

Very unruffled considering his new position, Dr. James Wood of the English department came to class yesterday morning. In fact he was so unruffled that none of his students suspected anything scrumptious had happened.

Dr. Wood is the proud papa of an eight-pound son, born Tuesday night to Mrs. Wood at the San Jose hospital. It is reported that the young man will be called James Junior.

UPPER CLASS MIXER SET FOR MONDAY NIGHT; IN MEN'S GYM, 7:30-10:30

For the joint purposes of upper classmen getting acquainted with each other, and having a good time, the annual Junior-Senior mixer party on Monday night will once again offer third- and fourth-year students an evening of enjoyment.

"We hope that all junior and senior students will be at the gym Monday night and help make this event the success it has been in past years," said Herb Petty, junior class chairman for the mixer.

"We have very competent people working on the several committees, and all we need is the co-operation of the rest of the two classes to put it over," he added.

Festivities will begin at 7:30 in the Men's gym, lasting until 10:30. Either Bob Berry's or Freddy Angel's orchestra will be on hand for dancing, according to Junior and Senior Chairmen Herb Petty and Tom Harvey.

Tickets are on sale for 15 cents and may be obtained from the following committee members:

Helen Donovan, Edith Manners, Virginia Painter, Dorothy Phillips, Marjorie Behrman, Carol McDaniel, Tom Taylor, and Izzy Gold make up the junior committee.

The senior committee is composed of Dorothy Jones, Betty Wool, Christine Mansfield, Wilbur Scott, Karl Evans and Tom Harvey.

On the decoration committee are Lorraine Titcomb, chairman; Dorothy Stuart and Betty Hood, juniors; and Ruth Wool, senior member.

Izzy Gold, junior, and Betty Wool and Christine Mansfield, seniors, are on the entertainment committee.

In charge of name cards for the affair, with which each upper classman attending will be presented, are Larry Moore and Lorraine Wilder, juniors, and senior Dorothea Bernsdorf.

Fraternities Make La Torre Appointments

Fraternity men of Alpha Pi Omega, Delta Theta Omega, Gamma Phi Sigma, Sigma Gamma Omega and Delta Sigma Gamma must make La Torre appointments before 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Payment in full for page space must be made before tomorrow afternoon. Walter Schmidt or other members of the business staff will be in the La Torre office to receipt payments from organizations.

Beginning Monday and continuing throughout the week, members of the following organizations must make dates for pictures: Alpha Eta Rho, Alpha Eta Sigma, Alpha Phi Omega, Artizans, AWA, Black Masque, Chi Pi Sigma, Delta Epsilon, Delta Nu Theta, Delta Phi Upsilon, Iota Delta Phi, Kappa Delta Pi, Mu Phi Epsilon.

TALENT NEEDED

All members of the Junior class who have had any entertainment experience are asked to contact Izzy Gold or Herb Petty immediately.

Gold said yesterday that anyone who is interested should help the third-year students uphold their part at the Junior-Senior Mixer.

'Rivals' Stage Plates Displayed Next Saturday

Plates for the stage settings of "The Rivals", designed by Wendell Johnson, will be placed on display in the library Saturday morning. The sets have been designed to harmonize with the style which was popular in the latter part of the 18th century when this Richard B. Sheridan comedy hit was popular, and make use of flat painted canvas backgrounds.

OPENS WEDNESDAY

"The Rivals" will open Wednesday for a four-day run. Tickets are now on sale in the Speech office, room 153. General admission will be 55 cents, including tax, and student tickets will be 28 cents on presentation of an Associated Student Body card.

John Caro, manager of the stage crew, announces that students interested in assisting with the technical work must sign up on the paper in front of Peter Mingrone's office before noon today. Only students who are signed up will be eligible to help.

"MR. PICKWICK" TRYOUTS

Copies of "Mr. Pickwick", next production of the San Jose Players, are now on reserve in the library for those students who are interested in attending tryouts in the Morris Dailey auditorium from 4 to 6 tomorrow afternoon.

