

State Architects Deliberate Housing

College May Get Two Dormitories

By WALT ROESSING
Spartan Daily Editor

Officials of the State Department of Architecture are considering two six-story dormitories for this college, President John T. Wahlquist revealed yesterday afternoon.

One dormitory would be for men, the other for women, each with a capacity of 200, he announced.

However, these dormitories may not be constructed on the Sparta campus for some years. Dr. Wahlquist said, "We are at the initial stages once more so far as the dormitories are concerned. Permission to plan the dormitories will be sought at the next session of the legislature. Request for the money to build will be sought at the next succeeding legislature."

State officials now have under consideration the question of borrowing money from the federal government. The federal government will loan up to 80 per cent of the cost of such dorms, President Wahlquist stated.

Since the State Department of Agriculture has not completed as yet a final, revised master plan for the college, the location of campus dormitories has not been definitely determined. According to the old master plan, the dormitories were to be built on South Ninth street.

It is felt by many campus administrators that such dormitories would help solve the current housing problem here. Because of lack of proper housing at Sparta in 1947 the college received an appropriation of $2,000,000 that year to pay for the construction of dorms. The money was given to the State Board of Public Works.

Because of increased building costs, however, money for the dorms is being used instead for construction of the Music and Engineering buildings, Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president emeritus of the college, revealed to the Spartan Daily last year in an interview on the housing situation.

Because of critical shortages of steel and other essential materials dormitories at many other colleges throughout the nation have been constructed of wood recently with the only steel being used for foundation reinforcement. At College of Marin three structures framed in wood were expected to cost $200,000.

Dr. MacQuarrie explained to state officials last year that, "All we want is some place for our students to lay their heads."

At the present time the college's proposed dormitories are not very high on the State Department of Education's priority list. These structures are listed on the second list of revised priorities entitled, "urgent." The dormitories are number four on this list.

Proposed allocation for these edifices early this month was $1,098,303, which is two-thirds cost. Under the State board of education's ruling in winter of 1951 the new dormitories will be financed one-third by the sale of revenue bonds and two-thirds by the state appropriations.

La Torre Pages

Deadline for organizations to turn in contracts for La Torre pictures was Oct. 24, and many organizations have not been heard from, Carole Simmons and Dick Zimmerman, co-editors of the yearbook, announced today.

Pages in the yearbook are being planned and any organization which has not turned in its contract at the Graduate Manager's office should do so at once, the co-editors declared.

Organizations which have been overlooked may obtain contracts in La Torre office, B95, if they act immediately, Miss Simmons and Zimmerman added.

Jacoubowsky Gives Gavel To Ken Scannell

In a brief, simple ceremony newly-elected senior class officers were installed at a class meeting yesterday.

Outgoing President Ed Jacoubowsky opened the meeting and then introduced Don Binder, chief justice of the Student Court, who conducted the installation.

Officers installed were Ken Scannell, president; Don Weichert, vice president; Gloria Dillon, secretary; and Jeanne Saxon, treasurer.

Major portion of the meeting following the ceremony was devoted to Senior Overnight plans.

Committee Chairman Alice Dougherty reported on Strawberry lodge as being the best choice at present. "However," she pointed out, "the cost per student easily could reach $25."

A breakdown of cost shows $8 for room and three meals, $6.90 for bus transportation, plus rental of ski equipment and incidental expenses.

Jacoubowsky was appointed chairman of a committee to discuss a change of site for the June baccalaureate.

Get Ballots at Library Arch

Today is the last day for students to obtain absentee ballot applications at the booth in the Library Arch, according to Bill Rushaw, Student Y vice-president.

The forms are being distributed by the Student Y Committee on Effective Citizenship. They also may be picked up at the Student Y, 272 S. Seventh street, Rushaw said.

Requests for ballots must be received before Oct. 30 by the County Clerk or the offices conducting the election. Applications should be addressed to the County Clerk's office.

The committee was prompted to distribute the forms by an editorial appearing in the Spartan Daily, Rushaw said.

200 Pledge Blood

More than 200 persons have signed to donate blood on Freshman Blood Days, Nov. 3 and 4, according to a total made yesterday afternoon at the booth at the Library Arch. The booth is open each school day 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Sigma Kappa, Kappa Tau Top All Greeks

Sigma Kappa sorority and Kappa Tau fraternity took top honors in last night's Fourth Annual All-Greek show held in Morris Dailey auditorium before a full house.

