Two Open Spots For Girls In Flying Club Announces Work

TAYLOR CUB PURCHASED

Girls, here's your chance! Would you like to fly?

If so, it takes only twenty-five dollars and a trip to the controller's office to obtain one of the two remaining open spots in the new flying club's membership roll, declares Bob Work, head of the organization.

"Having received questions as to whether or not the club was open to women, I wish to take this opportunity to answer an emphatic yes," Work explains.

As only a limited number of women are eligible for the C.A.A. training course, Work is extending a special invitation to any two women students who are the first to lay their membership fee on the line to take advantage of this chance.

In the meantime the club is still open to men, the club head points out, and in any case, it is first come first serve.

Delivery on the Taylor Cub 50 Universal which the new club will purchase is expected to be made in the east on October 12 and flying instruction will begin on approximately October 16.

Anyone wishing to enter may see either Work or Mr. Frank Petersen of the Mathematics department, but are first urged to place their twenty-five dollar fee at the controller's office to insure entrance.

The statement in last Tuesday's paper created the wrong impression, Work declares, for although there are more students than are needed who wish to join there have not been twenty who have paid the necessary fee.

A meeting will be held after the club has been filled to choose its name.

Faculty Members Attend Education Conventions

Various members of the San Jose State college faculty will participate in the meetings of the California School Supervisors' Association and the State Association of Educators being held this week in the college Science building and the Civic auditorium.

Dr. Karl S. Hazeltine and Dr. Robert D. Rhodes will conduct a Workshop for the delegates today. They will demonstrate techniques which may be used in presenting science studies to elementary school students.

Tomorrow Dr. P. Victor Peterson and Dr. Carl D. Duncan will be members of a panel presenting a discussion to be given at the Civic auditorium on major educational principles. Other noted state educators will complete the panel.

Tryouts Friday For Wilder's Play 'Our Town'

Tryouts for the second San Jose Players' production, "Our Town", will be held this Friday from 4 to 6 p.m. in Room 53, according to Mr. Hugh Gillis, Speech department head.

"Our Town", a philosophical comedy by Thornton Wilder, calls for a cast of 43, states Mr. Gillis. It was selected for the Players in order to provide parts for the large number of students unable to find placement in "Twelfth Night".

Any student may try out for the play and no previous experience is necessary. The department would like to have a number of new students try out, Mr. Gillis says. Books may be obtained from the Reserve Book room.

Wilder's comedy has three large parts for women and three for men. The other parts are small but are distinct characters and will provide good experience for those who have not done much dramatic work.

PULITZER PRIZE

The 1938 Pulitzer prize winner, "Our Town", is an experimental type of play. No scenery nor properties are used, the actors conveying their actions through pantomime.

The play will be presented November 16 and 17. Free tickets will be sent to those holding a season book of tickets as the play was not originally included in the season list.

STEINBECK NOVEL TO BE DISCUSSED AT Y.M.-Y.W. MEET

John Steinbeck's novel, "The Grapes of Wrath", will be discussed by the Philosophy of Life group of the YW-YMCA at its meeting from four to five o'clock this afternoon in Room 14.

Led by Dr. Gerald Kennedy, pastor of the Calvary Methodist church, the group will review the novel from the standpoint of social philosophy. The meeting is open to all students, whether members of the group or not, who are interested in the subject.

Dr. Kennedy is scheduled to conduct the discussion on two other well known novels at the next two meetings of the group.

Industrial Arts Grads Made Capitalists By Mistake In Daily

No capitalists are Dr. Heber A. Sotzin's Industrial majors, though yesterday's Spartan Daily made sizeable tycoons of them.

Salary range of the Industrial Art graduates range from 1500 to 4500 dollars and do not BEGIN at the latter figure as was announced in yesterday's paper.

DEC. GRADS ANNOUNCED BY REGISTRAR

Twenty-seven students are candidates for December graduation, the Registrar's office announced yesterday.

Of the total, the greatest number of students will be graduated in the general elementary field, with eight receiving those credentials. The commercial department has the second highest number of majors, graduating three students. Seven of the candidates are receiving post-graduation credentials.

Other major fields are journalism, industrial arts, natural science, speech, police, chemistry, mathematics, general junior high English, and home economics.

Any students who are eligible for graduation and whose names do not appear on the following list should see Miss Viola Palmer in the Registrar's office immediately.