HILLVIEW CRASH WRECKS PLANE OF HERBERT DENNIS

Three hours prior to the plane accident involving Henry Rosensweig near the Mountain View training school yesterday, a four-passenger Stinson belonging to Herbert Dennis, aero laboratory instructor of San Jose State, received heavy damage when a local business man who had rented it for a flight nosed it over as he applied the brakes while taking off at the Hillview airfield.

According to Mr. Dennis, the pilot, who suffered only minor abrasions about the face, was not used to the rudder brake control which operated opposite to the plane he usually flew, and became confused.

Mr. Dennis said that "the brakes on my plane are applied by using the heel and on his plane he used the toe-brake control."

The plane was traveling approximately thirty-five miles an hour when the accident occurred and, according to Mr. Dennis, the propeller, rudder, tail wing and fuselage received most of the damage. Students of the aero lab aided in dismantling the plane and after a check Mr. Dennis reported it would take until the first of next year to completely repair it.

Artist Exhibits Cartoon Strip

Original drawings of "Terry and the Pirates" will be on exhibit in the Art wing Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The San Jose Evening News has offered to lend the Art department a set of the drawings by the originator—Milton Caniff.

Students are invited to come and see the drawings as art work or as just a comic strip.

FROSH-SOPH MIXER IS TONIGHT; GAMES, DANCE VARY ENTERTAINMENT

A gala dance featuring Clyde Appleby and his six-piece orchestra will highlight the freshman-sophomore mixer tonight at 7:30. Preceding the dance will be an interclass basketball game and at 12:30 noon an interclass tug-o-war contest. "A large attendance with plenty of good 'rip-snorting' class spirit is expected to start the mixer with a bang," says George Coles, sophomore class president.

COUNCIL ASKED TO IMPROVE PARKING SYSTEM

Recommending an improvement in the parking situation around San Jose State college, a faculty committee headed by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie sent a letter to the San Jose city council early this week.

The committee which investigated the parking problem was composed of Dr. V. P. Peterson, Dr. Bertha Mason, Mr. G. Hartranft, and Mr. J. West.

The letter requested that we be permitted to park head-on on one side of Fifth street and on one side of Sixth street north of the college as far as the commercial zone, and on both sides of both Fifth and Sixth streets south of the college.

The letter also recommended that the two-hour parking limit on San Carlos and San Antonio between Third and Fourth streets be removed.

Debate Team To Use New Type Of Discussion

The San Jose State debate team is changing its type of debate from the formal debate they have been using to a problem-solving method of discussion, according to Miss Lucie Lawson. This type of discussion will be used in meetings with bay area colleges this year.

The meeting will be made up of two speakers from each school. The first debater will give an analysis of the question; the second and third speakers will give various possible solutions to the problem, and the fourth speaker will evaluate what has been said.

This type of debate is not entirely new to the San Jose State team, as they used it last year on their Southern California tour against colleges of that area.

The question to be used is: "What Should Be the Government's Policy Toward Labor Unions in the Present Crisis?"

Yesterday afternoon at the weekly debate meeting the problem-solving method of discussion was given a trial, with Richard Flower, Arthur Grey, Henry Leeland and Kenneth Fisher as the participants.

Miss Hoisholt Speaks

Miss Estella Hoisholt, Art instructor and lecturer, spoke before the Art History club Tuesday evening. Her talk was given at the home of Mrs. Weston in Santa Clara.

Fifteen hundred rolls of serpentine whirling over the crowd and 450 multicolored balloons bobbing from the ceiling will give the gym Hallowe'en gaiety. Every person should bring his own noise maker.

"There will be refreshments for everybody," promise the refreshment committee. Cokes and prizes will be given to the participants in intermission contests.

Winner of the various contests including the basketball and tug-o-war games will be the criteria in awarding class points that will eventually lead to possession of a silver cup at the end of the year.

