

Panhellenic Dance To Be Held Friday At Pleasanton

The finishing touches are being put on the plans for the annual Panhellenic dance to be held Friday evening. This year's affair will be held at Castlewood Country Club, Castlewood Country Club is located in Pleasanton and has been the site of several other SJS dances including the Panhellenic and Junior Prom last year.

The dance, which originated at SJS in the early 1950's, will be semi-formal and is scheduled from 9 to 1 p.m., according to Jeanne Gibbs, Panhellenic social chairman. Kenny McCall's band will provide the music for the members of the Panhellenic organization and their dates.

Bids were distributed earlier this week at the regular meeting of the Panhellenic Council and have been on sale at the various sorority houses. Today is the last day for bid purchases. All money from bid sales must be turned in at the Delta Zeta House between 5-6 p.m., said Rosemarie Pedone, bids chairman.

Patrons and Patronesses for the affair were announced recently and will include Dr. and Mrs. John T. Wahlquist, Miss Helen Dimmick, Miss Izetta Pritchard, Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Walter and Dr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Benz.

Committee chairmen working under the guidance of Miss Gibbs include Rosemarie Pedone and Carole Luby, bids; Barbara Arthur and Kay von Tillow, chaperones; Phyllis Meyers and Jody Lacher, publicity and Barbara Clement, dance site.

The Cry Goes—Are We Going To Get Some Dormitories?

Every year the cry goes out. "Are we going to get dormitories?" The answer to this entreating wail of the student masses seems to come to be a resounding "Uh, I don't know."

Actually, according to Grant C. Burton, executive dean at SJS, progress toward procuring dormitories for SJS has never been stopped cold. It seems that although we're moving slowly at least we're moving.

Dean Burton says, "It is hoped that the next legislature will fund dormitories for three state colleges who already have their cafeterias funded and in progress. State's cafeteria is in the budget drawing stage for funding by the next session of legislature."

This of course would let SJS out of the three college experiment discussed by the legislature members.

Dean Burton continued, "If the pilot project of the three colleges proves successful, it is hoped that SJS will be given dormitories upon completion of its cafeteria."

The pilot project will undoubtedly be of wide interest because it can prove that standard units with minor modifications will provide inexpensive and much needed student housing for state colleges."

Viet Nam Now a Republic; Ends Years of Royal Rule

SAIGON, Indochina, Oct. 26. (UP)—President Ngo Dinh Diem officially proclaimed formation of the Viet Nam Republic at noon today, ending centuries of royal rule, to the thunder of a 21-gun salute.

Thousands of Viet Namese residents streamed into Saigon from the outlying rice country for the ceremony that marked the main milestone in Diem's determined fight to win independence for this one-time French colony.

The crowds, moving in trucks and on foot, massed in the center of the city to hear Diem read his proclamation from the balcony of Independence Palace, the one-time residence of the French governors.

"I solemnly proclaim the State of Viet Nam is now a Republic following the will of the Viet Nam expressed in the vote of Oct. 23," Diem said.

In that referendum the residents of this Indochina state voted overwhelmingly to end the long reign of absentee Emperor Bao Dai, the playboy head of state who spent his time on the French Riviera.

Last SJS On-Campus Rally Held Tonight

The Stanford rally, which will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in Morris Dailey Auditorium. Since it is the last State sponsored rally, the Rally Committee intends to use "as much school talent as possible," according to Jim Houston, entertainment chairman.

The official rally title is "Kemomabe, Son of Drofnats" (that's Stanford spelled backwards). John Vaughn, exchange student from Greece, will play Chief Kemomabe. Jim Curran will play the part of the medicine man.

Bobbie D'Amico as the chief's daughter, Strain-in-the-Face, will dance a hip (hep) version of "Indian Love Call" and sing "Pass That Peace Pipe."

The Jazberries, a vocal novelty trio that play uke, guitar and tub base, will play and sing "Margarita," "Caravan" and "Mamma Don't Allow."

Five sophomore girls from Sunnyside, known as the Rope Climbers, will sing "A Thousand Stars" and "Are You Mine?" These are the girls that were featured with Spike Jones at the Santa Clara County Fair. They were known as the U-Kettes at that time.

Arlene Phillips and Marlene Tipton will present another pantomime and Ro Wauer will sing and play his guitar.

The featured act of the evening will be an eight-piece combo composed of local musicians. The combo has its own vocalist. Their names and numbers they will play are being kept a dark secret until they appear in the rally. The Rally Committee also plans to offer a few more surprises.

Homecoming Events To Be Aired Tonight

The excitement of the past Homecoming weekend will be relived again tonight, when the recorded highlights of the weekend will be heard at 9:05 over station KEEN.

Students from the Radio-TV Guild attended all of the Homecoming events with "tape recorder in hand," and took down one half mile of tape, which depicts the weekend spirit, according to Frank T. McCann, assistant professor of speech. The students are now selecting the best material from the tape, to fit into the half hour radio show.

