SJS, announced that his staff travelled to Hamilton Air Force base yesterday to be issued the new winter uniforms.

"Only a limited number will be available," Lee said, "because of the re-activation of so many reserve units. But, as soon as the clothing supply is more adequate, the ROTC students will also be fitted."

Seventh street, and at a booth in the Library arch. Price of 75 cents includes dinner.

Sponsor of the affair is the Student "Y," joint YM-YWCA organization at San Jose State college.

Homecoming Dance Comes Up in Nov.

The main project on the agenda of the Social Affairs committee right now is the Homecoming dance, to be held Nov. 10. Theme for the annual affair will be "School Days," according to Lois Sunnergren, chairman of the decoration committee. Other committee chairmen are Janice Evans, Jill Iverson and Shirley Hubbard.

The committee chose the Palomar ballroom as the setting for the dressy sport event.

Many of the student body social gatherings, to which admission is an ASB card, are planned by the Social Affairs committee. Another annual dance they sponsor is Wintermist, which will be held this year on Dec. 9 at the Civic auditorium.

Members of the committee meet every Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Student Union to discuss and plan details for coming social events.

Alice Hays is chairman of the committee this year, and Betty Ralph is recording secretary.
