'Modern Literature' Is Panel Subject

"Evaluating Modern Literature," the first in the 1956-57 lecture and symposia series, part of the SJS Centennial celebration, will be presented at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the Concert Hall, Music Building.

The panel discussion will be open to students and public. Dr. Raymond W. Barry, of the Department of Language and Literature, will serve as chairman of the panel.

Dr. Wallace Stenger, director of the Stanford University Writing Center and a nationally-known novelist and short story writer will participate in the forum.

Dr. John H. Raleigh, professor of English and American Literature at the University of California and Dr. O. Clinton Williams, professor of English and the hu-

Seniors Schedule Class Discussion Of Graduation Fee

A discussion of graduation fees will highlight today's Senior Class meeting, scheduled for 3:30 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium, according to Tom Bonetti, president of the class.

Bonetti has urged all seniors to attend the meeting as a vote might be taken on the matter, and once the amount to increase has been set, they can not be changed. A proposal to increase the fees will be introduced during the discussion. Fees for February graduates have been set at $10.

Seniors also are to discuss the Centennial Activities Yearbook and hear an explanation of graduation activities and alumni benefits by the Alumni Association.

FRESHMEN IN THEATER

Freshmen are expected to jam the Little Theater for their class meeting at 3:30 p.m. today, according to class adviser, Earl Jandron. "The spirit of Freshman Camp was such that we anticipate from 300 on up for this afternoon's meeting," he said.

The Frosh were originally scheduled for Morris Dailey Auditorium, however, a Senior class meeting at the same hour caused their movement to the smaller quarters.

Connie KeKsey, acting Freshman president, indicated that if the turnout proves too much for the 300-seat Little Theater, they may march on Morris Dailey, and by reason of superior numbers, take over.

Other possible excitement may center around the appearance of Soph prexy, Bill Sturgeon, who plans to exhibit the plaque, which is the symbol of class superiority at the annual Frosh-Soph mixer.

Tradition is that the Frosh should steal, or at least try to steal, the plaque, some time before the mixer. Sturgeon is reportedly canvassing the Soph Class for strongmen to act as plaque guards.

On the business side, the Freshmen will appoint committee heads and try to determine ways to raise funds for the class.

SOPHS DISCUSS MIXER

The Sophomore Class will meet today at 3:30 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium to discuss plans for the Soph-Frosh Mixer to be held Oct. 19, according to Bill Sturgeon, president. Sophomores are urged to attend and to bring ideas for raising money.

'GAMS' CONTEST SLATED

The Junior Class will meet today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 24 to discuss plans for the annual Gorous Gams Contest, which will be held Oct. 16-19.

manities at SJS will also be on the panel.

Dr. Stenger, author of "The Big Rock Candy Mountain," "City of the Living," "Second Growth," "On a Darkening Plain," and "Beyond the Hundredth Meridian," will analyze the short story.

He also is the author of several volumes of short stories, which have appeared in Harper's, Atlantic, New Yorker, Mademoiselle, Holiday and Collier's magazines.

Dr. Raleigh, who will analyze the modern novel, is a specialist in the works of Henry James. He has contributed articles to the Sewanee Review, Modern Language Notes and the New Republic. His book "Matthew Arnold and American Culture" will be published this fall.

SJS Professor O. Clinton Williams is an authority on American poetry and a poet himself. He has contributed poems to Accent, the Pacific Spectator, Poetry, the Quarterly Review of Literature, and other periodicals.

According to Dr. Jack E. Fink, assistant professor of English, the discussion will be geared for the average reader's interest. He said, "It is so hard for the average person to know what is good and bad in modern literature."

Book Sale To End

Thursday is the last day for students to pick up either their books or money at the Alpha Phi Omega book exchange, according to John Sellers, exchange chairman.

