SJS Student Council to Decide Admission Charge Measure

The San Jose State college Student Council will act this afternoon on a Co-Rec committee request to charge admission to some of its functions. The council meets at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Union building, according to Dave Down, ASB president.

The request of the Co-Rec committee is being made to enable it to make up the difference between its ASB appropriation and its expenses.

The representatives-at-large for the Community Welfare council will also be chosen at the meeting. Applicants should submit their requests in writing and be present at the council meeting.

The possibility of San Jose State college participating in the Intercollegiate Charity show will also be discussed, according to Down.

Other matters on the agenda are: approval of the B'nai B'rith constitution, Student Court report on the nomination assembly, and discussion on the Board of Control's recommended cut in the debate team budget.

UP ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, Oct. 16—Liberal Republicans jumped aboard an Ike-for-President bandwagon today in a boom for General Dwight D. Eisenhower sparked by Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

General Eisenhower today expressed his thanks to Governor Dewey for the compliment of a presidential boost but said he had not changed his mind about liking his job at Columbia university.

"My convictions as to the place and methods through which I can best contribute something to the cause of freedom have been often expressed," Eisenhower said.

"They have not changed. Here at Columbia university I have a task that would excite the pride and challenge the qualifications and strength of any man—I still believe that it offers to such an individual as myself rich opportunities for serving America."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—The Supreme Court refused today to rule on whether censorship of movies by cities and states is constitutional.

By its failure to act, the court left standing the movie bans in various communities having censorship boards.

Only Associate Justice William O. Douglas voted in favor of a Supreme Court review of the censorship issue.

The test case turned aside by the court today was brought by the RD-DR Corp., New York, producers of the movie "Lost Boundaries", which was banned in Atlanta, Georgia.

The picture is about a negro family which lived for many years in a New Hampshire town where their neighbors believed them to be white.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 16—Governor Earl Warren told a Civil Rights Congress delegation seeking clemency for a condemned negro today, they came "under a cloud" because of their connection with the congress.

"It's Communist dominated from top to bottom," he said.

The group asked for a commutation to life imprisonment for Robert Wesley Wells. He is under death sentence for attacking a guard while he was serving a life sentence at Folsom prison.

Half of SJS Employees Sign Oaths Yesterday

Approximately one-half of San Jose State college's 700 employees signed the loyalty oath yesterday according to Miss Edith Graves, notary public. At press time last night 342 signers had filled out the forms, thus insuring their monthly pay checks.

There have been no recalcitrants as yet, stated Miss Graves.

Today's signing schedule is as follows: Women's Gymnasium, Dept. office, 8:15 a.m.

8:50 a.m.; Home Economics building, hallway, 9-10:30 a.m.; Industrial Arts Bldg., dept. office, 11-11:55 a.m.; Music Bldg., dept. office, 1:15-1:45 p.m.; Office of Bldg. Superv., Barracks 32, 2:55-4 p.m.; Administration Bldg., Room 32, 4:10-5 p.m.

Opposition to the oath was expressed in an open letter to the Spartan Daily by Dr. Claude N. Settles, associate professor of sociology. Dr. Settles wrote as follows:

"I was asked by a Spartan Daily reporter to state my intended action regarding the California loyalty oath. Of course I shall take the oath, even though I like every other employee to whom I have talked, object to the indignity. I shall comply with the law in the same way that many, if not most, German citizens became Nazis forced to do so in the name of loyalty to my country.

Objects to Oath

I object to the oath because it is anti-constitutional if not unconstitutional, Article XX, Section 3 of the state constitution, after requiring an oath to support the state and federal constitutions, states: 'And no other oath declaration, or test shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust'. How can I, while possessed of a logical mind, take an oath when I have already taken an oath to support a constitution which says I shall not take the second oath?

"I object to the oath because it is psychologically unsound. A parent does not elicit loyalty from his children by forcing them on threat of starvation to sign pledges of allegiance. Nor can any country create loyalty by forcefully exacting pledges of subservience. Countries that have tried it have inevitably had to resort to the firing squad, the gas chamber, and the slave labor camps, and the mysterious disappearances of intimate friends and relatives have become matters of course. The philosophy of 'your-loyalty-or-your-life' is not a good foundation for democracy. It does not encourage loyalty by promoting pride in one's country; it stifles loyalty by fixing a suspicious eye on one and all.

