Court Sentences Queen Candidate

Student Court yesterday sentenced one homecoming queen candidate to two hours of work and set a hearing date for another alleged rule violator.

Nadine Harwood, sponsored by Dudley Hall pleaded guilty to violation of the campaigning deadline and was sentenced to five hours of work in the Activities office. However, the court stated since she had not been given the appropriate list of rules three hours were suspended.

Aphra Ann Poelman, sponsored by Sigma Nu, will be requested to appear before the court Tuesday for a hearing. She will be charged with advertising violation. Prosecuting Attorney Don Atkinson represented the associated students.

The charge filed states that Miss Poelman placed signs in an illegal area and also had too many signs.

Nadine pleaded innocent to the charge of attaching posters to trees with tacks. One of her representatives stated that the nails were already in the tree, "we just stuck the signs over them."

Nadine will appear before court for trial at a special meeting Friday, Nov. 29.

Miss Poelman allegedly placed signs between the Science Arch and San Carlos St. and had too many signs.

"All students are invited to attend the lecture which will cover the history of the UN, its record, problems, and outlook for the future," said Harris. Refreshments and informal discussion will follow in the Student Union.

During World War II, Dr. Suri worked with the Far Eastern Bureau of the Ministry of Information and has worked as press correspondent for the UN. He is now on the staff of Northwestern University.

SJS Groups Swell Parade Entries Roster

All but one of the social fraternities, all social sororities and six independent organizations have entered floats in the Homecoming Parade, according to Joe Vallentari, parade chairman.

At 3 p.m. yesterday Alpha Tau Omega was the only fraternity still not entered in the annual event.

Kappa Alpha was a late entrant, filing its float theme with Vern Perry, homecoming chairman, at 2:30 p.m. yesterday, four days after the deadline.

"If ATO wants to enter we'll let them, even though it's past the deadline," Perry stated.

"The enthusiasm is up this year, which points towards a great parade. The themes chosen by the entrants show it could possibly be the best yet," commented Perry.

Leading the caravan of floats will be the queen and her attendants. Three divisions will follow: fraternity, sorority and independent.

Independent organizations entered are Alpha Phi Omega, Kappa Phi, La Torre, Newman Club, Phi Mu Alpha and Melody Hall.

The SJS, San Jose Red Devil and San Lorenzo Valley High School bands will march. Drill teams from SJS (AFROTC), Singing Saints from Parks Air Force Base, and Treasure Island have been contacted.

The parade will travel south on 1st St. from St. James to William St.

Student Group May Restrict Cost of Floats

The Student Council today will discuss the possibility of putting cost restrictions on Homecoming floats, according to Art Lund, ASB president.

Lund explained that the restrictions will be in the discussion stage but that some arbitrary figure tentatively may be set which will govern the amount of money fraternities, sororities and others can spend on their floats.

Lund suggested that a committee from Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity Council might be formed to discuss the problem.

Other business at the meeting will be the appointment of a community service chairman who will take over campus drives for funds to aid local groups such as the Community Chest Red Feather Campaign.

UN Week Front and Center

To honor United Nations, Oct. 17-24 has been designated UN Week. It is the time when concentrated effort is made to bring the world organization to the public's attention.

The UN Charter comes up for review next year and now is an apt time for us to learn the facts and either support the organization or withdraw our support.

With this thought in mind, the International Relations Club has planned events this week to give students the facts, both pro and con, about United Nations.

Sponsored by the International Relations Club, Dr. Surinder Suri, a foreign correspondent, reporter, and author from India, will speak in the Music Building Concert Hall at 11:30 o'clock this morning. On Friday, another speaker will appear and an informal discussion will be held.

Spartan Daily wishes to thank the International Relations Club for bringing the facts within reach of the student body. We hope that students will take advantage of this opportunity to learn the facts about the UN and its current problems, and then draw their own conclusions as to what the future of United Nations Organization should be.

Negro Singer Signs Contract For Met Role

NEW YORK (UP) Marian Anderson, considered by critics to be one of the great singers of the century, has signed a contract making her the first Negro to sing a leading role for the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Miss Anderson, a contralto, will appear at the opera house early in January in the role of Ulrica in Verdi's "Un Ballo In Maschera." The role is that of a sorceress and does not specifically call for a negress.

Asked if she had plans to sing any other roles at the Met, Miss Anderson replied, "I just want to do one well."

The 46-year-old singer, well known for interpretations of Negro spirituals, also has a full background in classical music and sings in nine languages.

Her contract with the Met caps a long career begun in Philadelphia where her mother took in washing to support the family. Neighbors paid for her first singing lessons by donating small sums of money.

In 1946 the Negro singer was invited to sing for the Daughters of the American Revolution in Constitution Hall in Washington, D.C., but refused because the audience would not be unsegregated.