Wound Up in 'Red Tape'

READY FOR TRYOUTS—Bob Montilla, Manny Correa, and Dick Tash, (left to right), talk over plans for today's tryouts for the 1957 edition of Revelries, "Red Tape." The tryouts will be held today and tomorrow from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium. Montilla and Correa wrote the script, and Tash is the musical director. Montilla is serving as the producer-director for the production. More than 35 persons will be in the cast. The show will run Jan. 11, 12, and 13 and 19.

Dr. Cavins To Attend National Science Meet

Dr. Cavins, natural science instructor, leaves today for Washington, D.C. to attend the executive meeting of the National Science Teachers Association in her official capacity as secretary.

Dr. Cavins, who is also an assistant Dean of Instruction, was chosen last Spring to this position. She is the first representative from San Jose State College to hold an office in the organization.

During her week-long stay in Washington, Dr. Cavins will attend meetings of the Future Scientists of America Foundation and the National Science Foundation.

The FSAF is composed of industrial organizations who offer funds to colleges which provide summer workshops. SJS will receive $10,000 this summer from the Crown Zellerbach Company to conduct a science workshop for high school instructors next summer. Dr. Cavins reported.

A workshop for junior high and elementary teachers is in the planning stage as Dr. Cavins attends the NSF meeting to check on possibilities.

Scholarship Blanks Here

Seniors and graduate students wishing to apply for foreign study under the Fulbright Act for 1957-58 may pick up preliminary application forms in the Personnel Office, according to Dr. Alice L. Dement.

Knowledge of the language of the country of application and two years of college or private study is necessary for application. Well-rounded, adaptable persons who are good representatives of their country and community are sought. Preference is given to veterans.

Some countries require a full year of graduate study in the United States as minimum preparation, but most countries accept graduating seniors with excellent academic records and strong support from their professors.

Application may be made for study in any of the following co-operating countries: Australia, Belgium and Luxembourg, Burma, Chile, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, India, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Philippines, and United Kingdom.

Under the Buenos Aires Convention Program study opportunities are also available in Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, and Venezuela.

Marines To Be At SJS Oct. 25

A U.S. Marine Corps officer procurement team from San Francisco will be on the SJS campus Oct. 25, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Outer Quad.

The two officers will interview men interested in enrolling in one of the Marine "in college" training programs that lead to a commission in the Reserve.

Hoopster To Speak

George Selleck, Stanford guard named to the 1955 all-conference basketball team, will be guest speaker tonight at the regular meeting of the Collegiate Christian Fellowship.

All students are invited to attend the meeting, which will be held in the Student Union at 7 o'clock.

Theme Chosen For Homecoming

In observance of the year-long Centennial Celebration, the 1956 Homecoming theme will be "A Century of Spartan Sports," according to Jerry McCarthy, Homecoming committee chairman.

Many pre-Homecoming events have been scheduled to gradually build up spirit for the Homecoming; these include a queen contest, fashion show, Coronation Ball, the annual bonfire. Highlight of the celebration will be the Homecoming game when the SJS team meets University of Denver, Nov. 3.

Dr. Koivisto Undergoes Brain Surgery

Dr. William Koivisto, asst. professor of economics, underwent an operation for the removal of a brain tumor Thursday morning, according to William Poytress, professor of economics.

The operation was performed at the Veterans' Hospital of Fort Miley, San Francisco. Dr. Koivisto was stricken Sept. 11. He was taken first to a local hospital then admitted to Fort Miley Sept. 17.

Mrs. Koivisto described her husband as being full of pep and in good spirits before the operation. She said the doctors were having trouble keeping him in bed.

Dr. Koivisto joined the faculty at San Jose State last year. He attended the U. of California, receiving his B.A. in 1943. He received his M.A. at the U. of Chicago in 1948 and Ph.D. in 1951.

Dr. Koivisto has written a book due to be published early next year. It is entitled "Principles and Problems of Modern Economics."

Owen M. Broyles associate professor of economics, says he does not know if it will be used as a text here, but he is confident it will win national recognition.

Broyles and Poytress expressed hope Dr. Koivisto will be back by the time his book is published.

