Near East Explodes As Budapest Quiets

Some Soviet Troops Still In Budapest

VIENNA—(UP)—Soviet tanks and troops rumbled out of Budapest in retreat Monday but Budapest radio, in a sudden about-face, announced that some would remain in the battle-torn capital until 24 hours after the last rebel had surrendered his arms.

The rebel radio at Győr, headquarters for insurgent forces controlling most of western Hungary, immediately went on the air with the warning:

"Revolutionary forces should not deliver their arms because no one can believe in Communist promises."

The new stand by Premier Imre Nagy's government, after earlier flat announcements that the Russians were withdrawing, indicated intense Russian pressure on his crumbling regime to reject rebel demands and regain military control.

Diplomatic reports said fresh Soviet forces were moving into Hungary from neighboring Romania.

Unconfirmed reports spoke of Soviet arm movements towards Hungary. And even though, a major part of the Soviet forces moved out of Budapest Sunday night and early Monday morning, they still were not far away.

MUST SURRENDER ARMS
Radio Budapest broadcast at 5:30 p.m. (11:30 a.m. EST) that "Russian troops will complete their withdrawal from Budapest 24 hours after all resistance groups have delivered their arms."

The broadcast—if it could be believed—indicated an agreement had been reached between the rebels and the government of Premier Imre Nagy.

"Resistance groups in Budapest have started to deliver their arms to the Hungarian troops," radio Budapest said.

NO CONFIRMATION
Communications between the Hungarian capital and the West were still cut off, with only sporadic contact during the morning.

A dispatch filed by United Press Staff Correspondent Anthony Cavendish from Budapest at 9:30 a.m. (3:30 a.m. EST) said that "Soviet troops are still here."

But a great number of tanks and infantry were pulling out of the city last night as Cavendish walked in following a flight from Warsaw.

Budapest radio itself complained at 4 p.m. (10 a.m. EST) that Soviet forces were not leaving fast enough.

Ike Pledges To Prevent Conflict in Middle East

MIAMI—President Eisenhower pledged yesterday "the full moral power of America" to prevent conflict in the Middle East between Israel and the Arabs.

Mr. Eisenhower flew south for a campaign swing of Florida and Virginia but received a complete briefing on the tense Middle East situation before he left Washington.

"In such a critical situation," the President said here, "we cannot expect to erase suddenly the bitter heritage of the ages."

"We can—we must—and we shall go on striving to do all in our power to heal old wounds, rather than let them open in bloodshed."

ADLAI IN ATTACK

ENROUTE WITH STEVENSON—Adlai E. Stevenson, in Boston, appeared on a nationally televised "coffee hour" discussion aimed at women voters at 10:30 a.m. EST. His three sons, his daughter-in-law, and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, wife of the former ambassador to England and mother of Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy, appeared with him.

Egypt Strife Pulls Attention Of Ike, Dulles

JERUSALEM—(UP)—Israeli forces have driven into Egypt at two points along the Negev Desert border, an Israeli Army communique said Monday night.

The situation was fluid and confused. The only definite word was that Israeli Army units had stabbed at El Kuntilla and Ras El Naqb, with early reports saying they were halfway to the Suez Canal, or about 75 miles inside Egypt.

Another, wholly unconfirmed, report said some Israeli troops had penetrated to points west of the Suez Canal. The communique made no such claim.

CONCERN IN U.S.

WASHINGTON—(UP)—News of today's Israeli attack on Egyptian positions was flashed immediately to President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

There was no immediate comment from U.S. government spokesmen. But high officials made no attempt to hide their concern.

The communique said that Israeli defense forces had attacked Egyptian "suicide commando" bases near a road junction leading to the Suez Canal from the Sinai Desert.

OPERATION NECESSITATED

"This operation was necessitated," the communique said, "by continuous Egyptian military attacks on citizens and on Israel land and sea communications, the purpose of which was to cause the destruction and deprive the people of Israel of the possibility of a peaceful existence."

Kuntilla is about seven miles inside the Egyptian border west of the Israeli Negev Desert. It is a good 125 miles southwest of Jerusalem.

