NEW BOOKS COVERING VARIETY OF SUBJECTS RECEIVED BY LIBRARY

Interests Of Students Considered First In Selection

About 150 new books, covering a variety of material that might interest and be of use to student readers, have been purchased and will be placed in the library.

All of the books have not been catalogued and placed for use as yet; but Miss Purser, member of the library staff, pointed out several that covered wide variety of subjects and which she thinks should be interesting.

These books are available for student use now, and include "Philosophers in Hades" by T. Smith; "Humanism States Its Case" by J. Aver, "Reptiles and Amphibians" by T. Barbour; "Table Service" by L. G. Allen; "Pen Knife Sketches" by A. Delano; "Asia's Teeming Millions" by E. Dennerly; "New Book of Etiquette" by L. Eichler; "Trains by R. Henry; "The National Recovery Program" by J. Magee; "Making the Most of Your Life" by J. Morgan; "Nijinsky" by R. Nijinsky; "English Journey" by J. Priestley; "Do You Know Chimpanzee?" by G. Schwidetsky; "The Drama of the Weather" by W. Shaw; "Tales of the Spanish Southwest" by W. V. Smith; "The Coming American Revolution" by G. Soule; and "Every College Students' Problem" by O. Werner.

Joe DeBrum Compiles Source List To Assist Teacher of Commerce

A compilation of "Sources of Supplementary Material for Teaching Business Subjects," by S. Joseph DeBrum, class of March 1934 and former secretary to Dr. Elmer H. Staffebach, is to be published in the Business Education World for October.

Mr. DeBrum, now commerce instructor of Sequoia Union High School, Redwood City, states that suitable material to supplement the meager statements in texts is one of the greatest needs of elementary and secondary schools.

To provide easy access of this material he has prepared a source list of material for teachers of economics, commercial geography, junior business education, book-keeping, commercial law, salesmanship, advertising, merchandising, and stenography.

The list will be published serially and all material is free unless otherwise specified.

There are 34 fruit canneries in San Jose, and San Jose State College students work in most of them.

In the libraries of San Jose there are over 257,000 volumes.

Student Committee Selected To Sponsor Fine Concert Series

Guaranteed against substitutions and postponements, the 1934-35 concert series, will be directed by a student committee selected by Mr. Adolph Otterstein, head of the music department, with ticket selling sponsored by the entire student body.

"The program featuring the Don Cossack Choir, Josef Hofman, and Mischa Elman, will not be changed in any way," declared Alice Parrish, student member of the concert series committee, when questioned yesterday concerning the coming musical season.

TICKETS ON SALE

Tickets for the season are on sale at local music stores at the student price of $2.00.

Because of the unusually attractive schedule, it is expected that tickets will be in great demand, since no concert series was enjoyed here last year.

Scheduled to open the season on the evening of Sunday, October 28, is the famous Russian male chorus, the Don Cossack Choir, under the direction of diminutive Serge Jaroff.

On February 5 of next year, Josef Hofman, famous pianist, will appear in concert, and on March 9, Mischa Elman, world-renowned violinist, will close the season.

Jack Charnow, chairman of the student committee, is being assisted by Evelyn Cavala, Arlene Woten, Edith Bond, George Hatfield, Don Madsen, Carl Welz, and Alice Parrish, in furthering plans for the season's schedule.

PEGASUS ENACTS STRICT RULE FOR ABSENT MEMBERS

All members of Pegasus, honorary writing society, who fail to attend two consecutive meetings of the club will be automatically dropped from the membership list, according to Bob Wright, president, after a meeting held last week.

"Absolutely no excuse will be accepted for absences in the future, but as long as they do not occur consecutively, no action will be taken," Wright said.

"A limited number of new members will be admitted to the society this quarter. To secure membership the applicant must submit a suitable manuscript to the secretary, Kay Woods, or to the president. The names of the authors of submitted material will be unknown when the stories are considered by the group.

Dean Cowger, president of the San Jose Play Readers, has expressed his willingness to cooperate with Pegasus society in securing suitable material for the radio broadcasts the Play Readers are planning to feature over Station KQW during the year.

