

The Weather

Not the least bit embarrassed by the failure of predicted rain to materialize Friday, the weatherman once again insists on "variable high cloudiness with scattered showers" for today.

Continued warm when the sun shines through the blanket of clouds.

Court Okays Loyalty Oath

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The loyalty oath required by the Levering act of city, county and state employees, including University of California faculty members, is constitutional; but the loyalty declaration imposed on faculty members by UC regents is not, the State Supreme Court ruled today.

U.S. Asks Indemnity

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States demanded Friday that Russia pay indemnity for the B-29 its planes shot down Oct. 7 and bluntly told the Kremlin that "grave consequences" may follow any future repetition of such "unprovoked" attacks.

The State department said destruction of the American plane off northern Japan was "wantonly" and "unjustified."

Poland Proposes Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Poland Friday proposed an immediate end to the Korean war with the return of all prisoners to their homelands "in accordance with international norms."

To Lay Keel of Super-Carrier

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Navy today said the keel of the second 60,000-ton Forrestal class flush deck carrier will be laid in December at the Brooklyn, N.Y., naval shipyard.

The carrier will be named the Saratoga. The big flat top is estimated to cost $209,700,000.

Reward Mounts—$6325

SACRAMENTO (UP)—The reward for the killers of Grocer Gard Young and three children in Chester, Calif., was up to $6325 Friday.

Fees Lowered To $10 for Early Grads

The President's Council granted final approval Friday to a Senior class council recommendation that graduation fees be set at $15 for June graduates and $10 for March and December graduates, according to Joe H. West, dean of students.

Included in the $15 fee for June graduates will be a bid to the Senior Ball, according to Ed Jacobowsky, class president. Details follow:

Class To Meet

The Senior class council today will discuss the possibility of shifting the June baccalaureate service from the gymnasium to a "more appropriate place," Ed Jacobowsky, class president, said Friday.

The meeting will be held in Room 39 at 3:30 p.m.

December and March graduates wishing to participate in Senior Week activities will be required to pay $15.

This fee change was the second to go before the President's Council. Earlier, the Senior council had recommended a blanket increase to $15 from the $13 fee of last year.

Because of opposition from December and March graduates, who felt they would gain no benefits from the raise, the class council withdrew its request for approval of the move and turned the problem over to a committee.

The committee's recommendation is the one approved.

Petitions Due At Noon Today

Election petitions must be turned in to the ASB office in the Student Union by noon today, warned Don Binder, chief justice of the Student Court.

Twenty-six petitions were taken out for class offices and four for the ASB post of representative-at-large, according to Binder.

Campaigning will begin on campus starting at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Rules for campaigning are as follows:

Campaign posters are permitted along the walk between the science archway and the Coop and along the north side of the walk between the AWS lounge and the Industrial Arts building.

Posters are not permitted in the Inner Quad, in the archway to the quad, and on buildings, roofs and arcades.

Election signs may be permitted on trees if attached with strings. All campaign signs must be within 20 feet of the concrete paths.

Each candidate is limited to four signs not exceeding six square feet each, one not exceeding 15 square feet and one not exceeding 30 square feet.

Election signs shall be displayed from 7 a.m. tomorrow until 6 p.m. Friday.

A maximum of 40 inches of paid advertisement may be inserted in the Spartan Daily.

Rallies on behalf of candidates may be held in any place acceptable to the administration on any campaign day except the day of election. These rallies shall be of 20 minutes duration. Reservations may be made in the college president's office.

No off-campus entertainment shall be used for the advertising of any candidate.

Any student who willfully remove, destroys or defaces any advertising during the campaign shall be prosecuted by the Student Court.

TV Previews Homecoming

San Jose State college's 1952 Homecoming will be previewed on television Thursday when the Del Courtney TV show features one hour of SJS Homecoming entertainment, according to Greg Snyder, Homecoming publicity chairman.

The show will be aired over Channel 5, KPIX, starting at 2:30 p.m.

Snyder was instrumental in arranging the hour-long show, which is to present some of the college's top entertainment.

Those who are expected to be featured are the Homecoming contestants, yell leaders, song girls, Mark Hassal, Neida Tibbetts and Art Foster, Sigma Nu Dixie Half-Dozen.

Barbecue Tickets

Occupational therapy majors still can get tickets for the department's barbecue, Gladys Thompson, publicity chairman, announced today. The affair is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 23.

