Freshmen Ineligible For Homecoming Queen

"Freshmen women or those who have not matriculated at some college for one year are ineligible to run for Homecoming queen," Jim Bernardi, Homecoming chairman announced Friday.

A motion made at Student Council meeting last week by Dave Doerr stated, "I move that all full-time female students attending San Jose State college on clear standing be eligible for Homecoming queen."

Due to lack of time at the meeting the motion was tabled until the next session of the council which will be Wednesday.

As the deadline for queen applications is tomorrow and the council does not meet until Wednesday, either there will be no action on the motion or the deadline will be extended.

Bernardi also announced an extension on the deadline for Homecoming posters. All posters must be in the ASB office by 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Posters must be 23 by 28 inches in order to qualify in the contest, according to Dave Redmond, member of Homecoming committee. The winner of the contest will be presented with a trophy at the Homecoming variety show, Nov. 4.

"Circus at Sparta" is the theme of homecoming, and entries submitted can either follow this idea or "Beat COP".

Prizes of $10 each will be awarded for designs of murals which will be used for the windows of local banks in town.

New Activities Suggested for Senior Week

At a meeting last Friday the Senior Week Evaluation committee discussed substituting two senior activities for two that they recommended be discontinued, according to Dr. Vernon Ouellette, committee chairman.

The committee recommended that Senior Beach day and Senior Overnight be eliminated and suggested that two other activities be substituted in their places.

Recommendations of the committee will be presented to Dr. John T. Wahlquist for his approval or rejection.

A continuation of the basic Senior Activities program was agreed upon by the committee. Ouellette stated. It also suggested specifically that the Senior Orientation, Senior Ball, Senior Banquet, Senior Day and Senior Breakfast programs be continued.

The committee recommended that the Faculty Council be asked to poll faculty opinion concerning final examinations for seniors. It asked that several students be added to the Evaluation committee in later meetings.

Among new activities discussed to replace those which the committee recommended be eliminated were a Campus day, a Senior sneak day and a Mt. Hamilton day.

Suggestions for the Mt. Hamilton day include a barbecue and a tour of the Observatory. Activities suggested for the Campus day were a Parent's day with faculty reception and student panels.

After the committee has made its recommendations to President Wahlquist, a new committee will be set up to examine the revised program.

Tickets Available

Ticket sales for "Twelfth Night," Shakespearean drama, open today, according to Dr. H. W. Gillis, Drama department head. Dr. Gillis reports that the cost will be 50 cents for students and 75 cents for the public. Tickets may be purchased in Room 57.

"Twelfth Night" will be presented the nights of Oct. 23, 24, 29, 30 and 31. It will be directed by John R. Kerr.

Oxford, SJS Debaters Vie Tonight in Concert Hall

TERRY ARNOLD

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the Concert hall two Oxford university students will defend their country's foreign policy in the Middle East against San Jose State debaters Bill Johnson and Terry Arnold.

The debate tonight is sponsored by the Lecture committee, which is headed by Dr. John T. Wahlquist. Dean DeVoss will be the mediator.

Arnold, an English major, has traveled extensively in the east. Johnson is majoring in economics, and is especially interested in foreign trade.

Mayhew's political activities are with the conservative party in England. Peters is an independent.

Patrick Mayhew and John Peters will contend that Britain has done well in handling her possessions in the east. The San Jose State team will take the negative stand.

MOUAT

Johnson and Arnold are members of the campus debate team which is directed by Lawrence Mouat of the Speech department. Representatives from both countries are experienced in debating, and take an active interest in foreign affairs.

BILL JOHNSON

Two SJ Profs Present Leach

Two San Jose State college instructors will introduce Dr. Henry Goddard Leach, 73, who speaks on campus twice tomorrow morning. President John T. Wahlquist announced Friday.

Dr. William Vatcher, assistant professor of political science, will present the author and educator to 9:30 a.m. audiences in the Music building's concert hall.

Dr. Henry Meckel, professor of education, will introduce Dr. Leach at 11:30 a.m. when the lecturer speaks on "Magazine Editing" in the Little Theater.

Dr. Leo Kibby, Social Science department head will dismiss 9:30 a.m. Social Science classes so students may attend this lecture.