"Utterly Useless"

"I object to the oath because it is utterly useless. It will not uncover one single communist. It will not bring to light one subversive act that would not have been known anyway. It will, if history teaches anything, make communists more wary and their acts more devious and vindictive.

"I don't like communism. I shall fight against it and argue against it at every opportunity. I believe in democracy as we have taught it in the past and, with certain obvious exceptions, as we have lived it in America. But is there any logic in fighting one form of totalitarianism if, in the process we, too, become totalitarian?"

"Claude N. Settles."

US Air Force Reserve Needs 1200 Specialists Immediately

Approximately 1200 communications and electronic specialists are needed immediately by the Air Force reserve, according to word received today by Col. Thomas A. Lee, head of the Air ROTC at San Jose State college.

Men who qualify for the work would, if appointed, be subject to immediate call to active duty.

Paul Pitman Inaugurated

A double-decked rainbow breaking through cloudy skies formed the backdrop for the inauguration of President Paul M. Pitman at the College of Idaho, Saturday afternoon.

The former San Jose State college Dean of Men took office before a huge gathering of educators from as far away as Harvard university, declared Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, who attended representing San Jose State college.

"President Pitman wanted to be remembered to all of his friends at San Jose State," said Dr. MacQuarrie.

The inauguration took place at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon. That evening President Pitman was the honored guest at the College of Idaho-Whitman college football game. The underdog College of Idaho scored a 27-20 victory over its traditional foe.

Returning from the inauguration, President MacQuarrie spent yesterday morning in Sacramento conferring with Dr. Aubrey Douglass.

Friday Last Day To Drop Courses

No courses may be dropped after Friday, Oct. 20, warns the office of Miss Viola Palmer, registrar. Students who have yet to file final programs are urged to do so as early as possible.

A late fee of $1 will be charged to those who turn in programs to the Registrar's office after the deadline.

Exceptions to the above requirements are made to men who hold a BS degree with a major in any of the sciences listed, and who have had a minimum of one year of experience in the field. A master's degree may be substituted for the year's experience.

Those applying must have passed their 21st birthday date, and on the day of appointment, not have passed the age limit set for the grade desired. Age limits are: second lieutenant, 28; first lieutenant, 33; captain, 37; major, 45; Lt. colonel, 51; and colonel, 56.

Speech Tonight By NEA Head

Miss Corma Mowrey, president of the National Education Association, will speak tonight at 8 o'clock at Woodrow Wilson junior high school.

The SJSC branch of the California Student Teachers Association is providing the music for the conclave.

Miss Mowrey's topic will be "Services that the NEA will Give Teachers in California on a National Basis". Her visit to San Jose is being sponsored by the Santa Clara County Teachers Association. All education majors and others interested in the field are welcome tonight, according to CSTA official Jim Weybrew.

by their deans: Dr. James C. DeVoss, dean of professional education; Dr. Jay C. Elder, dean of general education; and Dr. Harrison F. Heath, coordinator of technical programs.

The Weather

Dear Students: Keep off your yat-chits today, as the anemometer will be whipping around at a speed which, in combination with other nasty manifestations of the elements, will make slough cruising bruising on the hull and will get the canvas wet. That applies only to small craft by Chris and old inner tubes, if you have a 40 footer or above forget it and have fun, Errol.

Explanation of above: It will blow and rain.

Sgt. Alvin E. Ousey Receives Transfer to Bozeman, Mont.

Transfer of M/Sgt. Alvin E. Ousey, Washington Square ROTC instructor, to Bozeman, Mont., was announced Friday by Col. James J. Hea, head of the SJS ROTC staff.

The instructor of military sciences and weapons will leave the campus soon to begin his new duties in the Montana city on Nov. 1. He will serve on the staff of the Bozeman Reserve armory, with the advanced rank of captain.

