Deadline To Submit Themes For Greek Show Is Tonight

Tonight is the deadline for submitting skit themes for the All-Greek Show by campus sororities and fraternities, according to Theta Chi fraternity, sponsors of the event. The show is scheduled for Oct. 26 in Morris Dailey auditorium.

Representatives from each campus Greek organization will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Theta Chi house, 123 S. 11th street.

Groups without representation tonight will not be entered in the show, according to a Theta Chi spokesman.

The sponsoring fraternity emphasized good taste in planning skits. Skits themed on drinking, barrooms, sex or gambling were discouraged in a letter sent out to campus sororities and fraternities a week ago by the Theta Chi house.

Dr. Stanley C. Benz, dean of men, expressed the opinion last week that the All-Greek show would be a success.

"Theta Chi fraternity is making every effort to have a high-caliber All-Greek show this year. I have all the confidence in the world that it will be a good all-student show," Dr. Benz stated.

Six campus fraternities were placed on suspended probation as an aftermath of last year's show which, in the opinion of the deans, had many skits of bad taste.

Move for Mistrial Granted by Court

A motion for mistrial was granted in the $175,000 damage suit filed by Mary F. and John R. Kahle against the San Jose Unified School district, Friday. The sudden end of the case came by stipulation of counsel.

The motion came by agreement of all attorneys representing the plaintiffs, Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president emeritus; E. S. Thompson, business manager; the school district; Byron Bollinger, and Victor Jansen, maintenance officials.

Superior Judge M. G. Del Mutolo presided over the case which opened Tuesday. The first day of the trial the jury was impaneled; this was followed by testimony in the plaintiff's case.

Wahlquist Speaks

At 10 o'clock this morning, Dr. John T. Wahlquist is scheduled to give the keynote address at a meeting of the California School Trustees association in the San Jose Civic auditorium.

Topic of the speech will be "Local School Board, Guardian of Democracy." Theme of the association will be, "Local School Board, Democracy in Action."

The meeting is open to the public.

Honor Society Open House

Invitations to an open house are being sent to approximately 15 prospective members of the Iota Delta Phi, French Honorary society, according to Dr. Boris Gregory, adviser to the group. The open house is scheduled to be at the home of Joan Awbrey, newly-elected president of the society.

Iota Delta Phi, a local organization, is open to French majors with a 3-plus average in French and an over-all grade-point average of 1.6.

Candidates for the society are voted upon by the group and must present a 50 minute speech in French to be eligible for membership, according to Dr. Gregory. He explained that this fluency is necessary since meetings and activities are conducted in French with no English allowed.

Activities during the year include attendance at plays and movies of interest to the group and the presentation of a play in French. The production last year was of "The Barber of Seville."

ASB To Vote For Officers, Queens Friday

Eight of the 14 candidates for class offices who had filed applications for petitions by deadline time Friday afternoon are from the Sophomore class. Only three of the 14 offices open for election are being sought by more than one candidate.

The offices of Senior vice-president, Junior treasurer, and Sophomore female justices have no candidates applying for the positions. These offices will be filled by nomination and vote of the class councils.

Also on the ballot Friday will be the names of the 35 candidates for Homecoming Queen. The student body will pick ten finalists from the group. The queen will be crowned at the Coronation Ball, Oct. 30.

Petitions for the offices may be picked up by approved candidates in the Graduate Manager's office today. The petitions must be filled out and returned to the ASB office by 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Approved candidates may put up posters Thursday.

Alpha Phi Omega, honorary men's service fraternity, will set up booths for Friday's elections.

Class Councils Convene Today

The sophomore class will meet today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 117. Final plans for the Frosh-Soph Mixer, Oct. 23, will be discussed and ratification of the newly-formed class constitution will be attempted.

Newly-elected officers of freshman council, group D will begin their duties at the meeting today in Morris Dailey auditorium at 3:30 p.m., according to adviser Rocci Pisano.

Students will discuss a possible get-together for all freshmen before the Frosh-Sophomore mixer. They will plan their strategy for the events of that evening.

The Junior Class council will meet at 3:30 p.m. today in Room 127, according to temporary president Paul Sakamoto.

Chief topics for discussion will be plans to raise funds and arrangements for the Junior Prom.

Ball Bids Free

Coronation Ball bids are free to the holders of Associated Student Body cards.

