TICKETS SELL RAPIDLY FOR C.O.P. EXCURSION

Sold to the students of San Jose State college Monday, 122 excursion tickets to the San Jose State College of Pacific football game Friday night. This was the statement issued by Bud Stewart, campus controller, yesterday afternoon.

Stewart indicates that tickets are being sold rapidly, and believes that a record excursion crowd will be at Stockton to support the Spartan team.

Mrs. Dorothy Francis, ticket manager at the College of Pacific, has sent notice that 1120 seats, located in the center of the west side of the stadium, have been reserved for San Jose rooters. One section, just south of the rooting section, has been reserved for non-student body card holders supporting the Spartans. Tickets for these seats sell for $1.25.

Mrs. Francis, in commenting on probable attendance at the game, said: "At the College of Pacific we have had a wonderful advance sale of tickets, and I believe that if sales continue as they have thus far, a good crowd will be assured for the game."

The fifteen-car excursion will leave San Jose Friday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Tickets can be obtained from the Controller's office for $1.75.

DR. KAUCHER'S 'BOSUN' TO BE PRESENTED SOON

"Bosun", an original play by Dr. Dorothy Kaucher of the Speech department, will be the first in a series of one-act plays to be directed by Miss Marie Carr. Plans for its production are now under way.

CHARACTER ROLES

The most important role in this play is that of "Bosun", an ex-seaman. There is one other man's part and two women's roles. All four are essentially character parts.

TRYOUTS THURSDAY

Tryouts for the play will be held from 4 to 6 in room 53 Thursday afternoon, and are open to the student body. No experience is necessary. Copies of the play are hour-reserve in the library for those who are interested in trying out.

No date has yet been set for presentation of the play. In the future Miss Carr plans to produce original plays by members of the play-writing class, so the student authors will have a chance to see their work in actual production and better detect their shortcomings.

DIETETICS CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

Alpha Delta, campus dietetics club, will meet tonight, 7:30, at the home of Mary Maren Johnson, 473 North 17th street.

It will be a social and informative meeting and all new prospective dietitians are invited as guests of the club, says Miss Helen Migon, faculty adviser.

PEGGY RICHTER NAMED SPARTAN DAILY EDITOR BY STUDENT COUNCIL

By FLORENCE SCUDERO

Peggy Richter, senior journalism major from San Jose, was named editor of the Spartan Daily at the council meeting last night.

Miss Richter, graduate of Notre Dame high school, was selected by the council following a letter of recommendation by Dwight Bentel, head of the Journalism department.

The student council voted to re-open the sale of student body cards last night, placing a 16-day health service restriction. This was decided so that the Health Cottage would be protected. Students who wish to buy student body cards must get a clearance from Miss Margaret Twombly, head of the Health department, before purchasing them from the controller's office. Price of card has remained the same.

The student council emphasized that members of all organizations must be members of the student body. All organizations having members who are non-student card holders would not be recognized by the council, it was announced.

In an effort to stop the loaning of student body cards for athletic games, the council moved to have its members stay at the gates to examine cards more closely.

Leon Torrey was named head of the election committee for the quarter. The council appointed Bill Raye, Leslie Burmeister, Ann Wilson, Lynwood Lyons, and Gene Long to assist him.

Plans for regular social activities in an effort to acquaint new students and to give other students something to do, the council agreed to assist the AWA. The affairs will be regular parties to be held in the gym.

FROSH COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

Freshman who are interested in being on the class council are invited to attend a special meeting of the council to be held at 5 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium today.

ENLARGE COUNCIL

The purpose of this special meeting is to enlarge the council in proportion to the number of students from each high school. At present each high school has one council member, but under the new plan they will have one representative for each 50 students from their school.

Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman will have a list of students and their former high schools so that the council will know exactly how many representatives each school is supposed to have.

COMMITTEE ORGANIZATION

The meeting will also serve as an opportunity for the organization of committees. According to Bill White, class president, the social affairs committee is going to have to get into action promptly on the Frosh-Soph Mixer. The constitution and publicity committees also have to be organized as quickly as possible and get their work started.

TRUCKS NEEDED FOR BUILDING OF RALLY BONFIRE

With the building of the College of the Pacific bonfire scheduled to begin at 1 o'clock this afternoon, the rally committee is faced with a shortage of trucks.

Bob Roberts, chairman of construction, has put out a call for anyone who can supply a truck, large or small, to contact him, Tom Taylor or Dick Payne. The rally committee will supply gasoline and oil for all the trucks which are used in hauling material to the fire, which will be built in the field next to Spartan stadium.

