

High School Seniors Sparta's Guests Today

Visiting Seniors To See Journalism Exhibit in Library

Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian, announces that prospective San Jose State college students interested in journalism will be interested in the library display based on "A history of the American Press."

Photostatic copies of newspapers of the past present highlights of our nation's history and shows the development of the American Press.

Little prominence was given the Declaration of Independence when it was printed on the front page of the Pennsylvania Gazette, July 10, 1776. (An account of the Boston Massacre is also given in an early newspaper.) The Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser gave news of the United States Constitution in 1787.

Maps were used to supplement news coverage by Civil War days, and on September 12, 1861 the New York Herald carried a full page map of the National Battle Ground. A copy of an 1865 paper shows that Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation dominated the news.

The New York Times revealed when Marconi's Transatlantic wireless joined two worlds and they received the first dispatch. A copy of their paper announcing this union is in the library display. Other major events through World War II brings press history to the present time.

Mr. Dwight Bentel, Journalism Department head, was responsible for bringing this exhibit to San Jose State college. It is based on the American Press Exhibition in the New Jersey State Museum at Trenton, and has circulated throughout the United States.

Book Exchange

Due to the fact that election runoffs will be held Wednesday, the Student Book Exchange will not be open until Thursday at 10:30, it was announced by Harold Riddle yesterday.

Dr. Hall Talks To Educators

Dr. Wallace Hall, vice president of Marin Junior college and secretary-treasurer of the California Teachers' association, will address teacher training students tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in room A1.

According to Ann Tomasello, Education club president, Dr. Hall will discuss the trends in salaries and job opportunities in California teaching. The meeting is open to all students interested in teaching.

The Education office has announced that Dr. Hall also will speak to classes in the principles of elementary and secondary education.

Art Ball Bids Now on Sale

"Bids for the Alpha Gamma Art Ball are on sale now," states Miss Ellen McBride, bid chairman. "The Ball will be held at Adobe Creek Lodge Friday, May 9."

The bids are of a distinctive surrealist nature, according to Ed Kincaid, general chairman. They sell for $2.60 and are restricted to members of the Art department, but may be sold to the general student body towards the end of the week.

"A strange and mystic evening is in store for all who attend," promises Kincaid.

Final Elections for ASB President Will Be Held Tomorrow

Three qualifying candidates in the ASB Presidential primary held last Friday will go into a run-off election tomorrow with the polls opening at 8 a.m.

Emerson Arends, Doug Morrison, and Hal Riddle ran neck and neck in the primaries, which saw a new voting record set on the San Jose State campus. A total of 1450 votes were cast in the eight hour and fifteen minute period the polls were open.

Unless one of the three candidates receives a simple majority in tomorrow's election, a second runoff will be necessitated, and the trip to Vancouver, B. C. for the Western Association of Student Body Presidents convention this (See Student Council story, column 5.)

Spartan Athletes Introduced at Rally

Leading members of Spartan spring athletic teams will be introduced at the introduction rally Thursday at 12:30 in front of the quad, Don Titcomb, rally chairman, announced yesterday.

Glenn "Tiny" Hartranft, athletic director, will be present to introduce Coaches Bud Winter, Walt McPherson, Charlie Walker, Ted Mumby, and Bill Hubbard. The coaches then will introduce leading members of their teams.

Titcomb will act as Master of Ceremonies, and Bob Johnson and Ken McGill, yell leaders, will lead students in several school yells.

May's Son Was To Get 'Cut'

WASHINGTON, May 5 (UP).—A former chemical manufacturer testified today that Andrew J. May's son, Robert, was to have received a "50 per cent cut" on a Garsson subcontract under a verbal agreement made at a 1944 meeting in Miami, Fla.

The witness, Melville A. Rapp of New York city, did not say whether young May ever received the money, but he will continue his story tomorrow.

He testified at the trial of the former Kentucky congressman and three officials of the multi-million dollar Garsson munitions empire on charges of bribery and conspiracy to defraud the government on war contracts.

Rapp also testified that he once saw Murray Garsson use as identification at the Miami airport a card that "said something about the Military Affairs Committee."

May is accused of, having used his former position as chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee to act as "guardian angel" of the Garsson brothers in their war contract deals.

week-end for the president-elect will be cancelled. Marty Taylor, current ASB prexy, was supposed to have been accompanied by the new president.

Doug Morrison announced today that his campaign posters in the inner and outer quad areas were defaced by vandals Friday night. "They must have done it sometime between 7:30 and 10:30 while I was working in 'The Assassin,'" Morrison said.

Morrison contacted Dean of Men Paul Pitman yesterday in connection with the "poster mauling," and intends to prosecute the offenders if they are located, he reports.

