ADDITION OF $30,000 AERO LABORATORY TO COLLEGE AVIATION PROGRAM REPORTED

Expansion of San Jose State College's aviation program will be made possible with the addition of a $30,000 aeronautical laboratory on the campus Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie announced yesterday.

Construction of the building will begin around January 1. It is expected that the structure will be completed and ready for use during the spring quarter of '42.

The building will be set up in the clear space in the rear quad between the Morris Dailey auditorium and the Home Economics building.

BUILDING CONFERENCE

Dr. MacQuarrie and Frank Petersen, co-ordinator of flight training, met with State Director of Finance G. Killian, Assistant State Director of Finance F. Linx, and State Architect T. Poage in Sacramento Tuesday to discuss the building. Mr. Poage is making detailed drawings of the laboratory. The one-story building, 60 by 145 feet, will be for training students in aviation engineering and mechanics. It will contain rooms for welding, sheet metal, painting, drafting, instruments and layouts besides two classrooms.

"This building will make possible very good course in aeronautical engineering. Not only then can we train for special trades, but we can go into matters of design which we have not been able to obtain," Dr. MacQuarrie commented yesterday.

MATERIALS STORED

Materials available for the structure are in store houses in Stockton and Davis. They will be transported to the college by state trucks from the forestry division. Included are nails, bolts, electric and plumbing fixtures, lumber and dimension stuff, cement and wall boards for the interior of the laboratory.

Maude Williams Guest Of Faculty

Miss Maude Williams, associate professor of education at Colorado State college, will be the guest of the faculty at a luncheon on the campus tomorrow.

Miss Williams is attending Stanford university at the present time and is coming to San Jose State to speak to Dr. Margaret Jones' methods class at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning on the problems that confront the beginning teacher in some economics.

Bibliophile Club To Give Tea Today

In celebration of Book Week, the Bibliophile club for Library majors and minors will hold a tea this afternoon at 3 o'clock in room 40 of the new library.

Each member may bring a friend, according to Virginia Meyer, president of the group. "Talking Records" such as those used by the blind will provide the entertainment.

Entomology Club Plans 3 Field Trips

Three field trips are scheduled for the Entomology club Sunday, November 16, from 9 until 3. Students may make a choice of any one of the trips, which will be to Gas Creek, Niles Canyon and the Santa Cruz mountains back of Los Gatos.

Variety Show And Fresno Rally Set For Thursday

The Campus Variety Show and Fresno State Rally will be held next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Morris Dailey auditorium.

Len Baskin, star of former Revelries productions and fresh from night club appearances throughout the east bay, is in charge of the production and will act as master of ceremonies. He is especially known for his song stories at the piano.

Baskin and his committee are at present auditioning several big bands and promise that the one they select will be the "hottest and most solid band" they can find.

The rest of the entertainment will be furnished by student talent and will cover a wide range.

Several musical organizations will be represented, including the Ero Swing Trio, and Benny Scorsur and his Hillbillies—five men and women straight from the Black Hills.

Several representatives from Fresno State college, the entire San Jose State varsity football team, and Coach Ben Winkelman will be special guests.

QUICK SKETCHING DEMONSTRATED

Miss Estella Hoisholt of the Art department faculty will demonstrate the use of various media in quick sketching at today's meeting of the sketch class at 3 in room 21 of the Art building. She will demonstrate water color technique, charcoal, chalk, and other types.

This class is for the benefit of students and faculty members, whether art majors or not, who wish to learn something about sketching, and is very informal, points out Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, department head, as attendance is not required and no grades are offered.

"The class has met with great success," Dr. Reitzel comments.

Dr. Reitzel and Richard Skinner, also a member of the Art faculty, will also demonstrate techniques at various times, as well as sketching with the class. Visitors are invited, Dr. Reitzel says.

Botany Club Meets For Dinner Dance

Members of the Botany club will meet Saturday night for an informal dinner and dancing party at the home of Monty Styres in Mountain View.