The program will cover the bonfire rally, the Homecoming parade and the COP football game.

College To Offer New Teaching Credential

A new credential in the teaching of exceptional children is being offered next fall, according to Dr. Fred F. Harclerod, dean of instruction.

At present, the Education Division, the Psychology Division and the Speech Arts Department are working out revisions necessary for their contributions to the credential.

Two majors will be offered under the credential according to Dean Harclerod. They will be teaching of the mentally retarded and speech correction for the hard of hearing. Both majors will require basic courses in the guidance and education of exceptional children.

Included in the basic courses for the new credential will be training in the teaching of blind, deaf, cerebral palsied and other exceptional children.

A new man will be hired for the new program. Dean Harclerod

John Dulles Arrives In Geneva for Big Four Conference

GENEVA, Oct. 26. (UP)—United States Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived here today in a mood of conciliation for the big four foreign ministers' meeting.

"We will seek the necessary conciliation to achieve the constructive elements of a just and durable peace," he said.

Dulles arrived from Paris where he had met with the Foreign Ministers of France, Britain and Israel to prepare for the Big Four meeting and discuss the growing crisis in the Middle East.

Dulles made his statement shortly after arriving at Cointin Airport at 6:05 p.m. (1:05 p.m. EDT). He already had been preceded here by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan. French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay was en route by train for tomorrow's opening session.

The Western delegates, in a series of last-minute conferences in Paris, had searched for a new cold war settlement. On arrival, Molotov said Russia is "inspired by a sincere desire to end the cold war."

Macmillan said that he trusted the Big Four's "work will be fruitful in the cause of peace and the settlement of the many difficult problems that beset Europe."

Then Dulles arrived to note that "the spirit of Geneva has become identical with the hopes of all the world."

Dulles was accompanied by a host of American officials, including Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and Charles E. Bohlen, U.S. Ambassador to The Soviet Union.

Offices of Faculty To Be Discussed

A consideration of faculty office space will be the main topic of discussion at the Faculty Council Meeting to be held today at 3:30 p.m. in the Speech and Drama Building, Room 120, according to Dr. William E. Gould, president.

Dean C. Grant Burton will be present at the meeting to discuss the matter of office space.

No SAC Meeting

The Social Affairs Committee will postpone its regular meeting tonight according to Jack Tyler, chairman of the committee.

Since the Stanford rally is an important one, and the Social Affairs Committee has plenty of time to prepare for Wintermist, March 2, Tyler said the meeting would be put off until next week.

Council Approves $1525 IRC Request

The Student Council approved a request by the International Relations Club for $1525 subject to the okay of the Board of Control at its meeting yesterday afternoon in the Student Union.

IRC President Barbara Anderson appeared before the council and asked for the money, a large portion of which will be used to send 20 delegates to the Model United Nations at Oregon State College.

According to Miss Anderson, the IRC failed to make a regular request earlier in the year because expenses for several planned conferences were not available.

After a minimum of debate, the Council passed Al Behr's motion approving the request. If the Board of Control should not approve the Council's recommendation, the group could still override the Board by a two-third margin.

The group also voted to amend the Revelries Board by-laws to allow 18 members on the board instead of the 12 called for. The Public Relations Committee will attempt to have a Post Office placed on campus for use by the students according to committee chairman Jerry McCarthy. He also reported on the progress of his group in trying to publish the annual student directory.

The Council also approved a suggestion by ASB president Don Hubbard that any request to come before the board must be submitted to the Student Body office in the Student Union before 5 p.m. on the Monday prior to the regular Wednesday meeting of the Council.

Magazine Contest Of Mademoiselle To Offer Prizes

Miss Pat Moores, campus representative of Mademoiselle magazine, spoke to approximately 75 women at yesterday's AWS tea.

Miss Moores, a 1955 graduate of Texas State College for Women, told of three contests which any girl may enter provided she is regularly enrolled in college, and has not reached her 26th birthday.

A girl who wishes to enter the College Board Contest may submit an entry from any of the following fields: fashion and merchandising, art, writing, and promotion and advertising.

In addition to the College Board Contest, Mademoiselle offers a college fiction contest in which two winners will receive $500 each for serial rights to their stories in Mademoiselle.

Entries must be postmarked by March 15, 1956; judges for the contest will be Mademoiselle editors.

The third contest is in the field of art. The two winners of this competition will illustrate the two winning College Fiction Contest stories and will receive $500 each for publication of their work.

Contestants must submit enough work to show their ability and winners will be announced in the 1956 August College issue of the magazine.

"This is a game of talent, not chance; if you are a Mademoiselle winner you may move in any direction," stated Miss Moores.

Further information concerning the contests may be obtained at the AWS meeting Wednesday Nov. 7, in Room 117, at 4:30 p.m. according to Ann Dutton, president.

Shakespearean Play In Last Week of Run

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," with its two charming worlds of fancy and reality, opened again last night, to finish off the last week of the six day run.