Stanley E. Aitken, General Elementary; James A. Bailey, Journalism; Robert B. Boucke, Commerce; Laurence Raymond Brewer; Industrial Art secondary; Helen Kershner Campos, General Elementary; Elizabeth Glenn Clasby, Education; Lewis John Ferrari, Industrial Arts secondary; Eva-Marie Girdner, General Elementary; William I. Girdner, Natural Science.

Get Off The Dime SEND A LETTER With Three Cents

This is "National Letter Week", which doesn't mean anything to you and you and you except for a suggestion to San Jose State college students from Postmaster J. A. Chargin which is sufficiently radical to be positively startling, namely:

Write a letter home!

Did it ever occur to you, wonders Mr. Chargin, that after your parents have spent eighteen or twenty years rearing you they are still more than mildly interested in you during your college years and deserve a letter once in a while out of sheer appreciation for what they've done.

If you don't know how to write, Mr. Atkinson's Commerce department will type a letter for you free of charge.

ILLUSTRATED TALK GIVEN FOR GEOLOGISTS

Initial meeting of the Geology club will be held tonight at 7:30 in Room S210, according to Donald Graves, president.

Mr. Wayne Kartchner will give an illustrated talk on Crater Lake National Park where he is Ranger Naturalist during the summer.

Graves announced that Mr. Kartchner will show a series of colored pictures taken this summer and will give information on soundings he has obtained in the last two years.

All students and faculty interested are invited.

Five Aviators Leave For Pennsylvania To Ferry CAA Planes

Ashworth, Mitchell, Aihara, Carlton, Edner Go East Today On Motorcoach; Will Return Within Ten Days

Five San Jose State college students will leave this afternoon for Lockhaven, Pennsylvania on a motorcoach to fly five planes back to San Jose, if tentative plans go through, Mr. Frank Petersen announced late yesterday.

Three of these planes will probably be utilized for the Civil Aeronautics Authority flight training, with the other two to be taken by the Twenty Flying club and the Twenty Flying club auxiliary.

Subject to satisfactory arrangements with their instructors at college, the following students will make the trip: Hillis Ashworth, Logue Mitchell, George Aihara, Robert Carlton, Selden Edner.

The entire trip will take approximately ten days. The planes will be Taylor Cubs of two-place monoplane construction.

INSTRUCTION BEGINS OCT. 20 Although representatives of the CAA have not yet made an appearance at the college, Mr. Petersen said that flight instruction will probably begin about October 20.

Officials of the CAA advised the college that there would be a $40 incidental expense charge to those selected for the training. It was discovered, however, that the cost of insurance is $10 less than was anticipated, which leaves only a total of $30.

DORIS SHIELDS

Doris Shields, secretary in the controller's office has been selected to represent the State College corporation at the airport.

The college has received word from Washington that it can expect to train not less than fifty students. Mr. Petersen admitted, however, that much depended upon the recommendation of the board which is scheduled to arrive here soon.

It has been announced that ten women in the northern California area would be given flight training. Women students of San Jose State are eligible to make application for this training, which will be given at Mills College.

'KING COFFEE' DISPLAYED IN H. E. EXHIBIT

"Coffee! From the berry to the cup!"

Featuring one of America's greatest necessities, the "King Coffee" display on exhibit at the entrance of the Home Economics building describes stages of its growth, production, and assumption.

Planned and executed by Louise Knapp this is the first of a series of such projects to be placed in the cases. Miss Knapp did the work in connection with Ed. 342.

The latest new type equipment in brewing a delicious morning beverage forms an attractive part of the central theme.

First Quad Noon Hop Tomorrow; Sheldon Taix Provides Music

The first noon dance of the quarter will be held tomorrow from 12:30 to 1 in the Quad, announced Selma Kann, Social Affairs chairman, yesterday.

Sheldon Taix's orchestra will provide the music for the affair. If last year's enrollment has anything to do with the large group at the dances, then this quarter there should be a record attendance, the chairman said. Frank Bumb is in charge of tomorrow's affair.

The Band Marches On...

Outstanding in many features last year, San Jose's marching band is taking up where it left off last fall, adding to its fame with each showing.

While little Donnie Sweeney has been a feature of the drum section for the past three years, it was just a week ago that the band added a mascot drum majorette.

Now with a pair of mascots the group has two special attractions.