Tickets On Sale For 'The Rivals' Saturday Show

Tickets are still available in the Speech office for the Saturday performance of "The Rivals", Richard B. Sheridan comedy hit which opened the San Jose Players' current season in the Little theater last night.

General admission is 55 cents including tax, and student tickets are 28 cents. Associated Student Body cards must be presented when purchasing student tickets.

18th CENTURY COMEDY

"The Rivals" is a comedy of the late 18th century and is under the direction of James B. Clancey. Sets, costumes and acting have all been styled to typify that period. Plates for the sets, designed by Wendell Johnson of the Speech department, have been on display in the library this week.

"MR. PICKWICK"

The next presentation of the Players will be the annual Christmas play "Mr. Pickwick", taken from Charles Dickens' book, "Pickwick Papers" and now in rehearsal under the direction of Ted Hatlen.

Chinese Feast To Follow Swim-a-nic

A Chinese feast of eight courses will replace the Italian dinner originally scheduled to follow the annual Swim-a-nic Monday at the college pool.

The change in "food nationality" has been made because of price complications. "If you can't manage chop sticks, you can have a fork," states Miss Gail Tucker, swimming instructor, "so come to the dinner anyway."

Charge for the dinner remains at 55 cents plus the two cents tax. Students may sign up at the pool until 4 o'clock Friday if they plan to attend, states Harriet Sheldon, president of the swimming club.

Elizabeth Hall, in charge of the dinner, promises that all the Chinese delights on the menu and food that will appeal to the taste of an epicure will be there.

The Swim-a-nic will be held from 4 to 5:30 and the dinner will be at 6 p.m. Every woman student is invited to take part in the swimming, despite her lack of ability, according to Miss Tucker.

Faculty Members Present Joint Recital Wednesday

Seventeen composers will be represented in the joint recital of voice and piano with Maurine Thompson, contralto, and William Erlendson, pianist, to be presented Wednesday evening, November 12, at 8:15 in the Little Theater of San Jose State college.

Miss Thompson, who will be accompanied by Dorothy Currell Stalcup, will sing three groups of selections alternating with Mr. Erlendson.

Her first group will be taken from the classic period, the second from the modern French, Spanish and German, and third from British, Finnish and modern American composers.

Mr. Erlendson's groups will represent Bach from which he will play a French Suite in C minor, and Chopin, Schumann, and Schubert, all romantic composers.

Contest To Choose Typical State Co-ed And College Man For Dance Sponsored By Social Affairs Group

San Jose State's most typical Betty Co-ed and Joe College will reign over the Harvest Hop following the Fresno State game.

The couple will be chosen in a contest sponsored by the Social Affairs Committee, Beverly Byrnes, committee chairman, announced in the weekly meeting yesterday. Ken Stephens will be in charge.

'Jean' Tradition

Sophomore council members and class president George Coles have formulated plans to establish a "jean" tradition. Under this tradition no freshman would be permitted to wear jeans on campus. Only sophomores would be allowed this privilege.

To enforce the jean tradition, which has been recognized by freshmen in previous years, Paul Borg and Rex Gardner have been named to gather an enforcing committee. There will be a meeting of this committee Friday, 12:30, in the Student Union. Any sophomore is invited to join the group.

THE DOG HOUSE

Following is a list of 26 organizations which have not complied with requests from the Dean of Men's and the Dean of Women's offices to hand in names of their members:

Alpha Eta Rho, Ambassadors, Artizans, Bible Club, Canterbury Club, Christian Science, Deutsche Verein, Eta Mu Pi, Epsilon Mu Gamma, Forestry Club, Industrial Arts Club, Japanese Club, K. P. Club, Nature Study Club, Phi Epsilon Kappa, Phi Mu Alpha, Phi Tau Theta, Police Club, Pre-Legal Club, Radio, Sigma Delta Pi, Sigma Kappa Alpha, State Flying Club, and YMCA.

Social Dancing Class Holds Party Tuesday

Bob Berry's "Statesmen" played for the combined social dancing classes of the Men's and Women's Physical Education departments Tuesday night in the Men's gym.