There are eight theaters in the city limits of San Jose with a total seating capacity of 9,300 people.

San Jose's estimated population is 80,000.

President R. Linn Organizes Student Help For Library

Dr. MacQuarrie, Miss Joyce Backus Okay Students' Plan

By CHARLES LEONG

Echoing the assurance of student support on the library problem, the student library committee, called by Ronald Linn, student body president, met yesterday morning in the student council room.

Linn, in explaining the situation, gave a case history of the library problem, and presented a plan which has the approval of both Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of the college, and Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian.

TO STUDY CONDITIONS

The committee, composed of representatives of nine campus organizations, will study library conditions for the remainder of the quarter. They will use a system of cards to tabulate different phases of their findings. At the end of the quarter, a meeting will be held with Dr. MacQuarrie and Miss Backus to study and discuss the results of the survey.

"This plan," Linn explained, "will give the students a voice in the matter and offers them the opportunity to see conditions, as the librarians do."

COMMITTEE APPROVES

The committee voiced approval of the plan and will act upon it at once.

Dr. Carl Duncan In Talk on Dormancy For Science Meet

Destroying the popular belief that all types of dormancy including the winter months are a "winter sleep" brought on by cold, Dr. D. Duncan, member of the science department faculty, opened the fall program of weekly Science Seminars last Monday afternoon in room 112, speaking on "Hibernation and Related Types of Dormancy in Animals".

"Careful observation on the part of various individuals has revealed that hibernation is not as simple as it once seemed," declared Dr. Duncan in introducing his subject. He then proceeded to illustrate that hibernation is not always brought on by cold and ended by heat and that all single phenomena, as was once believed.

Gets Paid For Figure Juggling; But He Has To Keep 'em Straight

Spending other people's money—and getting paid for it—may sound like a lark to San Jose State college students.

But to Mr. E. S. Thompson, business manager of the school, it's a job—and a mighty big job, too. It keeps him sitting on the edge of his chair in his secluded office near the main entrance with his mind in a whirl of bills, balances, and budgets.

Now just take Mr. Thompson's job for a minute. Be sure it's only for a minute, however, or else the financial details of San Jose college will find themselves in a terrible mix-up. They will, that is, unless you're one of those individuals who can remember the numbers on all the cars in a freight train after it has gone by, or recite the preamble to the Constitution backwards.

However, and be that as it may, take Mr. Thompson's job for a minute. See how it is to juggle $340,000 belonging to the State Teacher's College in one hand $180,000 of Junior college money in the other, while balancing the school budget on the end of your nose and trying to dodge six department heads demanding new equipment.

ELMO ROBINSON TAKES ROLE OF MENTOR ON SEX

"Individual attitudes toward sex arise through the process of conditioning in one's early youth," writes Dr. Elmo A. Robinson, associate professor of psychology in an article "The Psychology of Sex" published in a recent issue of "Unity".

"Sex behavior may be traced to a drive, an urge, an instinct, or it may be the result of learning," declares Dr. Robinson.

"In choosing one's mate, one should consider the health of the two involved, their compatibility, their common interests, and their respective families," he pointed out.

LOYALTY TO PARENTS

"The idea of forsaking father and mother to cleave to wife or husband is not to be taken too literally. Loyalty to parents is a desirable virtue in a mate. And loyalty may involve care in sickness and old age," he continues. "Perhaps your parents-in-law will some day have to come to live with you. It is a good idea to look the family over in advance with that in mind."

NEED OF KNOWLEDGE

The writer closes his article with the statement that: "Our world needs far more scientific knowledge concerning sex than it now possesses. But no matter how much this knowledge may increase, the eternal mystery and charm of the opposite sex will remain for him who approaches life with an aesthetic receptivity for the realm of beauty and about and for the delicateness of emotion and feeling within."

COLLEGE OFFERS BEST TO WILLING STUDENTS, SAY STATE FACULTY

Opportunities Galore At Front Door; So Accomplish More

That San Jose State offers the best to students who are willing to take advantage of the excellent educational and recreational activities given here, seems to be the opinion of the faculty at the State college.