Tickets are 60 cents and may be purchased from members of the barbecue committee or in B72.

Locals Score In Final Seconds To Win Contest

By BILL TUNNELL

PACIFIC MEMORIAL STADIUM, Stockton. And the Spartan feasted on Tiger meat Saturday night.

With 22 seconds left in the game, Coach Bob Bronzan's Golden Raiders pulled it out of the fire on a 39 yard dash by their speedy halfback Roy Hiram for the winning five points. They were trailing 21-20 with the seconds ticking off the clock, when Hiram swept around right end, broke into the clear at the 35 yard line on key blocks by John Anastasia, right guard, and Sal Cardinali, right tackle, and rammed the remaining distance to the goal line for the Spartans' fourth straight victory.

The Golden Raiders started off the scoring on a 63 yard march the first time they had their hands on the ball. Lynn Aplanalp, the locals' candidate for all-Coast honor, drove them the distance in eight plays for the initial tie. Aplanalp

Deposed Pair Will Ask To Be Reinstated

Hope that the Rally committee executive council will reconsider its action in removing them from office was voiced by former Yell Leaders Charles Abrahamson and Denzil Scott Friday afternoon.

"We realize we cut up too much at the Fresno game," Abrahamson said, "but we hope that the executive council will give us another chance."

Scott echoed Abrahamson's words and said he felt that he and Abrahamson could do the college some good and would like a chance to prove it.

"Unfortunately, there is no way in which we can undo our action at the Fresno game," Scott said. "We can promise only to curb our cutting up in the future. We definitely wish to continue as yell leaders."

Scott and Abrahamson indicated that they would be present Wednesday evening at the meeting of the executive council of the Rally committee in order to ask the council to reinstate them as yell leaders. A special meeting called last Thursday night to consider the problem was cancelled when not enough members of the council were present.

Small Crowd Hears Forum

By DAVE ELAM

A rather small but interested crowd of San Jose State students and townspeople heard Democrat Robert Doerr and Republican Bruce Allen debate in open forum in the Little Theater Friday evening. The forum, which was presented by the Institute of Industrial Relations, featured discussions by the assembly candidates and questions from the audience.

Considering the question of compulsory FEPC legislation in California, Mr. Doerr stated that he was opposed to discrimination in any form, but that in his opinion, "creating another government bureau" would not solve the problem. "The need is for education, not legislation," he said.

"There is no more reason for state control of medicine than for the state to assume control of the bakers," Allen asserted of the issue of a state health program. He stated that the state maintains a "high state of medical service," and added that "the red tape of government control" would hamper rather than aid the condition in the state.

Doerr said that socialized medicine was not the issue at stake.

Accident Kills One, Injures One

Albert J. Francis, 24, 7827 Garfield avenue, Oakland, was killed and Walter D. Murry, 24, 8038 Idlewood street, Oakland, was seriously injured just after midnight Saturday. The two San Jose State students were returning from the COP game when their car, driven by Francis, struck a bridge railing in the old Altamont pass.

Murry was taken to the Municipal hospital in Livermore and Francis was placed in Callahan's mortuary there, the Alameda County highway patrol reported.

The students were passing a long string of cars, when their car hit loose gravel and skidded out of control into the railing, the highway patrol reported.

Aplanalp climaxed the drive with an 18 yard dash down the middle for the score.

Spartans scored shortly after when they rammed 43 yards in three plays for their second touchdown of the game. The scoring play came on a 45 yard touchdown pass from Aplanalp to End Stan Wacholz. Wacholz faked himself into the clear on the 20 yard line, caught the toss on the 15, evaded the remaining tackler on he five and scored standing up. George Porter converted, after missing the first try to make the score 13-0.

College of Pacific scored their first tally with one minute and ten seconds gone by in the second quarter, with Tom McCormick taking the honors.

The Bengals scored again in the second quarter to leave them a one point margin at half time, 14-13.

Opening up the second half, the Spartans again surged in front when they ran 63 yards in ten plays, with Porter converting his second of the night to put he locals ahead 20-14. Larry Matthews scored on an 11 yard pass from Aplanalp.

Let's Charter Train For Stanford Game

Stanford is the next opponent for the Golden Raider football contingent. The date of this crucial game is Saturday afternoon, Nov. 1, at Palo Alto.