Sigma Kappa's presentation, "A Saga of the Old West," was directed by Nancy Dittmore.

Second among the sororities was Alpha Chi Omega's parody on campus life. Alpha Phi, with a satire on "High Noon," and Kappa Kappa Gamma, with "Short Wave TV," tied for third place.

"Ballet Excellence," or "When the Devil's Away, the Demons Will Play," a satire on ballet, took the first place trophy for Kappa Tau. It was directed by Gene Stanfield.

Kappa Alphas chorus line, dancing to the tune of "Tea for Two," took the second place award among fraternities. Alpha Tau Omega, with their satire on the opera "Carmen" finished third.

Other sororities participating were Alpha Omicron Pi, "Sleeping Beauty," Chi Omega, a musical tabloid; Delta Gamma, a song and dance act; Delta Zeta, "Archie, Boy Freshman," Kappa Alpha Theta, a parody on rushing, and Gamma Phi Beta, "There is Nothing Like a Guy."

Fraternities not placing were Delta Sigma Phi, Jolson pantomime; Delta Upsilon, a chorus line; Lambda Chi Alpha, a take-off on Mickey Spillane; Pi Kappa Alpha, a satire on college songs; Phi Sigma Kappa, "A Communist Meeting; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, an amateur hour; Sigma Chi, "Mack's Bath," a satire on "MacBeth;" Sigma Nu, "Cigarettes and Whiskey;" Sigma Pi, singing number, and Theta Xi, a singing number.

College Head Leaves Today

President John T. Wahlquist will depart from the campus late this afternoon for San Luis Obispo where he will attend a meeting of the Council of State College Presidents at Cal Poly college tomorrow and Thursday.

The college president has asked for discussion of three vital subjects at the two-day conference. These are college publications, athletics and the application of the purity code and religious activities on state college campuses.

Other topics of discussion on the agenda will be building programs, budget hearings, the 1953-54 budget, legislative program, education of veterans, inauguration of presidents, dedication of buildings, master's degrees, population studies and college drop-outs.

Indians Rally With Spartans

An exchange rally with Stanford, featuring acts from both campuses, is scheduled for 7:15 o'clock Thursday evening in the Stanford basketball pavillion, Chuck Wing, Rally committee chairman, reported yesterday.

The Stanford band will be on hand to furnish music for the rally. Featured act of the Stanford contingent will be a gymnastics exhibition by Bruce Harlan, Olympic diving champion.

Wing also announced that "Scalp the Indians" buttons will be on sale on campus this week for five cents each.

Athletic Future Of SJS At Stake

A "crucial" meeting, which probably will determine the athletic future of San Jose State college, will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

President John T. Wahlquist announced yesterday afternoon that two main problems will be discussed at today's conclave.

First, "We are going to discuss among other things the football schedule of 1953."

At the present time the Spartans have arranged no definite football dates for the 1953 season. Consensus, however, is that such rivals as College of Pacific and Fresno State college will be included on the schedule.

Dr. Wahlquist added, "In all probability we'll continue to play with the same caliber of teams in the future."

Second, there will be a discussion concerning "San Jose State college's future in athletics."

The college president commented that the question of the new seven-point policy on athletics that was voted through by the Council of State College Presidents in Sacramento earlier this year probably will arise at the conference.

With the exception of a ruling concerning post-season bowl games, the college conforms to the new athletic policy, which goes into effect July 1, 1953.

Glenn "Tiny" Hartman, director of the Physical Education division, will be chairman at today's athletic conference.

Housing Solution Rests With Administration

What is the present solution to the housing problem here on campus? Will new dormitories solve the situation in the near future?

It appears that the housing problem will not be solved overnight. There are too many things that must be worked out to the satisfaction of everyone concerned before the overcrowded situation is relieved to any great extent. Of course, so far as morals are concerned, students can make a complete change now for the good of themselves and the college.

And on the dormitories. It is very doubtful that there will be such structures on this campus in the next couple of years. None of the planning has been completed on these edifices and money, a very important item, must still be obtained for their construction.

"We are at the initial stages once more so far as the dormitories are concerned," President John T. Wahlquist said yesterday.

With the completion of the dorms in doubt, therefore, it is up to the administrators of the college to come up with more immediate measures. The need is urgent. The sooner a plan is worked out, the happier the student body and faculty will be.

Thrust and Parry

Daily Does A . . . Job? Neglected Frosh

Dear Thrust and Parry:

For a non-partisan paper the Spartan Daily is certainly doing a . . . job.

