

SEASON BOOKLETS FOR SAN JOSE PLAYERS GO OFF SALE FRIDAY

Friday will be the last day on which students can purchase season booklets for this year's dramatic productions, announces Hugh Gillis, Speech department head.

Booklets cost one dollar for students who are members of the associated student body and two dollars for outsiders. They entitle the holder to see the six major productions of the San Jose Players as well as several shorter plays.

"THE RIVALS"

The first play scheduled for production is "The Rivals" by Richard B. Sheridan, which will open on November 5. The annual Christmas play will be "Mr. Pickwick", taken from Charles Dickens' "Pickwick Papers".

In February, Eugene O'Neill's family comedy "Ah, Wilderness" will be presented, and in March the only serious offering of the season will be staged—Maxwell Anderson's "Winterset".

SHAW PLAY FINISHES SEASON

"East Lynne", 19th Century melodrama by Mrs. Henry Wood, will be given in April, and the final play of the season will be George Bernard Shaw's satirical play "Caesar and Cleopatra".

A program of one-act plays is being planned by Miss Marie Carr of the Speech faculty, and two other lengthy plays will be staged during the season. Those with season books will be admitted at no extra charge, states Gillis.

Dean De Voss To Speak At Commerce Feed

Commerce majors in special secondary work are urged by business education teachers to attend the annual fall get-together tomorrow night at O'Brien's Pompeian room. Those planning to attend must sign up before noon today in Dr. Earl Atkinson's office in the commerce wing.

The event is especially profitable to those who have not attended previous commerce banquets. An opportunity is presented enabling students to make valuable contacts, Dr. Atkinson says.

Dr. James De Voss, dean of the upper division, will be the speaker. His subject will bear on teacher-training requirements and for this reason will be pertinent to lower-division students. Various faculty and professional people in the field of commerce will also attend.

PE Majors Meet For Elections

Physical Education minors will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the Women's gym. A short business meeting to elect officers will be followed by a social get-together. Badminton will be played and refreshments served.

The club is open to all Physical Education minors. Anyone interested in joining should be at the meeting, announces Miss Sarah Wilson, adviser.

Meetings are held about once a month and are usually for social purposes. Interesting speakers are often present to address the group.

JIVE SESSION IN QUAD THIS NOON FOR STATE CATS

"Jam 'n' Jivers" will take over the quad today noon at the weekly swing concert presented by the Social Affairs committee.

Rex Gardiner, in charge of the public address system, is sending out a call for popular recordings. Anyone who owns or can get a supply of records is asked to bring them to the person at the microphone.

Requests will be taken and dedications made whenever possible. "Just ask the one at the mike," says Gardiner. "He'll be glad to play the number you want if it is available."

The swing concerts are put on by the Social Affairs committee for the dancing or listening pleasure of the student body. Students are invited to eat their lunch to the sweet swing of Tommy Dorsey or to jive to the hot rhythm of Cab Calloway.

SOCIAL SCIENCE GETS NEW OFFICE

New quarters for part of the Social Science department will be completed at the end of this week. They are being constructed from what was formerly the office of the library staff.

Social Science instructors who at present have their offices in Dean Paul Pitman's office, with the exception of Miss Clara Hinze, will move into the main office of the new quarters.

Dr. William Poytress, head of the Social Science department, will have a new and enlarged office in the new space, as will Mr. Claude N. Settles.

Dr. Olive Gilliam, History instructor, will have Dr. Poytress' old office.

As soon as the installation of the heating and electrical appliances have been completed, the new offices will be ready for occupancy.

Faculty Members Asked To Buy Yearbooks Now

Faculty members may come to the Publications office any day this week between 11 and 1 to pay for their 1942 Yearbooks.

The sales staff, headed by Leon Torrey and Walt Schmidt, are endeavoring to see all instructors about this matter. A special price has been set for the faculty, and they may pay on the installment plan.

Space sales for La Torre are still moving slowly. A minority of organizations have signified their intentions as to the amount of space necessary. After the deadline has been set, all clubs not reporting will be scratched off the list.

Nursing Students To Elect Officers

First of the fall quarter meetings for pre-nursing students will be tomorrow at 4 o'clock in room S227.

Officers for this quarter will be elected. All freshman and transfer nursing students are urged to attend.