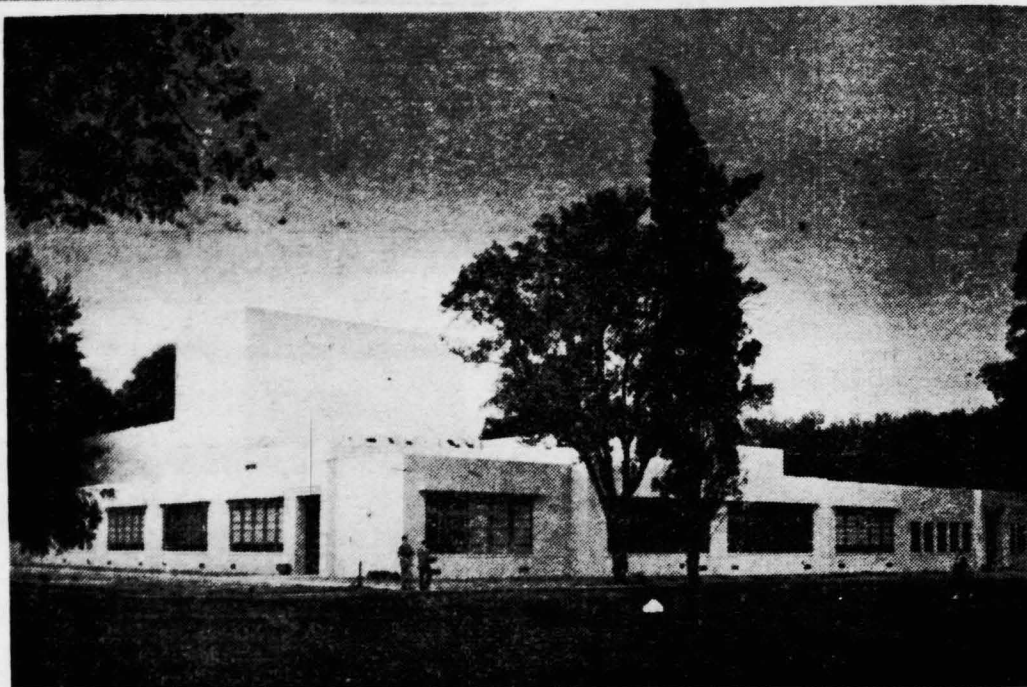

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt resigned from the organization in protest and the dispute raged for three months. Miss Anderson finally relented and sang, however, in order not to deprive the Army Emergency Relief Fund of the proceeds.

More Old Cowboy Films Set for TV

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (UP)—The Supreme Court today cleared the way for television use of 138 old movies starring cowboy actors Gene Autry and Roy Rogers.

In a brief order, the court refused to consider appeals by the Hollywood stars for a court ban on TV use of the films. The actors took their cases to the high court after a lower court threw out their suits against Republic Pictures Corp.

CBS Official Denies that TV Is a Cause of Juvenile Crimes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (UP)—Merle S. Jones, vice president of CBS Television, told a Senate subcommittee today the network does not believe TV crime and horror shows are a "significant cause" of juvenile delinquency.

The network executive testified before the Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency after the group had seen exhibits including filmed episodes of TV crime and violence. The exhibits prompted Robert C. Hendrickson (R-N.J.) to ask if TV programs could not be policed by the Federal Communications Commission.

Jones cited a number of psychological studies, including some by a CBS staff psychologist, to buttress his company's view that crime and horror programs do not cause teenage delinquency.

"Although we do not believe that there is any significant causal connection between television programs and juvenile delinquency,"

Jones said, "we, nevertheless, recognize that each broadcaster has a definite responsibility to the public in the area of program content and production."

Richard Clendenen, executive director of the subcommittee, was the first witness as the group opened a two-day study of the effect on young viewers of what Hendrickson referred to as "horror, crime, sadism, and sex."

Clendenen discussed so-called "western" programs along with "modern crime" programs. He said "crime and western drama shows are heavily saturated with violence." He added that such programs are concentrated during hours when children are able to watch.

Clendenen said statistics show that school age children spend about the same amount of time a week on the average in front of a TV set as they spend in school.

Campus Organizations Get New Meeting Place

Hallelujah!

SJS Groups Close Search For Workshop

By CLAYTON PETERSON

"Amens" soon will be sounded by campus organizations who long have been seeking a place to set up shop.

Three rooms, located beneath the Health Office and found at the foot of a row of winding stairs which are reminiscent of an Edgar Allen Poe mystery, have been de-cobwebbed, swabbed, and painted yellow and white by energetic members of the Rally committee.