One hundred and twenty students attended the dance which was given as a midterm event by the instructors—Mrs. Sarah Wilson, Frank Carroll and T. E. Blesh.

The "Statesmen" will play for the dinner dance held at the Sainte Claire hotel December 12, which will be the combined classes' quarter's final.

Nasif Commissioned

Walter B. Nasif, who graduated from San Jose State college in 1940 with an A.B. in mathematics, has just received his second lieutenant's commission in the United States Army air force.

Nasif, who was on the school tennis team, is rated as an aircraft observer, better known as an aerial navigator. He has completed the instructor's navigation requirements at Miami, Florida, and Kelly Field, Texas.

Nasif will remain at Kelly Field as an instructor in the navigation school.

"Glamour and exotic beauty will give way to true college spirit and school interest," Stephens declared. "We want persons who are typical representatives of San Jose State college, its activities, and its policies."

Nominations should be dropped in the box just inside the Publications office. Only the first ten men and the first ten women students to be nominated will run in the election. All student body members may contribute their choice of typical college students, but they are urged to turn their nominations in immediately in order to have the candidates in the election. Nominees must be members of the Associated Student Body.

The nominations will open today at 8:00 and will close at 5:00 tomorrow, or whenever ten men and ten women students have been nominated. Contestants will be announced in Monday's Spartan Daily and will be introduced to the student body at the rally on Thursday.

Elections will be held Thursday in the quad. In case of a tie, a run-off election will be held Friday.

Coronation ceremonies will take place at the student body dance following the Fresno-State football game November 14. Winners will not be revealed until then, Stephens declared.

Music by Bob Berry and his ten-piece orchestra will supply fitting music for the ceremony while Bob "Boogie" O'Brien will dedicate his performance of "eight to the bar" piano rhythm to the person chosen Typical Betty Co-ed.

ETA MU PI HOLDS MEETING TONIGHT

Eta Mu Pi, national honorary merchandising society, will hold its dinner initiation meeting tonight at 6 o'clock at Tiny's restaurant.

Frank De Vore, San Jose State graduate last year and Eta Mu Pi alumnus, will speak to the group on "Problems of Students Entering the Retailing Field." Mr. De Vore is connected with Spring's clothing company.

Dr. Earl Atkinson, Commerce department head, will be present as honor guest. He will address new society members.

New pledges include Charles Knight, Martin Wood, Phillip Kliev, Edward Chambers and Marie Murphy.

Mrs. Cooper Speaks At Club Meeting

Mrs. Joseph Cooper, wife of Dr. Cooper of the Psychology department, will lead a discussion tonight at a meeting of the Cosmopolitan club.

Students and faculty members are welcome as it will be a general "Bull Session". The club will meet in the Student Center at 7:30.

SEND A DAILY TO CAMP

The scene could be in any one of the hundreds and hundreds of army camps throughout the country or just as easily in Alaska or the Philippines or Panama. Imagine yourself several thousand miles away from home for an indefinite stay. Suppose YOU were the fellow in camp! Suppose our Uncle Sam had pointed his finger at you, jerked you out of school, and stuck you way off someplace where you didn't know a soul and everything else was completely new, too. Guess you wouldn't feel any too happy about it either in spite of the fact that you were pretty willing to do your duty for your country.

That's what has happened to a great many of the fellows from San Jose State. They get letters from home alright and they probably hear from their pals at school every once in a while. But mail is a big item when you're a long way from everything you've been used to, and you just can't get too much.

We're not starting a campaign of letter writing or anything like that. Things are plenty busy right around home what with everyone trying to make good grades or graduate or something equally as important. It's hard to keep up a very regular correspondence. But, you know, there is something we can all do.

And now our point. We all contributed to the Community Chest. We realized its worth and gave. That was for community good. Now comes the chance to centralize our efforts even more. We can help our former classmates, our pals and our boy friends, by contributing. And we're helping the college, too.