SOPHOMORE ELECTORS FAIL AGAIN, 40-40 RUN-OFF TIE RESULTS

The run-off election yesterday in front of Morris Dailey auditorium proved of little use to second-year students, for again the sophomore class failed to elect a president.

Paul Borg and George Coles emerged from a hotly competitive race with 40 votes. Leon Torrey, election judge, announces that this unusual tie will necessitate another run-off election, the date of which will be revealed later.

Ancient Press Being Rebuilt

A 300-year-old printing press will be reconstructed by Parker Christensen and Oliver Upton, Industrial Arts students, under the direction of Hartley E. Jackson, printing instructor.

The press, which is operated by hand, was made in 1638 by William Jansen Blaew of Amsterdam, Holland, and was the basis for presses later used throughout Europe.

It will be put to practical use by printing classes of that department.

In Mr. Jackson's possession also is a small black leather bound book, printed in 1824, and dealing with all types of printing matter and various ancient designs of printing machines. "Typographia", according to Mr. Jackson, is an education in itself.

New Pegasus Branch Planned

Pledging activities for autumn quarter and the possible forming of a chapter on-campus at the University of California were main points of discussion at Monday night's meeting of Pegasus, literary honor society, held at the home of Wesley Goddard of the English faculty.

The society, limited to 14 members, chooses its pledges on a basis of original manuscripts submitted by applicants. Several vacancies have been caused by graduation and the Selective Service Act, points out Howard Melton, president, and applications will be considered. Any student who is seriously interested in creative writing is invited to submit one or more original manuscripts, either poetry or prose, for consideration.

These may be turned in to any of the three faculty advisers, Dr. James Wood, Dr. Esther Shepherd, or Wesley Goddard, or to any member of the society. Among members who could be contacted are Howard Melton, Grover Mabry, Otto Peterson, Elizabeth Moody, Dorothy Bailey, Tom Pagenhart, Watson Lacy.

No S.B. Card, No Health Cottage!

Once again students are reminded that application for admission to the Elizabeth McFadden Health cottage will be denied unless the student presents a student body card upon request.

In past weeks many have attempted to gain admission without benefit of a card, but in the future only those who hold student body membership may be cared for there.

Dorothea Bernsdorf was elected to office of senior AWA representative with 16 votes. Audrey Orcutt followed with four votes.

In summary, class elections for 1941-42 have thus far placed the following students in office: Lewis Daniels, senior president; Tom Harvey, vice-president; Dorothy Jones, secretary-treasurer, and Dorothea Bernsdorf, AWA representative.

Juniors have elected Jack Tierman president, Herb petty vice-president, and Helen Donovan secretary-treasurer.

Debaters Travel To UC For Round Table Discussion

The University of California debate squad has invited San Jose State college debaters to join them Saturday, October 18, at the first of the Saturday Round Table discussions to be held monthly on the campus of different bay area colleges.

Each school will send two people, one upperclassman and one lowerclassman. The speakers at the first meeting will be prepared to give a seven-minute speech on the theme, "War Aims".

The representatives have not yet been chosen, but steps in that direction will be taken at the election meeting of the debate group at 4:00 this afternoon in room 49. Those attending will not be able to vote for debate manager unless they have Student Body cards, says Debate Manager Woodrow Semereau.

FIRST AID GROUP MEETS

Increased attendance marked the second meeting of the Faculty First Aid group held last night in the Health office under the leadership of Miss Grace Plum and Miss Harriet Noyes.

According to Miss Plum, the course is of particular value to members of the Science department.

"As a result of the training they receive here they will be better equipped to cope with emergencies which arise in the chemistry, biology or physics laboratories. Field trips also provide the instructors with many opportunities for minor medical repairs," she stated.

Statistics show that persons with first aid training have one-third less accidents than those without training. Thus the biggest part of the present program is concerned with accident prevention, with first aid technique also stressed.

It Can Be Done

One of the most extravagant shows ever presented by San Jose State was the all-college production of Henrik Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" in 1937. It was a show widely acclaimed by critics up and down the peninsula.

With a cast of nearly 200 students and faculty members, plus the 100-piece college symphony orchestra, and 12 complete changes of scenery, presentation of the show was made possible with the co-operation of different campus departments—Orchestrations, Speech, Art, Home Economics, and Industrial Arts were all represented.