The revolving stage is utilized in the production settings, which give the illusion of being in fairyland. The sets were designed by J. Wendell Johnson, and the costumes were designed by Miss Bernice Prisk.

The Speech and Drama production is under the direction of John R. Kerr. Student stage manager is Nancy Stephens.

The Shakespearean play tells the story of four lovers who become lost in a wood. In the wood, they become the brunt of the jokes of Puck, the mischievous elf of fairyland, who mixes up their romances. Also in the wood they encounter the Rustics, and the fairies.

Most of the humor in the fantasy is portrayed by the rustics, headed by Kenneth Rugg as Bottom.

Tickets are still available in the College Theater box office for every night except Friday. The box

Tom Bass Drops Out of College Life Because of Illness

Tom Bass, one of two polo strikers San Jose State football players, has been forced to drop out of school because of his illness and has gone to his home in San Bernardino where he is convalescing.

Early optimism about his recovery appears to have disappeared, and he is still somewhat bothered by stiffness in his right leg, according to college officials.

Before he returned home, however, he witnessed the San Jose College of Pacific game Saturday night from a wheelchair. Bass, a 20-year-old junior, was first string guard before he was stricken with the disease after the second game of the season.

Meanwhile, Tom Ryan, Spartan tackle and roommate of Bass, has nearly recovered from his ailment and is back in school again. Ryan, 6 ft. 1-205 pounder from Fresno, came down with polo 10 days after Bass suffered his attack.

Where's The $ Go?

Money, money, who's got the money? Right now, International Relations Club has quite a bit of it—some $1500.

Wait a minute, though. Before you go through the ceiling at Student Court, who allocated the money, give a moment's consideration to what the money is for.

A good portion of the funds will go toward sending some 20 SJS delegates to the Model United Nations in Corvallis this year. Expenses include board, tuition in the four day event, and travel.

Why should Student Council pay for this junket, which has all the earmarks of a really good time for all? In the first place, the Model U.N. isn't just a party-time for those who attend. Delegates chosen spend three months work in preparation for the event.

SJS has been participating in the U.N. for five years and has steadily built up its reputation to stand on a level with Stanford, Cal, UCLA and USC. Besides the prestige and publicity for the school, the session provides invaluable training for those who attend. The delegates who took part in last year's conference at San Francisco State came away not only with a good performance to their credit, but also experience and knowledge to be gained nowhere else.

For these reasons, we wish to commend the Student Council for its favorable stand, and urge the Board of Control, which must approve Council's move, to vote a resounding 'Yes' for IRC.

Clingen will speak on "The Tasks and Hindrances of World Missionaries."

CSTA will meet today in E118 at 3:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

'Let's Face It, Boys'

Dear Thrust and Parry:

A crying towel is in order for Bob Bronzan and the San Jose State College football team, who now have the audacity to blame the referees and charge College of Pacific players with "dirty football" to cover up for the ineptitude of the Spartan team last Saturday night.

Let's face it boys, we were beaten by a better team.

It would seem that winning has become so important at the college to some people that they can't stand to lose. Why not face it like men and not stoop to making excuses. A winning season is not worth sacrificing the college's honor.

Most observers at the game didn't believe the referees or COP's alleged "dirty tactics" were the reason our team lost. These people feel State was lucky the score was not larger.

Every time one looked, we had our backs to the wall. A team doesn't win if it is confined within its own 10 yard line most of the game. COP played good, tough football, and it is too bad the Spartans can't give credit where credit is due.

Watch Muscles Grow!

Dear Thrust and Parry:

In answer to Gary Butler's letter:

Mr. Butler, you have missed the point. Higher education is designed to prepare you for the rough, tough outside world. At San Jose State this progressive theory is extended into extra-curricular events as well as academic events.

Our athletic events are particularly well suited for this "training." You should receive your unhappy experience with great joy. You have taken lesson No. 1 and passed. By the time you leave our "ivy covered halls" you will be prepared for anything.

In answer to your question, "Does this happen every year?"—certainly not! It's always different! In time you will discover the fun and pleasure to be had from these contests. You will revel in showing your pass, your ASB card and your ticket. You will learn to climb walls and break in windows. Watch your muscles grow! And, if you think this is fun, wait until the basketball season! Oh, you'll laugh!

However, if you must be dull, if you insist on seeing the game like an adult, if you are, in short, a "fan"—try going out for the team, or graduate and become an alumnus, or come over to my home and listen to the game with my wife and me. Live dangerously. Complain. Good luck!

SJS First College Offering Curricula For Peace Officers

San Jose State has the distinction of being the first college to have a curriculum for police majors, even though at present there are a number of other schools which have followed suit and established police training.

In 1930 the police school was started by two men of different occupations who had the ingenious idea of giving the policemen the opportunity of acquiring an occupational status equivalent to any other collegiate career level. These two men were Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of SJS at the time, and August Vollmer, Chief of Police at Berkeley.

Undoubtedly Dr. MacQuarrie and Chief Vollmer must have had to prove to the men around them that the school would create a police force of high caliber. Without a doubt the school has proven itself. A San Jose State police graduate is welcome on any police force.