Along with the need of trucks there is also a shortage of men to collect the goods already promised, build the fire and stand guard. Individuals and organizations who are willing to help by doing any of these tasks are asked by the rally committee to sign up immediately with Roberts, Payne, Taylor or on one of the bulletin boards. The rally committee will then assign the district or shift for which those who sign up will be responsible.

Tonight the first guard will be posted around the fire. Committee Chairman Dick Payne states that he has been tipped off by a reliable authority, which he will not reveal, that College of Pacific students are planning a raid for this evening. For this reason there will be an all-night vigil maintained. The night will be broken up into three shifts—6 p.m. to 10 p.m., 10 p.m. to 2 a.m., and 2 a.m. to 6 a.m. Payne states that he particularly wants fraternities and organizations to volunteer to stand one of these watches in a body, as this makes for better spirit and co-operation.

Students also are asked by the committee not to solicit any more material for the fire as there already is enough promised to complete the conflagration.

Class Meetings Tomorrow At 11:20

Because of popular student request the second class meetings of the quarter will be held tomorrow at 11:20. General class business will be discussed at the meetings.

According to tentative plans, the seniors will meet in the Little Theater, the juniors in room S112, the sophomores in the Men's gym, and the freshmen in Morris Dailey auditorium.

The following class schedule for tomorrow has been released by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president:

First period: 8:10 to 8:48.
Second period: 8:58 to 9:36.
Third period: 9:46 to 10:24.
Fourth period: 10:34 to 11:12.
Fifth period: 11:20 to 12:00.

DRIVE ENDS; DEDICATED TO INJURED DIRECTOR

The Community Chest talent show at 11:20 o'clock this morning, concluding a seven-day campus drive, will be dedicated to Jeanette Owen, who was injured in an automobile accident early Sunday morning.

From her hospital bed at O'Connor's sanitarium, Miss Owen, who was chairman of the show, sends a message of encouragement to the cast and student body and hopes that all will attend the show, which will be held in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Word from O'Connor's says that Miss Owen will be confined for at least two weeks at the hospital with face and body injuries.

Taking over Miss Owen's place for today's show will be co-Chairmen Audrey Backenstol and Stell Siglin. Lew Daniel, general chairman of the drive, will emcee the production.

Famed Artist Plays Tonight In Auditorium

Tickets will remain on sale today for the Alice Ehlers harpsichord concert, to be given tonight at 8:15 in the Morris Dailey auditorium, and will be sold at the door tonight, it was announced yesterday by the Music department. Tickets are 83 cents, and may be had for 44 cents by possessors of A. S. B. cards.

Miss Ehlers, who has been acclaimed by American and European music critics for her unusual technique, is one of the very few modern musicians who have chosen the harpsichord as their instrument. The most popular keyboard instrument of the 18th century, the harpsichord was the instrument for which the music of Bach and Haydn and others of their period was written. Therefore, points out Adolph Otterstein, Music department head, this music cannot be heard as the composers intended until it is heard

DAY EDITOR (This Issue) BETTY FINLEY

Thanks, Merchants Of San Jose

Thanks, Kiwanis club! Thanks, merchants of San Jose!

Thanks for showing San Jose State college that the town is behind it, that San Jose is aware of and appreciative of our efforts; thanks for substantial support of one of the most worthwhile of our activities!

What are we talking about? We're talking about the efforts of three members of the local Kiwanis Club in taking subscriptions to send our 110-piece band to Reno with the football team on November 8, and the splendid co-operation they have had from San Jose's business men in contributing to the fund. We're talking about a group of "outsiders" ("outsiders"?), who not only back our activities by shouting and cheering at our football and basketball games (which they pay to attend) but with a substantial sum of cash publicize in a most effective way San Jose and San Jose State college.

All major collegiate institutions send "the trimmings" — bands, majorettes, et al.—to their away-from-home football games. Those few of us who have attended such games in which our team played have wondered why our highly publicized winning teams were not accompanied by the color lent by a well-uniformed, well-drilled band. Well, it takes money to send 110 people and instruments on even a short trip. It will take $540 to send them 290 miles to Reno. There was, in the Associated Students' treasury, approximately $200 available for such a project.

San Jose's business executives have taken it upon themselves to supply the remaining $340.

Thanks, merchants of San Jose!

—Moody.

