Students Sign Oath, But Object

Student employees of the Associated student body were of one opinion when asked by the Spartan Daily if they would sign the loyalty oath under the same conditions as were offered the faculty last week, that is "sign it if you want to get paid." The consensus was that, "while I object to the oath, I'll sign it."

"I object to it, but since I like to get paid, I'll sign it," was the answer of one woman employee.

"It's a lot of rot, but we have no legitimate choice," was another reply.

"I won't hesitate to sign, but I do agree with some of the points offered by Mr. Settles," countered another student.

A fellow Coopster answered, "All it's doing is irritating a lot of people who believe they have a fine sense of moral justice. I can't see it's accomplishing any purpose. I would sign because I need the check."

The lengthiest answer came from one male worker when he replied, "The oath was directed primarily against the teaching profession and I see no logical reason why this group should be singled out for suspicion. Certainly teachers have a unique advantage in being able to influence the youth of the country, but others in more responsible positions have not been under blanket suspicion."

"It would seem to me that the learned have been suspected and feared by the unlearned since time immemorial."

Another Coop worker replied, "Sign it or lose your job isn't fair. It's stupid and tyrannical."

No employee, student or faculty, has refused to sign the oath at this writing, according to Miss Edith Graves of the veterans office. By Friday, 772 college personnel had complied with the recent state ruling.

Miss Graves said that some of the seven who had not signed missed doing so because of illness, while others may have been "absent-minded."

Rally to Launch Chest Drive for Fall Quarter

An informal kick-off rally Wednesday evening will remind San Jose State college students that the Campus chest drive starts next week. The Campus chest committee announces that the drive will start Oct. 30 and end Nov. 3.

Student talent and skits will feature the program Wednesday, which is under the direction of Ron LaMar and Bob Dean. They are planning to introduce the entire football team at the rally, which will be for the benefit of the Spartan team members, who are to journey to Los Angeles to meet Pepperdine Friday.

A goal of $2500 has been set for the only fund-raising campaign of the quarter, according to Betty Darendinger, publicity chairman. She says that 21 agencies of the local Community chest will receive $1800 of the quota while the remaining $700 will be divided between agencies of the March of Dimes and the Cancer fund.

Jeanne Kerwin and Chuck Wing, Campus chest chairmen, believe that the quota will be reached if every student donates an average of two cents for each agency. There are 23 agencies represented, which means that the drive will be a success if everyone can donate 50 cents.

Seven campus organizations will sponsor the drive. Spartan Spears and Spartan Shields will handle booth donations.

Other organizations are: Alpha Phi Omega, Student Y, AWS, Blue Key, and Tau Delta Phi.

Other students wishing to take part in the collections are requested to contact Joyce Dalton, collection chairman. Miss Dalton may be contacted by phoning CY 3-3567.

Each donating student will receive a tag, according to Garret McClung, chairman of "tag day" affairs.

UP ROUNDUP

War Becoming More Remote

PALO ALTO, Calif., Oct. 20. British Historian Arnold J. Toynbee expressed confidence today that war between the United States and Russia is becoming more remote.

"Everytime we win a round, we put World War III farther from us," Toynbee said. "That was so after the Berlin air lift, after Yugoslavia, after the Greek civil war and after Korea."

The professor, at Stanford university for a series of lectures before he leaves for his third stay at the Princeton, N.J., Institute for Advanced Study, said he is optimistic about the Korean affair.

"I feel we shall be able to keep that conflict within local limits and to contain any local things of the kind that may occur in Iran or elsewhere," he said.

Psych Dept. Gets Telford as Chief

Dr. Charles W. Telford, professor of psychology, is the new head of the psychology and philosophy department here.

The announcement of his appointment was made by President T. W. MacQuarrie at a noontime staff meeting Monday.

"The first hint I had of the appointment came Monday morning when I was called from an 11:30 class and asked by Dean Elder if I would accept the position," Dr. Telford said. "I was given five minutes to decide."

Dr. Telford had been head of the psychology departments at the Universities of North Dakota (for 12 years) and Idaho (for one year) before coming to San Jose State college in 1948.

If I say "fo' bits" will that keep you from reading the rest of this? Fifty cents for the Chest, and we'll make our quota. We'll even have a little kitty for emergencies — the Chest, the Cancer Drive, the March of Dimes, all of them will be taken care of by this one effort.

