RED CROSS TOTAL
HITS $1430.88;
QUOTA EXPECTED

The campus Red Cross fund drive total stood at $1430.88 late Friday afternoon, with two more days left for students and faculty to reach the goal of $1720, according to Miss Edith Graves of the Business office.

It was decided last Thursday to extend the drive through tomorrow, since campus Red Cross chairmen Claire Canevari, student chairman, and Mrs. Dolores Spurgeon, faculty chairman, felt that the college quota could be met if the drive were extended two days. Originally the drive was to end on Friday of last week.

On Friday, according to Miss Graves, the faculty donated $247, bringing their total donations for the drive to $1153.12, and students donated $50.17, bringing their total to $277.76.

Organizations who contributed on Thursday and Friday were: Beta Gamma Chi, $25; Theta Mu Sigma, $5; Kappa Kappa Sigma, $16; Allenians, $20; Ero Sophian, $7.05; Tri Gamma, $12, junior class, $10; Spartan Spears, $25; Newman Club, $7.06; Tau Delt, $12.35.

"The drive has been going splendidly," Mrs. Spurgeon said, "and I feel certain that we will reach the goal set for the drive."

The booth in the Library arch will remain open today and tomorrow, according to Miss Canevari, Spartan Spears and Kappa Kappa Sigma pledges will be in charge of the booth.

Vacancy Notice

All students who will be moving at the end of the quarter are requested by Miss Bernice Van Gundy to stop in the Dean of Men's office and leave notification of the vacancy.

APO Book Exchange Opens for Business First Week of Spring

The Student Book exchange will be open March 31, April 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7, states Harold Riddle, president of Alpha Phi Omega.

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, took over the operation of the exchange at the start of winter quarter, and will again be in charge of the exchange at the beginning of spring quarter.

"Purpose of the exchange," Riddle says, "is to eliminate the middle man in selling used textbooks. APhiO does this as a service to the school."

"We will pay students 75 per cent of the price they paid for the text, which is more than any outside firm will do. As it is a non-profit outfit, the exchange sells the books for the same price as it offers for them."

"There is a slight difference in price due to federal sales tax and a small service charge to cover the cost of printing cards, signs, and incidental expenses."

"Any money left over at the end of the quarter goes into our service fund. This fund is used for school projects, and for donations to the Memorial Chapel fund, and the World Student Service fund," Riddle concludes.

Seniors Must Present Excuses

Mr. Milton Lanyon, senior class advisor, wishes to remind all seniors taking orientation this quarter and who have missed meetings, to attend tomorrow's meeting and present their excuses in order to obtain credit for the course.

AFL UNION HEAD SENDS WARNING TO DEAN'S OFFICE; WANTS ACTION

By PAUL HURMUSES

AFL GIVES STUDENTS CHANCE TO GET OFF UNION BLACK LIST

Students are urged to quit working immediately at the AFL picketed J. C. Penney store, according to J. P. McLoughlin, secretary of the Local Retail Clerks union.

"Inasmuch as students were not warned by their employer that the store was on the Union blacklist, we are giving all students a chance to clear themselves in the files of the AFL," he stated Friday afternoon.

The secretary of the union declared he was unaware that it was the American Youth for Democracy which assisted pickets on the job last Wednesday noon. At that time, McLoughlin released a statement to the city papers that he "welcomed any efforts by the students at San Jose State college."

"Any college men who continue to work at J. C. Penney's are deliberately undermining the principles of organized labor, and as such, will eventually come under the jurisdiction of the local union," continued McLoughlin.

"However, any students who may still be employed at the store may redeem themselves by completing one hour picket duty in front of the establishment."

In the opinion of McLoughlin, the Penney store employees are working beneath the wage scale set by the Union. By assisting organized labor, he claims that college students may overcome this undesirable situation.

In a letter to Dean Paul Pitman, McLoughlin stated that "finks" and "scabs" from San Jose State college engaged in strike-breaking activities from February 22 to February 23 and that by doing so, took the place of striking workers.