Ousey has been living in San Jose at 980 S. 12th street with his wife and two children, but will move his family to Montana.

The popular ROTC instructor expressed regret at leaving San Jose State college, because he said his stay here has been enjoyable. He hopes to return to the teaching staff "as soon as present world conditions have been settled, and military training is again on a normal level".

Col. Hea feels that Ousey's transfer will be a great loss to the campus. "Men of quality are not available, and it will be hard to find a replacement for M/Sgt. Ousey," he said. "All officers know that the non-commissioned men are the backbone of the army, and Ousey is one of the best."

Belgian MPs Arrest 1950 SJS Graduate in Cologne, Germany

A French beret was the cause of the arrest of J. Marcel Moreau, 1950 graduate of San Jose State college, by a detachment of Belgian military police in Cologne, Western Europe, recently. Moreau was stopped by police at the Hohestrasse intersection and asked to produce identification, according to Lothar Bossing of Koln-Braunsfeld, Germany, a friend of Moreau. The gendarmes did not think his passport was authentic because Moreau's beret makes him look more like a Frenchman than the French, Bossing said. Later, upon proof to officers of the Belgium army, he was released. Belgium occupies that particular part of the British zone of Germany. Many French people buy forged American passports to travel in Western Europe, Bossing pointed out.

Moreau was graduated from SJS with great distinction last June and also received departmental honors in history. He left the United States in August to enroll at the Sorbonne in Paris where he is now taking graduate training in preparation for a foreign service career.

During the World Security conference at San Francisco in 1945 Moreau was the youngest delegation member. That conference created the United Nations. He served on the welcoming committee for the Western Europe delegations because he was acquainted with the Grand Duchess Charlotte and President DuPong of Luxembourg.

In 1944 Moreau was a central California representative in Chicago for a youth program to formulate plans for a post-war American-European exchange of students and ideas.

"Moreau now will be one more advocate for a United Europe," Bossing said.

Contest Among 13 'Lovelies' To be Voters' Big Problem

By JACK GALLAGHER

Women have accepted the phenomenon prosaically, because for time immemorial it has been their business to be beautiful. On Friday, each co-ed will mark her ballot with the objectivity of a scientist. And when the voting is over, the ballots tabulated, and the name of the 1950 Homecoming Queen announced, . . . well, hardly a delicate, feminine eyebrow will be raised.

But the men on the campus are not so calm, or cool, or collected or anything but frustrated at the polls.

As a matter of fact, the Spartan male has been overwhelmed! And for good reason.

Sparta always has had an abundance of fascinating co-eds, but never before has it been necessary to choose the loveliest from a group in which each is, perhaps, the most charming.

Too bad that there are not 13 crowns for 13 Homecoming Queens, and 13 student body floats on which they might ride in the evening parade. Too bad there may not be 13 bonfire rallies on the Santa Clara county fairgrounds and 13 Homecoming football games with St. Mary's in Spartan stadium over which each might reign.

But, the choice must be made. And to further frustrate you already excited connoisseurs who must make the selection, the Spartan Daily presents you with these facts.

Joyce Warren is 20 years old, weighs 123 pounds, has brown hair and browner eyes. She is 5 ft. 6 in. tall, a junior, and comes from Turlock, Calif. Her favorite sport is football, and she likes to swim and dance, and dance, and dance.

Norma Vesco also is 20. Her eyes are a sort of aluring hazel, and her hair is auburn-colored. She is 5 ft. 6 in. tall, and weighs 122 pounds.

Norma is a junior from Santa Barbara, and a member of the Rally committee. Her favorite pastimes are singing and dancing, and her favorite sport is swimming.

Ann Tremaine is 18, weighs 118, and is 5 ft. 4 in. tall. Her hair is a very light-honey color, and her eyes are a fascinating blue. She is a sophomore from Los Angeles. Her hobby is knitting and her favorite sport is tennis.

June Pereira is 21, and 5 ft. 7 in. tall, and weighs 126 pounds. She is a hazel-eyed, brown-haired senior and was raised right here in San Jose.

