Vaccinations for All Types of Flu To Be Available Next Week

Flu Inoculation Not Advised For Everyone

By BARBARA GREUNER

Flu vaccine will be available to SJS students beginning next week, Dr. Thomas J. Gray, director of the College Health Service, reported yesterday.

The vaccine to be used here is a polyvalent vaccine, which covers all known types of flu, including the Asian variety. It is mainly for Asian flu, however, since there is no serious threat posed by the other types. There are still respiratory ailments which are flu-like, though not actually flu, which the vaccine will not cover, Gray said.

The flu committee of the Santa Clara County Medical Society, of which Gray is a member, advises very strongly against mass inoculation for the flu at this time. "We are not suggesting mass inoculation now," Gray said. "This is a personal matter between patients and their private physicians. The physicians should lay the facts before their patients and let them decide. It must be an individual decision by the people receiving the shots," he added.

The vaccine will not be given to anyone with any history of allergies, hay fever, asthma or any type of sensitivity. Gray noted especially that anyone with the slightest indication of egg protein sensitivity will not get the shots under any circumstances, since egg embryo is used in the making of the vaccine.

He cautioned that anyone who is receiving polio shots at this time should space their flu shot so that neither shot is given within two weeks of the other.

Immunity of the flu shots, though not yet definitely determined, lasts about two to four months. At this time, there is a 50-50 chance of receiving certain immunity from the shot. One shot

GOING UP...STEPS DOWN

Speculation is rife over whether or not Marshal Georgi Zhukov, former Soviet Defense Minister (right) has gone the way of the traditional Thanksgiving turkey gobbler or if he has stepped down to assume a more important post. General opinion favors the former possibility. Nikita Khrushchev, Communist Party boss (left), merely smiles and says nothing.

cannot guarantee full protection, Gray said, and since an outbreak of the flu is imminent in February or March, persons receiving the shots now may need to get another at that time. The immunization is not effective earlier than 10 to 14 days, and maximum immunity may not be reached for three to four weeks.

Flu shots are occasionally followed by a mild reaction which is flu-like in itself, Gray said. It usually only lasts one day, though it can sometimes last up to three. The reaction is characterized by temperature and aching, and should be treated with fluids, aspirin and rest, he continued.

At SJS, the flu situation "so far, seems to be dropping off a little," said Gray. Individual cases are not as severe, and not as many people are having it, he said.

Spartans May Boast Closed TV

San Jose State may become the educational TV center of this area.

John Westfall, coordinator of television service, revealed yesterday that the State Department of Education is expected to act favorably "any day now" on an estimated $60,000 request for setting up closed circuit TV broadcasting between SJS and three nearby schools next semester.

The experiment in classroom TV will be only the start of a plan which eventually will embrace a network of other schools that will both receive and send out programming.

"The biggest emphasis for now will be on teacher observation," Westfall explained. "Teacher candidates sitting in classrooms will be able to watch children at play and in other classrooms."

Not all one-way, plans also call for sending out programs to the three schools, Roosevelt and San Jose High and Selma Olinder Elementary, as well.

A planning committee is presently working out a schedule of classes to be sent and received.

"We have the channels now," Westfall said. "It's just a matter of people on campus scheduling hours and deciding which classrooms to equip before we go into action."

Probably 15 classrooms here will be equipped for receiving observation programs.

The next step will be to include Roosevelt Junior High, Horace Mann Elementary, Anne Darling Elementary and Chandler Tripp Special Education Schools on the list. Pickups from San Francisco might also be added, if teachers desire special programs.

"We feel that if this program is successful, we'll have one of the best instructional TV installations in California," Westfall concluded.

Fair With Breezes

Fair is the weatherman's confident prediction for Santa Clara Valley residents today. The forecaster also predicts little change in temperature, with a high ranging between 75 and 81 degrees, and gentle, variable winds.

'Crime...' Display Stolen from Hall

"Crime Does Not Pay," an exhibit in the Health and Hygiene hall, was stolen, according to Wayne Jepson, assistant professor of Health and Hygiene. The entire exhibit, set up by Dr. Jack Smolensky, assistant professor in Health and Hygiene, was completely removed Monday afternoon.

A microscope and syringe were stolen from a previous exhibit, "Be Wise, Immunize." Yesterday, a new display was set up. The theme is "Destroy Disease Carrying Insects." Vandalism will have a larger problem with this exhibit; it is about four yards long and eight feet high.

