No Decision Reached In Semester Evaluation

The advantages of a semester system at the college as opposed to the present quarter system have been under study by a special Semester-Quarter committee appointed by Dr. John T. Wahlquist, college president, last spring.

Joe H. West, dean of students and chairman of the committee, announced that the group had reached no conclusion and had made no recommendations or decisions, but merely had studied the situation and brought forth certain evidence.

The dean explained that approximately half of the faculty were in favor of the quarter system and the other half favorable to the semester year.

Advantages of both systems were set forth by the committee, with the evidence divided into two major groups, semester and quarter.

The biggest argument yet found by the committee in favor of the present system at SJS is the field of practice teaching and field work in conjunction with the 12-weeks full time practice teaching arrangement. The committee found that the 12-week period is the best method, whereas an 18 (semester) week period would be too long for practical purposes, and in addition, would require 50 per cent more facilities.

"Since teacher training is so important at San Jose State college, this will be an important factor in the deliberation by the committee," Mr. West revealed.

The arguments for the semester system are mainly administrative ones. Uniformity with other colleges, articulation with other institutions as in the semester vacation break, non-instructional staffing, relief of clerical work in the Registrar's office and in the business office, and amount of time used for registration and examinations are the chief problems which have brought consideration of a change to the semester system to the college, according to Dean West.

San Jose state and California Polytechnic college are the only state colleges in California under the quarter system. All others, except Stanford university, have two semesters a year. The semester consists of an 18-week school period in a 36-week school year whereas the quarter is 12-weeks long with three in a 36-week school year.

"The committee realizes the change would mean a tremendous amount of work and adjustment and plenty of time would have to be allowed after a decision is made before a change takes effect," Dean West pointed out.

Building Plans Get State Nod

The state architect has approved plans for additions to three buildings which are scheduled for construction next summer, according to E. S. Thompson, business manager.

The additions to be constructed are to the Science building, the library and the Men's gymnasium.

Approval of the state architect was needed before building could begin, according to Thompson.

Thompson announced these appropriations for the building program. Science building, $2,109,615; Library, $654,621; Men's gymnasium, $612,336.

The administration received permission earlier this week from the state board of education to request these buildings in the 1954 budget: a classroom building to cost $1,483,126; completion to the library, to cost an estimated $654,379; and a new administration building, to cost approximately $785,011.

Debaters To Visit Sigma Chi House

Two Oxford university debaters, John Peters and Patrick Mayhew, will be guests of Sigma Chi fraternity for their two-day visit in San Jose.

The Sigma Chi's are giving a dinner Monday evening in honor of their two guests. Invitations have been sent to Dr. and Mrs. John T. Wahlquist, Dr. and Mrs. James C. DeVoss, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mouat, Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, Dr. Hugh Gillis, the San Jose State debaters Bill Johnson and Terry Arnold and Mrs. Arnold.

After the debate Monday at 8 p.m. in the Concert hall, Mayhew and Peters will return to the Sigma Chi house where they will spend the night. They leave Tuesday morning for Stanford.

Last spring, the Sigma Chi housed the debaters from Cambridge during their San Jose visit. Bill Tyler and Dr. Mouat are in charge of the visit arrangements.

Former Convict Confesses In Greenlease Kidnapping

mer convict, calmly told police and FBI agents yesterday how he planned and executed the kidnapping of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease whose badly decomposed body was discovered in a shallow grave in St. Joseph, Mo., yesterday, according to a United Press bulletin.

Mrs. Bonnie Heady, who was also arrested in connection with the kidnap-murder, has admitted posing as the boy's aunt to spirit him from the exclusive Catholic school, but denied she knew or had any conscious part in the kidnap plan which Hall admitted working on for two years before he got up enough nerve to carry it out.

University of Iowa Blast
IOWA CITY, Oct. 7 (UP)—An explosion, apparently caused by ether, blasted through the top floor of the chemistry building at the University of Iowa today, setting the building on fire.

First reports by police said one person was injured and taken to a hospital.

Former College Editor Warns
BERLIN, Oct. 6 (UP)—Zander Hollander, 22-year-old former editor of the University of Michigan daily newspaper, warned today that "It would be dangerous for Americans to believe there's unrest in Russian which could be capitalized upon by a foreign power."