"I find too many students are missing the fun that they can have today, by dreaming of the good times that are in store for them when they transfer to a university. There are many things to be accomplished in the Junior College students' two years here, and they should make the most of it," declared Dr. James DeVoss yesterday.

Other department heads made the following comments:

Mrs. Maude L. Knapp: "Though classes in activity are crowded, we expect to have recreation hours for both men and women."

Dr. Jay C. Elder: "I am happy to welcome the new students, and I wish to emphasize the value of adopting good daily habits, and the organization of a daily time schedule immediately."

Mrs. Ruth W. Turner: "There is a superior group of students in the art department, and because of our increased room, and working facilities I expect better handicraft classes."

"We have three Italian classes this quarter, and a very large enrollment in the German course"—Mr. L. C. Newby.

Miss Joyce Backus: "I am pleased with the comments of both the students and faculty, concerning the change in the library."

Dr. William Poytress announces: "We have three new courses in modern history which should prove interesting."

Dr. P. Victor Peterson: "We have the best science enrollment of any year since the depression, which together with starting the year in our new building, should make this a banner year for the department."

Dr. Margaret Jones: "I am favorably impressed with the cordiality that is present at this college."

Eagan Enjoys New Sheet Music Cabinets

Mr. Tommy Eagan experienced sensations of supreme satisfaction yesterday when he beheld the birth of an idea conceived three long years ago. The brain child materialized in the form of two beautiful new music cabinets designed to hold the music of the Woodwind classes, the Ensemble and the Junior Band.

Music of the extensive library acquired by Mr. Eagan has heretofore been piled here and there at random. The new cabinets add a three year quest.

MICHAEL ANGELO STAFF ARTIST

HAVE MERCY, OR ELSE. . .

This is addressed to people who barge into the Spartan Daily office from time to time and request "a big spread on the front page" for some item that may or may not deserve that consideration.

For your illumination, we have daily news editors whose business it is to determine what shall go on the front page and what shall go elsewhere.

Please trust their ability to judge the value of a story.

Telling a member of the staff—even the editor himself—that your contribution absolutely must go in a certain spot has no weight. If the story is front page material, the news editor will see that it gets there; if it doesn't, please have a little patience, or sympathy or something. Our news editors, like you and all the rest of us, may make mistakes.

We don't want to discourage you from contributing to the paper. By all means, keep it up. But don't tell us what to do with your stories—it creates an additional feeling of responsibility and obligation which we don't relish.

D. F.

ARE YOU SATISFIED?

Last year at this time we were visited almost continually by students with a complaint complex. They didn't like the paper (in that pre-historic period it was called the "Times"); they said their class officers were incompetent, they wanted this and that added to the college to make their stay here more comfortable, they didn't like the paper, the communists were trying to get a foothold here and they didn't like anything about the paper.

We remember how shocked we were last year the first time we heard a student remark that they cared less than nothing about our publication.

As time went on and the complaints continued, the less we worried about the criticisms. We were trying hard to please but nobody seemed to care.

This year things are entirely different. We haven't received any comment as yet. We are not soliciting complaints, but we would like to have your opinion of the paper. As you probably realize by now, this is your paper. If there is anything lacking in the way of news or features we will do our best to obtain them for you if you will tell us.

SAPPO SOCIETY HAS TEA

At the home of their president, Lucretia Martin, Sappho Society held their first rush party, a formal tea, yesterday afternoon. Mimi Kron and Dorothy Rifenburg, who is rushing captain, received at the door. In the receiving line were Lucretia Martin, president; Miss Bernice Tompkins, faculty adviser; Jane Meads, past president; and Mrs. Harry Gassett.

Miss Helen Dimmick, Dean of Women, and Mrs. L. D. Bohnett served.

Home-made candy will be contributed by the six campus sororities to the Junior Auxiliary of the Home of Benevolence for the annual charity bridge party which will be held this Saturday afternoon at Edenvale.

Barbara Blauer, former student at San Jose State college, is heading the junior organization.

PHI KAPPA PI RUSH PARTY

The Hotel De Anza was the charming setting for a tea dancant given yesterday afternoon by Phi Kappa Pi sorority. The affair was the sorority's first rush affair for the season, and many guests shared the afternoon's pleasure.