Sorority Rushing Activities Continue With Four Parties

Sorority rushes will attend the first of four parties today and tomorrow.

Rushing, week began yesterday afternoon with open houses at each of the twelve sororities.

Today the girls will attend parties at Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Chi Omega, Delta Gamma and Delta Zeta. Tomorrow Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu and Sigma Kappa will host the rushes.

The second round of parties is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday with third parties on Saturday and Sunday. All final rushing events will be held on Monday, October 8.

Services Set Today For Home Ec Prof

Mrs. Ouida Mallett, 66, associate professor of home economics, died Friday at her home 5199 Alameda Rock Ave., after a short illness.

Funeral services were to be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the John E. Dowdle Mortuary with the Rev. James H. Strayer officiating. Private interment was to follow at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Mrs. Mallett attended the old San Jose Normal School, forerunner of the college, from 1908 to 1910, and received her teaching credentials, returning in 1923 for her A.B. degree.

Working to make the Centennial Homecoming a memorable event in Spartan history will be McCarthy's committee and its sub-committees. Sub-committees and their chairmen include Publicity, Dick Yeager; Queen's Committee, Jan Heter; and Parade, Jim Currant. Advisors for the Homecoming Committee are Dr. Janice Carlin, Dr. Karl Mueller, Dean Robert Martin and Bob Baron.

According to McCarthy, this committee will need help. All students who are interested in working on any of the committees can meet with the committee tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in Room 118 of the Engineering Building.

The following is a list of rules concerning float specifications and judging procedures:

11. The parade will begin promptly at 5 p.m. Sat. Nov. 3. Trophies will be awarded to winning entries during the half-time ceremonies at the Homecoming football game.

12. The parade theme is "A Century of Spartan Sports." The visiting team is the University of Denver "Pioneers."

The Security Office has announced that San Jose State parking lots are being patrolled by student police. Cars violating parking rules will be ticketed. One copy of the ticket will be left with the car and the other filed with the college Security Office.

The first ticket placed on a car is a warning notice to its owner. If a car is ticketed a second time, however, the owner is liable to probation, suspension or expulsion.

Second notices will be handled by Robert S. Martin, Associate Dean of Students.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

—SO TIRED TODAY I ALMOST FELL ASLEEP IN CLASS.

Please Walk on the Grass!

STILLWATER, Okla.—Students at Oklahoma A. & M. College are encouraged to "walk on the grass"—on one part of the campus, that is.

It's a long path containing plantings of several species of grass. The test path is part of a study to determine the best turf grass for golf courses. The different grasses are tested for density, color and wearability.

In setting up the test path, the turf researchers first chose a spot where many students cut across campus. The researchers removed patches of grass and substituted selected species. Then the area was fenced in, the grass watered, and fertilized for several months.

After the grasses were fully developed, the ends of the paths were opened, and students were urged to walk on the grass whenever possible.

More than 75 different species of turf grass are being tested in the program, which is sponsored by the Oklahoma Turf Grass Assn., which holds an annual handicap tournament to raise funds.

Book Shop Begins Second Busy Year in New Plant

Opening Week Rush Keeps Staff Jumping

By JIM CYPHER

Beginning its second year of operation in its modern building, the Spartan Book store is going all-out in an effort to satisfactorily satisfy the needs of the students of San Jose State College.

The Spartan Shop currently employs 35 students on both full-time and part-time working schedules to serve the droves of customers which have been patronizing the shop during the past week. The number of customers which have been served daily has, on two occasions, exceeded a count of well over 5,000 persons. During the rush period seven cash registers have been pressed into use in order to expedite matters. Normally, only two registers are used to record transactions.

The book shop opened its doors at its new location at the beginning of last year's fall semester. The building and its fixtures are valued at $101,000. A novel construction feature is that a second story may be added if it is someday needed. According to William Felse, student affairs business manager, addition of a second story to the building is in the planning stages and will be up for consideration in the spring.