The addition of little Miss Reed is not surprising after one sees the manner in which she handles the baton. Accomplished in the art of twirling the stick, she also prances in front of the band in a style which would be a credit to any drum major.

From now on, students of San Jose State can expect even better half-time stunts from the band. With but two weeks of practice, the group has performed in a top-notch manner, but now, with experience and knowledge of the workings of the stunts, the band will try more difficult maneuvers.

Jean-Clad Sophs FROSH BEWARE Regime Official

Attention, sophomores!

Beware, freshmen!

The regime of the jean-clad sophomores has officially begun. Any freshman who is accustomed to wearing the blue denim trousers had better break himself of the habit right now, or—

Oh, look on the wall

A pair of jeans

And the frosh in the hall

Who's shocking the deans

For you can see

That his legs are bare

He tried to be

Like a sophomore, the poor sucker.

Here Are The Parking Space Wasters

Today in front of the Co-op and its vicinity, the parking was probably the worst since the start of the quarter. In space enough for at least four cars there were parked two. This wasn't by any means the only example, there were several others equally as bad, if not worse. Listed below are the names of the examples of how cars should not be parked:

Allen Jacobs (3F3746).

Constance Arlaugh (3F830).

C. W. Young (4F5814).

Lyda Jicha (4F355).

R. D. Fox (2F4365).

Sheldon Taix (3F3746).

(5F1949).

Let's cooperate and make this the first and last list!

Just Among Ourselves

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

Quite naturally our crowded condition will make for many difficulties. Recent complaints have come from the city, engineer, the Police Department, and various householders to the effect that some of us have not been careful in parking our cars and have blocked several driveways. Not only that, but the report came in that some of our people were insolent when the matter was brought to their attention. I am sorry if that is the case, and would like to say if those who have been as thoughtless as that are among the new students, that we have a pretty fair reputation in the community for courtesy and consideration.

Please do not park in front of anyone's driveway. Some people, of course, will be quite unreasonable about it and will insist that they need the driveway every minute of the day; at the same time, they may not even have a car. You know, there are people who get no satisfaction whatever unless they are interfering with someone else. Particularly are they happy when they are establishing a right. However, it is just as well for us to get in the habit of obeying the law, and keeping away from driveways is a good place to start.

In any case, I hope none of you will ever be insolent again to a householder, no matter how unreasonable he may be. Incidentally, a number of our cars were hauled away last year and it cost quite a number of dollars to pay for the service.

FAT IN THE FIRE

By JIM BAILEY

Herein is contained the greatest gridiron eleven ever conceived. It may not play in the Sugar Bowl, or the Orange Bowl, or the Rose Bowl, but they'll take a back seat to no one when it comes to the Feed Bag. The roster:

Rutheda Elliot.....Quarter
Patty Sholk.....Left Half
Anne Oeschger.....Fullback
Janie Moffitt.....Right Half
Pat Baker.....Left End
Janey Bronson.....Right End
Ginny Martin.....Left Tackle
Virginia Miller.....Right Tackle
Kay Palmer.....Right Guard
Janie Crisp.....Left Guard
Mae Zimmerman.....Center

Elliot plays quarterback because she owns the ball and won't play otherwise. (Sholk is half becuz . . well becuz . . Oh, she's so gosh darn wunnerful!) (Now that wasn't so bad, was it Patty?) Oeschger is backfield material because she has a name that looks like a football player's. (Fightin' Irish, or somethin'.) Moffitt is the other half 'cause we only have eleven players and we can't use the bench! (Pat Baker at one end. She's kinda small and can hide in the grass fer passes.) Bronson at the other end becuz she has somethin' on the coach. Martin is left tackle because I said she could play . . and besides its my team . . so naaaah naaaah! Palmer will do all right at guard . . anyway she has the knee-high socks for the job. (I fergot Miller . . hi juh, Miller?) Crisp plays guard also because "Coky" O'Brien is coach . . nuff said! Zimmerman at center . . on account of I hope I get a free coke fer this publicity.

Twelfth Nighters

BOB GLEASON . . has won the role of Feste, the clown, in the forthcoming production of the Shakespearean comedy, "Twelfth Night". Perhaps best known for his "organ grinder" part in the Musketeers' "Sidewalks of New York" arrangement, this sophomore Music-Speech major from Redwood City had a dance orchestra of his own when he went to Sequoia high.