In the receiving line were the officers of the sorority who are the Misses Kathryn Epps, Elizabeth Simpson, Mary Youngren, Harriet Bailey, Mary Gray, and Fay Sheaffer.

KAPPA PHI WELCOMES GIRLS

Kappa Phi, the national Methodist College Women's Club, is extending a welcome to all Methodist girls and those who attend the Methodist Church while in college. This greeting includes the Junior college as well as Teachers college women. All girls are eligible for membership.

WORLD NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

Brigadier General William Mitchell, retired, told the President's aviation commission yesterday that with 50 dirigibles the United States could destroy Japan in two days if war broke out, and added that the loss of the navy dirigible "Akron" was disgraceful.

The big baseball classic of the year, the World Series, opens today at Navin Field, Detroit, with Alvin Crowder slated to pitch for the Tigers if "Dizzy" Dean starts on the mound for St. Louis. The Cards were yesterday 7-10 favorites to win the series by Tom Kearney, St. Louis betting commissioner.

At the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in San Francisco yesterday, a resolution was presented suggesting that President Roosevelt be asked to have an impartial investigation made of the alleged hostile attitude of Clay Williams, newly appointed NRA board member, toward recovery codes.

Investigators were today searching for an unidentified associate who apparently knew Bruno Richard Hauptmann, indicted for extortion as the Lindbergh ransom receiver, allegedly paid ransom money last February.

Chief Justice William H. Taft announced yesterday the delay of still another day in the supreme court's ruling on whether David A. Lamson, convicted wife slayer should have another trial.

Although the federal income has boomed considerably, Congress must increase it still more to meet New Deal expenses. For the first time since 1930 the government income will exceed $4,000,000,000 mark, figures for the first three months of the current fiscal year indicate.

The 72-year-old mother of the late Russ Columbo, who was accidentally shot and killed September 2 by his close friend, Lansing Brown, Jr., is to believe that her son has gone abroad to make a film. The family has decided, for the mother's sake, to keep up the make-believe as the only way to save her life.

Four hundred longshoremen were continuing their strike today on two piers at the San Francisco waterfront, ignoring an agreement to return to work.

Five cases involving Roosevelt recovery moves are on the docket as the supreme court began its fall term Monday—a sitting that may mean life or death for major parts of the New Deal.

NOTICE

Will all faculty members and members of fraternities, sororities and other social organizations have their individual pictures taken for La Torre as soon as possible at the Pavley studios, corner of Second and Santa Clara streets.

Charles Pinkham
Editor of La Torre

Dear Editor:

A friend of mine, at least he seemed very friendly, although I hadn't met him before, came up to me on registration day, and after chatting a minute, asked me to hold his dog while he went to register. Having nothing to do I consented, and I've been sitting in front of the men's gym holding this pesky Newfoundland ever since. Do you think he's still registering or is it a joke?

THE SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By Bob Spotswood

They're classing the College of Pacific with Stanford, Cal and the other Greats . . . And why not? . . . The Tigers held Cotton Warburton & Co. to a 6-0 score Saturday . . . Amos Stagg is still something more than a character builder . . . The Grand Old Man was even awarded the Hatlo Hat . . . Which is the acme of success . . . It begins to look as if the Stockton team will have things pretty much their own way in the Far Western Conference . . . Unless Fresno, Nevada or San Jose are able to do something about it . . . Too bad about Jim Stockdale . . . The San Luis fullback is out for three weeks with a badly damaged hand . . . He certainly can tote that ball around nicely . . . The Spartans looked terrible trying to block those forward passes Saturday . . . Santa Barbara scored three times in the third quarter through the air . . . It began to look like the Married Men vs. Single men's game.