Since the first game of the season, when the locals showed signs of greatness, there has been an overwhelming surge of opinion on campus concerning the Stanford contest. Students have been constantly referring to the forthcoming tilt as "The Big Game." It appears that more students want to go to the Peninsula game than attended the COP crucial.

How are these rabid rooters going to attend the Indian game?

We suggest that a special train be chartered from Southern Pacific for the 20-mile trip to Palo Alto. Chuck Wing, chairman of the Rally committee, has informed us that the cost per student for such a "Stanford special" would be nominal.

Such a unified group on the same train would add to the high fever of the contest. It would show the campus, the community and other colleges that spirit still rates high here.

WASHINGTON SQUARE

CONFIDENTIAL

By JERRY BELCHER

A rather Prominent Politician appeared in a Prominent Bay Area City the other evening. According to the public press, this person is waging an "intellectual campaign," and he is "talking over the heads of the masses."

Now a member of the student body of a Prominent Institution of Higher Learning, and therefore a fledgling intellectual, a Prominent Collegian Journalist deemed it proper to go up and have the man talk over his head. But this journal is, in theory and practice, non-partisan. So the rest of this column will be devoted to strictly non-partisan observations.

Lining the approaches of the hall in which Prominent Politician was to speak, Prominent Collegian Journalist was accosted by insistent persons waving pamphlets. Most of the brochures were something about: "Vote for Prominent Politician." But somehow someone sneaked in a little thing by the Socialist Labor Party, which condemned the policies of both the Prominent Politician and his Prominent Rival.

Getting into the hall was something of a hassle. The truncheons were jammed with squirming humanity. But Yankee ingenuity saved the day. The people simply clambored over the seven-foot high fences. One lady in a mink coat snagged her skirt on the top strand of barbed wire, causing Prominent Collegian Journalist to blush openly.

Inside the hall, seating was the foremost problem. There was no place to be found except for cold concrete steps, directly behind a sign that read: "Mission District for Prominent Politician."

Then came the lady with the cow-bell. She told the audience that a Young Prominent Political Party Worker had given her the noise-maker and therefore she felt obliged to ring the infernal machine at all appropriate moments. Apparently each pulse of her fanatic's heart was the appropriate moment.

A great cheering arose and some More or Less Prominent Politicians spoke briefly. Then the master of ceremonies, a Prominent Cinema Star named Robert Ryan, was introduced. He in turn introduced other Prominent Cinema Stars, and led in the singing of Campaign Songs for the Prominent Political Party.

Mr. Humphrey Bogart was the Star of Prominent Cinema Stars. He imitated himself quite effectively, telling the audience, "Don't nobody leave the jern!" He told a slightly off-color little story about second graders and a cloak room and pointed out the political moral that lay therein. And every third syllable he mouthed was, "uh-uh," which showed he was a common man after all.

There were a great many other Prominent Cinema Stars on the program, including Mercedes McCambridge, someone called Benay Venuta, and "I Call Her Baby, but You Call Her Lauren Bacall."

After this sparkling array of Prominent Cinema Stars, it came as somewhat of an anti-climax when Prominent Politician entered the arena.

In fact, when this last outburst of yelling and cow-belling commenced, Prominent Collegian Journalist jumped to the conclusion that the show was all over and began his trek back to Prominent Institution of Higher Learning.

And all without having his Prominent Head talked over.

Pony Tale

Dear Thrust and Parry:

We hate to bring up mundane subjects, but is it quite ethical for scholarship students to cheat?

We are writing because of the attitude of a certain student. It is bad enough to cheat but to brag about it is worse.

She informed us that she would set the curve of the class and showed us how—a pony carefully written in a blue book. Now get this. The reason for the pony was:

1. She is on a scholarship and must get high grades.
2. She works.
3. No time to study.

Need we say more?

Sincerely,

Howard Leads SWAC Group

Anton Howard, junior political science major who transferred from Contra Costa junior college, recently was elected representative-at-large to the Student World Affairs council of Northern California.

The SWAC of Northern California is one of the coordinating groups for International Relations clubs on 20 college campuses in Northern California.

Placement

The Bureau of Indian Affairs of the Department of Interior has several positions open to teachers with secondary credentials, according to Miss Doris Robinson, director of teacher placement.

Several jobs in Arizona, one in Nevada, and one in Riverside, Calif. are open, Miss Robinson said.