Lots of the fellows in camp welcome the newspapers from home, it gives them the news on what's happening in town. They'd appreciate it even more if they could have papers from school, for instance, the SPARTAN DAILY, to tell them what's happening here, what their friends and favorite instructors are doing.

A number of students and faculty members have contributed already toward a fund to pay for the printing of extra "Dailys" and are mailing them to those draftees who attended college here the past year. Sometimes it is only a dime, others only a quarter. Some have contributed 50 cents to one dollar. All of us can't contribute that much but we certainly can make some effort to put a few coins in the fund.

Dig some of the change out of your pocket, seal it in an envelope, and when you're passing the Publications office, drop it in the yellow contributions box just inside the door. Or you can leave it in the Information office.

Remember the students who were here last year are the boys in camp now, and they still like to read about college.

We can afford a few nickels. You know it'll make a lot of people happy. Let's give it a whirl. It isn't hard.

FOR YOUR OWN PROTECTION

For many years a sore problem with college officials, San Jose State college's housing problem is becoming less knotty. Householders are more co-operative, report members of the housing committee, and, because of decreased enrollment, there is less congestion than in previous years, and therefore sanitary facilities and health conditions are better.

The only "snag" that can cause serious difficulties is the attitude of students themselves, particularly women. It seems to be a typical characteristic of human beings that they object to regulations made for their own good.

There are certain regulations which apply to the Dean of Women's approved list of houses for women students which may hamper the personal liberty of women involved. The truth is, each of these rules has been made for the protection of the women to which they apply.

One sore point is the question of locks. Many of the householders prefer to have a lock on the front or main door to the apartment or boarding house, each resident possessing her own key. Now, it is all very nice to have one's apartment open to one's friends, whether one happens to be at home or not. It is wonderful to be able to say, "Come up to my apartment this afternoon and wait for me. I won't be home until an hour or two after you arrive, but make yourself at home, and I'll be along." This type of thing goes with the informality which typifies college life, and we agree that it's great stuff if one is enough of an extrovert.

BUT, not only your friends can enter an unlocked apartment house! On repeated occasions there have been unpleasant occurrences at "houses" where neither the "front" door nor the individual apartment was locked. Why should any intelligent young woman expose herself to such an unpleasant, or possibly tragic, happening? She shouldn't and wouldn't.

Cooperate with the housing committee and with your householder. If your house mother has a lock on the front door, help her to keep it locked. (If some special friend must have access to your place of residence, you can have a duplicate key made for her very inexpensively.) If there is no lock, insist that one be put on the door for your own protection and privacy. Let's take care of our emergencies before the occur!

Another Letter To Mr. Broyles

Dear Sir:

You attribute social ills to society. Then you say that individuals cause social problems. Which one do you mean?

Your reference to economics merely shows that economics is the study which takes social problems and endows them with a fearsome terminology so that we can then hire economic instructors to again interpret them for us laymen.

You also state, "If we had equality of economic power, then our price system would order affairs beautifully." If that is the whole system of economics summed up in one word. You theorize problems, but you offer no practical solution without the if. You must have at least noticed that such an idealistic concept of equality as you present with your if's is impossible of achievement. Why not use your terminology, laws, statistics, etc., and accomplish something without an if?

Why not teach individuals the facts in plain layman language?

But no, a study which cannot even lay claim to being a science, tries to govern our everyday lives. To hide its weaknesses from beginners it presents a few statistics and laws which are either too impractical to work or are so obvious that we know them in their native state but cannot recognize them after economists finish twisting their terminology.

Possibly you will forgive my lack of "irony, humor, and reduction to absurdum" because you see, Mr. Broyles, I have no classes of

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE
President San Jose State College

The goal posts stood in solemn neutrality, but I thought saw one of them wink at the other. The battered old face the score board clock worked up a bit of a smile. Even today and the junipers rustled in anticipation as their friend Kenny got ready to kick the deciding point in that Mar Fortieth game.

