Flying Club Roster Filled As Two More Pay Fees

INITIAL MEETING TODAY NOON

The final two applicants for membership in the new flying club have paid the requisite $25 membership fee, closing the rolls of the second on-campus organization of its kind with an even twenty members, Bob Work, organizer of the club, announced yesterday.

First and most important meeting of the entire membership will be held at noon today in Room 111 for the purpose of signing ownership papers and purchase orders, Work declared. It is important for every member to be

It's happened again!

When the Twenty Flying club was organized back in 1936, one lone girl joined the ranks. One girl and nineteen men!

Yesterday, with the rolls of the newly-organized flying club finally completed, there it was again—nineteen husky men and one girl!

It makes a swell feature!

present, he pointed out, since the club cannot officially begin activities until these matters are settled.

La Torre Calls For Organization Head Photos

All presidents of fraternities and sororities who have not made appointments for La Torre pictures should do so immediately, Marcelle Chabre announces.

The presidents of the following have not made appointments: Al-lenian, Sappho, Inter-fraternity, Gamma Phi Sigma, Kappa Kappa Sigma. These appointments may be made at the La Torre desk in the Publications office between 12:30 and 2 p.m. daily.

Appointments for individual pictures are also being taken now. On Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays appointments may be made from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., while on Tuesdays and Thursdays the hours are 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., Edith Mauzey, La Torre staff member, announces.

No appointments for these individual pictures will be given after October 18. Bushnell's studio will begin shooting October 9. It will be necessary to call for and return the selected proof within ten days, or the La Torre staff will make the selection itself.

Appointments for club pictures are being taken during the remainder of the week.

SEASON PLAY TICKET SALE ENDS FRIDAY

Sale of season tickets for the San Jose Players' seven productions of the school year will end Friday afternoon, a member of Mr. Hugh W. Gillis' office announced yesterday.

Holders of season tickets will be given the opportunity of seeing an extra play free of charge. The play is Thornton Wilder's "Our Town", which will be presented November 16 and 17.

Although sales have been good, favorable seats are still available for the Thursday performances. All season tickets that have been placed on reserve and are not paid for by Friday morning will be placed on sale.

TRYOUTS FOR 'OUR TOWN' FRIDAY, 4 TO 6

All new students are cordially invited to try out for the San Jose Players' second production of the season, "Our Town", Mr. Hugh W. Gillis announces.

Tryouts will be held Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m. in Room 53. Results of "Twelfth Night" tryouts indicate that there are many students on the campus who possess dramatic ability, Mr. Gillis says.

Wilder's play, the 1938 Pulitzer prize winner, has six characters who play important parts, and a large number of smaller parts. "Our Town", a modern comedy, will be produced without benefit of scenery or properties.

The play, which will be presented November 16 and 17, will be free to those holding season tickets.

Five-Man Team Sails Oct. 12 For Series Of Bouts In Orient

By FRANK BONANNO

A San Jose State college five-man boxing team will sail for the Orient on October 12, representing the United States in a series of international bouts with colleges and organizations in Japan, it was officially announced by Dudley S. DeGroot yesterday.

With Spartans fighting under the colors of the U.S.A., San Jose State college will once again have its name spread over the eastern hemisphere. Two years ago, Mel Bruno and Fortune Masdeo, representing the Spartans in Japan and China, went on a wrestling tour.

Final arrangements for the trip were completed yesterday, when a telegram from Ben Yahata, secretary of the Japanese Amateur Boxing Federation, assured boxing Coach Dee Portal that everything was in readiness to receive the San Jose State college delegation.

CHOOSE FIVE MEN

According to Portal, five men will be picked on Friday of this week to represent San Jose. One man representing the 118, 126, 135, and 147 pound divisions respectively, will be picked from the large Spartan squad. Portal also stated that because the Spartans do not have a fighter in the 112 pound division, two men will be selected to go in one of the above divisions.

BRUNO NEGOTIATES

Negotiations for this international series started when Mel Bruno spoke with a member of the Japanese wrestling team that toured the United States last year.