Dave Barr will do as a punter . . . But he needs to brush up a little on his "coffin corner" kicking . . . Cigars to 'Clipper' Smith, Santa Clara coach, for directing the Broncos to a 7-7 tie with Stanford's Wonder team . . . Harry Hardiman prefers to talk about Isham Jones' orchestra than athletics . . . Just imagine that . . . What did I tell you about those St. Louis Cards, Seivigne? . . . They'll win the World Series, too, with the Delirious Dean Bros. showing the way . . . Freck Owen, a San Jose boy, is one of Detroit's best . . . Why doesn't Ray Arjo play more often than he does? . . . All P.A.L., if memory serves correctly . . . John Costa and other Frosh make their debut Saturday in a preliminary to the varsity wrangle with the Olympic Club . . . Portal's team is playing Mission High . . . Introducing Mush Lanthier . . . One of Palo Alto's better ball players now studying here.

The report comes from Oakland—I don't know how—that George Layden, Notre Dame's new coach, is in favor of dropping the Trojans from his schedule as soon as convenient. Layden is sour on this Notre Dame habit of meeting the nation's best teams one right after the other and merely wants an ordinary run of games without tearing all over the country to meet opponents. The idea would be to let Fordham and St. Mary's carry the banner for the Catholic schools, and let the Ramblers stay in the background, for awhile at least.

Interesting, but probably untrue. The Notre Dame-U.S.C. game is still the biggest football attraction of the year.

Imagine those U.S.C. persons trying to muscle in on our athletic glory, but that is what they are trying to do. They have dubbed their reserve team, which has a schedule of its own, the Spartans. We want those Iowans down there to lay off that stuff, as Mr. DeGroot's men are THE Spartans and dislike the idea of anyone else masquerading under the title. Incidentally, the U.S.C. Spartans played Fresno State Saturday and lost 7-6. All of which leads us to believe that Fresno is pretty fair, as they also hold a 33-0 decision over the improved San Francisco State eleven.

PACIFIC LOOKS STRONG IN GAME WITH TROJANS

By Norman Thole

And what are WE to expect? We at least owe Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg and his handfull of Bengal Tigers some sort of tribute for holding the Trojan's "Thundering Herd" to a meager six digits, from all existing reports they appear to have been fortunate to have obtained these.

Has "the grand old man of football" really developed a defense stubborn and powerful enough to hold the Trojans, or were they fired to an ardent fighting tempo which causes teams to play far over their heads? Or, on the other hand, has the once unbeatable Jones squad, slowed to a walk last year by Stanford, been further slowed to a crawl or to a complete stop—? Merely food for thought among football fans.

In the Far Western Conference this season, practically all of the squads have fallen heavily before the onslaught of the major coast teams—By way of comparison this gives Pacific a big edge; they practice behind closed gates, which may or may not mean that they have something. All of which we look forward to—

All of the Far Western coaches are optimistic regarding their chances for the coveted pennant. Each claims a bigger and better team than last year's. If such is true, Spartan followers will see some hotly contested gridiron spectacles.

INJURIES NOT MENACE TO STATE GRID CHANCES

Contrary to reports, Dud DeGroot, Spartan mentor, is not nearly as "blue" as painted over the injuries inflicted as a result of Saturday's game.

"It is true," stated Dud, "that injuries have caused much shifting of players, and it has been necessary to change our plans several times to cope with these untimely injuries, but there have been no serious mishaps."

Jim Stockdale the shifty, fleet-footed halfback, who came into his own against Santa Barbara Athletic Club, will be forced to watch the game from the bench this Saturday due to a hand injury. He will not participate in actual scrimmage for about ten days, but will be ready for the Chico game.

Dick "Soapy" Johnson, one of State's ambitious ends and a contender for the first string berth, will also be on the sidelines this week. Johnson was clipped from the rear in the first quarter of Saturday's game, sustaining a severely wrenched ankle, which will deter him from further activity this week.

The third injury reported, that of Joe Langtagne, is not at all serious and he will be allowed to play this week, the coaching staff reports.

SPARTAN RESERVES TO MEET LOS GATOS HIGH SCHOOL TEAM FRIDAY

Something new in sport football history will be written into the records Friday afternoon when the second varsity of State will journey to Los Gatos to meet the high school aggregation of the foothill city.

The idea is patterned after the California "Rambler" innovation, and this is the first time that such a thing has been attempted at San Jose. The eleven that makes the trip will be composed of men who have seen little or no service thus far this season.