'Education Is National Defense'

In these trying days of unprecedented national defense efforts, it is well for the college student and the college instructor to determine in some measure how they can best serve the interests of their country. To be sure, military service has, and will answer the question for many of us. But to those college people who may not serve in the armed forces of the nation, comes a strong and clear-cut challenge; the challenge to expand our college training efforts.

"Education is National Defense" is the appropriate slogan that has found wide recognition among those men directing the national defense program. With the essence of this slogan in mind, the American Council on Education has made detailed studies in an effort to determine definite relationships between education and national defense.

In a recent bulletin the council published the following findings: (1) college graduates eminently need to be able to follow instructions and to meet obligations without being reminded of them, (2) college graduates would be more valuable if they had greater facility in handling figures and quantitative data in general, (3) college graduates would be much more serviceable if they had the initiative to find out what ought to be done and how to do it in normal routines of a job, (4) college graduates are accused of too much self-interest in their activities, (5) college graduates seem to lack convictions based on knowledge and even to be afraid of acquiring the knowledge necessary for the formulation of convictions.

These criticisms of the college graduate were not thought up by some ivory faced individual doodling with pencil behind a mahogany desk, but are the product of careful study and investigation, worthy to demand constructive thinking on the part of college faculty members and students.

These criticisms represent avenues through which we as students and educators can direct our efforts in serving the needs of the nation we cherish, when that nation most needs the clear, efficient, and constructive thinking that those of us with college opportunities should be held responsible for.

It is our mission to prove that "Education is National Defense".

—Silvey.

How Are You Going?

This Friday a lot of us will be going to Stockton to see our football team play College of Pacific.

How will you be going up? The "Spartan Special" train is being chartered for San Jose State college students to use for the trip, and a large number are expected to take advantage of the opportunity. It will be a lot of fun, as has been proven in past trips.

Of course there will be those of you who will want to make the journey by automobile. That should be well enough, as long as you don't try to establish any speed records.

But then that would be asking too much of some of you. With the gang along to watch you, there is a great temptation to show off your own incredible ability as a driver, to say nothing of the unsurpassable speed of your car, and you will put these things above the safety of your passengers and yourself.

Even if you are a careful driver, there is the possibility of a blow-out or a mechanical breakdown, which might delay and ruin your trip.

Do not misunderstand this as an editorial condemning the practice of automobile driving, however, we are simply pointing out what you will not have to worry about if you take the train.

Why not leave your car home for this particular trip? Those who have taken the trouble to charter the train will appreciate a good turnout to repay their efforts, and you are assured of nothing but fun.

And we might add—if you do take the train, remember, we are supposed to be fairly mature and intelligent young people.

—Morrow.

JAPANESE PRESTIGE GAINED BY WAR, SAYS CLARA HINZE

By MARY SMITH

This is the way the Japanese explained their war-like attitude to Miss Clara Hinze when she visited their islands.

"As long as we were peaceable, our recognition by other nations was small. It was only when we fought and won wars that recognition came, so it is natural that we think of war as prestige building."

Our war department thinks war with Japan may be near, and Miss Hinze believes that if it does come, it will be an "undeclared war" as is now the style. If Japan faces the issue of either withdrawing from China or of fighting the United States, Miss Hinze is of the opinion that Japan will fight to save face, for it would be less of a disgrace to lose a war to a powerful country like America than to withdraw from China.

Miss Hinze points out that she is not a prophet but does not believe there will be a war with Japan. However, if there is, it will be caused by Japan attempting to keep the United States from getting supplies through to Russia. To their own people the Japanese government is building up a beautiful story of encirclement and American aggression which must sound very convincing to those who receive information from one source.

However, Miss Hinze says that the Japanese of America express nothing but loyalty for this country. In Current Life, a magazine edited by a group of young Japanese citizens, the Nisei—those born in this country, the loyalty of the Japanese to America is proclaimed—even the loyalty of the immigrant Japanese who have never been allowed to become American citizens.

Miss Hinze notes that neither the Filipinos nor the Japanese immigrants have ever been allowed to become American citizens. They have no country which they can call their own, and yet they are loyal in spite of immigration restrictions.

Have You Tried?

SWISS POLENTA

After you have tried this inexpensive dish you will certainly want to try it again. It is one of those delicious Swiss dishes. In Switzerland it is served only with coffee for a complete dinner.

2 cups full milk
2 cups water
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1½ to 2 cups yellow cornmeal
2 tablespoons cinnamon
2 medium sized apples (grated)
Butter and cream.