Lowerclassmen should support their respective classes loyally in the mixer as 10 points will be awarded the class with a greater attendance, says George Coles.

A note to upperclassmen planning to come—"Delux" style haircuts will be given to them free by male members of the freshman class. Other "beautifying" will be done to them for a nominal fee by male members of the sophomore class.

Harvest Theme Is Feature Of Big Game Dance

Simulated grapes, autumn leaves, cornstalks, pumpkins and balloons will carry out the harvest theme for the student body dance following the San Jose-Fresno State football game. No November 14, according to Christine Mansfield, who took charge of the Social Affairs committee meeting yesterday in the absence of Chairman Beverly Byrnes.

Pledges of Ero Sophian sorority will decorate the gym, according to decoration chairman Mary Virginia Bristow.

No orchestra has been selected to play for the dance yet, but several are being considered by the committee, Miss Mansfield announced. Definite selection will be made by next week.

Tentative admission prices for the dance are as follows:

Associated Student Body members will be admitted free; students without student body cards but who are registered in the college will be charged 40 cents. Outsiders attending with a registered student will be charged 40 cents also. No stag outsiders will be admitted.

The committee is looking for student performers to entertain during the orchestra's main intermission. Anyone interested should contact one of the committee members, states Miss Mansfield.

Members this quarter are Beverly Byrnes, chairman; Christine Mansfield, Dorothea Bernsdorf, Eleanor Campbell, Marjorie Long, Hank Emson, Laura Ann Fear, Mary Virginia Bristow, Marty Taylor, Rex Gardner, Don Campbell and Paulina Donadei.

From Now On

• ELIZABETH MOODY

Three days ago our President informed us that we were at war. For the present it has few of the characteristics that we usually associate with war: we are permitted to continue our personal lives and about our personal business as in peace time, unless we happen to be between the ages of 21 and 28, masculine, unmarried, and in good health.

Our country is not "war-torn", and probably will not be. Nevertheless all of us will suffer for the situation; many of us must die violent deaths in other parts of the world; more of us must mourn those who die thus. In order to finance our part of this war, our government will have to perform economic balancing acts which, economists tell us, will bring about a post-war depression which will make the years from 1931-33 look like a picnic.

Why are we at war? None of us know exactly. Most of us don't even pretend to understand. We remember, way back in our middle 'teens, being told that we did not have to have wars; that the United States got into the first World War because our parents were "unenlightened", gullible, easy marks for propaganda instigated by those who stood to make a profit from the war. We were told that all we had to do to avoid being drawn into a similar debacle was to become "enlightened", suspicious, too "smart" to be fooled by another propaganda campaign. We believed this. We felt secure in our belief. And war is here again.

Perhaps this decade's propaganda campaign was infinitely more clever than 1917's. Perhaps there is some other reason that we have to fight this war. Perhaps the trouble lies with an ineffective peace settlement of the other World War. I take the liberty of quoting an editorial which appeared in the Spartan Daily on June 5, 1939 (months before England declared war on Germany), written by Bob Work, former Spartan Daily editor:

"It can have only one conclusion. When the war comes, power on earth can save the United States from participation. The people will clamor for it. The purpose aimed at by the direction of the present propagandic campaign will be achieved."

Whatever the cause, it is up to us to make ourselves thoroughly acquainted with it, and then eradicate it. There is no excuse for a group of civilized people to make a field day of butchering the best of each other's populations every twenty years. If control of propaganda organs by profiteers is to blame, it is up to us to formulate legislation to eliminate such control. If the political borders of some of the European or Asiatic countries must be changed, it is up to those entrusted with the job of making the peace, when it comes, to make those changes.

Whatever it is that must be done to prevent these holocausts which threaten to develop every two decades, it is up to us to do it. We are told that Americans of our generation are the best educated people in history; what value is this education if half of us, and subsequently half of our children, are to be slaughtered without reason?