I hope you make it, twenty-five hundred dollars. The faculty is doing pretty well, but we'll have nothing over to help you out if you fail. (Of course, you may give more than that "fo' bits" if you wish, as some do not have rich fathers, and we should make our quota.)

more than twice the number of votes received by her rival, Mariou Borgen, 578-270.

The closest race was that for the position of treasurer of the senior class. Robert Rojka had a bare plurality of 21 votes over Evorene Hatfield, 139-118.

For the senior class: Ed Gasper, president-elect, 226; Ray Cox, 62; Rob Pettengill, vice-president-elect, 159; Jeanne Thomas, 135; Marilyn Rowley, secretary-elect, 146; Dorothy Alexander, 113.

The Weather

ing companion cavort by your side from Kezar Friday to the last potato chip at Caddy's last night? If you are interested, we can't give you much poop other than this week probably will not be as nice as last week, maybe, if, that is, or some such phrase equally noncommittal.

City Council Investigates SJS Housing

Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, dean of housing at San Jose State college, stated in an interview Friday morning, concerning the Thursday night San Jose city council meeting, that she thought the council "is going to be easy on the college." She was referring to the possibility of the council's passing a new regulation concerning student housing in the Naglee Park district.

Residents in Naglee park, district southeast of the college, have brought action because they feel persons other than students are rooming in the residential district, and that the housing situation is such that the district is not needed for college housing any longer.

President MacQuarrie pointed out that if boarding house capacities in Naglee Park were cut to only five boarders a house as proposed, the area immediately around the school would become congested again. Mrs. Pritchard stated that the situation is just beginning to ease.

"The council probably will not enforce a new ruling strictly until the close of the school year," Mrs. Pritchard stated.

She said she agreed with President MacQuarrie when he stated at the meeting Thursday night he hoped "good" housing would be allowed to remain.

The dean stated that by "good" housing certainly is not meant boarding houses with 25 young men holding "drunken brawls".

This was the dean's second appearance before San Jose City council. She first attended the council in 1944 to ask for the Naglee park emergency regulation now being debated. The regulation was to last for the duration of the emergency. The emergency period was declared over the first of July this year, Mrs. Pritchard said.

Mr. Fred Fletcher, extreme left, and Mrs. Joan Lauber, standing next to Fletcher, look on at winners of Red Cross blood drive poster contest. At right, Bob Neal is holding the poster which won him $15 for first prize. Jack Gangola, nearest to Neal, and Margaret Nakamura, center, placed second and third in that order, receiving $10 and $5. Fletcher, chairman of the blood donor recruit office, donated the prize money.

Just Among Ourselves

Only thirty-two weeks more — how the year is flying!

Funny, too, but several faculty members have told me the work this year is better than usual. Might be the new entrance requirements, or, perhaps, we're a little more serious.

Please do not ask outside entertainers to come to the campus. We should do our own entertaining. If this great mass of intellect, pulchritude, wit, and wisdom has no entertainers, it's too bad, but we'll have to go without.

Actually our orchestras should be made up of college musicians — give our own people a break. And I wouldn't be surprised if they were as good as any we could hire. We've had poor experiences with name bands. I hope we're not suckers to be taken in by any blatant publicity.

Pictured above are examples of the "Dallas type" football lottery cards which were confiscated last Friday in raids both at Dallas and Chicago. The cards were distributed last football season here at San Jose State college and were photographed by the Spartan Daily as part of a feature article on illegal on-campus gambling.

Police Raid Football Parlay Tickets

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (UP).—Chicago's "Scotland Yard" police detail raided a clearing house handling $25,000 a week in football pool bets and confiscated several thousand parlay cards, authorities disclosed today.

Police sought to determine whether the clearing house operated as a branch of a huge football handicapping syndicate exposed by a raid on its headquarters in Dallas.

Capt. William Balswick said the clearing house fronted as the veterans social and athletic club.

"The raid at Dallas forced us to go ahead immediately," he said. "We were afraid that the arrests down there had shut off the source of football cards being used in the Chicago area. In that case, the clearing house would have gone out of business after this week's games."

In Dallas, a legal fight brewed over whether the handicapping syndicate violated Federal Postal laws by shipping football cards through the mail.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 19 (UP).—G-Men today began checking through masses of "football cards" and records seized in a raid on the "international headquarters" of a gang which handicapped college grid games.

The raid was staged by Dallas police last night at a room in the Southland hotel where, a member said, the gang had operated for 17 years.