Dud DeGroot's motive in selecting this team to meet the preppers seems to be one of attempting to un-earth more varsity material. Many of the men on this "Terror" squad are of first-string caliber, but due to injuries, have been unable to show their worth during the first weeks of the season. The game Friday will enable them to show up under fire and also to give DeGroot a little information.

The team is being coached by Jay Tod, and have taken the inspiring cognomen of "Tod's Terrific Terrors". The name itself should put awe into the hearts of the Los Gatos gridsters.

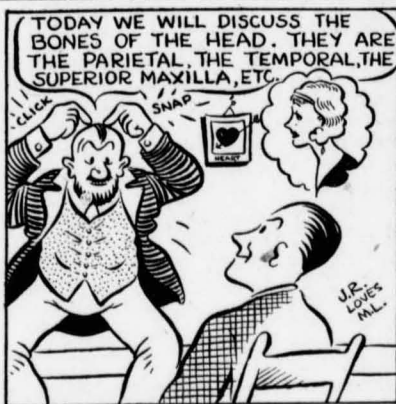

The game will be played on the new Los Gatos gridiron Friday afternoon and will be well worth the trip. All support solicited.

Gridders To Be Guests Of Padre Theater

Rating a free show as guests of the Padre Theater and the management, the Spartan varsity squad will attend the theater en masse Friday night.

Invited by manager Gleason with the thought of helping the squad to relax on the eve of the Spartan-Olympic Club game, scheduled for Saturday, the squad will enjoy a very helpful diversion, in the opinion of Coach Dud DeGroot.

The squad will leave the training table and proceed to the theater about seven o'clock, and will leave the theater in time to be in bed at ten o'clock in compliance with training rules.

MRS. EMILIA LINDEMAN RATHBUN SPEAKS AT FRESHMAN LUNCHEON

Former Student Gives Advice To Frosh Luncheon Group

Advising freshman women to question everything in order to get to the heart of it and discover its real meaning, Mrs. Emilia Lindeman Rathbun, an alumna of San Jose State, spoke before the Y. W.C.A. Freshman Luncheon Club Monday noon in room 1 of the Homemaking building.

Time budgets, popularity, "dates", and the place of activities as compared with studies were interestingly discussed by Mrs. Rathbun who used some of her own experiences to illustrate her points.

"Most women go blindly ahead joining activities without first questioning whether in them they will get the things for which they are searching," Mrs. Rathbun stated, and added that students are then disappointed when an organization fails to live up to their expectations. A little inquiry in the beginning concerning what the activity had to offer would have enabled them to join organizations which would satisfy their desires, she concluded.

The Hostess Committee was delightfully entertained and instructed when Mrs. Rathbun spoke to them Monday afternoon on flower arrangement, showing especially the beautiful effects which can be produced by using rocks to form a natural setting. On a return trip to the campus in the near future, she will speak further on this subject.

Surprise Party Honors Dr. Lubowski

Climaxing the evening with a birthday surprise party in honor of Dr. Boris Lubowski, Iota Delta Phi, French honor society met Monday evening for a combination business and social meeting at the home of Rosalie Mannina, treasurer of the organization.

Plans for initiation were discussed at a short business meeting, and after the social, the society as a group enjoyed a theater party.

Membership in Iota Delta Phi is limited to twenty by the strict admission requirements.

Four quarters in French in residence with a "B plus" average in that language, a grade point average of at least 1.6, a ten-minute speech in French before the members of the society, and finally election by the present members are necessary for admission.

Evelyn Cavala is president of Iota Delta Phi, and the other officers are: Dorothy Pritz, vice president; Earl Pomeroy, secretary; Rosalie Mannina, treasurer; and Lou Fencil, reporter.

Music Objective Book Obtained By Library

A booklet compiled by the combined efforts of the Music Department describing in complete detail the Department's objectives, will appear shortly in the library.

According to Mr. Otterstein, head of the Music Department, over a year has been spent obtaining information concerning every detail of the courses offered by the Department.

Much effort has been expended revising, condensing and organizing the bulletin in order to present it in its most efficient form.