Hollander was one of three American college editors who spent two weeks in the Soviet Union. He returned to West Berlin from behind the Iron Curtain yesterday.

Hollander said the Russian people appear to believe completely all their government's propaganda, and that the government appeared to be in tight political and police control of the people.

Council Says Student Body Posts Vacant

Students were invited to submit applications to the Student Council for appointment to the following student body offices:

Recording secretary; chairman of Community Services to oversee Blood drive, Campus Chest, and World University Services; Chief Justice of the Student Court; sophomore justice, prosecuting attorney; College Health board, handling insurance funds and functions of McFadden Health cottage; Spartan shop board which controls the book store and fountain; Student Union board which is in charge of the use of the building and facilities.

Four members for the Fairness committee are sought; two for the Chapel Use committee; two for the Revelries board; two for the Social Activities board; one for Radio and Television committee; two for Co-Rec, and one for the Awards committee.

Applications for appointment to these boards must be filed in the ASB office in the Student Union.

The Weather

Santa Cruz still has its arms open to any SJS students who like to gamble on the weather. The so often wrong weather man predicts for the Santa Clara Valley, fog early this morning. The little man also predicts cooler weather which will be 74-82 degrees, compared with yesterday's high of 85.

Jewelers Present Crown for Queen

A jeweled rhinestone tiara will be placed on the head of the 1953 Homecoming queen at the Coronation Ball, Oct. 30, according to Jim Bernardi, chairman. The crown, which will be passed on from queen to queen, was donated to the school by local jewelers.

Queen entry blanks must be deposited in box "H" in the Student Union by 5 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 13, in order to qualify. To be eligible, each girl must have completed at least three quarters of work at any college or university and must be a full-time student at San Jose in clear standing.

Any campus organization may sponsor a candidate, but no girl may be backed by more than one group, added Bernardi. Entry blanks must be accompanied by an 8x10 glossy print of the candidate.

Girls will be judged in both formal and campus clothes, he said. Candidates will be introduced to the students at a rally Thursday, Nov. 15. Voting to select ten semi-finalists is scheduled for Oct. 22.

At the Texas State rally, Oct. 29, the semi-finalists will parade before a board of five professional people who will select a royal court of five girls.

The following night, at the Coronation Ball, one of the five will be crowned 1953 Homecoming queen and the other four girls will serve as attendants, according to Bernardi.

HSC Pres. Visits

Earl Rumble, student body president at Humboldt State college at Eureka, and Dwain Haines, a fellow student, will visit the campus today from 9 a.m. to noon.

The visiting pair will meet with SJS student council members and will tour the Student Union and the Spartan Shop.

Camp Sign-up Date Extended

The deadline for students who wish to sign up for Sparta Camp has been extended to 5 p.m. tonight, Jerry Ball, director of the camp, announced yesterday at the Student Council meeting.

As of late yesterday, 50 applications had been received, but an estimated 164 is expected by extending the deadline. Ball stated that the whole 164 students must attend in order to meet expenses.

SALLEE LOTZ
Corresponding Secretary

The resignation of Arline Gentry, student body recording secretary, was read to the council and accepted. The position was left open to application from the college as a whole.

Barbara Roach, senior representative to the student council, gave a report on the Lecture committee board. A discussion was held concerning the various speakers and their topics which will be held this year.

The profits that the college will receive from the movie tickets sold on campus this quarter was reported on by Bill Eckert. He stated that an estimated $500 will be derived from this project, and the council voted that it be placed in the Student Union fund. Eckert also stated that if 2000 tickets are sold each quarter, approximately $1500 will be accumulated at the end of the school year.

A breakdown of the Speech and Forensics budget was studied by the council. After considerable deliberation, the $251.96 additional funds asked for by Dr. Lawrence Mouat for the group, was refused.

The council upheld the college constitution by refusing students on probation to run for class office. The question arose when delegates from the Freshman class asked that they be given permission to do so.

Senior Justice Jim Choate was instructed to call an immediate meeting of the student court for the purpose of arranging class elections on Oct. 23.

