JUNIORS, SENIORS, HOLD MIXER TOMORROW

Affair Set For
Men's Gym, 7:30

Traditional rivalry and social activity between upperclassmen will get under way tomorrow night in the Men's gym from 7:30 to 10 o'clock when the annual junior-senior mixer takes place.

"SPIRIT RAISER"

The event will serve as a friendly get-together and a "spirit raiser" for the U.S.F. football game Friday night, according to Mert Crockett, Junior class president.

The front doors to the gymnasium on Fourth street will be open only to seniors, while the juniors are requested to use the rear entrance on San Carlos street. Any underclassmen caught at the mixer will have to suffer the consequences, Crockett said.

CLASS ENTERTAINMENT

Freddie Angel's nine-piece orchestra has been selected to provide sweet and swing music for the event. Class entertainment will be featured during the evening.

Name tags will be given all students attending the mixer. Price of admission is 10 cents.

Course Fees Due

Course fees are now due and payable in the Business office, room 2, of the Administration building, announced Harry Brakebill of that office yesterday.

These fees must be paid before Friday, October 25. After this date there will be a late course fee of $1.

JO JENNINGS TALKS TO RADIO CLUB TONIGHT AT 7:30

Jo E. Jennings, former student at San Jose State college, will speak to the Radio club tonight in the radio shack at 7:30.

Mr. Jennings, chief research engineer for Eitel McCullough company, will speak on "Recent trends of the manufacture and development of the radio tube."

All students interested in radio are invited to attend the meeting, according to Dale Matteson, president of the club. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

YW-YM SPONSORS DANCE FRIDAY

Dancing sponsored by the college YW-YMCA will be enjoyed at the Student Center Friday evening beginning at 9 o'clock.

Refreshments will be served and a radio will be available to listen to the game. Tickets are 10 cents. Bill Bronson, chairman, invites all men and women students to attend.

NBC Pays Tribute . . .

Bud Nygren, right, hard running halfback for the Spartan grid team, showing the National Broadcasting Company's trophy to Head Coach Ben Winkelman. Nygren won the award for his outstanding play in the Montana State game. The award is given weekly by NBC to the player they believe to be the most outstanding.

AWA Head Calls Meeting Of Delegates

Representatives to AWA who have been newly appointed as delegates of their organizations are requested to attend the meeting in the AWA office this afternoon at 4:15, announces Jerrie Jurras, president.

"Two consecutive absences mean that the organization is deprived of the privilege of representation at these meetings," Miss Jurras declared.

According to Miss Jurras this meeting is important in view of the fact that plans for the annual convention to be held here in the spring will definitely be completed, and each organization will have a voice in this matter.

Excursion Tickets For USF Football Game On Sale, $1

Spartans and co-eds expecting to board the special bus en route to Seals stadium in San Francisco on Friday to attend the San Jose State vs. USF football game are asked to purchase tickets as soon as possible, announces Don True, rally committee head.

Buses will be scheduled according to the number of tickets sold. Students will meet in front of the Student Union ready to leave at 6:30, arriving in San Francisco at 7:30. Tickets are $1 round trip, and can be obtained in the Controller's office any time this week.

A program of recorded music will be held in the quad today noon, at which students may ask any questions in regard to the excursion, True said.

U. S. Calls 840 Students, Faculty To Register For Selective Service Draft

Today the United States government calls 840 students and faculty men of San Jose State college to register for the Selective Service draft.

Of the 840 men from San Jose State college 644 are from the State college, and 136 are from the Junior college. The remaining 60 come from the faculty.

FORM ON PAGE FOUR

For those who are registering today here's all that you will have to do: Fill out a form similar to that on page 4 with the following information: 1. Your full name and address. 2. The date of your birth and your citizenship. 3. The name and address of the person who will always know your address.

4. Employer's name, place of business or employment. 5. Your telephone number.

There will be one more form that will be given to all registrants. This card will be carried on the person of the registrant at all times.