Students who expect to get their credentials during the school year may apply, Miss Robinson said.

A standing order for teachers with elementary or secondary credentials has been received from a school in South America.

Two part-time jobs open to men are airplane flight instructor and music teacher, according to Miss Marie Dykmans, part-time placement secretary.

The flight instructor must have a commercial license with an instruction permit. Salary is $3 per hour.

The music teacher does not have to have a teaching credential, but must be able to play the piano and direct a glee-club. Hours can be arranged to fit the applicants' schedule.

Applications for the above jobs may be made in Room 100.

Available to women is a light housekeeping job for two hours a day. Applicants may contact Mrs. Watts at the Health Cottage.

Four Seniors Eligible for Foreign Study

Four senior students' applications for Fulbright awards were accepted by the college Fulbright committee Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Stanley Benz, dean of men, revealed yesterday.

Applicants Charles Castro, Santa Clara, and Muriel Swenson, San Jose, were given top rating by the committee and will have their transcripts forwarded to the state committee chairman in San Francisco.

Castro is a chemistry major. He listed Germany as his preference, with a goal of research chemist and professor. Miss Swenson, majoring in English, chose Denmark; magazine staff work and Scandinavian publications are her interests.

Shirley Vernon, Santa Cruz, and Janice Carlander, San Jose, will enter the general competition which has its headquarters in New York. They also are eligible for Fulbright awards, but their papers will not be processed by the state committee group, Dean Benz explained.

Miss Carlander, who signified France or the United Kingdom, wishes to further her music major studies if she is selected. Miss Vernon, a librarianship major, indicated the United Kingdom and a goal of librarianship in junior high or high school.

SPARTAN DAILY 3

Frosh Succumb To Tiger Cubs

By BILL FARR

A game but inexperienced Spartan frosh football team succumbed to the College of Pacific frosh 18-2 Friday night before approximately 750 fans in Spartan Stadium.

The L'il Tigers showed they really meant business by booming over for scores twice in the first four minutes of play. After that lapse the Spartababes tightened up and made a ball game of it.

The visitors gave notice of things to come on the first play from scrimmage when Tom Perry ripped off tackle for seventy yards and a touchdown, only to have it called back. Undaunted by that piece of bad luck they proceeded to drive down to the San Jose nine where the Bengals' classy negro halfback Nate Wills spurred down the center for the score. COP wasted no time in getting touchdown number two. The next time it got the ball, a twenty yard pass from Bill Jacobs to Perry climaxed a long drive.

Late in the second quarter the Spartans put together their only sustained drive. Beginning at mid-field they drove to the COP two before Ron Tipton fumbled the scoring opportunity away.

Following that, San Jose made its lone mark on the scoreboard when a host of Spartans led by end Leon O'Neill gang-tackled Jacobs before he could get off a pass.

Just as the gun sounded ending the first half, Len Paratt flipped an aerial to Virge Lazzeri for a 21 yard gain. It was the only completed pass in 18 tries by three SJS quarterbacks.

Varsity coach Bob Bronzan, who was on the phones aiding the freshman coaching staff of Tom Cuffe, Archie Chogonjian and Gibby Mendonsa, commented, "One of the main troubles of our boys, so far, is that they aren't adapting to the varied offenses that COP is throwing against them. However, that is to be expected because it is their first game and their opponents are playing their third game. That makes a big difference in varsity play and even more in freshman ball."

Early in the third quarter the Tigers again took command and tallied their third and final touchdown on a ten yard run off between guard and tackle by Wills.

Swanson missed all three of the extra point tries but he certainly made up for it with his sparkling array of receptions on the aerials of Jacobs.

Things began to look like the game would end in a rout, when, in the early minutes of the final quarter, COP got down to the San Jose one. At this point the Spartans' Jim Norman recover a Bengal fumble in the end zone for a safety.

From then on the Spartababes got tougher on defense which means they will probably improve further with more competition. The defense wasn't so bad but the offense was lousy, to put it mildly.

It appeared as though the Spartans might make it respectable when Gary DeHaven picked off a pas on the COP 48 yard line and ran it back to the 25 in the last quarter. But on the locals second play after this good fortune, a Jim Fordice pass was intercepted and the threat, minor as it was, was ended.

Neither team threatened too seriously in the remaining minutes of play.