Verse Choir Meet With New Groups; Students Assisting

Plans For Negro Verse Choir Made By Miss Jenks

With verse choir tryouts completed, Miss Elizabeth M. Jenks, and her assistants, Dorothy Vierra, Elizabeth Allampress and Eleanor Yates, met with the new group for the first time yesterday in room 165 from 12 to until 1 o'clock, to arrange tentative group tests.

FOUR GROUPS

Miss Jenks has extensive plans for the choir work this year. The entire membership of the four groups, which worked under various leaders last year, has been designated to one of the three new groups. Miss Jenks will divide her attention between these groups, which will meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday noons.

A negro Speaking Choir is to be one of the main features of the Choir season, Miss Jenks said. This group, composed entirely of Negro students, will meet at some time not yet announced.

Continuing her work with men's groups, Miss Jenks will meet all men students who worked with her last year, on Tuesday and Thursday noons. This work will go on with some of the more technical verse work.

NEW MEMBERS

New members of the verse choir who passed tryouts are as follows: Russell Azzare, Bernadine Bucklere, Esther Dugan, Myra Eaton, Luella Erickson, Mary Gross, Cathine Henley, Genevieve Hoagland, Alice James, Vinette Kolda, Marie Kuhagen, Marian Melby, Robert Orr, Bob Rector, Tuila Richards, Boris Robinson, Jewell Spangler, Loren Wann, Laura Wolfe, William Wolf, Mildred Warburton, Betty Vaughn, Nanne Yost, Norma Pine, June Phares, and Otis Cobb.

This group will meet every Tuesday and Thursday noons under the direction of an experienced student.

Commerce Club Party Welcomes Students; Officer Election Held

Welcoming new and old commerce students, the Commerce club is giving a party this Friday evening at eight o'clock in room one of the Art Building.

The first part of the evening will be devoted to a business meeting. The proposed appointment bureau for technical graduates and others who intend to go into the commercial field, to be run in collaboration with Miss Lydia Innes, will be discussed. The election of a vice president and faculty adviser will also take place.

Dr. E. H. Stafflebach will present a talk on his varied experience in Europe. Refreshments, games, and dancing will complete the evening's entertainment, according to Loren Wann, president of the Commerce club.

Newman Club Will Give Dance Nov. 3

Plans for a Gay Nineties dance to be held Saturday, November 3, at Newman Hall were made at a meeting of the college Newman Club Monday evening.

Members of the Stanford and University of California Newman Clubs will be honored guests at the party.

Those attending will wear costumes and will dance by gas light to complete the effect. A parody on "The Drunkard" will be presented by some of the members of the San Jose Newman Club.

TEACHER PERSONALITY IS IMPORTANT TODAY, REMARKS DR. FREELAND

Personal Appearance Depends Largely On Health, Posture

By Louis R. Walther

"No matter how poor the material we have to start with," Dr. George E. Freeland, head of the education department at San Jose State, said recently, "social qualities can be developed with the exercise of courage and energy."

Desirable social qualities, Dr. Freeland pointed out are among the most essential prerequisites of the profession of teaching.

WORK IN HARMONY

"The prospective teacher must learn to like people and to work in harmony with them. He must learn to smile, to greet persons pleasantly, to make friends, and to keep them."

PERSONALITY IMPORTANT
"Even in high school, the student who expects to become a teacher should begin the development of his personality."

"As the profession of teaching is wearing, he should have a high degree of physical stamina. He should have a body that is active and capable."

"The sedentary type is no longer wanted in the public schools," Dr. Freeland declared. "The person whose interest does not include the physical field rarely succeeds in teaching."

Personal appearance, dependent to a large degree on health and posture, is also dependent upon clothing. Clothing should be neat and suited to the type of the wearer. It need not be expensive.

Dr. Freeland explained that the student whom he considered the most consistently pleasingly dressed during his college course never spent more than ten dollars on his clothes at one time.

Good health, a well groomed appearance, and a pleasant manner inspires a happy relation with others and increases the student's confidence in his own ability.

Seminar Program Opened By Speech On "Winter Sleep"

tion and dormancy mean the same thing is a natural one, stated Dr. Duncan, and results largely from the influence of geography. Modern science originated an developed in Europe, where adequate rainfall and well-marked seasons could easily give foundation to such a belief, however, it has been discovered that the dormancy or activity of some animals can be regulated by temperature changes, while others seem to show very little relationship to temperature.