NEAREST POLLS

Those who live away from their homes or regular places of voting and will not be able to be there today, should register at the voting place nearest to their present residences.

Any eligible person who fails to register today will be liable to a stiff penalty. A copy of the registration form will be found on page four of today's paper.

COUNCIL SETS NEW DATE FOR ORGANIZATION DINNER AT MEETING

Group Presents Leather Wallet
To Neil Thomas As Parting Gift

By VANCE PERRY

Date of the Organization dinner was moved ahead one week to November 13 last night when the Student Council met for the last time this year with Controller Neil Thomas at Lucca's restaurant in Santa Clara.

As a farewell gift to Mr. Thomas, the council presented him with a wallet at the dinner meeting.

The change in the date of the Organization dinner was made because Student President Bob Payne, or some member of the council, is scheduled to go to College of Pacific for a rally there November 6, former date of the dinner. A rally here some time during the week before the COP game is also a possibility.

A chairman for the campus Community Chest drive, to begin November 11, will be appointed by Payne within the next few days, the council decided.

Secretary Gay Van Perre was appointed to investigate class governments and report weaknesses and strong points. Representatives from each class may be asked to meet with Miss Van Perre, or the council as a whole, soon to discuss possible improvements.

Stan Murdock and Bill Van Vleck reported that permanent, photographed-attached student cards will be ready before the COP game.

Debate Teams Plan New Type Of Discussion

Plans for a symposium type of discussion between members of the upper and lower classmen debate teams were made at the meeting of the debate group Monday afternoon, according to Woodrow Semerau, debate manager.

The topic for the discussion will be: "Resolved, that the Western Hemisphere should form a permanent alliance or union for defense against foreign aggression."

The debate is scheduled to be held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 155 with the upper classmen taking the affirmative side of the question and the lower classmen, the negative.

The junior-senior team will be composed of William Booth, Woodrow Semerau, and Wilson Maruyama, while Tom Griffin, Grace Markey, Lorenzina La Fata, Natalie Ross, and Richard Flower will represent the freshman-sophomore group. Ronald Maas will act as moderator-chairman for the debate.

D.S.G. INITIATION HELD TONIGHT

Members of Delta Sigma Gamma, social fraternity, will initiate pledges tonight at a meeting at the fraternity house, 601 South Fifth street. Frank Holt is president of the organization.

DRAMA TICKETS GO ON SALE IN SPEECH OFFICE

Tickets for the San Jose Players' first production of the quarter, "Much Ado About Nothing," go on sale today in the Speech office, room 159.

ADMISSION

Admission for student body members is 25 cents, and 50 cents for the general public. Tickets for the show, to be presented in the Little Theatre, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, October 24, 25, and 26, may be reserved, announces Speech Secretary Helen Mineta.

The Shakespearean comedy is under the direction of James Clancy, with settings designed by Wendell Johnson and constructed under the supervision of Peter Mingrone.

Leading roles in the drama will be played by Ellen Wylie, sophomore speech major from Palo Alto, who will take the part of Beatrice, and Major West, post-graduate student, will portray Benedick.

UNUSUAL SETS

An unusual feature of the show will be the "simplified realism" sets, designed by Wendell Johnson, play production instructor, and based on the three-sided Greek structure, the periakto.

ENTOMOLOGY CLUB PLANS FIELD TRIP

An all-day field trip to Black Mountain in the Mt. Hamilton range has been planned by the Entomology club for Saturday morning.

Students will meet in front of the Science building ready to leave at 8:30 a.m. A 35-cent fee will be charged for transportation. Students are asked to bring their lunches.

All interested in nature are invited to attend but first must sign up in room S213.

Mathis Completes Flight Training At Oakland

Jack Mathis, 1939 graduate with an A.B. in Biological science, has finished his preliminary flight training at Oakland, and is now at the United States Naval Aviation base in Pensacola, Florida, a recent report revealed.

He is being trained for future flying duty with the Marines.