This year for the first time, traditional Spartan Revelries will be produced in the winter instead of in the spring quarter with Spardi Gras. The separation was suggested by the student council and approved by the student body last year in order that each function would be complete in itself and not detract from the other. The student body felt that Revelries was a big enough attraction to warrant a billing by itself.

To be perfectly honest with ourselves, Revelries shows of the past few years have been very high-schoolish. They were not worthy of college production.

"Peer Gynt" is an example of what can be done in the way of college productions, but a show of that caliber would take a great deal of work, planning, and, most of all, co-operation from the different departments.

The Speech department could assign some of its abundant talent to write a script, design sets, and act in the show—the Music department could co-operate by arranging musical numbers—Orchestrations could present original dance numbers.

If we're going to have a Revelries show, let's make it good. It can be done!

Art Department Egotistical?

When I first came to San Jose State last month I was surprised at the beauty of the college campus. The Spanish architecture was picturesque. Then one day I happened to enter the campus from San Carlos street and much to my surprise and disgust the A, R, and T on the Art wing hit me full in the face.

Curious to see what affect it had on the outsider passing by the campus, I drove by in my car and the sight of it was no less appalling.

I do not think the ego of the Art department should be allowed to express such a lack of art in its decorations.

— J. C.

What Is This—A High School?

Dear Thrust and Parry:

I read Jensen's editorial in the Spartan Daily yesterday and agree that many of the students here do not know their future Alma Mater.

I cite myself as an example. Last summer I decided to visit the campus before enrolling here as a student. I drove by the campus, thinking it was the high school or a city park, not seeing most of the campus.

Ending up on The Alameda, I found that I had passed right by the campus.

Two or three appropriately stationed signs would have eliminated the whole incident.

LUXURY TAX AFFECTS COLLEGE STUDENTS

By MARY SMITH

"The new luxury tax will catch you on a thousand little things that you will never even notice," says Dr. William Poytress, social sciences head, in telling how the new tax bill will affect college students as well as the rest of the citizenry.

Those of you who are keeping house this quarter may or may not notice the 2 cents more you pay on every thousand matches and the 6 per cent increase you pay on your telephone bill, but it will be there.

Even pinocle cards have a 13-cent tax. These little additions are named "nuisance taxes".

There is a $5 "use tax" on your car—be it a '41 Cadillac or an antiquated jalopy. Admission to the Hester and even the 20-cent shows is taxed 10 per cent. Innumerable articles ranging from refrigerators to lipsticks bear this new 10 per cent tax.

INCOME TAXES

If you are working, making $15 a week, and working 50 weeks this year, you will pay income taxes, for there is a 4 per cent tax on any income over $750 per year—assuming you have no dependents.

Dr. Poytress explains how originally single people were not taxed unless they earned $1500 per year. Then it was lowered to $1000, and now it is $750. For married people it was $2500, then $2000, and now it is $1500—minus allowances for any dependents you may have.

TWO NEW TAX TYPES

Dr. Poytress explains that roughly there are two types of taxes:

One makes an attempt to tax commodities that require defense materials in their construction—radios, refrigerators, washing machines, etc. The other attempts to tax luxuries, thus discouraging buying and attempting to get people to put their money into defense bonds.

PRICES RISE

Dr. Poytress points out, investigation shows that in some cases local dealers not only raise their prices to cover the new tax, but they also sneak in a little more for good measure. The idea in this is that it gives dealers an opportunity to raise prices in anticipation of a general rising price level.

ERNIE JORGENSEN TO HEAD ARTIZANS

Ernie Jorgensen, Art major, was chosen president of the Artizans fraternity Monday evening at the group's clubhouse on Second street.

Assisting Jorgensen with the official duties will be James Daily, vice-president; George Alassa, secretary; Merlin Juntz, treasurer; Claude Horan, sergeant-at-arms; Ronald Hathaway will handle the club's publicity.

Following the election of officers, the group discussed plans for future activities.

A special meeting of the group will be held at the Artizan clubhouse Monday evening, October 13. All members are requested to be present.

Poloists Hold Daily Workout For Club Tilt

With all players reportedly in top shape, Coach Charley Walker is sending both his varsity and freshman water polo teams through strenuous practice and scrimmage this week in order to insure top shape performance for Friday's encounter with the Olympic club septets.