U.S. Seeks Indictment Of Grad

Federal grand jury indictment against Ludwig (Fred) Braumoeiler will be sought today by U.S. attorney Lloyd H. Burke, according to the United Press.

Burke will charge Braumoeiler, 1946 Police School graduate, with four counts of supplying heroin to an addict-informer, Leroy "Bloody Boy" Adams.

Braumoeiler was arrested last week on a technical charge of transferring 34 grains of heroin to Adams for a portable TV set, sport jacket, and a .32 caliber target pistol.

Federal agent Ira Feldman found the coat and TV set in the possession of a bartender who, the federal agents charge, received them from Braumoeiler. The pistol has not been located.

Braumoeiler, a state narcotics agent, spoke in a Centennial symposium, "Crime and the Public," at San Jose State Feb. 22. At that time he explained the use of naline, a drug which he helped to discover, in detecting narcotics addiction.

Willard Schmidt, head of the Police School, said yesterday that Braumoeiler might have accepted the items from the addict in an effort to get "at the man higher up in the racket."

Braumoeiler claims that he is being framed by Col. George White, of the Federal Narcotics Bureau's regional office in San Francisco.

"I hate to think that the chief would frame a man just as I hate to think a narcotics agent (Braumoeiler) would be a crook," Schmidt said.

Alameda College

Plans for '59

SACRAMENTO—(UP)—The State Department of Education submitted budget requests yesterday for staff and facilities to open a new state college in Alameda County by 1959.

Department director Roy E. Simpson said he hoped "agreement can be reached on an appropriate site" in time for temporary buildings to be readied for the opening of the new college which was approved by the last session of the legislature.

Biology Prof To Moderate

Dr. John Harville, associate professor of biology and science education, will moderate a panel at the Elementary School Science Assn. meeting Nov. 2 at San Francisco State College.

The panel will include a classroom teacher, a general science teacher, an elementary supervisor and an elementary school principal.

Dr. Edward Teller, University of California physicist, will make the keynote address.

Other members of the Natural Science Division at San Jose State will attend the conference.

The association's aim is to stimulate interest in the teaching of science in elementary schools.

Charles Muirhead, 45, electrician's helper at San Jose State, fell 55 feet to his death yesterday afternoon while climbing one of the floodlight poles at Spartan Stadium.

The accident occurred at 1 p.m. Rushed to San Jose Hospital, the victim was pronounced dead on arrival. The coroner's report attributed death to a compound crushing fracture of the skull. Nature of injuries indicated Muirhead struck his head on the edge of a seat in the stadium, the coroner said.

Scene of the accident was the northeast corner of the playing field. Muirhead was climbing the pole in order to replace some light globes, according to J. H. Amos, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Although the victim wore a safety belt, he could not use it, Amos explained. The pole is steel and has steps leading to the top. These prevent the use of a safety belt while climbing.

Muirhead had been employed at SJS since Oct. 1. He leaves a wife, Jayne, and three children, a son and two daughters. He and his wife have been residing in a trailer court at Rt. 2, Box 1021 near 1st St. and Bayshore Highway.

Funeral services are pending. Burial will be at Oakhill Memorial Cemetery. Muirhead was a member of the Masonic Order.

Court Warns On Notices

Students are requested by Student Court to refrain from posting personal notices on departmental bulletin boards.

Bill McLean, prosecuting attorney said that "wanted: ride to Santa Cruz daily" belongs in The Spartan Daily classifieds.

Offenders could be prosecuted, McLean added.

Student Court Sets ASB Election Dates

Dates for the coming student body election were set by Student Court yesterday.

All persons desiring to run for office must pick up applications by Nov. 8. These applications must be returned by Nov. 14.

Students whose grades and class eligibility clear may pick up petitions Nov. 20. Petitions must be returned by Nov. 25.

Applications and petitions may be obtained in the Student Union.

Candidates eligible to run will be announced on Dec. 2 so that they will have time to prepare their campaign posters which may be placed around campus, Dec. 9, or earlier.

The general student body elections will be Dec. 12 and 13.

Offices open include: half-year senior representative to Student Council, senior male justice, half-year junior representative, sophomore male and female justices, female representative at large, and all junior, sophomore and freshman class offices. Senior officers were elected for a full year.

Also included on the ballot will be Proposition A, seeking student sanction of the separate rooting sections inaugurated by Rally Committee at this year's football games.