The letter went on to say that the Dean of Men's office should not put the college in a position as a source of "scab labor." "It is rumored that contacts are currently being made to involve more students in this situation, and we feel that you should certainly exert initiative in preventing any recurrence of this type," the letter continued.

Students who were working before February 20, the date on which the picket line was thrown around the store, will be "given special consideration," declared McLoughlin.

McLoughlin insisted that no matter what students were involved in the "strike-breaking activities," their first duty is to go up to the Retail Clerks union offices and straighten things out and "make themselves square" again.

At the present time, Clifford Swanson, head of Penney's, is under fire from the union for allegedly hiring students without informing them of the impending strike.

AWA Cabinet Meet

There is an important AWA cabinet dinner meeting tomorrow at 5:30 in the Dean of Women's office. Please attend. Pat Polk, acting-president.

STUDENT HELP NOT DELIBERATELY SOLICITED, SAYS PENNEY'S MANAGER

"We are not deliberately soliciting help from the students of San Jose State college. However, if students are seeking employment, and we have room for them, we are only too happy to take them on." This statement was made by Mr. Clifford Swanson, head of the J. C. Penney department store which has been picketed by the AFL for the past two weeks.

In a telephone interview late Thursday, the local business man told this reporter that Union statements which said that "over 60% of the hired students quit upon discovering that they were handling non-union merchandise" were false.

"We have always had a staff which included students from State, and in particular, veterans who were working part-time," Swanson continued. "This store was under contract to unload goods for our new building. The AFL called a strike and stopped all work, thereby tying up truckloads of merchandise. Thirty-two students were called in to work, not 150 as was reported in Friday's issue of the Union Gazette. The Gazette, incidentally, stated that 60 of the men quit immediately upon discovering that a strike was in progress."

"Actually," declared Swanson, "there were two men who refused to work. The rest stayed on and completed the job."

The Gazette stated that "scabs and finks from San Jose State college, who were hired solely for this strike-breaking job, did teamsters' and warehousemen's work—loading, driving, and unloading the trucks."

The Union organ further went on to say that the students involved had "apologized" to the Retail Clerks union, and had agreed voluntarily to picket the J. C. Penney store. However, they were afraid that such action might "be noted against their record by the college and might be counted against them in later years."

The Gazette probably was referring to the ten members of the American Youth for Democracy who picketed the store on Wednesday noon, carrying placards reading "San Jose State college."

The group, under the leadership of Henry Leland, had solicited, through the use of pamphlets, the assistance of the Student Body in protesting against the Penney establishment.

HUGHES NAMED ALL-CCAA CENTER

Chuck Hughes, San Jose's leading scorer and pivot man on this year's cage team, was given a berth on the California Collegiate Athletic Association All-Conference basketball team.

The selection was made by the coaches of the conference schools at Santa Barbara Saturday.

Other first team honors went to Harvey Hubler, Santa Barbara, and Jack Toomay, College of Pacific at forwards; and Hank Moroski, Cal Poly, and Grant Dunlap, College of Pacific, at guards.

Hal Sonntag, Spartan defensive man, was selected for guard spot on the all-conference second team.

Pitman Replies To Union Charges Of 'Scabs---Finks'

Mr. James P. McLoughlin, Secretary-Treasurer, Retail Clerks Union, A.F.L., 84 South First St., San Jose 16, California.

Dear Jim:

I regret to discover that my attempt to prevent a breach between our students and organized labor should have failed. I am even more distressed to learn by your letter of March 5 that you seem to feel that my efforts may actually have aggravated the problem.

While I am not quite sure whether your letter was intended only to express your general unhappiness with the situation or whether you want us to "do" something now, I hasten to answer in the hope that some of the misunderstanding may be cleared up.

1. Our position in this or any other labor-management controversy is quite clear. A college supported by tax funds contributed by both Labor and Capital has no business supplying strike-breakers any more than it has enlisting students to march in picket lines.

