SJS students will go to the polls Friday to select 10 semi-finalists to compete for the title of Homecoming Queen of 1955. All candidate entry blanks must be in Box "H" of the Student Union by 4:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Each candidate must have completed at least two semester of work at any college or university and must be a full-time student at San Jose State College now in clear standing.

Ten ASB Openings Remain; Deadline Extended One Day

With 10 openings still unclaimed, applications for student body appointive offices continue to come in to the ASB office. Deadline has been extended to noon, Wednesday, according to Ray Freeman, ASB vice president.

No applications have been submitted for openings on the Campus Chest, Memorial Chapel, Community Service, and College Lecture Sub-committees, the Student Union Board or two vacancies in the Student Court.

In addition to the above offices, members will be selected to serve on the Awards Committee, Spartan Shop Board, McFadden Health Cottage Board, Student Court Bailiff, and the Intercollegiate Athletic Committee. Student Court offices open are the female junior judge and the court clerk positions, Freeman added.

Appointments will be made following consideration of applications and interviews tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Student Council meeting. All applicants must attend the meeting for their interviews. This is a new feature of the ASB appointment system.

Previously, the council had picked the members for the sub-committees from written applications only.

Students wishing to take an active part in the administrative life of their student body have been urged to file for the openings. Applications are deposited in a basket on the desk of Helvi Aho, ASB receptionist, in the Student Union. Freeman added this is the best opportunity all year for students to participate in ASB projects and activities without competing for elective positions.

Any campus organization may sponsor a candidate, and each girl must have a sponsor.

Entry blanks must be accompanied by an 8"x10" glossy print of the candidate. It should be a recent head and shoulder photograph taken at a local studio.

All Homecoming Queen candidates must be in the Student Union at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow for a group photograph for the Spartan Daily according to Jan Heter, queen chairman.

Five living groups have turned in contestants' names for Homecoming Queen to date. They are Kappa Alpha Theta, who is sponsoring Sue Doyle; Alpha Chi Omega, who is backing Pat Lawless; Theta Chi, who entered Gayle Wood; Sigma Pi, who is sponsoring Stanna Halstead; and Gamma Phi Beta, who is backing Eline Chial.

Groups sponsoring candidates may place posters about the campus Thursday in accordance with the campus contest rules. These rules may be obtained in the Activities Office.

SJS Journalism, Advertising Faculty Attend Conference

Seven members of the San Jose State Journalism and Advertising Department attended the Central Valley Schools Journalism Assn. Conference Saturday in Sacramento, according to Dr. Dwight Bentel, head of the department.

More than 500 high school student journalists participated in the event, which featured exhibits of high school yearbooks and newspapers and discussions and demonstrations on various phases of high school journalism.

Attending the meeting from SJS besides Dr. Bentel were Mrs. Dolores Spurgeon, Dr. William Gould, Carl H. Hoffmann, Charles V. Kappen, Lowell Pratt and Dr. Leonard Hippen.

Poujade Becomes Robin Hood of 20th Century France!

France, which seems never to lack a crisis, has two of them at the moment.

The one that gets the headlines in this country, of course, is the North African one.

But there is another which is getting big headlines in France. That is the Poujade crisis. It could cause the overthrow of Premier Edgar Faure during the session of Parliament which starts today.

It concerns the snowballing "Don't pay your taxes" campaign of Pierre Poujade, a handsome, persuasive, 35-year-old bookseller from the little town of St. Cere in Southwestern France.

Poujade has attracted a following of about 1,000,000 small merchants and independent craftsmen to his movement.

"The anti-tax Messiah" and the "Robin Hood of the taxpayers," as he is variously called, nearly caused Faure's overthrow last March in a Parliamentary debate on the tax issue.

He was indicted last Friday on the charge of "encouraging collective refusal to pay taxes." He is to appear in court for a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

Since he started organizing what he now calls the Union for the defense of tradesmen and artisans, Poujade has spread his movement so that it affects 75 out of the 90 Provincial Departments of France.

In the south, in some parts, Poujade has almost paralyzed tax collections.

His complaint is that the complicated tax system is unfair to the small businessman.

Poujade demands the drastic revision of a tax system under which shopkeepers and craftsmen must pay a multitude of nuisance taxes.