Other high school achievements were winning of Shakespearean contest with delivery of Hamlet's "To be or not to be" soliloquy and the authoring as well as enactment of the leading role in the annual Sequoia variety show.

Bob was a star in the 1939 Revellers, singing the waltz finale in his lilting second tenor. He thinks Shakespeare is going to be hard to learn, but Feste's just the role he's been wanting to play. As he put it, "You can have a lot of fun with a part like that."

SORCEROR'S DAUGHTER

Apart from the wavering pageant of nameless

Voices and glittering eyes,

They left her to wander the grasses, alone

On the slopes—Nadja, the sorceror's daughter;

While they prattled of love and danced

To the clanking of gold on their wrists,

The tinkle of gold on their hips,

Their thin, puppet-bodies upturned to skies

That were ashen and scarlet, and dark

As her eyes.

Numb was her heart as his touch in the Darkness; cold flung flecks of scorn the Clenched with up-curved lips bereft of cries;

"Yea, Valour is the birthright of man,

And Honor is dearer than Youth",

they

Wrote on his shattered blade hilt, when

Blood ceased dripping on the dark, earthen

Mounds, nor wolf-hounds bayed at the Starved moon's rise.

As I See It

By

Eugene Harvie

I see by the papers where two girls' schools were included in the recent additions to the list of participants in the civil aeronautics division of the pilot training program. I'm a firm believer in the rights of women in the field of business, but when it comes to women entering into the field of aviation, rightfully a man's job, my belief in the femininity of womanhood is shattered.

I see corps of American college girls flying planes with that new eighteen-inch waistline, planes painted chartruese and trimmed in poudre blue.

Conversation in an airfield restaurant: "Oh, Jane, have you seen that new Douglas bomber, isn't it a dream?" "Yeah, but did you see that darling Lockheed pursuit ship, and only $10,000, on sale too?"

The idea is fantastic but none-the-less possible.

I'm passing on a story to you I heard the other day. It happened in San Francisco. A newsboy for one of the San Francisco newspapers was heard yelling, "Extra! Extra! France Invades Germany!" A rival vender on the other corner was yelling, "Germany Invades France!"

For a while this stumped the first boy, but not for long. With the resourcefulness of a good newspaper man, he was heard yelling, "Extra! Extra! France and Germany Split Double Header!"

SCANNING THE STACKS

By IRENE MELTON

An Armenian print, hand-written on a piece of animal skin . . a page of Chinese block printing, taken from the Buddhist Scriptures . . a leaf from the first collected book of Chaucer, written in 1532.

These interesting examples of early printing are found in folios of illustrated material on printing in the college library, merely a few of the hidden literary treasures in our library department.

"Teaching As A Man's Job" should be of interest to all prospective male instructors. Published by Phi Delta Kappa, professional education fraternity of Homewood, Illinois, this book is a recent addition to the stacks.

Such interesting chapter titles as "Black Bart", "Rattlesnake Dick", and "Tom Bell" add color to the latest work of Joseph Henry Jackson, prolific book editor of the San Francisco Chronicle.

"Tintypes In Gold . . Four Studies in Robbery" is the name of this fast-moving story of four of the most colorful figures in California's history of crime. This volume is the most recent addition to the Gold Star book collection in the library.

SPARTAN DAILY, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1939

THE SPORTS Pony Express

By PONY SWENSON

(Editor's Note: Every columnist has a guest writer at some time or another. That is, some sucker who thinks he knows how to go about it and what a good column should be like. The smart columnist gives the sucker a chance when news is most scarce. Therefore, today we are turning our space over to Carlton Peregoy—take it away, sucker.)

Evidently those College of Pacific boys, the "Golden Tigers of '39" who vowed to bring home a victory in every game this year, weren't kidding. The manner in which they ran the mighty Golden Bear into the ground Saturday showed that they are really going to town for Amos Alonzo in his fiftieth year of coaching. Being somewhat of a sentimentalist, we would like to see the Bengals come through for the "grand old man" in all their games this year—if San Jose State were not on the schedule.

VICTORY SIGNIFICANT

The Tiger victory on Saturday is very significant to Spartan followers in several ways. For instance, it shows the now high-riding pigskinners of Sparta that they are not the only "minor leaguer" who can step up and knock over one of the big boys. And to make it even more emphatic they picked on the University of California, members of the high and mighty Pacific Coast Conference, a team that just two years ago represented the West in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena! In reality, the Pacific victory over the Bears makes the Spartan victory over USF look like a preliminary game. The State gridders have their work cut out for them, come the night of October 20.