The statistics showed that the Pacific eleven had as big an edge in that department as they had on the field. COP compiled 158 yards on the ground and added 176 more via the passing of Jacobs for a total offense of 334 yards. San Jose did all right on the ground where they racked up 178 yards but their passing attack was something less than sensational.

Jerry Ruse, Jim Fordice and Len Paratt combined tallied only 21 yards.

The winners even got the benefit of the penalty column, being assessed 20 yards, compared to the Spartans' loss of 65 yards in official's decisions.

Coach Cuffe said, following the game, "I think the boys played a fine game. They seemed to have a tough time adapting themselves on defense but I'll take the blame for that. I especially liked the offensive work of Pat Hiram, John Rafliiff, Bill Aimonetti and Virge Lazzeri. Defensively, Stew Rubine, Bob Anderson, Clarence Akau and Jerry Ridley looked good."

Local Judo Team To Enter Tourney

Coach Yosh Uchida will take 30 members of his advanced judo squad to the semi-annual San Francisco Judo club promotional tournament to be held at the SFJC, 2031 Bush street, on Nov. 16.

Leading the squad will be Lyle Hunt, captain of this year's team, and Jim Foster, captain of last year's squad. Both are first degree black belts and will be attempting to attain second degree black belt status in the tournament.

Tom Dunlap, a first degree brown belt will be trying to become a black belt. The other squad members will be attempting to move up in the brown belt degrees, according to Coach Uchida.

The tourney Nov. 16 will end the team's competition until after the first of the year. Beginning in January the judo men will average two tournaments per month in competition.

Water Squad Ready for Three Games

Next week will be a busy one for Coach Charlie Walker and his water polo teams. The varsity has three games and the frosh have one tilt on tap.

Tuesday night the varsity will go across town to meet its neighboring rival, Santa Clara, in the Bronco pool. The following night the team returns home to host the San Francisco State Gators.

The varsity will take on the California Water Polo club and the frosh has a rematch with the Sequoia high school from Redwood City in a Friday night double-header in the Spartan tank.

The varsity games will each start at 8 p.m. with the frosh slated to get their game underway at 7 p.m.

Coach Walker announces that San Mateo high school and the Cal Aggies of Davis have asked for the cancellation of several games with the college.

Two freshmen and jayvee dates, Oct. 31 and Nov. 21, were called off by the Davis institution, but its varsity team will meet the Spartans on both occasions.

Coach Winter Reveals Sked For Trackmen

Track Coach Bud Winter announced the tentative cross-country schedule Friday.

With the Cal Poly and Stanford meets yet undetermined, other dates have been set as follows:

Oct. 23—Intra squad tryouts.

Nov. 1—San Francisco State invitational—there.

Nov. 7—San Francisco State—here.

Nov. 14—San Diego Aztec invitational—there.

Nov. 25—Turkey Trot—here.

Dec. 5—San Jose State invitational—here.

As Coach Winter stated earlier, this year's team has shown exceptional possibilities with a large number of men out for the team.

Giving force to the team will be such familiar names as Jerry Emerson, Gene Haynes, Bob McMullen and Paul Jennings. New names to watch with the Spartans will be Roland Murry, Don Hubbard, Ray Dyer, Bill Johansen, Jerry Jefferson, Alan Dunn and Bob Porter.

Expected to create new interest in this season's schedule of meets is the addition of Stanford, which previously has not entered in the cross-country event.

A reminder to fraternity men was made by Coach Winter, who said it will be to the advantage of all contenders in the interfraternity track meet to start working out for the event early this year. The meet, which is usually a June event, will be held in March this year.

All Grid Squads Look for Title

AMS President Tom Berrey announced today the complete list of entries in the intra-mural football program.

Accompanying each name is a prediction for the team.

Alpha Tau Omega — Big Jim will run wild.

Delta Sigma Phi — Plan to use a wayback formation.

Delta Upsilon — The Cowboys are riding for the championship.

Kappa Alpha — The Dixie boys intend to win this war.

Lambda Chi Alpha — Pushcart boys intend to ramble.

Pi Kappa Alpha — Coach Weepy crying over loss of towel.

Phi Sigma Kappa — These mugs are loaded.

Sigma Chi — Will confuse foes; all men will be quarterbacks.

Sigma Nu — Weakened by the loss of the half-dozen.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon — The lions will roar this year.