Pour the milk, water, sugar and salt in a large 2 or 3-quart saucepan. Add the cornmeal as for mush, but it must be very thick. Cook about five minutes, stirring constantly. Add cinnamon and remove from the fire. Add grated apples and mix well.

Spread in a baking pan—a flat 2-inch deep utility pan is fine. Pat in firmly, then roughen top with a fork. Pour about 2 tablespoons of cream over the top—just enough to cover. Bake in a slow oven for two hours or until the polenta is a crisp golden brown on top.

From the Sidelines

By WILBUR AGEE

FUTURE FOES.

The University of San Francisco still continues to worry the coaching staff of the Spartan eleven, despite the fact they were beaten this week-end. The Dons managed to score four touchdowns against mighty Stanford Saturday and made a total of 305 yards in bowing to the Indians 42-26. Two of the touchdowns came by the air as did much of the yardage piled up by the Dons.

Fresno remained the top team in the CCAA league with its 6-3 win over the Nevada Wolfpack. However, the Spartan eleven should be rated over both elevens by previous showings.

College of Pacific finally won a game, defeating the Cal Aggies in the final minutes of play 7-0. The Spartans should have little difficulty in downing our traditional rival this week in Stockton.

SOLDIER TILT.

By the way if you are looking for a good place to go next Sunday afternoon you can head for Spartan stadium. Moffett Field, who will meet the Spartans in the last home game of the season November 28, will meet Camp Haan from down Riverside way in what should prove a thrill packed game. Camp Haan defeated Fort Ord 6-0 earlier this year and Moffett Field has been playing good ball all season.

Today we give you sketches of two more stalwarts of the Spartan line, making up the left side. Bill Donnelly, 6 foot 1 inch 180 pound end, is playing his second year for the Spartans, being an understudy of Johnny Allen last year. Donnelly, who hails from Ventura junior college, has displayed great open field running this year and caught several passes in Friday night's game.

Gray McConnell, 6 foot 210 pound tackle, is one of the few hometown boys on the team. Last year McConnell battled for the first string berth and got the starting call this year when George Hearn was called for military service. He is a great defensive man and leads many of the attacks on the opponent backs, stopping them before they get started. Despite the fact he was a doubtful starter last week, he played plenty of ball and displayed the fighting spirit of the Spartan eleven.

McCONNELL

SUPPORT FROSH
Well, despite the fact they lost to Modesto Junior college, Coach Bud Winter's frosh came back strong this week, downing the Flyer "B" team. The next home game for the Yearling eleven will be with the St. Mary's freshman Saturday, November 1. Let's all turn out and give them the support they deserve in their last game of the year.

Spartans Prepare For Big Game With College Of Pacific

With the traditional College of Pacific game in store for him and his football squad on Friday night, Coach Ben Winkelman and the Spartans are taking no chances on being upset by Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg's Tigers.

On paper the Stockton team is figured to be a push-over, but Sparta's boys know that the grand old man of football would rather beat the Spartans more than any other team on his schedule.

In eight years at Pacific Mr. Stagg has failed to chalk up a single win against the Staters. The best he could do was a scoreless tie at Stockton in 1935.

Spartans, who came out of the 7-7 tie with Hardin-Simmons without serious injuries, spent yesterday's practice session in polishing their downfield blocking and tackling.

However, all the Spartans did not escape unscathed from the battle. Charles Cook, who did a great job in filling Wilbur Wool's spot, came out with a cut eye which required two stitches, and Grey McConnell banged up his already injured leg, but only enough to keep him out of contact work for a few days. He is expected to be ready by game time Friday.

Coach Winkelman plans to hold a night practice tomorrow.

KICKERS PREP FOR DON TILT SATURDAY

Pleased with the showing his kickers made Saturday in Berkeley against the California Bears, Coach Gordon Maybury will stress defensive play in this week's nightly practices.

Saturday morning in the Bay City the Spartans will face a somewhat stronger than usual San Francisco university team. The Don kickers defeated the Olympic club earlier this season by a 1-0 count.

Especially impressive in Saturday's tilt was Gemo Yakubovsky's play at the forward spot. He was continually taking the ball from the Bear players and gave the Spartans their first score.

Roy Diedrickson was good at the guard spot but the Spartans missed Usher Tucker at the other fullback slot. Tucker will probably see action this week and should add to the Spartans' defense from previous showing.