Records indicated that the football card racket was a multi-million dollar business. Police got wind of the racket when a United Press staff correspondent noticed a telephone book listing for "Hyke Football Service" and pointed it out to the vice squad.

Detectives, amazed at the raid's success, said they confiscated bulging files listing football card "dealers" throughout the United States and its territories.

Singer to Entertain At ISO Meeting

International Students organization will hold its regular social meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Room 21, according to Niels Nielsen, president. Miss Virginia Weimers, mezzo-soprano, will be the featured entertainer. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Sausnair-Williams. Robinette Woodside will tell of her experiences in Europe.

This organization, says Miss Woodside, publicity director, was created to help American and foreign students on the campus become acquainted with one another. Interested students particularly invited to come, she states.

At a recent business meeting, the following officers were chosen: Niels Nielsen, president; Ann Ray, vice-president; Don Fahler, recording secretary; Mariana Villanueva, corresponding secretary; Michael Alaimo, treasurer; Dr. Harry N. Fitch and Dr. Mary G. Hamilton, advisers; Robinette Woodside, publicity director.

Plans for a picture in La Torre are being discussed and cooperation of the members will be appreciated by the publicity director.

'Scandal' Tickets

Tickets for "School for Scandal", first production in the 1950-51 drama season, will go on sale today, according to Verda Jackson, Speech department secretary. A record sale is expected. Tickets can be purchased in the Speech office, Room 57.

Rothwell Talks On UN Subject In Auditorium

Dr. Easton Rothwell, associated with the Hoover Institute at Stanford university, will speak on the "United Nations" in Morris Dailey auditorium, tomorrow at 10:30 a.m., announced Dr. George Bruntz.

Tomorrow, Oct. 24, has been designated as United Nations day and Dr. Rothwell's speech will be in keeping with the world-wide celebration of the fifth anniversary of the United Nations.

Dr. William H. Poytress, head of the Social Science department, will introduce Dr. Rothwell.

Rothwell, an authority on the United Nations, was an initial member of the UN assembly which met in San Francisco and drew up the United Nations' charter. He was attached to the UN division of the State department until recently.

Bruntz to Speak

Dr. George Bruntz, associate professor of political science, will speak to a student assembly at Gilroy union high school Tuesday at 10:30 a.m.

Topic of Dr. Bruntz's address will be the "Accomplishment of the United Nations and Its Future."

Matson Rambles Again; Traina, Hitchcock Hurt

By GLENN BROWN and MANNY ALVES

The annual case of too much Ollie Matson put the skids under the Spartans from San Jose Friday night when they yielded to the U.S.F. Dons 27-0 in Kezar stadium.

It was Matson skirting the ends and smashing through the lines in a constant threat to the injury-riddled Golden Raiders. On defense he was the big combination of weight and speed that cut down the thrusts of Mendonsa and Traina before the Gold and White scabbards could get under way.

Spartans' Chance

The initial minutes of the game were all the Spartans after little Gil-Mendonsa slashed through on a tackle trap from the SJS 28 and romped 44 yards down the right sideline to the Don 28 before he was stopped. Two plays later Menges flipped an aerial to Billy Wilson on the SF three, and the Raiders smelled paydirt with a first down at that point. Harry Beck and Buddy Traina alternated on tackle and end runs in the four plays that followed, but the Dons held on their one yard line.

Joe "Skeeter" Scudero carried the bay city boys out of immediate danger to a first down on the 11, but at this point the impossible (say the SF sports writers) happened. Matson took a hand-off and drove for Dick Harding's guard spot. Harding put a shoulder to the Don's boy wonder and snatched the pigskin from his grasp on the SF eight.

An off-side penalty set the Spartans back to the 13, but Mendonsa carried on two plays to the seven. Menges tried two aeriels to Wilson and Traina, but both were incomplete and the Dons had once again held.

The lack of punch that left the Raiders stranded in the shadow of the SF goal posts was a bitter blow to the Bronzanites, but it was a shot in the arm to the Hill-toppers who dominated most of the play from there on out.

Dons Score

USF's first score came 15 seconds into the second quarter after Menges was hit on an attempted pass and center Art Alois recovered for the Dons on the SJS 28. The Dons passed and ran to the 14 at which point Matson swept left end and turned on a burst of speed that carried him into the end zone. Brown's conversion was good for a 7-0 lead.

Later in the second quarter Ed Brown uncorked a 50 yard pass to end Ralph Thomas for the second USF touchdown. The conversion try was no good, and the score went to 13-0.