The Spartan Book Shop is 100 per cent owned and operated by the Student Association.

Harry Winerth replaced Roland Atkinson as manager of the Spartan Book Shop last June. Atkinson retired from the management, but is still employed by the shop. Winerth, a former graduate manager and book store manager at California Polytechnic Institute, has a vast background of experience in book store operation and management. He and his staff are making every effort to be of ultimate service to students.

From time to time unusual items may be featured in the shop.

BOOM AT BOOKSTORE—SJS students jammed the Spartan Bookstore this semester in their quest for articles from decads to slide rules and from the works of Homer to cigarettes. Each semester the store has a more complete and varied stock for the service of the student.

Here and There

By FRED CLAIRE

The nomination of Joe Smith was somewhat better accepted at Mission High School in San Francisco than it was at the recent Republican convention.

Sophomore Dave Cupit, in nominating his classmate Joe Smith for class president, said "What wasn't good enough for the Republicans is good enough for us. Being as one Joe Smith lost the nomination, let's make up for all the poor Joe Smith's and vote ours class president."

The class accepted the nomination and elected Joe unanimously.

BIG BLAST

From the "Daily Californian" comes word that a "big blast" held by two University students has cost them $200.

The UC paper reports that two students set off a homemade cannon at Edwards field that rattled windows for blocks around. The two students were found guilty by a Berkeley municipal court of "creating a serious public disturbance" and fined $100 each. The charge had been reduced from that of a felony by the district attorney's office.

In an attempt to combat misspelled names in the "West Wing" weekly newspaper, at Mission High School, aforementioned, the journalism staff there has come up with a rather unusual idea.

Any reporter on the student paper who misspells a student's name will have to buy that student a coke.

Speaking of journalism students, there certainly seems to be a shortage of them at some of the larger West Coast colleges.

The University of California at Los Angeles, the University of Southern California, Stanford, Oregon, and University of California have been running notices in their college publications asking for students to fill vacant reporting and editing positions.

STUDENT VICTOR

An Oregon University law student has been awarded $8.35 after a nine month battle with Lane County and university authorities.

The student, Lloyd Weisensee, sued a campus policeman and a towing service when he found his car missing from a school parking lot last January.

According to the "Oregon Daily Emerald," Weisensee began the suit when he found his car was ticketed for illegal parking and towed from the lot. Weisensee, who defended himself, was able to prove he did not know he was parking in an illegal space. He had asked for $50 damages.

From the UCLA "Daily Bruin" comes the most interesting classified ad of the week: "WANTED, male companion to go on bicycle tour of Europe next summer."

Despite its closest approach in 25 years, no strikingly new information about Mars has been recorded by the University of California observatories.

One of the most interesting sport notes from incoming papers appears in the "San Francisco Foghorn," weekly publication at the University of San Francisco.

The "Foghorn" reports that Charles Russell, brother of all American basketball player, Bill Russell, has enrolled in USF and will be out for varsity basketball.

Charles, however, may not give the San Jose State squad as much trouble as brother Bill did. He's only 6' 4". ONLY.

Unwary freshmen again have been taken by some of the unscrupulous returning students. Several subscriptions to the SPARTAN DAILY have been sold . . . FRESHMEN. It doesn't cost anything to read the DAILY. Funds are taken from the student body coffers, which when coupled with advertising sold by the hard-working ad staff, makes it free to all who desire the best in reading material.

The Admissions office has done another superlative job of selecting pulchritudinous freshman and transfer women to keep up the reputation of SJS . . . It's been said it almost compares to the job done in the fall of 1953.

Newest in fashions . . . Ivy League belt with a buckle in the back. (still doesn't sound funny) . . . IA majors are put out about the Ivy fad . . . their shop coats have had a buckle in the back for untold years.

