ASB Gives $919.25 To Wardrup Fund

Dean Stanley C. Benz announced Friday that $919.25 has been donated to the fund for the wife and two children of John Wardrup, an engineering major who was killed in a fall from a five-story building downtown.

Mrs. Bernice Wardrup and her two children were left with no insurance or financial support.

Juniors To Discuss Go-Ahead Plans For SJS-COP After-Game Dance

The go-ahead plans for the after-game dance will be one of the major projects that the juniors will discuss at their class meeting today in Room 24 at 3:30 o'clock.

Larry Conterno, president, stated that since his class won the decision of the controversy over which class was to sponsor the SJS-COP after-game dance, they will start today with preparations. Also on the agenda will be further discussion about the various bands that will be available for the Junior Prom which will be held next May. The bands have already been contacted and a report is expected to be given at today's meeting.

FRESHMEN TO MEET
Introduction of candidates running for class offices will take place today at the Freshman Class meeting at 3:30 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium, according to Earnie Castro, president.

SENIOR CLASS COUNCIL
The Senior Class Council will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Room 126 of the Speech and Drama building, according to Harrison McCreath, class adviser.

Bufano, Goya Art On Display Here

The Art Department is displaying a collection of the works of Beniamino Bufano, a contemporary sculptor, and the etchings and aqua tints of Francisco Goya, an 18th Century painter.

Beniamino Bufano is one of the greatest contemporary sculptors. According to the late Maillol, he is the only great sculptor America has produced so far.

Bufano's works include some of his portraits, and a model he made for his larger work which he called "Peace." There are nine of Bufano's works on display in the hall of the Art Building.

Francisco Goya was an 18th Century Spanish artist. He was the court painter for Charles IV of Spain, and painted portraits of the royal family. Later in his life, Goya used his artistic ability to satirize the Spanish court.

He used donkeys and monkeys in his drawings to satirize the evils he saw in the Spanish court. Some of these works are included in this collection now on display. There are 21 of Goya's works in this exhibit.

According to Warren W. Faus, chairman of the exhibit committee, the exhibit will be on display all week. This exhibit is on loan from Stanford University.

State Convention Of Library Assn. To Be Held at SJS

October 25 will mark the opening day of the State Convention of the California Library Association to be held in San Jose Civic Auditorium and St. Claire Hotel, according to Miss Joyce Backus, librarian.

The planning committee for the convention met Thursday. Mr. Frederick Stephen of the library staff attended along with Miss Backus, Robert Greenwood and Miss Doris Smith.

'Suspicious American'

MANILA, Philippines, Oct. 7 (UP)—The Manila Daily Mirror reported Friday that a U.S. air policeman sought the aid of local police when a "suspicious" American registered at a local hotel as a Lieutenant General.

To the officers' "consternation," the paper said, the hotel guest turned out to be Lt. Gen. Roger M. Ramey.

Ten Homecoming Queen Candidates Nominated

The general student body election to nominate 10 semi-finalists for homecoming queen were held last Friday, and the following girls will battle it out for homecoming queen of 1955:

Donna Curley, sponsored by Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Barbara Dale, backed by Phi Sigma Kappa; Pat Lawless, presented by Alpha Chi Omega; Sandra Lederman, sponsored by Kappa Phi.

Judy Raubenheimer is being backed by Lambda Chi Alpha; Nancy Tipton, Sigma Kappa; Lori Triolo, sponsored by Sigma Nu; Gail Wilson, supported by Delta Sigma Phi; Gail Wood, backed by Theta Xi and Robin Wurtzburg, who is sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity.

"I would like to have the 10 semi-finalists meet with me in the Student Union today at 3:30 p.m. without fail for fittings for Thursday's fashion show," Jan Heter, Homecoming Committee queen contest chairman stresses.

"I wish each and every one of you all the luck in the world," Miss Heter added.

Friday's election was the only chance members of the general student body had to raise their voices in support of the girls they favored. The four finalists will be chosen from a panel of impartial judges, as yet unnamed, on the basis of a fashion show to be held Thursday, Oct. 13 in Morris Dailey Auditorium.