Taking Too Much For Granted . . .

Running an institution as large as this one always calls for close co-operation between administration heads, faculty members, and students. Co-operation is vital to achieve any kind of success in whatever endeavor is attempted.

CO-OPERATION between the highest official and the lowest worker on any job has always been the democratic way of doing things in America, and until a better substitute is found, we should stick with this idea.

It is very seldom that an individual or a clique that is responsible for the affairs of any large organization can go off on its own and hope to succeed, regardless of ability. Without co-operation from the entire organization little success can possibly be hoped for.

We saw what a lack of co-operation did for the junior class. A few energetic officers went off on their own and decided that San Jose State college needed a bonfire for the Spartan-Pacific football game. They consulted no one, asked for no co-operation from anyone; but proceeded to make all plans for the huge fire.

The idea in itself is a very good one, and we hope that something can still be made out of the proposal made by the juniors.

Lack of co-operation showed the entire plan discarded when the junior class representatives failed to show up at the City Council meeting Monday night to seek a clean-up week and get permission to hold their fire.

College officials were not consulted on the matter, who in all probability would have sanctioned the bonfire idea if they had known about it first-hand instead of learning the facts through the newspapers. As it looks now, we won't have a bonfire unless someone comes to the aid of the juniors who stuck their necks out in taking for granted that plans for it were completed.

—Bonanno.

Okay, We're Ready . . .

Today marks a change in the course of the lives of many of us in meeting a great obligation made necessary by swiftly moving events in world affairs. No longer do we stand as a nation secure from the rest of a strife-torn world and free to pursue an average, normal life. This is a changing world and we must make changes accordingly or die.

Meeting this obligation of a year's military training calls for a great deal of sacrifice, more in some cases than in others. It means the end of many carefully planned futures and the ruination of air castles young men always build. But this is a time when our own individual plans and problems must become incidental to the future of American principles.

It was upon this basis of self-sacrifice that this country was founded, for wealth and prestige characterized the lives of those who led the revolt of the colonies against the mother country. They risked losing their own security to give birth to this country; we must risk giving up much less to make it exist.

The Selective Military Draft need not be a source of panic or despair for those of us who must serve. We must look at it as a job that has to be done and taken in stride. Those first selected will be pioneering the move and obviously will have the heavier burden to bear. Later it will become a normal function, a part of our normal lives in order to make secure our way of life.

Okay, Uncle Sam, we're ready.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Freshman Steering committee Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in room 24. All freshman interested in the activities of this committee are invited to attend.

Nothing Sacred

AFTER FRIDAY'S GAME—and what I please to call a preview of State's barefooted band in action—I have been led to fear for the life of our energetic drum majoreess. Not that I see Janie May's knees as the source of the inter-collegiate ire that Nevada U.'s Elsie's were, but there does arise a distinct danger with reference to the arrangement of the marching unit.

It seems that every time the band comes out for practice on the San Carlos turf, there are another six or seven trombones in the crowd—and right out in front. I shudder with apprehension when the dark head of our touted baton-ess disappears under a welter of brass pipes on the off-beat oompah. Were they tipped with bayonets, trombones could do no more potential damage.

Actual cases of musical injuries are rare. A tree caught the bell of a tuba in our high school band and so badly crippled the instrument that it took an acetylene torch to unwind the player. It's not a thing that one publicizes, however; insurance companies have a nasty way of jacking up the premium on dangerous occupations.

Thrust and Parry

Dear Thrust and Parry and Dr. MacQuarrie:

Your position makes it difficult for a student to challenge your statements, but I am going to ask a question which you should answer, if possible, as many students must be thinking as I am.

You write editorials about the bravery of the Chinese against a brutal enemy. This war has been going on for years, and the Chinese would probably, if they knew, appreciate your sympathy.

However, why haven't you written a column about the government which supplies that "brutal enemy" with scrap metal, war chemicals, and petroleum?

The Chinese, at all odds, would rather have practical aid, instead of sympathy and a "stab in the back".