This declaration was made by Vera Perry, chairman of the Social Affairs committee, who added that many students had been asking him what the charge for the bids would be.

President John T. Wahlquist will be host today to the October meeting of the Council of State College Presidents on the college campus beginning at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The conference will last until Wednesday, according to Dr. Wahlquist.

Expected to attend the meeting are Dr. Arnold E. Joyal, Fresno;

PROMOTION PLAN BACKFIRES

NEW YORK — The General Electric company's happy birthday incentive plan appeared today to have doubled its employees' birth rate and cost the company close to $50,000.

GE, which celebrated its 75th anniversary yesterday, promised in January that it would present five shares of its stock to each child born to an employee on Oct. 15.

The count was 122 at 11 a.m. today, and returns were still coming in to the flabbergasted baby counters. Sixty-four boys and 58 girls at last figuring.

Welcome, Presidents

Seldom do members of a student body get to express "Greetings" to a president, let alone several presidents. Usually the reverse is true, as many San Jose State college students who are stationed at Fort Ord can testify. So we take great pleasure in sending "Greetings" to you several visiting presidents of California's state colleges.

We hope that you gentlemen will not be too busy to visit the points of interest on our campus including the hectic and confusing second floor of the Journalism and Advertising building. We're proud of it, just as we're proud of the other departments of our school.

Some of the scenery about this area, which is known also as Washington Square, may not be too picturesque at present, but efforts are being made to improve it. Since you gentlemen face the same problems as our college President, you can understand why the improvement moves so slowly.

While you are on our campus we hope that some ideas may be exchanged which will prove beneficial to all state colleges of California. In addition, we hope that you remember the "all work and no play" adage and take some time out for recreation. There is much to see and do here if you care to look around.

Board Needs Help With Ceiling Ban

Copies of a resolution adopted by the college's Advisory Board, asking the State Board of Education to use its influence in lifting the arbitrary 6000 enrollment ceiling lifted, have been sent to San Jose civic organizations and to members of the legislature from Bay Area counties, it was learned yesterday.

The resolution points out that the number of full-time students now enrolled at the college is approximately 7200 and that there are also about 1000 limited students. It adds that about 600 students who could not meet the college entrance requirements were refused admission in September.

Since it is unreasonable to expect that the state can establish new colleges to meet the growing numbers who will be seeking admission in the immediate future, the resolution suggests, the most economical solution is to permit the existing colleges to expand their facilities to take care of larger enrollments.

It also asks the State Board of Education to confer with the state department of Finance and the Legislative auditor in correcting the budget in such manner as to face realistically the enrollment problem that confronts this college. The budget is now in the hands of these two agencies.

Represents 'Time'

John R. Hernandez, marketing major, has been designated official representative of Time and Life magazines on the San Jose State college campus, reports Rhett Austell, manager of the Time Inc. College bureau.

Hernandez will handle the reduced-rate student subscriptions, which grew out of a Dun & Bradstreet report that of all Time subscribers, 76.7 per cent were college people.

Thrust and Parry

Still No News!

Dear Thrust and Parry:

For us, there is still confusion. We read a fine, convincing front page editorial in the Spartan Daily regarding the matter of getting information into the Daily. We thought we understood. But we failed. We scheduled a meeting for Wednesday night, for which we submitted to the Daily an announcement on the previous Friday: three days before the deadline! And then ... nothing.

We fulfilled to the letter each requirement set down in the aforesaid editorial, the Magna Carta of Journalism. On Friday, October 9, 1953, at 1:30 p.m. we established contact with the appropriate reporter through our publicity representative. Earlier we had asked ourselves: "How important is this (information) to the student body as a whole?"

Then we remembered ourselves mentioned in President Wahlquist's Inaugural Address last year and again in his welcome message this September. We remembered his saying that every group in the college was important, no matter how small.

But are we small? There are over 500 students attending classes in the Modern Language Department, yet with regard to publicity we find ourselves almost entirely neglected, even in the Send-Home Issue. And yet, through students of the Modern Language Department, this issue and occasionally the Daily, virtually reached the far corners of the globe.

We herewith express our dissatisfaction via Thrust and Parry as suggested in the editorial of Tuesday, October 13, 1953, and remain hopefully yours.

Bears Trample Golden Raiders

By BART WILLIAMS

The University of California won a hard-fought victory over the San Jose State Spartans Saturday before a good crowd in Memorial Stadium at Berkeley. The final score was 34-14.