He wants a system under which taxes would be paid at the source and included in the wholesale prices which shopkeepers and craftsmen pay.

He says he welcomes a prosecution. He says he not only will keep up his campaign but broaden it to attack all kinds of governmental meddling in private affairs.

Mild Case of Polio Strikes Tom Bass, Spartan Guard

Remaining Spartan Squad Examined; No Other Cases

Tom Bass, first string guard on the Spartan football squad has been stricken with a mild case of polio, it was announced by college officials yesterday.

Bass, a 20-year-old junior from San Bernardino, became ill last week and was taken to the Health Cottage. When his ailment was diagnosed Friday as polio, he was transferred to the isolation ward of the County Hospital.

Announcement of the diagnosis of the Spartan gridders was withheld until other members of the team could be checked. Every member of the team has been checked and no other cases of polio have been reported, according to college officials.

Bass was "resting very satisfactorily" yesterday afternoon, according to Dr. T. Yumibe, hospital official of the isolation ward. Dr. Yumibe told the Spartan Daily that Bass has a definite weakness in the right leg.

STARRED DOWN SOUTH
The polio stricken Spartan was an all-conference in both high school and junior college at San Bernardino. He has played ball for San Jose's first two games of the season.

"He is a man with a big heart and lots of courage and his loss is a great loss to the squad," Spartan Line Coach Bill Perry said yesterday.

Bass, a police major who won the annual campus "Ugly man" contest in Spring, demonstrated some of his courage in August when he helped save 42 persons from death in a Los Angeles tenement fire.

Bass and a University of Washington football player spotted this burning building and ran from room to room arousing the residents by shouting and pounding on doors.

Today Is Last Day For Contributions To Wardrup Fund

Today is the last day the fund for the wife and two children of John Delbert Wardrup will be in operation on campus according to Stanley C. Benz, dean of students. "The results of the fund have been very gratifying so far," Dean Benz said yesterday.

The Graduate Manager's Office reports the approximate total to be $600. Contributions can be made through the Dean of Students Office or the Student Business Office, or through the mail and should be addressed to the Student Business Office, San Jose State College.

John Delbert Wardrup, 26, was an engineering major who fell from a five-story building while washing windows and was killed. His wife and children are left with no insurance or financial support.

Spinners Teach Waltz Tonight
One of the most popular folk dances, the Amador Waltz, will be taught tonight when the Spartan Spinners hold their second gathering of the school year at the YWCA from 8 to 10 p.m.

Dr. Wiley will relate her experiences at the National Recreation Convention held last week in Denver, Colorado. All recreation majors and minors and all people interested in the recreation field are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

Student Court Meet

The Student Court will meet today at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Union to discuss coming elections and appointments on the court, according to Johnny Arreola, senior justice.

All students who were members of Student Court last quarter are urged to attend this meeting, Arreola said.

Seniors—Last Chance!

The deadline for seniors to sign up for pictures in La Torre has been extended to Wednesday, according to Rose Magasco, editor. Students who wish to sign up must do so in the La Torre office, Room J9.

The price of the photo has been reduced to $1.35.

Possible Smog Alert Predicted for L.A.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3 (UP)—Smog rolled into the Los Angeles basin today on the heels of a "smog red" condition and a prediction by the air pollution control district for a probable alert.

Visibility in the downtown area was cut to a mile and one-half by a mixture of smog and haze. Visibility at International Airport was one and three-quarter miles because of smoke and fog, and runway lights were on.

The APCD had predicted a "smog red" condition—heavy smog and a possible alert—yesterday after a forecast of weak winds and a 1500-foot inversion.

Senior, Junior Councils At Loggerheads Concerning COP-SJS After-Game Dance

If the junior class is victorious in the hair-pulling controversy with the senior class, the juniors will sponsor the after-game dance, after the COP game, Larry Conterno, president, announced yesterday at the class meeting. The so-called controversy started when both the senior class and the junior class signed up for the dance for the same night. Conterno stated however that he signed up for the date last May, and the seniors submitted their application only earlier last month. So the plans for the after-game dance are in the hands of the juniors now, who started yesterday with their preparations for the dance.

Also on the agenda for yesterday's meeting was discussion of a pizza sale and a report on the further plans for the Junior Prom, which will be held May 5.