2. In this particular controversy the College has aided neither side. Whatever may be my personal sympathies—and I have staunch friends in both camps—we have neither directly nor indirectly used this office to encourage or discourage either strike-breaking or picketing, nor shall we.

Very truly yours,

Paul M. Pitman, Dean of Men

CCAA ADOPTS PURITY CODE

San Jose State college, along with other members of the California Athletic association, adopted the NCAA's new athletic code in a meeting of physical education department heads in Santa Barbara Saturday.

The "purity code", set up by the NCAA the first of the year, was first adopted by Fresno State college last month.

The code deals mainly with the principles of amateurism, academic standards and financial aid to sports participants. Teams adopting the code will not be permitted to play other schools unless they have adhered to the code. However, contracts with other teams may be carried out this year, the NCAA committee stated.

PHELAN CONTEST ENTRIES ARE DUE APRIL 4

April 4 is the deadline for entries for the Phelan contest, announces Dr. Raymond Barry, head of the English department.

Entries for the contest are being accepted at the English department office in room 28 in the Home Economics building.

The awards for the contest were provided under the terms of a bequest made by the late Senator James D. Phelan. There will be $200 allotted to the six divisions of the contest this year.

First prizes of $18 will be given for the winning sonnet, lyric, free verse, essay, short story, and play. A second prize of $10 and a $5 third prize will be given in all divisions.

Prizes were given in only four divisions of the contest last year. Jocelyn Reed, sophomore education major from Berkeley, walked off with three first prizes and a total of $115 in prize money.

All contributions must be typed in double space. The full title of each contribution should be placed at the top of the first page, and an abbreviation of this title should appear in the upper left-hand corner of each following page, announces the English department.

Dr. Barry emphasizes that the name of the writer must not appear anywhere upon the manuscript submitted to the Phelan contest. A cover sheet must be submitted with the name of the author, the titles of each contribution, and the division in which each contribution is submitted.

There is no limit to the number of manuscripts which may be submitted by any one student. However no applicant may be over 30 years of age, and he must be registered as a regular student in San Jose State college for at least one quarter of the regular school year.

College Symphony Orchestra Presents New Selection

San Jose State college symphony orchestra will present tomorrow night "Le Coq D'Or Suite," a selection never before played by any musical group in or near San Jose, according to Mr. Thomas Eagan, symphony director.

"Le Coq D'Or Suite' in four movements is a very popular, but also very difficult suite to perform," said Mr. Eagan, "and will test the skill of our musicians." The music tells the story of a king who is destined to a terrible fate and is warned of his trouble by the cry of a strange bird. Shrill woodwinds simulate the voice of the bird. The four movements in the suite describe the king's battles, loves, and death.

Featured with the symphony orchestra are vocal soloists, Emily Baptista, Carl Dimeff, and Bruce Stewart. These students, under the direction of Miss Maurine Thompson, have appeared recently in the college vocal recital and the A Cappella choir concert.

Mr. Eagan will make his 55th appearance with the concert orchestra tomorrow night. He has served as its conductor for the last 5 years and before that was a member of the woodwind section.

The orchestra at present numbers 90 pieces, and is, according to Mr. Eagan, one of the best groups the college has had.

There is no charge to the concert which is open to the public.

GIVE US CREDIT

Last Wednesday a number of San Jose State college students, organized under the title of American Youth for Democracy, took it upon themselves to stage a publicity stunt. Their ideas, as expressed in a pamphlet to stir up interest, were to blot out some "bad publicity" by staging a demonstration representative of the entire student body of San Jose State college.

The stunt was a flop. This minority of students acted like the children in the story of the 'Pied Piper of Hamelin'—someone tooted a horn and they followed.

Today, the people they had sought to aid have turned from them. The students, whom they felt they represented, are highly "miffed" at the "bad publicity" the AYD has caused. The union, who has stated that student support in its picketing was appreciated, is also dubious as to the benefits, if any, the demonstration brought to its cause.