June loves to hike, or play tennis, or swim. She also charms the piano, and keeps her fingers nimble by knitting.

Jean Martin is 21, weighs 118, and is 5 ft. 5 in. tall. Her hair is a light brown color, and her eyes are dark brown and interesting.

Jean is a senior from Byron, Calif., who likes all sports, indoor and outdoor. However, she likes to ski best of all.

Barbara Lindquist is 19, weighs 116, and is 5 ft. 5½ in. tall. Her hair is brown and her eyes are green, maybe because she comes from Honolulu, Hawaii. Naturally, her favorite sport is swimming.

Nicki Hodgins also is 19. She weighs 125 pounds, and is 5 ft. 5 in. tall. Her hair is a very blond and her eyes are very blue. She is a sophomore from Minneapolis, Minn.

On Friday nights Nicki, surrounded by males with high blood pressure, can be found at Spartan stadium or wherever the football team performs.

Alice Dougherty is 19, weighs 105 pounds, and is 5 ft. 4 in. tall. There are more than two enchanting aspects in Alice's repertoire, the least of which are not her hazel eyes and blond hair.

She is a sophomore, comes from Whittier, and likes to play tennis.

Pat Chisholm is 19, 5 ft. 5 in. tall, and weighs 123 pounds. She has eyes which are neither blue nor green but are a combination of both. Her hair is a deep brown, and she is a sophomore from Burlingame.

Pat likes to cook and knit, and her favorite sport is swimming.

Patty Burke is 21, 5 ft. 5½ in. tall, and weighs 114 pounds. She is a vivacious senior from Hollister whose eyes are blue and whose hair is dark brown.

Patty's hobbies are knitting and painting, and the sports she likes

Fr. Honor Society Plans January Play Entirely in French

The French Honor society of San Jose State college is presenting a play, entirely in French, in the middle of January, according to Dr. Boris Gregory, group adviser.

"The Imaginary Invalid" by Moliere has been selected as the play to be given and will be presented in the Little Theater. It is a writer's comedy with the 17th century as the setting.

Tryouts have not been completed and parts have not been given out yet, except the lead, which is to be played by Dr. Wesley Goddard.

"Any French students who are interested in trying out for some part or who are interested in working on the play with the Student Honor society are welcome", Dr. Gregory stated. Students interested can contact the French Honor society or someone in the French department, Room 25.

Sets for the play will be designed and constructed by the Speech and Drama department.

'Y' Plans Open House Party

Student Y, joint YM-YWCA organization at Washington square, will hold an "Open House party" at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, at the Student Y headquarters, 272 S. Seventh street.

Program for the affair calls for group sing, led by Ron La Mar and Bob Dean, parlor games, refreshments, and social dancing until 10:30 p.m.

Featured during the evening will be the introduction of the newest member of the Student Y, "Bubbles", the invisible goldfish. Any interested student is invited to attend the event and meet "Bubbles", according to Leona Crouch, chairman of the affair. An admission cost of 10 cents will be charged to cover cost of refreshments.

In addition to Miss Crouch as chairman, committee members include: Jerry Ball, Charles Benson, and Les Green.

Math Group Meets

Mr. Leroy A. Guest, faculty member of the Math department, will speak on "A Different Algebra" at a meeting of Gamma Phi Epsilon, math honor society, tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in Room 117, according to B. Vincent Adams, president.

This "different" algebra is known in math circles as "Boolean Algebra" in honor of George Boole, original developer of the idea.

Rally Will Feature Big Talent Show Later in Football Season

A two-hour talent show is being planned for a rally later in the football season, according to John Piotti and Ed Dickinson, chairman in charge of rallies.

John Melindas, COP Rooters' Train committee chairman, announced that a meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 18, in the Student Union building to discuss the trip. All organizations have been sent letters requesting them to send a representative to the meeting.

Plans for a rooting section at the Pepperdine game are being formulated by the Rally committee. Nancy Thomas is in charge of preparations for the section and for a San Jose State college party to be held in Los Angeles either before or after the game.

best are swimming and horseback riding.