Sigma Pi — Will make 'burgers of their opponents.

Theta Chi — Have received reports that these boys are fast.

Independents: Arnold Air Society — Will take to the air.

Alpha Phi Omega — Parking lot boys set on their first championship.

John Gallagher — The fighting Irish are on campus.

Rinky Dinks — Are a definite threat.

Firehouse Five — Sure fire champ stock.

Kappa Tau — In same situation as Michigan State.

Newman club — Have tough bowlers on the team.

Beaux — Will send foes to the cleaners.

Berrey said that a new game schedule has been placed on the bulletin board in the gym. It has minor changes from the original schedule.

He stated further that each team will be asked to select one official from its group to help referee the games and take charge of equipment.

Wrestling Men Should Signup Now--Mumby

Anyone interested in competing for the college varsity or freshman wrestling teams is requested to sign up early this week by Hugh Mumby, Spartan mat mentor.

Coach Mumby says the best time to contact him would be 4:30 p.m. in the little gym.

First activity on the wrestling calendar will be a "get-together" with the University of California grapplers at Berkeley. Competition will be informal because the regular dual meet between the schools is scheduled for Dec. 10.

San Jose State college will host the Northern California PAA novice tournament Nov. 15. Any matman who has not won a place in a PAA or other AAU tournament will be eligible to compete.

Survey Brings SJS Notice

Tele-Census, a survey in which San Jose State students play an important part, has brought the college national recognition in the past and will continue to this quarter, Jack H. Holland, assistant professor of commerce, reported today.

According to Mr. Holland, the booklet is compiled by students of this college, Brigham Young university, Redlands university, Stanford university, Valley college and Woodbury Business college of Los Angeles, where it is published.

He named "the effects of television on the study habits of elementary and junior high school students" as the topic of this year's survey, and estimates that each of the 120 members of his Business 180 class will have to call on four or five owners of television sets.

No profit is earned by Woodbury for Tele-Census. Students of other colleges take the surveys as part of their homework for business courses, Mr. Holland explained.

Recognition has been given San Jose's part in Tele-Census by Time, Life, Newsweek, all advertising journals, and the United Press International News Service and the Associated Press, he added.

Journalists Will Sponsor 'Apple' Award

The college's Department of Journalism will soon begin to make awards of meritorious service in journalism or advertising, according to Dr. Dwight Bentel, head of the department.

The award, a certificate with the picture of a ripe Wenatchee apple on it, will be known as The Big Red Apple award.

Awards will be made whenever a newspaperman, advertising man or newspaper makes a notable contribution to the profession, Dr. Bentel said.

The Big Red Apple award is not competitive, as are some of the more pretentious awards currently being made. It is made in an effort to give recognition for less spectacular but nonetheless important contributions made by the press and its members.

Candidates for the award are considered first by a committee of senior journalism and advertising students: Gelso Gualco, chairman; Frank Gendusie, advertising major, and Bill Pedigo. Dr. Bentel is faculty adviser to the committee.

The committee report is presented to Journalism 175, a seminar composed of journalism seniors and faculty members. After discussion, a vote is taken on each proposed award. First of The Big Red Apple awards will be made in the near future.

Frozen Fish Found Foreign

An Alaskan fish traveled 2500 miles, only to end up as a feature attraction in the "Animal Parade" now on display in the Science building hallways.

A native of Aleutian waters, the wandering finster was caught by commercial fisherman off the coast of Santa Cruz. Impressed by the unusual color of a specie that he had never seen before, Captain Victor Ghio froze the specimen and brought it to the college for identification.

Dr. Ralph Smith, associate professor of zoology, classified the captain's find as an Atka-fish or Greenling, but did not venture to say why the fish was so far south of its native waters.

Three Sent to WUS Meeting

A three-student delegation represented the college at a meeting of the World University Service organization in La Honda, Calif., Oct. 11 and 12.

The three, Betty Dwyer, Gene Standfield and Phil Goodwin were among 50 representatives from eight Northern California universities and colleges.

The group reviewed the history and services of WUS, Miss Dwyer, chairman of the local delegation, reported.

Dick Weisman, Stanford, and Pete Cunliffe, University of California, were co-chairmen of the regional conference.

The first technicolor motion pictures ever taken of the inside of the living heart have contributed new knowledge about the functioning of that vital organ.