The college year is off to a flying start. The band looked 200 per cent better than last year . . . the card stunts went off with minimum of confusion though Jim Curnutt could be heard blurring instructions clear down to 10th and Keyes streets . . . several of the old-guard who have been around since these new freshmen were in the seventh grade have found that they may graduate in 1957.

Several phone calls were received during registration asking if the Reg dance was formal . . . some of us have been here for six years and can't remember going to one . . .

FOOTBALL: ITS CAUSE AND CURE

At next Saturday's football game, while you are sitting in your choice student's seat on the ten-yard line, won't you give a thought to Alaric Sigafoos?

Who, you ask, is Alaric Sigafoos? Come closer, sit down, light a Philip Morris, savor that natural tobacco goodness, sigh contentedly, cross your fat little legs, and listen.

Alaric Sigafoos (1868-1934) started life humbly on a farm near Thud, Kansas. His mother and father, both named Ralph, were bean-gleaners, and Alaric became a bean-gleaner too. But he soon tired of the work and went to Memphis where he got a job with a logging firm. Here the ex-bean-gleaner worked as a stump-thumper. Then he drifted to Texas where he tidied up oil fields (pipe-wiper). Then to Arizona where he strung dried fruit (fig-rigger). Then to Virginia where he was a research assistant (book-looker). Then to Long Island where he dressed poultry (duck-plucker). Then to California where he lectured young women who were about to get married (bride-chider). Then to Minnesota where he cut up frozen lakes (ice-slicer). Then to Nevada where he determined the odds in a gambling house (dice-pricer). Then to Milwaukee where he pasted camera lenses together (Zeiss-splicer).

Finally he went to Omaha where he got a job in a tannery, beating pig-hides until they were soft and supple (hog-flogger). Here he found happiness at last.

He found happiness at last...

Why, you ask, did he find happiness at last as a hog-flogger? Light another firm and fragrant Philip Morris, taste that true tobacco flavor, puff, relax, let sweet lassitude possess your limbs, and listen.

Next door to the hog-floggers was an almond grove owned by a girl named Chimera Emrick. Chimera was pink and white and marvelously hinged, and Alaric was hopelessly in love the moment he clapped eyes on her. Each day he came to the almond grove to woo Chimera, but to no avail. He tried with all his vigor and guile, but she, alas, stayed cool.

Then one day Alaric got a brilliant idea. It was the day before the annual Omaha Almond Festival. On this day, as we all know, every almond grower in Omaha enters a float in the big parade. The floats always consist of large cardboard almonds hanging from large cardboard almond trees.

Alaric's inspiration was to stitch pieces of pigskin together and inflate them until they looked like big, plump almonds. "These sure beat skinny old cardboard almonds," said Alaric to himself. "Tomorrow they will surely take first prize for Chimera, and she will be mine!"

Early the next morning Alaric came running to Chimera with his inflated pigskin almonds, but she, alas, told him she was not entering a float that year. In fact, she had just sold her almond grove and was moving East to try out with the Boston Red Sox.

Alaric, upon hearing these gum tidings, flew into a violent rage. He started kicking his pigskin almonds all over the place. And who should be walking by at that very instant but Abner Doubleday!

Mr. Doubleday, who had invented baseball some years earlier, was now trying to invent football, but without success. The trouble was, he couldn't figure out what kind of ball to use. Now, seeing Alaric kick the pigskin spheroids, his problem was suddenly solved. "Eureka!" he cried, and ran to his drawing board, and the rest is history!

Cougars Squash Spartans 33-18

By DICK O'CONNOR

San Jose State hopes for an undefeated season after a sudden death at Rogers Field in Pullman, Wash. Saturday as the Spartans were snowed under, 33-18 by the Washington State Cougars.

For all practical purposes the end came with 70 seconds left in the first half. With a fourth and four situation on their own 41 yard line and trailing 12-7 the Cougars went into punt formation.

WSC's Bill Steiger took the pass from center and without so much as a fake took off around left end. By the time he hit the line of scrimmage and cut back to the right only one Spartan had a chance to stop him. Harvel Pollard's desperate lunge failed to halt the flying Steiger on the 15 yard line.