Noontime Dance In Quad Today, Announces Kann

Students are asked to cooperate today by attending the first noon dance of the quarter in the inner quad, according to Selma Kann, social affairs chairman.

The number of noon dances to be held this quarter will depend largely upon the number of students who attend them, the chairman said.

Sheldon Taix's orchestra will play for the affair. Frank Bumb is in charge of today's dance.

DAN PAULSON ON PALO ALTO POLICE LIST

Dan Paulson, Police School graduate of last June from the two-year technical course, has been placed on the Palo Alto police force eligibility list after passing competitive examinations given late in the summer.

Paulson will probably receive an appointment to the Palo Alto force early in November, according to William A. Wiltberger, head of the Police School.

FIVE FACULTY MEMBERS IN PANEL MEET

Five San Jose State college faculty members will be participating in the final sessions of the California School Supervisors' convention being held today in the Civic auditorium.

Today's convention program calls for a number of panel discussions on the implications of the major educational principles in various fields. Faculty representatives are Emily De Vore, associate professor of education; Brant Clark, assistant professor of psychology; P. Victor Peterson, professor of chemistry; Carl D. Duncan, professor of botany; Margaret Douglas, instructor in speech.

Monday afternoon five other panels were participated in by college faculty members. They were Elmer H. Staffebach, James C. DeVoss, Dorothy H. Yates, William A. Wiltberger, Joseph M. Gwinn, and Elsie Toles.

Yesterday morning a general session of the convention on the place of the fine and industrial arts in the school program was presided over by Heber A. Sotzin, professor of industrial arts.

Later in the morning a number of work shop groups were given by William Erlendson, Robert Rhodes, Karl S. Hazeltine, Dwight Bentel, and George E. Stone.

Nevada Musician In Spartan Band

To Nevada fans attending the University of Nevada-Spartan football game Saturday night someone in the Spartan band is going to appear terribly out of place.

That person is Rueben Tuttle, director of the University of Nevada band for the past three years, who will be tooting a horn against his former alma mater in the trombone section of the San Jose band.

Tuttle, who originally hails from Watsonville, left Nevada this year to complete his music credential here so that he may teach in California schools.

According to Mr. Thomas Eagan, director of the Spartan band, Tuttle has had a great deal of professional experience and has worked out many colorful marching formations.

FIVE STUDENT FLYERS GO EAST FOR PLANES

Five student flyers left at five o'clock last night for Lockhaven, Pennsylvania, to take delivery of five airplanes destined for use by the C.A.A. and the two campus flying clubs.

Hills Ashworth, Logue Mitchell, George Aihara, Robert Carlton, and Selden Edner, the five chosen for the trip, will go to Cleveland, Ohio, to secure hangar space, Frank F. Petersen, head of the Aviation department, pointed out.

From there, Ashworth will proceed to Alliance to take delivery of the Taylorcraft, while the other four will go to Lockhaven for the four Taylor Cubs.

Barring bad weather which will definitely ground the planes, regardless of flying conditions, the flyers are expected to sight San Jose Airport in ten days, Petersen said.

In the event that the ships meet with reported snowstorms, the flyers may return by a southern route instead of across the Rockies, as plans now stand.

BAND PLANS NEW STUNT

San Jose State college band will try something new at the University of Nevada game Saturday night, when they spell out a constantly moving "S" and an "N" that opens out in accordion fashion, according to Carlisle Kramer.

The 116-piece band, directed by Mr. Thomas Eagan and led by Kramer, is also preparing several new band marches.

According to word received by Kramer, the University of Nevada has requested several Spartan selections for their seventy-piece band which will also play at the Saturday night game.

Other features of the band program include performances by seven-year-old drum majorette Janie May Reed and rhythm from the youngest drummer, Donnie Sweeney.

More Recognition For State . . .

Recognition in football, dramatics, and academic superiority has repeatedly placed our college before the eyes of the public. Steadily through our own efforts we have built up to where we now stand as "tops" in regard to State colleges in California.