In line with Morrison's trouble, Emerson Arends reported late yesterday afternoon that seven of his nine posters were taken from the student body president's office sometime Saturday. Arend's campaign manager, Joe Juliano, removed the placards from the campus Friday, following the election, and placed them in the ASB office for safe-keeping. Arends reported them missing Monday morning.

Student Discussions Sponsored By SCA

A new series of student discussions sponsored by SCA, on Personality Development, will be initiated at 3:30 this afternoon at 220 South Seventh street by Mrs. Emella Rathbun of Palo Alto.

This series is designed to develop more mature and enriched personal relations by each student's discovering that which can be most important in his life.

Mrs. Rathbun's husband, Dr. Harry Rathbun, head of the Stanford Law School, has been leading similar groups in Palo Alto for several years. There are 20 such groups in the community at present, 7 of which are on the Stanford campus.

Student Musicians Give Spring Recital

Eleven young artists will participate in a piano and violin-cello recital this evening in the college Little Theater at 8:15, under the direction of Betty and Benning Dexter.

"The performers have been selected because of their ability and desire to provide music for the evening," stated Mr. Dexter, in explaining that the concert is not a requirement for graduation or class but a musical performance for its own sake.

Robert Linn will play his own composition, "Waltz in E Flat Major," and a featured artist will be Mrs. Edith Eagan.

The program will be as follows:

Theme and Variations, A Major, Mozart, Edith Eagan; Grave from G Minor Sonata, Handel, Joseph Cathey, 'cellist, Rosalie Speciale, pianist; Prelude and Fugue, F Minor, Bach, Robert Keller; Grave and Allegro from G Major Sonata, Sammartini, Max Hagemeyer, 'cellist, Rosalie Speciale, pianist; Intermezzo, A Major, Opus 118, Brahms, Aldana Freeman; Allegro (Continued on Page 3)

Blame Laid For High Prices

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5 (UP)—Earl Bunting, President of the National Association of Manufacturers, today laid the blame for high prices squarely on the government.

Disputing President Truman's assertion last Tuesday that "the sole responsibility for reducing prices lies with business," Bunting told the eighth annual northern California NAM meeting "it was government not industry . . . that set the wage pattern of 18½ cents a year ago."

That pattern, he said, has now been translated into higher prices.

Over 800 Visitors Participate In All-Day Program

More than 800 seniors from eight county high schools will be guests of San Jose State college today.

The visitors are from Fremont, Mountain View, Los Gatos, Santa Clara, Washington, Gilroy, Live Oak, and Campbell union high schools.

They will assemble in Morris Dailey auditorium at 9:40, where they will be introduced to Dr. O. S. Hubbard, county superintendent of schools, the five deans of the college, and Marty Taylor, president of the Associated Student Body.

During the rest of the morning, the students will divide into groups representing their interests and objectives, and visit one or more of the college's departments listed on their programs.

They will be guided by members of Spartan Knights, Spartan Spears, Tau Delta, Arnacoma, Student Council, Freshman class council, and A.W.S., campus student organizations.

After the morning program, the seniors will have lunch in the south quad, with cokes furnished by the Student Council.

They will reassemble in the auditorium at one o'clock for a program to be presented by Spartan students. The program has been arranged by Student Council members Nancy Lynn Flaatt and Bruce McNeil.

Short Stories

Two story lengths will be allowed to short story writers submitting their works to Lycurgus editor, Glenna McQuiston, for the deadline tomorrow. The subject matter is without limit, excepting that it should be of interest to State students.

Anyone having 1500 or 3500 words ready for publication should turn them in to the Publications office today.

Council Passes Emergency Law

Emergency legislation by the Student Council at its regular meeting last night in the Student Union eliminated possibility of a second run-off election for the ASB presidency.

Frances Tuttle, Senior Justice of the Student Court, reported that the closeness of the three candidates in the presidential race last week necessitated the three-way run-off Wednesday.

Miss Tuttle added that there was no provision in the constitution stipulating specifically that the final election had to be decided by a simple majority.

Councilman Tom Wall moved that the Australian ballot be replaced by a preferential ballot in order to choose a new ASB president in this vote. The motion was passed unanimously by the council.

A committee of June Robertson and Jim Gualtieri, council members, reported that the gripe session will be held May 12, at 7, in the inner quad.

Councilman Frank Hearne reported that the postcard questionnaires on the Tenney bill will be available at the polls Wednesday.

The council will send a letter preceding the postcards to Senator Byrl R. Salsman, informing him that the cards represent student opinion, and are not a "Flood of political letters."