Dr. Dwight Bentel, Journalism department head, will dismiss 11:30 a.m. journalism classes so students may hear Dr. Leach.

Drop This Week

Oct. 19 is the last day students can file change of program card with the Registrar's office, according to C. W. Quinley, acting registrar.

Fresno Not Afraid

FRESNO, Calif., Oct. 9 (UP)—The Fresno State College Athletic Control board announced today it has decided to retain San Jose State college on the Bulldog's football schedule if a new financial agreement is reached.

At the same time, the board said it has postponed until Thursday action on a proposal to drop College of Pacific from Fresno's grid card. Some Fresno officials had indicated they favored the move because of the high calibre teams produced by COP.

Journalism Group To Publish Special Send-Home Edition of Spartan Daily

Student activities and the college building program will be featured in the Tuesday, Oct. 13 special "send home" edition of the Spartan Daily.

The paper will be published by the "30" club, journalism majors organization, and will contain a two-page pictorial section portraying student activities and the building program, a message from President Wahlquist, and features on various departments, as well as numerous other features. The entire edition will be printed on smooth paper.

The "send home" editions are scheduled to go on sale at a booth in the Library Arch. Price will be 10 cents, and the student may take the paper with him or leave an address so that the "30" club may mail it for him. Papers will be mailed anywhere with no postage charged.

The Weather

When old man winter comes officially to SJS campus, and the girls rush around to keep their hair from getting wet and the boys complain because it is difficult to light a cigarette in the rain, perhaps the intelligent student will find consolation in the fact that if one goes high enough the sun will be shining. Perhaps not.

In any event, the intelligent student who misses his 8:30 class will find himself standing in early morning fog, which should clear in the afternoon.

Class Councils Meet Today

SENIOR CLASS

The Senior class council will hear suggestions for guest speakers of other activities for Senior orientation in a meeting today in Room 17 at 3:30 p.m.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior class council will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Room 127. President Paul Sakamoto said fund-raising plans would be the main discussion point, and he welcomed all juniors to the meeting.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Elections will be held for temporary officers of Freshman council group D today at 3:30 p.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium.

Co-Editors Urge Picture Sign Ups

Frances Rabanus and Roger Flanagan, co-editors of the 1954 La Torre, urged today that all seniors sign up immediately to have their senior pictures taken. Seniors may make picture appointments in Room 9 of the Journalism building.

Four Qualities of Leadership Listed at First Camp Session

Dr. William Cowley, professor of education at Stanford and noted authority on leadership flew in from Chicago Friday night to deliver the keynote address at the first Sparta Camp, sponsored by the Associated Students of San Jose State college.

Dr. Cowley defined leadership and traced the history of student government from medieval times to the present.

He defined a leader as "a person who is going somewhere and has the ability to persuade others to go with him."

The professor called a "head man" "a person in a leader's position who is not going anywhere and who is unable to persuade others to go with him."

He cited as examples of the two Abraham Lincoln and Franklin D. Roosevelt in the first class and James Buchanan and Calvin Coolidge in the latter.

Leaders have four outstanding qualities, Dr. Cowley asserted. They are brighter than the followers, have considerably more drive, possess speed of decision and have finality of judgment.

Support Speakers

San Jose State college students will be given an opportunity to hear three off-campus speakers tonight and tomorrow. Two of these have been invited to the campus by Dr. Lawrence Mouat to debate with Bill Johnson and Terry Arnold. Just what the caliber of these debaters will be we don't know. Last year the debaters from Cambridge were somewhat of a disappointment. However, they were entertaining and masters of the quick retort. If John Peters and Patrick Mayhew prove as witty and personable, the evening will be well spent.

On the other hand, Henry Goddard Leach will be on campus to speak twice Tuesday. His topics should be of interest to many members of the student body. Although Dr. Dwight Bentel is the only department head requested to dismiss classes to hear Leach's second speech, we think that "Editing A Magazine" should be of interest to the English major and the would-be writer, no matter what his major.