Ras El Naqb is also within Egyptian territory, some 10 miles northwest of the Israeli port of Eilat on the Gulf of Akaba in the extreme south.

There was no immediate indication that the Israel forces were moving west towards the Canal.

Monday night's advance into Egypt was the first occasion in which Israeli forces attacked an Arab position without withdrawing immediately.

Non-essential American and British citizens were advised to leave the middle east as a result of the new tension. The first batch of 400 such Americans reached Beirut tonight from Jordan and Syria. The embassies in Cairo and in Israel "urgently advised" Americans to leave.

ADLAI TO OPEN UP

LOS ANGELES—Vice President Richard M. Nixon predicted Monday that Adlai Stevenson will step up the "violence and intemperance" of his attacks on the administration to "cover up" his "ridiculous" H-bomb proposal.

Nixon said Stevenson's proposal that this nation take the lead in halting H-bomb tests had proved to be "a major political error."

The members of an organization called "The Atomic Scientists of Chicago," however, said the explosion of any H-bomb equal to one million tons of TNT or more can be detected by its worldwide effects.

Rain All Day

Rain is expected to continue throughout the day, according to the weather man. Temperatures are expected to remain about the same, with cooler weather spreading across Northern California later in the week. Today's high is expected to be in the low 60's.

Lyke Offers Homecoming Edition Soon

Tomorrow's the day! Yes, beginning tomorrow students can buy their Homecoming edition of Lyke, campus feature magazine.

For 25 cents students will be able to discover the identity of both the Lykable Doll and Lykable Prof, read the many features of fact and fable, laugh at the jokes and cartoons done by local cartoonists and view the photos taken by college photographers.

Another feature of the magazine is the fashion advertising of local merchants. Every semester Lyke features the newest and smartest in men's and women's fashions. San Jose State students are selected by the fashion editor of the magazine to model for the ads.

In the Homecoming edition more than 30 men and women students will be seen in the 14 full-page fashion advertisements, according to Barbara Noble, Lyke editor.

The women models, said Miss Noble, were selected for their ability to wear clothes well, for their attractiveness and, in most cases, for their height. Most clothing stores prefer models who are fairly tall.

Miss Noble, a senior business administration major, said students should plan to get their copy early as only a limited number of Lykes were printed. Last fall the magazine sold out the first day of sales.

SJS Court Takes New Fall Justices

Two newly-elected justices will be sworn in at today's meeting of Student Court, Chief Justice Gary Clarke has announced. The Court will convene at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

Scheduled to take the oath of office are Roger Tiffany, Sophomore male justice, and Carol Crisler, Sophomore female justice. The pair were elected in last week's ASB elections.

Alpha Phi Omega Plans Annual Bonfire Friday

Centennial Homecoming activities will flourish this week and terminate with the grand parade and gridiron battle between the Spartans and the University of Denver on Saturday. Student, faculty and administration expectations see this year's celebration as the biggest in Spartan history.

The crowning of Anna Beal as Centennial Homecoming Queen ended many of the preliminaries and heralded in the abundance of Homecoming festivities for this week.

Tomorrow night her majesty will make her television debut with Homecoming Committee Chairman Jerry McCarthy on KNTV, Channel 11, at 9:30. Queen Anna, McCarthy and Jim Cumutt, parade committee chairman, also will be the guests of Bob Custer on Custer's Caravan over KLOK, Thursday night at 10 o'clock.

The annual Homecoming Bonfire Rally is scheduled for Friday night at 8 o'clock on the Spartan Stadium parking lot. The job of building the bonfire has been delegated to Alpha Phi Omega. Volunteer fraternity members will guard the bonfire from amateur arsonists.

Campus organizations have been and will continue to work on their float entries for Saturday's parade. Seventeen entries have been submitted, and all have been accepted by the Homecoming Committee. "A Century of Spartan Sports" is the theme the float builders have worked on.

The Centennial Homecoming Parade is scheduled to begin promptly at 5 p.m. on Saturday. Downtown merchants will close their business earlier than usual through an agreement with the college.