Conterno praised the juniors for their large turnout, which he exclaimed was more than twice the size of the first meeting.

The Senior Class Council decided that it would ask Dean Helen Dimmick, Associate Dean of Students, to call a meeting of the Class Advisory Board to determine whether or not the senior class can have an after-game dance after the SJS-COP game.

According to Mr. Harrison McCreath, class adviser, it has been a tradition at SJS for the seniors to have preference in the Date Book. If the Class Advisory Board decides in favor of the Junior class, the Seniors have tentatively decided to have their after-game dance after the SJS-Cal Poly game.

Don Abinante presided at the meeting held yesterday at 3:30 p.m.

Members of the Student Activities Board will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Student Union according to Ray Freeman, student body vice-president.

Two representatives will be selected from the applications turned in to the Student Union. Representatives or the presidents of WAA, AWS, Panhellenic, and IFC are requested to attend.

Freeman plans to have the committee get to work on modifying SJS's contest rules and gathering all SAB rules in booklet form.

In SD 126. President Bob Lindsey resigned as class president at the council meeting last week because of a part-time job. Joyce De Beneditti resigned as class representative to the Student Council and Abinante suggested that anyone who is interested in filling the position to apply through him.

FROSH OFFICES OPEN
Election of Freshman class officers will take place Oct. 13, and 14, as disclosed by Class President, Ernie Castro at the class council meeting yesterday. Students who wish to run for an office should pick up a petition in the Student Union as soon as possible as petitions containing 50 signatures must be turned into the Student Union by Friday, Oct. 7. Candidates running for office will be given a chance to introduce themselves at the council meeting next Monday, Oct. 10.

A fund raising committee was formed which will discuss ideas for money raising projects. The committee will discuss several ideas brought up by freshman students and give a report to the council at the next meeting.

Class Secretary, Masako Ka-wauchi urged all freshmen to support the Frosh-Soph Mixer to be held Tuesday, Nov. 8. She said that a trophy will be awarded the class with the most attendance, the best entertainment, and the most points from winning the games.

SOPHS CHOOSE RIGDON
Sophomore class members selected Chuck Rigdon general chairman of the forthcoming Frosh-Soph Mixer yesterday afternoon and decided upon a theme, as yet undisclosed.

Ralph Parker, class vice-president, was selected co-chairman, but will act in an advisory capacity in keeping with the class's "new leadership" policy.

The mixer will be held in the Men's Gym on Tuesday, Nov. 8, from 5:30 to 10:30 p.m. All attendees will be required to remove their shoes and go "Sock Hop" style.

Entertainment will center around various acts depicting the storybook history of the dance, from the waltz to bop. Gayle Grisham and Kay Wandmaker were elected historians.

UNITED PRESS ROUNDUP

Energy Plan Pushed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (UP)—The United States disclosed today it is pushing a five-front project to harness hydrogen energy which conceivably could supply mankind with inexhaustible power reserves lasting forever.

The announcement was made at a special news conference by Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission. He emphasized repeatedly that it is a long-range program which will not interfere with the present atomic power program.

But Strauss also said he would not be surprised if science achieved a hydrogen, or fusion, break through within 20 years.

Fusion research projects are underway at Princeton University, AEC Laboratories at Livermore, Calif., Los Alamos, N.M., and Oak Ridge, Tenn., and New York University.

The overall program is known as Project Shedwood.

TEXAN TRUST ONLY U.S.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 3 (UP)—Dilmus Kanady, Texas cotton broker repatriate from Communist China, flew into Houston, his hometown, yesterday but relatives whisked him away, presumably to a hospital, before newsman had a chance to talk to him.

Kanady, 36, his brother, William, 39, and a cousin, Dr. E. A. Cox of Wichita Falls, Tex., arrived by plane six minutes late from San Francisco at 11:21 p.m. (CST).

Kanady's brother and cousin flew to Wake Island to get him after Kanady refused to board a Pan American plane. He held out for a U.S. Military Plane and expressed fear another would take him back to China.

Cox reported that right up to the time they boarded the plane at Wake, Kanady had insisted he would fly on nothing but a U.S. military plane.

He trusted nobody or anything not bearing markings of the United States Government, Cox said.