President John T. Wahlquist has requested that social science classes be dismissed for the early speech Leach will make in the Concert Hall of the Music building. This is because the Social Science major can be presumed to be the most interested in foreign affairs. However, we feel that it would be worthwhile for all to attend both speeches.

About the quality of the speakers we know nothing. If they prove to be extraordinary, then Dr. Mouat and the Lecture committee should be praised highly. If they prove to be below par, some criticism should be presented by the student body. We might add that par for this year is very high and we are sure that anyone who heard John Long of the California Newspaper Publishers association speak two weeks ago will agree with us.

A small investment in time will allow the student to judge for himself the quality of the speakers and we hope that a large number choose to do so. The success of such ventures as these depends upon the audience and its reactions. We hope to see a large audience at the debate and at Leach's two speeches. If they prove worthwhile, perhaps a favorable reaction from students will result in expansion of the outside lecture series.

Pioneer Aviator Scheduled To Speak To Aeronautics Department Classes

The early days of powered flight will be the subject of a talk to be presented to aeronautics and basic air science classes by Frank Coffyn, pioneer aviator, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater, according to Tom Leonard, department head.

Coffyn was one of the five persons trained by the Wright brothers to demonstrate to the public the use of airplanes.

Meetings

Entomology Club will meet tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in S213.

Sophomore Cabinet will meet today in Room 117 at 3:30 p.m.

WAA will meet at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the patio of the Women's gym. Transportation to courts will be arranged there.

WAA will meet for riding at 3:45 p.m. today. Sign up on the bulletin board in the Women's gym.

Aeronautics Department Gains New Instructor

Herman P. Miller III, part-time instructor of aircraft electrical systems, has joined the Aeronautics department staff. Tom Leonard, department head announced. Miller has an extensive background in air craft electronics, having worked with Southwest Airways, and Stanford Research Institute. "His specialization should enable him to present an up-to-date course in this subject," Leonard stated.

Placement Officer Conducts Study of Job Opportunities

A study of the current needs of industry for graduates in various major fields is being conducted by James Johnson, assistant placement officer.

Questionnaires are being sent to companies in each industry asking the number of graduates they will be hiring in the next year, Johnson said.

The poll is being conducted to enable the Placement office to inform graduating students of the possibilities of employment in their respective fields.

The study will be completed in about a month and interested students may inquire at the business and technical division of the Placement office at that time.

SJS Campus Traditions

Spartan Revelries, originally a part of Spardi Gras, was separated from it in 1938, and since then has been an annual stage presentation.

The chimes, which were presented to the college by the senior class of 1946, toll every quarter hour.

Recognition Day, held each spring, honors students who have outstanding records. New officers of the student government take over on this day to rule until the following year.

The Service Flags which formerly hung in Morris Dailey auditorium have been placed in the Memorial Chapel as a lasting tribute to the men and women of Sparta who served in World War II.

Business Division Gets 'Lion's Share'

A lion's share of the 7100 students now enrolled in San Jose State college, 1311, are business majors. This large group is handled by a faculty of 17 full-time and three part-time instructors, according to Miss Lillian Lynum, department secretary.

The largest division within the department is that of business administration which has 653 majors. Other large sections include 201 majors in accounting, 188 in secretarial and 147 in marketing.

Two student organizations are open to department majors. One of these, Eta Mu Pi, sponsors several tours during the year to large department stores and other places of interest to merchandising majors.

Journalism Club Elects Officers

The "30" club, Journalism society open to all male journalism majors, met Thursday and elected officers for the year.

The following were elected: Don De Main, president; Nelson Wadsworth, vice-president; Gil Chesterton, secretary and Ed Pope treasurer.

The organization, which has not met for the past year, now is being reactivated.

Charles V. Kappen, associate professor of journalism is adviser to the group.

Miss Booth of OT Department Roots for Milwaukee Braves

By ELAINE BENAS

Miss Mary Booth, head of the Occupational Therapy department, is disappointed that the Milwaukee Braves didn't take the National League pennant this year.

Her interest in the baseball club is not unusual since Milwaukee is her home town. Miss Booth left Milwaukee to attend Wellesley college in Massachusetts but returned to receive a degree in occupational therapy from Milwaukee Downer college.