And kick it he did. It was the same old one-two-three—the pass, the catch, the placement, and then the thud of his boot. In perfect timing, perfect harmony, the same high, end-over-end sailed squarely between the posts, and the referee's arms went up.

Is there anything more dramatic than a six-to-six tie, the end of the game in sight, and the try for goal only to decide the issue? It takes something or other to be able to function at a time like that.

Kenny was muddy, as was every other player. He was muddy from his head to his soggy shoes. He wiped his hands on the referee's towel, a gesture for the opposition, I suspect. He stepped back just exactly as all of us have seen him do so many times before. The right distance, the right stance, his eye on the place where the ball was to rest. I wasn't very sure of the Moffett player who was holding and I wished mightily for li'l Aubrey, but he did well. In exactly the right spot the ball came down and Kenny's toe landed squarely with the next beat.

Let me see. That same toe made the deciding point in the Fresno students upon which I can sharpen my "wit".

I remain,
Walter Schmidt.

Let's Stick To The Point

The question is:

Must we fight a war before we can have a peace?

Is that the question? I think it is, and I think the answer is yes. But I think it might be debatable. I think we would rather read well-thought-out discussion on that question than further exchange between Walter and Mr. Broyles on the behavior of hens.

Can't we define the question and then stick to it?

Guy G. George.

game last year, and in the game also, if I remember right, Kenny's a tradition with us, but we shall long remember fighting heart. I look for things from him in the new far more important game he now playing. We were glad to have Kenny with us so long. Uncle Sam's luck to have him.

Our team this year has made a grand record. The handicaps have been terrific. Every man on the squad, every man concerned with the coaching and management, serves the support of the college.

If we ever had one, we certainly have no breathers from Nevada, Fresno, U.S.F., Moha Hawaii, Willamette — you beat that very much.

It will take spirit and endurance to win from now on. Our players will do their best, but can help mightily. I have asked the college to get behind the team before, but I am hoping at it now. I don't think it is good for us to have a string of victories. We will probably be better off if we lost a game or two recently.

a crisis now, however. The cross is out. Now everyone's help. Even our ultra-modern might well put aside their post the moment and get the supporting something wholeheartedly and just for fun. Get out yell for a game or two. It makes human beings out of you.

SPARTAN KICKERS SCORE LATE IN THIRD QUARTER TO TIE STANFORD SOCCER MEN, 1-1

By WILBUR AGEE

The Northern California Intercollegiate Soccer race remained a neck and neck battle yesterday afternoon on the local field when the San Jose State and Stanford University kickers played to a 1-1 tie game.

The inspired Stanford squad took the lead early in the second quarter when the Indian wingman sent the ball past State goalie Harold Sonntag.

It was not until late in the third period that the Spartans were able to score. Gemo Yakubovsky, inside left, proved the hero of the game for the Spartans when he scored from three yards out through the Indian fullbacks and State forwards.

DOMINATE PLAY

The Spartan kickers dominated the play throughout the game, keeping the ball well in Indian territory. However, the Indian backs followed the ball well and kept the State attack bottled up near the goal with good head shots and long kicks.

The Stanford goal keeper kept the State forwards from pushing across all but one goal.

Roy Diedericksen and Ted Andrews kept the Indian attacks well broken up and along with Sonntag by their long kicks and heads-

FROSH POLOISTS DUNKED 10-2

Coach Charley Walker's freshman water polo team dropped another game last night in the local pool, losing its second game to a strong Sequoia high school septet 10-2.

Previously they were beaten by the Sequoia paddlers in the Junior PAA tourney at Redwood City.

Frank Goulette, center forward, scored both goals for the yearling septet.

Tomorrow the frosh will meet the San Jose high poloists in the local pool at 4:15. The frosh scored their only victory against the local high team in the opening game of the season.

Chet Carsten May Not Be Able To Do Any Passing In Reno Saturday

The possibility that Chet Carsten might be unable to do any effective pass throwing in the Nevada game Saturday struck the Spartan camp late last night.