Purpose is to provide a workshop and meeting place for campus-approved organizations. The rooms now are known as the Spartan Dugout.

To old-timers at SJS, the rooms may be better remembered as part of the old ceramics laboratory. As a matter of fact, work still is going on to remove the last of the pottery flues.

Robert S. Martin, adviser for the project, reported that the Dugout is available for immediate use, although the rooms are furniture-poor. However, Martin said the furniture for the Dugout is being repaired and will be put in use "in the near future."

Six lockers, big enough to rent as unfurnished apartments, already are built, and 12 small lockers now being constructed will provide storage space for organizational use.

Construction probably will not be finished this year, but campus organizations may use the rooms to house group equipment, Martin said.

Members of the Dugout committee, who were appointed by Art Lund, student body president, assign upon request permanent meeting nights for groups and decide which size locker will be granted an organization.

Committee members are: Paul Sakamoto, chairman, and Hank Ramp and Colleen Collins.

The committee will assign lockers and the meeting room on a priority basis using the following criteria:

1. Date of application.
2. Funds which the organization may receive from the Student Council.
3. Size of membership.
4. Need and purpose.
5. Materials to be stored.

Campus-approved organizations interested in using the Spartan Dugout may apply at the Activities Office. Use of the Dugout will not be granted for individual use, Martin warned.

Panty Raid At Newcombe

NEW ORLEANS (UP) Drove of Tulane University students stormed dormitories of a women's college Monday night in giant panty raids that police said grew into a "riot" involving 700 persons.

Four students were arrested. A dean tussled with several others. Six girls danced on a rooftop. Women students showered undergarments from windows. Some of the men threw rocks.

For four hours the hundreds of male students milled about the big campus squares connecting Tulane and Newcombe College for Women until police in squad cars quelled the demonstration at midnight.

When rocks showered on several police cars authorities rushed a mobile anti-riot truck to the scene and threatened to unpack tear gas guns if the attacks continued. The rock-throwing ended.

Freshman Adviser Lets Students Run the Class

By BOB JOHNSON

(Editors Note: Author of this article is not the same person as the subject.)

"My job is to act as a reference book," Robert P. Johnson explained in summing up his duties as Freshman class adviser.

"When the frosh, being new to campus life, don't understand policy and procedure at San Jose both before and after World War II and Rally committee chairman in 1946. While on this committee he was the director of card stunts.

"I always worked on my class council, although not always as an officer," Johnson said. He was on the Social Affairs committee and his class representative to many other committees.

As freshmen class adviser, Johnson will stay with the class of 1958 during its four years at SJS.

To be an adviser a candidate must have an A. B. degree of at least four years standing and be an approved patron or patroness for one year. He must also be a full or half time instructor or administrator.

He is married and has three children.

ROBERT P. JOHNSON
... Frosh Adviser

State, they ask me. They run their class and I stay on the sidelines," he said.

Johnson, 32, is an assistant professor of industrial arts in charge of the auto mechanics lab and director of driver education here.

Born in Livermore, Johnson was graduated from SJS in 1948 with an A. B. degree and a general secondary teaching credential.

While at SJS he was active in college life. As a cheer leader

Politics Discussion At Meet Tonight

"California Politics, Personalities and Propositions" will be the subject of a discussion tonight at the Student Y, 272 S. 7th St., at 7:30 o'clock, according to Bill Miller, president.

Harvey Jordan, a local editor, will represent the Republican candidates for Governor, Lt. Governor, and Senator, while Robert Dixon, a SJS student, will represent the Democratic candidates. Four or five propositions in the November election will also be discussed.

Co-Rec Club Attendance at All Time High

"Co-Rec attendance this year has topped anything prior to this time," Miss Ardith Frost, co-rec adviser stated Monday.

"If some other club on campus isn't doing something in the field of recreation which is needed, we will do it. We initiate activities the students want," she stated.

Co-Rec, open to all ASB card holders, has a diversified schedule of recreational activities. Volleyball, table tennis, badminton, social dancing and entertainment are on the agenda of the regular Thursday night meetings from 7 to 10 p. m. in the Women's Gym.

Club activities are planned by an Executive committee under the direction of Bobby Hoepner and Clark Gelhaus, co-chairmen. This committee, at present composed of 22 to 35 active leaders, is open to any interested student.

A camp counselors club will be organized and operating by the end of this quarter as one of the special activities of Co-Rec. A Uke club offers instruction to anyone interested in learning to play the instrument.

Social dance lessons have been offered in previous quarters and will be continued this year if the students want it. "All our activities are designed to accommodate the student," Miss Frost said.

Newman Club Initiation Held

Between 75 and 100 new members of the Newman Club will be initiated tonight at 8 o'clock in the St. Joseph's Church, according to an announcement from Barbara Hodges, club publicity chairman.