Curtis Luft, chief justice, said that questionnaires have been mailed to more than 75 colleges inquiring how each student court functions. One question asks if other courts have jurisdiction over student drinking violations.

Student Council will take up routine business today and discuss the COP Homecoming game and rally and the Awards Committee by-laws revision.

Marine Corps

Men interested in enrolling in one of the "In College" training programs that leads to commission as second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve may discuss the program with Marine officers in the Outer Quad this week.

Maj. Charles R. Stephenson III and Capt. W. G. Crocker will be available at their booth from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. until Friday.

Membership is open to freshmen, sophomores and juniors. A flight training program, besides an officer training program is open to seniors.

SJS Leads In Full-time Enrollment

Facts and figures enumerated in the Oct. 5 enrollment report issued by the State Department of Education settles the question, at least for this semester, about which state college in California has the largest full-time enrollment. San Jose State is still on top.

Los Angeles State College, however, with three campuses, heads the list of total students enrolled with 12,509. SJS is just under this number with 12,229.

San Jose State has almost 4000 more regular students than its closest rival, Los Angeles State. A comparison of the figures shows that SJS has 9589 regular students; Los Angeles State has 5568. In limited students, SJS has 2660 and LAS, 6941.

Los Angeles State is a combination of three campuses: one at Ramona, another at Vermont and still another in San Fernando Valley.

The enrollment report showed that total enrollment in all the state colleges, including limited and regular students, was 74,349, an increase of 10,675 over last year.

San Jose State is up 10 per cent in total enrollment over last October.

Grads To File Applications

Graduate students who will qualify for credentials at the end of the fall semester must file applications through the Credentials Office during the month of November, according to Marie S. Kaltenborn, credentials secretary.

Appointments for this purpose should be made immediately through the Credentials Office, Room 120, Miss Kaltenborn said.

Spartan Twirlers Plan Hoedown Tonight

HALLOWEEN HULLABALOO

Western Dress, Decorations To Be Featured at Party

The Folk and Square Dance Club will hold a Halloween Hoedown costume dance from 8 to 10 tonight in the Women's Gym, according to Art Smith, president.

Decorations and dress will follow the theme of a western barn dance. Ed Gault, professional caller and father of Ned Gault, student at SJS, will be guest caller for the evening.

The Folk and Square Dance Club, which has recently adopted "Spartan Twirlers" as their new title, was originally formed as a part of Co-Rec. They meet every Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Women's Gym.

Co-Rec members decided last May to sponsor a folk and square dance class as a part of their Wednesday evening recreational activities, which include badminton, social dance, bridge, bowling, volleyball and ping pong, Smith said.

The class taught the basic steps and some advanced steps to folk and square dances. Response to the class was so great, Smith added, that the students formed a club and decided, this fall, to call it Spartan Twirlers.

Any student with a student body card is eligible to attend Co-Rec and is also eligible to join Spartan Twirlers. The Twirlers now have a governing body and have had three meetings this semester, Smith stated.

Purpose of the club is to teach folk and square dancing to be-

Anyone for a Wake?

A fledgling tradition died Saturday night. If you were among the fans at the San Jose-North Texas football game, you probably witnessed its passing. In fact, you couldn't have missed it.

We are referring, of course, to the segregated rooting sections. Prior to game time, the mixed section was full as usual. The all-male sector was partially populated. And the all-female section was "filled" by not more than 10 hardy women rooters.

In time, both the all-male and all-female sections were absorbed by the mixed group, making the rooting section just as it had been before the segregation plan was put into effect.

Continued attempts to split the rooting sections at night games would be farcical. The fact that it will not work has been demonstrated in the most obvious manner possible.

But don't get us wrong. We still like the idea of segregated rooting sections. It's just that they are not practical at night games when dating is more prevalent.

When and if San Jose State improves its football program enough to draw fans to afternoon games, we would be more than happy to see the rooting sections split. But "when" and "if" are pretty big questions. They have been asked many times before. And left unanswered.

We hope that the proponents of the split sections will look realistically at what has become of their plan. The fact that night games make segregated rooting unfeasible does not really hurt spirit. In fact, the rooting section at the North Texas game responded extremely well, even though desegregation had set in.

A fledgling tradition died Saturday night. Perhaps when our athletic program reaches a stature corresponding to that of our academic program, we will see this tradition return.

We hope so.