On Dec. 7, 1941 there were 75 students in the police school. One month later there were less than 35 students enrolled for courses in that department. When graduation came around in 1942, only four men walked up to the platform to receive their degrees as police graduates.

For this reason the school was closed during the war years. It was reopened in the fall of 1946 when a wave of returning veterans showed a desire to enroll once again, in the police school.

The additional course of study designated as Penology became part of the curriculum. This program was for the purpose of specific training of persons interested in positions in the custodial and correctional fields, dealing primarily with minimum or maximum security offenders, probation, parole, rehabilitation, juvenile offenders, and delinquency in general.

The latest major change in the Police School came about in June, 1953, when the announcement was made that women would be allowed to enroll for police courses for the fall quarter of 1953. The new venture is being backed by the California Police Women's Assn. and promises to bring forth quite a new experience for a department heretofore made up exclusively of men.

THESE POLICE students are not making reference to the term "Flat foot," but they are debating on the subject of which pair of shoes can pound the beat for the longest period of time. The policewomen would not concede to the holders of the larger "hoofs." Above are Catherine Scurich, Carlos Eckert, Karen Soderberg and James Loeffel. —photo by Steinreich

SJS Police Curriculum Has Psychology Minor

By NEIL DANIELE

The curriculum for police students is one of the most versatile and interesting of any department in any school.

These students are required to have a minor in psychology. Professor Willard E. Schmidt stated that 50 per cent of a policeman's job consists of dealing with people, and therefore, policemen must learn as much as possible on how a person feels, acts and thinks.

The Police Department requires their students to enroll in such courses as acting, physics, anatomy, sociology, report writing, literature, oral expression and he must have a better than average knowledge of typing and photography. This versatility of courses gives him the ability to handle the many different situations he may encounter when he goes out on the job.

Also included in the curriculum is a one year participation in field work for which the student receives four units. There he must work a minimum of 90 hours for each semester. In this field work, the student participates in all phases of work including foot patrol, car patrol and the records department.

One of the latest phases of police work which has been receiving a greater interest is crime prevention. Until 1922, crime detection and apprehension were the only phases followed by law enforcement agencies. But the fact that crime could be prevented before it even started resulted from the growth of knowledge within the professional police department as men with college background joined the force. A college graduate has the training to act with a higher degree of individualism.

With college training these men are able to cope with almost every situation imaginable because they are taught to do so in their classes. The aforementioned versatility of courses and the extensive background of psychology and sociology which a student learns, has created the learned police officer which gave rise to the crime prevention phase of work.

One of the new methods used to train police students consists of having a student fire a wax cartridge at his own image focused with a mirror. The feat is accomplished by using a primer but without powder. A pellet of wax is moulded instead of using lead. The wax pellet is then inserted in the chamber of the revolver and fired.

The student fires at his own image in order to test his reflexes. The wax pellet is then examined on the mirror to determine the student's accuracy. If the test proves successful the students will use a man-sized plate of glass and two students will place the glass between them and fire at each other. Here again the wax pellets can be tested for accuracy of firing.

At present 19 police students are working full time for the San Jose Police Department, the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office and other nearby police departments. These students are carrying the full number of college units while working.

Upon completion of school, most graduates will start as patrolmen but when promotional examinations are offered these men have the background and training to pass with high grades.

At present approximately 55 per cent of the police officers at the San Jose Police Department are former students of SJS.

WILLARD E. SCHMIDT
Police Department Head

Veteran Policemen Teaching at SJS

The police Department is headed by Willard E. Schmidt, professor of police, who started his career in the department in 1946. Schmidt received his B.V.A. from SJS in 1945. He has held many jobs in the police field both teaching and field work.

Schmidt was a member of the Berkeley Police Department from 1927-38 and held many positions in that organization, including that of investigator. He taught police courses at Sacramento J.C. and lectured in military government at the Monterey Presidio. Another one of his many jobs included that of National Chief of Internal Security at Washington, D.C., from 1942-45.

Aiding Schmidt is Melvin H. Miller, assistant professor of police. Miller joined the SJS police staff in 1953. He graduated from the University of South Dakota in 1938.

Miller received his M.A. from Stanford and also has actual field experience as well as teaching experience. One of his many jobs in the field included working with the immigration border patrol from 1941-45.

Honorary Group Establishes Award

Tau Delta Phi, men's honorary scholastic fraternity, has established an award of $25 plus a certificate of merit to be presented to the male student, excluding Tau Delta Phi members, who improves his grade point average the most this semester over his previous over-all average, according to Bob Hipkiss, grand magistrate.

The award will be made during the latter part of February. Applications for this presentation will be accepted February 8-17, and should be addressed to Tau Delta Phi, Organization Box "T," Student Union.

Applicants must be carrying at least 12 units, and have been a full time student at SJS for one year as of June, 1955.