SURE SELL-OUT

Item number two which should interest Spartan followers comes direct from the lair of that same Pacific Tiger in Stockton. Reports have it that an unprecedented advance sale of tickets for the State-Pacific game is very likely to leave a lot of people holding the sack instead of a duca to the battle of a century. The student administration should look into the situation immediately and be sure that none of our gang is on the outside looking in. It might be a good idea to reserve some seats for our downtown supporters, too.

STAGG vs. WARNER

The above mentioned "Battle of a century" was merely a figure of speech. With Amos Alonzo Stagg celebrating his fiftieth year and our own "Pop" Warner in his forty-sixth year of coaching the game will bring together two men who have coached aggregately ninety-six years. Does anyone want to argue over four measly years?

Then we will call it "The battle of a century of coaching".

Phi Tau Theta: Meeting tonight 7:00 p.m. at Cliff Nelson's house, 481 No. 6th street. Harold Smith will preside. Let's get going with a bang. Watch the bulletin board for developments.

Leatherpushers Weak In Only Two Divisions

Lack of experienced men in two divisions, the 128- and 135-pound classes, may handicap Coach Dee Portal's boxing team during the coming season. Experienced men from last year's squad will bolster the other six positions, however.

HEAVIES BATTLE

Don Presley will again return as heavyweight, but gym fans report that Henry Rosenweig is liable to win the first team position. Rosenweig, who won the novice tournament two years ago, but failed to complete last year, is a potent right-hand counterpuncher, and should give Don trouble.

The Bolich brothers, Pete and Bill, at 175 and 145 respectively, will be back and are both favored to cop coast titles. Bill is captain-elect for the year. Bill Amann, last year's frosh sensation, will also be seeking the lightweight berth.

At present, the 165 position is slated for Ed Crotzer, although Gene Fisk may beat him out if he returns to school.

JIM KINCAID

Jimmy Kincaid, last year's captain and coast champion, has moved up out of the welterweights, and should fare just as well in the 155-pound class.

The 118-pound class should prove one of the strongest on the team, with Georgie Konoshima looking better than ever. He may be pressed, however, by several of the boys from the last novice tournament.

NOVICES SIGN UP FOR WRESTLING

With 27 men already signed up for the novice wrestling tournament, there is still plenty of time left for newcomers to enter, declared Coach Gene Grattan yesterday.

The tournament will be held the last week of October, and nightly workouts are being held to condition the men for the matches.

Coaching is being done by the four team managers, Fred Albright, Mel Bruno, Bob Norona, and Con Lacy. Novices interested should sign up with one of these men immediately.

Hartranft Seeks Combination For Santa Rosa Game

After tying a powerful Salinas Junior college eleven last week in their opening game, the Spartan freshman football team is preparing itself for their game against Santa Rosa Junior college "Bear Cubs", when they tangle on Friday night.

According to Coach "Tiny" Hartranft, if the Spartababes had played as good a brand of ball in the first half of Friday's game as they did in the second, they would have won. However, Salinas used a tricky, triple shift in coming up to the line of scrimmage that all but baffled the inexperienced frosh playing their first game under the Gold and White.

CUBS STRONG

The championship 1938 Santa Rosa squad is almost completely back this season, with many new freshmen to bolster the reserves. Advance publicity on the Cubs states that they will front a more varied attack for this season and that their is the latest thing in football starting signals. This cry, having a slightly familiar ring to it, is (wait till the Lone Ranger hears of this one) "Hi-O-Silver".

Having many rough spots to smooth before the game, the freshmen are in for at least three days of hard practice before the game. The famed Warner reverses take time to learn and the Babes have had only eight days in which to get them to working.

STARTING LINEUP

"Tiny" has yet to find the best possible combination for his outfit, but as he released it, his probable starting lineup will be:

Center—Stewart
Guards—Putman and Ramsay
Tackles—Wilmot and McConnell
Ends—Anderson and Nielson
Halves—Soules and Miller
Full—Alviso
Quarter—Antognani

Soccerites Face U.S.F. In Season Opener Saturday

Meeting the University of San Francisco in the season's opener Saturday, Coach Hovey McDonald's shinkickers hope to duplicate the football team's victory of two weeks earlier.