Early Unveiling of Russ Missile Seen

MOSCOW—(UP)—An 80-foot long canvas-shrouded object parked in downtown Moscow gave new indication last week the Soviets would unveil their latest guided missiles early next month.

It is one of a number of weapons in canvas covers dotting Moscow. The Russians are expected to take the wraps off for a giant military parade Nov. 7, the 40th anniversary of the "October Revolution" when the Bolsheviks seized power in 1917.

Some diplomatic observers speculated the Soviets would shoot off an experimental intercontinental ballistic missile and other weapons which Soviet party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev said recently "we have up our sleeves."

"THEN I SAID: JUST BECAUSE YOU'RE THE STAR OF THE FOOTBALL TEAM YOU NEEDN'T THINK YOU CAN RUN MY CLASS."

the Hot Seat

By RANDIE E. POE

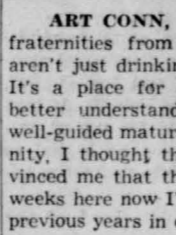

Rushing now completed, we hit the pavement this week asking the following question:

What does fraternity and sorority life mean to you?

TONY CRITELLI, All-America honorable mention in soccer, senior — "It has its advantages and disadvantages. I think too many fraternity men are regimented. It's not necessary to feature a crewcut, but it's hard to convince some fraternity guys. There's a definite lack of individuality. In some cases, however, fraternities can build up self-confidence and self-reliance. As for sorority girls, since many of their values are based on aesthetic things, their character traits are synthetic."

BRUNIE YODER, frosh — "I myself don't care for sororities. They're all carbon copies. Most sorority girls act alike, even to the point of answering the phone in the same manner. They base attitudes not on a person's merit, but on how one dresses and talks. The whole thing is actually phony from what I've seen, and most sorority girls aren't the type of person I'd want as a lifetime friend. They're not individualistic. They find it important to act alike."

ART CONN, junior — "I learned a lot about fraternities from rushing this year. Fraternities aren't just drinking clubs. They're more than that. It's a place for meeting friends, helping you to better understand college life, and giving you a well-guided maturation. Before I went into a fraternity, I thought they were nowhere. But they convinced me that they have something. In my three weeks here now I've gained more than I did in two previous years in college."

BETSY ENGELKING, sophomore — "Sororities have a lot to offer for some people. I don't feel it's for me, though. I also don't feel freshmen should rush. They don't have a chance to know the houses and they get a false impression of rushing. Fraternities and sororities aren't necessarily bad but they're just not for me. Their liabilities overshadow their benefits."

Halloween is heah! Rah, rah!

It's now time for all to discard their Bermudas. They must masquerade themselves in much more unseemly attire, if any be available. For Halloween parties require a uniform of the day.

A fitting costume for a masquerade ball might be a guy and a gal who would go as Asian flu germs. This would be most appropriate if they had the Asian Flu. On a quick trip to Stanford, one might be able to catch a couple of healthy germs. Then the couple masquerading could scamper about the party coughing on all who did not think their costumes the prize winning outfits. They, for sure, would get my vote.

Or again, a couple of pledges from a fraternity and sorority might deck themselves out in rags, talk rough, sound big, be rather illiterate and go as "actives." The actives might not approve. But, if so, just look innocent and naive and ask them sarcastically, "What's the matter, Mac, you see a ghost or goblin, maybe?" They will then throw you out on your ear.

So you tell them that I told you it was okay. They will then throw your date out on her ear. So as she comes sailing down the doorstep, just laugh and say, "Ha ha. Look at the 'active' sailing down the doorstep and being thrown out on her ear." And then we'll say, "Ha, ha!" Won't we?

Then too, a couple might go as Sputnik. It is well-known that Sputnik and its rocket tail are getting farther and farther apart. Thus it would be fitting to go with a date for whom you did not feel an attraction. Sputnik is also expected to fall to the earth in a few days. Thus it would be appropriate if you were carried from the party.

Or one might don a sport jacket, smoke a pipe, groan a pipe, carry a baby and go as Mr. and Mrs. "Bah, bah, bah, boo." But if you want to be the bell of the ball, go as Lady Godiva. This always gets them. Whatever you do, don't blame me.

LOVE IN THE LAUNDRY

Last month we got the following letter:

Dear Van Heusen, you rats:

Thanks mucho for breaking up the hottest romance since Scarlet and Rhett. Me and Laundry Mark x428Fy might be honey-mooning in Palm Beach today if it wasn't for your so-called smart ideas. Go shoot yourselves in your ulcers. Respectfully yours, Dorothea Jones.