New 'Plane' Club May Be Formed

Enthusiasm in the recent model airplane display in the library has brought up the possibility of the formation of a model airplane club. Tom Leonard, aeronautics instructor, announced Tuesday.

According to Leonard, students with interest in both flying and non-flying models could find a place in the club. Leonard added that the Aeronautics Department would be glad to sponsor a club of this type.

All students interested in the formation of a campus model airplane club should contact Leonard in the Aeronautics Department before Friday, Nov. 4.

Tony Teresa is Doubtful Starter Against Indians

By JIM EGGERT

Sparta's hopes for an upset victory Saturday over Stanford's hated Indians literally rest on the bruised back of SJS's gridiron field general, Tony Teresa. Teresa had his back severely bruised in last weekend's game with COP's "aggressive" Tigers, and it is not certain whether or not he will be able to start against Stanford.

Ready to take over in the event that Teresa's injury keeps him out of the game is Hobart Marvin, junior quarterback from Los Altos. Although Marvin is Teresa's superior as a passer, Teresa is definitely the better ball carrier and defensive man. Too, Marvin has not had the experience running the team that the senior from Salinas has had.

Without Teresa the Spartans will face an especially tough assignment Saturday on the Farm.

Any team that loses its top quarterback would be in the same position. Teresa has also been a valuable cog in the SJS defensive unit. His two fourth quarter pass interceptions against the Indians last year preserved the Spartans' 19-12 upset.

Teresa has been working out with the team this week, but his activity has been limited to handing off the ball, coach Bob Bronzan said yesterday. The coaches also have been employing a quick whistle to prevent further injury to his back. Teresa has done no work on defense.

In addition to his back injury, Teresa is suffering also from a badly battered nose and severe facial lacerations, also incurred in the COP affair. Fullback Joe Ulm and halfback Stan Beasley, who leads the Spartans in rushing yardage, participated in full workouts, despite their injuries, and appear to be starters in the Stanford game. Halfback Mel Soong's twisted knee makes him a doubtful starter against the Indians. Clive Bullion probably will start in Soong's place.

Up in Palo Alto, Stanford coach Chuck Taylor is having troubles too, although not as serious as Bronzan's. Five Indians have been sidelined from practice, but at least three are expected to be ready for action Saturday.

First string end Jerry Beatie, quarterback Jerry Gustafson and reserve guard Fritz Furlan have mild cases of flu, but should be ready by game time. Halfback Bill Burget and end Frank Hook suffered finger injuries, but the seriousness of the injuries has not been determined.

The Spartan defenses will get a real workout Saturday, for they will face the top passer runner and passer in the Pacific Coast Conference in the Indians' Bill Tarr and John Brodie. In addition alternate Stanford quarterback Gustafson is second in passing. Tarr has gained 500 yards in six games, while Brodie has completed 30 out of 60 passes, and Gustafson has 26 out of 49.

John Ornalez Leads Pentathlon Event

John Ornalez, varsity high jumper, continues to lead the SJS fall pentathlon after the completion of four events. Ornalez has totaled 320 points, and holds a slim five point margin over second place Dick Bocks. The final event, the 800-yd. run, will be held today and tomorrow. Anyone interested in entering the pentathlon still has time to run all the events, announced track coach Bud Winter.

Ornalez has posted marks of 11 flat in the 100-yd. dash, 6-1 in the high jump, 33-8 in the shot put, and 21-4 in the broad jump. Bocks has done a 10.9 century, 5-8 in the high jump, 38-4 in the shot, and 20-9 in the broad jump. Contestants in the fall pentathlon are required to wear tennis shoes, and thus the marks are below the performers' usual standards.

Job Mart

They are interested in electronic, electrical, mechanical, industrial, chemical, and plastic engineers and mathematicians, statisticians and physicists.

Prospective degrees of BS, MS, BA or MA or PhD will be needed for the jobs.

Aerojet General Co. of Sacramento will have representatives on campus Nov. 3 from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Interviews with mechanical and electrical engineers with prospective BS or MS degrees are offered.

On Nov. 8 from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. representatives from the Radiation Laboratory of Livermore will hold interviews with prospective electronic engineers.

Pacific Tel. and Tel. Co. of San Francisco will be on campus Nov. 9 and 10 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Interviews are offered for engineering and traffic positions with emphasis on management training. Graduates or alumni with majors in business administration, social science, public relations, economics, industrial relations and electrical, mechanical and civil engineers are urged to attend.

North American Aviation Inc., of Los Angeles will be on campus from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. for interviews. Mechanical, electrical, electronic, aeronautical, chemical, metallurgical, civil, general and industrial engineering plus physicists with prospective degrees are urged to be at the interviews.

To apply for any of the positions persons must sign up for interviews, pick up applications if requested in the Placement Office, Room 100 in the Administration Building.

Stiff Competition Face SJS Harriers

The SJS varsity cross country team enters its second meet of the season tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock against Stanford, Cal Poly, San Francisco State and COP on the Stanford course. In their first outing the Spartan distance men whipped Stanford, 27-32, for the second year in a row; therefore, they can expect their stiffest competition tomorrow to come from the Indians.