THE EYES HAVE IT

For the second time this year the San Jose State campus, its students, its instructors, and its curriculum will be under the critical eyes of nearly five hundred high school seniors when visiting day opens this morning.

As is the case in all these "visits," the graduating members of high schools throughout the Santa Clara valley are here to look us over and determine whether they will continue their education next year here, or in some other college.

It is the duty of the citizens of the Spartan campus to give our guests the best picture possible of the workings of higher education and the advantages it has to offer.

Next fall, these same students will be entering colleges of their own choosing in very troubled times. They will face one of the greatest fights for survival that education ever has faced in California. To a great extent it will be their weight thrown against certain bills that are being considered now by the California State Legislature which will determine the future of progressive curricula in this state.

San Jose State college has been chosen as the proving ground for this area. We have just shown an increased civic-mindedness by breaking the previous vote record in the last election. We now must prove that our election showing was not the result of a build-up, but that we can manifest a campus pride as part of a habit.

Bits of Banter

By ABNER FRITZ

The first round of elections . . . are over! Thank gosh! But we've got final student body president election coming up tomorrow. Just punch my student body card and call me ballot happy.

The winnah . . . of the presidential election will go to Vancouver, B. C., along with Pres. Marty Taylor to attend a conference of college and university student body presidents.

Watch for . . . the new Lycurgus. Last quarter's magazine was nifty and they're trying to do bigger and better things this quarter.

Multiplication . . . if you can picture 500 students taking six trips around the campus plucking out a small sample of shrubbery each trip, it adds up to a lot of vacant trees. At least that is the opinion of Dr. Robert Rhodes of the Science department.

Poem of the week . . .

Spring has sprung.

Fall is fell;

Summer's around the corner,

And it was 95 degrees last Thursday.

All of which proves nothing except that students will be assuming more vacant stares and start drifting beachward (on the weekends of course.)

Here's luck . . . to the new vice-president, secretary and treasurer, of the ASB. The three lovely ladies are Pat Polk, Margaret McLean and Charlotte Harder.

Ha! . . . Yesterday's Daily said Waterman of Fresno broadjumped 34 feet. We doubt it.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (UP)—Chairman John Taber, R., N. Y., said tonight after a government-industry-Congressional conference with Secretary of State George C. Marshall that the House Appropriations Committee intends to stick by its decision to scrap this country's "voice of America" and other broadcasts to Europe and Asia.

DANBURY, Conn., May 5 (UP)—Prisoners in the federal correctional institution here have staged a hunger and work "strike," acting warden K. E. Thieman said tonight. "The prisoners are staging a food and work strike," he said. "There is no violence. It is a passive action."

Thieman refused to give further details and would neither confirm nor deny reports that the trouble in the prison began at breakfast time this morning.

JERUSALEM, Palestine, May 5 (UP)—Thousands of British troops spread through the hills of northern Palestine today in a man-hunt for 204 Jewish and Arab prisoners still at large after last night's daring Acre prison attack by the Jewish underground.

The latest official report said that 183 Arabs and 21 Jews had made good their escape out of the approximately 250 prisoners who fled through a hole blasted in the prison wall.

The attack cost the lives of 15 Jews and one Arab. Among the Jewish dead were three known Extremists, eight suspected Extremists and four inmates of the prison.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (UP)—President Joseph A. Beirne of the striking National Federation of Telephone Workers, said tonight he would recommend expulsion of two Chicago union leaders who made an independent wage settlement with the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

KING AND QUEEN COSTUMES TO BE KEPT SECRET

Brilliant colors, something really new and different, is the way the costumes of the king and queen of Spardi Gras were described by Joan Buechner and Yvonne Azevedo, co-chairmen of the Spardi Gras costume committee.

However, the costume chairmen refused to reveal an exact description of the costumes, saying they are to be the only secret of this year's Spardi Gras. They did add that the costumes are of no set period, and the theme in the costumes of the royal pair will be carried out in those of the attendants, pages, and in the costume of Dr. William Poytress, who will crown the king and queen.

SJSC to Receive Exhibit By LIFE

San Jose State college has been chosen as one of the few colleges in this nation to receive the Life magazine exhibit of photographs and material on cathedral towns, according to Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, Art department head.

The exhibit has been compiled by Life to correspond with their current magazine series on the History of Western Culture. Dr. Reitzel announces the exhibit will be here on Monday, May 26.

PULITZER PRIZES AWARDED WRITERS

UP Wire Service

Frederick Woltman, 42-year-old investigator and staff writer of the New York World-Telegram, won the Pulitzer prize for distinguished reporting today for his exclusive dispatch in 1946 revealing infiltration methods used by the communists in the United States.