After the meeting the council was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Joe West at a barbecue dinner. Joining the council were two visiting students from Humboldt State college—Earl Rumble, ASB prexy and Dwain Haines, representative-at-large.

Football Team To See Rally

San Jose State football players will turn out en masse tonight to see the Morris Dailey transformed into a Hawaiian island for the Arizona rally, according to Jim Houston, entertainment chairman. Players will be introduced to the students by Coach Bob Bronzan.

The rally, which begins at 8 p.m., will feature members of Hula-O-Kamaina, campus Hawaiian club. Hula dancers Beverly Brede, Liane Stuart, Barbara Nelson and Beatrice Bond will be musically accompanied by Jerry Au Hei, Tam Crons and Melvin Soong.

More Hawaiian atmosphere will be added by ukulele players Gerry Scoggin and Houston, known as the "Jazzberries."

Song girls and yell leaders will also don sarongs and grass skirts to join in the cheering, according to Houston.

"A lot of hard work has gone into this rally," stated Jerry Ball, Rally committee chairman. "We want to win this game Saturday night and we need student support in order to do this. This rally is one important way the students can show their coach and their team how they feel."

Yearbook Editor Requests Sign-up

Jim Cottrell, editor of the graduate division of the La Torre, urges seniors to sign up for pictures as soon as possible so that the yearbook pages can be set up.

He states that a booth will be in the outer quad for the remainder of this week, but that Monday, Oct. 12, the booth will be moved to the La Torre office, Room 9 of the Journalism building.

Leach Speaks Twice Tuesday

Author and educator Henry Goddard Leach will discuss magazine editing and Sweden when he lectures Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in the Music building's concert hall and again at 11:30 a.m. in the Little Theater.

Dr. Leo Kibby, Social Science department head, has been asked to dismiss 9:30 Social Science classes so students may hear Dr. Leach lecture on "Why Sweden Doesn't Participate in the Atlantic Pact."

Dr. Dwight Bentel, Journalism department head, was asked to dismiss 1:30 a.m. Journalism classes so they may attend Dr. Leach's talk on "Magazine Editing."

The 73-year-old lecturer studied at Harvard university and taught there for many years. Since 1912 he has been an executive of the American-Scandinavian foundation of which he is president-emeritus.

For 18 years he edited the Forum and Century magazines.

Dr. Leach has lectured in 120 universities and colleges in the United States and Canada. His topics concern Scandinavia, democracy, and British writers.

He is author of "Scandinavia of the Scandinavians," "Angevin Britain and Scandinavia," "A Pageant of Old Scandinavia," and "The Fire's Center."

Ball Delays Ruling On Rooters Train

No definite decision has yet been made on the proposed "Rooters Train" to the Oregon game, announced Jerry Ball, rally committee chairman, late yesterday.

"Actually," explained Ball, "if a rooters' trip is made, it will probably not be by train, but possibly by bus."

"If the plan is carried out, it will be under the conditions set up by the student body," he pointed out. Cost per student has been estimated at $17.50.

Ball stated that if the Spartan football team is successful against Arizona State and the University of California teams, enough enthusiasm might be created to bring full support to the trip to the University of Oregon contest.

He added that student body support and attendance at the pre-game rallies would do a great deal to decide the matter.

"The Rally committee is set up to provide the students with what they want. If the student's desire a method to get to the Oregon game, we will do whatever is in our power to get them there," Ball asserted.

We Gotta Be Shown!

An innovation in student government will begin at 12 o'clock tomorrow when a large group of students and faculty will gather in front of the Student Union building to board buses for Asilomar. The occasion of the trip is, of course, Sparta Camp.

The question which comes to mind is, "Why are these people giving up part of their weekend and paying $10 for the privilege of attending Sparta Camp?" To discover the answer to this question we cornered Jerry Ball, chairman of the Rally committee, a prominent organizer of Sparta Camp and a most busy man.

Here is what Ball told us: "The purpose of Sparta Camp is to allow student leaders to gain some insight into the reasons behind some of the decisions made on the San Jose State college campus. Decisions involved include both those of the administration and the student government. These insights will lead necessarily to a better understanding of the efforts which eventually produce a rounded program of student activities and instruction."