Our newest adventure in the limelight has been through our progress in aviation. This, as all other activities, was built from the ground up through the perseverance of student and faculty alike. The nucleus was started through student ideas, branched with the aid of the college in regard to ground training and given national recognition through the inauguration of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

With aviation today still in its infancy, and with such progress already in effect, we wonder how far it will go. For our own sake, we hope it will never stop. With opportunities available in the commercial and military ends, and pleasures to be derived from the personal use of such transportation, our college can also rank with the "tops" in this part of the curriculum.

—Maynard.

SALAMAGUNDY

By BILL RODRICK

Although the student council is easily the most important group of individuals in the college, the general run of students actually probably know less about it on the whole than many another, far less important, but better publicized around the campus.

The student council, directly or indirectly, affects the college life of every member of the student body. It controls all the money voted out for student affairs, awards, dance bands, etc., in other words vitally affects every student at one time or another, but nobody but the "ax-grinders" bother to wonder about the organization or to attend any of the meetings Tuesday nights.

That, however, probably makes little or no difference as far as the effect of council decisions on the student-body goes, because it is a very capable group intent on doing right by the "stooents" with its affairs reported by the Spartan Daily and ably advised from the administration's angle by the genial State college controller, Neil O. Thomas.

Standard sight in the Daily office is the view of some wild-eyed looking student from one department or another coming in to pound the editor's desk, demanding more and better publicity for the deserving department. These publicists most frequently demand in impressive tones to take their valuable, informative, and interesting material to the downtown papers, where, they infer, said material will be received with huzzas and many thanks—all of which impresses nobody but the bearer of the red-hot "banner-line" news.

It is undoubtedly true, however, that these college publicity agents are one reason for some departments getting more and better publicity than a few others of more news value, but we can't quite imagine Hugh Staley at the editor's desk demanding a better deal for the student council from the publicity angle.

Reports have it that student body executives will contact Stockton in an effort to reserve a large block of tickets for the San Jose State-C.O.P. game for supporters here. As the "Pony Express" with Carlton Perego in the saddle said yesterday, "Reports have it that an unprecedented advance sale of tickets for the State-Pacific game is very likely to leave a lot of people holding the sack instead of the ducat to the battle of the century".

Just Among Ourselves

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

It takes a good deal of college spirit to stand up and sing Alma Mater after a game. That is particularly true when we get licked. It is probably impossible to get the cooperation of everyone, but it is without doubt a grand custom and tests us all out. Some people will object, will leave as soon as the game is over or a little before. Some of them like to get up in the crowd and walk out; it inflates their egos, or whatever they happen to have, if they can make themselves prominent in a group. Some people are just naturally refusers, and it is not worth our time to try to teach them otherwise. Most of us, of course, are whole-hearted cooperators and will play the game. I wish it were possible for us to have a truly high-class college spirit. We have been winning in our games the last few years, and it has been fairly easy to develop enthusiasm. I wonder if we would be as good if we had a losing team.

I have known a man for some years, a lawyer, by the way, who said he had always been an "insurrecto" in college. "I kicked on everything," he said. "I objected and opposed; I crabbed and denounced; actually, I was the most prominent man on that campus." He seemed to be proud of it. To me he is one of the most objectionable acquaintances I have. He is still kicking. Many of them do not trust him. It is very easy to develop a pose like that; it is hard for us to see ourselves as others see us.

At the auditorium rally I was inclined to think that we did not give courteous attention to the speakers. The loudspeaker was very poor, I admit. I have no doubt some of the speeches were not worth listening to. Still, it is not a matter of courtesy to the speaker so much as it is a realization of our own sense of fairness and politeness. I don't believe we can overdo our college courtesy. We should accord every consideration to speakers, to guests, and to each other. Personally, I would like to see San Jose State famous for courteous treatment of everybody under all circumstances. That is a reputation I am sure all of us would like to have.

WASHINGTON SQUARE Merrick - Go - Round

By FRED MERRICK

College of Pacific's upset victory over the California Bears is now a well-known fact among the football followers of the nation, and to local fans it is an indication of what might happen when San Jose invades Stockton October 20.