Coronation Ball Looms Near for Spartan Couples; Bids Available in Outer Quad

Only five more days until Spartan couples will dance to the music of Jack Fina at the Coronation Ball, Social Affairs Committee chairman, Jack Tyler, reminds students today.

Free bids for Friday night's ball are available at a booth in the Outer Quad upon presentation of an ASB card or a faculty privilege card. There will be one bid per couple, Tyler added.

Large Crowd Expected

"We expect to have a larger attendance at the ball than ever before," Tyler commented. Those who are unable to obtain bids at the booth today or tomorrow will be admitted to the Ball upon presentation of an ASB card or a faculty privilege card at the door of the Civic Auditorium.

Tomorrow afternoon's decoration meeting at 2:30 p.m. in the Spartan Dugout will be the last before the ball, and all those interested in helping with final

Gridders Nab 27-20 Win; Retain Unbeaten Record

The SJS Spartans, superior from start to finish, exhibited a porous pass defense that enabled Arizona State (Tempe) to stay in the ball game, and settled for a 27-20 win Saturday night in Spartan Stadium.

The Spartans, behind a hard charging line, rolled up 291 yards rushing, while holding the vaunted Sun Devils to a mere 19 yards on the ground. In the first half SJS ate up 158 yards on the ground and the Sun Devils wound up owing two.

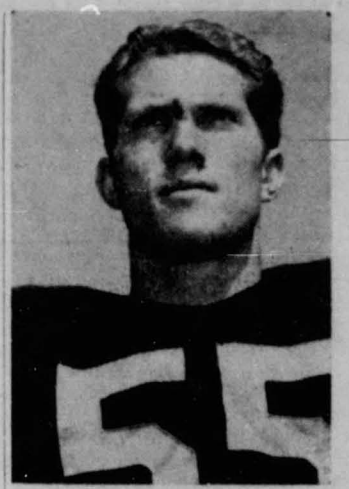

Halfback Stan Beasley and fullback Joe Urm spearheaded Coach Bob Bronzan's running game. Beasley was the game's leading rusher with 120 yards on 18 carries for an average of 6.7 yards per carry. Urm was not far behind with 101 yards in 22 tries for a 4.5 average.

Meanwhile the SJS forwards completely bottled up heralded Bobby Mulgado and his cohorts on the ground. The Tempe flash was limited to a net gain of two yards on eight carries.

But a blocked kick and the right arm of quarterback Dave Graybill kept the Sun Devils in the game until the final gun. Graybill connected on 9 of 16 pass attempts for 155 of the 191 yards Arizona State made through the air.

Jack Adams got the Spartans on their way to the first score of the game in the first quarter when he tackled Mulgado on the Sun Devil 15 yard line after a high pass from center delayed an attempted punt. A clipping penalty set the Spartans back to the 30, but three plays later Tony Teresa hit Stan Beasley with a 20 yard strike on the one.

SJ Student Court Accept Three New Members on Bench

Three members were added to the SJS student court Friday as Teddy Gehr, senior female justice; Johnny Arreola, senior male justice and Nancy Curtis, junior female justice took the official oaths for office given by Chief Justice Bob Becker at the student court meeting.

It was announced at the meeting that ASB elections have been scheduled for Oct. 20-21 in the Inner Quad. Committees from the student court were appointed to supervise elections.

The election committee includes Arreola, rules; Miss Gehr, polls; Nada Stepanovich, ballots and Gary Clarke, eligibility. The appointment of Penne McClenahan as Student Court clerk also was announced at the meeting.

Justice Arreola announced that a meeting for all election candidates will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Student Union. He urges all candidates to attend as rules and procedures for elections will be explained.

Chief Justice Becker stated that the next meeting of the student court will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. in the Student Union building and all members are urged to attend.

Thompson's Wife Improves Rapidly

The wife of Robert P. Thompson, SJS personnel supervisor, who was stricken with polio 12 days ago is showing "remarkable improvement," Thompson said Friday.

Mrs. Thompson was admitted to the hospital with complete paralysis and placed in an iron lung. She remained in the lung until last Saturday when she was transferred to a "rocking bed," a bed which stimulates respiration. On Thursday she was considered well enough to be placed in a conventional hospital bed, Thompson said.