Floats will be judged by three local citizens and trophies will be awarded to the winning entry in each of the three divisions: fraternity, sorority and independent. Judging will be conducted on a 100 point basis, and will be limited to adherence to theme, workmanship and originality.

Outstanding floats will get between 76 and 100 points, good floats between 51 and 75 points, average floats between 26 and 50 points, and fair floats between 25 and 0 points.

Parade judges, college officials and local dignitaries will be seated in the judges' stand, located in front of the Payless Drug Store. The parade will form on E. St. James St., progress down First St. past the judges, and disassemble on E. William St.

Centennial Homecoming ends with the Homecoming Football Game Saturday night at 8:30. The pigskin opponents are the University of Denver Pioneers. Trophies will be awarded to the winning float sponsors during the half time activities.

Kersey told the class that an attempt would be made to get entertainment for future meetings in an effort to stimulate attendance. A crowd of 100 was present yesterday.

CHOOSE CHAIRMEN

Committee co-chairmen were also picked out during the meeting. They are Clayton Bruntz and Trish Richards, Senior Ball; Kitty Crain and Sue Shaw, Senior Banquet; Ron Harder and Dorothy Sherritt, Adobe Day; and Wayne Papst and Liz Heath, Joe-College Betty Co-ed Dance.

February graduates' dinner-dance is tentatively scheduled for either Jan. 30 or 31, Bonetti said.

Cal-Vets Fail To Sign Forms

The following Cal-Vets must report to the Accounting Office, Room 34, and sign their monthly attendance vouchers if they wish to obtain subsistence.

Robert J. Bruce, Reynaldo Carreon, Alma Casaday, Richard Cacanour, William R. Cook, James C. Dunn, Lucille C. Graham, Kenneth E. Hart, and Joaquin E. Herrera.

Theodore Patchen, Robert I. Rush, Calvin Simons, G. R. Smith, Barton Snyder, Joseph S. Thompson, Donald Van Rossen, and Catherine B. Wigger should report also, the office indicated.

Campaign Interesting, Relatively Clean

It has had its interesting moments, but the national political campaign to date has not been very exciting.

The Republicans, or "ins," have been on the defensive. The Democrats, or "outs," have been on the attack. As a result we have heard nothing in the way of new policy from the "ins." They have been content to rely on their past record and their slogan, "Peace, Prosperity and Progress."

A general attack on both the record and the slogan of the "ins" has been the theme of the Democratic attack. An effort to raise new issues also has been a part of the campaign of the "outs."

Up until the last few days the campaign has remained relatively "clean," with only the usual amount of name-calling. For some reason the big issues of the day have remained undiscussed; issues such as Suez, the Arab-Israeli conflict and the crumbling of the Russian empire in Europe.

Perhaps the reason these events have gone unmentioned in the campaign is because of the risk involved in airing some very touchy situations. Remember that before the campaign got "off the ground," President Eisenhower agreed to keep his opponents informed through the Central Intelligence Agency of the latest world events. This was done for the "outs" protection as well as the "ins."

The most important issue developed by the "outs" has been over testing of H-bombs. Naturally, in a political campaign, when one party raises an issue or makes a proposal, the other party immediately must disagree. This is too bad in the case of the H-bomb. We feel it is one question that needs discussing, and shouldn't just be cast aside as another political issue. It probably shouldn't have been raised at this time.

We said the campaign has been relatively "clean" up to this point. We admit that there is plenty of room for disagreement on this point.

Unfortunately, one of the protagonists in this election year—we won't mention any names, nor identify his politics—has found it necessary to start hurling that almost forgotten charge, "left-winger."

This phrase, with all its implications, comes straight from the dark ages of McCarthyism. We don't know whether the charge was made in a fit of anger, from a feeling of desperation or what, but we do hope it is the last time we hear it in this campaign.

Traffic Toll May Hit New High

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(UP)—The enormity of the record-breaking traffic toll being piled up by the nation this year may "shock the American people into drastic action" to reduce it, the president of the National Safety Council said today.

Ned H. Dearborn, in a speech before the council, revealed that unless an effective plan of reducing highway fatalities was achieved soon, the traffic toll will reach all-time high of more than 41,000 deaths this year.