The game, played on a spongy field under a clear sky, started as if the Golden Raiders were going to run the Cougars out of the stadium.

SJS opened the scoring midway in the first period. Using the overhead game that proved effective against Drake, the Spartans went 45 yards in six plays. Two Bob Reinhart to Art Powell passes for 11 and 6 yards set the stage for the scoring play.

Little Harvel Pollard squirmed through guard and went 21 yards for the score. Reinhart's too slow conversion attempt was blocked. The score remained 6-0.

The Reinhart-Art Powell combination struck again early in the second quarter. With first and 10 on the Cougar 37, Reinhart hit Powell in the end zone for the second SJS TD.

Powell went down the sideline and then cut to the center of the field to take the pass untouched. Reinhart was again stow on the extra point and it was blocked.

At this point it looked like the Cougars were in for a long day. Even if after WSC drove 56 yards for their initial score late in the second period, SJS still held the upper hand.

Things were more than equalized minutes later on Steiger's long run. The Cougars went to the dressing room at the half with a 14-12 lead.

Taking the second half kickoff, the Cougars drove to the Spartan four yard line where the middle of the SJS line braced and held.

The boys from the Palouse were not to be denied as they roared back to score the next time they had the ball.

Bunny Aldrich, a cagey little quarterback from Hawaii and bone-crushing Jim Frankson led the drive. Aldrich completed four passes in the 68 yard march. The last was good to Dave Jones for seven yards and the touchdown. The extra point try was wide but it didn't matter. The score stood, WSC 20, SJS 12.

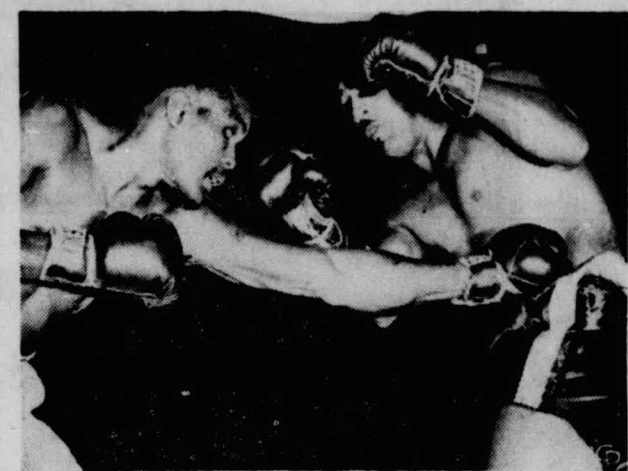

From that point on the Cougars ran at will against an inept Spartan defense. Early in the fourth quarter Chuck Morrell capped a 49 yard drive as he sneaked two yards for the fourth WSC TD. His placement was good and the score went to 27-12.

The final Cougar tally came midway in the final quarter after Pollard fumbled a punt. The Cougars recovered on the San Jose 31. Ten plays later fullback Paul DuBrille plunged two yards for the TD. That finished the WSC scoring and also finished the Spartans.

They did manage one last gasp late in the period as Reinhart passed to Powell and then to Jim Moore. The latter covered 9 yards for the touchdown.

ONE FOR THE TUMMY—Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson, goes after Bob Baker in the recent elimination bout to see who will face Archie Moore for the vacant heavyweight title. Jackson won the split decision with his famous windmill attack in the late rounds, although writers at ringside favored Baker.

Chung, Ratkovich Enter Trial Bouts

Two former San Jose State boxers, T. C. Chung and Mel Ratkovich, hammered out decisions in the Pacific Association Olympic Games boxing trials at Oakland Auditorium last week.

Heavyweight Ratkovich and flyweight Chung, along with eight other boxers, will represent the Association in the Western Olympic Games regionals in Stockton Oct. 11-12.