The varsity team will play the Winged "O" first team, which is always one of the top teams on the Pacific coast. Last year the Olympic team nosed out the Spartans in both encounters and won the Bay Cities Water Polo crown. This year the league has been discontinued due to the fact that some of the teams could not get players.

With both teams hit hard by losses from last year's strong teams, prospects are about even. The Spartans are relying on players from last year's freshman squad and the Olympic splash ball artists on last year's reserve.

The freshman will meet the reserves in the preliminary encounter Friday night. Faced with a rather inexperienced team, Coach Walker is giving the yearling team plenty of chance for scrimmage to give them the playing experience needed. Although not expected to make too good a showing over the strong Winged "O" team, they will be in there fighting until the end, states Walker.

Their opponents were also hit hard with last year's reserve men moving into first team berths and newcomers filling in for the reserves.

MINTER LEADS SPARTAN BALL CARRIERS; TEAM OUTGAINS OPPONENTS

According to official statistics Aubrey "Mule" Minter, fleet-footed left half for the Spartans, is leading ground gainer in the three games played this year. Minter, playing his last year at San Jose State college, gallops around right ends for big gains, eluding would-be tacklers by his sidestepping and cut backs. Minter has carried the ball 23 times for 146 yards, an average of 6.1 yards.

Fred Lindsey, plunging fullback, is second in the yardage chart with an average of 4.7 yards per try. Lindsey, who seems to find holes in the opponent's line, has carried the ball 26 times, netting 22 yards.

Right behind Lindsey is Allen Hardisty, who displayed great line plunging last Friday night from the tailback spot, with an even yard gain per try. Hardisty has carried the ball 32 times for 146 yards.

George Fotte, third-string left half, is next with an average of 4.6 yards per try, followed by Fullback Chet Carsten with 3.3 yards and Bill Rhyne, right half, with 3 yards per try.

Bert Robinson, hard charging right half, although making some very good runs and a valuable man in the clutch, is rather low in the yardage gained with an average of 2.1 yards.

HARDISTY LEADS

Hardisty leads the Spartan passers, having completed 11 out of the 17 thrown for a percentage of 47. Lindsey comes next with 2.9 percent, having connected with six out of fourteen passes thrown. Carsten has completed two passes out of six attempts for 8 percent.

In the punting department Hardisty again tops the field with an average of 45 yards per punt. Mike Slepnikoff, another of Coach Winkelman's many fullbacks, has an average of 35.5 yards for the

Allan Hardisty Might Be Lost As Lindsey Returns

Good and bad news struck the Spartan camp yesterday afternoon as Coach Ben Winkelman put the Spartans through a long workout for the opening CCAA conference game in San Diego Friday night.

The good news was that Fred "Bulldog" Lindsey, first string fullback injured in the Fort Ord game, returned to practice, and on the other side was that Lindsey's understudy and hero of last week's game, Allan Hardisty, was sent to the Health Cottage with a fever.

However, by 7 o'clock last night his temperature had gone down and it is possible he will make the trip down south.

Depending on their showing in practice today, Winkelman will pick out the 30 men who will make the trip to the border city tomorrow.

Backfield Coach Walt McPherson, who scouted San Diego last week when they defeated Occidental 7 to 6, came back with his pockets bulging with Aztec plays and his mouth full of praise for "Bounding" Bob Cozens, star all-conference left half of last year.

He and his "dummy foe squad" will run the plays against the regulars this afternoon.

SEVEN TEAMS IN INTRAMURAL TOUCH FOOTBALL TOURNEY

The Coinsados, Bob Cats and the Police teams took the lead in the 1941 intramural touch football games yesterday on the San Carlos turf, holding their opponents in check and scoring to take the lead in the first half of the game. The second half will be played Thursday noon.

The Coinsados took the measure of the Chauncies in the opening half, putting across two touchdowns to lead 12-0. Cyril Taylor was the main cog of the Coinsado attack.

The police students led the YMCA team by the same score in the third game of the day. Al Corcoran scored six of the police team's twelve points.

Bobcats led the Stinkers in a closely fought battle and anything could happen in the second half on Thursday.

There are now seven teams participating, with the Spartan Stags entering a team this week. They will see action next week.

Injuries Worry Coach Winter As J.C. Tilt Nears

In the words of Coach Bud Winter, "The freshman eleven is holding limping good practices."