We have no way of determining whether or not Sparta Camp will be a success and doubt if a true measurement of its value can be made before the end of the school year in June. If it should lead to a better understanding and better coordination of the college program, we are in favor of making Sparta Camp an annual affair. However, we must confess that we are attending Sparta Camp to be shown. We have to be convinced that existing conditions can be improved. We have to be convinced that knowledge about decisions will contribute to a more fully rounded program of student activities and instruction. In other words, we like things pretty much the way they are. The thing that has enticed us to Sparta Camp is the report that the administration and faculty are backing Sparta Camp to the fullest extent possible. If this is true, there may well be existing conditions of which we are not aware. We are going to Sparta Camp to find out.

Observing with us will be someone from Stanford. This person may choose to transport the Sparta Camp idea to the campus of that neighboring institution of higher learning if it is successful. We hope sincerely that it is successful and that this particular innovation in student government spreads to the campuses of colleges and universities, carrying with it the name of its originator—San Jose State college.

Thrust-and Parry

What, No Pickets!

So you think the entire student body should boycott the downtown theaters, eh? Clash. Well, put this in your pipe and smoke it while your picketing the students from the filthy, capitalistic, movie-managers. The students themselves have made close inspection of reduced admission tickets necessary by sneaking their reduced admission cards to friends after they have purchased their tickets at the window.

When two or three people get a lowered admission rate on one ticket the theater loses money. Do you think the theaters owe that to the students?

And you say that requiring identification in addition to the cards is unheard of in other theaters? I'll tell you something else that is unheard of in other theaters . . . reduced admission cards! As stated in the Spartan Daily two weeks ago, "Other schools have started similar programs, but have been forced to abandon them because students misused their privileges."

And the Towne theater in San Jose, that has student body rates of 60 cents and has never scrutinized ASB cards has not opened as yet. And school has been in session for three weeks.

Here's a case of a movie-manager that bent too far over backwards to please State students. Theaters are in a business slump right now. They must charge more for top pictures to realize a profit. You say most of the movies are trash, so don't go already! And you still have enough crust left to complain about the "petty" 20 cent reduction by the theaters. What do you want? Television?

Sport Notes

By KEITH KALDENBACH

Now that the thrills of the World Series are a part of sports history, we can return our thoughts to the 1953 football wars. And it's an interesting series of battles this year with the return of the single platoon system. Most of us have not been able to adjust to the new system and have wondered what's with our favorite team, namely the Spartans.

After their explosive season's opener against Idaho, many of us thought that this was it—the best Golden Raider squad ever. Then came the little deal in Provo, Utah, when the Raiders almost laid an egg. Call it over confidence, call it looking ahead, call it anything you want—the Raiders were definitely off that night when they were forced to come from behind in the closing minutes to defeat Brigham Young, a team they were touted to beat by at least four touchdowns.

Then came last Saturday evening in Fresno when a scrappy Bulldog eleven gave the Spartans their second scare in as many weeks. Many of us thought it was Provo all over again. In fact, this was the belief of Coach Bob Bronzan until he reviewed the game on film. When the last frame of the film flickered by, Bronzan looked at his team from a different viewpoint.

He was wearing a pleased expression yesterday as he talked of the game and assured us that the Raiders are on their way to becoming the well-knit ball team they appeared to be in the opener against Idaho. We agree with Bronzan's claim that the Spartans are on the upgrade and that their performances should improve with time.

Now that Larry Rice has discovered his throwing arm, which operated with devastating efficiency against the Bulldogs, you can look for a more varied offense from the Raiders. Combined with the running of "Shoeless" Joe Ulm, Larry Matthews, Pat Hiram and Jerry Taylor, Rice's new weapon should be the factor needed to keep the enemy's defense off-balance throughout ensuing games. The Spartans definitely have the goods and we believe they will begin to display them Saturday night against Arizona State.

Speaking of Arizona State (Tempe that is), they have not been doing too badly themselves in the past few weeks. They lost their opener to a strong San Diego Naval Training Station squad, by a score of 19-14. Next, they defeated North Texas State, whom the Raiders meet in Spartan stadium the night of Oct. 31, in a 14-0 shutout. Last week they lost a thriller to Texas Western by a one-point margin in a 23-27 contest.