Victories in the Stockton tournament would send the former Spartans to the national finals scheduled to be held in San Francisco's Cow Palace Oct. 17-19. Winners of this tourney will represent the U. S. in the Olympic Games.

both expected to represent San Jose in the ring next year, were also in the tournament, but were eliminated.

Julie Menendez, San Jose boxing coach, was at ringside with his former charges. Schedule permitting, he also will journey to Stockton.

JC Transfers Raise Spartan Hoop Hopes

San Jose State hoop fortunes looked up with the addition of several junior college transfers and armed service returnees.

Big man of the newcomers is Bob Larsen, a 6 ft. 5 in. center, from Hartnell College. He has been in the service for the past two years.

Two Spartan footballers, Hal Boutte and Art Powell, will change uniforms to provide needed assistance to Walt McPherson's warriors. Powell is from San Diego JC and Boutte from Hartnell.

College of Sequoias sends two guards, Al Simon and John Perry, both six ft. tall.

One of the top prospects joining the squad should be Dennis Rano, a guard from East Contra Costa JC. Rano sat out last season but should aid the Golden Raider cause this year.

Engineer Department To Celebrate Centennial

Sixty-five high schools and 43 junior colleges have been invited to attend the Centennial Engineering Open House scheduled for Jan. 3-5, according to Bill Lawson, student chairman.

Honoring San Jose State's 100th anniversary and the engineering departments 10th, the three-day program will feature special functions for visiting high school and junior college students.

The Open House is designed to interest high school students in engineering as a profession and to demonstrate to the public the type of engineering training offered at SJS.

The general public is invited to attend the first night of the open house Thursday, Jan. 3, from 6-10 p.m.

Friday, Jan. 4 is set for the high school visitation. A morning program will be given in

The final day of the Open House activities is reserved for visiting junior college students and alumni. An Engineer's Dance will wind up the Centennial engineering program.

Assisting Lawson with the Open House preparations are Jon Anderson, head of the construction department of the Engineering Department; Jim Ross, head of the production option; and Jack Winchell, in charge of the electronics option.

'Stop-Baldness-Week' Starts Today

S. I. Turoff, California's leading hair and scalp expert, who has just announced "Stop Baldness Week." As long as you have some hair, you have an excellent chance to grow thicker hair with remarkably new methods, Specialist Turoff says.

What Causes Baldness?

What causes baldness? Is it inherited? What can be done to stop baldness and regrow hair? These are questions many people ask every day, because they want to prevent baldness or they want to get back the hair they have already lost. In a recent interview, S. I. Turoff, eminent hair expert of the Turoff Scalp Specialists said: "Few people realize that baldness is not inherited. We inherit hair, not baldness!"

Mr. Turoff went on to explain that baldness is not just "part of growing old. A run-down physical illness will often cause baldness," he said, "but by far the commonest cause is incorrect care of the hair and scalp. Excessive falling hair, dandruff, itchy scalp—these are generally nature's signals that we are not taking proper care of our hair."

What ARE the Danger Signals?

"Many people ask me about the danger signals of approaching baldness," Turoff said. "There are definite warnings and everyone can recognize them. EXCESSIVE DANDRUFF means that there are bacteria at work. If they are not removed they choke off the hair roots, a bald patch may soon appear and baldness spreads until you are completely bald. The same is true of EXCESS FALLING HAIR and ITCHY SCALP. In fact anything but a healthy, good looking head of hair means something is wrong and you MAY BE ON THE WAY TO BALDNESS."

WHAT CAN BE DONE TODAY?

The specialist continued "constant and never ending improvement in the Turoff Methods have achieved remarkable results among thousands of Turoff clients." From our specialists come these amazingly new methods, available ONLY through the local Turoff offices. In our Turoff offices we have helped thousands who faced total baldness. Our scientific apparatus and methods are a pleasant surprise to those we treat for the first time.