However, the real issue is not whether the AYD did a good turn for any person or group of persons. But rather, where do they get the authority to continually print and distribute materials which they claim to be the beliefs of the students of San Jose State college when actually they represent a possible one out of every three hundred?

We hope that the members of this organization will give the remaining thousands of students who don't belong to their group, credit for being able to form their own opinions.

EB BIDS FOR BIG TOP

Elda Beth Payne, called "EB" by her friends, has made a bid for the big top.

Friday she was seen strolling by the Speech wing with make-up of which any clown would have been jealous.

Spots of green, yellow, and blue, plus a huge red mouth, at least three times larger than the original, and a wig with receding forehead, made her look the part. Carrying an umbrella and wearing huge slippers, all she needed was sawdust and a ring.

After considerable coaxing, she revealed what her act will consist of. She is auditioning before Ringling Brothers, and Barnum and Bailey before they begin their summer tour.

According to Miss Payne, her act includes three trained zebras. They change their stripes upon a given signal, she revealed.

SYMPHONY SOLOISTS STUDY EXTENSIVELY

By DOT McCULLOUGH

Vocal soloists who appear with the San Jose State college symphony orchestra have to be better than just good.

The soloists, Emily Baptista, Carl Dimeff, and Bruce Stewart, have been studying under the direction of Miss Maurine Thompson, of the Music department.

EMILY BAPTISTA

Miss Baptista, soprano, a junior, hails from Oakland. As a high school student there, she had the lead in a number of operettas and musical plays. Last week she appeared as soloist with the A Cappella choir.

"Miss Baptista," says Miss Thompson, "has a splendid soprano voice of great flexibility, with lyric dramatic texture." She will sing Mozart's Allelujah and the Puccini aria "Mi Chiamano Mimi" from La Boheme when she appears with the symphony tomorrow night.

CARL DIMEFF

Carl Dimeff is a local student. He attended San Jose high school where he participated in many musical events and then entered San Jose State college before the war. His college work was interrupted by service as an officer in the Flight Instruction department of the Army Air Forces. He re-entered college in 1946. The past year he has presented a number of interesting Russian songs and arias, since he is of Macedonian descent and is very conversant with the Russian language.

He will present the famous arias of "Farewell and Death of Boris" from Boris Godounov, by Moussorgsky. He will also sing Varlaam's song from the same opera.

A sketch of Bruce Stewart will appear in Tuesday's edition of the Spartan Daily.

Recollection

Frequent use of the word "fink" in connection with the labor dispute between the Retail Store Clerks' Union and Penny's store recalls that San Jose State college proudly claims a "fink" in its official history. Of the five ladies and one gentleman who enrolled on the first day of the opening of the new Normal School of the State of California, way back in 1862, one was a "fink."

Her name was . . . P. Augusta Fink.

Lycurgus is Self Supporting Mag

What is the destiny of the 35 cents that you will plunk down on the sales booths in exchange for one of the 2000 issues of Lycurgus, campus magazine, when it makes its fourth quarterly appearance here Wednesday morning?

According to Sal Millan, Lycurgus business manager, the revenue derived from sales, together with that obtained through advertising, is responsible for keeping the magazine on a sound, self-supporting footing.

In illustrating this point, he cited the fact that last quarter Lycurgus not only paid for itself through the rapid sell-out of 2000 issues and the abundance of ad space sold, but realized a $74 margin of profit to carry over as a working fund for next quarter.

Millan indicated that credit for the exceptional advertising support favoring Lycurgus this quarter is due Glenna McQuiston, ad make-up editor; Jessie Steinnagel and Joe Hewitt, ad salesmen; and the friendly cooperation of local business establishments.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

By IRENE BRENNAN

Last week in Chico a boy was born to Mrs. Robert Hennigan, the former Barbara Campbell of Monterey, who was a journalism student here.

The baby weighed 7 pounds 4 ounces at birth and was named Robert Norman.

Virginia Hennigan, junior music major from Chico, is his aunt.

A recent marriage which took place in Reno is that of Anne Potter, sophomore English major from Menlo Park, to Alfred Wigger, freshman pre-veterinary student from Menlo Park.