Carsten had to retire from last night's practise session because of a sore right arm. The inability to use him in a passing game would really put the Spartans behind the proverbial eight ball, especially if the strong Nevada line stops the reverses of the Staters.

NOVICE BOXING RULES ANNOUNCED BY COACH PORTAL

Rules and regulations for San Jose State's annual novice boxing tournament, scheduled this year for January 20 through 22, have been posted by DeWitt Portal, varsity boxing coach and head of the tourney.

Preliminaries will be held in the Men's gym, and semi-finals and finals will be fought in the San Jose Civic auditorium.

"Beginners only" has been and will continue to be the principal regulation. No man with previous boxing experience, or one who has been a finalist in one of the novice tournaments, is eligible to compete.

Coach Portal hopes to get a turnout of amateurs comparable to last year's crop, when spectators saw some thrilling and skillful bouts.

Organized rooting sections, each backing their favorite competitors, were introduced at the matches last year, and the innovation contributed greatly to the spirit of the fighters and the enjoyment of the onlookers.

The following weight divisions have been announced:

Flyweight	114
Bantamweight	120
Featherweight	127
Lightweight	135
Welterweight	145
Middleweight	165
Light Heavyweight	175
Heavyweight	over 175

Men wishing to sign up may get entry blanks from Coach Portal. Each man must have a member of the varsity boxing team to act as his manager, trainer, and chief second.

A physical examination by the health office is also required before final acceptance.

Finalists will be presented with medals, and the winning team will receive a trophy.

Coach Portal has posted the announcement early so that organization of teams and rooting sections may get under way well in advance.

Inter-Fraternity Football Today

Rivalry is reaching a new high in the inter-fraternity football tourney as seen by the fact that Sigma Gamma Omega and Gamma Phi Sigma teams battled to a scoreless tie Tuesday.

Today at 3 o'clock the Delta Theta Omega team will attempt a comeback against the Alpha Pi Omega gridders and the Gamma Phis will face the Beta Chi Sigma squad.

ALL-CONFERENCE CHATTER: FRED "BULLDOG" LINDSEY was an all-league center in high school, an all-conference end in junior college, and at the present time is a leading candidate for the fullback spot on the CALIFORNIA COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC ASSO-CIATION TEAM.

KENNY COOK, BOB HAMILL, and BUD NYGREN were SPARTAN'S representatives on the CCAA star eleven last year. Hamill is the only one back, and this year might win two honors if he makes the 2A2C team again and the LITTLE ALL-AMERICAN.

CASABA TALK: Wait until next year is the cry of Basketball Coach WALT McPHERSON. Faced with only seven returning men out of the 20 on the co-championship squad, Walt will really have to start from scratch with what little material he has. Of the seven veterans, only one, BILL HELBUSH, was a regular. Helbush was the third highest scorer last season.

The next year cry is due to the fact that for the first time in years and years, a frosh basketball team has some really tall players to go along with the ability. Frosh Coach FRANK CARROLL isn't committing himself, but that smug, satisfied smirk he exhibits in practice speaks for itself.

TURKEY GALLOP: Something really unusual and interesting will take place November 18. Track Coach Bud Winter has concocted an endurance race (and we mean ENDURANCE) which should really be something.

A two-and-a-half-mile race will be run and will be open to all students in school. The winner will get a live turkey; the second-place men, a goose; and the show place will be awarded a chicken. This, of course, if they finish the race and are able to catch the poultry after.

P. S.: We've been informed through our S.S.S. agents (Scrap's Snooping Society) that a certain John Shehtanian will have a bicycle ready for use along the way.

ON TO NORFOLK: JIM FAHN, ex-Spartan yell leader, soccer player, acrobatic star and teacher, play producer, and general handy man, will leave for Norfolk in three or four weeks.

Fahn was selected by former Heavyweight Boxing Champ Gene Tunney for a Navy P. E. job. At Norfolk he will go through a six weeks' training period. He was in charge of the show produced at the Olympic club in San Francisco honoring Tunney on Navy Day.