The council's annual meeting opened the 44th National Safety Congress which is being attended by nearly 12,000 safety leaders.

According to Dixie Wilson, party chairman, all business secretarial majors are invited to attend the party.

International Student Group Best Peace Weapon -- Eichhorn

By MARILYN PETERS

"The international exchange student system is one of the world's best weapons for peace and the propagation of truth," stated Miss Irma Eichhorn, instructor of European Civilization and Russian History. Miss Eichhorn, pert, engaging and talented, was an exchange student herself and firmly believes in the system.

Born in Montrose, Colo., the young history instructor attended the University of Michigan before winning a Fulbright Scholarship to Vienna, Austria in 1952. She feels that her experiences as a student in Europe have not only broadened her mind and given her a true picture of people abroad, but also have made her more capable to teach the American youth.

MANY DIFFERENCES

When asked if there were outstanding differences between schools in Europe and the United States, Miss Eichhorn smiled and said that there were many differences. For instance, registration, attendance and textbook problems are all handled in what seems to be very unusual manners. Students don't have textbooks at all; they merely receive long lists of books to be read for class requirements. And, registration is quite different from our "headache and hustle." During the first few weeks of school, students migrate between classes, inspecting the teachers and courses before, unaided by advisors, they decide on their schedules. On the first day of a class the instructor stamps the registration booklet; on the last day he restamps it to acknowledge that the student has completed the course. During the intervening months, attendance neither is required or largely maintained.

IRMA EICHHORN

EXAMS UNUSUAL

According to Miss Eichhorn, the European examination system is unfamiliar in the United States. No tests are given during the year, excepting the finals which are always oral. These finals may be taken either at the end of the year or during the mid-semester vacations. Student passing the final at mid-term still get credit for the entire year course. After two years, each student must take a state exam to determine whether or not he stays in the university. These tests are comprehensive and very difficult.

"The students are also different," said Miss Eichhorn. She stated that most of them are poor and can't even afford to heat their rooms or eat more than bread and soup. Jobs are hard to find and placement upon graduation is almost impossible.

Like San Jose State, there are no dormitories and students must live in rented rooms. All students strive seriously for an education and are not distracted by extra curricular activities. Miss Eichhorn said that the University of Vienna has few outside activities and the students find their relaxation in the five weeks between semesters.

During her "spring vacation", this interesting teacher traveled over sections of Europe. She spent a month in Italy, staying in hostels and meeting many other students from all parts of Europe.

STUDIES RELICS

Miss Eichhorn also spent some time in Yugoslavia and two weeks in Greece as part of a study group exploring the various classic relics she now attempts to make familiar to the students in her European civilization classes. She spent a summer in France and Germany, especially enjoying the latter since she is of a German heritage.

Miss Eichhorn was in Italy when Stalin died and she remarked that it was "pathetic to see the downtrodden masses mourning the death of their pseudo-saviour." Also, her year in Austria occurred at the time of the four-power occupation in Vienna. She feels privileged to be among those who have actually seen the Communism propaganda machine and yet are fortunate enough to live in a democracy.

Miss Eichhorn definitely advocates the exchange student system of education. "All the students I met who had spent time in the States as exchange students became great friends of our country," she stressed. These students reflected the American way of thinking and living plus influencing the lives of Austrian people searching for freedom.

On the other hand, Miss Eichhorn believes that Americans also benefit immensely from education in other countries. She added that her life and mind had been influenced almost unbelievably in her year at the University of Vienna and that she is happy to have been able to join European students in their native situations.

WE ARE UNAWARE

The history teacher pointed to the fact that many of the American students take life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for granted, not realizing how fortunate they really are. "Students in the United States are not aware of the great work they could do to help the exchange student program through their living groups and organizations," she emphasized.

EDIBLE SPORT SHIRTS?

Among the sort of sport shirts that Van Heusen refuses to make are the following:

Sport shirts that light up in the dark: These are the kind that flash messages, like "Hey, baby, you're a honey," or "Pass the ashtray, please." Useful for parties, faculty teas and cotillion balls. But they tend to commercialize the graceful art of conversation.