Staff therapist at the Children's Orthopedic unit of Wisconsin general hospital was Miss Booth's first job. After a period at the New Jersey Orthopedic center she returned to Wisconsin — this time as assistant supervisor.

She came west in 1944 when asked to teach at San Jose State college.

At that time the college had no Occupational Therapy department, but merely a few scattered courses — all taught by Miss Booth. The few courses have grown to become a department in the Science division.

"We've come up in other ways, too," said Miss Booth. "In 1944 we held classes in the Science building basement. Now we're in a barracks (B73)."

She is no longer the department's sole faculty member. Mrs. Eleanor Denison, assistant professor of Occupational Therapy, and Mrs. Helen Rothwell, part-time instructor, are part of the staff.

Nine years ago four students were enrolled in clinical training compared with 28 who signed up this quarter.

Miss Booth attributes the increased interest in Occupational Therapy to the second World War, which pointed up a need for persons in that field.

The department head's leisure interests include driving for pleasure, the legitimate theater and "reading indiscriminately."

However, she has little time for these activities. Her present goal is to get a Master's degree in psychology from San Jose State college.

Library Adds List Of Bibliographies

The north-west corner of the library general reference room now contains a large collection of bibliographies, according to Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian. The corner was previously a work alcove for the reference department.

The collection contains famous catalogues of the Library of Congress and the British Museum.

Grads Take AF Training

San Jose State graduates, Larry Olsen, Jim Cassidy, George Nichel, and Dick Rafloski are completing basic-flight training at Marana Air Base, Arizona, according to Major William Wetsel, Air Force ROTC instructor.

Advanced training will follow completion at the basic flight course, he said.

Golden Raiders Suffer First Loss

By BART WILLIAMS

The final score read 35-20. San Jose State had suffered their first defeat of the 1953 season and the Sun Devils from Arizona State (Tempe) had won their sweet revenge for last year's defeat at the hands of the Golden Raiders.

The Sun Devils lost no time scoring in the first quarter as they recovered an opening kickoff fumble by Spartan Halfback Larry Matthews on State's 25-yard line and marched to paydirt in five plays. Four line plays by the Sun Devils carried the ball to the Raider 16 yard line. On a second down situation, Arizona quarterback Dick Mackley passed to End John Allen in the end zone. The extra point was good and the Spartans trailed with less than three minutes played in the game.

Matthews took the ensuing kickoff and returned it to the Spartan 27-yard line. Three plays netted nothing for the Raiders. Quarterback Larry Rice got off a poor boot that went yard line. Arizona tried the Spartan forward wall three times and netted just three yards. A fourth down pass from Mackley to Allen was good for another score. The kick was good and Spartan fans started settling back for what appeared to be a long evening.

Dick O'Neil, left halfback for the Golden Raiders, took the Arizona kickoff and returned it to his own 27. Rice took to the air for the first time, completing a 25 yard flat pass to O'Neil. A few line plays and a 15-yard Sun Devil penalty moved the ball to the Arizona 30-yard line. Joe Ulm hit right guard for 11 gained. Rice called a reverse that caught Arizona off guard and Halfback Pat Hiram threaded his way into the end zone for the Spartans' first score. Rice's conversion was good.

"Shoeless" Joe exploded midway in the second quarter with a 57-yard jaunt for a touchdown. Rice converted and it was a new ball game.

Shortly before the end of the half, the Sun Devils engineered a 62-yard drive which ended with Allen catching his third six-pointer of the game. The extra point lifted the score to 21-14 which ended the scoring during the first half.

The Golden Raiders roared back in the third stanza, scoring the first time they got their hands on the ball. Seven plays and a 15-yard penalty resulted in the third Spartan score. Hiram packed the mail up the middle for the final 10 yards. Rice's conversion was wide and Arizona retained a one-point lead, 21-20.

Arizona hit the air lanes once again in the fourth quarter with Quarterback Bob Hendricks finding plenty of holes in the Spartan defense. A 47-yard drive ending in a 22-yard heave to Allen for a touchdown put the game on ice for the Sun Devils. This was Allen's fourth touchdown of the game.