Mona Logan is a 19-year-old blue-eyed blond who weighs 135 pounds and is 5 ft. 6 in. tall.

Camping Club Meets Tonight

There will be no meeting of Co-recreation committee because of construction going on in the Women's Gym, but the new Camp Leadership club will meet at 7:30 tonight as scheduled, according to Edna Thompson, co-chairman of the Co-recreation committee.

All students who have had experience in camp counseling or are interested in the activity are welcome, she said.

Indian Water Poloists Beat San Jose, 8-0

Spartan varsity and frosh water wings were punctured by the Stanford water poloists last Friday by scores of 8-0 and 11-2 respectively.

The varsity came out second best to the Indians for the first time in two years after the Stanford mermen scored four goals in the first quarter, and then returned after a scoreless spell to hit four more in the fourth quarter.

Coach Charlie Walker's squad entered the contest minus the able services of forwards Bob Hamilton and Dave Millevich, and back Dick Douglas.

"Stanford's depth meant a great deal," said Walker. "They let the varsity string roll up four points, and then sent in substitutes and let them foul out before sending the starters back in."

The freshmen fared no better against the Papooses. Coach Walker's Spartababes were also understaffed in first string material. Fred Alvard, guard, and Bill Keil, forward, were both sidelined with colds.

Perry Announces Intramural Rules

Football games in the intramural league will be played at 4 p.m. (first game) and 4:45 p.m. (second game). Coach Bill Perry announced today.

In case darkness prevents the second game from being played, that game will be re-scheduled.

Coach Perry has asked that team captains check out footballs for their games, and that captains of the host team (last-named team on the schedule) turn in game scores.

Veterans Administration supply depots during December, 1949, handled 8290 tons of supplies for hospitals, homes and offices.

SPARTAN DAILY 3

SJS Gridders Face USF Dons at Kezar Stadium

By MANNY ALVES

Coach Bob Bronzan's Spartans will try to better their .500 win mark when they meet the University of San Francisco Friday night under the Kezar lights in the Bay city. San Jose State college will be playing their fifth game and their half-way mark of the 1950-51 season.

The Don game will be the third of five against independents in the first season of major teams being scheduled for the Spartans.

Fullback Bob Sykes came up with the only injury after the Loyola game which the Spartans again tried a fourth quarter rally and failed, 7-14. Sykes has a small bone broken in his hand but will be available for action Friday night.

No serious injuries turned up after the bruising battle which saw San Jose repeatedly stay off the thrusts of brilliant Fullback George Musacco for three quarters and then rally in the final frame.

Musacco's plunges set up Loyola scores which were made on Don Klosterman passes in the end zone.

Second half rallies will be out of order in the USF game if the Spartans hope to beat the Hilltoppers and their heralded Ollie Matson.

Coach Joe Kuharich's men have only a so-so record thus far, with the hapless St. Mary's Gaels their latest victim Sunday, 33-7.

The fog city dwellers beat Tulsa in their season opener, were then plastered by Stanford, 55-7, bounced back to trounce Nevada, 66-6, and beat the Gaels in their last outing.

A well balanced team in any league, the Dons have a great ground gaining team with dangerous air power. Quarterback Ed Brown is the star tosser who may really have his hands full Friday.

Bronzan's men are about due to come up with their game of the year which will find them putting good line play together with an aerial game to beat the men from the Hill.

Bronzan hopes to have Gib Mendonza ready to start and other than Keith Carpenter, who will be out for at least three weeks, the Spartans will probably be at full strength.

ond half, but they couldn't overcome the 20-0 first half lead racked up by their opponents.

Coach Cureton gave special praise to Fullback Jim Schimkel and Ends Steve Burnett and Manny Ferguson for their fine work.

Spartan Frosh Drop Opener To USF, 27-6

San Jose State college's frosh football team lost a 27-6 gridiron battle to USF freshmen at St. Ignatius high school in San Francisco Saturday.

The Spartababes scored their only touchdown in the third quarter. It was the team's first game of the year.

San Francisco took the lead 12 minutes after the game started when a pass from Quarterback Calvello to Gomez clicked for 40 yards.