We tracked down the story behind it and found that Miss Jones worked a steam-iron at the Acme Laundry in Eastpox, N. J. Last year, while ironing a shirt belonging to Laundry Mark x428Fy, she had noticed a small piece of paper protruding from the slot on the collar. Curious, she pulled it out and read: "Whoever you are, I love the way you press my shirts. I think I may love you too. Interested?" She blushed, but daringly wrote her answer — "Interested, sorta," and slipped it in the collar-slot. Ten days later came another shirt from x428Fy and, sure enough, another note: "If you can cook like you can write I may be smitten beyond recall. Fascinated?" This time she almost swooned, and wrote back, "Wow, am I!" Anyhow, note followed hot note and Miss Jones began thinking of turning in her steam iron for a marriage manual. Until one day tragedy struck. x428Fy's shirts arrived as usual, but when Miss Jones turned to the slot she found it sewn-up. Frantic, she tried to rip it open. No luck. She could feel something thin inside, but she couldn't get to it. And that's how it's been ever since!

You see, x428Fy had switched to slotless Van Heusen Collarite shirts — with sewn-in stays! You should, too! These micro-thin stays can't get lost, keep your collar flat, and launder with your shirt! Specify Collarite next time.

And don't feel bad about Miss Jones. She took her unhappiness out in hard work and was promoted to assistant manager. We expect a thank-you note from her any day.

The Band Speaks

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Once again the San Jose Marching Band must endure the insults of one who would operate his mouth before engaging his mind. These publicity seeking "muck-rakers" have only succeeded in bringing to our student body half-truths and greatly distorted facts.

Most organizations that attempt to please a multitude of people and ideals are in need of and welcome "constructive criticism." Our band is no exception.

If any of the ASB members have "constructive criticism", please consider this a personal invitation to meet and speak with the band council on the first and last Monday of each month at 4:30 p.m.

Defends Band

Dear Thrust and Parry:

The Spartan Band played all during the Aztec game as well as pre-game and half-time. Also during the game, after each touchdown, and each point after touchdown . . . they played "Down from Under." Am I right in assuming that this is one of our fight songs? — If people would listen for the band instead of trying to catch a glimpse of a drunken brawl in the stands, they might hear what the band is playing.

CLOTHES MAKE THE BMOC

Last week we passed along some fashion hints for coeds. Today we will do the same for college men.

The most important thing to remember, gentlemen, is to dress with verve, with dash, with inventiveness. Don't be imprisoned by the traditional conservatism of men's clothing. Brighten up your appearance with a single earring, or a cavalry saber, or a gold derby.

Guard Against Gaudiness

However, guard against gaudiness. If, for instance, you are wearing a gold derby, do not also wear a cavalry saber. This is too much. Wear a dagger instead, or, for formal occasions, a bowie knife.

Let us turn now to a persistent rumor that a garment called the "suit" is on the verge of making a comeback. Some of you older students may remember this "suit." It was an ensemble consisting of a jacket and trousers, both of which—this'll kill you—both of which were made out of the same material!

The last "suit" ever seen on an American campus was in 1941—and I ought to know because I was wearing it. I was an undergraduate then, and in love—hopelessly in love with a beautiful statistics major named Harry Sigafoos. (She is one of the two girls I have ever known named Harry. The other one is her sister.)

I loved Harry madly, though her expensive tastes were the ruin of me. Bit by bit I sold off my belongings to pursue this costly courtship—first my books, then my clothes, until finally I was left with nothing to wear but a "suit." One night I came calling for her in this garment and she, of course, slashed me across the face with a riding crop and sent me from her door.

I slunk home and lit a Marlboro and sat down to think. I always light a Marlboro when I sit down to think, for their good mild flavor is a great aid to cerebration. I always light a Marlboro when I don't sit down to think, too, because Marlboro is my favorite cigarette, and I know it will be yours, too, once you make the acquaintance of that filter, that flavor, that flip-top box. As the man says, you get a lot to like with a Marlboro.

Well, sirs, smoking and thinking thus, my eye happened to fall on an ad in a campus newspaper which said: "WIN A COMPLETE WARDROBE! Touhy's Toggery, the campus's leading men's store, announces a contest to pick the best-dressed man on campus. The winner will receive absolutely free a complete new wardrobe!"