We're not throwing in the towel to the Tigers just because of their showing so far this season. Far from it. We've plenty of confidence in Dud DeGroot and "Pop" Warner and their ability to meet situations as they arise.

San Jose State-College of Pacific games are always of the top-notch variety and a battle until the end. This year's contest should be even more so than usual.

This is a traditional game for both schools. Always the best of friendly relations exist, with the home town student body turning out en masse to welcome the visitors. This year San Jose students will enjoy the invasion of Stockton, home of the Pacific Tiger, for this "big game" of the Spartan schedule.

Although the date of the C.O.P. game is two weeks off, local students will do well to keep the week-end of October 20 open. Plans for the Spartan Special are under way and should be released to the student body before this time next week. Support this excursion.

Tickets to this game are reported to be selling fast in Stockton but Spartan rooters will be reserved a special section.

Pacific's presentation of a victory over California to Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg has really turned a lot of attention on the Spartan-Tiger tilt. While it is a bit late to offer congratulations, we wish Mr. Stagg the best of luck and hope that Mrs. Stagg, who was reported very ill this summer, is completely recovered and again helping the "grand old man" to spot weaknesses in both his own team and those of his opponents.

Some Parkers Just Don't Know When To Take A Hint

Some people can't take a hint until it's too late for the hint to be of any use. You can suggest ways for improvement, and you can tell people ways of improving. Some people take the advice given and put it to work, but it seems that at San Jose State college there are a great many drivers in name and name only. Parking is one of the first things taught when learning to drive a car; it is first because it is by far the most important lesson.

If we are obliged to print the names of the parking offenders more than three times, steps WILL BE TAKEN to notify the local police authorities regarding these violators. Today's list of violators

Corn Off The Cob

By Jack Duttweiler

One Sunday not so long ago we took a visiting friend at our house to church with us. As he put it, he hadn't seen the inside of a church since he was baptized at the age of two, which was quite some time. Upon entering the house of prayer, we said "Good morning, Father" to the black-robed person who greeted us and told us to go to the first aisle to the right. Our friend, who explained later that he had been brought up rather informally, chirped in with a cheery, "Good morning, Dad."

We have just received a card from our "big bruvver" over at the University of California. It reads: "Dear Jack—Just to let you know that we beat the Cal. Aggies football team Saturday afternoon in our stadium. We're all very happy about it."

The other day we were sitting in the train a few seats in front of a group of girls. As luck will always have it, these girls were the silly, giggling type. After the train started to roll, we heard one of them say something about the fellow up front with the big ears, and then followed a burst of loud laughter. Curious soul that we are, we looked up at the fellow sitting a few seats up the aisle. "Yes," we said to ourselves, "he does seem to have pretty big ears at that." We, too, joined briefly in the laughter coming from behind. Pretty soon the train stopped and the man in front got off. "Ah," we sighed, "Now those gals will shut up and we can study."

The train started once more, but the girls still kept giggling.

and learned that Japan was interested in promoting international bouts with worthy representatives here in the U.S. A reply early in August, from a letter carried by one of the Japanese wrestlers, did find the federation interested.

On Registration Day, another cable completed the deal insofar as the Japanese authorities were concerned, and awaited only the approval of Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie. Yesterday's cable from Yahata, in reply to Dr. MacQuarrie's telegram of acceptance, found arrangements completed to the satisfaction of both parties.

BOXERS ENTER NOVICE WRESTLING TOURNEY

Sign-up for four Spartan boxers for the novice wrestling tournament to be held late this month was the highlight of yesterday's workout in the little gym. Con Lacy and Fred Allbright, managers, divided honors in the enrollment of the leatherpushers by securing two apiece and leaving the other managers out in the cold.

Surprise entrant was Boxing Captain Bill Bolich who signed up with Lacy, as did Tony Pisano, former featherweight boxing flash. Complications ensued when the confident Bolich signified his intention of wrestling in both the 145 and 155 pound divisions. Coach Gene Grattan is expected to rule upon his eligibility for both weights sometime this week.