"Finally," Cox said, "I just took him firmly by the arm and said, 'Dilmus, we are going, let's go.' He came right along without an argument."

AVOIDS MAJOR CATASTROPHE

Student Y Invites All, Says Director

By IVAN SCOPE

"We are bound together by a common desire for spiritual, mental and physical growth and seek to gain a better understanding of God, the world and our-

Rev. James A. Martin

sees through the life and teachings of Jesus and through fellowship with all peoples."

This is the statement of purpose of the Student Y, as explained by the Rev. James A. Martin, executive secretary and adviser to the organization. Acceptance of this purpose is the only requisite for membership in this campus Christian Fellowship group.

Nor is the meeting space or recreational facilities of the "Y" limited to members. "The activities and facilities are open to all members of the campus community, whether or not they are Student Y members," the Rev. Martin said. Illustrating this is the fact that Lutheran, Episcopal, and Hillel (Jewish Youth Group) organizations regularly use the 9th and San Antonio street location as a meeting place. So do the Student Christian Council and the College Religious Council.

In addition to his Student Y duties, the personable and energetic young clergyman serves as adviser and executive secretary of both the Student Christian Council and the College Religious Council. The first group is composed of seven campus Protestant organizations.

The CRC is an inter-faith organization, open to all groups who wish to join. Present members include: Calvin Club, Campbell Club, Canterbury Club, Channing Club, Christian Science Organization, Hillel, Kappa Phi, Lutheran Students' Assn., Newman Club, Pilgrim Club, Roger Williams Fellowship, Student Y, and Wesley Foundation.

Here is a Council of on-campus religious organizations and college-age groups whose purpose is to "serve the total religious needs of the campus more adequately and to effect greater understanding and cooperation among the membership of the participating organizations."

"If the San Jose State student does not participate in religious activities of his choosing, it is in no way his fault, not that the opportunity doesn't exist, but that the student fails to take advantage of the opportunities offered," the Rev. Martin said.

"As a matter of fact," the Student Y executive secretary continued, "in many instances, the student does not even have to look for the organization. Campus religious groups make use of the religious preference cards to locate students of like denominations and invite them to join their organizations."

The religious preference cards, on which the student lists his church preference, are filled out and turned in along with the registration booklet each quarter. Filling out the cards is voluntary. The completed cards go to the Student Y where they are available to the various campus religious organizations.

Instilled with a fervor in the work he is doing in helping direct the students along Christian goals, the cheerful youth group leader is always anxious to look for more avenues of expression for youths under his jurisdiction. Despite the heavy load included in his multiple duties as adviser and executive secretary of the Student Y, CRC and SCC, the Rev. Martin, or "Jim" as he is referred to by the students is more than satisfied with his present assignment.

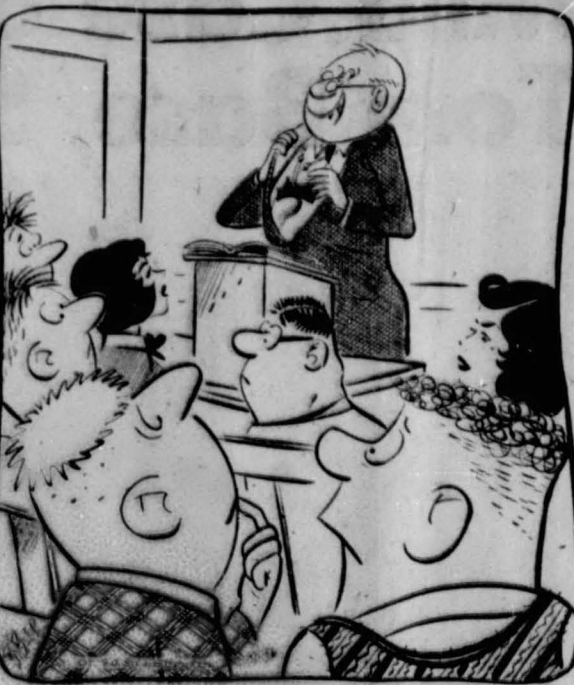

"I have been offered several other positions," the Rev. Martin said, "but this opportunity to guide the student, not only in religious, but in good, clean, Christian social activities is what I have always wanted to do." He admits it would be hard to break the many personal ties which have resulted during his six years with the Student Y.