Sunday, the SJS club played host to officers and representatives of province clubs at a banquet. Plans were approved for the founding of two new province clubs.

Tomorrow night, an After Rally Dance will be held at 8 o'clock in Newman Hall.

Cal-Stanford To Race Here

For the first time in any sport, Cal and Stanford will stage their annual cross-country duel on the local course as part of the San Jose State Invitational, Nov. 12.

The Indian-Bear meet will be scored separately from the Golden Raider tourney, which is unofficially recognized as the Northern California cross-country championship match.

Coach Lloyd "Bud" Winter commented that he expects entries from all major college cross-country teams in Northern California.

Funeral Services Held For Ex-Oregon Guard

Winter Seeks Fast Man For No. 5 Spot on Team

Bronzan Lauds Pigskin Trio For Line Play

Three Spartan linemen were singled out in practice and praised by Coach Bob Bronzan as the Golden Raiders prepared for their engagement with the University of Oregon Saturday afternoon in Eugene.

The tackle play of Jack Adams and Jack Crawford and the improvement of Guard Hank Sekoch drew praises from the head mentor.

End Mervin Lopes and Guard Jim Davis were still favoring knee injuries that kept them inactive for the past two weeks. Lopes missed the Arizona State game while Davis did not see action against Idaho or ASC.

Certain to miss the trip north are Halfbacks Bill Beasley with a broken rib and Al Brown, whose knee is in a cast.

It is no secret that the Spartans have been drilling long and hard for the Eugene encounter and are in the best physical shape since early season. They have the right mental attitude to upset the Ducks, who defeated SJS, 26-13, last year.

Wallace Returns To Soccer Team; Upset Hopes Soar

The return of George Wallace to soccer practice yesterday gave the Spartans high hopes of obtaining their first victory of the season when they meet Cal here Saturday morning.

Wallace, out last week with a pulled muscle, played the first four minutes against Stanford and tallied a goal before sustaining the injury.

Coach Julie Menendez plans to move Wallace to halfback to strengthen the SJS offense that has scored only one goal on each outing. SJS has been defeated by Stanford, 6-1, and USE, 5-1.

More Essential Than 1st Place

Finding a fast runner who can cut the tape fifth is more important than seeking a first place finisher to Lloyd "Bud" Winter, cross-country coach.

This represents Coach Winter's No. 1 problem as the squad prepares for its three mile run Friday against Cal Poly and Santa Clara Youth Center on the local course.

Under the unique cross-country scoring rules the low score wins the meet. This means that with a point awarded each finishing position that if SJS' fifth man is 13th, then the Spartans would have a like number of points tacked on its score.

"Anytime you can get five men coming in one minute apart you have a good team," commented Coach Winter.

LLOYD "BUD" WINTER
... 5th man most important

The Spartans have four—Don Hubbard, Don Berry, Duane Ludlow and Mel Stroud, who have accomplished this feat.

But who will be the fifth man? Coach Winter is counting heavily on five students to fill this spot. They are Jim Green, a frosh who was third in the state mile as a prep, Frank Wulfange, Dick Gromer, Bob Azevedo, and Tom Santiago, high school Northern Coast mile titlist.

The triangle meet tomorrow will be San Jose's second official meet of the season, the first one at Cal last Saturday.

The locals dropped the match to the Bears, 27-30, because the fifth place runner finished out of the money, despite a one-two finish by Hubbard and Berry.

The Golden Raiders captured the first four places in an informal race with the Santa Clara Youth Center Oct. 8. Former Spartan distance great Bob McMullen finished fifth that day.

Louderback, Ruse Lead Tussle for Lineman Honor

Guard Tom Louderback leads in this week's race for the Mr. Downfield title and Center Jerry Ruse leads in the Mr. Pass Protector contest, according to the latest statistics released by Line Coach Bill Perry.

Louderback has top score with 82 points, while Ruse leads in his division with 18 hits in 18 tries.

Trailing in the Mr. Downfield race are Jack Crawford with 73 points; Charlie Hardy, 71; Tom Yagi, 61; and Jim Hughes, 53. Other top contenders for this week's Mr. Pass Protector title are Bob Light, with 15-15; Jim Nakagawa, 13-13; Jack Adams and Stan Galas, each with 22-23.

The two contests are run on a weekly basis to give linemen recognition for outstanding play. The top man in each division at the end of the week has his name inscribed on the perpetual trophy.

Three Intramural Games Scheduled

Three grid games are on tap in the intramural football wars today.

Sigma Pi meets Theta Xi in American League play at Roosevelt field; Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Nu are scheduled in a National loop encounter at Willow street park; and Newman Club plays Mehanics at Columbus field.