The couple are honeymooning in southern California, and plan to make their home there.

At the last Phi Kappa Pi meeting, Elayne Cancilla, freshman commercial art major from San Jose, announced her engagement to Manuel Frietas, Jr., a former student here, and also from San Jose. No plans have been made for the wedding.

Former student Barbara Maloney of Menlo Park traveled to the Philippine Islands recently to become the bride of Alvin J. Farretta, University of California graduate and mining engineer, there.

The wedding took place in Manila, complete with added Filipino marriage customs according to the bride's letters to friends here. The couple are living in Daveo.

THRUST AND PARRY

AYD ACCUSED

Dear Thrust and Parry and Student Council:

I, a member of the Student Body and holder of Student Body Card number 4313, accuse the American Youth for Democracy chapter, at San Jose State college, of deliberately attempting to represent the students in an off campus affair, in a manner which is detrimental to the interests of the Student Body. As a member of the Student Body, I request that the aforementioned on-campus organization be prosecuted by the Student Court on these grounds.

As a member of the Student Body, and as a veteran, I feel that the labeling of the veterans here, who worked for Penney's, as "Scabs" was unjust and unfair. A majority of the students here at the college are veterans, and are sincerely endeavoring to add to their government derived income by outside jobs.

That at any time they should be attacked, WITHOUT HAVING BEEN OFFICIALLY INFORMED THAT THEY WERE GOING AGAINST THE WISHES OF THE UNION, AND WHEN THE UNION HAD WITHDRAWN THE PICKETS FROM THE PREMISES, is bad enough. But when an organization which purports, as does the AYD, to represent the Student Body in its picket lines, and openly attacks the veterans and other students, and also attacks and libels fellow students, it is my humble opinion that that organization should be requested by the Student Body to disband.

It is also my opinion that the faculty of the college, in conjunction with the Student Council, should investigate the activities of the organization and seek its removal from the campus.

AYD 'PARASITE'

Thrust and Parry:

What is this school coming to that we students allow such a person as Henry Leland to drag us into labor disputes, and to express the opinion of a leftist minority as the general policy of the school. We are coming to this school to get an education and not to make a political organization of the school. We are here to go through the process of learning, and not for interference with the city government, or to speak collectively of a labor dispute, which is none of our, or Henry Leland's business.

The AYD has done nothing for the school or students but to lower our reputation in the eyes of the townspeople.

Let us, as students of State, rise up and eliminate this parasite that is bleeding the school of its good name and reputation.

PROBLEMS

Dear Thrust and Parry:

The front-page article of Thursday's Spartan Daily entitled, "AFL Puts Jinx on Non-Union SJS Students," should cause SJS students to ask:

1. Why the views of an "unidentified representative of the local Retail Clerks' Union" should be the basis of a front page article on a controversial subject, and whether the views have validity?

2. Why students who worked for an employer who has no union contract and whose employees are not on strike should be considered strike-breakers and scabs?

3. Why, as the unidentified representative of the union was quoted, "right or wrong it is the duty of all union members to stay away from the picket line of ANY union?" Why should this be the view of the general public? Also, why are not sympathetic strikes outlawed?

4. What are the qualifications for membership in the various unions, and what control does the public have over the admission of citizens to unions which seek to bar non-union members from jobs?

These are practical, personal questions as well as being problems in public policy. Each student should wonder if economic "fraternities" are to have power to decide who shall have jobs and who not.

Further, there is the question of whether the weapons of organized labor, the control over union members, and the control over the work needs of employers, are consistent with the objectives of modern society and the constitutional bases of our individual freedoms.

Owen Broyles

'BE FAIR'

Thrust and Parry:

Most of the students in this school, in a few years, will be either white-collar workers or small employers. When a white-collar workers union, such as the Retail Clerks Union of San Jose, is involved in a strike we should do a little serious thinking about the situation.