Sport shirts with road maps on them: Too dangerous. Say you're driving from campus to the big city. You don't know whether to turn left or right at the turnpike, so you look down at your shirt to check. Crash!

Edible sport shirts: Too misleading. You're sitting under a shady tree with your favorite co-ed. She rests her head gently on your chest. You think she's fond of you. Suddenly you hear "munch, munch," and there goes your delicious shirt! It was it she craved, not you!

But the sport shirts that Van Heusen does make are fascinating. Dashing checks, interesting plaids, splendid stripes, solids in some very unusual colors. Their cut is free and comfortable... their style is original and flattering. Thumb through the collection that your campus haberdasher proudly displays.

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: No. 1

In this day of swift international communications, like radio, television, and the raft, it becomes increasingly important for all of us to have a solid grounding in foreign languages. Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a short lesson in language.

"Of course, silly!" chuckled the makers, tousling my yellow hair. Oh, grand men they are, the makers of Philip Morris, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they make. "Of course, fond boy, you may occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a short lesson in language!" said the makers and tossed me up and down in a blanket until, rosy with laughing, I bade them desist, and then we all had basins of farina and smoked Philip Morris and sang songs until the campfire had turned to embers.

For our first lesson in language, let us take up French, which has often been called the lingua franca of France. We will approach French in a new manner, because, to be brutally frank, the way it is taught in our colleges is archaic and obsolete. Why all this emphasis on grammar? After all, when we get to France does it matter if we can parse and conjugate? Of course not!

So for the first exercise, translate the following real, true-to-life dialogue between two real, true-to-life Frenchmen named Claude (pronounced Clohd) and Pierre (also pronounced Clohd):

CLAUDE: Good morning, sir. Can you direct me to the nearest monk?

PIERRE: I have regret, but I am a stranger here myself.

CLAUDE: Is it that you come from the France?

PIERRE: You have right.

CLAUDE: I also. Come, let us mount the airplane and return ourselves to the France.

PIERRE: We must defend from smoking until the airplane raises itself.

CLAUDE: Ah, now it has raised itself. Will you have a Philippe Maurice?

PIERRE: Mércy.

CLAUDE: In the garden of my aunt it makes warm in the summer and cold in the winter.

PIERRE: What a coincidence. In the garden of my aunt too!

CLAUDE: Ah, we are landing. Regard how the airplane depresses itself.

PIERRE: What shall you do in the France?

CLAUDE: I shall make a promenade and see various sights of cultural and historical significance. What shall you do?

PIERRE: I think I shall try to pick up the stewardess.

CLAUDE: Long live the France!

DSP-ATO Go, KT-SN Battle In 'Mural Ball'

Delta Sigma Phi, leaders of the American intramural football league, meet Alpha Tau Omega today at 3:30 at the Willow Street Park. DSP has a 2-0 record for the season. Kappa Tau meets Sigma Nu in a National League tilt at the same location and time.

Kappa Tau must win to stay in contention in its league, as it suffered a 7-0 setback at the hands of Theta Chi yesterday. It was the first loss for the KT's, leaving them in second place behind Theta Chi.

A John Lucas pass to Curt Mettler for 35 yards for a touchdown and the same combination for the extra point gave the Theta Chi's their points. Don Pederson and Norm Guest looked good for KT on defense and offense. Tom Burr and Bill Lynn were defensive stars for Theta Chi.

Boxers To Meet

There will be a meeting of all candidates for the varsity and freshman boxing teams in Room 201 this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Coach Julie Menendez urged all interested people to attend.

Captain Among Those Mentioned

"If some of those players whom we were counting on do not start coming through for us, it will be a long second half of the season," Spartan football coach Bob Bronzan said yesterday morning while reviewing the Golden Raiders' 47-13 humiliation at the hands of Arizona State Saturday night. Bronzan mentioned Roland Logan, team Captain Charlie Kaahue, Jim Hughes and Stan Kiehl as those not playing aggressive football. The Spartans have lost three, tied one and won one.