In addition to the Sister Kenny treatments which Mrs. Thompson has been receiving since the beginning of her illness, hydrotherapy treatments in a whirlpool were started last week.

Although Mrs. Thompson's improvement has been rapid, she is still being kept under careful observations and controlled conditions in order to avoid any danger of a setback.

Thompson said that the doctors have indicated that with continued therapy and with Mrs. Thompson's high spirit and determination chances for her complete recovery are very good.

The Thompsons have two children, a daughter, 10, and a son, 4.

EDITORIAL

For What It's Worth...

By Eleanor Norris, Editor

I really hate to repeat myself, but it appears to me that San Jose State is in the big time. A few days ago, I mentioned this in connection with the whopping enrollment this fall.

But it isn't just size that puts a school in the upper leagues. Take a look at the publicity lined up for the Big Event—Homecoming Parade Oct. 22.

Not only Associated Press and United Press, but KNTV, KSJO and KEEN are scheduled to be there with bells on to give us some nice coverage.

This attitude of "this is no small matter" is reflected by the attitude of George Starbird, mayor of San Jose. Starbird is to sign a contract this morning with Dean DeCarli, Stockton headman: mayor of the losing town to parade through the streets of the rival city.

Here's the thing—SJS isn't an institution shut off from the community. It's a contributing part of San Jose—and it isn't a one-way deal, either. San Jose merchants themselves are closing their doors an hour early the day of the parade to add to the occasion.

It's sort of a nice thing to have the whole community behind us in one our biggest celebrations of the year. And it only goes to show—this is some college we've got here!

Singer Macrae Sells Self Into Hollywood Musicals

HOLLYWOOD, (UP)—A boyish, eager singer named Gordon Macrae today is one of the hottest "new" stars in Hollywood—thanks to his own salesmanship and a non-eager singer named Frank Sinatra.

After Macrae bowed out of Warner Bros. Studio, Hollywood observers pegged him as "washed."

"Why, even when Frank Sinatra got the role in 'Carousel' I never lost faith I would get the part," Macrae said. "I even kept my sideburns and my hair long."

Macrae is not one to sit by quietly and let people discover his talents. He won the part in "Oklahoma!" by buttonholing director Fred Zinneman and producer Arthur Hornblow. He says, with some bewilderment, "They wasted a lot of money testing other people."

CINCH FOR PART
"When I was doing 'Oklahoma,'" I talked to Rogers and Hammerstein about doing "Carousel," he went on. "I thought I'd be a cinch for the part. I always hoped I'd do the picture. But they told me Sinatra had the inside track."

Macrae nonetheless wired Darryl F. Zanuck of 20th Century Fox that the best man for "Carousel" was Macrae. Zanuck wired back that Sinatra was set. "I never lost hope," Macrae said.

Sinatra, Macrae revealed, hinted even before the picture started he might ditch the roll.

FRANKIE IN VEGAS
"I saw Frankie up in Las Vegas and kidded him 'why don't you lay off 'Carousel.' It's an oscar-type role, and I'd like to do one, and you already did 'From Here To Eternity,'" Macrae said.

My Beat

is the Coop

By Neil Daniele

After being cooped up for three years, it is apparent that I am an authority on coops. And as far as our campus Coop is concerned, I have left a distinctive mark which will always be a remembrance to my person. My underhanded tactics reveal that at least one wad of gum is imbedded beneath every table within the cafe confines.

I elbowed my way through football stars and campus belles the other day as I couldn't resist the drawing power of the colorful caffeine. It comes in every shade these days. It's according to who is slopping the sloop. Well anyway, I finally crawled to the cashier and I asked for time out while I combed my hair.

I made it to a table and sat down. There I met my old friends Debbie and Eddie Fisher. They were plastered all over the front page of a local newspaper. (We are not allowed to name other newspapers.) Something about their tying the knot. The fools they had everything to live for. They were single and were getting fabulous publicity. Now they are married and have nothing. (Well, no publicity anyway.)