SPARTANS FAVORITES

The Macmen will be out to avenge an early season tie game inflicted upon them last year by the Dons, who dropped the second contest, however. The USF squad boasts an experienced outfit that may upset the Spartans, who are favored to take the conference title.

San Jose, highest scoring soccer team in the nation last year with over fifty goals and only one defeat out of 18 starts, are out for the Northern California soccer conference title which they narrowly lost to the strong University of California team last year.

NEW FACES IN LINEUP

McDonald is starting a "pony" front line, which is claimed to be the class of the conference. Fred Albright, last year's all-conference wing will start, with Jim Fahn at the other wing. Ray Fahn, Jimmie's brother, and all-conference transfer from LAJC, has earned the starting nod at center, while Fortune Masdeo and Gus Kotta will start at forwards.

Kotta, in his first year of soccer competition, has proven the outstanding man on the team, and is expected to make a strong bid for all-conference honors. McDonald hopes to place his entire front line on the mythical all-conference team.

Cook's field goal kicking has become a definite scoring threat, and Headman Dud DeGroot is taking care that his star student is in the best possible shape.

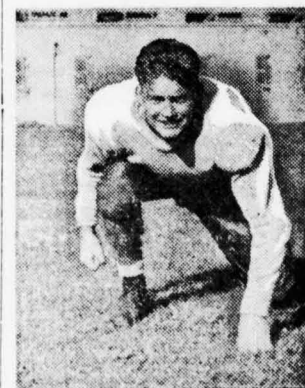

Nevada will come to town with one of the smallest squads in its history; but will bring out a brand new head coach whose record boasts for itself. The Wolf Pack team finds six returning veterans, and a flock of promising transfers, who should give Coach Jim Aiken sufficient material to work with.

SCRIMMAGE ON TAP

Yesterday the Spartans went to work in a two-hour scrimmage which found most of the regulars on the sidelines taking things easy as the reserves went through the paces. Today the Spartan regulars face a "made over squad" representing the University of Nevada and running Nevada plays brought back by Scout Bill Hubbard.

Handsome Kenny Cook returns to practice this week, after an ankle injury kept him on the bench against the Ramblers. Cook's ability at field goal kicking gives the Spartans another offensive threat, to use for Saturday's game.

Moore Wins Presidency Of Police Club In Run-Off

Dinner Meeting Friday

In a run-off election held by the Police club last night in the Spartan Stags, Elmer Moore, first year police student, won the contest for president over Henry Rosenweig, junior, by a narrow margin. John Sergi, vice-president, presided.

A get-together dinner will be held by the club Friday evening at six o'clock at the Italian Hotel. In charge of arrangements for the dinner is Treasurer Lorin Todd. Sixty students are expected to attend the affair.

MUSIC GROUPS PLAY AT CONVENTION

San Jose State college's A Capella Choir will participate in a workshop demonstration at the State Convention of Supervisors meeting in the Civic Auditorium this morning, according to Mr. William J. Erlendson, director.

The present choir consists of 62 voices, 32 being new members. San Jose State's Senior Woodwind Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Eagan, played several numbers for the Supervisors Convention at the Civic Auditorium last night.

The ensemble, according to Mr. Eagan, is planning a concert and a state-wide tour, the dates of which have not been definitely set.

Members of the group are as follows: Flutes: Lorraine Hall, Ina Mae Spink; oboes: Melvin Buffo, George Haydon; clarinets: James Adcock, Stanton Selby; bassoons: Raymond Baxter, Lyle Derby; French horns: Jack Peters, Arthur Jacobus; bass clarinet: Ralph Bridenberg.

Alumni Program Promises Backing For Grid Team

Wholehearted support of the Pop Warner-Dud DeGroot coached Spartan football team is the leading feature on the fall program of the college Alumni association, President Ray Farris revealed yesterday.

Farris, a 1932 graduate now in the insurance business, declared that his 10-membered executive board at its last meeting passed a unanimous vote of appreciation to Head Coach DeGroot for extending a reduced-admission privilege to alumni for local games.

Not only will the board enlarge upon its traditional program of activities for alumni and continue as the central agency for support of the college, but give special attention to pushing attendance at all home football games, he said.