Particularly is this evident in the news releases from the wire services. On one Spartan Daily issue (Oct. 17) we learned that, "Campaign Cannons Fire Away." These were statements by Harry and another person called Adlai. Nowhere on that entire page was there a statement by Ike, but we did learn that he was on a campaign train ride. Perhaps Ike was using sign language and such items could not be transmitted by wire?

Then there was a well written belching, pardon me, article (Oct. 20) by Jerry Belcher which mentioned something about a prominent candidate who talks over the heads of the masses. I understand that this person also tells jokes.

Later there was the ad about S . . . (can't say that word) which did not say by whom it was sponsored and if it was paid for or not. The editor of the paper wrote a special editorial about the ads being paid for, but again he neglected to say, "Who done it?" Is that one of those deals that we pay taxes for or are our editors giving space under the guise of paid ads?

As I see it our editors have a choice. 1) get back up on the fence where they belong and print the news impartially or 2) get down in the mud with the rest of us and pick sides.

Now you people who have read this far may go back up to the first paragraph and fill in the word that fits the blank best.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM J. RAFLOSKI,
ASB 5608

I, Personally

Dear Thrust and Parry and ASB's 1254, 445, 5270, 4789, 3048:

In reference to Proposition 3 and your article entitled "How's Your I.Q.?" I would like to clarify some points which you have unfortunately omitted.

First, you inform us that all other 47 states exempt non-profit schools below the college level from taxation. This is true, but what you do not say is that all other 47 states have limitations of one sort or another attached.

This bill does not make any limitations on property, which is a very important point to the taxpayer.

Second, the article tells us that this is not a question of church and state. If it is not, then please tell me what it is! The proposition would permit religious organizations to propagate their faith at the expense of the California taxpayer.

Third, your intellectual discourse informs us that this bill would exempt non-profit schools for the physically and mentally retarded. That seems to me to be fair, but why include all of the others too? If one or two points to the bill are good, let's formulate a bill which includes only those points.

I, for one, favor separation of church and state, because it violates our democratic way of life and I feel that Proposition 3 demands of me a vote of NO as an INTELLIGENT, thinking voter.

G. SKOW,

Homecomers To Appear on TV Tomorrow

Homecoming will be previewed tomorrow at 3 p.m. on the Del Courtney television show, KPXX, Channel 5, when more than 30 Homecoming participants will be featured on the half-hour program.

Greg Snyder, Homecoming publicity head, said the following San Jose State college students will take part in the show:

Bob Helms and Bill Anders, guitar players; Pat Dougherty and Pat Lieftrink, duet; Mark Hassall, Czechoslovakian folk dancer; Nedra Tibbetts, pantomime; Bob Helms, baritone and the queen contestants who will compete for honors Nov. 4 at the Variety show.

"We also hope to have Olympic boxing champ Chuck Adkins on the show," Snyder added.

Entertainment provided will be a partial representation of the Homecoming Variety show, which will be held Nov. 4 in the Morris Dailey auditorium at 8 p.m.

High school students, numbering 1771, entered school this quarter. The total is 313 more than last year's 1458.

Raiders Prepare For Indian Game

Spartan footballers took a week-end off from the gridiron wars to prepare for their forthcoming titanic with the University of Stanford, Saturday, Nov. 1.

The Raiders, however, took only their usual one-day off as Coach straight loss of the season. They dropped their game the week before to UCLA, 24-14. They now own a four and two record for the year.

The Golden Raiders' opponent for the homecoming tilt, Nov. 7, Brigham Young University, won their game from Denver in a tight contest, 14-13, for their fifth win of the season. The Cougars have only dropped one contest and that to a tough University of Utah eleven.

University of Montana, the team which was scheduled last week in place of the canceled Pepperdine game, gained a moral victory Saturday by tying the University of Oregon 14-14 in the last three minutes of the game. They have now won one, lost four and tied one. They meet the Spartans Nov. 14.

And the Golden Raiders' cross-town rivals, the University of Santa Clara, finally broke into the win column Friday night with a victory over Idaho, 9-7. Their record for the season now stands at one win and four losses. They have played major opponents all the way, losing to California, Tulane, Kansas and Stanford.

The Spartans, meanwhile, sport a four and one mark for the year, having lost only to powerful University of Colorado in their opener, 20-14. They have since taken the measure of San Diego State, Fresno State, Arizona State at Tempe and College of Pacific.