Matson set up the third Don TD when he returned one of Beck's punts from the 50 to the San Jose 33 in the third quarter. Matson, Sakowski and Scudero hit the end, guard and center spots to the two-yard line before halfback Vince Sakowski smashed over left guard for the score. Brown's conversion was good.

The Dons rang up their final marker in the last period of play after SF's defensive fullback Roy Giorgi intercepted Menges pass on the San Jose 20 and rambled to the three before he was stopped. Matson exploded over left tackle for the TD, and Brown booted the conversion to make the score USF 27, SJS 0.

Sheer Courage

Despite the fact that the Spartans were obviously out-played and out-weighted, the Raiders showed no lack of courage when it came to defense. Time and again the 160-lb. frame of Gil Mendonsa came up from the secondary to knock the pins from under Matson (202 lb.). Injured ankle and all, the little San Jose halfback won the hearts of the bay city sportsmen with his bang-up play. Gibby entered the game with a bad right leg, but he never gave ground to the hard charging USF backfield that outweighed the Spartans almost 30 pounds per man.

This additional weight combined with the speed of Matson, Scudero and Barni were essentially the story of the lop-sided win.

Ends Billy Wilson and Ray Poznekoff were in no small part responsible for stopping many of the Don thrusts. Poznekoff spilled the USF interference many times on end around plays allowing the line backers to come up and make the stop.

Other brilliant defensive work was turned in by defensive quarterback Stan Wacholz, tackle Joe

SC Colts Last Period Score Tops SJS Frosh

The San Jose State college freshmen were edged 20-13 in the final minute of play by the Santa Clara Colts in Spartan Stadium Saturday night.

Halfback Johnny Mesa scored the first San Jose TD when he burst off left guard at the Spartan 47 and turned on a burst of speed that caught the colt secondary flat-footed. Mesa cut to the right sideline and romped into the endzone standing up. Steve Cassaday booted the extra point to make it 7-0.

The SJS yearlings were at it again after defensive fullback Jack Kennedy recovered a Santa Clara fumble on the visitors 30. Seconds later fullback Jimmy Schimke took a hand-off and completely crossed up the Colts by passing from the 25 to end Don Ferguson in the endzone. Casaday missed the conversion try, but the Spartan frosh led 13-0.

A bad punt in the second quarter gave the Santa Clarans a first down on the SJS 18, from which point they drove down to the one, and then sent halfback Billy Gill through right guard for the TD. Phil Russell's conversion try was no good.

The Colts got another break minutes later when they recovered a Spartan fumble on the SJS 26. Three plays later Jes Payan passed to Ron Gile on the 13, and Gile sprinted into paydirt. Russell booted the conversion and the score was tied 13-13.

Quarterback Joe Clark flipped a fourth quarter aerial from his own 44 to George Montgomery who went to the San Jose 11. With less than a minute to go Clark wren over from the one on a quarterback sneak. Russell's kick was good and the Colts won 20-13.

The Spartan varsity water poloists were downed by the University of California mermen 10-5 at Berkeley Friday afternoon, but Coach Charlie Walker's freshmen held the UC Cubs to a 9-9 tie.

Both the varsity and frosh showed vast improvement over early season games, and the heavily favored Bears had their hands full throughout both games.

Dore Purdy Paces SJ 'Iron Lungers'

Veteran Dore Purdy and Rookie Elwin Stribling paced the Spartans to a 21-49 cross country victory over San Francisco State college Friday afternoon at the Gaters' four-mile course.

Purdy and Stribling put on a brilliant stretch drive for the final 150 yards of the race, with the former winning by a stride in the time of 19:41. Stribling was clocked in 19:41.2.

Gaters Ray Boehm and John Holden were not far behind the leaders as they garnered third and fourth respectively, in times of 20:25 and 20:30. Paul Jennings, Al Weber, and Paul Bowen completed the scoring for the Spartans, finishing fifth, sixth, and seventh in that order.

A Gater crossed the finish line behind Bowen, but the Spartans picked up the next seven places from ninth to 15th, with Bill Head, Bob Weber, Bob Anderson, Paul Anderson, Paul Flannagan, Carl Moore, Frank Johnson, and Ed Hass coming through in that order. Roy Hodges was the final Spartan to finish as he placed 17th.

"You ain't nobody unless you got a white shirt on, are wearing a tie, and have $1.50 in your jeans for the photog." This crude bit of intelligence is supplied to males who have made appointments for a sitting with the La Torre photographer by a reporter-in-the-know and on behalf of the year-book co-editors.