The Rev. Martin lives with his wife, Mary, and his two children, Linda, 4½, and David, 3, at 155 S. 17th St. David is enrolled in the college nursery school.

A native of Oregon, he completed his undergraduate work at Oregon State. He came to San Jose in 1949, upon completion of his studies at the Yale Divinity School, New Haven, Conn.

Fulbright Award Applications Ready

Applications for the Fulbright and Buenos Aires Convention programs for the 1956-57 academic year are now available in the office of Associate Dean of Students Robert S. Martin, Room 116.

The awards under these programs are a part of the educational exchange program of the Department of State, whose objective is to promote better understanding of the United States abroad, and to increase mutual understanding between its citizens and the people of other countries through scholarships for study abroad.

Eligibility requires United States citizenship, a college degree or its equivalent at the time the award is to be taken up, and knowledge of the language of the country sufficient to carry on the proposed study.

Selection for the awards is made on the basis of the applicant's personal qualifications, academic record, value of the proposed study or research, and suitability for placement in an institution of higher learning abroad. Persons over 35 years of age are at a disadvantage in the graduate student competition.

Deadline for application is Oct. 15, 1955, and complete applications must be on file prior to Nov. 1, according to Dean Martin.

This Man Didn't Require a College Degree to Live in the Leisure Class

TEMPLE CITY, Calif., Sept 29 (UP)—The law stepped in today to interrupt the "Good Life," of George W. Peterson, 31, who boasted his street begging enabled him to work only four or five hours a day and take as many as three vacations annually.

Peterson, of Los Angeles, told sheriff's deputies he has a savings account of more than $1,000 in a San Francisco bank, rarely works more than five hours a day, has not missed a regular summer vacation in four years and on occasion has taken three vacations in a year.

The secret of Peterson's begging success was a sign. On it was written: "I just arrived in town and am a deaf mute and unable to get a job so can you help me?"

When sheriff's deputies moved in to arrest the "Deaf mute," he told them, "Okay, you've got me. Let's go."

Peterson said he had been arrested "a hundred times." He told deputies the exact section of the penal code under which he should be booked for soliciting and alms and vagrancy. Then he started talking of his successful career as a beggar.

"Last year at Stockton, Calif., just before Christmas, I made so much I took an extra vacation," he said.

Peterson said he has "worked" all over the country except in the south because "They're too tough on beggars down there." He said his favorite spot was an area—undisclosed — in San Francisco where he usually netted an average of six dollars an hour.

"If I don't take the money someone else will, so what the heck," Peterson said. He told deputies that when he isn't "working" he never passed up a beggar.

"I have a heart, too," he said.

Yankees Knot Series; Crucial Contest Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (UP)—The New York Yankees, scoring all their runs in a wild first inning, evened the World Series at three games each today, when they defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-1, behind the 4-hit pitching of Whitey Ford.

Powered by a three-run homer by Bill Skowron after the Dodgers opened the game with two fielding lapses by Junior Gilliam and the wildness of starting pitcher Karl Spooner, the Yankees gave their star southpaw all the runs he needed in their first time at bat and sent the series into the seventh and deciding game tomorrow.

In that big one, it will be two southpaws starting for the clubs, with Tommy Byrne, who won the second game of the series, going against Johnny Podres, who won the third game for Brooklyn.

Ford was brilliant as he won his second series start. He had taken the first game, 6-5, with ninth-inning relief help from Bob Grim, but today he went all the way and gave up only four singles to the right handed power-packed Dodger lineup, which usually murders left handed pitching.

But they couldn't get their big guns going against Ford, and what's more they lost their record-breaking home run hitting start, Duke Snider, who injured his left knee in the third inning and had to leave the game. It is doubtful if Snider will be able to play tomorrow in the big one at Yankee Stadium.

The first inning is one the Dodgers, fighting for their first series championship, won't forget for a long time. With heads up fielding, they would have been out of the inning, although Spooner, the rookie southpaw, dug his own grave with his wildness.

He started off by walking shortstop Phil Rizzuto, but then on a 3-2 count fanned Billy Martin. But Gilliam was slow covering second base and catcher Roy Campanella had to hold the ball helplessly at the plate until Gilliam started for the bag, and then throwing too late to get Rizzuto, who was off with the pitch.