The Mental Midget Monday Morning Migraine Makers, prognosticators extraordinaire, failed miserably in their picks of the winners of last weekend's games. Two of "Les Miserables," namely Bart Williams and Don Johnson, came out on top by picking all but two of the games correctly. They both lost out on the California-Ohio State and the SJS Frosh-East Contra Costa contests. Only bright light in the whole affair was that they were unanimous in their choice of the Golden Raiders over Fresno State.

Have you noticed the large number of games that have been won in the last half of the games this season? This indicates that the element of condition has a great deal to do with the game of football under the new set-up. This seemed to be the case in both the Cal-Ohio State and the Stanford-Illinois affairs. We approve of it and feel that it's proper to think of football as a man's game once again and not just a contest between specialists.

Touch Football Sign-up Is Extended to Oct. 14

Deadline for entry of independent teams in the Intramural Touch Football league has been extended until Wednesday, Oct. 14, to allow for a larger sign-up. Wade Wilson, intramural football manager, announced yesterday.

Original deadline date for all teams was set for Friday, but the need for more time was realized to allow independent teams sufficient time to round up enough players, Wilson said.

Entry fees from all teams must be turned in to Wilson in the Men's gym by Oct. 12 in order to be eligible for competition. Also, rosters will be required from each team by Friday.

Play will begin in the touch football program on Tuesday afternoon. Three games are to be scheduled for each day, three days a week.

A trophy will be presented to the winner of the Independent league by the Associated Men Students, Wilson said. The Intra-Fraternity council will award the winning fraternity team with a trophy. Wilson said that there will be two sub-leagues within the Fraternity league in order that the program may be speeded.

Rules and schedules for the league season will be distributed through the IFC for the Fraternity league. Independent league managers are asked to pick up their copies in the Men's gym office.

Games will be played on various playgrounds of the San Jose Recreation department.

Severe Burns Sideline Four SJS Gridders

The Spartans' best ball carrier, statistics-wise, Halfback Larry Matthews, is still suffering from first and second-degree burns he received in last Saturday night's game with Fresno State. Coach Bob Bronzan feels that Matthews will be ready to go Saturday night if the painful burns continue healing.

Lime burns put three other State gridders, Fullback Joe Ulm, Quarterback Larry Rice and Guard Tom Louderback, on the injured list, but all three are expected to start against Arizona State (Tempe) Saturday night.

Guard Dale Summers who did not "suit up" for the Fresno tilt due to an injury is still ailing. It is not known whether or not he will be available for the upcoming clash with the Sun Devils.

The name of Matthews is the standout on our statistics sheet, which gives an accounting of all three contests the Spartans have played. The senior from Monterey has run up a total of 253 yards in 26 tries for a 9.7 yard average per carry. Matthews has caught six aeriels for 86 yards to lead the team in that department. He also leads in kickoff returns, where he has accepted six boots and returned them 97 yards.

Saturday night's game with the Sun Devils promises to be a high scoring affair. The Arizona squad has averaged three touchdowns a game, due largely to the efforts of All-American candidate Dick Gurrin, 190-pound halfback who ranked ninth in the nation last year in rushing.

The defending Border conference champions were upset last week by Texas Western, 28-27. This means that they should be in high gear to avenge the 21-14 loss the Raiders handed them last year.

State is expected again to launch an effective aerial attack against the speedy Sun Devils. Rice completed his first seven passes against Fresno and totaled 10 of 19 for the game. His passes covered 175 yards, far more than the Spartans had gained via the air lanes in their first two games.

San Jose State has scored 13 touchdowns and 11 extra points in three games. Ulm has tallied seven scores. Rice had converted successfully 10 times. The team has rolled up 89 yards in three games, in comparison with 52 yards for their opponents.

Abbott and Costello To Buy Brooklyn?