VIC GORIN.

Faculty meeting to consider the organization of a chapter of the State College Instructor's Association will be held on Wednesday, October 16, at 4 p.m., in room 24, instead of the Little Theatre as previously announced. — W. H. Poytress.

CAN a person become tired of patriotism? Can a person who already has the qualities of a true American become bored with the regularity with which he is reminded to be more patriotic?

These questions spring into my mind as I sit in a theater and repeat the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, or sing the National Anthem. I often ponder over these questions as I listen to the radio again reminding me to be an American, and to think American.

True Americans are proud that they are Americans, but I think there is something down deep in the inner self of these Americans that make them feel a little perturbed when told to be more patriotic. Not that they are against patriotism or being patriotic, but they have that outlook one gets when they are repeatedly told something they already know.

Patriotism is a fine thing, and especially in these times of war, and because the majority of the people see that it is necessary they will let their pet whims and thoughts pass in hopes of uniting and converting those who lack Americanism.

In this sense, I believe they can become tired of patriotism; but because they see that it is essential in uniting for their own good and welfare, they are willing to overlook it.

The College Loses An Esteemed Friend

The entire student body should mourn the loss of Student Controller Neil O. Thomas, who leaves Sunday for a one-year period of active duty with the U. S. Army.

Mr. Thomas has been invaluable in his associations with the students and as the adviser of the Student Council. He is always held in highest esteem by members of the council.

Last year, toward the end of the spring quarter, members of the student board chipped in and bought their adviser a box of cigars and at the last meeting of the year trooped into his office in single file, headed by Hugh Staley, and presented them to the controller. One of the council members said there were tears in his eyes as he accepted the gift.

Last night Mr. Thomas invited the whole council to dinner in Santa Clara and the council affectionately gave him a wallet. The members call him Neil and they like him. We of the Spartan Daily are appreciative, too, of his willingness to give out news. He is always co-operative and does his best to give the break out of his office.

So it is with genuine regret that we watch Neil Thomas leave the campus and we feel sure that he holds the same thought.

BILL RODRICK

Generally Speaking

NATIONAL defense, which has already taken temporarily one student councilman and will cause the registration of hundreds of students this sunny day for the privilege of exchanging a pack and a rifle for a binder and pen, also spirits away genial Controller Neil O. Thomas this Sunday for a period of reserve officer training.

Since—providing the present external relations of this country remain at status quo—Controller Thomas will be back in a year, there is no need to be eulogistic here, but it will be difficult to effectively replace the man who now holds the unique position as the official link between the students and the administration.

Neil Thomas has two loyalties. As student council adviser and controller of student affairs, Thomas must represent the student body; but as a faculty administrative head, he must also represent that department of the college and when the policies of the two don't jibe, it takes little thought to appreciate that that can be a pretty difficult job. That the Captain has handled it admirably is a fact proven by his real popularity with student administrators past and present.

DONS AGAIN OUT FOR REVENGE AGAINST SPARTA

POWERFUL U.S.F. TEAM SEEKS FIRST VICTORY

Despite the fact the University of San Francisco Dons have lost their only two starts of the 1940 season, their backers are still willing to back the present aggregation as the best to represent the Hill-toppers in some years.

The Dons, knowing that they must produce a win over San Jose on Friday night to even approach a successful season, are determined.

WATER POLO TEAM OPPOSES INDIAN VARSITY TODAY

Attempting to score its first victory in collegiate circles, Coach Charley Walker's Polo team will invade the Stanford Campus this afternoon to battle Coach Norton Thornton's Indian Water Polo squad.

Thornton's septet took the measure of the Spartans in the last meeting of the teams, splashing to an 8-4 victory in the finals of the Jr. P.A.A. tourney two weeks ago.

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

With two weeks of practice behind them, the Walkermen are given an even chance of upsetting the Indians. Their strong showing against the Olympic club last week, when they lost a hairline decision 8-7, stamps them as a serious threat to topple the Spartans.