I was cutting a hole through the thick smoke which existed when to and behold! Who should come walking into the Coop but my old friend Grace Kelly. I hurried over to Grace and greeted her with open arms.

JAN PETERSON . . .
(Grace Kelly?)

"Hi Grace!" I said loud enough for everyone to hear. No response came from Grace. "What are you doing, making a picture of campus life?" I continued. Still no response from Grace.

"Look, you are Grace Kelly, aren't you?" I asked. "Grace Kelly? What makes you think I'm Grace Kelly?" she answered in her sweetest dramatic tone. "You just look like Miss Kelly to me. Are you sure you're not Grace?"

"No I am not Grace Kelly. My name is Jan Peterson," she whispered as I held on to a coffee table. "I am a radio and TV major," she continued. "I am 17 years old and I graduated from Van Nuys High School this past June."

One of Jan's friendly fans came lumbering up so I decided that the bull session was over.

"Well goodbye Grace—I mean Jan. Lots of luck at SJS," Jan waved goodbye and once again I was alone with my coffee and No-Doze pills.

A squad of coeds from the Police Department took away my table and chair and they gave me orders to loiter some place else.

Early in the summer, Johnny Desmond got a crack at a key role on the Philco Television Playhouse. He parlayed his dramatic performance and his treatment of the title song, "Play Me Hearts and Flowers," into the biggest break of his 15 years as a show business professional.

Now he's under contract to Philco, whose big bankroll will get him plenty of television exposure in the coming years towards a strong identification with the company's products. And, as another outgrowth of his television triumph, Johnny goes into rehearsal in October for his first legitimate show, a Broadway musical tentatively titled "Amazing Adele." Friends Blame Car For Dean's Death

By Aline Mosby

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 6 (UP)—James Dean would be alive today, his close friends believe, if he hadn't decided to buy a lighter, faster sports car.

His old white Porsche, car experts say, would have withstood his collision last Friday night with a heavier Ford. But recently he bought a new Porsche Spyder, made of aluminum, and it crumpled in the crash like a piece of tinfoil.

"I begged him to tow the car to the races," his good friend, insurance agent Lou Bracker, said today. "That Spyder is not for driving on the streets. It's a racing car. Even if he bent a fender getting out of the city he would be disqualified from the race."

In eight years of covering Hollywood, I have never seen a celebrity's death rock Hollywood as did Dean's. Since the crash near Paso Robles, his friends, acquaintances and the usual Hollywood hangers-on who want to cash in on the tragedy have talked of nothing but 24-year-old Dean.

UNCONSCIOUS URGE
Some acquaintances think Dean's last-minute decision to drive the aluminum car on the highway instead of towing it was an unconscious urge towards death.

Bill Hickman, who was driving with photographer Sanford Roth in Jimmy's station wagon behind Dean, thinks Jimmy seemed depressed and "When we stopped for coffee on the way he had a strange look in his eye." Other friends agree "Jimmy hadn't been in a good mood lately."

But Bracker pointed out "Jimmy was always nervous before a race."

"Jimmy once said, 'I've got to do things fast. I haven't got much time.' But he didn't mean that as a premonition of death, but that he wanted to do so many things in his life," said Lou.

"He wanted to become a business tycoon. We were planning to open a Porsche agency. He wanted to give up acting in a few years and be a director. After doing the Rocky Graziano Movie, he wanted to do 'Billy the Kid' as his own independent production."

"He was learning to sculpt and play tennis."

Just Commenting...

By JOHN and CARLA

Two young college dolls were seated in the Coop discussing the finer things of life which is very strange indeed for young college dolls do not usually do this.

Feeling very collegiate one of them asked in a suave manner, "What do you think of Francis Bacon?"

The other answered in as suave collegiate manner, "Oh, you mean the one in our Poli Sci class?"

Things along Beer Can Row, namely 8th street, have gone to the dogs in that several young college dolls who desired to take a 4 a.m. walk were chased rather ungentlemanly for two blocks by a car full of fraternity guys who had been locked out and had nothing better to do than chase young college dolls.

Refuge was found just in time with a true Spartan who protected them for free.