OPEN LETTER TO THE DRAMA CHARACTERS:

Dear Sirs:

On Wednesday next at 4 by the clock on the San Carlos turf we (the journalists) will accept your challenge and will play you in a six-man football game.

But, gentlemen, don't you know when you're well off? Don't you know that the pen (we mean typewriter) is stronger than the sword (oops, we mean ham)? Don't you remember the humiliating defeat we inflicted on you in last spring's softball game?

Well, we have done our best in trying to save you from taking on more than you can chew; so don't say we didn't warn you.

San Francisco J. C. Plays Host To College Debaters

San Francisco Junior college will be host to all northern California colleges November 13 to discuss common problems among college debate teams.

San Jose State college will be well represented with three debaters. Henry Leland, varsity debate manager; Woodrow Semerau, veteran debater from the upperclass squad, and Marilynne Skinner, freshman debate manager, will all take part along with a faculty director from San Jose.

The SFJC Conference was planned by Mason Johnston of Sacramento Junior college and Lloyd Luchman from San Francisco Junior college. The schedule of events starts at 11:15, a luncheon at noon by the bay city JC group, and group discussion and general problem solving into the afternoon. The conference is over at 4 o'clock.

The purpose of the conference is not only to solve debate problems but to exchange ideas and to become better acquainted with other college debate members and their techniques.

Soccer Team In Tie Game, 1-1

HALVES IMPRESSIVE

Bud Racoosin, John Peebles and Ernest Figone in the halfback spots kept the attack from going far by their timely kicking and ball-following. Peebles from the right side stole the ball from the Stanford halves and forwards and kept deep in Indian territory. Figone from the center spot and Racoosin from the left side kept the ball in State position by their timely kicking.

On the forward wall Ed Bellet played a good game from the wing position. Bellet kept the ball well under control and was fast enough to keep the Stanford backs worried when he got behind them. His corner shots were well placed but the Indian backs were too strong.

INDIANS BOTHERED

The three inside linemen—Captain Art Tindall, Dale Nelson and Yakubovsky—had the Indians worried but they couldn't put the ball past the backs or goalie. The trio came close to scoring several times but their shots were a bit high or wide, failing to go between the up-rights.

Bob Bareuther from the other wing spot kept the ball well into the center of Stanford territory, setting up scoring plays, but the forwards couldn't come through.

SFJC NEXT

The Spartans will invade the Bay City next Saturday to battle the San Francisco junior college kickers. Last year on the local field the junior college soccer men held the Spartans to a 1-1 tie.

The starting lineup was Bareuther, Yakubovsky, Tindall, Nelson and Bellett on the forward line; Racoosin and Peebles at halves; Figone at center half; Diedericksen and Andrews at fullbacks; and Sonntag at goal.

Others who saw action were Izzy Gold, Al Moniz and Ivan Olsen on the forward line.

STUDENT STUDIES AERONAUTICS TO AID CHINESE CRISIS

By WALLACE TRABING

Acquiring aeronautical knowledge to the extent of two master degrees at California Institute of Technology and a Ph.D. in aeronautics to aid China in its present emergency, Dr. T. K. Wang is attending the San Jose State college Aeronautical Laboratory classes.

Complimenting the college Aeronautics department, Dr. Wang said: "I think that your college offers very good training in aeronautics and a graduate from here should be sufficiently trained to be of great aid in the war emergency."

Dr. Wang, in referring to the present situation of China, stated that educated men in every branch of aeronautics are badly needed. "We need especially mechanics, draftsmen, designers and flyers," he said. Wages are very high for Americans, and to my knowledge there are now two hundred American engineers in China.

"Civil engineers also are needed on the Burma Road which is our only means of getting supplies into China," he added. "I would be very glad to give information to any pre-engineer interested in China defense and introduce them to the situation in China as it now stands."

Dr. Wang can be found on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday at 2 o'clock in the aero laboratory.

PRE-NURSING

The pre-nursing society, Pi Mu Sigma, will meet today at 12:10 in the Science building. Members who have not yet paid for their La Torre pictures should bring their money.