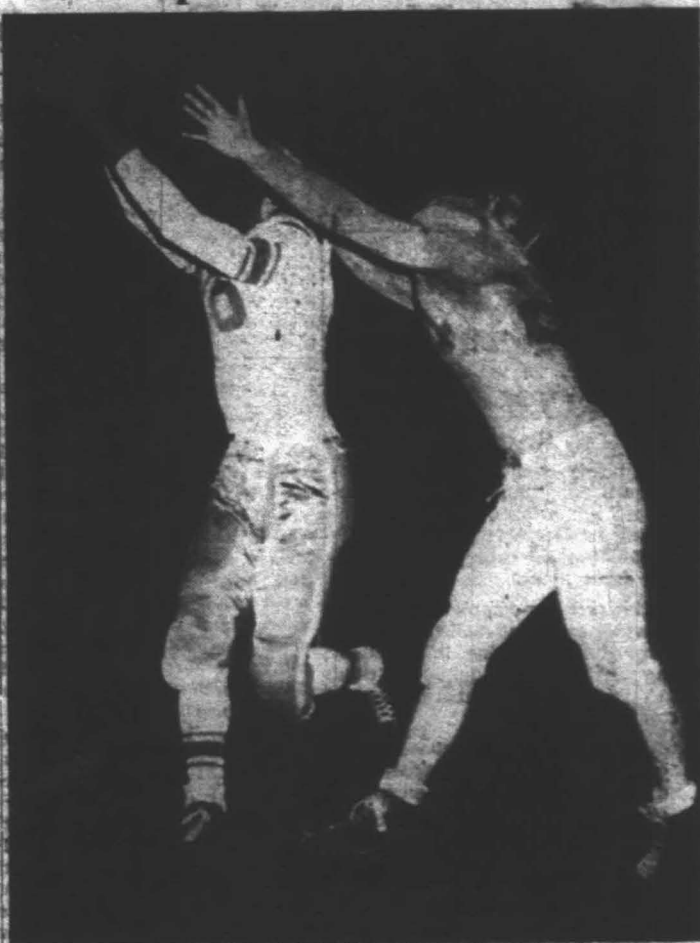

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7 (UP) — Comedians Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, maintaining they're not just trying to pick up laughs, declare they could get the Brooklyn Dodgers to come to Los Angeles for $5,000,000 and a new ball park.

The two appeared before the city council yesterday to be commended for their fight to bring big league baseball to Los Angeles and declared, "You can laugh but we can get them."

Costello said if the Dodgers would come to Los Angeles, "we'll put up a stadium."

"Three clubs in New York are too much and the Dodgers' attendance was way off this year," he said.

Spartababes' Nemesis

L. C. "JET" JOYNER of East Contra Costa Junior college, currently top 30 scorer in Northern California, snatches a pass from beneath the outstretched arms of Spartababe Jerry Heald to mark up a good gain in last Saturday's contest in Concord. Joyner was the "thorn in the side" of the frosh all evening and was a big factor in their 20-6 loss to the Vikings. The score does not indicate the closeness of the game, however. The Spartababes lost two scoring opportunities when they lost the ball on a fumble on one occasion and suffered a severe penalty on another. Next opponent for the Spartan frosh will be West Contra Costa Junior college whom they will meet in Richmond Saturday night, Oct. 17.

Speech, Drama Division Offers Varied Degrees

By NANCY LAMB

In the past 26 years the Speech and Drama department has grown from a small department of 22 students and three faculty members to today's total of about 375 students and 21 full-time and three part-time staff members.

When the department was founded in 1927, it offered one major curriculum, a special secondary teaching program. A few years later it added an A.B. in speech arts, which still later was divided into an A.B. in speech and an A.B. in drama. A degree in radio speech was added which was changed in 1952 to an A.B. in radio and television.

E-Department This Year Has Modern Setting

By SAM PISANO

A newly-erected $1,000,000 Engineering building, a staff of competent instructors, and 499 engineering majors this year form the nucleus for the college's Engineering department.

The recently-completed building provides excellent facilities for undergraduate training in practical engineering. The equipment used in the technical laboratories is completely modern.

New equipment purchased this quarter for the ever-expanding department already has amounted to $50,000.

The department staff, headed by Dr. Ralph J. Smith, consists of 11 full-time and several part-time instructors.

This quarter, 499 majors are aptly being tutored in the basic sciences of mathematics, physics and chemistry and in the basic engineering fields of materials, applied mechanics, thermodynamics and electrical engineering.