The Case of the Improper Proper:

Three young dolls, feeling very proper, rented a proper-type apartment in a proper part of town from a proper-type landlady.

Later, their parents were informed by mail from certain sources that their daughters, aged 21, 22 and 23, were living in a DEN OF INIQUITY under improper supervision.

As is natural with most parents they became quite upset in regards to the sort of place their daughters were living, so the immediately came to San Jose to rescue their children from a life of Purple Sin, only to find them entertaining the local church group.

It must have been the World Series fever as it was noticed around the school that many guys put aside such endeavors as Coop life and dolls in order to follow the Bums in their win.

Attention All Firebugs

To cause a conflagration of immense size set a candle and kerosene trap under the stairs in the business wing so that it will ignite and go go go just as classes are changing.

You'll probably trap 200 people, indeed a conservative estimate, on the stairs and they'll all die a gory death which would be great fun to watch or don't you think so?

An experience which does not happen too often is as follows: A guy patiently sat through an extremely trying exam only to ask the professor at the end if HE really knew the answers.

The guy was quickly and with dispatch advised to remain after the session to discuss dropping the class.

THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SMOOCH

Back in my courting days (the raccoon coat was all the rage, everybody was singing Good Morning, Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip and young Bonaparte had just left Corsica) back, I say, in my courting days, the standard way to melt a girl's heart was to write poetry to her.

Young men today have abandoned this gambit, and I must say I don't understand why. Nothing is quite as effective as poetry for moving a difficult girl. What's more, poems are ridiculously easy to write. The range of subject matter is endless. You can write a poem about a girl's hair, her eyes, her nose, her lips, her teeth, her walk, her talk, her clothes, her shoes—anything at all. Indeed, one of my most lament love lyrics was called To Maud's Pencil Box. It went like this:

*In your dear little leatherette pencil box
Are pencils of yellow and red,
And if you don't tell me you love me soon,
I'll hit you on top of the head.*

Honesty compels me to admit that this poem fell short of success. Nothing daunted, I wrote another one. This time I pulled a switch; I threatened myself instead of Maud.

*Oh, Maud, pray stop this drivell
And tell me you'll be mine,
For my sweetbreads they do shrivel
And wind around my spine.*

*My heart doth cease its beating,
My spleen uncoils and warps,
My liver stops secreting,
Soon I needs be a corpse.*

When this heart-rending ballad failed to move Maud, I could only conclude that she was cruel and heartless and that I was better off without her. Accordingly, I took back my Hi-Y pin, bid her adieu, and have not clapped eyes upon her since. Last I heard of her, she was in North Scituate, Rhode Island, working as a clam sorter.

There's no telling where it would have ended if she hadn't been drafted

But I did not mourn Maud long, for after Maud came Doris—Doris of the laughing eyes, Doris of the shimmering hair, Doris of the golden tibia! Within moments of meeting her, I whipped up a torrent of trochaic tetrameter:

*Oh, my sweet and dulcet Doris!
You're gentle as a Philip Morris,
With its mild and rich tobacco
And its white and scarlet pack-o,
Both in regular and king-size,
Doris, tell me please your ring size.*

Well, of course, the poor girl couldn't resist a poem like that—what girl could?—and she instantly became my slave. For the rest of the semester she carried my books, washed my car, and cared my apples. There's no telling where it all would have ended if she hadn't been drafted.

So, men, you can see the efficacy of poetry as an aid to wooing. Try it soon. All you need is a rhyming dictionary, a quill pen, and a second-hand muse.

The makers of PHILIP MORRIS, sponsors of this column, give you no rhyme, but plenty of reason, for smoking Philip Morris: It's the gentlest, pleasantest cigarette on the market today.

32 yards to the 45. Bronzan then sent his second team, quarter-backed by Hobart Marvin, in to run the ball. After failing to gain, Marvin dropped back to punt on fourth down. But he took too much time getting the ball away and Tempe end Karl Grassl blocked the kick. Bob Noel scooped up the bouncing pigskin on the run and went 15 yards into the end zone to knot the score.