Intramural Tourney Continues Today

The Chauncies, undefeated in two starts, will meet the Stinkers in the third round of the intramural football tourney this noon on the San Carlos turf. In the second game of the day the Colindados, who have won and lost one game, will meet the Bobcats, who have yet to find victory.

In the out of class tourney the Police team, victorious in their first start over the YMCA, will meet Hartranft Hall and the YMCA team will tangle with the Spartan Stags. These games must be played by Friday afternoon. A play-off between the two winners will be held during the week of December 2.

State Fullback

Chester "Cowboy" Carsten, or "the Camino Bull" as he is known to the football squad, is one of those boys who are always coming up with something to keep the squad in a good humor. He is the deer hunter on the squad, and only recently his gun brought down the venison that fed the varsity house boys.

However, Cowboy is not only known for his ability as a hunter. A former Sacramento Junior college boy, he was an outstanding end on the football team and a pitcher on the baseball squad.

When he came to San Jose last spring, he was shifted to fullback because of his great power on running plays. At present he leads all ground gainers with 108 yards in 19 times for a 5.7 average. He has been steadily improving on his passing and kicking, and by the end of the season should see plenty of action. His 43-yard touchdown run against San Diego was the team's longest up to that game.

INTER-FRATERNITY FOOTBALL TOURNEY TODAY AT 3

The third round of the inter-fraternity football tourney will get under way today sharply at 3 o'clock on the San Carlos turf with the Delta Sigma Gamma gridders, victorious in their first start over the Delta Theta Omega team, facing the Alpha Pi Omega team, who have won one and lost one.

In the second game of the day the Delta Theta Omega team, who have won one and lost one, will play the once-defeated Gamma Phi Sigma gridders.

In Thursday's games the DTO's nosed out the Sigma Gamma Omega team 6-0, while the APO's were receiving a defeat at the hands of the Beta Chi Sigma gridders by one touchdown.

ENGAGEMENT

Claude Horan, member of the San Jose State college swimming and water polo teams for the last three years, announced his engagement to Betty Steere of Venice Friday night.

Horan, whose home town is Venice, is doing post graduate work this year and is active in ceramic work.

Yearlings Look Forward To Tough Marin JC Team

Friday night the freshman football team will travel to Kentfield for a game with the Marin Junior college eleven.

Marin has one of the strongest teams in the history of the school, having rolled over all of their opponents by large scores. In the national rankings of junior colleges, they rate third in the state of California and sixth in the nation.

The freshmen, while improving day by day, have not reached the point where they can be considered the favorite. Marin's record is too good, while the freshmen have been guilty of playing spot-ball.

If the freshmen can come through and play the type of ball that they showed in the second half of the Santa Rosa and Moffett Field games, they should be just about an even match for the Marin team. In these particular periods everyone in the line was charging hard and fast and the blocking was sharp and clean.

This week's practice will be devoted mostly to line scrimmage, including defensive formations, and to cleaning up the blocking assignments.

ANDERSON MAKES CITY GOLF FINALS

Elmer Anderson Jr., San Jose State college golfer, dropped the final match of the city golf finals to state amateur champion Ernie Pieper Jr. last Sunday at Hill View. Pieper, Anderson's club mate, took the match 8 and 7 after the college athlete's game fell

LINDSEY LEADS SCORERS WITH 39 POINTS TO DATE

Fullback Fred "Bulldog" Lindsey leads all Spartans in scoring with a total of 39 points. He has made five touchdowns, six conversions, and one field goal. Lindsey scored the last Spartan touchdown last year and the first one this season. A third-string sophomore last year, "Bulldog" scored that touchdown in the last game of the season in the fog against Nevada. Those six points were the sum total of all his scoring for the year.

He chalked up the first point this year against Texas A and I and has never been headed since. His closest rival at the present time is little "Stutterstep" Aubrey Minter who has tallied three touchdowns for a total of 18 points. Chet "Cowboy" Carsten is in third spot with 12 points.

Alice Ehlers To Discuss Early Music To Students

By WALLACE TRABING

Eager to relate her knowledge of early music to the music students of San Jose State college, Miss Alice Ehlers, concert harpsichordist, who is playing here tonight, will lecture and demonstrate her instrument tomorrow morning at 8:56 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Tuning her delicate instrument backstage of the Morris Dailey auditorium previous to tonight's concert, Miss Ehlers said, "I want to give a general background of the music of the 17th and 18th centuries and tell how it should be played on the modern piano."