It was anybody's ball game for the first three quarters as an upstart Spartan team played the Bears to a 14-14 tie in the first half. The Golden Bear found its power midway in the third quarter however, and pulled away steadily from the scrappy Spartans who just wouldn't give up.

The Spartans opened the scoring in the first quarter when a fumble recovered by Mervin Lopes on the California five yard line set up State's first touchdown. On the next play Spartan Fullback Jerry Taylor cracked over left tackle for the touchdown. Rice kicked the extra point and State led with less than five minutes gone in the first quarter.

The Bears came roaring back in the first two minutes of the second quarter, going 54 yards in 13 plays for their first touchdown of the game. Quarterback Paul Larson hit paydirt on a one-yard sneak and his conversion tied the game up at 7-7.

A 59-yard run by Bear Halfback Al Talley put Cal in front for the first time. Three minutes after their initial score, Cal started their second sustained drive on their own 38. Two plays through the center of the line netted eight yards. On third down Talley went through right tackle on a trap and raced all the way. Larson's kick was good. Score 14-7 with Cal on top.

The Raiders were still very much in the ball game though as they took the ball on the ensuing kickoff and marched 49 yards to score with three minutes remaining in the first half. Quarterback Benny Pierce engineered the Spartans' second score, mixing his plays beautifully and keeping the Bears constantly off balance. Halfback Larry Matthews and Taylor carried most of the load with Taylor smashing the last nine yards for the tally. Rice converted and fans began wondering where this mighty Bear was who was supposed to manhandle an impotent Spartan squad. Score at the end of the half was 14-14.

The Golden Bears opened the scoring in the second half of play, marching 71 yards in 13 plays for the score. Halfback Don Marks plunged four yards over right tackle for the TD. Larson's conversion was wide.

Cal started showing their superiority as they added another score the next time they got their hands on the ball. It took "Pappy" Waldorf's men just seven plays to march 50 yards to paydirt. Marks circled left end for the final three yards. Larson converted and the score read SJS 14, Cal 27.

tus by attending summer school this year, but summer sessions are not counted as residence time.

It is unfortunate that the game of football has become so much of a business enterprise in many schools that such seemingly minor and trivial rules have to be enforced.

The most unfortunate aspect is that the players will lose a year of eligibility. To men such as Ulm and Wessman, who love to play the game, this is a severe loss. For Ulm it means an interruption of his sensational playing which has gained him the spot of the nation's number one scorer and fourth leading ground-gainer. Wessman stands to lose almost as much for he was gaining a reputation of being one of the outstanding ends on the Pacific Coast.

The ruling which brought all this about is one which needs adjusting so that individuals and teams will not be upset in the future.

Sport Notes

By KEITH KALDENBACH

A fitting gesture was made last week when the Golden Raiders named Joe Ulm and Clarence Wessman to serve as co-captains for the California game.

Ulm, one of the nation's leading ground gainers, and Wessman, an outstanding end who has been compared to Leon Hart of Notre Dame fame, were victims last week of one of those minor technicalities which, as Ulm put it, "do not seem fair."

The Pacific Coast Conference ruling which brought about the Spartan's woes pertained to athletes transferring from a junior college to a four year institution. Essence of the rule is that a player must have a total of one year's residence in college. This means that he must have attended a junior college for two semesters, or a junior college for one semester and a four-year college for one semester.

In the case of Ulm and Wessman, they were enrolled at a junior college for their first semester, then decided to transfer to San Jose State. Since SJS operates under the quarter system they were forced to wait until spring quarter to register. Thus, they did not have a complete year of residence in school before the beginning of the football season.

Although SJS is not a member of the PCC, they play four conference teams and are obligated to follow their rules and regulations. A minority of the conference teams, including Stanford, operate under the quarter system which indicates that it will remain in effect for many years to come. The semester schools, who are in the majority, undoubtedly will not permit the ruling to be changed because it benefits them.

Colleges such as San Jose State, which have depended largely on junior college transfers will be particularly hard hit in the future. Capable athletes in situations such as Ulm's and Wessman's simply will not come here. They will go to the semester schools where they will be eligible to play their particular sport.

The ironic part of the whole affair is that "Shoeless Joe" is a sophomore as far as units are concerned therefore should be considered eligible to play varsity football. However, the residence requirement is the clinker in the soup. Joe attained sophomore sta-

Approximately 100 student tickets for the SJS-Oregon game next Saturday at Eugene are available in the Graduate Manager's office, Jerry Vroom, graduate athletic manager, announced Friday.