Coach Bud Winter said yesterday that his blue shirts are showing great improvement, especially Duane Ludlow, Herb Stockman and Walt Swarthout. As of now the blue shirts, Winter's seven top men, are Don Hubbard, Don Berry, Ludlow, Welvin Stroud, Swarthout, Stockman and Bob Rush.

Coming up on Nov. 10 will be one of northern California's top cross country attractions of the year—the SJS Invitational to be run on the Spartan course. All the schools in northern California, including Stanford, San Francisco State, COP, Cal Poly, California and Fresno State, will compete. There will be also a special junior college division at the invitational, Winter said.

Tribe Trades Doby To Chicago Team

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26 (UP)—General manager Hank Greenberg today described the acquisition of slick-fielding Chico Carrasquel and Jim Busby in exchange for slugger Larry Doby as "only round one" in his efforts to strengthen the Cleveland Indians.

"We don't have anything on the fire right now but we're going right back to work this morning," Greenberg said. "We realized we had to do something drastic but we felt we had to make the improvement we did."

The first major trade of the winter season apparently solved five-year old problems for both the Indians and Chicago White Sox. The Indians have been searching in vain for a first-rate defense shortstop since Lou Boudreau left them in 1950, while the White Sox have been looking for a slugger of Doby's caliber since the same year when Gus Zerinial hit 29 homers for them.

Greenberg's forthright concession that more deals are likely was interpreted as a hint that second-baseman Bobby Avila may also be included in a trade to strengthen the team defensively. Avila hit only 276 this year after winning the 1954 A. L. batting title with a .341 mark and is regarded as a poor pivotman on double plays.

Thus, yesterday's deal for Carrasquel was regarded in many baseball quarters as "only half the job" of streamlining the Indians alongside defensive lines.

Carrasquel, a 27-year-old native of Caracas, Venezuela, is generally regarded as the most spectacular — although sometimes erratic — defensive shortstop in the majors.

USC's Arnett Leads Coast Conference

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (UP)—West Coast fans boosting halfback Jon Arnett of Southern California for All-America honors today pointed at Pacific Coast Conference statistics to support their case.

Arnett, the fleet-footed Trojan junior, tops the PCC in four departments and is second in another, statistics from the commissioner's office revealed. Arnett is the leading scorer with 76 points, tops in total offense with 596 yards gained, and No. 1 both in punt and kickoff returns. He is second to Stanford fullback Bill Tarr in rushing. Tarr has gained a net of 500 yards, 36 more than Arnett.

Pressing Arnett for total offense honors are Joe Francis of Oregon State with 568 yards and Sam Brown of UCLA with 565; Brown, the Bruins' brilliant single-wing tailback, is third in rushing with 452 yards and second to Arnett in scoring with 51 points and in punt returns.

Stanford's John Brodie and Jerry Gustafson lead the passers. Brodie has the most completions, 30 out of 60 attempts, while Gustafson has 26 in 49 tries. Following the leaders are Howard Willis of Idaho with 25 completions in 66 passes and Ronnie Knox, UCLA, 24 of 41. Knox has thrown five touchdown passes, tops in the PCC.

End Roger Ramseier of California is the leading pass receiver with 17 receptions for 209 yards. End John Stewart of Stanford has 14 for 154 yards.

In team statistics, the University of Southern California leads on offense while Washington topped PCC clubs on defense. Southern California has averaged 365.8 yards a game while the Huskies have held opponents to an average of 216.7 yards per contest.

The Trojans are the rushing leaders with a 236-yard game average, followed by Oregon with 228.5, UCLA 199 and Stanford 186.3. Stanford's passing offense has averaged 120.5 yards per game to lead in that department. Following the Indians are California with 117.5 yards per game, Southern California 109.8 and Idaho 108.2.

Other department leaders are: kickoff returns—Arnett 6 for a 30.4 yard average; punting—Don Gilkey, California, 20 for a 38.5-yard average; interceptions—Dick James, Oregon, 5 for 68 yards, and punt returns—Arnett, 12 for a 19.3-yard average.

Date Change Set On Revelries Run

Members of the Revelries Board met recently and agreed on a proposal to hold next year's Revelries production on two successive weekends rather than for a full week as in the past. The proposal which is to receive consideration by the Dean's Committee, would change the show's presentation dates from May 6-12 to May 10, 11, 12, 17, 18 and 19.

Jim Kason, who introduced the proposal, said the divided schedule of performances would give the cast and production crew a rest between performances. It also would offer a chance to make minor changes and corrections. He added that the changes would eliminate Sunday dress rehearsals which could be changed to Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday prior to the performances.

The board agreed that the new schedule would not conflict with school activities during the week and would allow students more opportunity to see the show. Barney McCarthy said that he felt publicity would have more effect with the divided groups of performances. He stated that the publicity for the production is planned to cover the whole Bay Area and that it would probably be easier for people around the area to come down on weekends.