The discovery of summer dormancy, or estivation, complicated the problem, which is still in need of exhaustive study, according to Dr. Duncan.

SEVERAL VARIATIONS

To illustrate the great variety of factors affecting dormancy in various animals, Dr. Duncan began by dividing animals into two groups—warm blooded, those which maintain a nearly constant temperature during their active life; and cold blooded, those which have no temperature controlling mechanism.

Some animals, he stated, begin the hibernation period early. Others enter it late and remain

State's Youngest Student Opposes Title Of Prodigy

'Only Average Grades' In High School, Says Girl Pharmacist

No respectable bookworm is Miss Maurine Swift, who has the honor of being San Jose State's youngest freshman student.

On the contrary, the only thing unusual about the fifteen year old member of the school's entering students is her age.

In appearance she resembles any other normal, healthy, freshman girl. Bright and attractive, she will not recognize the little "prodigy"; in fact will not even admit herself the "studious type".

Maurine is indistinguishable from other students in that she does a normal amount of studying, she graduated from high school in three and one-half years and is taking a Junior College course.

"I only made average grades in school," she said smiling. Yet she has embarked on an ambitious program which includes Chemistry, History, German and Trigonometry.

She is taking a pharmacy course in J. C. and plans to be a drug dispenser in a hospital when she finishes her training. She decided on this unusual career because she was so interested in Chemistry.

Although she has been in California for three weeks she likes it here very much. In fact, she said, when she is better acquainted she is sure that she will like it much better than her home town—which is in Pennsylvania.

LA PERLA ETERNA GROUP HOLDS INFORMAL MEETING

A waffle feed at the home of Elsie Ghio was enjoyed last Friday evening by over twenty-five members of La Perla Eterna, society of Spanish honor students.

Students and Alumni of San Jose State comprise the membership of this informal organization which meets regularly on Friday evenings at the homes of various members.

Plan are being made to publish a small booklet in Spanish containing literary works of the members.

in a state of dormancy for a longer period. A few animals are dormant in dry periods regardless of season, as the Margarodes of Chile, which is active only when moisture is abundant.

A mouse or a bear in hibernation is a well-developed animal; but insects may become dormant in any phase of its life history. This disproves the fact that dormancy is merely a postponement of development, because any stage may hibernate.

LANGUAGE GRADUATES WORK FOR MASTER'S DEGREE AT CALIFORNIA

Former Iota Delta Phi Members Work For M.A. In French

Vivian Leek and Leonard Rising, first graduates of the San Jose State College language department to work for the master's degree in French, are now attending the University of California.

As outstanding members of Iota Delta Phi, French honor society, these students were each awarded a pre-secondary in Language with the A.B. degree upon being graduated.

Jules Bouret, Pauline Guida, and Lucille Meyer, alumni of San Jose State and of Iota Delta Phi, recently received their M.A. degrees from Stanford University with minors in French, but Miss Leek and Mr. Rising are the first to work for their higher degree with a major in the language.

Miss Guida has received a teaching position in Bakersfield High School as an instructor in French.

Men's Dance Class Reports Enjoyable First "Work-out"

Although their work-out resembled a football practice instead of dancing exercise, fifteen members of the newly formed men's dancing class appeared at the first meeting Monday evening in the men's gymnasium, and—strangely enough—enjoyed it so much they are now clamoring for a meeting twice a week instead of once as originally planned.

Miss Margaret Jewell, the instructor, was greatly pleased with the turnout and believes that the class will be in full swing by the next meeting. Membership is limited to twenty men, who are subject to approval by the present members for acceptance. Meetings are held every Monday night at seven o'clock in the men's gymnasium. All men interested in joining should present their applications for approval immediately in order to be among the chosen twenty, Miss Jewell stated.

Former State Student Now Principal

Recent educational practices were studied here last week by Miss Loretta Allison, a former State student, who is now principal of the Mintie White school in Watsonville.

According to Dr. George E. Freeland, head of the education department here, Miss Allison is one of the progressive principals of California.