Robert Penn Warren was awarded the prize for the most distinguished novel dealing with American life. His novel: "All the King's Men."

No award was given for the year's best play, and the committee gave no reason for its omission.

The award for "Disinterested and Meritorious Public Service" went to the Baltimore Sun for a series of articles by Howard M. Norton, dealing with administration of unemployment compensation in Maryland, which resulted in convictions and pleas of guilty in criminal court of 93 persons.

William H. Grimes of The Wall Street Journal was awarded the prize for distinguished editorial writing. Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times was awarded a prize for distinguished correspondence for his series of articles on Russia.

Arnold Hardy, Atlanta, Ga., amateur photographer, won a $500 award for his photograph of a young woman leaping to her death from the blazing Winecoff hotel.

PUEBLO, Col. (UP)—The outside of a pig is good for more than making footballs. To absorb the roar of skate wheels, two carloads of hogs' hair were placed between the concrete and maple flooring of a new roller rink in Pueblo.

From 'Way Down Deep in the Heart of' Comes a Shortstop for Sparta

By TOM ROWEN

Harold "Tex" Phillips, Spartan shortstop, who is currently the baseball team in the hitting department, played football for two eastern schools before coming to San Jose to star on the gridiron and diamond for the Spartans. Hal won seven letters at Arlington high school in Fort Worth, Texas, before going to college.

Funds OK

The shortages of subsistence funds now delaying delivery of checks to many college veterans does not effect the outpatient medical and dental program for veterans, according to a recent report from the San Francisco VA office.

The report indicated that the San Francisco regional office of the Veterans Administration has sufficient funds to continue treatment of service-connected disabilities.

Whoops!

Due to an error in yesterday's Spartan Daily, only the names of 13 of the 38 counselors for next year's Freshman Camp were listed. A complete list will be published Monday, May 12, in time for the meeting that evening.

He played football in 1942 for Franklin-Marshall college and in 1945 while a Navy ROTC trainee, played second team halfback for University of Pennsylvania. Playing on that year's Red and Blue team was George Savitzky and Joe Dickerson who were selected on several All-American teams at the tackle and guard positions.

Phillips and Coach Walt McPherson played baseball together in 1943 for Corpus Christi NAS. Hal also played on the U. S. S. Missouri team which won the Caribbean baseball championship in 1946.

"Football is my game but I like baseball," he remarked in the dugout before the second Fresno State baseball game Saturday night. "I played two years of high school basketball but I like outside sports better."

Hal played halfback on Coach Bill Hubbard's Raisin Bowl team. He is majoring in commerce.

THRUST AND PARRY

Democratic Aid

Thrust and Parry:

Be sure to vote for the proposed Aid to Greece and Turkey bill, providing an attached rider is added providing for the execution of this aid in the interests of a democratic way of life for the people of these two countries. You see Mr. McLane, it might be very possible for our attempted aid to Greece and Turkey to fall into the wrong hands, and we wouldn't want that to happen, would we?

It seems to me, it is about time we American citizens started facing a few facts. The most glaring problem facing this country is a troubled world trying to find its way back to some form of normalcy after a devastating war.

Personally, I feel that this country of ours must bear the brunt of the burden of giving the people throughout the world a chance for a better way of life than they now have, through the promotion of our own democratic way of life. If this is not done I feel that our way of life (greatly unappreciated) in these United States will in turn be lost. Personally, Mr. McLane, I want to retain the things that are ours

In this fine old country of ours How about you?

Who Snatched Snaps?

Thrust and Parry:

A lot of students are being disappointed because of someone's thoughtlessness. Last Friday there were some pictures of the Junior Prom displayed for the benefit of all who wanted copies. Several people ordered them, but, alas, the orders must be delayed because someone removed the entire display panel of pictures.

All we ask is that they be returned, since the pictures do not belong to the Junior class council but to Leiter's studios, who have done us the courtesy of taking them. They were kind enough to cooperate with us on the Junior Prom.

If only the people who took the panel would be kind enough to return it to the Publications office, everything will be fine.

Those who ordered pictures will get theirs but a little later than expected. Please forgive us. You understand.

Pictorially yours,
Bill Wagner

CCAA MEET SATURDAY, NEXT ON UNDEFEATED THINCLAD'S LIST

San Jose State college's undefeated track team will invade Fresno this Saturday to regain the California Collegiate Athletic association championship they lost last year to the Fresno State Bulldogs. Coach Bud Winter will enter a full team in the meet with only one man definitely out and one doubtful starter.