After two Mulgado kickoffs went out of bounds, the Spartans took over first and ten on the midfield stripe. Their goalward march was halted when Teresa was caught by the collar by Grassl, a real tiger on defense, while attempting to skirt right end from the five yard line on fourth down.

Big play in that drive was a beautiful reverse to Beasley which was good for 17 yards. A great fake by Teresa and a key block by center Jerry Ruse enabled Beasley to run right by the befuddled Sun Devil end.

However, the Spartans were not to be denied. Holding the Sun Devils in the shadow of their goal, SJS forced Tempe to kick from its two yard line on third down. Beasley returned the kick to the 24.

After a 15 yard clipping penalty the Spartans had second and 17 on the 31. Teresa tossed a screen pass to Beasley for seven and then a strike to end Mel Powell for a first down. Mel Soong plunged the final yard after an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty had set the ball on the one. Beasley again converted, and the score was 14-7.

Near the end of the first half Graybill began to find the range with his passes, and Arizona State moved 80 yards on nine plays for its second touchdown. Payoff pitch was a 30-yarder from Mulgado, who took a pitchout from Graybill, to Mitcham. Beasley blocked the conversion attempt, and the Spartans held a slim 14-13 halftime lead, although they'd definitely established their superiority.

The Spartans drove 43 yards in the third quarter to score what was to be the clinching touchdown. Big plays were Teresa's 16 yard pitch to Clarence Wessman, and Joe Ulm's six yard burst on a third and eight situation. Teresa passed the last four yards to Bill Rahming in the end zone. Teresa ran the extra point over after fumbling the pass from center.

The Spartans final tally came with two minutes remaining at the end of a 73 yard march. Ulm and Beasley did most of the work in this drive—Ulm getting off one run of 16 yards and Beasley going for 22 behind beautiful blocking.

However, Graybill came back with a 50-yard heave to Mitcham to put the ball on the SJS four. Three plays later Bob Sedlar cracked right guard for the score that made it 27-20.

Something Only A Brooklyn Bum Fan Would Do

Effects of the world's series are still showing on the San Jose State College campus. Last week, while laboring over the usual USAF paperwork in his office, Capt. Donald H. Anderson, Air ROTC instructor, noted a SJS coed peering shyly through the open door of his office.

"Sergeant," he said, "I was wondering if I could borrow an envelope with 'AIR FORCE' printed on it?" Capt. Anderson checked to make certain he was still wearing his bars. He was. Suspecting some form of espionage, the good captain asked just why the young lady wanted an official USAF envelope. The coed stated, "The ladies in my sorority want to write a letter to the Brooklyn Dodgers to congratulate them on winning the world's series. Only we're afraid they won't open the letter unless it looks like something official." She got the envelope.

with Clarence Wessman, Jerry Ruse, Mel Soong, Tom Powers, Bob Light and Hank Sekoch stopped the Arizona State ground game while unveiling their own power on the ground to come up with a 27-20 win Saturday night.

Fraley Reveals New World Series Marks

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (UP)—The World Series is over, for which Brooklyn gives proper thanks, but the one item left to be cleared up today is that concerning records set in the classic.

Naturally, there are all kinds of records established in a thing of this sort. The most plausible kind are those which have to do with hits, runs and errors.

But let's immortalize those which the men with the scorebook have overlooked.

To wit: Charley Silvera—Most times left on bench (7) for a 179-pound catcher who ate mashed potatoes for breakfast before the third and fifth games.

Yogi Berra—Most times fixed unmentionables before TV camera when going to bat (right handed batter with five o'clock shadow only) in seven games (24 AB's).

Yogi Berra—Most times chiseled cigars in dugout while bragging about his golf. (7 games and at least two cartons.)

Mickey Mantle—Most times

asked "How's your leg," before, during and after seven game series.

Mickey Mantle—Most times replied "ugh," ditto seven games.

Pee Wee Reese—Most times accepted golf challenges during batting practice (7); and most times refused to give strokes (7).

Del Webb—Most times owner hit by foul ball (1) in one game; also in seven games (1).

Casey Stengel—Most times confused sportswriters (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 games.)

Walt Alston—Fewest times manager spoke to anybody (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 games.)