Next meeting of the board is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 7 at 4:30 p.m. in the office of Ted Balgooyen, Revelries Board faculty adviser.

Music Clubs Plan Halloween Party

Ghosts and witches have taken up residence in the Music Building showcase of Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternity, announcing a buffet supper to be held in conjunction with Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, Friday at 6:30 p.m.

All members of these groups have been invited to the supper which will be held at the home of Ron Ehlers, 1159 Gould St., Santa Clara. Special guests for the occasion will be the music faculty and their families. The theme for this event is "The Ride of the Broomsticks," a take-off on Wagner's opera, "The Ride of the Walkures."

Student Y To Meet

Dating will be the subject of a new interest group planned by the Student Y for 3:30 p.m. today, according to Diane Suhr, publicity chairman.

The topic for today will be "Why Date?" Mrs. Delsa Walton will be the guest speaker. She is the housemother of Walton Hall, a mother of five children, and an active member of the San Jose Ward of Latter Day Saints Church.

Connie Groppe is the chairman for today's meeting.

Two SJS Personnel To Attend Luncheon

Mrs. Doris K. Edgar, head of teacher placement, and Dr. Edward W. Clements, head of the Placement Office, will attend a luncheon of the California Junior College Assn. at noon today at Rickey's Studio Inn, in Palo Alto.

At the annual fall conference Mrs. Edgar and Dr. Clements hope to make contacts with the administrators from the many junior colleges in the state for future employment for SJS graduates.

Last week Mrs. Edgar attended a meeting of high school administrators in San Diego to seek future jobs for teacher graduates. This is one of the best methods to line up future jobs, Mrs. Edgar reported.

Scholastic Group To Sponsor Series Of Education Talks

Tau Delta Phi, men's honorary scholastic fraternity, will sponsor a series of speakers on the topic of education, culminating in a summary session, Dec. 14, according to Bob Hipkiss, grand magistrate. The talks will be given at 7:30 p.m. in the Tower, and all members, faculty and students are invited to attend.

Opening the series on Nov. 9 will be Dr. Arturo B. Fallico, professor of philosophy, who will speak on "Education and Existence." Dr. Fallico has just completed a study of the place of philosophy in education.

SJS president Dr. John T. Wahlquist will speak on "Education from the Point of View of the Administration" on Nov. 16. Dr. Albert J. Castro, associate professor of chemistry, will talk on Nov. 23. His topic has not been decided.

A fourth speaker for December 7 has not been determined. Then, on Dec. 14, a discussion session will be held summing up the series of talks.

Growing Pains

By Jean Isenberg

I peered fearfully into the bottom whatchamacallit of the new library wing the other day. It looks like an excellent example of a psychology professor's conception of a maze. I really felt like a rat in one, maze I mean.

Did you know that the ceilings for the new buildings are held up by wire? I walked into the maze of lumber braces, bumped my head a couple of times and sat down upon the ground-like floor. Gee, what a great place to film a movie . . . in a half finished building with the hero and the villain crawling over the place.

As I sat in the silence I tried to visualize that by next June the place will be overflowing with many heroes and heroines and villainous instructors all carrying books.

Ever watched a carpenter hammer a nail. The one I watched hammered a couple of blows, pulled a sliver out of his hand with his teeth, cursed, picked up a sledge hammer and furiously drove a stake into the ground.

I moaned over to the new gym wing and found that this crew has worked 93 days without an accident. That reminds me, I knew a man once that had his arm cut off in an accident but still kept working with the other so as not to spoil the company's perfect accident record. Can't you just see it? What a riot, with the blood streaming down his stump (I'm lying of course.)

This new gym-wing is going to be quite the thing. Locker rooms, a trophy room, offices, boxing and judo gyms . . . Man I'm going out for sports.

Recital To Feature Piano Duets Today

Original compositions for two keyboards will be played at today's faculty recital at 11:30 p.m. in the Concert Hall of the Music Building. Piano duets written by Couperin and English virginalists will be played by Patrick and Doris Meierotto.

The faculty recitals are given every Tuesday and Thursday at 11:30 p.m. in connection with the Survey of Music Literature course. All students and faculty members are invited to attend.

These recitals are given so students may hear good music "live" instead of on record, according to Patrick Meierotto, music instructor.

Home Ec Holds Fall Student-Faculty Tea

The home economics faculty held a tea for home economics majors Tuesday in the student cafeteria.

The senior majors acted as hosts to the freshmen and new transfer home economics majors. The tea was planned on a get acquainted theme.

Dr. Margaret Jones, head of the Home Economics Department, poured the tea for guests.

The setting was decorated in autumn colors which gave a fall flavor to the tea party.

New Class Planned

A special problems class in instruction about class-room animals is being planned for next semester, according to Dr. Ralph A. Smith, professor of zoology and science education.

The class will be primarily for students going into teaching and for teachers to teach them how to stimulate interest in the animals which are studied in the classrooms. The class will be limited to 25 students, Dr. Smith said.