Vroom said that a booth marked for SJS students will be set up at the game for students who have neglected to obtain their tickets in advance. There will be no charge for the tickets and students may get theirs by showing their ASB card.

Bulldogs Abandon COP As Opponent On 1954 Schedule

FRESNO, Calif., Oct. 16.—(UP) Fresno State college Athletic Control board has voted to discontinue the Bulldogs' historic gridiron rivalry with College of Pacific.

"We have decided not to negotiate with College of Pacific for a new football contract," the board announced yesterday after a stormy session with Athletic Director Larry Pape. "This decision was made in the interest of arriving at a balanced schedule."

Fresno State, however, unofficially approved scheduling of San Jose State college next year at a board meeting held Thursday.

Pape and Head Coach Clark van Galder has backed the move to drop the powerful Stockton Tigers on grounds Fresno teams were "lamb being led to the slaughter each year." Since COP adopted a "big-time football program," the Bulldogs have been trounced soundly in their last four games with the Tigers.

In Stockton, COP officials expressed regret that "bad feeling" had been generated by the football relationship between the two schools.

"Unfortunately, this action probably will eliminate any possibility of resuming competition for a number of years," explained COP Athletic Manager Jerry Kirsten. "We have to arrange our schedule several years in advance because of a lack of natural rivals."

Officials feared the board's decision may result in bitter repercussions among Fresno booster groups. The Bulldog Foundation had warned earlier that it might withdraw all support of Fresno State football teams if the 30-year rivalry was ended.

In spite of their weak post-war teams, the Bulldogs hold a 16-13 victory margin over COP. Prior to World War II, Fresno squads were traditionally ranked among the best in small college competition.

West Contra Costa JC Defeats Spartababes

West Contra Costa junior college won their fifth straight football game Saturday night when they handed San Jose State college freshman squad a 45-7 pasting at Richmond.

The game was highlighted with breakaway runs by Contra Costa Halfback Wilbur Gary. Gary ran up a 48-yard run for a TD and then a 61-yard non-scoring run.

The loss was the second straight of the season for the Spartababes who lost their opening game two weeks ago against East Contra Costa junior college at Concord. The Spartababes, coached by last year's Golden Raider star end, Bob Amaral, are loaded with ex-high school talent but have not as yet been able to stay with the more experienced junior college squads. The score by periods:

SERVICE WHILE YOU WAIT

What's buzzin', Cousin?

A sophomore at a midwestern college was bothered by buzzing in his ears and headaches. He went to doctor after doctor ... had his appendix and tonsils removed ... his teeth pulled. But nothing helped. Finally, the doctors gave up and told him he had only 6 months to live.

The young fellow decided to "live it up" for his last 6 months. First, he went to his college sportswear shop for the smartest sport shirts money could buy. Naturally, he chose Van Heusen's VAN GAB.

"VAN GAB is completely washable," beamed the salesman. "See the saddle-stitched trim about the collar and pockets. Feel the silky texture of the fabric. And only $5.95. With a 15 neck like yours, I suggest a Medium size."

"Don't waste my time," snapped the fellow. "Give me one of each of the 18 smart solid colors. Size 14."

"But sir," gasped the salesman, "your neck is much larger than a 14. You need at least a 15."

"I've worn a 14 all my life, and I don't feel like changing now," replied the youngster, greatly annoyed.

"Okay," muttered the salesman. "But I warn you, that tight collar will give you buzzing in the ears and headaches!"

Initiates Name Class For Dean

The Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity has entitled its autumn quarter pledge class in honor of Dean James C. De Voss. "Dean De Voss was chosen because of his long standing leadership, friendship and service to the college," said Stan Croonquist, president of A Phi O.

Pledged to the fraternity at a formal ceremony last Tuesday night were Gary Clark, Larry Kaufman, Wally Haggard, Herb Hylbert, Joel Saffron, Joe Mahoney, Don Perrin, Stan Harvey, Bill Vickland and Joe Vallenari, according to John Landicho, executive secretary of the campus chapter.

John Smee, first vice president, will serve as pledgemaster.

Each pledge is required to complete a minimum of 25 hours of service and accomplish an individual project during his pledge-ship. One group project will be undertaken by the class as a whole.