Bolich will find his work cut out for him in the welterweight class, however, as he will be opposed by two of his boxing teammates, Chilly Kerwin and Bob Horrell, who are entered on Allbright's Spartan Knight team. The Knight squad promises to be the mystery squad of the tournament as Allbright refuses to divulge the names of the rest of his entrants until the night of the matches.

Leading "brain" on the Spartan gridiron this year is Dave Titchenal, brother of Captain Bob. Dave, who in previous years had been hampered by injuries, holds down the number one quarterback position, and his blocking and line backing has been second only to his ability to call the right play at the right time.

Hartranft Prescribes 'Hard Scrimmage' Sessions For Freshman Football Team

"Hard—real hard scrimmages for tomorrow and the next day are scheduled for the frosh football squad," stated Coach "Tiny" Hartranft yesterday.

Several shakeups in the starting lineup have been made in an effort to bolster the strength of the team, which last Friday night played to a 6 to 6 tie with Salinas J.C. On the line, Lewis Putman, 179 pound defensive ace, has been promoted to the first string, replacing Ed Boegar. Putman was one of the outstanding linemen in the Salinas contest and has been rewarded with a starting berth.

The starting backfield combination will be changed for the Santa Rosa tilt Friday night. By virtue of its performances last Friday, the entire second team backfield has been advanced to the first string. This will mean that Henry Antognani, flashy quarter, will replace Paul Tognetti in the signal-calling berth, while Albert Alvise has moved up ahead of Charles Boster in the fullback spot.

The halfbacks, Ed Soulds and Sammy Miller, have replaced Russ

Hofvendall and Al Rocchi. Sammy Miller was the boy whose 60 yard run for a touchdown in the third quarter gave the Spartan first year men a 6 to 6 tie with Salinas.

A practice encounter with Mountain View High school was played last night with only the third, fourth, and fifth strings performing for the Spartlets. Coach Hartranft left the first two teams on the sidelines in an effort to minimize injuries.

Daily Again Makes Annual 'Seriescast'

Today's World Series opener in New York between the Yankees of the American League and the Reds of the National League, will be broadcast from the south side of the Publications office beginning at 10:00.

The annual Spartan Daily "Seriescast" will bring to Washington Square sports fans each of the New York-Cincinnati baseball games that are played on school days.

In addition to the broadcast, the Daily will post a running score of the game as well as the batteries for both teams.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Letterman's Society today in Room 24 at 12:30. All varsity athletes who have won their block S.J.S. awards are invited to attend.

Injuries Hit Spartan Gridders As Nevada Tussle Draws Near

Old man injury is hovering over the Spartan football camp, and no less than a half dozen of Dud DeGroot's ablest gridmen may be on the shelf for Saturday night's game with the University of Nevada.

In addition to "Z-man" Herm Zetterquist, who has been out since the start of the season with a broken thumb, the right halfback berth is further weakened by the probable absence of Morris Manoogian.

Manoogian is afflicted with what is called a "chronic charleyhorse" that has San Jose's best ball carrier running with a limp. Having to assume most of the right halfbacking chores, has aggravated the bruised limb, and Manoogian may not be ready to face the Wolfpack.

The quarterback position has been badly riddled by injuries, with Joe Rishwain and Jack Sarkisian both suffering badly battered legs. However, the signal calling job has been bolstered by the improved showing of Frank Bonanno, who looked good in last night's workout.

Bill Abdallah, fiery reserve guard, will be kept in wraps for two weeks unless his bruised kidneys respond to treatment, while first string end Joe Reginato has a shoulder "pointer" that may keep him sitting on the bench for some time yet.

In spite of the growing hospital list, the Spartans had something to cheer about. Herm Zetterquist returned to the fold and has been running practice but hasn't been given the doctor's ok to engage in contact work. If Zetterquist's thumb continues to show improvement, he may be ready for heavy duty next week. It appears definite that he will get in the San Diego State clash a week from Friday.

Also appearing in good shape again after suffering an ankle injury was Ken Cook, who went through his second straight snappy session without suffering a recurrence of the injury.