Many white-collar workers have joined labor unions since the depression. Nearly all newspaper reporters are members of the CIO Newspaper Guild. Teachers are more and more joining the AFL Teachers Union. In the movie and stage fields, unions are here to stay. Insurance agents, office workers, radio artists and scores of other white-collar and professional people have joined labor unions.

These people have joined unions because they were not receiving decent wages or fair working conditions. Through membership in unions they are beginning to receive a decent deal.

In San Jose, the retail clerks have been fighting a long and bitter battle to improve their working conditions and raise their wages from a shockingly low level.

Through the years they have been looking forward to a goal—a five day working week. If you ever worked for six days in every week you know what one more day off would mean. Probably when they secure that five day week it will be spread out over six days with a few people off each day throughout the week.

Practically all the large department stores in San Jose have union contracts. One store—the J. C. Penney Co.—is still non-union. Several years ago the company refused to bargain with the Retail Clerks Union because it did not have a majority of the department store clerks in San Jose for members. Today the union has a majority of the clerks in

IRC DISCUSSES DIPLOMATIC BREAK WITH SPAIN

Josephine Mayayo, who lived in Spain during the Civil War, will be the guest speaker of the International Relations club at its final meeting tonight at 7:30 in room 20, according to Jack Haller, chairman. After the talk, the members of the organization will participate in an informal discussion of the Spanish problem.

According to Haller, the group will make plans for next quarter and probably will begin to make plans for the annual conference of the International Relations clubs which will be held here in the fall quarter.

Industrial Safety Problems Will Be Discussed Tonight

Industrial safety problems will be the subject of discussion when John Over, safety engineer for Pacific State Steel company, addresses the San Jose State college engineering society in room S210 at 7:30 tonight.

According to Bob Church, publicity chairman, Over is a prominent authority in the field of safety engineering, and is prepared to offer information on the subject that will prove of special interest to college engineering students.

this city.

The manager still refuses to bargain because they don't have a majority of his employees. If the union signs up a majority of his clerks, he will probably refuse again on the grounds that they don't have a majority of the members of his board of directors.

Now where do we fit into the picture? When people have worked so long and hard to improve their working conditions, do we have the right to slap them in the face by crossing picket lines and interfering in the dispute?

The small handful of students who hauled merchandise into the new Penney's store for a few lousy bucks recently should stop and think for a minute. Maybe in a few years they will be working in the stores in this town. If the working conditions are bad, they will have themselves to thank.

Be fair to the white-collar workers of San Jose. Respect the union picket line at the J. C. Penney's store.

STATE BOXING, GYMNASTIC TEAMS WIN TITLES AT WINTER CARNIVAL

By WILBUR AGEE

San Jose State college captured the boxing and gymnastic titles at the California Collegiate Athletic Association Winter Carnival over the weekend. Led by Wayne Fontes, who scored a TKO over Santa Barbara's Harry Kennison in 1:58 of the first round, Coach Dee Portal's boxers nosed out Santa Barbara 24 to 20 1/2 to take the title. Bob Anderson, 145 pounder, and Don Schaeffer, 175 pounder, walked off with other individual honors for the Spartans.

Coach Ted Mumby's eight man wrestling team was nosed out by San Diego State college, 32 to 30. Bill Rodman and Hans Weidenhofer were the only Spartan winners.

The Spartan badminton team captured third place behind San Diego and Santa Barbara. The Spartans did not enter the fencing event, which was won by Santa Barbara.

With the CCAA title tucked away, Coach Portal will make final plans for the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate tourney at Sacramento Wednesday and Thursday. Here the Spartans will meet the toughest competition they have faced all season.

Idaho, only winner over San Jose this year, will be pre-tourney favorites despite the loss of Ted Diehl and Larry Hanson. Each of the Spartans' five man team walked off with one first place to take the championship.

Val Valdastris won the long horse event. Ray Thomas captured the side horse event. Dick Spencer walked off with the high bar honors. Glenn Thornstrom took the ring event, Leo Gaffney came out on top in the tumbling.