Mermen Off To Stanford Tomorrow

Sparta's water polo teams visit Palo Alto tomorrow to do battle with the Stanford varsity and Freshman teams. The frosh tilt leads off at 3:30 p.m. with the varsity game on tap for 4:30.

In what was the opener for both varsities, the Indians edged the Spartans 4-8 in the local pool three weeks ago.

San Jose's Chet Keil and Jay Flood shared honors with Stanford's Bert Holiday and Jim Gaughran in the first game. Keil scored all of the three SJS goals and Flood played an outstanding game as goalie.

The locals go into today's game with three wins and two losses. Cal has been the only common opponent of both teams. The Bears were victorious 4-3 over Stanford and 11-2 against the Spartans.

The San Jose frosh teams has been improving with each game and should give the favored Paipooses a run for their money. Guards Dale Anderson and Paul Bataille and goalies Ron Mann and Larry Mitchell were singled out by Coach Charlie Walker as stand-outs in the 5-4 loss to Sequoia High school Friday night.

Buek Is Ski Club Speaker

Dick Buek, national skiing figure and member of the 1952 Olympic team, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Ski club tonight in Morris Dailey auditorium.

Interested skiers may meet Buek and the Ski club instructors for this year in the Student Union following the meeting. Free coffee and donuts will be served.

Feature of the meeting will be the showing of the Harriman Cup competition films, which were made at Sun Valley, Idaho.

Buek captured 15th place in the Olympic downhill slalom and is North American amateur champion in that class.

...priced according to the diamond

One of her biggest moments—receiving her ring! Make it a good one! For the diamond ring worn by the bride-to-be will be worn forever.

Proctor's recommends the design shown here. It is today's version of the classic Tiffany setting. An elegantly simple 14K gold mounting, glorifying a single diamond—in unquestionably good taste.

Dollar-wise, this design has many advantages. Because the all-important center diamond is the only diamond, it is larger and finer than if part of the cost went into surrounding diamonds.

Since the price of such a ring depends for the most part upon the diamond itself, Proctor's can offer this design at from $100 to $500. It's the size of the fine diamond which determines price. So this design may be had according to the amount you wish to invest.

Proctor's invites you to see it, and also the matching wedding rings for bride and groom. Avail yourself of convenient terms. Prices are exactly the same, cash or credit. Pay no money down, no interest, no extras, no carrying charges!

Dean Dimmick Relates Recent Hawaiian Cruise

"Very educational" and "thrilling," was the way Dean of Women Helen Dimmick described her recent trip to Honolulu at the weekly AWS meeting last Wednesday.

Dean Dimmick was one of a group of 15 women who were guests of the Navy on a 12-day cruise to observe naval operations in the Pearl Harbor area. She said that this was the first time a group of civilian women had gone on such a cruise.

"We learned a great deal about what the Navy and Marines are doing in the Pacific," Dean Dimmick said.

Among the scheduled events, she stated, were lectures on strategy, visits to radar stations and the ammunition depot, a boat tour of Pearl Harbor, and a trip to the remains of the battleship Arizona. She added that they saw movies on the attack of Pearl Harbor which were "tremendously impressive."

The movies, she explained, had been made from still pictures taken during the attack.

Among other affairs the group attended were a luncheon at the Barbers Point officers club and a swimming party at the Kailua officers beach.

Dean Dimmick stressed that the trip was anything but a "rest."

"We were dressed every day and ready to go at 8 a.m. and would return to our quarters about 4 or 5 p.m.," she stated.

Dean Dimmick described the scenery as colorful and beautiful. She mentioned the flowers in particular which she said were large and plentiful. She said the hibiscus were "big as a plate."

While on the island, the group of women stayed at the Bachelor Officers Quarters in Makalapa, a Navy residential district.

Dean Dimmick left Oct. 1, on a Mars flying boat and returned on the USS Haven, a hospital ship.

Report on Chapel

To hear progress reports concerning permanent furnishings and tile flooring for the college Memorial Chapel, a meeting of the Chapel Decorations and Furnishings committee is planned for today, according to Warren Faus, committee chairman. Time and place for the meeting has not yet been announced.

At the year's first meeting, gifts for the chapel that have been offered by various individuals and organizations also will be discussed, Faus said.

Members of the committee are Warren Hill, Wendell Johnson, Benjamin W. Spaulding, Miss Martha Thomas and E. S. Thompson.