Let's Be Identified

We've had a couple of editorials, two or three Thrust and Parrys, and a lot of comment from the student body this year about the signs and markers to let tourists and strangers know that this is San Jose State college. And as yet nothing has been done about it.

Five years ago the Spartan Daily instigated a campaign for some means of acquainting the public with our institution. A sign was erected on the Fourth street side of the campus and the college benefited by the publicity. Less than a month later it came down, to be replaced by a bigger and better one. Not long after that this one came down too, but very mysteriously. And it hasn't been heard of since. These people that don't have any respect for other's property...!

Anyway, we haven't had anything to identify us to strangers for several years now. It's even getting to the point where people passing through have been heard to remark, "What a pretty park." How can they be expected to realize this is an institution of higher learning. It is a beautiful campus but unless you walk through it, there's not much way of telling it is a college.

Those of us who had our eyes open at the COP game probably noticed the College of Pacific signs all over the place. They even have them several miles from town.

The build up is terrific. We saw one sign that said, "San Francisco, 110 miles, College of Pacific, 2 miles." Some comparison we should say. And we haven't even one little sign to tell who we are.

It's about time we started "cooking up" something. A good looking sign for the Fourth street entrance, since that's the busiest side of the campus, would be the first step. We'll let it stay with just one for the time being, but can't you see them on all four sides too?

Let's get organized. Appoint a committee to look into it. Hold a contest for the best designed sign. The Co-op can afford to offer the prize. We'll certainly give all the publicity that's needed and get every one into it. It shouldn't cost so much either. Then let's bolt it down and have the death penalty for anyone who tries to move it.

It would certainly add to our campus and then strangers wouldn't be making derogatory remarks.

We have a college with its traditions, its natural beauty and its high scholastic average, a college that ranks high among Pacific coast colleges and universities. And yet there are many who pass our gates and don't realize that this is SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE.

Com'on now, let's be identified.

—Finley.

Indians, Gaels Face Spartans In Basketball

Schedule Of 30 Games Released

By SEBASTIAN SQUATRITO
With one of the biggest and toughest basketball schedules to face a San Jose State college basketball team in recent years, Coach Walt McPherson is starting early in getting his squad ready.

Opening in San Jose with the Stockton Ambassadors on November 28, the Spartans close their thirty-game schedule against the Consolidated Air Corporation of San Diego in the Border City on March 5.

TWO STANFORD GAMES

The schedule includes two games with Stanford, the defending PCC champs, and two games with the Gaels of St. Mary's college. Last year the Spartans dropped a last minute 42 to 40 thriller to the Indians in their only meeting of the year. St. Mary's has not met the Staters the past two seasons.

Of the 30 games, 12 are home contests, and 18 will be played on the road.

NEEDS CENTER

The hardest spot for McPherson to fill on his team is the pivot post, because all of his centers failed to show up this quarter.

Grapplers Plan Trip During Vacation

With plans for the coming trip to Utah, Wyoming and Colorado during the Christmas vacation nearing completion, 18 varsity and freshmen wrestlers are working out daily in the little gym.

Coach Sam Della Maggiore, who took the coaching job last year and produced a team that won all dual meets and most of the tournaments entered, was greeted by the return of six of last year's veterans.

Heading the list of veterans is Ivan Olsen, Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate titleholder at 136 pounds, who took all his matches last year. He is followed by Captain Dave Hinze, who captured the PCI title at 165 pounds.

Others include Yosh Uchida, who took second at 128 in the PCI, and Knute Pederson, a heavy-weight last year who will be moved to the 175 pound spot. Gray McConnell will be back at heavy-weight and Hans Weidenhoffer will wrestle at 175. Weidenhoffer wrestled on the frosh team last year.

In the middle weights Coach Della Maggiore has Paul Aderman, transfer from Lassen junior college at 145, Leroy Charlesworth, junior college transfer also at 145, and Jim Fowler at 155, who wrestled with the frosh two years ago. Fred Albright, letterman two years ago, will wrestle at 135 and Bobby Sakamoto, freshman last year, will wrestle at 121.