Mail Box Check

La Torre urges all organizations to check their mail boxes in the Student Union for important letters from La Torre and answer the letters immediately.

The following students must re-sign for La Torre pictures: Ann Le Baron, Barbara Bentley, Henry Ramp and Eugene Nation.

These students are asked to sign on the late photo list.

Patterson To Give Talk at 'Y' Tonight

Dr. Robert Patterson, of the Science Department, will speak on "Tossing Out Your Religion," tonight at 7 o'clock in the Student Y. The program is being sponsored by the Canterbury Club, according to Judy Allen, publicity chairman.

An open discussion will follow Dr. Patterson's talk. The topic pertains to the child stage of religion versus the adult stage.

SDX, '30' Club Joint Meeting Tonight To Feature Movie

A movie with Jack Webb showing how he made the recent motion picture, Pete Kelley's Blues will highlight the joint "30" club, women's journalism organization, and Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity social tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Jim Eggert, 470 S. 11th St.

The affair offers new journalism students the opportunity of meeting other members in the department.

An outline of the purposes of the two organizations along with procedures for joining will be presented.

The "30" club is attempting this year to become affiliated with a women's national journalism sorority.

The SJS chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity came into existence last year after the organization's petition to the national headquarters in Illinois was accepted. The chapter sponsors its annual Deadline Dinner event each spring.

Library Employees Attending Confab

Various members of the Library staff have been attending the California Library Assn. convention being held this week at the St. Claire Hotel. Among those who attended yesterday were Miss Barbara Wood, Arts Reading Room, Miss Dora Smith, Head of the Library Department, Robert Greenwood, and Miss Elizabeth Sammonds.

According to Joyce Backus, head librarian, all of the staff that can possibly be spared are attending the annual conference. Some are attending the morning meetings and others the afternoon sessions.

"We have to maintain the schedule," Miss Backus said.

Since the convention is being held in San Jose, several visitors have been on campus, including Gordon Martin, former staff member of the reference room. At the present time he is on the staff of the library at the Riverside Branch of the University of California. Other visitors were Howard Wells of the California Polytechnic library and Edwin Coleman, also of the Riverside staff.

Ducat Sale Closing

Friday will be the deadline for purchasing tickets to the Veterans Club fall dinner party Saturday, 8 p.m. at Havenly Foods, Bayshore and Julian streets.

Tickets will be on sale in the Outer Quad. Price is $1.75 per person. All veterans on campus, whether they are club members or not, are invited to attend, according to Harry Sage, club president.

London Times Offers Stern Comment On Princess Margaret's Love Affair

LONDON, Oct. 26 (UP)—The Times of London said today Princess Margaret would be "irrevocably disqualified" from carrying out her royal duties if she married divorced Peter Townsend.

The influential newspaper ended its long editorial silence with stern comment on Margaret's romance with the handsome Royal Air Force Group Captain.

If Margaret and Townsend decided on marriage, it said, "the Princess will be entering into a union which vast numbers of her sister's people, all sincerely anxious for her lifelong happiness, can not in all conscience regard as a marriage."

Opposition of the Church of England to remarriage of divorced persons, even innocent parties to divorce, was reaffirmed by Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, who pointed out that

Ski Club Sponsors Ice Skating Party

Fifty-eight members of the Ski Club traveled to Iceland in Berkeley Tuesday night for the year's first ice skating party.

"The trip presented uncountable laughs as the novice skiers who knew how to ice skate outnumbered the more advanced skiers who could not skate. Consequently, the laughs were on the shoosh-boomers who are impatiently waiting for the snows to fly so they can be in their elements," said Rocky Ansel, publicity chairman for the club.

Membership cards may still be purchased in the Graduate Managers Office or at the next Ski Club meeting to be held Nov. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in Room S112. The price of the memberships is $3.

Menlo-Atherton

Menlo-Atherton High School graduates attending San Jose State have been invited to M-A's first homecoming Friday night, according to a spokesman for the school.

Activities will include the football game with Sequoia at Redwood City, presentation of a homecoming queen and float at halftime and a dance at Burgess Gym following the game.

Egyptian Education Director Visits SJS

A quick bit of Egypt whirled through the San Jose campus Tuesday in the form of Abdel Aziz Elsayed, guest of the State Department for a three month visit in the United States.

Abdel, assistant director in the Ministry of Education in Cairo, was taken on a tour of the school by Lowell Pratt, public relations officer, before leaving to visit other parts of the country. Last stop before leaving for home Nov. 19 will be Syracuse University.

Asked what impressed him most about American colleges and universities, he said, "It is so impressive the way schools are built, the way they are equipped. I wonder if you students appreciate what you have."

Another facet of our life which amazed Abdel was the number of students who work while in school. Egyptian people don't work for money while going to school, he said. However, many students do give their time freely to help in community activities.

Egyptian schools are working to develop student government, Abdel said. At least one senior