In high English, a brand seldom heard in these woods, but less frowned upon by journalism advisers, this means that senior men who appear for a La Torre portrait sitting must be wearing (among other things) a white shirt and a tie, and have $1.50 to pay Photographer Angelo Butera for the four proofs which he will make and mail to them.

Women, of course, must pay Butera the same amount.

Co-Editors Iris Elwood and Ted Breeden also said that a few people have not kept their appointments, and others have not yet made appointments with Butera. They advise these people to make appointments immediately in the La Torre office, B95.

Dr. Purdy to Be Math Consultant At Teachers' Meet

Dr. C. Richard Purdy, associate professor of mathematics, will travel to Eureka to participate in a teachers institute this week, according to Lowell C. Pratt, director of publicity.

Dr. Purdy will act as a consultant in elementary and secondary mathematics at two workshop meetings held in connection with the institute. Subject of the two meetings will be "How Can the Schools Develop a Functional Mathematics Program?"

Humboldt, Del Norte, Mendocino and Trinity counties will be represented at the institute.

Instructor Leaves For Hamilton Field

Mr. Robert Coleman, who leaves today for Hamilton field, was given a going-away party Tuesday by members of the art faculty. The affair was held at 240 S. Eighth street, in the interior decorating lab.

Coleman, an art instructor, was called to Hamilton field to assume aerial navigation duties for one year. He was a member of the 313th Carrier Reserve squadron.

Following refreshments Mr. Coleman was presented a gift by Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, on behalf of the art staff.

Miss Marian Moreland and Mr. Warren Faus, art instructors, were chairmen of the gathering.

Cranking Proves Fatal

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP) Jesus Zavala, 48, cranked his truck yesterday while it was in gear. Funeral services were planned today.

The co-editors said that this is the last time that such an appeal to potential December (1950), March, June, and August (1951) graduates will be made. They added that very few spots are left in the appointment book, and the La Torre deadline will not permit portrait taking after Oct. 31.

Talcott Skeds Chess Matches

Les Talcott, president of the San Jose State college Chess club, announced Friday that chess matches with Stanford, California, other universities and colleges, have been scheduled for the ensuing school year.

The local club, Talcott said, is comprised of two divisions, "A" and "B" teams.

The "A" team engages in matches and tournaments. The "B" team is a reserve squad but its members are allowed each week to challenge the first team and displace its membership by winning two out of three games.

Elmo Innocenti is tournament director, Jerry Slavich is treasurer and team captain, and Francis N. Crofut, instructor in watch making and jewelry engraving, is adviser to the SJS Chess club.

The club meets every Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 in Room 221 of the commerce wing, according to Jim Roukes, publicity director, who said that interested persons are invited to join.

Duncan to Appear At Eureka Meet

Dr. Carl Duncan, head of the Natural Science department, has been asked to appear at a meeting of teachers of the Institute of Northwest Coast counties at Eureka today and tomorrow.

The conducting of a Natural Science program will be Dr. Duncan's contribution to the two-day session. More than 1000 teachers are expected to be present at this meeting in the Eureka junior high school.

Board Makes Director Call

A second call for a production director for 1951 Spartan Revelries has been made by the Revelries board, according to Theodore Balgooyen, instructor in speech and adviser to the board.

The production director either writes, collaborates upon, or uses an original script. When he applies to the board, he should have some idea of what kind of a show he wants to put on, and should present these ideas to the board.

The director, also, should indicate his capabilities and background, and other qualifications. He will be in charge of casting and rehearsal, Balgooyen said.

The board will meet this afternoon in the Student Union at 2:30 o'clock.

On receipt of identifying coat I will forward it to owner. Irving J. Murphy, 13073 Terra Bella street, Pacoima, Calif.

Flying 20 Club Wants More Members Now

Flying 20 club is resuming activities for the fall quarter, according to Bob Gross, president of the organization. Several membership openings are available.

"This is a good opportunity for anyone interested in flying to gain experience at low cost," Gross said. "No previous experience is necessary."

Entrance fee is $75. This fee will be refunded less $10 per year depreciation when the member leaves the club. Flight time can be logged in the club's Cessna for $2 per hour.

Club members are required to pay monthly dues of $3.50 to cover fixed expenses and aircraft maintenance.

Anyone interested in joining may contact J. D. Ross, aeronautics instructor and club adviser.