STATE POLOISTS BATTLE INDIAN TEAM TONIGHT IN LOCAL POOL AT 9

Freshman Septet Engages Farm Yearlings In Prelim

The Varsity water polo team will be seeking its fifth victory in six starts tonight when they battle the Stanford university septet in the local pool at 9 o'clock.

With two impressive wins over the San Francisco Olympic club and the sting of defeat still on their minds by the Indian reserve team, the Spartans will be battling tonight for victory No. 5.

MUCH IMPROVED

The team has showed much improvement over their performance against the Stanford reserve team as seen by the performance in Tuesday night's battle when they defeated the Winged "O" septet 8-7, states Coach Charley Walker.

Always rated as one of the best on the Pacific coast, the Indians will throw their full strength in tonight's battle in order to insure victory. Last year, however, the Spartans won the second battle from the Indians in the local pool and could repeat this year if given the breaks, states Walker.

FROSH AT 8

The starting lineup will find Dan Meehan in the goal; Egon Hoffman and Dave Thomson in the guard spot; Al Corcoran at center back; Douglas Bacon and Delmar Armstrong at forwards; and Marty Taylor at center forward. Roger Freljer and Parker Snow will fill in as reserves.

In the preliminary battle at 8 o'clock the freshmen will battle the Stanford yearling septet. Although not too impressive a record to date, the Spartan first year men are showing improvement in every game and could give the invaders a close battle tonight, states Walker.

BELTRAN OUT OF ST. MARY'S TILT SATURDAY

The old injury bug-a-boo turned up again at freshman football practice when Art Beltran, first string right half, wrenched his foot while getting a drink of water.

Winter had scrimmaged the team hard in preparation for their coming tilt with the St. Mary's frosh Saturday morning at 10 o'clock without any mishaps. Just as the team was ready to return to the dressing room and shower, Beltran went for a drink and made a misstep, wrenching his foot.

The only other men on the injured list are ends Herb Roberson and Bud Ingle, who have rather badly battered legs, and fullback Jack Gearing, who is slowed down by a charley horse.

No one showed up yesterday for freshman football pictures. Today is the last opportunity for pictures with no extensions. The time is 12:30 in front of the new library.—Joe Azzarello.

Coach Winter last night offered a little relaxation for his freshman team by way of a party held at the Winter residence. Besides the freshman team, the entire State coaching staff was present. The entertainment was furnished by the showing of motion pictures of football games, after which ice cream and cake were served.

INTER-FRATERNITY FOOTBALL TODAY

Delta Sigma Gamma, who is leading the inter-fraternity football tourney with two wins and no defeats, will battle the Beta Chi Sigma gridders today on the San Carlos turf at 3 o'clock.

In the second game of the day the Sigma Gamma Omega squad will battle the Alpha Pi Omega gridders. The SGO team will play in the place of Delta Theta Omega.

SPARTAN KICKERS SEEK SECOND STRAIGHT WIN ON LOCAL FIELD AT 3

San Jose State's championship-bound soccer team will be seeking its second straight win this afternoon at 3 o'clock on the local field north of Spartan Stadium when it battles Menlo Junior college.

The Spartans are leading the Northern California Inter-Collegiate Soccer league as a result of California being upset 2-1 by San Mateo Junior college Saturday.

COACH WINKELMAN WARNS OF GAUCHO DANGER FRIDAY

Emphasizing the fact that the Santa Barbara Gauchos are a better team than their record shows, Coach Ben Winkelman sent his Spartan football team through an extra long workout at Spartan Field yesterday. The session lasted from 4 to 6:45 p.m., including an hour of work under the lights in Spartan stadium.

Santa Barbara has been defeated by Pomona 7 to 6, Occidental 25 to 0, Fresno State 26 to 0, and by Nevada university 7 to 0. The Gauchos defeated Redlands university 19 to 7 for their only victory of the season.