Miss Ehlers, recently appointed head of the University of Southern California Music department, said that "even though I have been appointed to this job, I am at the peak of my career and I wish to tour much more and acquaint music students with this type of music."

In referring to the expression of the earlier type of music she said, "Music before Mozart's time did not have expression. It was played to harmonize line against line. Music changes according to the conditions and environment in which it is written."

"I want the students to ask questions," she added. "It will form a more intimate relationship between my teaching and their grasping of the subject. I would even like them to come upon the stage and watch me play."

RADIO CLUB MEETS TODAY IN SHOP

Students who wish to attend may get tickets at the Y office or from any cabinet member, states Marie Gattuccio, who is in charge of the affair.

After the supper an election for the offices of vice-president and treasurer will be held, since those formerly holding those offices have dropped out of school.

PRE-LEGAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS TOMORROW NIGHT

There will be an election of officers at a special meeting for pre-legal students tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in room 157. This meeting has been particularly scheduled so that members unable to attend day meetings may be present.

Speaker for the evening will be Austin Warburton, graduate of San Jose State college and Santa Clara Law School. Mr. Warburton has just completed the California Bar Examinations and will discuss law school study and the state bar examinations. According to O. M. Broyles, the club adviser, everyone interested in law is cordially invited to attend.

At the last club meeting Mr. Broyles said that the legal profession will need replacements in a few years if we continue to have a free society.

"Because of the unlimited national emergency the enrollment in day-law schools is down about 40 per cent while the enrollment in night law schools is up about 40 per cent. Therefore the total enrollment is about the same as last year, 33,494 total attendance as reported by 166 law schools."

There will be no club meeting today.

Freshman debaters will be given their chance to express themselves over the air for a half hour at the new KROW discussion series starting this Saturday over the Oakland station at 2 o'clock.

Each student will give his view on the subject presented for seven minutes. San Jose State will not participate in the first program, but will take part a week from this Saturday.

upon the harpsichord.

Miss Ehlers' instrument is in appearance much like a piano, except that it has two keyboards and a more extensive series of pedals. The main difference is that in playing the harpsichord, the strings are plucked, rather than struck as in the piano, and the technique is more difficult with the older instrument because of lack of tonal range.

The artist will be accompanied by a selected group from the college symphony orchestra in the "Haydn Concerto in D Major" for harpsichord and orchestra. Other selections will include "Harmonious Blacksmith" by Haydn, a fugue from "The Magnificent" by Pachelbel, "Courante" by Lully, and the first movement from Bach's "Toccata in G Major".

STATE AERO DEPARTMENT HAS STUDENT SURPLUS

Not unlike the overflowing aero-training institutions of America, the San Jose State college Aeronautics department is filled to its limited capacity of eighty-one students after turning away two hundred students during registration day.

According to statistics recently calculated by Dr. Elder, dean of the lower division, this is a twenty-five per cent increase over last year's enrollment despite the fact that the whole college enrollment has decreased one-half per cent.

Since this is only the second year that aeronautics has been taught in San Jose State college, Mr. Dennis pointed out that "we were required to limit our enrollment because we are very limited in space and lack facilities because of the tie-up of plane material being used for national defense."

BRIAN SMITH TO LECTURE BEFORE FORESTRY CLUB

Brian Smith, fire suppression employee at the Felton State Ranger station in Santa Cruz county, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the college forestry club this evening in room S207 at 7:30.

Smith will illustrate his address on "The Fire Control Problems of Santa Cruz County" with over 100 colored slides. This detailed collection of Santa Cruz mountain scenes was photographed by Les Gum, state forest ranger of that vicinity, during the past three years of his forest protection work there.

The speaker for the evening has had extensive forestry experience as a student of the University of California, as a ranger in the park service, and as suppression crew member in Santa Clara and San Benito counties.

Visitors, as well as forestry club members, are invited to attend this meeting, according to Allen W. Jacobs, club adviser.

year's enrollment despite the fact that the whole college enrollment has decreased one-half per cent.

STUDENTS PICKED

"We tried to be fair in choosing our students," he said, "and gave each student a private interview. We chose the students who had previously studied mechanics and aeronautics or those whom we thought interested enough to complete the course and continue this kind of work."

The aeronautics courses lead to a master's degree in aircraft mechanics, which is affiliated mainly with ground work. It is also an important asset for anyone who is working toward aviation.

The various courses include: Aircraft sheet metal, applied mechanics, aero lab, aircraft engines, aircraft welding, general aeronautics, aircraft drafting and vocational flight training.