San Jose's badminton team of Jim Waterman, Gareth Adams, Leonard Crowther and Lincoln Kimura, was unable to place a man in the finals. San Diego won one singles and one doubles match with the Gauchos taking the other singles match.

SEVEN EVENTS PLANNED FOR OPENING DAY OF INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

Track Coach Bud Winter announced today that seven events for the senior and novice divisions will be run off during the first day of the annual interclass cinder meet Thursday afternoon at Spartan stadium.

On Friday, the final day of the meet, eight events will take place. All the teams have varsity men who are capable of taking first places, therefore, the scoring should be close.

Spartan track and field fans will see the brilliant Thelno Knowles perform in the 1320 yard dash. Knowles will have plenty of competition with stars like Murray Collins, Eugene Haynes, Don Branson, Merle Knox, and other "dark horses" entered in the race.

Beta Chi Sigma and the Ero Sophian organizations are backing Knowles' track squad, while Theta Mu Sigma is planning to see that Captain Bob Ehrman's outfit gets a square deal.

Team One, with Captain Ray Overhouse at the helm, and Team Two, led by Captain Steve O'Meara, are tabbed to win the contest. However, with a little luck, any of the teams could take first place honors.

List of events for Thursday: event one, 1320 yard dash; event two, 75 yard dash; event three,

SPARTAN NINE DROPS GATORS; BOWS TO STANFORD 7-6

By TOM ROWEN

In a drizzling rain, Roy Duarte pitched the Spartan ball club to its first victory of the season Saturday at Municipal stadium, beating San Francisco State, 6-1. The Spartans lost their second one-run game Friday, when the Stanford Indians beat them, 7-6, at Palo Alto.

Duarte allowed the Gators two hits while the Spartans were able to collect four hits off Al Cox and Bill Rubio, Gator pitchers. Friday, the Spartans hit Stanford pitchers, Phil Wolf and Dave Flatland, for 10 hits while Con Maloney and Bob Pifferini set the Indians down with four hits.

The Spartans got off to an early start Saturday when they scored one run in the second inning. Bob Pifferini walked to start the inning. Elwood Clark struck out for the first out. Cox then walked Krouskup and Wehner. He committed a balk while Wehner was at the plate which sent Pifferini to third and Krouskup to second. Jim Wilson hit a ground ball to Will at second, which forced Pifferini at the plate. Will tried to get Krouskup at third but threw to left field and Krouskup scored. Wehner then was thrown out at the plate by Isola, when he tried to score on the overthrow.

San Jose put the game on ice in the third inning by scoring four runs. Duarte started off by singling to left. Phillips sacrificed him to second. Lopes was hit by a pitched ball. Smith then singled to center, scoring Duarte and sending Lopes to third. Pifferini forced Smith at second on a ground ball hit to the shortstop for the first out. Clark hit to the shortstop, and on a wild throw to first, Lopes scored. Pifferini and Clark scored on a passed ball by the catcher. Krouskup doubled to center but Wehner ended the inning by striking out.

The Gators scored their only run in the second when Marcoulis scored from second on an infield hit by Isola.

Stanford started off Friday's game by scoring three runs in the first inning. Lloyd Merriman tripled with Arce and Bronson on base to score two runs. Merriman then scored, when Ward Walkup flied out to Lopes in center.

The Indians picked up three runs in the third on an error, two walks, and a single to Kircher. They finished their scoring in the fifth inning. Maloney walked Merriman and Walkup with one away. Cardinalli bunted and Merriman scored from second.

The Spartans picked their runs in the fourth when they jumped on Wolf for three runs. Krouskup started things off by singling to left. Smith singled to left and went to second when Kirchner threw to third. Clark tripled to left field, scoring Krouskup and Smith. Lopes struck out for the first out. Wehner was safe on an infield hit and Clark scored. Wilson flied to center and Maloney hit a fly to Peters at second to end the inning.

The Spartan Jayvees lost their second game Saturday when San Mateo high beat them, 8-6. Phil Nell and Burry Dill twirled for the Jayvees.