Struck by a sudden inspiration, I took pen in hand and wrote a letter to Mr. Touhy of Touhy's Toggery: "Sir—I see by the paper that you are giving a complete new wardrobe to the best-dressed man on campus. What a ridiculous idea!

"Obviously, to be the best-dressed man on campus, you must first have a lot of clothes, and if you have a lot of clothes, what do you need with another wardrobe? "Touhy's Toggery should give a new wardrobe to the worst-dressed man on campus. Me, for instance. I am an eyesore. There isn't a crow in town that will come near me. Three times this month the Salvation Army salvage truck has picked me up. Esquire has canceled my subscription.

"I submit that a vote for me is a vote for reason, a vote for equity, a vote for the American way!"

With a flourish I signed the letter and sent it off, somehow feeling certain that very soon I would be wearing a complete new wardrobe.

And I was right—because two weeks later I was drafted.

Always fashionable, always correct for any occasion, is the bright red and white Rip-top box of Marlboros, made for your pleasure by the sponsors of this column.

ATO, Theta Chi Gain First

Aided by a DU-KA postponement and a 8-6 win over Lambda Chi Alpha, ATO took over sole position of first place yesterday in fraternity American League action.

ATO had been tied with KA, but after yesterday's play, ATO was left with a 4-0-2 record and KA with a 4-1 record.

Keith Antes passed 35 yards to Bob Crisco for ATO's only TD and Don Flood caught a Lambda Chi Alpha player in the endzone for the other two points. Dale Clark passed 65 yards to Jim Baker for the loser's only score.

Tom Voigt passed for three TDs and ran the fourth one to lead KT to a 25-13 dumping over the Delta Sigs. This win put KT in third place, one-half game above the idle DUs.

Voigt passed to Mike Nevone for the two TDs, one going 20 yards and the other 30, and then hit Dick Herb with a 15 yarder. Voigt's run was for ten and the scoring was concluded with a PAT pass to Ron Riley.

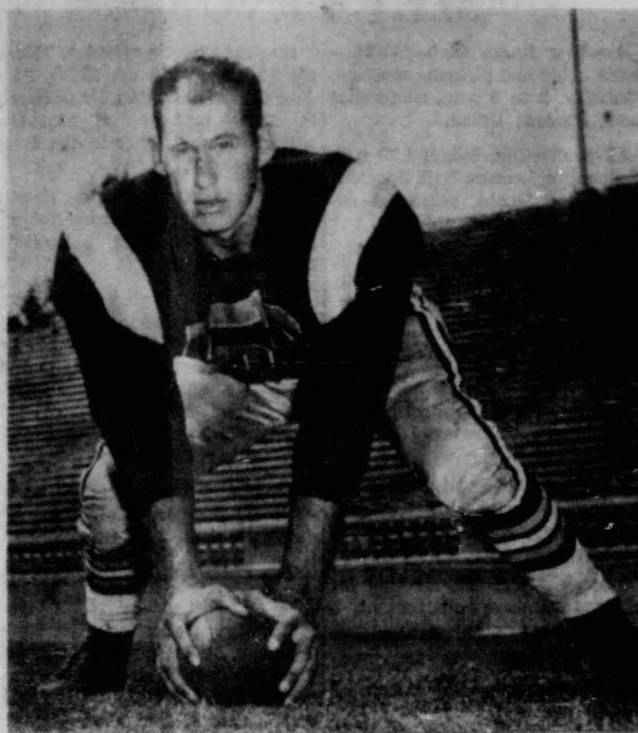

For the Delta Sigs, Gill Zaballous passed to Bob Gifford for a 30 yard scoring play and Zaballous then intercepted a pass to go 30 yards for the other tally. Zaballous passed to Ron Blake for the PAT.

In the National League, Theta Chi moved two and a half games in front of Sigma Chi and Theta Xi as they swamped PIKA 33-0. Per usual, Darrell Adams was most of the show as he passed for four touchdowns and three PATs. Adams hit Stan Kilstrom for a 20 yarder, Dick Powell for a five yarder, Bud Brasher for a 10 yarder and Curt Mettler for one going seven yards. Jerry Humpal passed to Dick Zimmerman for the fifth TD for 60 yards. Adams hit Powell, Zimmerman and Mettler for extra point passes.

In other NL action, Sigma Nu nosed out Sigma Chi 6-0 to jump out of the cellar. Jim Carter flipped a 10 yard pass to Don Hibson for the games only score . . . and the only one Sigma Nu needed.