That seemed to upset Spooner and he walked Gil McDougald.

Yogi Berra then hit a ground ball just to the right of second base but as Gilliam stooped down for it, it went through him into center field, Rizzuto scoring. It was not too difficult a chance for Gilliam, but this time he failed to come up with the ball and the official scorers called it a hit.

Hank Bauer then rapped a legitimate single to left, scoring McDougald.

Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers appeared on the dug-out steps, but didn't even go out to the mound, although he had two right handers, Don Newcombe and Russ Meyer, warming up in the bullpen. He let Spooner pitch to Skowron and that turned out to be the icing on the cake, for the Yankee first baseman rifled one into the right field stands for three runs.

That was more than Ford, an 18-game winner during the regular season, needed.

Only once did the Dodgers break through his assortment of fast falls, curves and speed-ups. That was in the fourth when Pee Wee Reese singled, went to second when Campanella walked and scored on Carl Furillo's single.

Ford was in trouble after that, but always managed to bear down when the heat was on as a crowd of 64,022 in big Yankee Stadium cheered him on.

After Skowron's homer, Alston brought in Meyer, but it was too late. Although Bob Cerv, the first man to face Meyer, beat out an infield grounder for a hit, the Yankees did not score off the right hander, nor his successor, Ed Roebuck, but those big five runs in the first inning were enough.

Spartans, Sun Devils Harriers To Battle Saturday Plan Meet

After a two-week rest from competition, the SJS gridders return to the gridiron wars Saturday night when they play host to the Arizona State (Tempe) Sun Devils in Spartan Stadium.

The Spartans have beaten Utah State and the University of Hawaii in their first two starts, and have yet to yield a point this season. The Sun Devils rolled over the San Diego Naval Training Center, 42-0, Saturday night, and will no doubt present the Spartans with their stiffest competition of the season.

Arizona State has a high scoring offense this year, as is shown by their 28-7 win over Midwestern and 20-20 tie with Wichita.

The Spartans and Sun Devils have met six times, and have played an exciting, high-scoring game on each occasion. Last year SJS topped Arizona State, 19-12, in Tempe. In 1953, the last time the Sun Devils appeared in Spartan Stadium, the Tempe school came up with its only win of the series. Sun Devil passes subdued the Spartans 35-20.

Although the Spartans have won five of the six previous games in the series, there has never been a shutout registered and in the three games played since the rivalry was renewed in 1952, the two teams have averaged six touchdowns a game.

Dan Devine, new Arizona State coach, has installed the multiple offense he learned as backfield coach under Biggie Munn at Michigan State and it has produced 15 touchdowns in three games.

Spearhead of the Sun Devil offense is sophomore whiz Bobby Mulgado, a 185-lb. halfback from McKeesport, Pa. Mulgado is a dangerous runner and passer. In the Midwestern game he scored on a 46 yard run and threw a 37 yard touchdown pass.

Arizona State uncovered a new star in the San Diego Navy game—freshman Leon Burton, Mulgado's understudy at halfback. Devine used his second and third stringers liberally against the training center, and Burton chalked up five touchdowns.

The Spartans received a blow at the guard spot, where they lack depth, when Tom Bass came down with polio. Bass, along with Jim Hughes and Hank Sekoch, has done most of the guard work for the Spartans this season. Coach Bob Bronzan has switched end Russ Camilleri to guard to help take up the slack.

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip... and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette... that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Circling the Campuses

By Dee Boyd

Once again it's time to circle the campuses and pick up bits of jokes and info to boost campus morale and tickle the intellectual funny bone, so let us be off with this little tidbit from Reedley College.

"Tobacco is a dirty weed; I like it.
It satisfies no normal need:
I like it.
It makes you thin, it makes you lean.
It takes the hair right off your head;
It's the worst darn stuff I've ever seen:
I like it."

So with that out of the way we move on to higher things such as the ambitions of students at Castlemont High School in Oakland.

Some are aspiring to the position of Mr. President. Well, that's what the physical education course figures prove. One fourth of the senior class has enrolled in the golf course!

From the same paper comes this cheerful little message: "43 more days 'til Thanksgiving Vacation." Those people must love to attend classes!