"That was our poorest overall effort of the season and the fellows will have to snap out of it or Denver will kick the heck out of us and Pacific will finish the job," he continued.

Bronzan called this the "critical week" in which the team will form its own future. If they shake the slump, Bronzan expects the squad to go on to a successful season but if they fail to show aggressiveness, it will be a long, hard campaign.

Saturday night's Homecoming opponent for the Spartans, the Denver Pioneers, currently are on a hot streak having won three of their last four outings. SJS backfield coach Gene Menges watched the Pioneers toy with New Mexico Friday evening and predicted a tough test for the Spartans.

Denver has 22 lettermen back including nine of its ten leading ball carriers in 1955. Fullback Bill Korn is the best faking back that Menges has seen, Bronzan related.

Halfback George Colbert is the workhorse of the Pioneer running attack while halfback Johnny Wilson and quarterback Walt Yanowich do the passing.

Wilson does most of his damage on the optional pass or run play while Yanowich has completed 35 of 70 passes for 430 yards. Ernie Pitts, a two-year letterman end, is the favorite Pioneer target and will give the Spartan secondary an evening of trouble.

On the brighter side of the ledger, end Mel Powell, who was injured on the second play of the Stanford game, and quarterback Marv McKean, who was hurt before the San Diego game, will be ready for Denver.

Lopez Named To White Sox

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 (UP)—Al Lopez was named manager of the Chicago White Sox today.

Lopez, who resigned Sept. 28 as manager of the Cleveland Indians after six years at the job, replaces Marty Marion, who quit the Sox last Thursday with one year left to go on his two-year contract.

Lopez signed a one-year contract for an unannounced salary with no bonus based on attendance. Vice President Charles Comiskey announced.

Ed. Prof To Lead Psychology Talk

Dr. John A. Barr, associate professor of education, will leave for Stockton this week end to lead a discussion group at the California State Organization of Student Personnel for Teacher Education Conference.

The Organization, a branch of the American Personnel and Guidance Association, will be concerned with the psychological factors which affect the success of teachers in training and in the field.

Splashers Meet Athens AC Team

San Jose gets back into league water polo action when they travel to Oakland to meet the Athens A.C. at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Spartans will be seeking their second Northern California Water Polo League win. The lone SJS victory came at the hands of the Olympic Club three weeks ago.

The Athens hold the distinction of having whipped the California Bears. The only other team to do that this season was the United States Olympic entry. The Oaklanders are currently in second place with two victories and one defeat in league competition.

Improving with each game, the Spartans will be out to upset the favored Athens team. If they can hold up as they did in the first half against Cal last week, SJS could walk away with it.

Spartan Musicians Dominate New Philharmonic Group

The Santa Clara Philharmonic Orchestra, a reorganization of the Santa Clara Symphonette, is conducted by a former SJS student, Edward Azherian, who was graduated in 1942. Included in the group are 4 faculty members, 2 faculty wives, and 21 students from the college.

Gibson Walters, associate professor of music, is concert master, and Wayne Sorensen, assistant professor of music, is personnel manager. Dr. Lyle Downey, professor of music, Donald Homuth, assistant professor of music, Mrs. Catherine Sorensen, and Mrs. Rosemary Walters, play with the group.

SJS students in the orchestra are: Val and Don Phillips, Judy Ray, Walter Taylor, Jim Bagby, Diane Suhr, Beverly Zera, Lou Anne Bone, Jann Fraser, David Yoder, Gary Beswick, Nahan Fitterman, Charles Bull, Sheri Snyder, Iris Mann, Suzanne Slater, Carol Cox, Joan Goodwin, David Cox, LeRoy Wiens and Vernon Older. There are a total of 67 instrumentalists in the group.

TOP LINEMEN—Denver guard Ralph Meyer (left) and Spartan tackle Charlie Kaahue will be counted upon by their respective coaches for heavy duty Saturday night when the Pioneers and San Jose State meet. Kaahue was the object of SJS coach Bob Bronzan's blast yesterday for not being aggressive. Meyer is a steady performer, the Pioneers and has anchored a Denver club which has won three of the last four games.