Absent from the entries will be Billy Parton, sprinter. Also on the sidelines, but who may enter the meet Saturday, is Elwood Clark, San Jose's number two javelin tosser. Clark is still bothered by a bad leg, which he further injured in the COP meet at Stockton.

The Spartans will go into the meet the heavy favorites by virtue of their dual meet wins over all-conference foes except Cal Poly, whom they did not meet this year. Fresno is practically assured of second place with San Diego pressing them. College of the Pacific, Santa Barbara, and Cal Poly should follow in that order.

In the Fresno meet several San Jose men showed great improvement, despite the fact they were overshadowed by the invaders. Bill Schemmel improved his broad jump mark by two feet as he leaped 23 feet 4 1/4 inches. Schemmel, who moved into second place in the 220 yard low hurdles when Billy Rhyne lost his stride, finished in less than 24 seconds for another improvement over his old mark.

Phil Lorenzen made his all time best in the pole vault as he reached the 13 foot mark to gain a tie for second place with Howard Overhouse. Jack Passey, who consistently runs second in the 120 yard high hurdles, bettered his old mark when he finished just behind Fresno's Merle Martin, whose time was 14.6. Big Woody Linn turned in his best shotput mark but again had to be satisfied with second place. Linn's best toss was good for 49 feet 3 inches.

Thelno Knowles turned in the finest all around performance winning the gruelling 440 yard run and coming back three events later to take the 880 yard run. In the quarter Knowles' time was 49.3 and the half mile, 1:57.1.

In the sprints Steve O'Meara was impressive in picking third in both the 100 and 220. O'Meara after a slow start in the 220 moved up to the front around the 180 yard mark but then was passed by both Don Smalley and Bob Bingham in the final twenty yards.

BASEBALL TEAM PLAYS STOCKTON

Coach Walt McPherson's Spartan baseball team went through a hard drill yesterday at the practice field in preparation for the COP twin bill which will be played tomorrow at Oak Park in Stockton. The afternoon game will start at 2 p.m. and the nightcap will get underway at 8 p.m.

Coach Bill McWilliams' fourth place Tiger nine will do a lot in determining this year's CCAA baseball championship if they knock San Jose out of the race tomorrow or by defeating San Diego State in three out of four games, the Tigers can force a replay of the Aztec-Spartan double header that was rained out in April.

The first COP-San Diego twin bill is scheduled for May 17 at Oak Park with the second bargain contests being played in the Border City on May 24.

San Jose completes their 1947 baseball season Wednesday unless the Tigers can come through with victories in the Aztec series. The Spartans will play San Diego on May 19 at Municipal stadium in a double-header, provided COP wins both ends of the May 17 twin bill. However, San Jose has a double header with Santa Barbara college to re-play in case the Spartans and Aztecs wind up the season in a tie.

Four men have been entered by Coach Mumby. They are: Captain Gene Franco, Bob Brokop, Dave Parnay, and Greg Sargent. Franco and Brokop will handle the singles assignment, while Parnay and Sargent will be the doubles team. Captain Franco is a veteran of last year's net squad which took the CCAA championship.

Five other teams have entered the tourney. They are: Cal Poly, San Diego State, Santa Barbara college, College of the Pacific, and Fresno State. The COP Tigers are favored to win the CCAA tennis classic, as they have won the Northern California Tennis tourney and placed in the final round at Ojai.

MERMEN PLUNGE INTO CCAA MEET

Coach Charlie Walker and fourteen varsity swimmers will wade into Fresno this Saturday for the CCAA conference meet. Three other schools are expected to enter full teams; the remaining schools a few swimmers. Those entering full teams are: College of Pacific, Cal Poly, and Santa Barbara.

The Tigers, by virtue of their two victories over San Jose in dual meets this year, rate a slight edge in single championships, but the Spartans with more depth could retain their team championship, according to Coach Walker. The Guachos have to be given some thought as they downed the Cal Poly team two weeks ago in San Luis Obispo. San Jose holds twin victories over the Mustangs.

Coach Walker will enter four men in each event. Time trials will take place at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and the finals will be held at 2 o'clock that afternoon. The meet will be scored according to national meet rules for the first time.

Those making the trip are: Dave Moore, Hugh Wood, Jack Daly, Gordon Phillips, Don Thomson, Tudor Bogart, and George Hodgins, freestyle swimmers; Captain Ed Rudloff and Pete Wolff, breaststrokers; Al Grass and George Peckham, backstrokers; and Leo Gaffney, Pat McConnell, and Jim Fenton, divers.

PHILLIPS HOLDS LEAD IN BATTING

Hal Phillips, Spartan shortstop, is still leading the baseball team in the hitting department. He is also still in the lead with the number of runs scored.