Mr. Farris, who returned recently from a trip to New York, reported that local citizens do not realize how far the fame of the Spartans has spread. Alumni board members, agreeing that San Jose State offers "more football for less

CLUB LEADERS NEEDED FOR BOYS' GROUPS

Club leaders for neighborhood groups are in demand, announced Hubert Wagner, Y community boys club supervisor, yesterday.

"This work," says Wagner, "is a good opportunity to be of service to the community in helping the under-privileged boys and obtain excellent experience in boys work."

Meetings are held once a week in the East Side Library building on East Santa Clara street between 23rd and 24th streets and in various elementary school buildings around the community.

Anyone interested in applying for this work may see Hubert Wagner at the city YMCA.

This program of neighborhood boys' work is sponsored by the Civitan club through the YMCA.

admission charge" than any college of its class on the coast, promptly voted to give Coach DeGroot their hearty cooperation.

LOST, FOUND POSSESSES A QUEER CASE

Probably the only raincoat on the campus now resides in the Lost and Found department.

Such was the statement of Miss Martha Buchser of the Information office where the Lost and Found office is located.

Actually three raincoats have been turned in thus far this quarter two of which have been called for.

While in the case of a raincoat, with the present weather, Miss Buchser said, one could see some logic in the owner's reluctance to claim it. But in the case of expensive pens, for example, she advises students to take the trouble to have their names engraved on them.

The faculty is more lax than students in the prompt delivering of lost articles, declared Miss Buchser, probably because they are not aware of the presence of the Lost and Found department.

Library Adds New Books By Faculty Member

"Forestry and Lumbering", a book co-authored by Miss Celeste Slauson, member of the library staff, has been added to the library recently.

Published by Longman, Green and Co. of New York and Toronto, the book is another in the series written by Miss Slauson and Josephine Perry entitled "America At Work" and follows their last book, "Milk Production", written two years ago.

The new book contains numerous illustrations of one of America's major industries and, both in content and style, is designed as a supplementary reader for pupils in the fifth and sixth grades.

Miss Slauson works at the educational desk in the library.

The 116-piece San Jose band will join them in mass formations if arrangements can be made, Kramer said.

ARMS EMBARGO SUBJECT OF DEBATE MEETING

Whether repeal of the arms embargo will draw us in or keep us out of war was put forth by Leroy Troutner, debate manager, as the real issue of the current neutrality conflict, during a spirited discussion by the debating class yesterday.

Santa Clara was to be represented in the discussion, but they did not appear, so the San Jose team presented their points and then turned them over to the audience for argument.

Every school of thought on "the best way to stay out of war" was represented and each theorist offered his solution.

Dr. Victor M. Hunt, who has given several talks on the "Neutrality Issue", was present but did not take part in the debate.

DISCUSSION HELD

Charles Norby was elected president of the Pre-Legal club at a meeting held yesterday noon.

Vice-president is Joe Blair and secretary-treasurer Marchisia Call. In a discussion following the election it was pointed out that over 70 per cent of those who took the state bar exam last March failed. The value of beginning early and recognizing the need of extensive and careful pre-legal education was pointed out by Mr. Owen Broyles, faculty adviser.

The Pre-Legal club is open to women students as well as men, especially those in the Commerce department who are planning to be legal secretaries, according to Mr. Broyles.

A talk by a member of the California Legal Secretaries Association is planned for the near future.

Commerce Club Opens Drive For New Members

A major push is now in progress by the Commerce club!

Such was the statement made yesterday by Jerry Fitzgerald, president of the club, who added that the big drive was to get as many commerce majors and minors as possible to join the club.

Membership in the club may be obtained by paying the small sum of twenty-five cents in Room 137A of the commerce building, announced Fitzgerald.

Plans for the annual Commerce club party will be made today at the club meeting, and also the obtaining of outside speakers to speak before the club.

CO-EDS INVITED TO ATTEND RIDING CLUB

A special invitation to all women students has been extended by the Riding club, according to Miss Evelyn Amaral, adviser.

All interested are asked to attend the invitational ride which will be held next week. No definite date has been set.

A horse show is also being planned for the future, Miss Amaral said.

Riding club members are entitled to fairly low rates, and more students should take advantage of them, the adviser stated. Students are to look in the Daily for notices in regard to weekly rides, which are planned for the quarter. Miss Marcelle Afatgo is president.