Upon completion of the course, they will be placed into a job which most meets their skills and abilities. In each of the last three years approximately fifty Bachelor of Science degrees were granted. Of the total of 162 graduates, 90 per cent of those whose activities are known are employed in engineering positions, and about five per cent are engaged in graduate study.

A tabulation of ratings by supervisors indicates that the graduates compare favorably with other engineering graduates of equal experience. In all of the characteristics rated, they are "average" or better.

The engineering program at San Jose State college is relatively new, having been initiated in 1945. The first degrees were granted in 1948.

The field of engineering is still wide open. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, "a serious shortage of engineers has developed since mid-1950. Opportunities both for new graduates and for experienced men will be excellent in the near future."

Art Cinema Guild Shows Italian Film

"Angelo," an Italian film, will be shown Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9 and 10, at Germania hall, Second and Julian streets, as the first in a series of eight films offered by the Art Cinema Guild.

There will be two showings each night at 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock. Admission is 85 cents.

The Guild's purpose is to "bring films worth seeing to San Jose and you—the best movies of Europe and America."

A different film will be shown each weekend.

The department now offers the following courses: A.B. in radio and television, A.B. in speech, A.B. in drama, general secondary in speech and drama, special secondary in speech and drama, speech correction credential, hard of hearing credential, general education major in speech and drama, junior high school major in speech and drama, four different minors in drama and nine different minors in speech.

Dr. Hugh W. Gillis, department head, has been at San Jose State college since 1929 and has served as head of the department since 1932. Dr. Gillis is supported by the following department advisers: Dr. Lawrence Mouat, forensics and debate; Robert I. Guy, radio and television; Dr. James H. Clancy, drama; Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, oral reading; and Miss Marie Bernice Carr, public speaking.

The department offers varied entertainment to students. Debates, plays, television and radio shows, and oral readings are just a few.

This year the drama season will include the following plays: "Twelfth Night" by William Shakespeare, "The Winslow Boy" by Terence Rattigan, "Affairs of Anatol" by Arthur Schnitzler, "Volpone" by Ben Jonson, "Hedda Gabler" by Henrik Ibsen and "Theban Trilogy" by Sophocles.

Free Science Meet Planned Saturday

Approximately 1,000 persons are expected to attend the fall meeting of the Elementary School Science association scheduled for this Saturday, Oct. 10, at the Richmond high school.

Dr. Gertrude Cavins of the Science department faculty made the announcement and urged SJS students to attend the free conference which will feature a speech by Dr. Earl S. Herald, producer of the television show, "Science in Action." Dr. Cavins is secretary of the Northern California region of the association.

San Jose is one of the two state colleges preparing an exhibit for the meet. Included in the SJS display will be many live animals, and teaching devices suitable for elementary school use.

Science instructors planning the exhibits are Assistant Professor John Harville, Dr. Cavins, Dr. Ralph A. Smith, Dr. Arnold Applegarth, Dr. James Craig, and Dr. Matthew Vessel.

Among students assisting in the preparation are Don Woods, Bill Kalman, Thelma Barnwell, David Orser and Jack Cooper.

The exhibit room also will contain material on the West Coast Nature School and the Outdoor Explorer program. The latter is a series of field trips conducted for children by Jack Donnan and two former SJS students, Jeannie Miere and Weldon Parker.

Audubon Society Sponsors Lecture in Morris Dailey

First lecture in the seventh series of Audubon Screen Tours, sponsored by the Santa Clara County Audubon society and San Jose State college, will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday in Morris Dailey auditorium. This will mark the first time that a Screen Tours lecture has been held at the college.

The lecturer will be Alexander Sprunt, Jr., of Charleston, S.C. Sprunt previously was on the staff of the Charleston museum. He has been associated with the National Audubon society since 1935, and is a fellow of the American Ornithologists union. His contribution to ornithological science is his book, "South Carolina Birdlife," published in 1949.

"Wing Havens," subject of the lecture, explains the bird sanctuaries established through the efforts of the National Audubon society. These sanctuaries include havens for blue geese, snow geese and ducks in Louisiana; for cranes, limpkins and egrets in Florida; for gulls, terns and cormorants in Maine; and for songbirds in Connecticut and Long Island.