The final score of the contest came in the final five minutes of play when Arizona Halfback Dan Seivert took a Rice punt on his own 48-yard line and ran the distance for the score. The Sun Devils completed their fifth straight conversion to make the final score read Arizona State (Tempe) 35, San Jose State College 20.

Wednesday Last Day For SJ-Cal Game Tickets

Students planning to attend the SJS-California game at Berkeley Saturday have until Wednesday to pick up their tickets at the Graduate Manager's office, Jerry Vroom, graduate athletic manager, warned Friday.

There is no charge for the tickets and students need only show their student body cards," Vroom said.

"It is necessary that all persons planning to attend the game get their tickets, for ASE cards will not be honored at the gate," Vroom explained.

Walt Williams Predicts Great Baseball Year

A large number of varsity and freshmen baseball aspirants are working out in gym classes this quarter. Coach Walt Williams considers the outlook good in view of a sizeable nucleus of returning lettermen along with some promising junior college transfers.

Prospects for the varsity who are now working out are: Malford Leal, catcher; John Oldham, Doug Boehner, Ron Kaufman and Reese Dick, pitchers; Ron Walters, Jim Metz and Daryl Chipman, first basemen; Ron Palma, second baseman; Bob Wolfe, and Tom Hall, third basemen; Jack Richards and George Rettig, shortstops; Jim Coalter, Bill Anderson and Donald Odishoo, outfielders.

Water Polo Coach Reveals Difficult Team Schedule

Coach Charlie Walker has planned an interesting, but difficult, schedule for his varsity water polo squad this year.

Although they lost their opener to Stanford last Wednesday by a 10-8 score, the Spartan watersprites should prove tough to beat as the season wears on.

Led by Taylor Hathaway, team captain, the squad is sparked by ex-Palo Alto high school teammate, Chet Keil, who tallied four goals Wednesday. Larry Mitchell is goalie while Bill Finch and Dick Miller are the first string guards.

Schedule for the varsity is as follows:

- Oct. 15 — S.F. Olympic Club — Here
- Oct. 21 — California — There
- Oct. 26 — San Francisco State — There
- Oct. 28 — Stanford — There
- Nov. 2 — San Francisco State — Here

SJS's Athletic Program One of Nation's Finest

By NEIL FRANK

San Jose State college has one of the most active athletic programs in the nation. Last year 27 teams from Washington Square participated in 289 events with other colleges. One of the hallmarks of the Spartan athletic program is its development of all sports. The college sponsors teams in 14 sports, and notable records have been made by Spartan athletes in all of them.

S. Glenn (Tiny) Hartranft, former Olympic star and for nearly 30 years a successful coach and administrator, is director of the entire physical education program. He was one of the world's outstanding weight men in the 1920's and was three times IC4A champion in both shot and discus while at Stanford. Tiny established a new world's record of 157 feet, 8 5/8 inches, in the discus and at one time held both NCAA and IC4A records in both shot and discus.

Last year San Jose State produced three national champions, giving the college a record of 18 individual national titles and two team crowns.

Spartans were conspicuous in such high-bracket athletic company as the 1952 Olympic team. Chuck Adkins, the NCAA and AAU boxing champion, beat Russia's Viktor Mednov in the finals of the 139-lb. class in Helsinki. Another Spartan, George Mattos, placed ninth in the pole-vault.

In recent years San Jose's football teams have made remarkable achievements against strong opponents. This year, a squad that most critics had conceded a place on the bottom of the heap has already licked three opponents.

Last year, under coach Bob Bronzan, the Spartans ranked second nationally in total offense and fourth in rushing.

In the years the Spartans were a member of the CAA, they were the terrors of the league. In the years 1946-49, Head Coach Bill Hubbard led his teams to 36 victories, one tie, and a mere 11 losses in the course of grabbing three league champions and two Raisin Bowl titles.

Frosh Watermen Tie Sacramento

Frosh waterpoloers held a strong Sacramento JC team to a 9-9 deadlock Friday at Sacramento. Because it was a non-league game, no overtime period was held to break the tie.

The SJS chances for victory were hurt when Bill Gibson, stellar forward, suffered a split hand 30 seconds before the end of the first half.