Conference To Study Grad Course Expansion

A Thursday conference will focus attention on the possibilities of expanding the course offerings of the Social Science Division. The purpose is to provide graduate training for students in probation, parole and related phases of institutional work.

Called by Dr. Leo P. Kibby, chairman of the Division of Social Sciences, the conference will focus on the treatment phase of correctional work.

Questions to be considered include:

1. How necessary is graduate training to persons entering the correctional field?

2. What general principles are there concerning the kinds of graduate training that job-entrants should have?

3. What value do leaders in corrections place on graduate training in sociology and criminology?

4. What should the Division of Social Sciences do to provide such graduate training as the field requires of job-entrants?

5. What should the division do to provide graduate training for job-occupants who are qualified for graduate study?

Participants will include Robert Lawson, personnel officer, Department of Corrections; Roland Wood, training officer, Department of Corrections.

Walter T. Stone, chief, Division of Adult Paroles; Roy C. Votaw, deputy director, Department of Youth Authority; Joseph A. Spangler, consultant, National Probation and Parole Association.

Violin, Piano To Be Feature Of Class Today

Violin and piano works will be featured during the Survey of Music Literature class this morning at 11:30 o'clock in the Music Building Concert Hall. The concert is open to the public.

W. Gibson Walters, violin, associate professor of music, and Patrick Meierotto, piano, assistant professor of music, will play the Mozart D-flat Major Violin Sonata. The Viennese Sonata, K454, was written in 1784.

Barbara Norton, junior piano major, will conclude the program with Chaconne by Bach-Busone.

At Thursday's concert, Walters and Nahan Fitterman, a graduate student, will perform the Bach Double Concerto in D minor for two violins.

Kickers Tie; Fresno State Tips Harriers

The San Jose State soccermen provided the only bright note in a dismal weekend for Spartan athletic teams as they battled highly favored San Francisco State to a 1-1 tie at Cox Stadium in San Francisco Saturday.

The Gators scored in the first five minutes of the clash and it looked like a rout was in the making. The SJS kickers dug in and held off all further offensive charges of the San Franciscans. With a minute left in the match San Jose came to life offensively and tied up the game.

Little George Sanders, "Mickey Mouse," to his teammates, scored the tying marker. A 10-minute overtime period was scoreless.

The soccermen will play San Jose Junior College at Spartan Field tomorrow afternoon and hope to get back to winning ways.

Coach Julie Menendez praised the entire squad for a fine team effort against San Francisco State and expects the team to improve with every game.

The cross country squad was defeated by Fresno State 23-32 at Fresno. The Spartan harriers were competing without Wes Bond and Fred Green, top performers.

Bob Foresman of Fresno won the race in a Fresno State school record time of 18:43.8. Best performance for SJS was Carlos Saldiver who took third with a time of 19:36.

EVEN if you are just starting college in the "Class of 1960," we suggest that you take a long look at where you are going. Know, don't guess, what is offered by fields like engineering and science, finance, marketing and relations. Too often young people discover late in their senior year that they can't qualify for the career of their choice. Why be caught short? Selecting a career and knowing what is expected will make it possible for you to prepare for it now. Many graduates will find their place with industry.

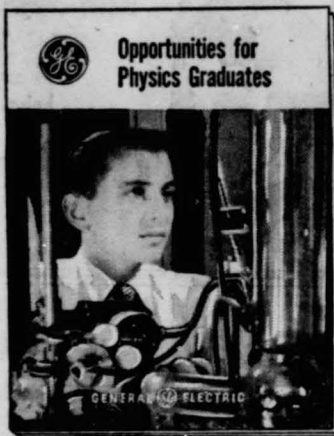

General Electric is typical of many large industrial concerns. We employ over 27,000 college graduates from nearly 700 different colleges and universities. And our future, as the future of any progressive company, hinges on these people. Young men and women that have initiative, analytical and creative ability will make progress with industry. If you are interested, write for information about one or more of the programs listed on this page. These are the principal doorways to success at General Electric. The booklets can also be found at most college placement bureaus in a binder entitled "Career Information."