Then you take a treatment of the type he judges you should be taking. It costs you just $1.00. No obligation. The offer is good for this week only. No appointment is necessary. EXPERT ANSWERS YOUR HAIR QUESTIONS FREE

As a feature of "Stop Baldness Week," Turoff Hair and Scalp Specialists offer a free consultation service. All you have to do is take your questions in person to their office, suite 129, 45 N. First Street, and let the Turoff specialist give you a scalp complete examination.

These are the questions asked most frequently of Turoff Specialists:

1. What is scalp treatment like?
2. Can hair be shampooed too much?
3. What are the recommended shampoos?
4. What are the facts on brushing?
5. Can excessive dry scalp be helped?
6. What about excessive oily scalp?
7. What about pomades and oils?
8. Is dandruff infectious?
9. Can bald spots be filled in?
10. Can excessive hairfall be corrected?

Take this list along with you tomorrow to see Turoff Hair and Scalp Specialists. In a recent interview, S. I. Turoff, nationally known authority on baldness, and director of the Turoff Scalp Clinic said: "Most people don't stop to realize that in 95% of the cases where a person is on the road to baldness, common sense on his or her part might prevent this tragedy." People simply do not get around to doing something about their balding condition until in many cases it is too late. Yet, in the years that they have the danger signals of approaching baldness, such as excessive hair fall, dandruff, itching, dry scalp, thinning or bald spots—in those years they probably spend substantial sums on their teeth and general body health. Yes, it is peculiar, but because oncoming baldness doesn't hurt like most parts of the body that are wasting away, many people simply let it go too long.

Our Turoff Clinics, in many major cities, are growing by leaps and bounds because more and more intelligent people are discovering that the secret of a healthy, thick head of hair is professional treatment to remove the causes of their hair loss.

"Our Turoff Clinics have nothing mysterious in them. We get results by the use of the latest scientific methods and apparatus in the field of scalp culture.

We like skeptical people — they become our biggest boosters.

During the next 6 days every Turoff office is geared to give hair worried Californians the most thorough scalp check-up they have ever had. No charge or obligation. If you are one of the 95% we can help, we will show you why in easy to understand language. Come in and let us show you why thousands of delighted clients have made us California's biggest, with 8 busy offices.

Here is a one minute test to show you if you need expert help on your hair. Most people don't need an expert to know their hair is leaving forever, but check below for yourself.

- ☐ Unsightly Dandruff present?
- ☐ Thinning or Balding Areas?
- ☐ Receding at temples?
- ☐ Receding at crown?
- ☐ Excessive hair loss when shampooing?
- ☐ Itchiness present?
- ☐ Hair dry and lifeless?
- ☐ Hair excessively oily?
- ☐ Excessive combings in brush, comb?

If you've checked even one of these conditions, you should see Turoff Hair and Scalp Specialists during "Stop Baldness Week."

Dr. Farr To Speak

Weekly chapel service will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in the college memorial Chapel. Dr. Joyce W. Farr, minister of the First Methodist Church, will speak on "Walk in the Light" and will comment on the book entitled "The Sun and the Umbrella" by Nels Ferre.

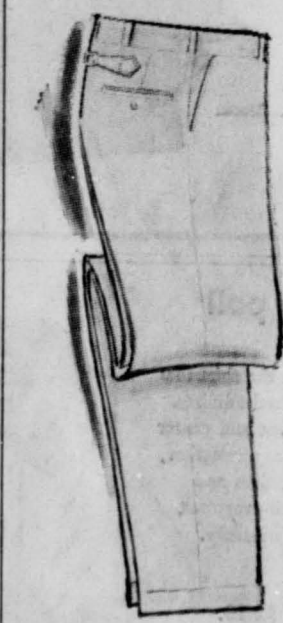

Vets Should Return Attendance Forms

Students seeking armed services deferment should turn in attendance forms C-242 at Room 122A no later than Friday. The attendance forms, sent by the draft board, are required by the Vets Office to keep an accurate record of deferrees' attendance, according to Mrs. Sue Rankin, Korean Veterans secretary.