Russ Meyer—First right-handed pitcher from Peru, Ill., who eats eclairs left-handed to pitch 1st inning relief in 6th game.

WAA Invites SJS Coeds

By LU VONDEREMBIS

The Women's Athletic Association again urges the women students of SJS to come out and participate in your favorite sport. No experience is needed to participate. Supervision and instruction is on hand for those who wish it.

For those girls interested in bowling, a group meets once a week on Thursday at 3:30. Those interested should meet in the Women's Gym for transportation to Bridgman's Recreation Center. The price for this sport is 30 cents a line, which includes shoes.

Remember that swimming takes place every Monday at 4:30 in the pool of Women's Gym. Swimming lessons are also on hand for anyone who wants it. Competitive swimming and water ballet are another feature of WAA. The pool is open on Wednesday at 4:30 o'clock and again on Friday at 1:30 o'clock for recreational swimming.

Orchestrated modern dance group, will meet today at 3:45 p.m. in Room 10 of the Women's Gym. Clothes will be provided for those who are interested, or the girls may bring their own leotard. Miss Elisabeth Landi, Orchestrator, is doing the choreography for the production of "Midsummer Night's Dream." At today's meeting Miss Landi will find out the kind of activities that the members will want to do this fall.

So come on girls, turn out for the WAA doings and get into some real relaxation and good entertainment. Remember no experience is needed, just the desire and interest in each and every one of you.

WAA CALENDAR

Monday . . . Orchestral meet in Room 10 of W. G. at 3:45 p.m.

Monday . . . Swimming meet at the pool of W. G. at 4:30 p.m.

Rumors of Moving Toledo Club to SF

MILWAUKEE, Wis., (UP)—The sports editor of a Milwaukee paper reported that the Milwaukee Braves may move their Toledo, Ohio, American Association club to the West Coast.

But a West Coast official denied the possibility.

P. G. Lynch said in the Milwaukee Journal that if park arrangements could be made and the Pacific Coast Baseball League moved out, the Braves are ready to move the Toledo franchise to San Francisco.

Meanwhile, at San Francisco, PCL President Claire Goodwin said the transfer of an American Association franchise to San Francisco was impossible.

He said the PCL is rated above the triple A loop, and "The Coast League has an 'open' classification and therefore cannot have its territory invaded by a team from a league of smaller classification."

Weekend Roundup

Water Polo Team, J.V. Gridders, Soccermen Lose

SJS's water polo team, looking "real good in spots," bowed to the powerful Olympic Club, 16-8, Friday night in Spartan pool. The frosh lost to Sequoia High School, 8-3.

Art Lambert led the Spartans with four goals, Jim Vinzant had three, and Larry Wood got one. Coach Ed Rudloff was pleased with his team's performance and said that they have "Potentially a good season ahead." He singled out Lambert and goalie Ron Mann as outstanding.

J.V.'s Dumped

San Diego Naval Air Station defeated the Spartan J.V.s, 15-7, Friday afternoon at Spartan Stadium. It was the first loss for the SJS reserves, who topped Moffett Field last week by the identical score.

The Spartans scored first on a 45-yard drive in the opening quarter. Most of the yardage was on the ground with halfback Dick Gerakas getting a lot of it. Sophomore Bill Montero went over from the five and added the extra point.

Dons Trip Booters

University of San Francisco, winners of the NCIC for the past seven years—the Dons have lost only one game during that period—trounced the Spartans, 6-1, on the USF field Saturday.

CSTA Fall Drive for Education Major Membership Featured in Outer Quad

California State Teachers Association has opened its fall membership drive in the Outer Quad, according to Dr. Gervais W. Ford,

Grad Students To Hear Wahlquist Speak Today

Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president of San Jose State College, will speak on "Opportunities for Teaching at the College Level," at a meeting of the Graduate Students Assn. today, 8-9:30 p.m.

Dr. Wahlquist will address the group in Room 13, and election of officers will be held immediately after. All graduate students and anyone interested in the organization are invited to attend, according to the Graduate Study Office.