In the first meeting of the septets, the Spartans were unable to score through Roy Vitousek, Stanford's goalie, because the forwards were not clicking together on the offensive. Against the Winged O, the Spartans showed they had a hard charging forward wall ready to give the aggressive Stanford goalie plenty of trouble.

SCORING IMPROVES

Another factor which stands the locals in good stead is the fact that Gene Shirakoff, Bill Iliff, and company hit their stride in the Winged O outfit and banged away at the highly touted Dick Savage for seven goals, coming from behind at 6-3 to tie the game up with three quick goals at 6-6.

Starting lineup for the Spartans will be the same as faced the Olympic club, namely Windsor, Shirakoff and Iliff, forwards; Captain Foster, Sparrow, and Horan, guards, with Hoffman at goal. The varsity game will start at 4:45.

MIRACLES TIED WITH LEADERS IN GRID GAME

Teresi's Miracles are giving the league leading Konoshima Mon-gooses a tough tussle in their intramural touch-tackle grid game on the San Carlos turf, holding the leaders to a scoreless tie for the first half.

Final half of the game will be played tomorrow noon.

In the other game of the noon league, Mitchell's Underdogs are leading Raglin's Badgers, 18 to 12, in a free scoring contest.

PING-PONG

Next play in intra-mural competition will be the ping-pong tournament, scheduled to open next week, according to Tony Nasimento, who is supervising the intra-mural sports program.

Final day of sign-up is Friday noon at which time a schedule of

SEEK FIRST WIN

They will be going into the Spartan clash looking for their first victory, which isn't a new spot for the San Joseans to be in.

Last year the Dons, enraged over an upset loss to St. Mary's of Texas, tried to take the measure of San Jose for revenge, but fell short to a hard-fighting outfit by 10 points.

LOSE TWO MEN

The Green and Gold warriors, who defeated a strong St. Mary's team last year, and held an equally powerful Santa Clara crew to a tie, have lost only two regulars from the 1939 team.

Their loss has been hardly felt, with promising candidates from last year's frosh squad coming up to give the old hands plenty of competition for first string varsity berths.

FULLBACK STAR

Workhorse of the Don squad is Cliff Fisk, a 220 pound fullback who will match power thrusts with San Jose's big Truck Tornell.

Fisk plays practically every minute for the Dons, and Sunday was good for at least four yards per carry against a tough St. Mary's line. One of San Jose's objectives in practice this week is to knit a tight defense against Fisk's power plunges.

SPARTANS SCRIMMAGE

San Jose went through a hard scrimmage last night under the Spartan stadium lights, stressing blocking above all else. Motion pictures of the Spartan-Aztec game of Friday night, showed the Spartans looking miserable at times in this department.

Return Of George Morasci Bolsters Yearling Eleven

Freshmen chances of defeating Marin junior college Friday night in Marin were raised yesterday with the return of injured George Morasci to practice.

Morasci, injured in the Santa Rosa game, saw little action last week against Modesto and was kept out of scrimmage yesterday by Coach Fred Hamlow.

SCORING THREAT

The big fullback has been the Spartan scoring threat for the first three games of the season. His passing and running coupled with his plunging ability have made him a real threat.

With Al Hardesty taking over the duties left vacant by Morasci last week, and showing exceptional passing and running ability, gives the yearlings two serious threats for the Marin game in the key spot.

KUHL REPORTS

The frosh line was strengthened play will be mapped. Anyone interested may sign up until Friday noon on the men's gym bulletin board.

FROSH POLOISTS MEET STANFORD IN OPENER TODAY

PARKER SCORES

Al "Lenny" Corcoran, fast swimming back, and Parker Snow,

yesterday, when big 215 pound Otto Kuhl came out for the team. Kuhl will play tackle for the yearlings which has been one of the weak spots all year long.

Coach Hamlow indicated yesterday that no changes would be made in his starting line from that which opened against Modesto last week. George Klinger considered the freshman's best right halfback has been calling the signals and according to Hamlow will do the signal barking against Marin Friday night.