In the day's final action, Theta Xi beat Phi Sigma Kappa 19-12, paced by the running of Fred

Frosh Poloists Nab Win

San Jose State frosh poloists, in search of its eighth consecutive win face Sunnyvale High this afternoon at 3:30 in the preps' pool.

Coach Art Lambert's frosh team bagged its seventh straight win without a loss yesterday, handing Fremont High's Indians a 9-3 setback. Lambert termed the win a team effort.

Five Spartababes dented the scoring column in the win. Preston Brunst, Dave Dinelli, Dan Youngberg and Mike Reich each scored two goals, while Lash Turville added one goal.

Kemper, Kemper wheeled off scoring runs of 60 and 20 yards to put Theta Xi ahead and Bob Brooks rambled 78 yards for the final TD. Kemper capped the scoring with a pass to Pete Sanford for the extra point.

For the Phi Sigs, Dick Buehler intercepted a pass to go 50 yards for one score and Porter Lewis passed to Don Breitenbucher for the other tally.

Lee Junta Reaches Semi-finals In All-College Net Tournament

By RANDIE E. POE

Lee Junta, expected to be one of Butch Krikorian's varsity tennis aces this season, became the first man to reach the semifinals yesterday as play continued in the All-College net tourney at the SJS courts.

Top-Seeded Junta smashed Armando Morena, 6-0, 6-0, in a one-sided contest to reach his present position.

SMITH MOVES UP

Hal Smith moved into the quarterfinals with a 6-4, 6-1 triumph over K. Hayashi.

Second-seeded Sam Waggoner and Doug Loomis split sets in a match called due to darkness. It will be completed today at 2:30 p.m.

SCHAEFER-SMITH

Bill Schaefer and Smith match ticks at 2:30, with Don Anger tackling John Marshall at 3:30.

The winner of the S. Waggoner-Loomis games meets the Schaefer-Smith victor—also at 3:30.

Waggoner had previously whipped Gil Zaballous by default while Loomis scored a 6-3, 6-1 win over Larry Sawyer and a 6-4, 6-3 victory over Ron Jerevas in contests played last week.

COLLEGIATE . . . COLLEGIATE . . .

like hell we are collegiate

Ya say ya got your hip flask (empty), raccoon coat, Stutz Bearcat, and tenor banjo (out of tune). Know whatcha ain't got? You ain't got your "Send Home" copy of The Spartan Daily. Y' ask — "what's that?" Good question! (get away sonny, ya bother me).

Can't tell ya here — this is a small ad. But hie yourself over to the library arch (aw c'mon, you know where the library is — between the coop and dirty dave's) — and buy one. BE SURPRISED. (and you will be . . . they cost .10 each).

Send 'em home to mom and dad. They can be used to wrap fish in, or to cover the porch where the dog sleeps . . . They also make fine rainhats . . . printed on glossy paper ya know.

Queen's Ball Bids Out Soon

Bids for Coronation Ball will be handed out this week on Thursday and Friday in the Outer Quad, Jan Reid, Social Affairs president, reported.

Exposition Hall at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds will be the location of this year's ball. Crowning of the 1957 Homecoming Queen will be the highlight of the Ball. After she has been crowned the queen will parade around the ballroom with her entourage in a grand march.

The ball will be a formal affair. More elaborate decorations are planned than have been used in previous years, Miss Reid said.

Bids for the ball are free and will be given out upon presentation of a student body card.

Greeks Announce Pinnings

RUSSELL—PETERS

Marian Peters passed the traditional candle at the Kappa Alpha Theta house during dinner Monday night to announce her pinning to Al Russell, of Phi Sigma Kappa. A serenade by the Phi Sigs followed the announcement. Russell is a junior political science major from San Mateo. Miss Peters is a sophomore education major from San Jose.

HERON—MURRAY

The red carnation was passed Monday night at the Alpha Chi Omega house when Barbara Murray announced her pinning to Bob Heron, of Sigma Nu. The brothers of Sigma Nu then serenaded the AChOs. Miss Murray, who is from Glendale, is a junior social science major. Heron, who hails from Hayward, is a senior engineering major and past president of Sigma Nu.

HORWOOD—KNORR

Doris Horwood, Phi Mu, blew

out the traditional candle to announce her pinning to Dick Knorr of Sigma Nu. Miss Horwood is a senior educational major from Hayward, while Knorr is an engineering major from San Leandro.