The return to form by Doan Carmody had Coach Dud DeGroot "all smiles" following last night's session. The square-jawed senior guard looked like his old self and was "booming" in scrimmage drill. Sophomore Joe Marelich looked good from his end position and Sid Carter, a newcomer at half, was a standout at pass catching practice. Besides a mild scrimmage, the Spartans were busily engaged in adding a number of new plays to their repertoire.

This will leave such experienced performers as Verne and Elton Hall, Harry Baehr, and Bud Bergy as substitutes.

Intramural Gridmen Start Tourney

Intramural "touch football" will get underway Monday, according to an announcement made yesterday by Leonard Herman, who is in charge of the tournament.

Anyone interested in signing up to play must do so sometime this week, stated Herman. Teams will be organized and schedules made up over the week-end. At the present time the "Rah, Rah, Boys" look like the team to beat in the race.

Any organization on the campus is eligible to enter a seven-man team in the tourney. To the winner of the tournament will go the honor of having their name placed on the intramural plaque that hangs in the Men's gym.

Fencing club will meet at 12:15 tomorrow in the Women's gym. All who are interested are invited to attend. No experience necessary.

TWENTY ACTS SCHEDULED

Plans for a Men's Physical Education Review are under way, with the date set for November 21, the night before the football game with Fresno State.

Twenty separate acts are now in preparation. Jim Fahn, co-chairman with Bob Locks for the event, announces. Among the highlights will be a chorus of varsity football players. Several faculty members have also promised to perform, Fahn added.

Fahn issued a call for more talent. "There will probably be about fifty performers altogether," he declared. "With 1581 new students, there should be a large proportion of masculine talent that has not yet been uncovered. If anyone interested would get in touch with me or Bob Locks, we should be glad of the opportunity to give him a tryout. We especially need horn players."

The entertainment is under the auspices of the campus chapter of Phi Epsilon Kappa, national men's physical education honorary fraternity, and will be given in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

D.T.O. MEMBERS MEET TONIGHT AT DEE PORTAL'S

Members of Delta Theta Omega, campus social fraternity, will gather at Dee Portal's ranch in Mt. Hamilton range tonight for their second of a series of rushee barbecues, George Place, grand master of the fraternity, stated yesterday.

All members and rushees are to meet in front of the college student Union at seven o'clock sharp.

Membership For Flying Club Now Complete

Pennsylvania, on October 12 and will be flown here by members of the San Jose State college CAA group.

The first club for student aviation activities was organized in 1936 and eventually became known as the Twenty Flying club. Many of the activities of the new organization will be modeled on the early activities of the older organization, Work said.

ONLY A RABBIT!

Uses Live Model

It may be difficult to make a rabbit stand (or sit) still, but members in the sculpture class of Mr. Thomas H. Reed, Jr., find they have to make the most of it.

"Pete", a little white rabbit used as a model for the class, has proved to be a conscientious subject, according to some of the students. In spite of the fact that he is requested to strike various poses, "Pete" takes life as it comes and nibbles contentedly on food given him at the end of the day.

Louis LaBarbera, storeroom clerk, has been named official custodian of "Pete". Thus far, "Pete's" diet has consisted of grass, shrubbery, and cabbage—the latter from the exhibits in the art building's halls.

Music For S.G.O. Dance Supplied By Leonard Gray

Leonard Gray's ten-piece orchestra has been chosen to supply the music for the fifth annual Sigma Gamma Omega football dance to be held Saturday night, October 14, announced Voris Newstetter, vice president, yesterday.

Held the night following the San Diego State game, the affair, promised by Newstetter to be one of the highlights of the quarter, will honor members of the Spartan football team.

The Scottish Rite Temple will be the scene of the event, and the revelries will last from nine until one. Bids are priced at $1.25 and go on sale today. Newstetter wants students to secure their tickets early and avoid scalpers, as a capacity crowd is expected.

An S.G.O. smoker will be held tonight at the new fraternity house at 399 South 12th, according to George Fortune, president. All members are expected to be present if possible.