SJS SD Students Present Readings

National Poetry week was celebrated Saturday by speech and drama majors, Shirley Hooper, Sandra Teboe and Bob Weiss, who gave a program of poetry readings for the National League of American Penwomen at the home of radio writer, Mrs. J. D. Roberts.

Opening the program was a humorous trilogy from Ogden Nash, read by Bob Weiss, prominent in radio-TV work on campus.

Shirley Hooper, spring quarter winner of the Dr. Dorothy Kaucher award for excellence in oral reading, interpreted Alice Duerr Miller's "The White Cliffs of Dover." She also read two prize winning poems by Dedie Huffman Wilson, penwoman.

Sandra Teboe, well known by her many roles in SJS drama productions, read a sonnet sequence from Shakespeare and George Santayana. She concluded with a national prize winning sonnet by Rose Darrough and a ballad by Ruth Veseley of the Penwomen group.

Mrs. Courtenay Brooks, assistant professor of drama and chairman of the department's public performance bureau, arranged the program.

College; entitled "You Just Can't Win!"

"If we print jokes, people say we are silly; if we don't, they say we're too serious. If we print original matter, they say we lack variety; if we publish things from other papers, we're too lazy to write. If we stay on the job, we ought to be out rustling news. If we're out rustling news, we're not attending to business in the office. If we don't print contributions, we don't show appreciation; if we do print them, the paper is full of junk. If we use copy as it is, we are lacking in education; if we make changes, we're spoiling good material and making someone angry. If we select some articles and leave others, we're too critical; if we don't, we're asleep. If we're seen reading a newspaper, we've got too much time in the office; if we don't we're considered ignorant and not up to date. Like as not someone will come along and say we took this from another paper. WE DID—Borrowed from NAFB Airfoil."

MAIL

Received in Spartan Daily Office this a.m. from the exchange editor of the Syracusean Helibox of New York State:

"Hi—
Wanta trade dirty jokes again this year? We promise lots of exchange material. Loads of luck on your magazine." It was intended for Lyke, but we beat 'em to the punch this time!

REAL CONVENIENCE

Strangest things can happen. From the Daily Kansan we learned this one up. A fellow in McCook, Neb., was fined $100 for reckless driving following an accident. But he couldn't have picked a better place to total his new car—right near a junk yard, so near that the remains of his once new car rolled right into the yard.

At least it saved him a towing bill, huh?
Well, it was a try at humor. Bye.

Highway Officials Give Actor Report

PASO ROBLES, Calif., Oct. 3 (UP)—The California Highway Patrol presented its report yesterday to the district attorney of the head-on automobile crash which killed actor James Dean.

Dean, 24, one of Hollywood's fastest rising stars, was killed Friday when his $7,000 German sports car crashed into a sedan on a highway 28 miles east of Paso Robles. Dean was en route to a weekend road race at Salinas.

Dean was killed instantly. A passenger in his car, Rolf Weutherich, 39, a Hollywood mechanic, suffered a broken leg and fractured jaw. Donald Turnpseed, of Tulare, Calif., driver of the other car, suffered only a bruised nose.

It was learned that Dean had been cited for speeding only a couple of hours before the accident by highway patrolmen near Bakersfield, Calif. Patrolmen said judging from the time of the collision and the time and location of accident Dean must have been averaging 75 miles per hour in the car before the collision.

Dean's body will be returned to Fairmont, Ind., where funeral services will be conducted Saturday. He was born in Marion, Ind., where he will be buried.

President's Doctor Feels 'Relieved' After Latest Report on Ike's Health

BOSTON, Oct. 3 (UP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White said today he felt "relieved" after hearing the latest report from President Eisenhower's bedside at Denver. "The electrocardiogram showed normal evolution," White told newsmen at his office after talking to Dr. Byron E. Pollock at Fitzsimmons Army Hospital at Denver.

In answer to a newsman's question, White said "I feel relieved." Earlier he had expressed some concern over the President's "tired" feeling and arranged for an extra telephone call from Denver at 6 a.m. (EDT) to reassure himself.

White said that an X-ray today revealed the "heart shadow" is the same as the normal record last year when the President was in good health. He said the X-ray showed no enlargement.