SOCCERMEN FACE BEARS SATURDAY MORNING AT SPARTAN STADIUM

Although the San Jose State college soccer players were able to rest last week-end as the result of a bye in the Northern California Intercollegiate conference, they are by no means ready to tackle the University of California on the soccer field near the Spartan stadium Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Three mainstays on Coach Hovey McDonald's team are doubtful starters as the result of injuries. Latest setback received is the loss of one of their key men, Art Tindall, center forward, whose arm muscle was paralyzed in practice Monday night. He was taken to the health cottage, and McDonald is doubtful if he will return to shape in time for Saturday's contest.

Probably the biggest blow is the possible loss of Captain Freddie Albright, center half. He received quick sprinting center forward, led the scoring for San Jose with two goals each. Others who scored for San Jose were Joe Hunter, Marty Taylor, Don Thomsen, Victor Hugo and Harry Caylor.

FROSH IMPROVE

This afternoon's game will be a real test for the Walkermen as Stanford always shows power and deception. With Snow and Taylor displaying good ball handling and Al Corcoran showing speed and ability at the guard position, the Frosh are rounding into a good team, according to Walker.

an injured toe when he fell off a racing bicycle after the San Francisco State opener a week ago Saturday and has not been able to practice since. In case he fails to mend in time for the encounter with the Bears, a big gap will be left as his place is hard to fill.

Frank Arnerich, a big bruiser who plays at the left full spot, injured his foot in the conference opener in San Francisco and is still missing from the line-up. Phil Nell, a staunch up-and-coming player, or Usher Tucker will replace Arnerich if he is not in condition to play.

Ray Fahn, Gus Kotta, Tony Nasimento, Harvey White and Roy Diedericksen, who had been on the injured list, have recuperated and are expected to be in shape for the Bear engagement. Ed Turner, Ernest Figone, Mert Crockett and John Peebles, all of whom opened against San Francisco State, have escaped the injury bug so far and will probably again hold down starting berths.

Nine Freshmen Elected To Guide Class

Nine members of the Freshman class were elected Monday evening as a Steering committee to guide the activities of the class through the remaining weeks of the first quarter.

Under the temporary chairmanship of Nick Bagar, 25 first year students attended the open meeting to elect and lay plans for this executive committee to replace class officers.

At the end of the quarter the committee will have charge of the election of class officers.

A permanent chairman of this group has not yet been elected. Committee members are: Franklin Meull, Dean Thompson, Rozetta Ryan, Margaret Ann Spellacy, Betty Irwin, Marian Rye, Frank Thompson, Howard Brose, and Lawrance Viaw.

TAU DELTA PHI HOLDS PLEDGE SMOKER TONIGHT

Twenty prospective nominees to Tau Delta Phi, men's honorary scholastic fraternity, will be honored at a pledge smoker tonight at the Hotel De Anza commencing at 7:30.

According to Darrel Pilgrim, chairman of the committee in charge, the smoker is designed to acquaint prospective neophytes with present members of the fraternity.

He urges all members, past and present, to attend the smoker. The initial step in the selection of Tau Delta Phi neophytes will conclude toward the end of the quarter with informal and formal initiations.

Next business meeting of the Tau Deltas is scheduled for Friday noon in the Tower, preceded by a noon luncheon.

DESIGN A STANDARD BELT BUCKLE FOR SAN JOSE STATE AND WIN A TEN DOLLAR MERCHANDISE ORDER

Spring's is sponsoring a contest open to all San Jose State college students, including co-eds, for a standard belt buckle design—one designed by the students—for the students. We believe that such standardization will make the buckle thoroughly authentic and more representative of your college.

The WINNER of this contest will receive from SPRING'S a TEN DOLLAR MERCHANDISE ORDER.

The name of the winner and a reproduction of his or her design will appear in the November 1st issue of the Spartan Daily.