Organizations Vie Tomorrow

Two intra-fraternity games will inaugurate the Intramural Touch Football league competition tomorrow, Wade Wilson, intramural football manager, said Friday.

Location of the games will be announced in tomorrow's Daily as the San Jose Recreation department has not yet assigned fields for the games.

Teams scheduled for the opener are all from the American division of the Fraternity league, Wilson said. They will be Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Kappa Alpha and Delta Sigma Phi vs. Sigma Chi.

Wilson also reminded all team managers, both fraternity and independent, that they are to pick up copies of league rules and regulations and touch football rules and regulations at the Men's Gym office.

Sign-up for independent teams will end Wednesday, Wilson said. Deadline for independent registration was extended in order that as many teams as possible could be organized.

The Independent league will operate in only one division, while the Fraternity league will have two divisions, the American and the National.

Oops, Wrong Number!

A college student decided to add several new shirts to his wardrobe. So one Saturday afternoon, he strolled into the local haberdashery store. "Let me see a few of those Van Heusen Pan-Am Pique Shirts the whole campus is raving about," he said.

"No wonder everyone is raving about Pan-Am Piques," said the clerk, laying several on the counter. "They're smart, comfortable, and come in Van Heusen's sensational new short collar styles. What's more, I have a complete line of smart new collegiate colors—as well as white. And they're only $3.95."

"I've never seen a smarter shirt," admitted the student. "I'll take one in each color. And can I open a charge account?"

"Certainly," replied the clerk. "What is your name?"

"Size Six-and-Seven-Eighths Jones," replied the student.

"Size Six-and-Seven-Eighths Jones? What kind of a name is that?" asked the puzzled clerk.

"Well, when I was born my folks didn't know what to call me," he explained. "So they put a lot of names in a hat, and by mistake my near-sighted father pulled out the size ticket!"

Master Plan Provides For 12 More Buildings

By NEIL FRANK

Even though four buildings have been added to the campus of San Jose State college since 1950, and a large Speech and Drama building is now under construction, and campus buildings and grounds are constantly undergoing change at the hands of workmen, only a small part of the Master Plan for the college has yet been realized.

Twelve buildings are currently on paper, according to E. S. Thompson, business manager. Most of them will not be constructed for several years, but the campus will get a "new look" every year until they are completed.

For instance, three buildings are scheduled to be begun next summer. These are additions to the Science building, the Library, and the Mens' gymnasium.

Plenty of changes will take place before next summer, however. Two projects underway now are the new Speech and Drama building and the construction of a drill and athletic field.

The Speech and Drama building was begun last year, and is expected to be ready for use some time during the next scholastic year.

Many less noticeable maintenance and construction jobs are taking place currently. A freight elevator is being installed in the Science building; the Receiving department of the college is being transferred from the Science building to the northeast wing of the old San Jose Technical high school; ventilating systems are being installed in Morris Dailey auditorium and the swimming pool; and the Aeronautics department quonset hut is being remodeled.

All these changes are rapidly expanding and improving the physical resources of the college.

The college has changed much in recent years. The Memorial Chapel was constructed in 1950. Following this, an addition was made to the Women's gym and an archway between the Science building and the Administration building was constructed. Those in the Home Economics building who were considerably annoyed by the noise of hammers, saws and cement mixers last year now can look to the cause of that noise — the new Music and Engineering buildings.

In addition, the college has bought over a million dollars worth of land to be used for buildings and parking lots.

Also requests in the 1954 budget of the college call for a classroom building, an administration building, the completion of the Library, an aeronautics laboratory to take the place of the present quonset hut, a new Student Union, a new Art building, a new Industrial Arts building, a Health building and a Police and Military Science building.

Tansey Discusses Art and Science

Speaking on "The Common Structure of the Arts and the Sciences," Dr. Richard G. Tansey, associate professor of art, addressed a meeting of the Philosophy club last week.

Dr. Tansey said that his talk was "an attempt to show that the structure of a mathematical equation is not wholly unlike the structure of a piece of music, or a painting, or a piece of poetry."

Dr. Elmo Robinson, adviser to the club, stated that the Philosophy club meets three to five times each quarter, and that all interested students or faculty are invited to attend.