Enos To Command Frosh ROTC Unit

Cadet Warren B. Enos, Army ROTC, has been named recently to command a company of freshmen cadets in a new plan for ROTC drill this year, according to Maj. Edgar B. Colladay, Army ROTC instructor. The new plan will put cadet upper classmen in charge of a ROTC company made up completely of freshmen.

Formerly, the new freshman cadets were integrated into the regular SJS Army ROTC units for drill and other purposes. Under the new Army plan, all freshmen will drill as a unit until such time as they reach proficiency, then they will be combined with regular units.

Cadet Enos, as an upper classman, will act as company commander for the Freshmen. He will be assisted by other upper class cadets acting as platoon leaders. His assistants will be Cadets John N. Waddock, Richard G. Fey and Leo G. Plinski.

According to Maj. Colladay, when the freshmen are properly trained for integration, the SJS Army ROTC unit will hold a ceremony admitting the frosh cadets into the higher rated units.

All education majors are eligible for membership in CSTA. Purpose of CSTA is to keep students posted on happenings concerning opportunities in the educational field and to promote professional attitudes among teachers, according to Dr. Ford.

CSTA membership entitles the member to a subscription to the magazine of the association which supplies the information on educational advancement and legislation, Dr. Ford stated.

Membership in the organization also entitles the student to attend local, regional and state conventions held by CSTA.

Interested students may secure more information about the organization at the membership booth. It was announced that the next CSTA meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 13, at 3:30 p.m.

Chapel Services

"Possibilities Unlimited" will be the topic discussed at tomorrow's SCC Chapel services at 9:30 a.m. The talk will be made by the Rev. Dick Ingraham, Director of Wesley Foundation and Director of Christian Education at the First Methodist Church.

'Curly' Neal Highlights AWS Meet With Talk

Miss "Curly" Neal, of the Physical Education Department, highlighted Wednesday's AWS meeting by telling of her travels in Europe.

New business included the announcement of a tea to be held on Wednesday, Oct. 26, at which time a representative from Mademoiselle Magazine will speak to girls interested in any phase of magazine work. The time and exact place of the tea will be announced later.

Ann Dutton, president, told of a program that will soon be in effect by which each sorority and living group will have a representative to AWS.

AWS meets every Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. in Room 117, and all interested girls are invited to attend.

DU Fraternity Holds 'Twin Twirl' Dance

The Delta Upsilon fraternity held its pledge dance Saturday night and one of the events was the voting of Dave Franceschini as "the man who will give the pledges the most trouble during the year."

The theme of the dance was "Twin Twirl," and it was held at Los Ranchos Altimos.

Wade Penrose and his date Jerry Bullock were awarded prizes for the judging of the best costumes.

The recent initiates of the fraternity are George Chavez, John Spivey, Dave Cranston and Howie Thompson.

Retribution Sought By Mayor Starbird

of Civic Auditorium at 10:15 this morning. The group will proceed to the pact-signing site in front of the Bank of America with a motorcycle escort.

The pact-signing will be covered by the press, radio and TV, according to Sam Millan, public relations manager of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce.

Both mayors will meet at a microphone on the SJS side of the Spartan Stadium before the COP-SJS game to reaffirm their confidence in their respective teams.

Both mayors will appear during half-time activities at the game to be interviewed by Radio KEEN regarding their inter-city challenge and outlook on the game.

Assuming COP will lose the football tilt, Starbird says the Mayor of Stockton, appropriately attired, will ride "Big Mike" (2200 lb. steer) down 1st St. on Monday, Oct. 24 at 10:45 a.m. COP team captain will pull a chariot with COP homecoming queen on board. At the end of the parade the Stockton mayor will render a five minute talk filled with laudatory remarks about San Jose and the "Valley of Heart's Delight."

Deseret Club Holds Business Meeting

Deseret Club will hold a business meeting this afternoon in the Institute Room of the Latter Day Saints Chapel, 10th and San Fernando streets, according to Vern Gillmore, publicity chairman.

The Deseret Club officers are: Noel Taylor, president; Florence Cunningham, vice-president; Sharon Minson, secretary; Melvin Hall, treasurer; Deloris Whipple, historian; Marie Nielson, social affairs committee; Joel Plata, pro-