Another pass play and an end run good for 50 yards accounted for the other two touchdowns USF pushed over in the first half. The team left the field at the end of the second quarter with a 20-0 lead.

San Jose got started with a bang in the third quarter, putting together a 65-yard scoring drive. Halfback Bob Hamilton carried the ball over tackle from the one-yard line for the tally.

The Washington Square team came back a few minutes later with a 60-yard march to the USF 20-yard line. A fumble prevented them from scoring.

San Francisco's lone second half tally came in the fourth quarter when a SJS fumble on the 15-yard line rolled all the way back to the San Jose one-yard stripe.

The Gold and White team outplayed their opposition in the second

New Book List Includes Letters from G. B. Shaw

By JOE SHEEHAN

Among the most interesting of the more than 400 new additions to the library is a volume of letters between George Bernard Shaw, the caustic Irish playwright, and Dame Ellen Terry, the former actress.

When Miss Terry wrote Shaw suggesting the publication of the letters here reproduced, the aging wit replied with considerable heat that he refused to play the horse to Miss Terry's Lady Godiva. Or so the story goes.

The list of books is divided into six classifications. Miss Terry's book, entitled "Ellen Terry and Bernard Shaw, a Correspondence," is found in the art section. Others under the same heading include works on photography, dancing and the theater.

Under the section on education, philosophy, psychology and religion are found Freud's "Ego and the Id" and Immanuel Kant's "Moral Law." Also added is the 1950 edition of "Who's Who in American Education."

A third classification lists new works on engineering, health, home economics, physical education and natural science. There are five volumes by Max Planck, concerned with physics in general and light, heat, electricity and magnetism in particular. US government reports in the above fields are also included.

Boswell's "The Life of Samuel Johnson" crops up once again in the journalism, language and literature section, as does "Word Origins and Their Romantic Stories" by Wilfred J. Funk, whose "It Pays To Increase Your Word Power" appears regularly in the "Readers' Digest."

More of the poems of Thomas Merton appear in his "Figures for an Apocalypse." Merton is the Trappist monk whose "Waters of Siloe" and "The Seven Story Mountain" achieved almost unprecedented popularity for the type of material they treated.

Principally the work of young writers, "O'Henry Prize Stories for 1950" has been praised for its excellence of technique but criticized for the generally depressing nature of the subject matter of the stories.

Also included among the additions is Tennessee Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire", one of his most successful plays. The playwright's "The Glass Menagerie" was produced by the SJS Speech and Drama department last summer with considerable success, but his "Summer and Smoke" disgusted one reviewer to the extent that he waggishly renamed it "A Kiddie Kar Named Conversation."

In the selections on music, E. V. Streiten's "Techniques of Violoncello Playing" is significant in that Pablo Casals, reputed to be the world's master cellist came out of retirement earlier this year to play at a festival held in his honor in Europe.

Under the social science classification, the reports of State of California and US boards and committees are listed. There is a new San Jose State college pamphlet under the title "Interracial Prejudice in San Jose."

Other additions include Benjamin Franklin's "Letters to the Press", the "International Who's Who" and Rudolph Schlesinger's "Marx: His Time and Ours."

Co-editors Attend Autumn Quarter

The Misses Ann Shaw and Jane St. John, June alumnae of San Jose High school and spring co-editors of the school news publication, the San Jose High School Herald, are now attending San Jose State college, according to Mr. C. W. Palmer, adviser of publications at the high school.

Miss Shaw and Miss St. John edited the paper to its 19th consecutive rating of All-American standing with the National Scholastic Press association, Palmer stated. The ratings were announced last week.

The two young women, education majors, do not intend to continue in journalism, Palmer stated.

Both natives of San Jose, the girls attended San Jose High school all three years. Miss Shaw is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaw of this city. Miss St. John is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer St. John of San Jose.

Fred A. Ridlow, National director of the NSPA, in commenting on the Herald called it "the cream of the crop among high school weeklies." He commended the paper on its lively makeup and interesting reading, Palmer said.

Miss Marlene Messa, feature editor of the spring semester Herald, also is attending SJS.