Thus, it seems like San Jose should have an easy time, BUT the Gauchos have been plagued with so many injuries since the beginning of the year that they even had to cancel their game with the California Ramblers.

In the Nevada game last week with most (not all) of their men in harness again, they held a highly favored Nevada eleven to seven Points, and though scoring none for themselves, ran up a total of 159 yards.

Their most potent attack is their passing, which is generated from wide spread formations.

Last year the Spartans downed the Menlo outfit in a pouring rain 5-0 on the losers' field and should have little difficulty this year as shown in their last performance against the University of San Francisco, states Coach Gordon Maybury.

TINDALL OUT

With the exception of Captain Art Tindall, who may be kept from the game due to bad ankle received in the California game, the team will be in top shape for today's encounter. Izzy Gold will probably start at the center forward spot in place of Tindall. Gold has been showing up well in the short times he has played and also in practice scrimmages.

Gemo Yakubovsky is still bothered with a bad wrist but was not stopped in the San Francisco battle and will most likely start today. Al Moniz, who has been playing well despite his lack of experience, will be ready to replace Yakubovsky if needed.

DEFENSE STRONG

Roy Diedericksen still continues to play headsup ball in the guard spot despite the fact he is bothered with a bad leg. He is one of the main defensive cogs and has saved many drives that would have netted points for the opponents.

Harold Sonntag, playing his first year of soccer, has been one of the mainstays of the team from the goalie spot, not only stopping many shots that were sure scores (Continued on Page 4)

CALEP FOOTE, PACIFIST, DEFENDS DEMOCRACY IN TALK ON NON-VIOLENCE

"Unless we make democracy a living faith by accepting the philosophy of non-violence we are in danger of being converted to Fascism," declared Calep Foote in a talk yesterday at noon in room H1.

Mr. Foote defined non-violence or pacifism as "a strong insistence for truth and an achievement of it by means other than force." He compared pacifism to training a stubborn child, who when treated with kindness will respond more satisfactorily than if force is used.

This treatment should apply, believes the pacifist, to all human activity, including international relations.

MEANS FOR DEFENSE

Since the pacifist opposes war and other violent means of settling world problems, to be constructive, says Mr. Foote, he must offer a means of defense for those nations accepting the doctrine of non-violence. This alternative to war would include no physical resistance but at the same time no co-operation with the invader and the invaded country would only ask that the differences be settled peaceably.

By this faith of only returning love for hate, Mr. Foote believes that while just as many people would be killed for non co-operation as there would be killed in an actual war, that at least a lasting peace would ensue from this "understanding without victory".

WOULD HALT HOSTILITIES

Mr. Foote also believes that the peoples of the belligerent countries would immediately halt hostilities if they were assured of economic equality, national self-determination, disarmament and a promise by the "have nations" to reconstruct Europe and China.

Regarding our own country, Mr. Foote believes that our millions of unemployed and our reluctant draftees are ripe for the fascist doctrine. To combat this menace he believes that we should break down racial prejudices and treat our unemployed as human beings by paying them more and making them feel that they have a place in our system. Unless this is done the fascists, who teach that every individual has a definite place in the greater scheme of socialism, will find the unemployed a fertile field for their propaganda.

TEACHER GROUP OPENS DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

In the past the California Student Teachers' association has found student teachers many jobs through its placement bureau. And it shall continue to do so if it has the student co-operation, points out H. T. Jensen, adviser.

The drive for new members is now open to all students who are education majors. The C. S. T. A. can offer much to the students if they will only take the time to inquire, states Mr. Jensen.

Mr. Jensen asks that the dues be paid to Mr. Freeman, education secretary, in room 61 of the Education building as soon as possible so plans may get under way shortly.

The dues paid to the organization pay for the periodical "Sierra News" and for the registration which entitles students to the services of the state group.