The physical condition of several of the main cogs in the Frosh football machine is the direct cause of Winter's not too cheerful statement. First string quarterback Bill Perry turned up at practice on crutches as the result of a pulled ligament and center George Graves is on the sidelines with a hip-pointer. Bud Engles, left end on the first eleven, has a bad ankle and has to limp through scrimmage.

Fullback Jack Gearing, who was out of the Santa Rosa contest with an injured shoulder, is back with the squad and should be ready for the game with Modesto Junior college next Saturday afternoon.

For every position there is a great deal of competition but the duel between Al Long and Carl Hansen for the starting call at left guard, tops the mall. Both Long and Hansen are determined to make the first eleven and are making it plenty tough on men who oppose the main line scrimmage.

This year's freshman team is fast, clever and capable of using a variety of trick plays. They won their first game with Salinas by trickery and pulled a surprise play against Santa Rosa which set up a score. Because of this, Coach Winter has given them another set which bears such names as "Dipsie Doodle" and "Razzle Dazzle".

They will have a basketball attack with an assortment of forward passes, lateral passes, shovel passes, flankers and men in motion, and combinations of any or all of them.

Nancy Hillier, Chuck Love, Silvia Ronning, and Bill Fawcett were appointed to make up a committee to plan a freshman council party when the freshman council met last night in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

The party will be held this week, its purpose being to get council members better acquainted so that they can later elect class officers.

The council now has over 50 members, a large percentage of whom are girls.

Last night's meeting was conducted by Bill White of San Jose. He will act as temporary chairman until officers are elected.

Dean Paul Pitman spoke to the council and as "papa" of the Freshman class offered his help on any activities the class might plan.

KODACHROMES TAKEN BY STONE

George E. Stone, photography instructor, spent a photographer's dream vacation last summer traveling through California and Nevada on a two months' camera trip for Standard Oil company.

The trip carried Mr. Stone and his wife over 5000 miles of mountains, deserts, valleys, plains, and miles of coast line with stops at such places as Hollywood, Reno, Lake Tahoe, Pyramid lake and intermediate points.

The fruits of Mr. Stone's trip are some 100 Kodachrome transparencies which were submitted to Standard Oil and, according to Mr. Stone, a recent letter informs him that a number of the pictures have been accepted.

Mr. Stone says that only a few unpleasant experiences occurred such as heavy rains in sections, winds, and two broken axles, the first of which happened as he was leaving San Jose.

Jaycee Transfers Choose San Jose

Increasing numbers of Riverside Junior college students are choosing San Jose State college as their new alma mater, according to a recent article in the "Arroyo", Riverside weekly.

The Universities of California in Berkeley and Los Angeles draw the greatest number of Riverside transfers, with San Jose third over such institutions as Southern California and Los Angeles City college.

Transfers here last year, most of them still in attendance as senior students, were Dick Denton, Norman Brown, Ralph Wright, Robert Freeland, Walter Pascoe, Carleton Roberts, Jane Pomeroy and Harold Lines.

Here this year from Riverside as juniors are Helen Rees, Martha Barthelmew, Glenn McMenomy, Jim Peppones and Carl Peterson.

CATHOLIC STUDENT RECEPTION FRIDAY

The Catholic students attending San Jose State college will be honored at a reception by the members of the Newman Catholic club at Newman hall on Friday evening, October 10.

Newman club is one of the large organizations on the campus and this affair is expected to be one of the main events of the fall quarter, according to Club President Mary Cleary.

The tentative Social Affairs chairman is Veronica Cleary, who is working with Miss Rita Del Piero, dance chairman on final plans for Friday night. Helping Miss Piero are Paul Robiano, Genevieve Grasso and Jack Malone.

The Reverend Father Francis, club chaplain; Mary Cleary, president, and old members will be present at the door to greet the students and to see that they become acquainted with the members and fellow Catholic students.

The club rooms will be opened and though dancing will provide the main course of entertainment, bowling, pingpong and pool will be of interest to some.

San Jose Graduate Enlists With RCAF

Thomas Patrick McNiff, of last year's graduating class, left San Jose late last week for British Columbia to enlist in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Shortly after his arrival in Canada, McNiff will enter training in a hospital in Victoria for the medical corps of the air force, he says. He was graduated from San Jose State college in June, 1941, with departmental honors in biological science, and had planned to enter medical school at Stanford university this autumn. He now expects to be sent overseas for active service early next spring.
